ADELAIDE, JANUARY 12, 1907.

[PRICE SIXPENCE.]

School Notes.

His Excellency Sir George Le Hunte continues to show kind and keen interest in all that concerns the school. He was present at the Cricket Match in the Governor's box before the first ball was bowled each day, and stayed to the very end of the last day.

He also took the chair at our "Speech Day," adjudged the recitations, spoke cheering and friendly words, and presented a Silver Cup to our best bowler. Crocker Symonds was the fortunate recipient of the Cup. His average in the match was 5 wickets for 66. Wilton in the first innings took 2 for 12, but he was not put on in the second innings.

However Alick Wilton had his compensation. Our good friend and loyal old boy, Mr. J. W. Grasby, sent to the Head Master a nice gold medal, leaving to his judgment how to award it. Mr. Chapple decided to assign it to the best "all-round" boy, and Wilton seemed most accurately to answer to that description. He is a member of the Upper Sixth, a diligent student, sixth in the School Order, has scored the highest number of runs, bowled the greater number of wickets in the season, has done great service to his school in the Debating Society, in Football and Running. Palmarum qui meruit ferat.

The approach of the Annual Cricket Match brought many indications that "old boys" were still taking a lively interest in the doings of their old school. The first telegram to arrive was from Strickland and Wheatley in Perth, and other wires and letters followed.

The Governor said that was the third time he had presided at the College gathering, and he had been delighted to see the same boys receive prizes. He had happy recollections of his visits to the college. He congratulated them on the year's work. The boys had, as before, carried off many of the honors, and at Oxford their Rhodes Scholar was keeping the Red ribbon to the front. (Applause). Mr. Jolly had the only first class awarded in Physics. He was glad to see the success which was attending the Rhodes scholars, who were carrying everything before them. He belonged to Cambridge, and was glad to believe that the result of the success of the Rhodes scholars at Oxford would be that the best English students would go to Cambridge, because parents would recognise that at the other university there was little chance against the best men from Australia and from New Zealand. (Laughter.) The Rhodes scholars were three years older than Englishmen generally went to the university, but the successes they were securing were highly praiseworthy, and would do Oxford considerable good. He congratulated the college on its field work. The scholars had not won either the football or the cricket match, but they would have done so if they could. Luck was undoubtedly against them. When rain fell the game was lifted out of the category of a really reliable contest. He was pleased that such good feeling existed between the two colleges and hoped that it would long continue. Let there be as much honest rivalry as they liked, but every care should be taken to guard against the rivalry deteriorating into jealousy. Although they had been defeated by St. Peter's on the field of sports, the Prince Alfred representatives had proved victorious at gymnastics, and he hoped for them next year to win back the shield for cricket. He was glad the members of the cadet corps were displaying so much enthusiasm, and was looking forward to the time when he would see them and their comrades from the St. Peter's and Christian Brothers' Colleges in their new uniforms. In conclusion he wished them all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and appealed to the boys to always strive to maintain the honor and dignity of the school. Its name was highly respected through the State and the Commonwealth, and the present boys must make it more and more so. (Loud Applause.)

On the motion of the Hon. A. Catt, seconded by the Rev. W. Jeffries, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to His Excellency for his kindness in presiding that afternoon, and for the interest he had manifested at all times in the work of the boys at the college.

Cheers were given for the King, His Excellency, the Governor, the Head Master, the Masters, and the College.

The "Speech Day" of 1906 was noteworthy for the large attendance of friends (but there is always that), and for the splendid display of drawings, paintings, maps, neatly kept exercise books, and well-written copy books (but there is always that), for the tuneful singing of the voices so well trained all the year through by Mr. Robinson (but there has been that for several years), for the concerted recitations so skilfully drilled by Mr. Edward Reeves

(these have been given capitably for many years). Well, then, for the sweet soprano solo by Norman Hall, and for the excellence of the recitations of R. S. Davey, Sands, and Strawbridge. These were distinctly above the average. Mr. Reeves said he would pit them confidently against any three boys you could find anywhere.

We have scored again capitably at the University Examinations. In the Higher Public, or most advanced course, nine of our candidates passed in five subjects each (the maximum allowed). They won five places on the General Honours list, and 17 Special Honours. There was no failure in English, German, French, Greek, history or geology. Our best credits, as usual, were in mathematics and science. We had all the honours awarded in applied mathematics, four out of the five in chemistry, three out of the four in physics, three out of the five in pure mathematics, and the same in German. Fornachon and Brown head the list in pure mathematics, Jauncey and Angwin in applied mathematics, and Fornachon comes first in physics and second in chemistry. In all, 19 boys went up from our upper sixth form, and they passed in 82 subjects. This is "high-water mark" to date. Fornachon is second on the list; this is the first time since the Higher Public began that a "Red" has not been top of it. This time a West Australian boy just passed him.

In the Senior we have nine in the General Honours. West Australia takes the first six places with candidates over age, so Haste, as seventh, wins the first University prize, and Potts (ninth) divides the second. We have 24 places in the Special Honours. Of these six are in Geometry and six in Chemistry; in the latter Haste, Bennett, and Potts fill the first three places. Haste is also first in Trigonometry, while Morphett and Potts take the only credits in Physics.

The Junior list looks nicely "red," too. Close is the highest candidate from South Australia, and Correll is next unto him. We have eight names on the General Honours list, and 40 places in the Special Honours. Reed is the highest boy in English, and Dawkins the highest in South Australia, in Latin. Close heads the whole list in German, and Dawkins is in the first bracket in arithmetic, and we have six out of the first nine credits in chemistry. In all we win 25 junior certificates, and there are seven more that wanted but one subject each to secure theirs also.

Fornachon wins the John Dunn Scholarship, and probably will receive the Hartley Studentship, and Madigan a University Scholarship. Jauncey deservedly carries off the Old Collegians' Scholarship, Bennett the Colton, and Brown the Longbottom, and Wilton the Malpas, and Wibberley the Robb, all appropriate to their merits and special gifts and likings. Close and McCoy, as successful for the Elders, were heartily congratulated by their form mates, and so were Blacket on winning the Smith History, and Correll the Alfred Muecke.

Mr. Hugo Leschen again offered a gold medal to the best all round gymnast in his classes. This year it was adjudged to R. P. Shepley, with W. P. Hoggarth a good second, and W. H. Cane bracketed with a "Saint" a close third. This is splendid, and make us feel that the Gymnastic shield is in the right place.

The Cadet Corps is getting into good form, and already the benefits of the drill are showing themselves in upright bearing, brisk and more manly carriage. Uniforms and rifles are expected early in the new year, and then better results still will be seen. Colonel Wallack paid us a visit and inspected the Corps, and complimented their officers upon their smart appearance and brisk carrying out of orders. He made similar congratulatory remarks to the Corps and to the Head Master of the School.

Our Head Master has been re-elected Warden of the Senate of the University of Adelaide. This is the twenty-fourth time in succession that he has been chosen for this office.

Towards the end of November we were favored with a visit by His Excellency the Chinese Commissioner, who is touring the Australian States, and like most of the leading men of his country takes great interest in educational matters. He is described by his Private Secretary in our Visitors' Book as "Hwang Hou Ching, Prefect of the Hu Pei Province and attaché to the Imperial Chinese Legation, London." Doubtless the Commissioner's interest in this School was increased by remembering that an old P.A.C., Dr. Cecil Davenport, was long head of a hospital at Wuchang, capital of the province of which our distinguished visitor is Prefect.

Early this term a visit was paid to us by the Rev. F. Matthews, who is touring the British Empire to awaken interest in the British Seamen's Mission. Mr. Matthews was accompanied by our steadfast friend Mr. W. Herbert Phillipps, President of the Sailor's Home at Port Adelaide.

They came at "assembly" time, after the morning service was over. Mr. Matthews was introduced to the School by the Head Master, and was accorded a hearty welcome. He at once placed himself en rapport with his audience by his hearty and congenial manner.

As befitting the work which he had undertaken he considered it his duty to visit P.A.C. first in Australia because P.A.C. was a "sailor's college." It had been founded in 1867 by Prince Alfred, who was not merely a nominal admiral of the fleet, but a seaman of great ability. He told how he himself when a young sailor had taken the message to the fleet in Alexandria permitting services to be held on board ship every Sunday morning, and showed the "Curgee" which signified that the ship flying it held regular Sunday morning services. These, he said, had been his first efforts toward making life on board ship happier. As a means of raising funds for the further improvement of the conditions of a sailor's life, he had obtained from the Lords of the Admiralty all the copper and oak of Nelson's old flagships, the Victory and the Foudroyant, and this copper had been formed into medals, which were to be sold throughout the British Empire, not only with a monetary object, but also with the idea of uniting the Empire in patriotic enthusiasm by calling to mind by means of these medals, the heroism of our sailors and captains in days gone by. And not only did he wish to improve the navy, but also the mercantile marine, which, he said, was one of the most important factors in enabling Britian to maintain sovereignty of the sea. Finally, he wished every boy to subscribe one shilling to the funds, and receive one of these copper medals, and promised that if the whole school's subscription reached five guineas it should receive a shield made from the same copper as the medals, and mounted on Victory oak.

Mr. Herbert Phillipps eulogised the work which Mr. Matthews had undertaken, and dwelt upon the necessity of supporting the navy, and especially the mercantile marine.

The Head Master endorsed the remarks of Mr. Matthews concerning the necessity of keeping both naval and mercantile marine in a state of efficiency, and said that every British boy ought to take a great interest in naval affairs. The navy was the protection and safety of England and her "far flung" Empire. He then called for subscriptions, remarking, "Bis dat qui cito dat." The School responded readily, the total contribution being £8 19s.

Mr. C. Stanley Newman has determined to leave the state and proceed to Europe to further cultivate his fine baritone voice. And there has been a good deal of saying that sad word "good-bye." We worked our best to secure him a "bumper" house at his farewell benefit, and with great success; the house was full of his friends and ours. At the last assembly the Head Master in saying a few words on behalf of the school said that Mr. Newman had been a member of the Sixth Form and then became Junior Master in 1896. Latterly he had been exceedingly successful, as was evident by the large number of certificates won by his form every term of this year. He was deservedly popular with the boys, and had not only taught them well, but had helped them by singing at their concerts and arranging tennis tournaments. He was leaving with the kindest recollections and best wishes of all for his future welfare. Sands, who had been secretary of the movement, was then called upon, and in the name of the Upper Third Form, in a short speech full of feeling, presented Mr. Newman with a solid leather hat and suit case. Mr. Newman replied, and thanked the Head Master and the donors, and spoke of his long connection with the College and his attachment to it. He should never forget it. He hoped to succeed and bring credit to his old school. The masters afterwards presented him with a dressing case.

The Drawing Examinations held by the Art Department under the new regulations were held in our big school-room about the middle of October. Mr. H. P. Gill, the Director for Technical Art, who conducted the examinations, examined the work there and then, sitting when marking each paper just where the candidate did—a manifest advantage. The results were better than in former years. Mr. Gill also wrote a report speaking well of the earnestness and application of the candidates, and sending valuable suggestions for the improvement of this part of our work. Unfortunately most of them are based on a "counsel of perfection," that is we want a spacious hall for this and many other purposes.

Old Boys.

Will Ashton has had another of his pictures purchased for our National Art Gallery. It is entitled "Sunlight and Shadow," and represents the surf beating on the rocks at Port Elliot. This picture was the only one purchased at the November Federal Art Exhibition.

Dr. F. J. Chapple, M.B., B.S., B.Sc., has resigned his appointment as Medical Superintendent of the Adelaide Hospital. He was the recipient of several presents upon the occasion, from the house surgeons, staff, &c. He has entered upon private practice at Nairne.

H. A. Parsons, LL.B., was appointed by the Government to be the draftsman of the Tramways Bill, a difficult piece of business, and therefore an honor to be entrusted with it. His skill was heartily praised by the Premier in the Assembly and applauded by the House.

In the rearrangement of the Law School at the Adelaide University two of our old boys have been asked to undertake very honorable duties. Mr. P. E. Johnstone, B.A., LL.B., is to lecture in Commercial Law and the Law of Contracts, and Mr. E. E. Cleland, LL.B., in the Law of Wrongs. Mr. A. W. Piper was invited by the Council to take one of the lectureships but could not find time.

Ernest Chapple, B.Sc., after over two years' practical engineering work in Australian and English firms, has thought it well to enter the Engineering School at the Cambridge University. He has therefore entered Jesus College, being affiliated from the Adelaide University and enabled thereby to take the course in two years instead of three. He has already shown some of his well-known athletic power by winning the Freshers' hurdle race in brilliant style.

We are glad to see that the Amateur Athletic Association is becoming more popular, and its second meeting drew together many friends. The thing to be desired just now is the establishment of harrier clubs and other organisations so that those who leave university or school can still keep up their running, jumping, &c., without the taint of professionalism. At the annual sports held in September some old reds shone out brilliantly. C. R. Doudy won the 100 yards open championship and also the 220 yards. W. B. Angwin came second in the 220. Angwin, Doudy, and C. R. Davies made three out of the University four that won the teams' flag race. F. G. Rooney ran in the School of Mines team that came second. R. J. Verco won his heat in the 120 hurdles.

Gordon Swann was very successful at the last Ballarat competitions. He won the first prize for prepared reading (for men) and the humorous recital (for men). He also did well in the impromptu reading and had honorable mention in the recital with musical accompaniment; came second in the illustrated recital, first in the recital of those who had never won a first prize, first in the recital for those who were under 21 years of age, second in a recital from Henry V., and third for a dramatic recital in character ("The Corsican.") Altogether he won four first, four second, and two third prizes, and came second in the whole elocutionary competition.

Dr. H. H. E. Russell, M.B., Ch.B. (Melb.), has been appointed Health Officer for the important city of Unley, the largest suburb of Adelaide.

Harold G. Darling has gone to the London office of the firm of J. Darling and Son. His uncle Charles A. Darling has been there for some years.

Herbert Basedow has been engaged for several months in arranging and classifying the splendid mineral collection at the School of Mines. His work is spoken of most highly by all those competent to judge of it. He has now to re-arrange the rocks and the fossils. Mr. Basedow is a member of the staff of the Government Geologist, but has been spared for a time that he might undertake this important scientific work, and right well he has done it.

A. L. Nairn, B.A., is now on the staff of St. Stephen's College, Hong Kong.

To F. J. Searle (Eric) was given a splendid send off by the members of the Manthorpe Memorial. At Sunday School, in Endeavour Society, as preacher his worth was testified to. Handsome parting gifts accompanied the hearty words that representatives spoke. Camden College, Sydney, and studies for the Ministry of the Congregational Church now occupy his time and thoughts.

George Searle lately favored us with a call. He was en route from Perth to Sydney, still in the employ of Messrs. D. & W. Murray, but a promotion. Gordon Searle is in Brisbane, so the three brothers will be nearer together now than they have been for a long time.

The Rev. J. H. Sexton has been elected President of the South Australian Baptist Union.

The Rev R. Taylor, has started on a holiday trip to India, Egypt, Palestine, and various parts of Europe.

Leslie T. Lewis, a worthy member of our Sixth Form in 1900, has just taken the Junior Commercial Examination and come out second on the Honors list, though of course he is now over age.

Reginald R. Abbott of our Fifth in 1904, who passed the Junior then with credit, has now passed this examination also. Evidently this examination is harder than some think, if such advanced students take it.

Norman Jolly, our Rhodes scholar at Oxford, continues to score brilliant successes. He gained the only first-class awarded in physics in the recent examinations, and headed the list in the geology examination for the Indian Forestry students. He has applied for permission to finish the three years' forestry course in two years.

The Old Boys have done a great service to their old school by handing us a substantial amount towards the cost of laying down the turf for playing cricket on. Indeed, it seems like that they will meet the whole outlay, and make an entire present of it.

Leslie Frank Burgess has been elected President of the Adelaide University Christian Union.

The Rev. I. R. Rooney is doing valuable work in the Solomon Islands.

The Rev. C. Doley was the Missionary deputation sent to South Australia to advocate the claims of the Missions in the Islands to the north-east of our continent. His efforts have been everywhere acknowledged as successful. He has now proceeded to Tasmania on the same errand.

Harry S. Taylor, the Editor of the Renmark Pioneer, adds to his many useful labours by conducting services in various churches from time to time in that growing colony.

In the list of those who have been successful in the Examination in Banking and Exchange in connection with the Advanced Commercial Certificate Course, we are pleased to note the following names:—C. S. Bray (with credit), O. L. Isaacsen, J. O. McEwin (with credit), F. H. Menkens, C. W. L. Muecke, H. R. Sorrell, H. C. Thomas (with credit).

Cuthbert Viner-Smith has won a most brilliant academic victory. Forty-one candidates from the various States of Australia sat for the "Final" of the examinations held by the Institute of Accountants, and our "old boy" came out first. His alma mater rejoices with him and on account of him. Of this examination the Council report, "It is well perhaps for us to point out that the final examination for associateship is the standard fixed by all the allied institutes as the one which requires to be passed by those who seek to obtain the degree given only to those who have shown, under practical trial, that they are conversant with all the ordinary methods of book-keeping, and thoroughly understand the requirements of commercial life in connection with accountancy, as well as having a good knowledge of the essentials of auditing work. In making the test a moderately severe one we feel that we are only carrying out our duty to the public in this connection. The desire has been to make the standard equal to that of the best of similar bodies throughout the world.

Richard A. Duncan, of Duncan & Fraser, has been appointed to conduct the class at the School of Mines and Industries in Motor Management and Maintenance.

The Rev. H. Noltenius, B.A., gave us a call the other day. He is now engaged at the Cathedral Church at Ballarat. Like all old boy visitors he was greatly struck with the improved appearance of the grounds and building.

Percy Magarey has bought the old established chemist business of W. H. Birks & Co., Rundle Street.

Harold Clarke Thomas, who at the University commemoration this December was presented with the Joseph Fisher medal (advanced commercial course) for 1906, is employed in the office of the Conservator of Forests, and is the first Civil Servant to win this medal. He passed with credit in five of the six subjects, and completed the course in the shortest possible time—three years.

B. B. Newbold of Wauraltee paid us a visit one Saturday evening and gave us a long and interesting talk on Japan. He also showed some splendid curios which he got together while on his travels lately through that strange land.

H. Lipson Hancock, the Manager of Moonta and Wallaroo Mines, also paid a visit to his old school and was much interested in the many improvements and manifest signs of progress.

Claude Bennett has been for some years the popular and successful instructor of the Gymnastic Class at the Y.M.C.A. Recent re-arrangements by the Board of that institution have made it necessary for the physical instructor to give his whole time to Association work, and Mr. Bennett's agreement with Messrs. Leschen made that impossible, so that Mr. Bennett has had to resign, to the great regret of the members of the class. They entertained him at dinner and gave him a handsome present and altogether a most gratifying farewell.

A farewell benefit concert was tendered to Mr. Stanley Newman on Thursday, December 6th. He has been so obliging and ready to help so many societies, and has made such hosts of friends that it is no wonder that the Adelaide Town Hall was full, and the hero of the evening received a most enthusiastic reception. The following excerpt is probably from the pen of Mr. Sanders, an old boy, and a well-known musical critic, so we cannot do better than reprint it. Mr. Newman chose as his first number the familiar florid air, "Honor and arms," from Handel's "Samson." This was given with clearness and fluency, at a good speed, without any loss of tone. The young basso's diction was capital throughout, and he brought a well-balanced interpretation of the air to a triumphant conclusion with an impressive climax that evoked a genuine recall. This was responded to with the quaint song "For a' that" (Walford Davies). The beneficiare's next effort was Schubert's "Erl King," sung in German with such fine dramatic emphasis as to again win an encore. The supplementary item took the form of Schuman's "When at early dawn." Mr. Newman concluded the programme with a capital rendering of the "Gipsy love song," from Victor Herbert's opera "The Fortune Teller," and had to contribute two extras before the audience would finally allow him to leave the platform. These were "The Little Irish Girl" (Lohr) and a couple of verses of "Australia." He also took the basso part in the quartet "Un di se ben Zammentoni," from Verdi. It was rendered in first class style. During the evening the boys of Mr. Newman's form at Prince Alfred College made him a presentation of a laurel wreath and an Australian flag, and the Lyric Club gave him a silver-mounted walking stick, suitably inscribed.

Intercollegiate Cricket Match.

The Annual Cricket Match, Red v. Blue, was begun at the Adelaide Oval on Saturday, December 8th, at 12 noon. The weather was exceedingly hot, and this perhaps accounted for the comparatively small number of people present. His Excellency the Governor was in the pavilion before the match began, and watched every ball bowled in it, and applauded every piece of good play, with the keenest and kindest interest.

The teams were as follows:—

Prince Alfred, G. P. Goode (Capt.), H. O. Rankin, H. B. Willsmore, A. C. Wilton, H. T. M. Angwin, F. E. Osborn, K. N. Steele, C. W. Hurn, J. C. Symonds, Len. Darling, W. W. Cooper. D. Steele had been chosen to play, but through illness he was unable to be present. The St. Peter's team were, A. F. Pincombe (Capt.) L. Dean, H. J. Penny, F. N. LeMessurier, C. B. Chewings, J. S. Robertson, C. L. Herbert, L. P. Sweet, H. C. Nott, R. J. McKail, J. Hutchings.

FIRST DAY'S PLAY.

Goode won the toss from Pincombe, and elected to bat. Punctually at 12 o'clock he went to the wickets with Rankin. Hutchings and Robertson opened the bowling for the Saints. Disaster set in almost immediately, for in the fifth ball of Robertson's first over Rankin was tempted out beyond his crease, and was smartly stumped by McKail.

Willsmore now joined Goode, and it soon appeared that the two were there to make runs. Pincombe immediately took the ball from Hutchings, and put Sweet on at the other end. In the latter's second over Willsmore rashly touched a bumpy one, and was held at second slip by Dean.

2-14-31.

Willsmore had been shaping nicely, and it was a considerable disappointment to us that his departure was so early. Wilton now joined his captain, but the partnership did not produce many runs, for Goode hit Pincombe to square-leg, where Sweet was waiting for him.

With Angwin as his partner, Wilton opened out bravely, and punished severely everything loose on the leg side, his first four scoring strokes being three fourers to leg and a three on the same side. Wilton did almost all the scoring till 1 o'clock, when Robertson took the ball and bowled Angwin with a slow lob on the full.

Wilton was 34. Steele, who came next, was hopelessly at a loss how to deal with Robertson, and making a wild hit out was promptly stumped by McKail.

5-3-87.

Osborn was the next partner to Wilton. The latter cut one, and bolted for it. LeMessurier returned the ball quickly to McKail, who made no mistake, running out Osborn.

6-0-87.

Hurn, who followed, hit Pincombe nicely to the leg boundary, but in Robertson's next over Wilton got his weight on to a leg ball, but Pincombe, who was at square leg, after much juggling at length managed to hold the ball.

7-37-97.

Wilton had made five boundary hits. An adjournment for luncheon was made at this stage. On resuming Hurn was bowled by a good ball from Robertson.

8-6-98.

Symonds did not score, Robertson proving too much for him also.

9-0-98.

Darling and Cooper carried the score to 108, when the former was clean bowled by Pincombe. Cooper was 4 not out.

10-7-108.

The batting on the whole was disappointing, for though the bowling was good there was no reason why such men as Wilton, Willsmore, Rankin, and Goode should not have scored well.

Pincombe and Dean opened for the Saints and quickly got to work. But Symonds soon stopped Dean's career. The latter skied an on-ball to slip where Osborn took a good catch.

Penny was the next to face our bowling and he and Pincombe quickly added on the runs. Steele and Osborn were put on, but with no effect, for the batsmen hit these even more. However shortly afterwards Pincombe mis-hit a ball from Osborn which spooned up to mid-off where Goode was waiting to receive it.

Chewings occupied the crease at the North end but only to see his companion snick a fast one into the slips, where Steele made a clever catch.

3-25-60.

Princes were fielding splendidly, and this success raised their spirits. Soon after Osborn bowled LeMessurier with a yorker.

4-1-60.

Robertson was the next man to take his place at the crease, and he and Chewings starting confidently, quickly put on runs. At 76, with four wickets down, afternoon tea was taken.

On resuming both Osborn and Symonds were unmercifully pasted, till at 96 Chewings attempted to hook a short one. Willsmore took a soft catch at the wickets.

Nott now became associated with Robertson, and the latter greeted him by lifting Osborn a long way down the ground. The next ball he tipped, and Willsmore took a splendid catch.

6-24-100.

Herbert took Robertson's place, and by a fine piece of work Willsmore stumped him off Osborn.

7-0-100.

Sweet followed, and after making a single Symonds bowled him.

8-1-101.

McKail now took his place at the wickets, and he and Nott stubbornly refused to be put out. The bowling was frequently changed, Wilton, Rankin, Steele, Symonds, Osborn, and Hurn all having a try, without effect. Wilton was sending down some very tempting "donkey drops," but Nott would not look at them. However, McKail was not so judicious, and Wilton caught him off his own bowling.

Hutchings did not pay a long visit, for Rankin caught him magnificently at forward-leg off Wilton.

10-2-150.

The last wicket fell at one minute to six, so stumps were drawn for the day.

SECOND DAY.

Play was resumed on Monday. The sky was overcast, and a drizzling rain delayed the start for ten minutes. Goode and Rankin then appeared at the wickets to face the bowling of Pincombe and Hutchings. Rankin opened his account with a single, and in the next over punished one of Hutchings' loose balls, thereby scoring the first fourer of the day. Although the wicket was tricky and deceptive, both batsmen were shaping confidently. At this stage the rain began afresh, and the players had to retire for a quarter of an hour. On resumption of play Goode twice in succession drove Pincombe splendidly to the off boundary. Rankin, however, did not feel at ease with Robertson, who had relieved Hutchings. Eventually a slow leg-break struck his pads and bounced on to the wicket.

1-10-35.

Sweet, who had replaced Pincombe, was keeping a good length, and Goode and Willsmore found it a hard matter to score quickly. Goode, by a smart run, got into the twenties, and shortly afterwards wiped out the deficit of 42 by a forcible leg hit. Robertson had now found his length, and Willsmore placed one dangerously near point, and then returned a hot one to the bowler, which was not accepted. Through this stroke fifty appeared on the board in as many minutes. After this both batsmen opened out and gave a fine exhibition of cricket. Pincombe frequently changed his bowlers, but it did not affect the batsmen, nor could it effect a separation. Hutchings was given another try, and Goode twice in succession banged him to the leg boundary, thus becoming the top scorer for the match. But the next ball was a flyer, hit a lump, broke, and found its way to the stumps.

The retiring batsman had played a splendid innings, playing confidently all round the wicket.

Willsmore only survived a few balls longer, and then he lifted one to leg, where Pincombe took a good catch.

3-27-91.

Willsmore had played a brisk and neat innings, and with his dismissal Princes' misfortunes began, and certainly did not come singly. Angwin, from whom much was expected, did not get a look in before a perfect ball from Robertson broke past his bat.

4-0-91.

Wilton opened with an uppish drive to leg. A moment later he hit a bumping ball from Hutchings to save his head, and Herbert gleefully accepted it.

5-2-93.

Steele seemed unable to play anything breaking in from the leg, and Robertson curled one into his wicket.

6-0-93.

Osborn, who had not had a chance in the first innings to display his powers, broke the ice with a single to leg. This brought Hurn opposite Hutchings, and he ran a single with an extra couple for an overthrow. Osborn next touched a hot one into the hands of Robertson in the slips.

7-1-97.

Hurn quickly followed, being clean bowled by an extra pacy one from Robertson.

8-3-97.

Symonds with an on-hit off Robertson caused the century to be posted on the board. Hutchings' turn now came, and Darling was the victim.

9-2-103.

With the arrival of Cooper at the wickets both batsmen played a defensive game, taking no risks but gradually increasing the score. At afternoon tea adjournment the pair were still un-separated, and the board showed 9 for 113; Cooper 2 not out, Symonds 6 not out.

On resuming play, after the batsmen had scored a single apiece, Symonds put his leg in front of a straight one from Pincombe. The innings had closed at 115, leaving St. Peter's 74 to win.

The wicket had the heavy roller on, and then five minutes past four found Dean and Penny at the wickets eager to wipe off the deficit. Osborn and Symonds, the successful bowlers of the first innings, led the attack. Both bowlers were sending down balls that needed careful watching. Dean, who was scoring faster than his partner, banged one of Osborn's to the leg boundary. Penny did likewise, but in the next over a splendid ball from Symonds proved unplayable.

Pincombe, the newcomer, seemed very chary about hitting good-length balls, but any loose ones were promptly punished. Dean was taking more risks, and several of Osborn's bowls whizzed dangerously near his wicket. However, Symonds had the satisfaction of securing his wicket by virtue of a splendid catch by Goode at mid-on.

2—19—33.

Chewings did not survive long the fast deliveries of Steele, who had been tried in place of Osborn.

Nott took twenty-five minutes to make a run, and the spectators were rather exasperated at his stonewalling tactics, but, as in the first innings, they were very useful. The score gradually mounted up in spite of many successive maidens, and the winning hit fell to Pincombe. Scores at close of play were—Pincombe 33, Nott 7; total (for 3 wickets) 74.

Symonds was the most consistent and successful bowler for us in both innings, taking 3 for 36 in the first and 2 for 30 in the second, the remaining wicket falling to Steele. Toward the close of play our fielding was somewhat faulty, and both batsmen might have been out more than once. Thus the shield passes out of our hands. We have held it for four years. May it not be long before victory and the shield may again be ours.

CRITIQUE OF THE TEAM.

- Angwin, H. T. M.—Good solid bat, nice cut stroke, a good defence; fields mid-on; slow in the field.
- Darling, L. W.—Very much improved batsman, poor defence, and inclined to play back too much; good field at cover.
- Hurn, C.—Most improved batsman in the eleven, one of the few hitters in the team; poor field, but very energetic; change bowler.
- Osborn, F. E.—Very good bat, with strokes all round the wicket; rather too fond, however, of hooking and getting his leg in front of the wicket; fast bowler, keeps a good length and uses his head well; poor in the field owing to nervousness.
- Rankin, H. O. (Vice-Captain).—Very safe batsman; splendid defence, and hits hard when he gets going; good change bowler, and best fielder in the team at point.
- Steele, Don.—Batsman with very good defence; needs a little more strength in his strokes; good field at extra cover.
- Steele, K. N.—Very solid bat, bats splendidly at practice, and drives and cuts very hard; nervous in matches, and consequently does not do himself credit; good bowler, but should not bowl at the wicket so much; best long-fieldman in the team.
- Symonds, J. C.—Fair bat, with a good defence; best bowler in the team, breaking from the leg and off, more suited for turf bowling than matting; good field at second slip.

- Willsmore, H. B.—Very fine wicket-keeper and fair change bowler; vigorous and attractive batsman, but rather inclined to lift too much.
- Wilton, A. C.—Dashing batsman, and scores all round the wicket; uses rather too much wrist in his strokes, which makes them dangerous; very good bowler of leg breaks, and brilliant field in slips and long-field.
- Cooper, W. W. (first emergency).—Stylish bat, but many of his strokes are uppish; hits very hard; works hard in the field; can keep wickets if need be.
- Goode, G. P. (Captain).—A fine solid bat, with an excellent defence; scores rapidly, mainly by means of off-drives and cover-hits; a splendid field at mid-off; has captained his team well and with excellent judgment during the year.

Obituary.

We record with regret the decease of Thomas Yelland Morcombe. He came to the college in January, 1877, and soon won a good place in the school. He entered the service of the railway department and was much esteemed and trusted, and ever ready to be helpful, as was shown by being for many years the representative of the railways in the Public Service Association, on the provident fund, and on the super-annuation fund. His son was the first elected Old Scholar's Scholar, and worthily maintained the honor of his name.

Also that Archibald C. M. Pitt, son of another old boy, Mr. A. E. Pitt, has been called upon to close what seems to mortal thought an all too short earthly career.

And yet again that Henry J. Hill, the fifth son of Mr. John Hill, has been called away. No brothers better known in the annals of P.A.C. than the eight scions of this house. And no one of the eight more esteemed than Harry, so young and so promising. We bow in acknowledgement of the mystery.

H. T. M. ANGWIN,

Hon. Manager.

Cricket Medals.

The Head Master has for many years offered to the First Eleven a silver medal for scoring 50 runs in an innings or taking three wickets in one over. This term a dozen such medals were won. As Alick Wilton had four due to him, a gold medal was given instead.

The list of the winners and of the occasions on which they scored is as follows:—

Wilton, A. C. (4)—73 Bankvilles, 64 University, 103 Stow Ramblers; 3 wickets in one over, Wavertons.

Willsmore, H. B. (2)—162* Erindales, 62 Linden Parks.

Goode, G. P.—65* Ramblers.

Angwin, H. T. (2)—50 Woodville Parks, 55 Gilbertons.

Steele, K. N.—58 Ramblers.

Rankin, H. O. (2)—79 Stow Ramblers, 58* Gilbertons.

Symonds, J. C.—3 wickets in one over, University.

Osborn, F. E.—58 Eastbournes.

The Mock Trial.

On the 26th of October a Mock Trial concluded the meetings of the Prince Alfred College Literary Society for the current year. It was thought desirable that the work and speeches should be original in order to foster inventiveness. The plot in barest outline is:—The heroine, Miss Amelia Gwendoline Ermytrude Smith, lived a life of single blessedness and monotony, at Bowden, with her deceased mother's nurse and her own brother little Bill. On June 31st the lady took a pleasure trip to Tasmania on the s.s. "Juno." Returning home by moonlight she became acquainted with one of the male passengers, Mr. de Chump. He saw her safely home, and agreed to call again. All went well for a time. The pair visited the theatre and the skating rink, and one morning he "popped the question" (details not to hand). A few days afterwards in the course of conversation he said that he had become fully persuaded in his own mind (?) that she was too good, too beautiful, and too innocent for such a man as he. The lady was indignant at this rejection, and immediately sought the family lawyer, and he advised legal proceedings. Accordingly on October 26th in the Supreme Court (Prince Alfred College) the crier announced:

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

Prosecutrix—Smith.

Defendant—de Chump.

The case opened with the junior counsel's speech for prosecution. John Robinson, Esq. (B. W. Wibberley) pointed out the main features of the case as sketched above, and after an able speech read a love-letter for the benefit of the jury.

The crier (Cooper), with a red tie of huge proportions, and a voice "whose sound was like the sea," called for the first witness, Pat Cuncen (Broadbent), a well-dressed and comparatively fine-looking Irishman. This deponent explained that he had seen the prosecutrix and defendant on board the s.s. "Juno." They were looking through the captain's "telephone" at the stars.

It must be a mighty interesting science, for they were both trying to look through at the same time.

The prosecutrix (Jeffery) herself was next called. This charming young lady was dressed in auburn hair inclined to red, with a hat to match, and a beautiful cream-colored walking costume, which she was wearing for the first time in public. She said that she had lost many chances of matrimony, which might never occur again, through companionship with "that wretch." On the boat he seemed to be attracted by her golden locks and her aquiline nose, or perhaps by something less prominent. Anyhow he offered to take her to the theatre on the following Tuesday. Coming home from the theatre they were half an hour late for the last car, and had to run for fully five minutes before they caught it. One evening, shortly after their engagement, the defendant told her that a friend had persuaded him that a man with a wig and false moustache could never marry a person with such a beautiful face as hers. She determined to institute legal proceedings, and demanded from him the following amount as damages:— Loss of sleep and beauty, £20 (mostly in sleep); coal and gas, £20; medical attendance, £20; death of a pet dog on seeing defendant for first and last time, £1,099 4s. 7½d.; total, £1,339 4s. 7½d.

The judge then bade the crier call Susan Priscilla Mary Anne Skimpkins.

Miss Skimpkins (Howard), a tall and ferocious-looking creature, quickly appeared. She was clad in clothes of sombre hue, except for a red mantle (conspicuous by its presence), the whole surmounted by an old-fashioned poke bonnet. This eccentric personage advanced with a jaunty air to the witness box. She then shook an extra sized umbrella at the dumfounded jurymen, shrieking incoherently: "'Twas better so," until exhausted. In order to soothe her shattered nerves she drew forth a capacious bottle of smelling salts, and lovingly inhaled a large portion of its contents. The jury were visibly impressed, but the judge sternly bade the witness compose herself and continue her statement. Miss Skimpkins accepted the inevitable, and in a shrill falsetto endeavoured to explain to those present her view of the condition of affairs. So lucid were her explanations that most of the jurymen seemed thoroughly mystified, and one fell asleep. The judge peremptorily ordered the crier to wake the sleeping jurymen. The crier performed this delicate duty to the satisfaction of all save the roughly-handled jurymen. The court crier hereupon provoked the junior members of the audience to renew their laughter by various magisterial renderings of "Silence in the court."

Algernon Augustus de Chump (Lloyd), on hearing his name called, leisurely ascended the witness box, gravely handed his top-hat to the crier, and languidly drawled out the following tale of woe:—He considered it “extweme” condescension on his part to be “pwesent” that evening; in fact it was too much “twouble” altogether. He recited some “scwaps of pwivate histowy.” He was born and lived an inoffensive life on “Towens” Island. In a moment of weakness he decided on a “twip” to Tasmania. On the “weturn” journey, although the sea was “vewy wough,” he became acquainted with Miss Smith. He always “tweated” her as a gentleman would “tweat” a lady—he thought she was a lady. He only intended to be “fwiendly” to her, but he saw she was inclined to “misinterpwet” his actions. For that “weason” one day he explained that she could never be more than a “fwiend” to him. She became “vewy angwy,” and in spite of his “wemonstwances” she took the case to law as “bweach of pwomise.” He had placed the case in the hands of the eminent lawyer Mr. Paddy “Cwook” (Roberts), and he “twusted” he would “pwove” his innocence in the eyes of his “fwiends” and the “genewal” public.

Aubrey St. Clair (Holder) was ushered in. He wore a handsome frock coat, a white vest, just visible beneath a rather too heavily ornamented dog chain, and a pair of patent leather boots. His moustache had waxed well, and was well waxed, while a pair of dark-colored pince-nez held him firmly by the nose. With a horsey-air and a pseudo-aristocratic intonation he, on being questioned, eulogised his friend’s benevolence and sociability. But his friend had one failing: one solitary blemish marred his otherwise spotless character—he was very ticklish.

Little Bill (Reed) toddled in, and fearlessly told the judge that he had secretly overheard his sister Birdie and Mr. de Chump conversing in their parlour. But their conversation ever and anon was interrupted by queer noises. By a lawyer—Could he produce the noises in court? He thought not—he had not had any practice. (Uproar in the court and cries of dissent).

The judge bade the crier go forth and summon Donald McDermott, first reminding him of the Scotchman’s deafness. The crier, glaring everywhere but in the right direction, rolled out of the court demanding in an angry tone for Donald McDermott. Eventually the deaf and thirsty one was secured, and bundled into the witness box with but scant ceremony. He detailed many of his adventures on the memorable evening, during which he had seen the defendant and Miss Smith enter the theatre arm-in-arm. He wished to follow them and watch his friend’s doings, but, as he had spent all his money in clear crystal water, flavored with a little Scotch, he was in a quandary. He decided to enter the theatre walking backwards: everybody thought he was going out, so that without paying he reached a seat in the dress circle immediately behind the amorous couple. Although he was sometimes only slightly deaf, yet he could not catch any of their conversation(s). He noticed that they sat as close as possible.

The counsels for prosecution and defence (Rosengarten and Roberts) put forward the cases for their clients in impassioned and eloquent addresses, moving the hearts of all save the staid jurymen, who, with a fine sense of British justice, perceived that mere feelings were not the deciding factor. They alone saw the innocent life of the young girl marred by a ruthless villain, and the necessity for a speedy vindication.

The judge (Moore) briefly and impartially pointed out the main features of the case, explained to the jurymen the gravity of their position, and exhorted them to do their duty.

The jurymen straggled out like a flock of lost sheep, to consider their verdict. After a brief but noisy retirement, they tumbled in, escorted by the ubiquitous crier. The foreman of the jury (Bennett), a self-made man (for the evening), delivered the verdict. He said that he with the help of his fellow-jurymen had come to the unanimous decision that the defendant, Algernon Gussie de Chump was exceedingly guilty of "britch" of promise to the "deceased," Amelia Gwendoline Hummingbird Smith, which his Worship saw before him. Mr. de Chump could not have had much sense or he would not have chosen that object for his "affectations." He therefore affixed his damages very low, namely, in round numbers at £213 17s. 4½d., for sleepless nights and loss of ugliness. Miss Skinnylimbs should be severely commended on her assaulting language towards the jurymen. He could not tell what she said, but her actions spoke louder than words.

The judge in closing the case, ordered Mr. Chump to pay the above-mentioned damages, and Miss Skimpkins was fined £10 for contempt of court (for which sum however she has not yet undone her purse-strings.)

The Literary Society deserve to be congratulated on the high standard of forensic eloquence attained by those of its members who took part in the entertainment.

Junior and Higher Picnic.

Monday, November 26, was the day fixed for the annual picnic for those who had passed through the ordeal of examinations and still survived.

At a few minutes past nine we started from the College in two drags to the accompaniment of cheers, taking the road towards Parkside Asylum. This was safely hurried by. Leaving Mitcham behind, we entered the hills. After a stiff climb we reached the high road above and found ourselves "monarchs of all we surveyed," except an old waggon. The drags caught us up and our seats in them were resumed. The passing of Nunyara Sanatorium gave a splendid opportunity for a Sixth Form sage to air his knowledge of Wordsworth by quoting "Is this (Nun) Yarrow?"

At length we arrived at National Park and by good roads descended to the Pine Tree oval. Then at least everyone felt bound to do his duty. Cricket was commenced, likewise a drizzling rain, which wet us slightly, but did not damp our ardour. Sides were chosen, and after a close game victory rested with one by four or five runs. New talent was unearthed in the match, especially in the bowling and perhaps in the fielding line also.

After dinner the party scattered for different purposes. Some for cricket, others for quiet rambles, and yet others of the more adventurous type tried their weight on the swings. One swing proved unequal to the foot-pounds of some of the sixth formers and succumbed, potential energy converted into heat. No lives were lost however.

Rain ceased and preparations were made for the return journey. All were ready save three, who were somehow detained at the "Huggery." The lawless ones having at length been stowed away we departed and gave vent to our voices in "tumults of mighty harmonies," which drove cattle to seek safety in flight. On coming at last to the Queen's Statue, three cheers were given. The usual silence of Rundle Street (at that time of night at least) was broken by the war cries of Princes.

The College was sighted and three cheers for the drivers and our noble selves closed a very enjoyable and never-to-be-forgotten day.

Our thanks are due to the Secretary, Cooper, who carried out his onerous duties so ably.

Christian Union.

At the first meeting of the term the Head Master gave the address. He said he had been thinking of Dr. Hone's remarks at the Old Scholars' Service that Jesus Christ was the greatest of heroes. He asked us to think what true greatness was and said it was power to lead. This required a mind that could understand others, broad, not self-engrossed, could feel fully what others felt slightly, could call up from the souls of men their thoughts and feelings and give them shape and definite direction. It required strength of conviction, clear faith, firmness of will, courage and perseverance; but above all devotion to the cause, self-surrender, self-sacrifice. And he quoted the examples of Decius and Regulus from old Roman stories. All these great qualities found their fullest development in the great Jesus. He said that many of the old boys had become leaders and many before him would and most surely would by pondering these principles, or if they could not grasp them by, studying that transcendent example.

We are glad to be able to report of successful and helpful meetings for the third term of 1906. During the first part of the term we had the usual good attendances, but as examinations came on and many of our senior members were away at them the later meetings suffered. It was, however, very gratifying to note the fine muster of boys that greeted our Head Master as he rose to give us the last address for 1906; Mr. Chapple's words like those with which he opened our term's programme were earnest and heart searching, and inspired us with renewed determination and courage. We are grateful to the Revs. Joseph Robertson, M.A., T. B. Angwin, M.A., W. Jeffries, B. Wibberley, A. B. Lloyd, W. A. Potts, W. G. Clarke for their talks to us and their continued interest in our work. Mr. S. B. Hunt gave us another splendid address, and we are also under obligation to the representatives of the Adelaide University Christian Union, and to Mr. Hughes of the Y.M.C.A. Bible studies were conducted by Miss Chapple and Mr. Haslam.

Literary Society,

The number of meetings of the Literary Society during the third term was necessarily few on account of the approach of the University Examinations. But all are agreed that what was lost in quantity was made up in the great interest displayed. The attendance has been very good throughout, and the quality of the speaking has distinctly improved.

The first meeting for the term was held on Friday, September 4, with the Head Master presiding. The subject for debate on that evening was, "Which has influenced the world the more, W. E. Gladstone, the statesman, or Alfred Lord Tennyson, the poet. E. E. Lloyd and S. R. Caust spoke on behalf of Gladstone, and C. G. Bennett and S. E. Holder held a brief for Tennyson. The debaters, who otherwise spoke very well, took rather a defensive view of the subject, choosing rather to shield themselves than to assault the enemy's citadel. At the close of this highly interesting meeting a vote was taken, which resulted in an overwhelming majority for Mr. Gladstone.

At our next meeting Mr. Langley for the first time acted as chairman in his official capacity as Vice-President of the Society. After the preliminaries had been got through Mr. Langley in a few well chosen words thanked the Society for the position they had conferred on him, and hoped that the Society would prosper in the future as much as it had done in the past. The business of the evening consisted of six short papers by the members, and criticisms on each. They were as follow:—R. A. Haste, "The Cotter's Saturday Night," A. W. Bennett, "Should Australians use Australian-made goods," A. G. Carne, "Should Nations disarm," D. A. Roberts, "The chief purposes of a Debating Society," F. S. Jeffrey, "Hobbies," A. E. Howard, "Would Education be better without Examinations?" A very pleasant and profitable evening was spent with the papers and the criticisms on them. Some of the members especially pleased us by the worth of their matter and the fluency of their speaking.

The next meeting really constituted the last for the Society for the session. The subject for the evening was Impromptu Speaking. Mr. Chapple, the President, had been asked to fix the topics. Most of those who were called upon to speak gave their views with clearness, though not, perhaps, very concisely.

October 26th witnessed our grand finale in the form of a "mock trial." This was held in the big schoolroom, and friends were invited. A report is to be found in another column. In closing we desire to say how thankful we are to the President for the help he has given to the Society. His untiring zeal, his unflagging energy, and the enthusiasm with which he has entered into the spirit of the thing have in a great measure accounted for the success of the Society. And also we must thank especially some of the members for their regularity and earnest work. Foremost among these are C. G. Bennett and T. A. Roberts.

But before this article goes to press, let us remind all, whether they are returning next year or not, how important it is for a man to be able to stand up before others and express his opinions clearly, fluently, and in a few words. The Literary Society is one of the best of places to learn how to do this, and we would strongly recommend as many as possible to join our ranks next year. We feel sure that they will find most serviceable the benefit which they will derive from it.

Senior Picnic.

On Friday, December 14th, at 9 a.m. a drag drew up at the College ready to convey the Lower Sixth Form to National Park, Belair, the chosen picnicking ground. Twenty of us joined four of the Junior Commercials, hastily clambered up into it, and we started. After passing up Rundle Street to the tune of "Buck in Princes," we set out straight for the hills. We all felt like singing, but no two seemed to know the same song ; however, at last we hit on "My Home Girl," and this proved such a pronounced success that we heartily encored ourselves. After driving through the beautiful hills, we arrived at our destination at 11.30 a.m. In the morning earlier, rain had been threatening, but after a few drops it passed off, and the remainder of the day was fine, though somewhat warm.

We started cricket almost immediately, Goode and Rankin being chosen as captains. Rankin's side batted till one, when we adjourned for lunch. Mysterious-looking bulky parcels were produced from the drag, the boarder's luncheon hamper was done full justice to, improved as it was by deep draughts of ice-cold spring water, drunk out of an empty jam tin. After Goode's side had got out, we had a two-hours interval, starting again at five, and Rankin's side batted till six. Then we had tea, after which Goode's side went in till half-past seven, when the light forced us to stop playing.

During the day the following retired at fifty—Goode, J. H. Cooper, Symonds, and Davey, while Wibberley, Haste, and others made creditable ducks.

We reached the College at half-past eight, after a delightful drive through the hills in the cool of the evening, feeling though hoarse with singing, that we had spent a jolly time.

Complimentary Social to Mr. C. S. Newman.

There was a splendid gathering of "old Reds" at the South Australian Hotel on the evening of November 30th last, when a complimentary smoke social was tendered by the Old Collegians' Association to Mr. C. S. Newman, on the eve of his departure from South Australia for the purpose of pursuing his musical studies in England.

The proceedings were characterised by the greatest enthusiasm, and formed a fitting tribute to the high esteem in which Mr. Newman is held by all Old Scholars.

Mr. P. E. Johnstone, in proposing the health of the guest of the evening, referred to the number of years during which Mr. Newman had been associated with the College as a scholar and as a member of the teaching staff, and to the record of honorable service which he would leave behind him. He had always shown a keen interest in affairs of the Old School and of the Association. The readiness with which he had assisted at the various functions held in connection with the Association would be gratefully remembered, and his departure would in this respect leave a blank which it would be difficult to fill. It was, however, not for these reasons alone that Mr. Newman would be remembered: the success already obtained by him as a public singer, and his skill with the tennis racquet and pencil, would also serve to keep his memory green. On behalf of the Association Mr. Johnstone's remarks were supported by the Head Master, who referred in grateful terms to the success which had attended Mr. Newman's efforts as a member of the College Staff.

Mr. Newman in responding expressed the regret which he felt at severing his connection with the College, and mentioned that he had been associated with it for the past thirteen years. He paid a high tribute to the efficiency of the present members of the teaching staff, and of those past members with whom he had had the honor of being associated, and referred to various interesting events which had occurred since he first become connected with the school. He also referred to the pleasure he felt at the splendid advances recently made by the Old Scholars' Association, and expressed the hope that the future might have in store for it an ever increasing measure of success.

A splendid musical and elocutionary programme contributed to the evening's enjoyment. Mr. Newman himself rendered in magnificent style Gounod's "She alone charmeth my sadness" and Herbert's "Gipsy love song," for both of which he had to respond to inevitable encores, and the other items were given by Messrs E. Bröse, J. Mitchell, F. Homburg, W. B. Lang, G. Gordon Swan, G. Goldsmith, J. Morish, and Dr. R. G. Burnard.

During the course of the evening the indefatigable President of the Association (Mr. W. R. Bayly) referred to the Association's present flourishing condition, and mentioned that a turf pitch was being laid down in front of College, which, it is hoped, would be of immense advantage in improving the cricket at the School. This would cost about sixty guineas—a heavy charge upon the Sports Fund. He expressed the hope that the enthusiasm of the previous year still existed, and only awaited the opportunity of expressing itself. The President's appeal was responded to with enthusiasm, and about £30 was immediately subscribed towards the cost of the pitch. Since the date of the social a further £15 has been paid and promised.

Mr. T. A. Caterer, of St. Peter's College, was present at the social, and in responding to the enthusiastic welcome accorded him by those present referred to the benefit which had been derived by the Blue-and-White team from playing on turf wickets.

The pitch which has been laid down at our College cannot fail to be of unspeakable advantage in improving the cricket standard, and it is sincerely hoped by the Committee of the Association that the full amount required to pay for it will be contributed by the "old boys."

Annual Sports.

Rarely before have our athletic sports been such a pronounced success as they were this year. One thing which contributed largely to this was the grand weather, for it drew out a large crowd of interested spectators, such a crowd as could only be expected by a school with so many loyal friends as P.A.C. The weather during the greater part of the afternoon was warm, and favorable to running, but towards the close of the long programme a smart shower of rain fell, and made the turf somewhat slippery.

The exceptionally large number of entries, almost a record, the entries of 1899 just beating it; was a notable feature of the afternoon. Although there were as many as thirty events on the programme, no fewer than sixty-eight put their names down for the Half-Mile Handicap, fifty-eight for the Obstacle Race, and twenty-nine had the courage to enter for the Mile Race. All the other events were filled proportionately. The only change in last year's programme was the omission of the Mile Bicycle Race.

The great success of the afternoon was the reward of the arduous services rendered by the Officials. Mr. Bayly as starter, Dr. Chapple, Messrs. C. R. Doudy, J. E. Langley, and J. R. Robertson as judges, and Messrs. J. A. Haslam and C. S. Newman as time-keepers, are to be thanked cordially for their efficient services, and last but not least, the able committee, for the first time under Mr. F. I. Grey as sports' master, is to be congratulated.

We were glad to note a much-needed improvement in the number of entries for the Old Scholars' events, but we shall not be satisfied till we have double or treble that number.

The coveted College Cup was won for the third time by G. P. Goode, who scored twenty-three points by winning the 100 yards, the 220 yards, and the 440 yards, which he won in his usual fine style. Moore came second with sixteen points. The most exciting finish of the day was that between G. M. Potts and H. Constantine in the mile race, who had 200 yards and 30 yards handicap respectively. The two raced neck and neck all the way up the straight, but the limit man drew out at the finish, and won by a few feet. The winner ran a good race, kept to it very pluckily and sprinted at the right moment.

The Junior Championship was taken by Dreyer; he unfortunately was a few days too old to be able to run for us in the Intercollegiate Sports. In the High Jump Matters did well, jumping 5ft. 2½ ins. Angwin, our last year's jumper, failed to show his usual good form. R. Pender in the Junior High Jump, jumped well for his height. Several fell in the Steeplechase and allowed Wilton on scratch to win. B. Magarey won the Half-Mile, Nicholls the Hurdles, and F. Wall the Junior Hurdles. K. Hobbs, in the 100 yards under eleven, ran well and should soon be one of our junior runners.

The programme was a lengthy one, and a severe strain on the judges and the starter, but it was got through without a hitch in good time.

This year Mr. C. R. Douady, an old scholar and runner for P.A.C., has been kind enough to come out to the school twice a week, and coach our runners for the sports, but although the Head Master repeatedly gave the in-itation to contestants to turn out and avail themselves of this skilled advice, the response was very partial indeed. We here give the invitation to the whole school, particularly to the Juniors, to come out and benefit by the coaching received at the hands of an old scholar and splendid runner, if he is able to come to us again.

At the conclusion of the Sports, Mrs. A. E. Davey distributed the prizes to the winners, and we desire to thank her very heartily for her services.

The following table shows how the various forms scored, counting three for first, two for second, and one point for third.

Consolation Race (Juniors)—E. P. Pftaum, G. S. Reed.

Intercollegiate Sports.

Our ninth meeting with St. Peter's took place on Saturday, September 15, before a distinguished and appreciative, though not very large audience. Disappointment was again our lot, for we lost by 20 points. Up to the day of the sports we had reason to hope that we should run our rivals close, but in the 100, 220, and long jump, our expectations were not realised. Our juniors, with one or two exceptions, were disappointing. It is time that they recognised that our success in the future depends mainly upon them, and that weak juniors mean weak seniors. The officials carried out their duties well. It was refreshing to note that the Stewards did not concentrate on any one spot, but opened out in skirmishing order and guarded the lines of communication as good and faithful stewards should do. The weather was "Creswellian." At the close of the sports Lady Way kindly distributed the medals and trophies, and handed the Cup to the Captain of the Blues for another year's keeping.

Junior High Jump.—Won easily by Chapman at 4 ft. 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ in, two inches higher than J. H. Cooper's record made last year. This is unusually good for a junior, and the record will probably stand for many years. Pender, our best jumper, did not jump up to his form, but Bland came to the rescue and took second place. The other competitors retired early, and we hope to see them up amongst the first next year. Result—C. G. Chapman (Saints), 1; H. Bland (Princes), 2; W. Varley (Saints), J. Calder (Saints), and L. Darling (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 3 2-3; Princes, 2 1-3.

120 Yards Hurdles.—Muirhead was too fast between the hurdles for Wilton, and he won comfortably. At last we have fallen in with the rest of the athletic world, and have run the race with the correct number of hurdles—nine instead of eight. The winner's time of 17 secs. therefore compares very favorably with Bickford's record of 16 secs. Result—C. M. Muirhead (Saints), 1; A. C. Wilton (Princes), 2; J. T. Creswell (Saints), 3. Points—Saints, 6; Princes, 3.

100 Yards Junior.—The only event in which we did not score. Badger for the Saints was far ahead of the rest, and ran remarkably well, winning in 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ secs. Result—R. Badger (Saints), 1; G. A. Yuill (Saints), 2; A. K. Wendt (Saints), 3. Points—Saints, 6; Princes, 0.

100 Yards Flat.—No less than four of last year's competitors appeared in this time-honored event. Goode surprised most people by failing to repeat his last year's performance, though a few thought that Drew, the Saint's champion, would extend him. Forty yards from home the two were level, then Drew forged ahead, but Goode failed to respond, and allowed Hutchings to get in second. The time, 10 2-5th secs., is equal to Campbell's, Stevenson's, and Goode's best. Result—F. N. Drew (Saints), 1; J. Hutchings (Saints), 2; G. P. Goode (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 8; Princes, 1.

Senior High Jump.—Angwin here showed his true form, and won from Weste and Angas at 5 ft. 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ in., jumping in good style. Both Goss and Matters jumped well. Result—H. T. Angwin (Princes), 1; M. O. Weste (Saints) and R. F. Angas (Saints), 2. Points—Princes, 5; Saints, 4.

220 Yards Flat.—Goode was looked upon as a certainty for this, but Hutchings secured the inside running, and kept the advantage throughout. Goode tried to round him at the turn instead of waiting till they were in the straight, when probably he would have caught him. Axford ran well for third place. Time, 24 secs. J. Hutchings (Saints), 1; G. P. Goode (Princes), 2; F. T. Axford (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 5; Princes, 4.

300 Yards Steeplechase.—This stiff test of speed and stamina was won by Warren. Muirhead fell at the last jump and let in Wilton, who was followed to the tape by Cooper. The time, 43 secs., was good. Result—W. R. Warren (Saints), 1; A. C. Wilton (Princes), 2; W. W. Cooper (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 5; Princes, 4.

440 Yards Flat—Here Goode showed his true form. Making the pace a cracker from the start, he took a big lead and finished yards ahead in the fine time of 53 3-5th secs., beating his own record. Drew and Hutchings were too good for our second and third men. G. P. Goode (Princes), 1; F. N. Drew (Saints), 2; J. Hutchings (Saints), 3. Points—Princes, 5; Saints, 4.

Teams' Flag Race.—This concession to the spectacular proved a great attraction. Our A team, thanks to Axford's smartness in getting off his mark, and to Goode's pace, won comfortably. The second and third places, however, were won by the Saints. Time, 39 4-5th secs. Result—Princes, A team, 1; Saints, A team, 2; Saints, B. team, 3. Points—Princes, 5; Saints, 4.

120 Yards Hurdles (Juniors).—R. S. Davey created a surprise by filling the gap made by Wall's failure to come off, and winning in good style from Chapman in 19 2-5th secs. Result—R. S. Davey (Princes), 1; C. G. Chapman (Saints), 2; R. Badger (Saints), 3. Points—Princes, 3; Saints, 3.

Long Jump.—Moore, owing to a strain, could not equal his jump in our own sports, and had to rest content with a tie for third place. Fletcher took second place for us, Warren winning with 19 ft. 5½ in. Result—W. R. Warren (Saints), 1; W. Fletcher (Princes), 2; A. F. Pincombe (Saints) and F. M. Moore (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 5½; Princes, 3½.

Mile Race.—This replaced the half-mile of former years—a change which hardly admits of explanation, for the half-mile is a race of unblemished reputation, and certainly less drawn-out. We were treated, however, to a great finish. Strachan led all the way till in the straight for the last time, when Constantine, who had been doggedly sticking to his heels, ran past and looked a safe winner. But the Blue, by a plucky effort, regained his position and won by 3 yards in 5 min. 6 2-5th secs. Charlick ran into third place. Result—J. C. P. Strachan (Saints), 1;

H. Constantine (Princes), 2; H. M. Charlick (Princes), 3. Points—Saints, 5; Princes, 4.

Total points—Saints, 59 1-6; Princes, 39 5-6.

OLD SCHOLARS' EVENTS.

In the three Old Scholars Events we won two firsts and three thirds, Doudy winning the 100 Yards and Angwin the 440 Yards in their well-known style. The Hurdles went to V. Cresdee, C. F. Drew being our only successful representative. Angwin and R. M. Scott were also placed in the 100 and 440 respectively.

Hurdles, 120 Yards.—V. Cresdee (Saints), 1; R. H. Wallmann (Saints), 2; C. F. Drew (Princes), 3. Time, 16 4-5th secs.

100 Yards Flat.—C. R. Doudy (Princes), 1; V. Cresdee (Saints), 2; W. B. Angwin (Princes), 3. Time, 10 2-5th secs.

440 Yards Flat.—W. B. Angwin Angwin (Princes); 1; R. H. Wallmann (Saints), 2; R. M. Scott (Princes), 3. Time, 55 4-5th secs.

Old Collegians' Association.

The twenty-eighth Annual General Meeting of the Association was held at the South Australian Hotel on Sept. 27th, 1906, when the President Mr. W. R. Bayly presided over a splendid attendance. The meeting took the form of a smoke social, and the tedium of formal business was relieved by a capital programme which was rendered by Messrs. A. C. Lyon, J. Morish, W. B. Lang, D. M. Davidson, G. Goldsmith, A. Rowley, and Dr. R. G. Burnard, whose efforts were very heartily appreciated by all present. It is a source of gratification that so many members of decided musical and elocutionary power readily place themselves at the disposal of those arranging our gatherings. Their efforts are always deservedly appreciated and contribute very largely to the success and enjoyment of our meetings. The Secretary wishes to take the opportunity of saying that, though we have such good support, he is always anxious to hear of "new blood," as it is the desire of the Committee to enlist the practical sympathy of as many members as possible in the Association.

The Report and Balance Sheet which had been supplied to members were adopted. They contained many interesting and pleasing details. The members' roll numbered 623, of whom 258 had joined during the year : of these 82 were life members, of whom 25 were new. The year has opened with £41 in hand and closed with a credit balance of £137. These were the most tangible evidences of a revival of interest and enthusiasm on the part of Old Boys, which it is hoped will be steadily maintained to the mutual benefit of the Association and the School.

The retiring Committee were unanimously of opinion that it was desirable to start a capital account in connection with the funds of the Association, and the following resolution to give effect to this opinion was submitted to the meeting by Mr. A. G. Collison:—"This General Meeting directs that all money heretofore or hereafter received for Life Members' subscriptions shall be paid into a capital account, and only the interest accruing on such capitalised amount shall be used for current expenses; that Life Members' subscriptions hereafter received shall be at once credited to such capital account; and that in addition, there shall be transferred from current account to capital account each year such amount as the Committee for the time being shall direct until the full amount of Life Members' subscriptions heretofore received shall have been transferred.

This motion was seconded by Mr. S. W. Bailey and carried unanimously.

During the evening an election of officers for the ensuing year was held, the results of which will be found on the last page.

TOKENS.

It has been decided to adopt a token to be worn by members of the Association. After much consideration a very neat design in the form of a pendant to be worn on the watch-chain has been selected, representing the school badge in gold and red enamel. It is hoped that the result will meet with the approval of members, and that it will be generally worn by them. The tokens will be ready in January, and already about 100 applications for them have been received by the Secretary.

MEMBERS' ROLL.

At the close of 1906 the roll of members totalled just over 700. and it has been decided to publish the list in this issue in the hope that it will be of interest to all. Much care has been taken in compiling the list, and we trust that no name has been omitted. If any should have been left out the Secretary will be greatly obliged if the omission is reported to him. He also earnestly requests members to endeavor to persuade any friends who have not joined the Association to do so at once, or to send their names and addresses to him, as he is anxious to bring our roll up to the thousand during the year.

Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Association

ESTABLISHED 1878.

OFFICERS, 1906-1907.

- Patron—The Head Master.
 President—Mr. W. R. Bayly.
 Vice-Presidents—Messrs. A. S. Lewis,
 W. Lathlean, and S. W. Bailey.
 Hon. Treasurer—Mr. A. G. Collison.
 Hon. Asst. Sec.—Mr. D. M. Steele.
 Representatives on College Committee
 —Messrs. J. W. Grasby and P. E.
 Johnstone.
 Hon. Auditors—Messrs. R. G. Neill and C. W. Chinner.
 Committee—Messrs. E. J. W. Ashton,
 H. R. Adamson, A. W. Collins,
 A. C. Catt, J. L. Davidson, A.
 Rowley, and D. M. Steele.
 Hon. Secretary—Mr. H. W. A. Miller.
 Hon. Assistant Sec.—Mr. C. E. Bennett.

The objects of the Association are:—
 To keep Old Boys, wherever they may be, in touch with one another and with the boys at the school; also to foster and maintain their interest in the School.

The P.A.C. Chronicle, of which a large part is devoted to matters of special interest to Old Boys, is forwarded to each member of the Association.

A dinner is held annually, at a time which is thought likely to give as many Old Boys as possible an opportunity of meeting one another; and social gatherings are held whenever any occasion arises that makes them desirable.

The Association gives annually to the School the Old Collegians' Scholarship, of the value of fifteen guineas, and donates five guineas per annum to the Sports' Fund. A Scholarship has also been founded, according to the terms of which the members of the Association have the right of nominating annually the son of one of their number for one year's free education at the School.

The subscription is five shillings per annum. The simplest way is to send along a pound for four years, or to make a life payment of three guineas. To encourage boys on leaving school to join the Association at once, they are admitted as members for the first year without payment of any subscriptions. Any Old Boy wishing to become a member can do so by forwarding his name and address to the Head Master, or to any member of the staff, or to the Hon. Secretary.

H. W. A. MILLER,
 care of A.M.P. Society, King William St., Adelaide.
