Our Cadet Corps.

“C COMPANY, 1ST BATTALION, CADET CORPS.”

Cadet Corps have long been an established institution in the large schools of Great Britain. Many of the colleges and public schools of the colonies have also been represented in this branch of the military service. We have read of Baden-Powell congratulating the Cadet Corps on their share in the defence of Mafeking, and there are many old cadets of the other colonies at present at the front; in fact, over 30 per cent. of the officers of the Australian Contingents were at one time cadets. And now the time has come when South Australia has determined to follow the good example of her sister colonies and establish her Cadet Corps. As things have developed the total strength of the S.A. Cadet Corps is now 183, whereas a good authority states that in Victoria, although there are some thousands of cadets, only 540 of them are true military cadets, i.e., of our standing, and in N.S.W. the number is considerably less. Our enterprise therefore compares very favourably with their results. Having secured the approval and support of the Head Master, Mr. Hugo Leschen, our popular gymnastic instructor, and a lieutenant in the S.A. Militia, offered to the authorities at the close of last year to found a Cadet Corps. Colonel Gordon and the Acting Commandant (Colonel Stuart) were favorable to the proposal, and the Chief Secretary approved of Mr. Leschen undertaking the task of organisation. Having visited Sydney and Melbourne in January last to ascertain from the authorities there the best principles on which to organise and carry on the Corps, Mr. Leschen felt able to begin his by no means light work. Accordingly, at the end of February 50 volunteers at Prince Alfred, and a similar number from St. Peter's were chosen as a nucleus. Later, the University students were invited to enter, and some 40, chiefly old Reds and Blues, were enlisted. Mr. Chapple took a deep interest in the Corps, and gave the heartiest encouragement to the project from its inception. Much of the success already gained is therefore due to him; for if the Corps is to attain anything like perfection, it can only do so with the favor and support of the Head Master, and Mr. Chapple has given both. Lieut. W. Leschen, the commanding officer's brother, also joined, and has borne his share in the work. He is the commanding officer of "A" Company (University), and acting-major to the Corps for Battalion parades.

Mr. Bayly likewise took a keen interest in the formation of the Corps. He applied—with Mr. Austin of St. Peter's—for a commission. Their appointment was duly gazetted. These gentlemen have devoted not a little of their time and energy to the interests of the Corps, and their services have been invaluable. Their appointments are deservedly popular. In conjunction with Mr. Chapple, Mr. Bayly has spared no pains to make our company a success. The Common-Room has been transformed into "the Armoury," rifle racks having been fitted into the cupboards, and 80 new lockers erected for uniforms. Satisfactory arrangements have now been made by which all military notices are posted in the "Big School-room," and every Cadet must look there daily, thus obviating the necessity for extra parades merely "for instructions."

Preliminary difficulties overcome, work was at once commenced and went on steadily and satisfactorily till Easter, the young recruits taking a great interest in their work, as their regularity and ambition to excel evinced. Twenty more recruits were enlisted after Easter. The company had at first been divided into four temporary sections, and an acting-sergeant appointed to each as its section-commander. At the end of May, however, the recruits were drafted into the company now 70 strong, and the sections permanently assigned to the following:—No. 1 (on the right), to Sergeant E. A. Stirling; No. 4 (on the left), to Sergeant C. R. Doudy; No. 2 (on the right centre), to Sergeant A. D. Wilkinson; No. 3 (on the left centre), to Sergeant E. W. Holden. Sergeant T. G. Robertson was made Color-Sergeant. All the non-commissioned officers were then officially appointed. The following is their order:—Color-Sergeant—T. G. Robertson; Sergeants—E. H. A. Stirling (Senior), C. R. Doudy, A. D. Wilkinson, and E. W. Holden; Corporals—H. H. Kirkwood (Senior), L. T. Cowan, W. A. V. Drew, and W. D. Moffat; Lance-Corporals—P. A. Roach (Senior), F. G. Rooney, H. C. Bowen, A. R. Noltenius (especially creditable as he only joined at Easter), H. A. East, and W. C. Holland. These appointments are popular, and all have entered with zest into their duties.

The Corps is at present armed with the Martini-Henry carbine. The uniform is particularly taking—khaki with yellow facings, the Austrian band on the wrist, shoulder straps of the same color toned down by the School colors and the letters  $\frac{1}{c}$  and a neat little cap with centre of the regimental color. But the feature is the hat—felt, with fine cocks' feathers, not unlike that of the N.S.W. Lancers.

The advantages and enjoyment to be derived and that have been already derived from being a member of Corps are innumerable. First it gratifies the original motive in joining, viz., patriotism, by supplying the opportunity for every boy to learn the artem militarem that would stand him in good stead in later years, if called upon to take up arms for his country. Then there is the physical development, the moral effect on every Cadet's character of the lessons of discipline, self-control, and self-reliance—lessons that will stand for something long after he has ceased to carry his Martini-Henry and to wear the honored plumes—to say nothing of what the famous Mr. Dooley calls the esphrite the corpse. The Corps has not only strengthened the rivalry in a healthy way between the two schools, but the friendships have also been strengthened by it.

The company parades for drill after school every Tuesday, and for Battalion drill with "A" and "B" Companies, when required, on Saturday mornings.

Lieutenant Leschen holds out an inviting programme for the next few months. Besides the inspection and review, prominent items included are—shooting at the Port ranges, field days in the hills, possibly some sham fighting, and certainly, when the time comes, a little camp life with the other companies of Cadets.

On Monday, May 28th, the Cadet Corps was inspected by Colonel Stuart. This was the "first appearance" of the Corps, and it was very cordially received, some two or three thousand people assembling on the Parade Ground although the weather had been threatening. It turned out a lovely day, however, and headed by the Eastern Suburban Band, the Corps left Prince Alfred College at 9.30, proceeding through Rundle and King William Streets in column of fours to the Parade Ground. Having "front formed," the Corps took up its alignment in one long line; and in that formation the Commandant was received. Afterwards a feu de joie were fired. The "march past" was then performed in column and quarter column, and in double time in the latter formation. Having formed three sides of a square, the Corps was addressed by Colonel Stuart. We take the following report from the Register:—At the conclusion of the review Colonel Stuart, in addressing the Cadets, said he was pleased with their smart soldierly appearance, and their review movements had been carried out with precision, to his astonishment, when he considered the short time of their existence as a Cadet Corps. He knew their courage was great, and he believed they would be a useful and efficient force, young as they were. He did not wish to encourage in young men the desire to fight, but it was well to cultivate the inclination for military training, which could not possibly be harmful and was calculated to be of service to them when they became men. It would teach them to be punctual and obedient, and to respect their seniors and superiors. Above all, they would learn self-respect. He hoped that he would never see a member of the Cadet Corps slouching along the streets with his hands in his pockets and his head hanging low between his shoulders. They must never do anything to bring discredit upon the uniform they were now wearing, and as they grew older they would qualify themselves to join the ranks of the defence forces of the colony. Their military training would further fit them to occupy any position in life in which good fortune should happen to place them. They composed the nucleus of what he hoped would ultimately be a strong corps of cadets, of which the colony would be proud." At the Naval and Military Officers' Club shortly after the review, Lieutenant Leschen was the recipient of further compliments on the result of the day's proceedings.

On Monday, June 25, there was a splendid muster of Cadets—180—for Review, but this was postponed on account of the weather. The holidays interfered with the number for Saturday, June 30. Mr. Leschen had promised that the corps should in no way cross the sports or holidays. Mr. Leschen has gone again to Melbourne and Sydney, and while there will interview General Downs and Major-General French and others as to the latest approved lines for carrying on the corps. For although Colonel Stuart and many of the highest officers of the S.A.M.F. have spoken of the corps and its work as being eminently satisfactory, it has not yet attained the high state of efficiency Mr. Leschen hopes to see in it ultimately. By the end of the year, with a continuance of the enthusiasm and energy which the Cadets have hitherto thrown into their work, Mr. Leschen has every confidence that this efficiency will be attained.

Notes and News.

The issue of last term was made "special" and nothing inserted but what had to do with the War and old P.A.C.s' departure for it, so some of our "Notes" this time seem anything but "News," but they are such as could not be omitted from our Chronicle.

The Scholars we have sent to the Adelaide University this year are—H.

J. Priest, who gained the Edward Spicer Scholarship; E. Chapple, who won the Angas Engineering Exhibition; F. J. Searle, A. E. Paton, and A. R. Taylor, who received the three University Scholarships at the same place of learning. These five fortunate members of our Sixth Form of last year are now holding scholarships worth over £650; and something like the same amount is waiting for five of the present Sixth if they can win it.

H. A. Solly passed at the January Civil Service Examination.

At the March Preliminary of P.A.C.'s these passed—F. H. Burgess, H. G. Darling, L. C. Dobbie, R. P. James, B. F. L. Lindschau, A. W. Magarey, P. W. H. Marshall, F. H. Menkens, F. H. Sorrell, A. G. Trott, and J. M. Woolcock.

A meeting of the Sixth Form was held on Tuesday, March 19, 1900, to elect a manager and members of the committee to manage the Chronicle for 1900. The Head Master presided. J. R. Wilton was elected manager; J. F. Ward, H. H. Cowell, and T. G. Robertson members of the committee.

Old Boys.

In the Honors Examination at the Medical School Melbourne, 5th Year

M.B. and Ch.B., we rejoice greatly to see Bernhard T. Zwar at the top of the list for the various branches of medicine with the Scholarship of £60. Hermann Zwar, like his brother, has also obtained double Honors in Medicine and Surgery. Both will have appointments on the staff of the Melbourne Hospital, the former as Senior Resident. Chapple at Brisbane, Cleland at Prince Alfred (Sydney), Shorney at Bendigo—old P.A.C.'s at almost every big hospital in Australia, but no admission to our own Adelaide Hospital.

J. Burton Cleland in the examination for the M.B. at Sydney was placed second on the Honors list. We heartily congratulate him.

P. E. Johnstone, B.A., LL.B., and R. Homburg (jun.) have been admitted to the S.A. bar and joined the goodly and worthy number of old P.A.C.'s who wear the long robe.

Frank G. Cowan passed at the March Matriculation at the Adelaide University, and entered upon the Medical Course.

J. H. Vaughan passed at the March Law Examination in the Law of Contracts.

Alex. Lane has gained the Associateship of the Royal School of Mines, London.

A. M. Paton, B.Sc., of St. John's, Cambridge, has gained a First Class in the Intercollegiate Examination in Mechanical Sciences.

H. P. Finlayson went to the Tugela to a veterinary appointment on the staff of Sir Redvers Buller.

Early in January the S.A. cricket eleven defeated the N.S.W. by six wickets. We rejoice in this for our colony's sake, but especially are glad about it because five of the eleven were old P.A.C.'s—Messrs. Darling, Hill, Hugo, Kekwick, and Stuart. Darling's captaincy, Hill's batting and bowling, and Kekwick's fielding were great features of the game.

F. Jude returned to the colony early in January. He has been studying medicine at the Edinburgh University, and has obtained his M.B. and Ch.B.

Frank M. Wigg has also obtained the same degrees.

Honors are coming upon two of our former masters, who have become clergymen in the Church of England in S.A. The Rev. D. A. Kerr has been appointed Diocesan Inspector of Schools, and the Rev. J. Benbow Sub-Warden of St. Barnabas College.

L. H. Nicholls, B.A., till lately Head Master of Victoria Park State School, W.A., has been promoted to the head of the school at Busselton. Presents, addresses, and valedictory meeting marked the esteem he had won in church and township.

Leon. Hain has passed the examination entitling him to be called Associate of the Institute of Accountants, and has secured a good appointment.

We congratulate Messrs. Hugo Leschen, W. Leschen, and W. R. Bayly on being gazetted as lieutenants in connection with the Cadet Corps.

Frank H. Cowell has won the John Howard Clark Scholarship at the Adelaide University this March. Spencer Churchward has been granted a Second year of the same.

We congratulate J. S. Malpas on winning the gold medal at Roseworthy Agricultural College for being head of his year; and W. W. Seppelt also for obtaining his diploma.

Of the "Eight" that rowed for the Adelaide University v. Sydney University this June, five were old P.A.C.'s—Chapple, Basedow, Muecke, Bennett, Cowan. Osborne was cox. Unfortunately, they did not make a good race. Bow's poppet string broke, and slide went wrong at about the first stroke and put the crew hopelessly out of it.

R. H. Lever, previous to leaving for England, obtained a bronze star at the Royal Drawing Society for two landscapes in watercolor. He is now studying painting at St. Ives under Julius Olsson, R.B.A. He exhibited his first important picture (a sea piece) at an exhibition in that town. He is making good progress, and hopes to have a picture in the Royal Academy next year.

J. M. Ashton, at the last examinations in connection with the Royal Drawing Society, obtained a full certificate, and at the last exhibition of that society obtained a bronze star for a landscape in water colors. He left about a month ago to study art under Julius Olsson in Cornwall.

A. H. Otto, assistant organist of St. Peter's Cathedral, composed the music for "The Century Ode," that is for the opening ceremony at the recent Century Exhibition.

The prize of Ten Guineas for the design for the certificates to be presented at the same Exhibition was awarded to R. Büring.

H. H. Cowell received a prize for a design of a gentleman's residence.

Will. Ashton exhibited many water colors showing promise.

We note with pleasure that Ted Hantke is keeping in good form at cricket at Coolgardie, teste an innings of 161 not out.

H. E. Fuller and Hedley Dunn secured first prize for their design for new Stock Exchange, Adelaide. And this important building will be erected under their supervision. The same architects won the second prize for their design for the Lady Colton Memorial Hall.

Messrs. F. C. and A. E. Trudgen have been very successful with their contracts for public buildings lately. They have erected the New Art Gallery, Metropolitan Fire Brigade Station, Bacteriological Laboratory at Adelaide Hospital, New part of Parkside Asylum, Electric Light and Power Station, &c., &c.

We record with regret the removal of two esteemed "old boys"—Mr. J. M. Uren, of Magill; and Dr. F. W. Counter, of Willunga. The Head Master represented the School as well as his own friendship of many years at both funerals.

The Continental.

A Continental in aid of the New Fence Fund was held on Friday evening, February 9, and, like its predecessors, was a distinct success.

The weather was very suitable for outdoor entertainment, and a large number of friends assembled on the College Oval. The building was brilliantly illuminated under the direction of Mr. J. D. Iliffe, and presented a very striking spectacle. An enjoyable musical programme was arranged by Mr. A. E. Lawton, and met with the hearty approval of the visitors. The items were given from a platform erected on the grounds instead of from the balcony, as on previous occasions. Miss Fanny Mitchell was the lady soloist, and her sweet voice was heard to advantage in a patriotic selection, "Scarlet and Blue;" and in the ever-popular song, "The Swallows." The Khaki Quartet rendered three quartets, "To the Bravest," "The Chafers," and "The Soldier's Farewell," in capital style. Mr. F. W. Gurney was responsible for the humor of the evening in the plantation song, "Dat's Berry Queer" (with chorus by members of the Khaki Quartet). Several selections were beautifully played by Setaro's String Band.

The patriotic wave was at its highest about the date of the Continental, and a good sum (£4) was collected in the tambourines by enthusiastic young ladies during Mr. F. H. Wild's spirited rendering of "The Absent Minded Beggar." This amount was donated to the Patriotic Fund, and with amounts collected by W. C. Holland and C. R. Doudy totals to £10 11s. sent from P.A.C.

During the evening several lady supporters of the College, appropriately decked with the College colors for the occasion, did a brisk trade in refreshments, lollies, bouquets, &c.

The proceeds of the concert and sale combined amounted to £31, a very satisfactory total.

The Continental was concluded by all joining in singing the Song of Australia and the National Anthem.

Cricket.

The following five players of the first eleven scored over 50 in one innings, thereby each gaining a medal given by the Head Master:—Noltenius (83 not out), Raws (68), Drew (60), Kirkwood (59), Chapple (56).

FIRST ELEVEN MATCHES.

P.A.C. v. Electric Telegraph.—Played February 10. This match proved to be our best performance. Losing the toss, the Electrics had to remain in the field all the afternoon, whilst we remained at the wickets, scoring 302 for the loss of only five wickets. The following are the scores:—P.A.C., five for 302; Kirkwood 59 (including thirteen boundary hits), Hill 37, Raws 68, Noltinius 83 not out.

P.A.C. v. Fulham Park.—Played February 17. The Fulhams went in first and hit up 169 for three wickets, Wishart and Adey batting well for 61 and 46 not out respectively. At 5 o'clock Fulhams declared, and Les. Cowan and Hewer mainly helped to make 74 for one wicket. Scores—Fulhams, three for 169; Wishart (retired) 61, "Plucky" Flecker 27, Adey 46 not out; Hill one wicket for 15, Raws one for 50. P.A.C., one for 74; L. Cowan 26 not out, Hewer 26 not out; Wishart one wicket.

P.A.C. v. Early Closers.—Played Wednesday, February 21. Scores—Early Closers, 70; Curtain 22, Hall 35; Kirkwood eight wickets, Noltinius two wickets. P.A.C., 213; Rooney 20, Kirkwood 46, Hill 48, Chapple 39; Mankey took four wickets. Early Closers (second innings), seven for 130; Hall 72; Hewer two wickets.

P.A.C. v. Carlton.—Played March 3 and 10. Notwithstanding this match was played on two Saturdays, the scoring was not very high. P.A.C.—First innings—L. Cowan 18, Drew 24, Hill 24; total, 150. Second innings—Six for 81; Rooney 32 not out; Rofe seven wickets, Collins six wickets, and our old hero Arthur Willsmore bowled best for them. Carlton, 144; Fry 29, Wilson 29 not out; our best bowler was Christoph (three for 18), whilst Kelly and Raws (two each) and Hill, Cowan, and Homburg (one each) also bowled.

P.A.C. v. Wesleyan Conference.—Cowan, our skipper, won the toss, and very properly gave our opponents the right of first strike, and in spite of Kirwood (five wickets), Christoph (three), and Raws (two) ungallantly bowling most of them out, Mr. Trenrove made 20 runs, and a total of 87 was compiled. P.A.C., seven wickets for 95; Drew, Christoph, and Claridge all retired with scores of 24, 20, 21 respectively.

P.A.C. v. Rosebrook.—Played March 17. P.A.C., eight wickets for 154; Hill 20, Noltinius 22, Drew 47, Colebatch 25 not out; Corner three wickets. Rosebrook, two for 51; Corner 23; F. Cowan one for 22, Noltinius one for 9.

P.A.C. v. Waverley. Played March 24. The scoring in this match was very even, and if finished it would have been a very interesting game. Waverley six wickets for 110; Edmunds 30, Padman 24 not out, Davis 22; Hill two for 22, Kirkwood one for 27, Christoph one for 30. P.A.C., 175; Kirkwood, 38, Drew 39, Chapple 56; Ward three wickets.

P.A.C. v. Lower Light.—Played March 31. This was the last match of the season, and proved a pleasant one. We started in the morning, and at 1 o'clock had an adjournment for dinner. The following are the scores:—P.A.C., 207; F. Cowan 36, Drew 60, Noltinius 31; Temby five wickets, Wasley three wickets, Patterson two wickets. L.L. Juniors, 128; Wasley 46; Kirkwood six for 28, Christoph three for 24, Raws one for 32.

SECOND ELEVEN MATCHES.

P.A.C. II. v. S.P.S.C. II.—The boys are always ready for a game against the "blues," and this match ended in glorious victory. S.P.S.C., 34; Aldridge 9; Claridge five wickets, Jeffries five wickets. P.A.C., 85; "Ric" Throssel 21, Claridge 13, Cohen 25; Bright six wickets, Brookman four wickets.

P.A.C. II. v. Way College II.—P.A.C., 90; Smith 24, Rooney 11; Follett six wickets, Raws one wicket. Way College, 63; Raws 18; Smith four wickets, Cohen five wickets.

P.A.C. II. v. O.B.I.—O.B.I., 33 (including eight "ducks"); Stuckey 24; Scott seven wickets for 10, Shannon three for 18. P.A.C., 75; Davis 18, Gardiner 20; Bills five wickets.

P.A.C. II. v. S.A. Juniors.—P.A.C.,

45; Cowell 15, Latty 13 not out; O'Loughlin seven wickets. Juniors, five for 58; Munt 26, Moyle 22; Holland three wickets.

P.A.C. II. v. Westwood.—P.A.C., 130; Jacka 21, Rooney 29, Cowell 17, Colebatch 18, Holland 15. Westwood, 135 for four wickets; James 37, Wilson 34; Christoph two wickets, Bowen one wicket.

P.A.C. II. v. Willows.—P.A.C., five for 91 and 102; Jacka 30, Latty 18, Moffatt 18 and 22, Holland 23; Murphy six wickets, Randall three wickets. Titwillows, 42 and five for 36; Murphy 24; Holland seven wickets, Raws seven wickets.

The Annual Football Match with St. Peter's.

On Friday, June 29, the "Reds" and "Blues" met once more on the Adelaide Oval to do battle for their respective Colleges. The weather, which during the past week had been exceedingly wet, was this day all that could be desired, for the sun shone out brightly, and this brightness was reflected in the faces of the spectators. A large crowd gathered to witness the contest, and the pavilion presented a very pretty spectacle, being gaily decked with the school colors. His Excellency the Governor and Lady Tennyson and their two sons honored us with their presence. This is now firmly established as one of the most popular games of the season, and school boys devoutly believe with Adam Lindsay Gordon that—

“No game was ever worth a rap

For a rational man to play in,

In which no danger or mishap

Could possibly find its way in.”

The rough and tumble of the game supply a charm no other sport affords, and Friday's match gave the spectators a good deal of rousing excitement. The last part of the last quarter furnished one of the fiercest struggles possible, and the partisans of side each sent forth shouts of approval and encouragement which were heard in the City. Parasols, sticks, and hats were waved, and many were damaged beyond repair; ladies split their gloves; men lost their voices; and sometimes when a favorite proved himself unequal to his opportunity the regret felt was intense. Notwithstanding this, everyone had a good time, and St. Peter's, although defeated, might at any of the last few moments have won. Prince Alfred had six of last year's team in the field, and St. Peter's seven. The players were—P.A.C.—C. Burford, S. G. L. Catchlove, S. F. Claridge, H. Y. Collison, D. R. Cowan, L. T. Cowan (Capt.), D. Dawson, W. A. V. Drew, C. R. Douady, L. R. Hill, J. Homburg, H. P. Kirkwood, C. P. Latty, G. D. Moore, A. R. Noltenius, L. R. Sep-pelt, and A. R. Wright. S.P.S.C.—R. L. Beddome, P. D. Bright, B. C. Buchanan, N. Campbell, G. C. Campbell, N. F. Edwards, T. W. Flood, C. A. Foale, C. G. G. Gwynne, F. H. Hargrave, E. Lewis (Capt.), J. S. K. McLennan, R. Moffat, L. H. Milne, H. M. Muirhead, J. H. Pile, P. T. Sandland, and F. R. Thomas.

It was thought during the morning that J. Homburg, one of our best “backs,” would be too unwell through a temporary ailment to play. However, when the bell rang for the teams to take the field, John was in his place; and the spectators may have wondered why the cry went up from the Reds' barrackers, “Good old Johnnie.” Pluck always appeals to schoolboys. L. T. Cowan made a first-rate captain, and not only played well, as so many of his brothers have done, but led his men gallantly on to victory.

THE PLAY.

Lewis won the toss for the Saints and elected to kick with the wind, which was blowing lightly towards the Cathedral end.

First Quarter.—From the bounce both sides fought desperately for possession, but the sphere continued to flit about the centre until kicked out of bounds. After that, it was passed on to Thomas, and he with a running shot opened up the scoring by kicking a minor for the Blues. Soon after the kick-off, Moore put in some very clever play on the gate wing, and had his efforts been sufficiently supported, some cheering would have followed for the Reds. A good deal of ruck play ensued, and then L. T. Cowan, seizing his opportunity, prettily passed to Moore, and he succeeded in scoring the first minor for the Reds. The ball was again despatched down to the Cathedral end, but owing to the Blues clinging to the ball too much, and neglecting to get a kick, they failed to score, and our fellows had little difficulty in driving them out. Kirkwood, with a "free," nicely passed to Moore; he marked to Seppelt, but his powerful drive onwards was unable to raise the flags. A little ruck play followed, and out of it Sandland obtained a "free." His efforts were not well seconded, Foale took a mark and kicked out of bounds. However, the Blues were determined to get something, and they eventually succeeded in adding two minors to their score. Up to this time Thomas, Lewis, and Sandland had been doing yeoman service for their College. Play now became scientific on the part of the Blues, for Sandland's clever mark proved effectual. He passed the sphere to Thomas, who sent it between the sticks from a very difficult angle. This encouraged the Blues, and they with greater vigour again stormed the Princes' citadel. Gwynne had little difficulty in getting home with another goal, and this made the wearers of

"Blue and White" almost delirious. A little ruck play with brilliant dashes followed, and in one of these Claridge had the misfortune to be laid out by Milne. Princes' hopes fell a little when they saw their champion lie on the green grass, but his resuming play again was enthusiastically cheered by the spectators. And thus the first quarter ended—

St. Peters, 2 goals 3 behinds.

Princes, 1 behind.

Second Quarter.—With change of positions and the help of a light breeze, Reds began to assert themselves, and commenced to bombard the "fort" of the Blues. Dawson, who up to this time had been playing a good game, now began to shine, and he made a splendid mark. His uninterrupted kick resulted in Noltenius obtaining a mark at a convenient distance from home; but either from his anxiety to do good service for his team, or through nervousness, his efforts were fruitless. This was greeted with a little sarcasm from the pavilion, "Every time a grubber." Later on, Kirkwood took a brilliant mark and succeeded in registering the first goal for the "Reds." The ball then travelled all over the ground, both sides working like Trojans. Eventually, Hill, one of our clever forwards was successful in marking, but not in placing. Kirkwood appearing on the scene again showed his sterling worth by putting a beautiful running angular shot through. This brought the "Red and White" supporters to their feet to cheer. Sand-land time after time ousted the Reds from the Saints' quarters, but invariably they came back with renewed vigor. Claridge, Cowan, Kirkwood, and Moore formed a powerful quartet, and little passed them. Three minors placed our boys in the lead, a position which they maintained to the end. The Blues tried hard to relieve the severe pressure on them, but the Reds would not be denied, they were fast, played well together, and passed well. When half-time was called the scores were—

Princes, 2 goals 6 behinds.

St. Peter's, 2 goals 4 behinds.

After the interval, during which the players were instructed and encouraged by "old boys," there was a good deal of give and take play. Blues then made a vigorous attack on the Reds' stronghold, but our cadet of six feet three rose to the occasion, took some splendid marks, passed on to Dawson or Moore, &c. D. Cowan on the wing was knocked about a little by Milne, but, being a true soldier did not give in. Good passing by the Reds resulted in Kirkwood having a place kick, and with one of his best "boxers" increased our total by six points. Three more minors were soon added by the effectual playing of Thomson, Doudy, Hill, and Drew. This dashing play disconcerted the Blues, and the Reds tried to take advantage of their temporary disorganisation, but our kicking was erratic, the boys not exercising enough patience and care when they secured the chance of a shot for goal. The Blues soon forced the leather down to the Cathedral end. An interchange of handball gave Beddome another chance, and he scored for the Blues. From the bounce, the Saints started off with great dash again, but their manoeuvres were thwarted, and the ball was brought back to the river end. Drew was again on the watch, and catching from Homburg, he succeeded in dodging his opponents, and with a splendid running kick placed the ball nicely between the sticks. This result inspired the Reds, and they conducted a fierce onslaught upon the citadel of the Blues. For a time they were repulsed, but they were not to be beaten, and they returned to the attack time after time. When the bell rang, the position looked very promising for the Reds.

Princes, 4 goals 9 behinds.

St. Peter's, 3 goals 4 behinds.

At three-quarter time our worthy "Armstrong," with his usual thoughtfulness, was conspicuous in the field with a bag of lemons.

Considerable delay was occasioned while a new ball was being obtained. Excitement, which during the afternoon had run high, grew most intense.

Boys shouted and jumped, while even the ladies joined in enthusiastic applause. Blues went faster and faster, and the faster they went the more judgment they displayed. Sandland, Milne, Foale, G. Campbell, and Lewis worked with desperate energy. At length, a free was awarded to Thomas just in front of goal, and he scored an easy goal. Blues were now only five points behind, and this unexpected stroke of luck raised their hopes high, and their supporters cheered them lustily on. Sandland succeeded in adding another point, and at the last moment it seemed possible that fortune would change sides. A good deal of ruck play followed. Then plucky little "Geordie" got on the spot, and with Claridge, Cowan, and Dawson took the sphere to the Cathedral end. There Kirkwood supplemented our score, but only with a minor. Sandland once more drove out the enemy and forced the ball around the pavilion wing; there Wight distinguished himself in defending, but Sandland proved an excellent assailant and returned the ball to the river end with great vigour. For a time we held our breath to know the issue of the final charge. However, Corporal Seppelt with Collison and Homburg staved off a pressing attack, and the match was over. Once more we knew that Reds had won a great victory.

Princes, 4 goals 10 behinds=34 points.

St. Peters, 4 goals 5 behinds=29 points.

Claridge, Cowan, Dawson, Kirkwood, Moore, and Seppelt played well for the Reds, and were well backed up by Hill, Drew, and Thomson. The best of the Blues were Campbell (2), Foale, Lewis, Pile, and Sandland.

Old P.A.C. boys from Geraldton wired "heartiest congratulations;" and many others sent letters of the like tenor.

The Midwinter Break Up.

On Friday, June 29, the customary "assembly" was held in the school-room to finish up the half-year's work at school. Intense excitement over the approaching football match prevailed, and the members of the First Eighteen were greeted with enthusiastic cheers and applause as they entered. Dr. Burgess, as President of the College for the year, had been invited to attend the meeting, and was very warmly welcomed by the school. The Head Master read the class lists and lists of certificates for the quarter. After this the President made a very stirring speech, in which he mentioned with pleasure the facts that many of the "old Reds" were now fighting in South Africa, and that a Cadet Corps had been founded in the School. When this speech was over, Dr. Burgess proceeded to distribute the class prizes and Herr Drew's prizes for improvement in German during the half-year. Mr. Chapple then spoke a few words about the term's history, and the assembly closed with a verse of the National Anthem.

The heads of the forms and prize winners were—

The Imperial Bushmen's Corps.

Friday, April 27, 1900, will ever be remembered with feelings of pride by the boys of Prince Alfred College. At the combined smoke social, given on the preceding Friday evening in honor of the departing members of the Imperial Bushmen's Corps who had spent their school days either at St. Peter's College or Prince Alfred College, Lieutenant Ferguson expressed a desire that the old boys might visit their Collège before they left for South Africa. Mr. Chapple, on behalf of the present scholars of Prince Alfred College, promised them a right royal welcome should they come, and Lieutenant-Colonel Rowell was good enough to yield to our Head Master's pleading and allow our old boys a few hours off to come on the Friday morning before their departure and see us.

Arriving at about 9.45 in cabs kindly provided by the Head Master, they were marched into the large school-room where the boys had assembled. A fine row of men they were, and a splendid reception they received. Cheer after cheer rang through the old College, and, ere the echoes had died away, the boys spontaneously commenced lustily to sing "Soldiers of the Queen." Excitement was at the highest pitch.

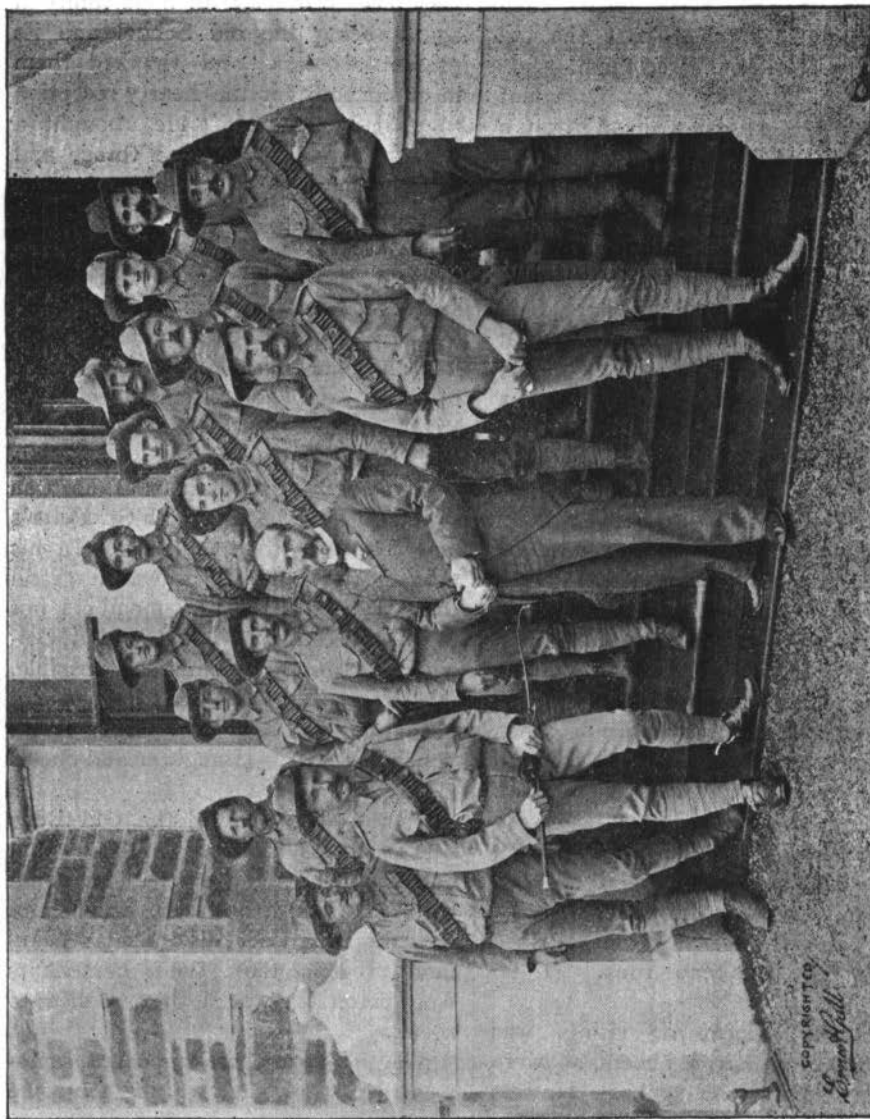

When quietness had been obtained, the Head Master rose and spoke a few appropriate and very feeling words. On behalf of the boys he heartily welcomed the soldiers to the College. He enthusiastically told the boys to look at them, yes, to look at them, for they were a splendid set of men. Mr. Chapple felt sure that the members of the present Contingent would strive to uphold the honor of the Empire, even as those now in South Africa were doing. He mentioned the names of Lieutenant Darling, who has been distinguishing himself at the war by heroic acts, and of other old Prince Alfred boys, and said that when the present Contingent arrive at the front there will be about fifty old Prince Alfred boys fighting for their Queen and Country in South Africa. (Cheers.) The Head Master then called upon Mr. Shortt, the oldest member of the Staff, to say a few words.

Mr. Shortt, on behalf of the rest of the Staff, thanked the old boys for paying the School a visit ere they left our shores, and gave them a hearty welcome. He thought the remark of Mr. Chapple, asking the boys to look on them, a very appropriate one, for they were a splendid set of men in physique. It had been reported, on the authority of Lord Roberts himself, that the Australian troops at present in South Africa were at least up to the standard of the British troops. (Cheers.) Mr. Shortt said that he was proud of the fact that he was Irish born and Australian educated, and it gave him great pleasure to see the Irish and Australian troops fighting side by side. (Cheers.) Personally he was a man of peace; he thought all school masters were. (Laughter.) He had, however, ancestors who had served their country on the battlefield; some had taken part in the Peninsular War, and he had relics at home from that war. He hoped the old boys would also bring back mementos from the present war. Mr. Shortt pointed out that an important truth about the present struggle was, that it proved to the Continental Powers how united England and her Colonies were. (Cheers.) He again welcomed them to the College, and wished them a safe and sound return. (Cheers.)

Mr. Chapple then informed the visitors that the College now possessed something not in existence in the time of any of them—a cadet corps. The members of the corps were then paraded, and marched past the old boys, who heartily cheered them.

The Rev. Dr. Burgess, as President of the College, was then asked to say a few words. He admired the fine appearance of the men before him, and said that if he had anything to do with the commissioning of an army he could choose none better than those who had been to a good school. There they learnt not only in the school work, but also in cricket, football, and all manly sports the discipline so necessary in a body of soldiers, good comradeship, and self reliance. Dr. Burgess wished them every success at the front, and invoked the blessing of heaven upon them, and, finally, told them that we all knew they would acquit themselves with credit. (Cheers.)

The Head Master then called upon Lieutenant Cook to respond, telling the boys that he had in mind one never-to-be-forgotten Saturday morning, when St. Peter's had four wickets to fall and thirteen runs to make in order to win. These, no doubt, would have been very easy to obtain, but (and a big but), Princes had good bowlers—at one end Peterson, and at the other A. E. Cook; and the result was, Prince Alfreds won by nine runs. (Loud Cheers.)

Lieutenant Cook, on rising, was greeted with prolonged cheers, as were all the soldiers who spoke. He was very pleased to have an opportunity of again seeing the old School and its present scholars, and thanked them most sincerely for the hearty reception they had received. He thought a Cadet Corps was a fine thing, and wished there had been one when he was at school. The Contingent about to leave South Australia contained, he thought, the finest body of men yet sent. Lieutenant Cooke hoped to do his duty, and prove that the Government had not misplaced its confidence in him. In conclusion, he again thanked the School very heartily for their reception. (Cheers).

Lieutenant Ferguson said he was proud to have been at both St. Peter's and Prince Alfred Colleges. In his opinion, the Cadet Corps was a grand thing, and he advised its members not to give up training when they left College, but to enter the militia, if possible. At school, he was afraid he had not been a model boy, Mr. Bayly could vouch for that. (Laughter and cheering).

As the time allowed the Old Boys was short, Mr. Chapple said he would not keep them longer than he could help. He must, however, ask any of the troopers, especially such as being more recent than their lieutenants were better known, if they wished to speak.

The line of troopers appeared somewhat backward, each waiting for some other to rise. At length, however, after a general cry from the boys for "Dumps," as he was best known at school, Trooper Randolph Tate rose and thanked the Head Master, teachers, and boys most sincerely for the pleasure they had had in being present that morning. (Cheers.)

Trooper W. J. Cowan was then called for. He remarked that he only had one thing to ask, and that was a half-holiday for the boys.

The cheering that greeted this was immense. Cowan was most certainly thought the most of after that. The Head Master said that Cowan had not forgotten what he was like when a boy. As all would wish to see the Contingent, and especially our own Old Boys, marching through the streets on the following Monday, he would grant a half-holiday for then.

Trooper Edgar Davis was the last to speak. He was very pleased to be present, and hoped to pay the School another visit when they came back.

The scholars then returned to their respective class rooms. The "Soldiers of the Queen" were invited to have a look at the old class rooms. They were photographed in front of the College, thus leaving us at least one imperishable memento of their visit. After they had partaken of refreshments and cigars handed them by the Head Master's daughters, the glorious 14 drove off. The Cadet Corps formed a guard of honor as they drove away, heartily singing "Go in Princes."

Mr. J. H. Chinner, the President of the Old Boys' Association, was present, and was heartily welcome.

Three Weeks in Norway.

Those boys who were at P.A.C. on Friday evening, May 4th, were entertained with a collection of lovely pictures and a most interesting account by Mr. John Roach of his three weeks pleasure trip to Norway.

Our Head Master introduced Mr. Roach to the assembled boys, and reminded the older ones how he had on previous occasions aided us at several of our midwinter concerts by his splendid recitations, of which he has a large and varied repertoire.

Mr. Roach, in reply, said that he was probably one of the oldest "Old Boys." He left the College in 1871, and the school was very different now from what it was in his day. After reciting in an effective manner a humorous piece entitled "Fauntleroy," or "A Study in Parents," which was received with great applause, Mr. Roach proceeded to give his lecture, illustrated by over 120 magic lantern slides.

From so many beautiful pictures I shall not attempt to name the best, for they were nearly all excellent; but will mention some of those which struck me at the time, and of which I took notes that they might be remembered.

Mr. Roach was one of a party of tourists who set out in the "Ceylon"—which is said to be the only temperance frigate in the British Isles—for the land of Foss and Fjord. He had the good fortune to be accompanied by another old P.A.C., Mr. Wilkinson, and their intimacy and friendship increased as the voyage went on. The frigate was under the command of Captain Roach, whom Mr. Roach discovered to be a 45th cousin of his, but could get no nearer.

The first series of pictures was taken on the "Ceylon," and some very effective groups it included. But we were specially glad when the "Ceylon" was shown anchored under the grand old cliffs of Norway. The next eleven views were scenes visited by another division of the party. Thence onward were shown only those places to which Mr. Roach himself had gone. Among the first of these was the great Bondes Glacier, running due north and south for forty miles, and in parts as much as fourteen miles across.

Shortly afterwards came pictures of the magnificent Bratlandsdal Gorge. Several views were shown of the hewn out road, winding along the cliff but a few feet above the torrent, a triumph of engineering skill, passing in one place through a three-quarter mile long tunnel carved out of the solid rock, in others over slender but firm and stable bridges far above "the torrent's awful voice beneath," as much in some cases as 500 feet below. At one time in this trip the road ascended 2,400 feet in three miles, or about one foot in every seven.

Only three per cent. of Norway is under cultivation; the inhabitants apparently deem it better to form gardens on the flat roofs of their pretty little cottages. On some of the farm houses, said Mr. Roach, were to be seen flourishing young fir plantations, generally in splendid condition.

Two splendid views of the beautiful Lotefoss were shown—one, of the two racing whirling torrents, Lotefoss and Ladifoss, meeting in clouds of flying spray, uniting with many a playful dash of whirling foam to form the grand swift flowing Scarfoss; the other, of the Lotefoss alone.

Perhaps the most graceful of the falls of Norway is the foss next portrayed to us, Esbelandifoss.

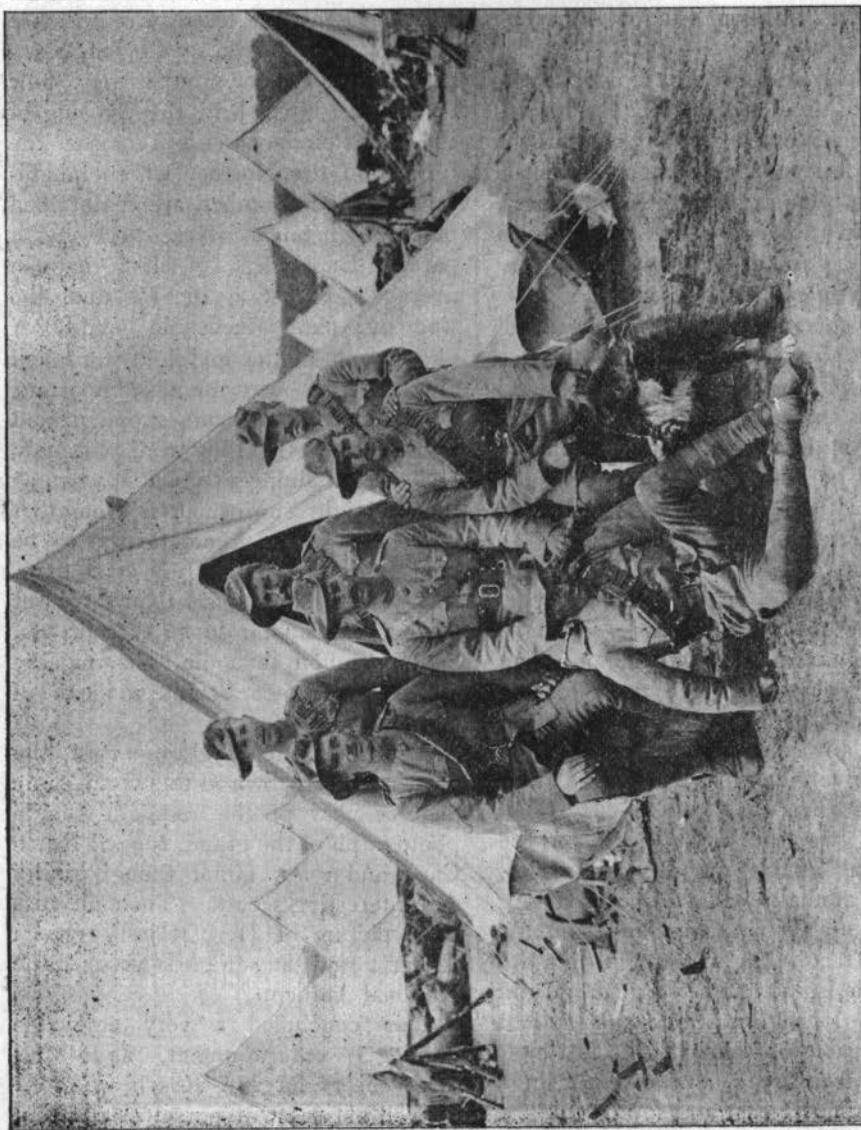

From a foss to a cliff is not a long jump, and so we leave them for the cliff of Hornelin, the highest sea cliff in Europe, towering to a height of 2,985 feet above the restless waves that wash its base.

Then we sail away again in the "Ceylon" among the Loffoden Isles, where annually 28,000,000 cod are caught, to the strangest of them all, Tockhattan. Right through this remarkable island passes a great natural tunnel. It begins at one end 470 feet above sea level—here it is 60 feet high and 40 feet broad, and extends in a direction north east and south west for a distance of 550 feet. From thence onward passed the "Ceylon," announcing at twenty minutes past four on the 4th day of July, the crossing of the Arctic circle, to visit Tromsøe, the "Paris of the North," whose inhabitants, 5,500 in number, are maintained chiefly by fishing. Here were met a party of Laplanders, of whom the men averaged 4 feet 9 inches, and the women 4 feet 3 inches in height. A photograph of the midnight sun taken at 12.20 p.m. was the next important item. This Mr. Roach supplemented by the remark that they were extremely lucky in obtaining so good a view, as the midnight sun, which is from that point of vantage theoretically to be seen from May 11 to July 31, is practically seen by not more than three out of four vessels that go for the purpose, as more often than not his majesty conceals his face behind a cloak of cloud.

After a picture of Hammerfest, the most northerly town in the world, came another view of the midnight sun, a photograph of the grand, rugged North Cape, and a few minor though pretty and interesting scenes. Then all rose to a picture of Her Majesty Queen Victoria and sang the first verse of the National Anthem.

This concluded a very enjoyable evening's entertainment, and after three cheers for Mr. Roach we broke up well pleased with ourselves and him.

Swimming Sports.

[By E.S.]

Early in the first quarter a meeting presided over by the Head Master was held in the Big Schoolroom to elect a committee to assist Mr. Langley in making arrangements for Swimming Sports—a lately revived athletic branch of our school life. Noltenius, Humble, and Stirling were elected. The committee received good support from the boys, and the races, which were held in the O.B.I. Baths, proved a great success from every point of view. Most of the finishes were exciting, especially the 200 yards breast stroke, in which T. Flecker almost caught C. Burford napping.

Messrs. Kirkham Evans, Bayly, and Robertson acted as judges, and Mr. Langley as starter. We thank these gentlemen for their kind services. Mrs. Chapple on the following day graciously presented the prizes to the successful competitors. We take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Chapple and the masters for their donations towards the prize fund.

1. Senior Championship. — F. H. Burgess (gold medal, presented by the Head Master). Other starters—C. Burford, H. Cowell, H. Humble, G. Moore. Burgess got a splendid start, and never once pressed, won very easily.

2. Junior Championship. — A. R. Judell (silver medal, presented by Mr. Langley). Other starters—G. Read, E. Smith, D. G. Sutherland. The field got away to a splendid start, but it was soon seen that Judell would win. That he was almost good enough to be classed with the seniors he again showed later in the afternoon.

3. Two Lengths (under 13).—A. V. Flecker. Other starters—A. V. King, A. C. Wilton. Flecker, after a fair start, had a good tussel with Wilton for first place. We shall probably hear more of Wilton in coming sports.

4. 100 Yards Handicap (open).—1, W. E. Stokes; 2, G. Moore. Other starters—H. Humble, C. Burford, H. Cowell, A. V. Flecker, A. R. Judell. This proved one of the most exciting races of the afternoon. Stokes had a big handicap, but he swims well, and his victory was well deserved. Moore hung gamely on, but he could not catch the W.A. representative, who won by half a length.

5. Style Diving.—G. H. Read. Other starters—F. H. Burgess, G. Moore, A. R. Noltenius. This event took a little time to decide, as Burgess dived splendidly, but Read's neatness in entering the water and in coming up gave him a highly popular victory.

6. 200 Yards Handicap (Breast Stroke).—C. Burford. Other starters—H. Flecker, T. Flecker, W. S. Stokes, A. G. Richardson. Burford getting away well, seemed to have the race well in hand, but little Flecker, trying a whole length's sprint, nearly caught his man, and Burford won by a few inches only.

7. Plate Diving.—F. H. Burgess. Other entries—Cowell, Flecker, Read, Stirling, Stokes. Burgess scored another easy win, picking up 30 articles.

8. Comic Race.—1, A. R. Noltenius; 2, H. Humble. This event caused a great deal of fun—to the spectators. The competitors had to swim one length in full dress, undress in the water, and swim another length. "Nolly" won easily.

9. Team Race (Boarders v. Day Boys).—Won by the Day Boys (A. R. Judell, H. Cowell, G. Moore, F. H. Burgess). The Boarders stuck well to an up-hill race, but to no purpose. This event brought to a conclusion a very good afternoon's sport.

P.A. Old Collegians' Association.

SOCIAL TO THE IMPERIAL BUSHMEN'S CONTINGENT.

The smoke social tendered by the members of Prince Alfred and St. Peter's Old Boys' Association at the Town Hall, on April 20, to those members of the Imperial Bushmen's Contingent who had been scholars at either College, will always be remembered as an important event in the annals of both Associations. The Associations have always hitherto maintained the rivalry commenced in the various contests between the schools, and the President of our Association certainly deserves the credit of suggesting that for this important occasion the farewells and good wishes extended to departing "old boys" should be united. The attendance, considering that the function was held in the holiday week, was very good, there being nearly 200 present, and the proceedings all through were full of enthusiasm. The programme of toasts and selections was equally divided between the Associations, and all worked well to make the affair a harmonious success. The programmes, specially designed by the President, have been much sought after as mementos, and hopes have been expressed that on some future occasion similar gatherings may be held.

The roll of the Association slowly grows, and the latest elected members comprise the following:—Thos. Baulderstone, Elliot and Robert Brummitt, E. Chapple, H. A. Cook, Stanley and H. F. Hall, Dr. Magarey, H. J. Priest, A. L. Taylor.

The Annual Meeting for the election of officers will be held on the same day as the sports, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

The Midwinter Concert.

On Friday evening, June 22, despite the most uncomfortably wet weather and muddy roads, a large number of friends was with us at half-past seven at our annual midwinter concert. An exceedingly attractive programme had been arranged by the committee, and the appreciation shown by all must have thoroughly repaid them for their trouble. After a short address of welcome from the Head Master, Mr. Knox commenced the proceedings with a pianoforte solo, "Galop Caprice," of his own composition, and was deservedly applauded. The recitation of "A Hindu Fable" by six juniors (L. and G. Davey, E. Brose, W. Cooper, F. Basedow, and J. K. Robin) followed the overture, and "took" immensely. Next in order came the coon song, "Alabama Coon," very well rendered by Bertram, Leak, N. and D. McNeil. Mr. Robertson should be proud of the way in which his pupils in singing acquitted themselves all through. Miss Ethel Hantke's song, "To the Front," afforded a pleasure unalloyed to all. Perhaps it was second to Mr. Kirkham Evans' conjuring in the minds of the boys, but among their elders this and Miss Hantke's two other songs must have been the most thoroughly appreciated items of the evening's entertainment. I am but "one of the boys" myself, and so cannot guarantee this assertion. In response to a very enthusiastic encore Miss Hantke replied with "The King's Own," once more delighting us with her full rich voice, clear, distinct enunciation, and splendid rendering of the music. Later in the evening Miss Hantke sang "The City by the Sea," and was encored, but asked to be excused from responding then. H. Parsons was very successful in a 'cello solo, Miss Edith Chapple accompanying on the piano. Mr. Chapple was hailed with such enthusiastic cheering that before beginning his recitation he had to pass it off by remarking that he supposed we all liked to see him "in a fix," and that that was why we were so eager to hear him begin. But, really, we all have heard our beloved Head Master in former times, and were well aware of the treat in store for us. The piece was from the end of Scott's "Marmion," giving the account of the battle of Flodden Field and the death of Marmion, a most stirring piece, and it roused us all. Messrs. Langley, Harry, and Newman reiterated in the ears of their audience their requirements in the matter of wives, in the trio, "A Little Farm," most effectively and humorously. They accepted a most hearty encore, and repeated the last section. Mr. Harry, in particular seemed desirous of reaching so low in his search for a consort that we are afraid he will never find one to suit his taste; Mr. Langley, on the contrary, looked so high that we place him in the same predicament; Mr. Newman will be far more easily satisfied, for he seeks "no wife at all." Lloyd, in the difficult part of Macbeth; Raws, in the rôle of Lady Macbeth, difficult in that he had to represent a woman; and Rooney, Moore, and Hooper, as the murderer, and Ross and Lennox, rendered in very good style the Banquet Scene from the tragedy of Macbeth. As the ghost would be a very awkward element to deal with on our extemporised stage, he was very prudently invisible to all eyes but Macbeth's, as probably in the original representation of the play, was merely imagined by the tyrant's mind. A short interval followed. Q. C. Jones was unable to take part in "The Witches Flight," a duet he was to have played with his brother, and accordingly, that there might, if possible, be no disappointment on so pleasant an evening, Mr. Knox took his place. Mr. Kirkham Evams then mystified us all with his conjuring, performing first a few "simple" card tricks and shuffles; then he burnt and restored a lady's handkerchief, and so on; finally, these being patriotic times, he burnt three sheets of colored tissue paper — red, white, and blue—shaking out from the phoenix ashes the dear old Union Jack. The contents of "John Bull's Letter Bag" were charmingly told us by four of the juniors (Hantke, Metters, Day, and N. McNeil), and they received a well merited round of applause. Sobels, on the piccolo; Lowe and Stirling, on the violin; and Parsons, on the 'cello; accompanied by Miss Chapple, rendered a "Berceuse" in splendid style. H. A. East's recitation of "Our Folks" was very pathetic and in many respects appropriate to these times of war. The last item on the programme was a "Cadet song" and chorus, the words by Mr. Harry, and the music by Eustace A. Dunn, both old P.A.C. scholars. Mr. Newman's fine bass voice was well heard in the solo, and six of the cadets in full uniform (Stirling, Humble, Dowdy, Rooney, N. Drew, and Seppelt) formed the chorus. Mr. Harry and Mr. Dunn are to be heartily congratulated on this fine piece and its spirited tone. After singing the first verse of the National Anthem, and giving three cheers for Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, and three more for our brave boys in South Africa, the audience broke up having evidently enjoyed the menu.

Football.

FIRST EIGHTEEN.

P.A.C. v. College Town.—College Town, 7 goals 9 behinds; P.A.C., 4 goals 6 behinds. The goalkickers for P.A.C. were Kirkwood (2), Rooney, and Drew. Moore, L. Cowan, and Claridge for us, and P. Verco and E. Smith (old P.A.C. boys) for our opponents, played well.

P.A.C. v. Fulham Park.—P.A.C., 6 goals 16 behinds; Fulham Park, 1 goal 2 behinds. The P.A.C. goalkickers were Wilkinson (3), Kirkwood, Drew, and Moore. L. Cowan, Moore, Claridge, and Homburg played well for P.A.C.; and G. H. Randell (one of our last year's First Eighteen) was the best man for our opponents.

P.A.C. v. Marryatville.—P.A.C., 8 goals 6 behinds; Marryatville, 5 goals 15 behinds. Our goalkickers were Wilkinson (2), Moore (2), Hill (2), Kirkwood, and Thomson. For P.A.C., Seppelt, Catchlove, Thomson, and Moore shone out above the rest.

P.A.C. v. Christian Bros. College.—P.A.C., 7 goals 15 behinds; C.B.C., 2 goals 4 behinds. Hill (4), Kirkwood, Drew, and Wilkinson were our goalkickers. In addition to the above, L.

Cowan, Moore, Catchlove, Homburg, Claridge, and Thomson played well for P.A.C.

P.A.C. v. College Town.—College Town, 8 goals 21 behinds; P.A.C., 5 goals 16 behinds. Goalkickers for P.A.C.—Kirkwood (3) Drew (2). For P.A.C., L. Cowan, Moore, Claridge, Catchlove, Seppelt, and the goalkickers played well. S. Rhodes and E. Smith (old P.A.C.'s) played a fine game for our opponents.

P.A.C. v. Way College.—P.A.C., 5 goals 19 behinds; Way College, 3 goals 6 behinds. Goalkickers for P.A.C. were Hill (2), Kirkwood (2), and Drew. The Princes were best represented by Claridge, Moore, Seppelt, Catchlove, and Thomson; and in the second half, Cowan. The play was rather rough, and the umpiring by no means up to the mark.

P.A.C., v. Payneham.—P.A.C., 6 goals 11 behinds; Payneham, 6 goals 11 behinds. P.A.C. goalkickers were Kirkwood (4) and Noltenius (2). The Princes were best represented by Moore, Cowan (2), Latty, Kirkwood, and Seppelt.

P.A.C. v. Roseworthy.—P.A.C., 11 goals 12 behinds; Roseworthy, 2 goals 7 behinds. Goalkickers for P.A.C.—Kirkwood (3), Drew (2), Hill (2), Noltenius (2), Dawson, and Moore. Played on the Adelaide Oval. Moore, Dawson, L. Cowan, and Claridge were the pick of our players, although they all played well; the team has never combined better and is to be congratulated on its brilliant victory.

P.A.C. v. University.—P.A.C., 6 goals 10 behinds; University, 6 goals 7 behinds. Goalkickers for P.A.C.—Noltenius (3), Claridge, Dawson, and Hill. Dawson, Seppelt, Thomson, Catchlove, Moore, Cowan, and Claridge played well for P.A.C.

P.A.C. v. Way College.—P.A.C., 4 goals 13 behinds; Way College, 2 behinds. This, like the other match with Way, was played on their grounds in the South Park Lands: we asked for this, as the larger ground gave us better practice for the Oval match. Goalkickers for P.A.C. — Dawson, Doudy, Homburg, and Kirkwood. Dawson, L. Cowan, Thomson, and Seppelt shaped well for P.A.C.; but rain and wind prevented anything like scientific play.

In conclusion, we beg to thank the Norwood Football Club for allowing us the use of their ground on the East Park Lands. It is open and near us, and affords us better practice than our own grounds.

Old Scholars' Dinner.

The Annual Dinner, which was held at Mrs. Aish's Cafe de Paris on Friday evening, June 29, was quite as enthusiastic as any of its predecessors. The attendance was not quite as large as it has been during the last few years, there being only about 75 present. This is chiefly accounted for by the fact that those members who were engaged in banks or the larger mercantile houses could not attend on account of the annual balance on the 30th. The fare was good, and well served; the speeches, with one or two exceptions, were crisp and bright; and these two facts, together with the success gained by the football club on the Oval the same day, were responsible for the success of the affair. One prominent feature was the presence of Mr. C. W. Hayward, the President of St. Peter's Old Collegians' Association. This was the first occasion on which the St. Peter's old boys have ever been represented, and Mr. Hayward received a very hearty reception. Several well-known members were absent, notably Mr. E. B. Colton, Mr. J. W. Grasby, and Mr. H. C. Shortt; it seemed quite strange being without them, but their good wishes for the Association were there all the same.
