School Notes.

The cricket match and the mighty score called forth enthusiasm from old boys far and near. Messages, letters, and telegrams came not only from Mr. P. E. Johnstone, LL.B., the President of our Old Boys' Association; from Mr. George S. Cotton, the assiduous Honorary Secretary of the College; from Roy Noltenius, at the A.M.P.; from Tom Watt, at Kilkenny; from Padman, at Clare; and from W. Kimber, at Clare, within our own state, but Mr. Harry, at Geelong; A. G. Hunt, L. Newman, and Clarence Newman, from Sydney "wired," and so did Broadbent, Godden, and "old Reds" from the Barrier, and Humble, Keable Stewart, Hugo Throssell, Moss Solomon, Ern. Langsford, and "The Throssell Brothers" from West Australia. Special mention should be made of a note of hearty congratulation from Mr. J. Creswell, the President of St. Peter's Old Boys' Association.

There is nothing like a manly game to bind strong youths together, and nothing like a brilliant deed done by the boys at present at a school to stir up again the fire slumbering in the hearts of those who have once been at its desks and in its playgrounds. The old boy is apt to be laudator temporis acti—"things were far better in my day;" but unexpectedly comes a record of a deed of "derring-do," and with sudden revulsion of feeling and generous contrition he calls to his Mercury to make speed. "Go, tell them they are men." And once more rang out the exultant warcry in many a far-off home, "Reds can't be beat." Some toned down the message sent by adding "for all-round success," and so forth. But athletics have a great hold on high-mettled youth, and they were foremost in all thoughts. Let the wise learn. Even grave and reverend signiors came in greater numbers than usual to the Town Hall on Speech Day last Thursday, and filled the platform as never before, and beamed forth pleasure and pride in the school so triumphant.

Honours and rewards fell thick upon the champions in the great match. The Head Master gave to Dolling and to Townsend each a handsome gold medal. Mr. John Roach gave each a Broken Hill share. Sir E. T. Smith sent Dolling a full member's ticket for the Adelaide Oval. Mr. Langley gave Dolling a bat, and Joe Darling gave Townsend one. Mr. Thos Drew gave Burgess one "in recognition of his valuable innings." Mr. Grey gave Pflaum a gold medal for his bowling in the first innings. The cricket committee have mounted and inscribed suitably the bats used by Dolling and Townsend in making their scores, and also a ball for Pflaum, and have presented these to them.

Mr. McGann, of Leigh Street, has taken a capital portrait group of the famous eleven, and would be glad to furnish extra copies at four shillings each.

Our Sixth and Fifth Forms have again been very successful in the examinations held by the University of Adelaide.

In the Higher Public Bennett heads the General Honor list, and he and Glasson, Darwin, and Burgess give us four places out of the first six places. Bennett had the first place in four subjects (German, Pure Mathematics, and Applied Mathematics, and Geology), and the second place in Physics. Only five subjects may be taken. He also won the Angas Exhibition. He had thus un embarras de richesse. However, he chose to take, at the hands of his school, the Sir Thomas Elder Scholarship, and from the University's gift, the Hartley Studentship.

The examiners will recommend Darwin, the second man, for the Angas, so still the list of Angas exhibitors (now counting sixteen names) will be Prince Alfred with one exception.

To J. L. Glasson and L. F. Burgess will doubtless be awarded two of the University scholarships. So once again we take four out of the five entrance scholarships annually offered by the Adelaide University.

In the Special Honour lists at the Higher Public we had four out of the first five places in Pure Mathematics, the first out of two given in Applied Mathematics, all four Honours given in Physics, all but one in Chemistry, and the only one given in Geology.

In the Senior Public General Honour list we have twelve places, Churchward, Fornachon, and Muirhead being our highest with three credits each. Our best Special Honour list was that in Chemistry, in which we got six out of ten places given. There are twenty-eight names to be added to our long list of those who have "passed" the Senior, and thus qualified for Matriculation, a result on which the Lower Sixth are to be congratulated. Fifteen was the number for last year.

In the Junior Examination our boys have won ten places in the General Honour list, a number only once equalled, and that last year. Brown is third, but the two above him are "twicers."

In the separate subjects our best list is that in English Literature, where we have C. G. Bennett at the very top, in spite of age and "twicing." He has received the Tennyson Medal, the second time our fifth form has won it. In all we had thirteen places in the English Credit list. The pass lists bring up the total for this year to 34, or two more than last year's "record."

Our school scholarships fall into worthy hands. F. N. Bennett has the Sir Thomas Elder, L. F. Burgess the Old Collegians', G. D. Cowan the Colton, J. L. Glasson the Longbottom, C. F. Bennett one of the Elder Foundations, and F. Basedow the other, W. W. Rosengarten has the Robb, E. R. H. Darwin the Malpas, and A. C. Brown the Alfred Muecke. L. W. McNamara worthily bore off the Cotton Medal, and A. Pinch the Smith Prize for History. The contest for the arithmetic resulted in three being equal; a further test brought Churchward to the front.

P. M. Wood and G. M. Davey are to be congratulated for their recitations on Speech Day, and so for that matter are K. Hummel and G. White.

The Speech Day celebrations passed off capially. His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geo. Le Hunte, K.C.M.G., presided, and gave a hearty, enthusiastic tone to the whole proceedings. The boys occupied the main square in front of the platform, a solid square of nearly 300; almost every boy was present. The Honorary President of the College for the year sat on the Governor's right, and the Head Master on his left, and there were on the platform as well the Chairman of Committees (the Hon. A. Catt), Mr. John Darling, the Mayor of Norwood (Mr. H. J. Holden), the Mayor of St. Peters (Mr. H. W. Langsford), Mr. Assistant Inspector-General Whitham, Mr. Inspector Neale, Messrs. Davey, Gartrell, Peter Wood, Godlee, and many other members of the College Committee, lay and clerical, Mr. Johnstone, LL.B. (President of the Old Boys' Association), &c. A specially interesting feature was the arrival of that veteran missionary, the Rev. Geo. Brown, D.D., and the two Fijians that accompanied him. His Excellency seemed very pleased to welcome them, and conversed with them several times as the afternoon went on in their native tongue. The boys cheered them as they entered. The display on the walls was as creditable to Mr. Ashton as ever, and the exhibit of the carpentry class was the largest and best we have had. The singing class did their part really well, and so did the reciters, but a special word of praise must be given to Allan Webb's excellent rendering on the piano of Grieg's "An den Frühling;" rarely has our Speech Day heard its equal.

His Excellency the Governor was kind and sympathetic, as always. He has the happy art of making boys feel that he is their friend: but, more than that, they feel he is a wise friend, one that it is an honour and help to have as a friend. He is far from preaching, and yet makes each feel that honour and manliness, virtue and duty are words that stand for mighty things. Like every English public school man, he speaks as if one great force in his life is the constraint to be worthy of the school he hails from, and keep up its good name. And he bade every Prince Alfred boy "gird up his loins," walk erecter, be proud of the school he now formed part of, and live to make it more respected.

There was a ring of the same truths in the stirring school poems by Henry Newbolt, which the boys recited with such clear enunciation and manifest sympathy, with the patriotism, love of school and of country, that they gave voice to "Vitai Lampada," told that at school, as in later life, character must be won by courage. In "Clifton" the father introduced the son to his old school, "of the great fellowship now you're free," and in "The Best School of All" the old boy spoke of the school days and of those who taught in them with a kindness which must make boys, young and old, and schoolmasters, tenderer and truer.

The President's part in the proceedings was performed with courtesy; and he said the right things in the right way. It was clear that he is popular with the boys, that they know him well, and believe in him. When his year of office ends he will be much missed, and will leave in P.A.C. a gracious memory behind him.

From beginning to end the Speech Day Celebration of 1904 was a distinct success from every point of view.

THE GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS.

His Excellency said they were to be congratulated on the report that had just been read by the Head Master. It was always a gratification to him to meet the boys of Prince Alfred College, as it was those of St. Peter's College. He was glad when they saluted him, and wished them always to look upon him as their friend. He had been glad to hear the list of successes which had been won by the Prince Alfred boys. It had reflected great credit on the teaching staff and on the scholars themselves. It showed that there was method in the teaching, and receptivity in the boys' minds. It was quite evident to him that the boys understood how to "take in" what they were taught as well as boys in any part of the world. (Cheers) He had been pleased to be at the intercollegiate cricket match. The score of 700 runs which their team had compiled was a record which would be known throughout the cricketing world. (Cheers.) But at the same time he was not going to "butter them up" too much for that big score, to use a colonial phrase. They had done well. He had been pleased to see the magnificent score of 311 runs that Captain Dolling had put up. (Cheers.) He believed Dolling would have made many more, and would probably have beaten Clement Hill's great score of 360 but for a mistake of judgment, which lost him the splendid co-operation of Stoddart, who was knocking the balls about and making it easy for him to score. When Stoddart was dismissed he had remarked that Dolling's chance of making many more runs was gone. He wished to give the boys a word of advice as to cricket. He paid a great attention to bowling. He did not care for great big scores unless the bowling was good. Boys were always bent upon getting high batting averages, but of what value were they unless they were obtained against good bowling? It naturally followed that the more they neglected their bowling the bigger scores they would make, because the bowling was deteriorating. It was the attack in cricket, just as in war, that would win the day, and it was the side that had the best bowlers that would eventually come out on top. (Cheers.) The other day, when watching a match a gentleman had said to him in a deprecating way, "Oh, so and so was only put in because of his bowling." In his opinion the man who could bowl well should be in the front rank of those picked to form an eleven. (Cheers.)

Another matter that had given him intense satisfaction this year had been the selection of Mr. Jolly as the first Rhodes scholar from South Australia. He congratulated Prince Alfred College on Jolly; but he would have congratulated St. Peter's equally if they had produced him. His great gratification was that Mr. Jolly had been an old public school boy, and a University man of South Australia. He was carrying the colors of South Australia to the grand old University of Oxford. Mr. Jolly had already attained to the blue riband of Oxford by gaining admission to Balliol College. (Cheers.) Mr. Jolly would be a fine example for them to follow. (Cheers.) A Rhodes scholar would be selected every year, and the boys of Prince Alfred College should try to gain the honor of securing the scholarship every year for their school. (Cheers.) There would be no favoritism about the selection of the Rhodes scholar. It was a responsible duty to decide who should represent this State at a university in England, and it was a great honor for any boy to be selected as the Rhodes scholar from South Australia. (Cheers.) He was very pleased to hear that they were to have the advantage of a bigger football ground. That was an inestimable benefit to a school such as Prince Alfred College. It was difficult to play cricket or football well if they were cramped for room, and the improvement would be thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by the boys. (Cheers.)

In conclusion the Governor reminded the boys that the honor and good name of a school depended upon the boys, and not only while attending it, but in after life living worthily of it, and he urged the boys past and present always to bear that in mind. (Loud cheers.)

THE SPORTS REPORT.

The Head Master explained that for some years it had now been the custom for the captain of the cricket eleven to report on the sports, but that often a difficulty was felt, and especially was there one this year. Dolling must have had long to hesitate between historical veracity and befitting modesty. He must have to tell of events of which he must say like Æneas, quorum pars magna fui. However, it was desirable to keep up the custom, so the report this year was of a committee, to the other members being left the tennis and cricket, in which Dolling was protagonist.

Your Excellency, Mr. Head Master, Ladies, and Gentlemen—In the athletic contests with St. Peter's we have been defeated in four out of the five contests; but in three cases, namely, tennis, football, and gymnastics, our rivals only got home by the narrowest of margins. The teams were practically on an equality in them, and it was simply for the fortune of war to decide which side should prove victorious. This year another shield was presented for competition between the Colleges by Col. Dean. This trophy is to go annually to the school that proves its supremacy on the tennis courts. The first match for the Dean shield was won by St. Peter's, but only in the last set. Dolling and Goode, our first pair, played splendidly and scored well.

The great match of the year in football proved another exciting game. At the close of the third quarter we were leading, and looked like winning, but a capital ten minutes' play gave the victory to the Blues. Goode for us played one of the best games on the ground, and Stoddart proved a brilliant captain. At the beginning of the season the football team had a most pleasant trip to Melbourne. We played matches against Wesley College, Scotch College, and Melbourne Grammar School, but were unable to score a win. We were most hospitably received, and had a pleasant and useful outing.

The gymnastic competition was the closest that has ever been held and that is ever likely to be. At the end of the contest Mr. Leschen announced that the judges had decided in favor of St. Peter's, the scores being 887½ to 886½. An interesting sequel to this is that in Mr. Leschen's own examinations for the championship of the schools recently held, we obtained the first three places and the fifth. Parnell the Captain of our team, was awarded the gold medal as schools' champion, while McEwin was placed second, Loutit third, and Seppelt fifth.

The athletic sports were won somewhat comfortably by our rivals. Goode, our champion, ran very pluckily and well, winning the 220, 440, and 150 flat, and only just missed the 100 yards by a bad start by an inch or two. Townsend again carried off the 120 hurdles in great style, but had the bad luck to fall at the last hurdle in the steeplechase.

The cricket match just ended may justly be regarded as the most wonderful contest in the whole series. Every one knows how we went in first, and how before the last wicket had fallen we had amassed the magnificent score of 700; how Dolling and Townsend got together on the first day and raised the score to 368 runs with only 1 wicket down; how Townsend went on next day until he reached 171; and how Dolling reached 311, and many hoped that he would even break Clem Hill's record of 360. This is too fresh in our memory to need comment. Besides Dolling and Townsend, Stoddart, Wilton, and Burgess helped materially to make the total what it was. Pflaum must also be congratulated upon his fine performance with the ball. In drawing to a close, we should like to be allowed to say we are very thankful to the Head Master and Sports Master for the great interest they have taken in the sports during the year.

In the Sunday School Union examinations C. M. Churchward, R. Abbott, and W. W. Cooper won prizes; L. C. Norman, K. Hummel, and B. Hummel gained first class certificates, and S. E. Holder a second class certificate.

The Rhodes scholar for South Australia for the future is to be selected in February, and applications have to be sent in by January 31. It is found that vacancies in the Oxford colleges are usually filled by about June, or before the summer vacation. This will give the scholar chosen from S.A. time to secure admission.

We had a most interesting visit one morning lately from the Rev. Egerton R. Young. He was already known to many as a famous missionary to the North American Indians and as the author of "By Canoe and Dog Train" and many another story of adventure amongst those fascinating people. And his address to us was quite as interesting as his books. The stories had manifest lessons in them too. "The Bear Hunt" told of the need to be thorough, and his own dividing equally the one fish amongst eight starving men told how a Christian act won more than persuasive words.

There was also another visit from a missionary from a very different part of the world, the Rev. Geo. Brown, D.D., and he was accompanied by two native Christians—speaking evidence of the great work wrought by the Gospel amongst those once so barbarous. The Fijians spoke to “assembly” earnest words of natural eloquence, figurative and forceful.

Old Boys.

J. R. Wilton, B.Sc., has entered at Trinity College, Cambridge. He was aided in his decision as to how and where best to commence his Mathematical by Alfred Chapple, B.A., B.Sc., the second son of our Head Master, who after a brilliant career at the University has been for some years a lecturer and coach in the Engineering School.

N. W. Jolly, B.Sc., the Rhodes Scholar for South Australia, has been admitted to Balliol College, Oxford.

Harold Rischbieth, M.B., Cambridge, has been appointed a house physician at the London Hospital.

A. A. Simpson has been elected an alderman for the City of Adelaide, a very high honour for so young a man. His old school rejoices with him.

At the annual general meeting of the Cambridge University Lawn Tennis Club just held in the rooms of the Rev. P. St. John Parry, tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge, Mr. Harold Chapple was elected secretary of the club. This office always leads as a matter of course to the captaincy the succeeding year.

Both the Vice-Presidents of the Literary Societies' Union this year are Old Princes, viz:—H. Homburg and Herbert Solomon, B.A., LL.B. So also is the Assistant Secretary, E. J. W. Ashton.

W. H. Rayner won the second prize for poem; H. F. Parkes and J. H. Vaughan were in the society that won the award for dramatic scenes at the recent competition of the Literary Societies' Union.

L. C. Norman passed the Preliminary Examination of the Pharmaceutical Society; 16 sat, 5 passed, and Norman was top.

A. E. Cook has been appointed major in the 16th Australian Light Horse Regiment (South Australian Mounted Rifles).

Lawrence Birks is supervising engineer of the New Zealand Electrical Construction Company. They are just laying down electric tram lines in Christchurch.

Four of the six selected to represent South Australia in the match of lawn tennis against Victoria this November were old P.A.C.'s—Messrs. Bowen, Taylor, Newman, and Lang.

Harold Chapple with his partner, Dawes, for the third time won the long vac. tennis doubles at Cambridge.

R. Hayley Lever is paying a visit to South Australia, though his studio in St. Ives in Cornwall awaits his return. He has held an exhibition of many "sketches" which have received exceedingly favorable comment from the Premier, Sir Samuel Way, and other connoisseurs, and many have found ready sale.

Cecil H. Shortt has gone to Port Darwin. He has been transferred to there by the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company, in whose service he has been since leaving school. We congratulate him upon his promotion.

P. T. Morcombe the first "Old Collegians' Foundation Scholar" has now completed his two years course, and has made excellent use of his opportunities. In the first year he passed the Primary Examination, and this year the "Junior" in six subjects and has earned a good report every term. His successor is to be — Purvis, like his predecessor the son of an esteemed old boy. His schoolmaster, Mr. V. I. Pavia, of LeFevre's Peninsula School speaks very highly indeed of the new scholar.

Our old boys at the Adelaide University have been exceedingly successful this year. The full list is as follows:—

H. Basedow (for the best original paper most likely to advance the knowledge of the geology of South Australia).

Of these we should like specially to notice that thirteen have obtained their degrees. Malcolm Scott completes his M.B. with a first class. Last year he had the scholarship or was the best man of his year ; this year he only yields the front place to a lady. Herbert Priest is to be heartily congratulated on his First Class Honours in the Mathematics of the B.A. course—a distinction only once carried off before, and then by so brilliant a student as Ray Wilton. Mr. M. M. Maughan amidst a busy life as Inspector of Schools and many another public duty has yet found time and energy to complete his degree—a course begun long ago when a junior master with us. Our four old boys who have won the Diploma of the University and the Fellowship of the School of Mines are to be congratulated too, particularly Ernest Chapple, who has taken his in Electric Engineering. No one has done this before, nor is any one likely to do it again for some time.

In the examinations in Commerce conducted by the Adelaide University, we are pleased to note that A. R. Hogben and C. B. McMichael obtained the full certificate, and that in Banking and Exchange, R. Harold Cotton was top of the list, that A. E. Messent, C. Brice McMichael, J. Howard Burgess, and H. A. Solly obtained credit, and A. R. Hogben, W. H. L. Wolter, A. J. Willsmore, and E. A. Smith passed. H. C. Thomas also passed in Business Practice. Also in Commercial Geography the following passed:—R. H. Cotton (with credit), A. R. Hogben (with credit), C. B. McMichael, L. S. Miller, H. A. Solley, A. T. Willsmore, W. H. L. Wolter, and in Commercial Law, J. H. Burgess (with credit) and H. R. Adamson.

C. N. Baeyertz, the editor of The Triad of Dunedin, &c., paid us several visits during the last days of term. He also came and joined in evening prayers. The Head Master introduced him to us as one who had sat in our places a quarter of a century ago. He said a few kind words expressing affectionate memories of his old school and continued attachment to it.

Annual Cricket Match.

Saturday, December 10th, witnessed the commencement of perhaps the greatest event in our College year, the Annual Cricket Match against St. Peter's. Instead of beginning at twelve o'clock as in previous years and playing on till half-past one, a start was this year made at one o'clock, and there was no adjournment for luncheon. This is a decided improvement, at any rate from the spectators' point of view. The weather could not possibly have been more favorable for the glorious summer pastime, and during the afternoon a large crowd of interested spectators assembled to watch the game. Our handsome college flag waved conspicuously over the pavilion. Ladies in their bright summer costume adorned with the colors of the school they favored, were very much in evidence, and lent a charm gaiety and animation to the scene. Everything in fact was suitable for the great occasion. The wicket, upon the trueness of which so much always depends, was one of the best Checkett has ever prepared.

THE PLAY.

Dolling won the toss from Stevenson and of course elected to bat. Play began punctually at the advertised time. Hutchings led the attack from the river end. Burgess took strike and off the second ball obtained two for a snick through the slips. Pincombe, who bowls medium pace left arm, took the ball at the other end. Dolling moved off the mark with a two and a four to leg, and followed with three for an off drive, getting into double figures with a two to the on. Shortly after Burgess gave on the leg side a difficult chance of stumping but it was not accepted. At fifteen Stevenson went on in place of Hutchings. His first ball was a full toss, and Dolling promptly dispatched this to the leg boundary. The Blue-and-White captain nearly got Burgess's wicket, as the batsman went right out of his crease to a slow one and missed it, but he managed to get back before Lewis could knock the bails off. At twenty-four Gardiner relieved Pincombe. Dolling by quiet play had reached twenty, then he jumped out to Gardiner and drove him beautifully down the ground, for this he obtained a four all run. He got to thirty by a well-judged run, and then hit two lovely fourers, one to the on and one an off drive. Meanwhile Burgess was keeping up his end manfully, being content to play the bowling while Dolling made the runs. Powell at mid off was fielding brilliantly and stopping a lot of hard drives, whilst Pincombe and Stevenson were also saving many runs. Hutchings took the ball again, and Dolling brought the total to fifty after an hour's batting. Burgess moved into double figures by a pretty two to leg, and he repeated the stroke next ball. Pincombe came on again vice Gardiner, and Dolling banged him for four to square leg. Soon after a burst of cheering from the camp of the Reds announced that the captain had reached his fifty. Dolling continued to pile on the runs merrily, making lovely strokes on both sides of the wicket, while Burgess plodded patiently away and in due time reached his twenty. Stevenson kept ringing the changes, but could not effect a separation. Dolling was playing coolly and confidently, and a cut for four and a tremendous drive straight down the ground, for which five were run, helped to augment his tally. Burgess with a pat to leg brought the hundred up after as many minutes batting. This of course was the signal for vigorous and prolonged cheering. No wickets for a hundred looked decidedly promising, and consequently the Reds' supporters were in high glee. Burgess reached thirty-three by patient batting and then returned one softly to Stevenson, the first bad stroke he made. Burgess's innings cannot be too highly praised, as with Dolling he laid the foundation for a splendid score. For two hours he played his own game and defied all attempts to dislodge him. Dolling greeted Townsend with a three to the on, and got to ninety with a drive for one. Townsend did not take long to get going and made an auspicious start with a four to leg, followed shortly afterwards by two fours to leg off successive balls, both being perfect strokes. Dolling slowed down on nearing his hundred, and at the afternoon tea adjournment was ninety-eight. On resuming, Hutchings and Gardiner took up the attack. Townsend smashed a fourer off the fast bowler's last ball and obtained three for an uppish one through the slips. Dolling crept to ninety-nine and completed his hundred by driving a single. The Princes' barrackers nearly yelled themselves hoarse as the three figures went up opposite the captain's name, and began to look forward to a tall score. After Dolling had obtained his century, the scoring, which had never been slow, livened up considerably, and four followed four with delightful rapidity. The batsmen had absolutely collared the bowling and banged it all over the ground. The display was a treat to watch and was worth coming miles to see. Townsend with some magnificent drives passed the fifty after seventy minutes batting. Dolling chopped a ball past point for four, bringing the second century up, and the same over gave him another four and a two. The lefthander, who was playing a dashing innings, made a sweet square cut and a powerful cover hit, getting two fours off successive balls. Stevenson kept on changing his bowlers, but the rate of scoring in no way diminished. When he was 124 Dol-ling narrowly escaped being run out. He drove one hard and ran; the ball was well fielded but badly thrown in; Lewis failed to take it, and Dolling got back. Townsend continued to pile on the runs, and he lifted one right down the ground for four, a beautiful hit which deserved five. Dolling got fairly on to a ball on the leg side and brought 250 up, and immediately afterwards banged another four to square leg. Townsend got into the nineties with two perfect on drives in succession for four. At 269 Stevenson went on again, and was treated most disrespectfully by Dolling, in that he was dispatched for two fours and a three to leg in one over. Townsend, who was scoring the quicker of the two, followed his captain into three figures with a splendid high drive for four. From then on till the end of the day's play the ball was for a great part of the time racing up the bicycle track and rattling against the pickets. In fact fourers became en regle. Townsend batting freely and attractively only gave one difficult chance in the slips to Gardiner, whilst Dolling's magnificent innings was as yet absolutely chanceless. Indeed the only mis-hit he made was off a high full toss, and then the ball fell perfectly safe. When stumps were drawn the scoring board showed Townsend not out 145, Dolling not out 179, total one for 368, a score quite unequalled in these matches.

SECOND DAY.

At the stroke of one, Dolling (179) and Townsend (145) were at the creases. On a perfect wicket Pincombe, from the Cathedral end, bowled a maiden to Dolling. Hutchings took up the attack from the other end, and his second was nicely late cut by Townsend for a couple. Shortly after, the same batsman off-drove Pincombe to the track and made his total 151. Dolling, after playing two maiden overs, reached 180 by a well-run single. Townsend continued to hit merrily, and by banging a full toss from Pincombe to the boundary brought the fourth century into view. A double change of Stevenson and Gardiner for Hutchings and Pincombe was then tried. This change proved effective, for Townsend, in attempting a big hit at a well-pitched ball from Gardiner, missed, and was bowled amid loud cheers from the camp of the Blues.

The outgoing batsman played a fine, free, and fast innings, with strokes all round the wicket. Most of his runs were scored from off-drives and a pretty leg-glance. He hit 27 fourers. Dolling meanwhile was content to play steadily. Drew started with a nice late cut for 3 and a fourer, and was shaping confidently. Lewis, however, ended his innings by smartly catching him on the leg side at the wickets off Stevenson.

Dolling was gradually approaching his second century by good cricket, and with Wilton in he leg-glanced one from Gardiner to the pickets. As the board showed Dolling 200 the noise became deafening.

Wilton, after starting nervously, settled down and drove freely. At 439 Pincombe replaced Stevenson, and Wilton cover-hit him twice in an over. Dolling meanwhile was scoring quickly. Pincombe was the only bowler he treated with much respect, for he was keeping a capital length. At 473 Dean took the ball from Gardiner, and at 486 Powell went on vice Pincombe. Dolling was opening out, and he punished both bowlers by off-driving them to the boundary. At 501 Stevenson came back in place of Dean, and his first over yielded 11 to Dolling. When the total stood at 514 Hutchings replaced Powell, and Dolling reached 250 by a single. Soon after he passed Joe Darling's score of 252, and Wilton made his total 50. At 545 Wilton was run out after making 54, including a number of fourers, the result of many excellent strokes on the off.

Middleton was next, and shaped well, but after making 3 he ran out to a slow from Stevenson, and was stumped by Lewis.

5-3-550.

Dolling greeted Stoddart by hitting Gardiner to leg for four. Stoddart started with a lofty drive off Stevenson. At the tea adjournment the score stood at 565 for five wickets, Dolling 291, Stoddart 5. After tea, Stevenson and Gardiner were the bowlers. Both batsmen scored freely and Stoddart brought 600 up by a good drive for 4, frequent changes were made in the bowling, Powell and Pincombe being substituted for Gardiner and Stevenson. Stoddart by a nice on-drive off Pincombe brought the total to 621, thus passing the record score of 619 (Clem Hill's year.) The end of Stoddart's innings was near, for Dolling played a ball and called him, but he was slow in starting, and arrived late.

Pflaum came in and played two maidens from Powell. Dolling had quietened down considerably and was tiring. When, however, he was at 296 he banged one from Pincombe to leg for four and completed his third century. O how those Princes yelled! Gardiner then took the ball from Pincombe, who had lost his length. The separation was effected at the other end. Dolling, in playing back to a slow leg break from Stevenson, was bowled.

As soon as the batsman left his crease he was met by a number of his schoolmates and borne home shoulder high. Dolling played a superlatively patient innings for over eight hours. Among his hits were thirty-three fourers and one five, a most wonderful achievement. Goode, after making 5, was caught at square leg by Duncan.

8—5—656.

Pflaum scored slowly, but he met the ball with the full face of the bat and never seemed very likely to get out. Waddy played an attractive innings for 16 including two good fourers on the leg off Gardiner. He was bowled with a curly one by Stevenson.

Rankin broke the ice with a single. At 697 Pincombe replaced Gardiner. After a bye Pflaum with a late cut brought 700 up. This was the end, for with his next ball Pincombe clean bowled Pflaum for 22 made by careful cricket. The innings closed for 700, which is a new record for College cricket. Mention must be made of the game way in which the Saints stuck to their work, bowling and fielding away and never losing heart. Stevenson, Pincombe, Powell, and Dean were especially brilliant.

THE THIRD DAY.

The weather continued warm for the third day's play, and Stevenson sent Duncan and Bleechmore in to face the bowling of Townsend and Dolling. Townsend, who was bowling from the river end, kept a good length, and was not long in finding Duncan's wicket.

1—7—8.

Stevenson took his place, and soon after Bleechmore reached double figures. At 35 Dolling tried a double change in Pflaum and Stoddart, and it proved effective, for in Pflaum's second over Stevenson slipped one which was smartly taken by Townsend.

2—16—35.

Pincombe joined Bleechmore, but he did not stay long, being clean bowled by Pflaum.

3—4—39.

Chandler came in, only to see Bleechmore stumped by Middleton off Pflaum.

4—17—48.

Powell, who was next, failed to score, being caught by Pflaum off his own bowling—the first "duck" of the match.

5—0—48.

Cresdee joined Chandler, and Dolling sent Townsend on in place of Stoddart. After a few overs the captain himself went on, and succeeded in clean bowling Chandler.

6—6—60.

Lewis came in, and Cresdee was bowled by a well-pitched ball of Pflaum's.

7—7—60.

Dean took his place, but was soon caught at point by Wilton off Pflaum.

8—4—65.

No sooner had Gardiner come in than Lewis played on one of Dolling's.

9—3—67.

Hutchings was the last man, and after scoring a single was run out by a smart throw in by Drew.

10—1—70.

Gardiner was 2 not out.

The innings had been most disastrous and the Saints' hopes of victory had perhaps now altogether disappeared. Pflaum was the main cause of the downfall, as his average of six for 20 shows. The innings occupied 105 minutes.

With 630 runs to make in order to save an innings' defeat, Saints began their second innings at 3 p.m. Stevenson and Bleechmore appeared at the wickets, the latter taking strike to Townsend, bowling from the Cathedral end. Stevenson, who came in apparently with the intention of big hitting, was soon stumped by Middleton off Dolling's bowling.

Pincombe joined Bleechmore, and the two remained together till the afternoon tea adjournment, when the scores were—Bleechmore 36, Pincombe 29, total 66, each player having given a chance.

Rankin had been tried without success, and Dolling gave the leather again to Stoddart and Pflaum. At last the partnership was broken, for Pincombe, who had played a good innings, was caught at mid-off by Dolling off Stoddart.

2—41—92.

Duncan was next, and the hundred was brought up in 80 minutes. Duncan scored quickly, but was soon taken in the slips by Townsend off Dolling.

3—28—141.

Chandler took his place, and Bleechmore, who had batted soundly, played on a fast one from Townsend.

4—76—147.

The outgoing batsman had hit eight fours and had only given one chance.

Powell came in, only to be soon caught and bowled by Pflaum.

5—14—187.

Not long after, Chandler, who had played an excellent innings, was caught by Dolling off Pflaum.

7—42—224.

At this stage stumps were drawn, Dean being 5 not out.

FOURTH DAY.

Rain, although threatening, held off, and the wicket was still in good condition.

At 2 p.m. Dean came to the wickets with Lewis, the former taking strike to Pflaum, who bowled from the river end. Dolling, at the other end, soon clean bowled Lewis.

8—4—230.

Gardiner took his place, and immediately Dean was stumped by Middleton off Pflaum.

9—10—236.

Gardiner got going quickly, but after reaching double figures he was caught by Stoddart off Dolling.

10—13—251.

Hutchings was not out.
The whole innings lasted for 185 minutes.

For good work in the field Drew, Townsend, Good, Wilton, and Dolling may be mentioned, and Middleton is to be commended for his fine display of wicket-keeping. Thus Princes, by excellent all-round play, won the Oval Match of 1904 by an innings and 379 runs.

Critique of the Team

BY THE CAPTAIN.

Burgess, L. F.—As a batsman is a slow scorer, but has a fine defence. Has often helped his side when most needed. Works very hard in the field, and has improved very much in that department.

Drew, C. F.—A fine bat with strokes all round the wicket. Has a pretty cut. Has fielded splendidly at cover all through the season.

Goode, G. P.—Has improved a great deal towards the end of season, and put together some fine scores. A good field at mid-off.

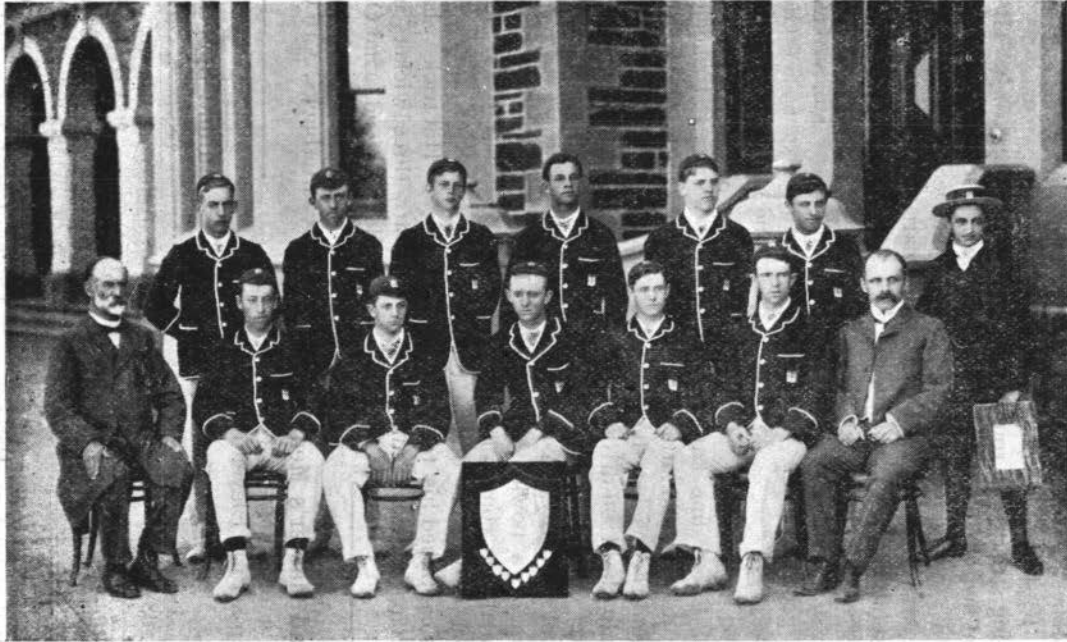

Middleton, R. F.—A nice bat, having a fine off stroke. As a wicketkeeper has accomplished splendid work.

Pflaum, E. T.—At the beginning of the season as a bat he shaped well, having a good variety of strokes; but towards the end went off considerably. A fine bowler, keeps a good length, and has a nice break from the off. Good field.

Rankin, H.—Is rather a free bat, but lacks a good defence. Useful change bowler. One of best fields in the team and has done brilliant work at slip and long field.

Stoddart, H. W. D.—A good bat with a hard off-drive. Has made considerable progress. Fast bowler but has a tendency to pitch them short.

THE CRICKET TEAM.

R. F. Middleton H. Rankin L. F. Burgess R. J. B. Townsend A. C. Wilton T. M. Waddy A. Webb, scorer
Mr. F. Chapple E. T. Pffaum C. F. Drew C. E. Dolling, capt. G. P. Goode H. W. D. Stoddart Mr. J. E. Langley

Splendid deep field and has taken some marvellous catches.

Townsend, R. J. B.—Fine dashing batsman, having strokes all round the wicket. Good fast bowler and brilliant slip.

Waddy, T. M.—As a bat has a good defence. Useful change bowler with a leg break. Sure field.

Wilton, A. C.—Rather a dashing bat; lacks a good defence. Splendid field at point.

BY THE TEAM.

Dolling, C. E.—A fine bat with a good defence and a solid attack, has strokes all round the wicket, including an exceptionally hard off-drive. His brilliant score on the oval this year was only one of his many successes in that direction. As a bowler has done exceedingly well, has come off with a record number of wickets during the season. Has captained his team in a manner deserving of great credit.

Annual Sports.

Our athletic sports this year proved a great success. A somewhat threatening morning gave place to a glorious afternoon, which brought out a splendid attendance and good performances. The hard work put in by the committee and the exhortations of form masters resulted in almost a record entry list: never, too, have our friends been more generous with subscriptions and trophies. Our programme is a very lengthy one, and a severe strain on the judicial gravity and deliberative qualities of the judges, but it was got through in good time. Mr. Bayly with the pistol, Messrs. Grey, A. Hill, Robertson, and Rounsevell with the tape, and Messrs. Wheatley and Newman with stop-watches must be thanked for the admirable way they carried out their arduous duties. Some wonderfully fast times were "clocked," notably in the Junior events. The only disappointing features of the sports was the lack of entries for the old scholars' events—the lowest on record. One race in fact, could not be run. In some schools, the old scholars' entries are very numerous, but with us they hardly cover the value of a prize! When the sports have been held on a Saturday, the response has been very little better than it usually is on any other day; so the plea of "business and other engagements" does not count for much. Two interesting changes have been made, first, in the form of our programme, which is in every way an improvement. No change is ever made for the programmes, and none but our own boys are authorised to distribute them, so there is no need for any of our supporters to purchase copies from ragamuffins at the gate or in the street. The second change is in the Cup events. To the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, 120 yards hurdles, high jump, and long jump, was added the half-mile, so that endurance as well as speed at last receives consideration, and the winner of the valuable College Cup must be a really good athlete. Such G. P. Goode proved himself to be, for in spite of an injured ankle he succeeded in winning the 100, 220, and 440 yards, and was first of the Cup competitors in the 120 hurdles, giving him a total of 20 points. Stoddart was second with 12, Davidson third with 11, Dolling fourth with 8, and Pope fifth with 5 points. Dolling, Waddy, and Davidson all ran well, and raised our hopes for the Intercollegiate Contest. Waddy's high jumping was excellent, and he cleared 5 ft. 1 in. without much effect. In the Junior Jump, J. H. Cooper showed great promise for one of his inches, his jumping is pretty to watch. Mention too must be made of the fine turn of speed shown by Hobbs in the under 11, and DeRose in the under 13 Flat. Armstrong won the Junior Championship in fine style, and McCoy again proved his quality as a half-miler. Next year we hope to have better facilities for training on our grounds. There is no reason why boys with a gift in any particular direction should not do something to develop it right through the year, steady practice is far better than a heavy course of training a few weeks prior to our sports. Our jumpers especially should bear this in mind. At the close of the sports the prizes were distributed to the winners by Mrs. Chapple, who very graciously took the place of Mrs. James Marshall who was prevented by indisposition from being present. We take this opportunity of thanking her and all who contributed towards making the meeting such a success. We have also to thank Mrs. Dix and Mrs. Inglis for their generous donations though received too late to be acknowledged on our programme.

The following shows how the various forms scored, counting 3 for first, 2 for second, 1 for third:—

Picnics.

After the nerve-trying ordeal of the University Exams it has for some time been the custom for the competitors to make an excursion into the hills in order to recuperate. Two such outings have taken place this year, and we will call them, for the sake of distinction, the "Senior Picnic" and the "Junior and Higher Picnic." The names explain themselves.

THE JUNIOR AND HIGHER PICNIC.

Only ten of those who sat for the Higher Examination were able to get off, so it was decided to join forces with the Juniors. The whole number that started was about 40—enough comfortably to fill two large drags.

We left the College shortly after 9 a.m. on November 25 with ringing cheers, and proceeded merrily down Rundle and King William Streets to the rousing accompaniment of a couple of bugles and shouting of well-known songs. The bugles, however, were of a rather obstinate nature, and, like the buglers (?), showed more energy than skill. We attracted some attention and not a few pitying smiles. When Mitcham had been passed and the ascent of the hills begun, even the musicians were glad to lay their instruments aside for awhile and rest their tired cheeks. However, they recommenced at the summit, and once more made the people stare.

On our arrival at the National Park Oval at about noon the customary cricket matches at once began, and prodigies of prowess (and fumbling) were shown. The match and lunch over, we were at liberty to spend the rest of the day in divers ways. Some played tennis, some cricket, some went for walks, others dozed. The day was perfect, so to each his chosen occupation was highly agreeable.

At 6 p.m. we re-assembled, and, after rousing "Pluggger" Martin and certain other somnolent members, we called the roll and consumed the remainder of the provisions (i.e., the part which in earlier attacks had been either overlooked or disdained). We then started homeward along the lovely main road down the Belair Hill. The air was very clear, and the beautiful and extensive view was much admired. We arrived at the College at 8.15 p.m. Then, after three times three hearty, cheers for P.A.C., the Head Master, and our noble selves, we dispersed, tired but happy, to our several homes.

THE SENIOR PICNIC.

On Friday, December 2, the Senior boys held the Annual Senior Picnic. The weather was particularly fine, and everything allured to a ramble in the hills. The drag left the College for Bridgewater at 9.15, and with a din of cheering made its way down Rundle and King William Streets. At the Queen's Statue we essayed to sing the National Anthem. It was a noble effort, but three boys alone reached the end, and it proved too much for our voices, for many attempts at singing afterwards called forth laughter that drowned them. The merriment continued until it was announced that we had to climb over a steep hill, while the drag went round it. However, we were duly rewarded by having time to indulge in refreshments. We shall pass over the remainder of the journey in silence. This the boys wished they had done too, for to partake of luncheon with a very good appetite and a very sore throat is most trying.

Cricket was played until about 3 p.m., and then we went for a long walk. This at last brought us to a small cottage that had a large garden of cherry trees. The owner had no cherries ready picked, so we offered our services, and he kindly accepted them. It is needless to say that picking cherries is a most enjoyable occupation. Our pleasure was somewhat marred by the miraculous escape John Blacket had from being devoured by a deadly serpent. Had it not been for the heroism of Bert Hunter he would probably have cheered us no more. After this narrow escape Norbert Sepelt took our photos, fearing to leave this later lest there might be dire casualties. Some of us then played cricket, while others, by way of variety, went for a swim. Having partaken of a sumptuous meal, once more we started for Adelaide. We arrived there after an exceedingly pretty drive at about 9 o'clock.

N.B.—We intended to publish the photo of the group of picnickers, but owing to the fulness of this edition of the Chronicle have found it impossible to do so. E. A. H. R.

Old Collegians' Association.

The Committee have met twice since the last issue of the Chronicle, and the following 40 old boys have been elected members of the Association:—G. L. Dix, W. C. Holland, A. E. S. Clarke, E. M. Twiss, Hugh Fleming, Clem. Hill, R. P. Goode, A. Y. Flecker, G. R. West, E. M. Ingamells, C. W. Hooper, R. Goode, Dr. C. T. Cooper, J. R. Anderson, B.A., LL.B., R. P. A. von Bertouch, H. Bickerstaff, J. H. Brown, Geof. Burgoyne, L. Carruthers, W. A. L. Casely, N. H. Edwards, Dr. G. A. Fisher, B.A., Dr. Hains, S. J. B. Harris, E. W. Holden, G. Lane, W. J. Manning, E. T. Matters, H. McFarlane, W. E. Preece, E. C. Padman, B.A., LL.B., J. C. Rundle, R. A. Sanders, A. W. Sutherland, H. C. Thomas, J. Trewenack, R. J. Verco, W. C. Wedler, R. A. West, and J. S. West. The large increase in membership shows that the efforts of the individual members of the Committee to bring the good work, the aims and objects of the Association, under the notice of their old schoolmates have been appreciated. Moreover, the senior scholars now at College are evincing interest in the Association which, while steadily pursuing certain main ends, nevertheless is not unmindful of the present boys, and does what it can to practically help with (inter alia) the sports. Out of some twenty additional names received by the Secretary for election at the next meeting of the Committee, about half are those of boys who, having just left school, requested Mr. W. R. Bayly, B.A., B.Sc., to see that they were enrolled as members.

The Association arranged a most enjoyable reunion of old Reds on the evening of Friday, December 9, 1904, at the York Hotel. The function took the form of a smoke social. All ages in the school's history were represented. The Head Master and most of the staff who were not on duty at the College were present. The President (Mr. P. E. Johnstone, B.A., LL.B.) presided, Messrs. W. Kither, H. E. Fuller, E. H. Newman, J. E. Langley, W. J. Manning, P. E. Johnstone, C. S. Newman, A. C. Lyon, H. A. Dunn, and J. R. Robertson presented an attractive programme of music and elocution. Each item was well received, and the hum of conversation punctuated by bursts of merriment proclaimed that all present were busily engaged in enjoying themselves. Many old boys expressed their pleasure and approval of the opportunity thus afforded to foregather with their old schoolfellows and renew many pleasant associations of their old schooldays. These socials are not confined to members, but all old P.A.C.'s are invited, and—may we add—are expected to attend.

For information about the Association, apply to the Hon. Sec., Mr. Edward J. W. Ashton, Queen's Chambers, Pirie Street, Adelaide.

 Heavy weights should keep off the tennis courts.
 Old boys continue to pass well here and at "home."
 G. Goode ran splendidly at Inter-collegiate Sports.

An exceptionally big list of old boys' successes this year.

Mr. Robertson's singing class sang well at Speech Day.

Fifth Form Junior candidates held successful picnic at Belair.

Our new pavilion would be an ornament to any sports ground.

Saints proved too strong for us at the Intercollegiate Sports.

The Sports' Captain's report at Speech Day is very popular.

Trustees of school undertaken to spend £5,000 in its interests.

Splendid display at Speech Day by Mr. Ashton's drawing pupils.

Many thanks to His Excellency for kind offer of a bowling trophy.

Four old P.A.C.'s in S.A. representatives against Victoria at tennis.

Our boarders spent pleasant afternoon listening to Melba records.

The Governor made a splendid speech, and gave us good advice.

C. Bennett won the Tennyson Medal for English at Junior Examination.

An old boy (H. A. Dunn) is architect for new iron fence and pavilion.

Give a thought to Burgess and Pflaum for their sterling performances.

We receive four out of the five University Entrance Scholarships this year.

Thirty-four Fifth Form boys passed the Junior; ten were placed on Honor list.

Our Sixth Form gained four out of first six places on Higher Public Honor list.

Parnell, McEwin, and Loutit are first three collegiate gymnasts in the city.

Our athletes are being well provided for with dressing rooms, &c., in new pavilion.

Mr. W. G. Cooper entertained our wool-classers on a recent visit to Port Adelaide.

Collegiate Gold Medal for Gymnastics (presented by Mr. Leschen) won by Parnell.

Unfortunate that Nicholls should break his arm in the junior high jump at trial sports.

The Premier opened a successful exhibition of over 100 paintings by Hayley Lever.

Twenty-eight added to our boys passed Senior roll this year; 12 were placed on Honor list.

The wool-classers thought it would be too expensive to allow the "lumpers" to "chalk" them.

Interesting and instructive exhibition of restoring apparently drowned "cattle" by Mr. Bastard.

Rev. Dr. Brown accompanied by Mr. Nike Rabuku and Rev Daniel Lotu visited College and addressed the assembly.

Overheard at cricket match:—"From which end have most runs been made—the Cathedral or the other? Oh, Townsend!"

Numerous telegrams were received from old boys and others from all parts of the continent congratulating us upon great victory.

Rev. Egerton Young, of Canada, gave us an entertaining and instructive address about mission work among North American Indians.

Loss of appetite on following morning and numerous empty bottles were evidences of successful boarders' banquet on the previous evening.

The Senior candidates with their clerical chaperons, "Revs." S. W. Jeffries and W. B. Reid, enjoyed a splendid day at Bridgewater.

Intercollegiate Sports.

On Thursday, October 6, the seventh Intercollegiate Sports Meeting was held. We were fortunate in the weather and in having the presence of the Governor General (Lord Northcote) and of our popular Governor (Sir George LeHunte), whose interest in our doings is no mere formality, for he has a quick eye for the good and the weak points of all forms of athletics. Both Blue and Red supporters mustered in good force and saw what was, taking it all round, a capital contest. The officials had done all that was possible to make things run smoothly. Mr. Kellett started in his usual admirable fashion; the judges in spite of a few close finishes, had little difficulty with their decisions; the stewards had proof that their duties were not meant to be solely ornamental. We had again to bow to the superiority of our worthy rivals, our second and third strings did not come up to the expectations raised by their good performances in our own sports. In the jumps we lost heavily; in more than one event we failed through deficient training, in most cases the result of influenza, which seems to delight in choosing this particular time of the year to disport itself amongst us. At the same time, in the case of a few of our athletes, there seems to be a tendency to underestimate the value of training. The staying power needed for a steeplechase and races from 220 upwards is not altogether inborn; it needs careful cultivation; otherwise such contests are better avoided. G. P. Goode proved himself the finest athlete of the day; he ran with good judgment and in excellent style, winning three firsts and one second. Stevenson did best for the Blues, scoring one first and three seconds. He ran with great heart, though in not so taking a style, as his only rival amongst the Reds. In the High Jumps we were quite outclassed, and lost many points. In the Long Jump and the Steeplechase we confess we were disappointed in not securing the five points. A. G. McCoy once more showed his natural aptitude for long distances by winning the Half-Mile comfortably. Armstrong was the best junior we have had for years, but he met more than his match in Drew and Muirhead. In the old scholars' events we triumphed all along the line, winning every place except the last in the 440. We finished up 15 points to the bad, scoring  $46\frac{1}{2}$  to  $61\frac{1}{2}$ . Lord Northcote then presented the trophies to the winners. There is no doubt that the standard of athletics at the colleges is rising, for every year shows some "record" improved upon. On this occasion Drew lowered the 100 yards Junior record, from  $11\frac{2}{3}$  to  $11\frac{1}{3}$  seconds. The Senior High Jump record (5 ft. 3 in.) held for so long by the Hodges was equalled by Moyes. The Junior Hurdles fell considerably from  $17\frac{2}{3}$  to  $16\frac{2}{3}$  secs., Muirhead beating his own performance of last year. Goode took E. C. Campbell's place as holder of the 440 record, doing it in  $54\frac{2}{3}$  secs., nearly 2 secs. better than the previous. The Junior High Jump has risen to 4 ft.  $9\frac{1}{2}$  in. from 4 ft. 8 in. and stands to the credit of Muirhead and Dancker. Stevenson has tied with Campbell with  $10\frac{2}{3}$  secs. in the 100 yds.

The events were as follows:—

150 yards Flat.—1, G. P. Goode, P.A.C.; 2, W. H. Stevenson, S.P.S.C.; 3, C. Yeatman, S.P.S.C. At the 100 yds. line, Stevenson was leading, but Goode finished strongly and won by a foot. Neither Dolling nor Waddy ran as well as usual, the former being decidedly "off color" and Waddy feeling the effects of having his "training" interrupted. Time, 16 $\frac{1}{2}$  secs.

High Jump (Juniors).—1, C. M. Muirhead and E. P. Dancker, S.P.S.C.; 3, J. H. Cooper, P.A.C., and C. G. Chapman, S.P.S.C. The Juniors were a decided improvement on those of previous years. For his size Cooper jumped very well, clearing the bar in pretty style. Here we should have found the services of Nichols very useful, but a broken arm unfortunately interposed. Height, 4 ft. 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  in.

120 yards Hurdles.—1, R. J. B. Townsend, P.A.C.; 2, C. R. Wallmann, S.P.S.C.; 3, M. G. D. Murray, S.P.S.C. The winner was not seriously pressed, consequently the time, 17 secs., was slow. Our second string, Goode, was well advised not to run.

100 yards Flat (Junior).—1, F. M. Drew, S.P.S.C.; 2, H. Armstrong, P.A.C.; 3, L. G. Tassie, P.A.C. A splendid race. Armstrong still has to learn to forget the things that are behind, and keep his attention fixed on the tape. There is no time for manœuvring in 100 yds. For Juniors the time was very fast, 11 $\frac{1}{2}$  secs.

100 yards Flat.—1, W. H. Stevenson, S.P.S.C.; 2, G. P. Goode, P.A.C.; 3, C. Yeatman, S.P.S.C. Goode was expected to win, but Stevenson got a wonderful start on all the rest, which gave him the race by an inch or so.

Another foot to go and Goode would have caught him. It was a great race, worthy of the occasion. Numbers 2 and 3 for us were again nowhere. Time, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$  secs.

High Jump.—1, M. Moyes, S.P.S.C.; 2, C. Yeatman, S.P.S.C.; 3, T. M. Waddy, P.A.C. Some excellent jumping was done, all straight over. Yeatman's exertions in the 100 had told on him and so he let in Moyes, who finishes his jump with a graceful bow to the cross bar. Trott was unable to appear, Rossiter who took his place failed at the first height. Waddy who did 5 ft. 1 in. comfortably in our own sports, could not manage more than 4 ft. 11 in.. Stoddart for a heavy-weight jumped surprisingly well. Height, 5 ft. 3 in.

100 yards Hurdles (Junior).—1, C. M. Muirhead, S.P.S.C.; 2, H. Armstrong, P.A.C.; 3, R. Cresdee, S.P.S.C. An excellent performance, actually faster than the Senior Hurdles. Armstrong led for three parts of the distance, but Muirhead came with a great rush at the finish and won comfortably in 16 $\frac{3}{4}$  secs.

220 yards Flat.—1, G. P. Goode, P.A.C.; 2, W. H. Stevenson, S.P.S.C.; 3, C. Yeatman, S.P.S.C. Numbers 2 and 3 for us blew out and left Goode, running in free style, with a long stride, and he won easily from Stevenson and Yeatman. Time 23 $\frac{1}{4}$  secs.

Mile Bicycle Race.—1, J. Forrest,

S.P.S.C.; 2, W. B. Reid, P.A.C.; 3, D. Martin, P.A.C. Entwistle, our 3rd man, gallantly made the pace for the first lap. It was soon seen that the race lay with Forrest, Reid, and Martin. At the last bend Forrest bolted with Reid in close attendance and provided us with a brilliant finish. Time 2 mins. 38 secs.

440 yards Flat.—1, G. P. Goode, P.A.C.; 2, W. H. Stevenson, S.P.S.C.; 3, W. L. Strachan, S.P.S.C. Again Goode was first, and our only placed man. He ran with excellent judgment, letting Stevenson lead till the bend: then he shot out and won finely in the fast time of 54 $\frac{1}{2}$  secs.

300 yards Steeplechase.—1, C. R. Wallman, S.P.S.C.; 2, A. C. Wilton, P.A.C.; 3, A. E. Ross, S.P.S.C. Townsend who won last year, was leading at the last hurdle, but got no further, being spent, and fell. This let Wallman in, who won comfortably from Wilton. Competitors do not yet seem to have realised that this is the severest race of the day, and that lack of condition is fatal to their chances. Time, 45 secs.

Long Jump.—1, M. G. D. Murray, S.P.S.C.; 2, A. G. Trott, P.A.C.; 3, A. L. Steele, P.A.C. Trott through want of practice was unable to repeat his fine performance of last year, and Murray jumped to within 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  ins. of the record. Steele, after baulking at his first attempt, jumped well. More practice is needed for this event, so as to be able to take off accurately. Trott took off several inches behind the line. Distance, 19 ft. 6 in.

Half Mile.—1, A. G. McCoy, P.A.C.; 2, C. R. Wallmann, S.P.S.C.; 3, A. L. Steele, P.A.C. McCoy is a first-rate half-miler; he keeps up a long, even stride, and saves himself well for the finish. Had he been pressed harder he should have caught Milne's record; as it was he was 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  secs. behind, breasting the tape in 2 mins. 16 secs.—4 secs. ahead of his time last year.

OLD SCHOLARS' EVENTS.

150 yards Hurdles.—1, R. J. Verco, P.A.C.; 2, L. Cowan, P.A.C.; 3, R. Rounsevell, P.A.C. Verco has developed into a fine hurdler since he left school: it was a good performance to beat Cowan; although it looked as if the latter slowed down at the finish. Time 21 secs.

100 yards Flat.—1, C. R. Doudy, P.A.C.; 2, W. B. Angwin, P.A.C., 3, R. Rounsevell P.A.C. Doudy ran in great style and won fairly easily. Time, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$  secs.

440 yards Flat.—1, W. B. Angwin, P.A.C.; 3, C. R. Doudy, P.A.C.; 3, H. P. Wallman, S.P.S.C. Angwin ran a great race, and passed Doudy a few yards from home. Time, 56 secs.

Christian Union.

The past term has been a busy one, even with the Christian Union. There is, however, much still left for us to do, and we feel that more determined and persistent endeavor is necessary. It is a question of personal responsibility, and in the Christian Union as in games "Every boy is expected to do his duty."

No one can afford to miss the golden opportunities which a college like Prince Alfred presents for Christian work. To stand up for the right here will mean much to the character, and will help to strengthen it for the "world's broad field of battle." During the term we have been helped by addresses from most efficient speakers. The full rows of seats and the attention given show how heartily these have been appreciated. One thought comes to the writer of this article, "It is the last year at College for me and for many." Reviewing the past, many can say that the Christian Union forms a bright spot in the school week. There is a note of sadness about last days at school, but still there is a ring of hope and eager expectancy. We are going out to stand among our fellows. May God help us to be true men. "Not for school but for life, we learn," but the influence of school days on our lives will be lasting. Let those who are finishing their school term and going out to fields of sterner duty take this motto:

Just as I am, young, strong, and free,

To be the best that I can be

For truth and righteousness and Thee,

Lord of my life I come.

P. TILBROOK.

Wool Classers' Trip to Port Adelaide

Twelve of those attending the wool classes at the School of Mines, by kind invitation of Mr. G. W. Cooper (an old P.A.C.), paid a visit to Messrs. Elder, Smith, & Co's stores at the Port on November 11th. We were under the guidance of Mr. Geo. Jeffrey, who met us at the Railway Station and introduced us to Mr. Cooper who is head of Elder, Smith, & Co's Wool Department.

Having arrived at Elder Smith's, wool store at Port Adelaide, we sat down to a sumptuous luncheon, to which we all did ample justice. When this important ceremony was over we donned our "blueys" and went through the various compartments of these extensive premises, where the bales were arranged ready to be priced by the various valuator's. Very splendid indeed was much of the wool. Here everything was very fully explained by our tutor, and we received noteworthy instruction. Next we crossed to the wharf, where the bales were being stowed away in the vessels bound for England, and here there is not hardly a square inch of space wasted. Here another old P.A.C., Mr. Alfred Crompton, was in charge, and showed us much kindness. In the wool store we saw a very powerful "dumping machine," which compresses the bales to a much smaller size very quickly. Then they were hooped and ready for shipment. After changing we had more light refreshments and then returned home, much clearer in mind as to how wool is handled prior to a sale. Our Head Master had a pressing invitation to accompany us, but the "Squire" was unable to leave school. He however sent a letter of cordial thanks to Mr. Cooper and requested Mr. Jeffery to represent him and do the courtesies of the occasion for him. This Mr. Jeffery very heartily did.

Senior Banquet.

The Senior Banquet was to the boys of the leading dormitory—an event that had no parallel in the festivities of the year. The menu card defies description. It was artistically designed by one of our leading artists—T. Loutit. Every whim and taste of a school boy was gratified by the varied display of good things that greeted our eyes as we entered the dining-room. When the time arrived for "the feast" to begin the chairman was welcomed by the captain of the cricket team, the captain of the football team, the captain of the gym. team, and a number of other worthy gentlemen who were anxious "to begin." The feasting was a matter of course in which everybody took part, but we are justly proud of the array of talent which the company manifested. Musical skill of no mean order was shown by our two "Australian Padere-wskis"—Dolling and Shearer. The chairman sang a solo, and everybody sang "The Battlecry of Freedom" and many another popular chorus. Every one spoke as representing the particular part of the Empire from which he came. Our Demosthenes and Cicero, our "Doodle," and our "Tit," and our "head boarder" made speeches which will be remembered till they are forgotten. At the conclusion each venerated that each was a "jolly good fellow." Mention must be made of the kindness of those friends who helped to set the table, of our gallant waiter, T. Loutit, and of the satisfactory way in which the committee did its work. The pleasing fact must be made known that "we all felt well after it."

But what gave rise
To no little surprise
Was that nobody felt
One penny the worse.

"CHAIRMAN."

Correspondence.

TO THE EDITOR.

Adelaide, Dec. 12, 1904.

Dear Sir—While memories of the intercollegiate sports are still fresh in our minds, I hope you will allow me to bring a few points before the committee responsible for the arrangements. It will add considerably to the interest if the date is added to each record, so that we can know how long it has stood. Also, it seems much better to appoint professional judges as well as starter. Years ago we abandoned the practice of appointing old scholars as umpires in the cricket matches. In these contests, too, it is quite as important to have expert opinion. In this 1904 contest, for example, only quite an expert could have settled who won the hundred yards championship, and similar important decisions may have to be made in many events. Hoping that in due course these points may be considered,

I remain,

Yours truly,

AN OLD RED.

Ballarat Gymnastic Display.

Mr. Hugo Leschen adjudicated in the Gymnastic section of the South Street Competition, Ballarat, in October last, and had occasion to refer to the advancement of physical culture in South Australia.

He received an invitation to bring over a team of gymnasts and give a display in Ballarat as well as Melbourne.

With the permission of the Head Masters of St. Peter's and Prince Alfred a combined team was chosen, consisting of the following boys—

Prince Alfred	St. Peter's
Parnell, S.	Gilbert, J.
McEwin, K.	Gilbert, W.
Loutit, T. O.	Chapman A.
Trott, A. G.	Dean, G. L.
Trott, R. J.	Cresdee, V.
Seppelt, G. J.	Hollis, H. A.
Colton, J.	Winterbotham, C. W.
Jackson, G. C.	Rainsford, E. C.

with Mr. C. E. Bennett (an old P.A.C. and champion gymnast who has joined Mr. Leschen's staff) as captain of the team.

We had taken the precaution to reserve three compartments, but the Railway Department subsequently cut these down to two. We vainly endeavoured to prove that it was quite impossible to get 18 into two compartments, but only to get the reply, "It's wonderful how well you'll shake down when you get along the line a bit." We had a very pleasant trip all the same, and each one managed to find some cosy little space to rest in through the night.

Overheard at Murray Bridge—
"What a nice set of young lads; but lor, can't they eat!"

Ballarat was safely reached about 7.35 a.m. Mr. W. F. Coltman, an extremely enthusiastic gentleman and donor of the lovely South Street Gymnasium Shield, several local instructors, and members of the committee, were waiting to welcome us, and they took us to comfortable quarters.

Mr. Buley, the Head Master of Grenville Collège, was also present and took charge of four of our lads who were to be housed with the parents of some of his pupils.

Having had a bath and breakfast, we proceeded to the Alfred Hall, where the display was to take place, and got our bearings; but unfortunately none of the apparatus was ready for us, so we contented ourselves with a gentle canter at dumbbells and clubs.

In the afternoon Mr. Coltman was good enough to take us to the Ballarat gardens, noted for the lovely collection of statuary. We then hired a large sailing boat and crossed Lake Wendouree in great style. We returned to our lodgings about 4 o'clock and had a good rest.

The display was given to a grand house of about 2,000, and the report in the local papers was very flattering—"There is no doubt that the boys worked splendidly, and one and all had good reason to feel proud."

Enthusiastic cheering was given at the end of the performance, and several leading local gentleman made very kind and complimentary references in subsequent speeches in the large dressing rooms.

The trip was a great success, and we enjoyed ourselves thoroughly. We all regretted that we could not have a display in Melbourne, but unfortunately the schools having all broken up, the boys were away for the holidays, and the Melbourne Turn Verein were busy in preparation for their Annual Christmas Tree and Festival.
