Editorial.

For some time now, the voice of popular criticism has been loud in the school with regard to our magazine. The committee, in endeavouring to remedy the alleged defects, has been greatly hampered by two causes—the war, and the indifference of members of the school towards the welfare of the school paper. The only effort that a great number of fellows have made towards improving the publication has been to shower criticisms wholesale on the heads of an undeserving Committee.

The war is now, we trust, buried in the depths of the past, and in its passing it is leaving a large gap in our columns, a gap formerly occupied by the Roll of Honour, Soldiers' letters, etc. Further, a large item of expense is being removed, namely, the great number of photographs published in war time. Consequently the Chronicle is now more than ever in need of original matter, and can the better afford to print it. And here it is up to the rest of the school to do its bit. There must surely be a great deal of latent literary talent which only needs a little development to attain a decently high standard. There may not be a budding Milton, or an embryo Shakespeare, but nobody knows what he can do till he tries—and the great majority have never tried: The Chronicle is in need of matter; the members of the Committee already have as much work on their hands as they can reasonably be expected to manage, and yet for the last few years, the bulk of the original work has been contributed by them. So it is up to the rest of the school to turn to and do something, instead of playing the highly difficult part of armchair critics. If you have anything, send it along, prose or verse, descriptive or philosophical; anything of general interest, no matter what the subject, put it on paper, and send it along to the Editor. Every contribution will be welcome, whether it be publishable or not, as it will, at any rate, show that there is someone in the school who is inclined to take a reasonable interest and a fair share in bringing out the school magazine.

Don't be shy about it. If your article be published, it is something to be proud, rather than ashamed, of. If it be rejected, no one need ever know. If you are ashamed of seeing your name appearing in print, write anonymously. If what you have is worth having, it is pure selfishness to keep it to yourself, and not share it with others. The Chronicle is your magazine, why not work for it? Is it not your wish to be able to boast that your school "Mag" is as good as, and even better than, any other school's? You are ready enough to criticise yourselves, but what would be your thoughts if you knew that the magazine of another, and smaller, College had criticised ours in its columns, and pretty severely too? You would be up in arms at once. Well, such a thing has happened, and that during the past year. So get to work and do something. Now is the time of all times for reform, before we settle down into a groove once more. We must not miss the opportunity. So, fellows, buckle to and do something, then it will be your right to criticise.

Mr. James Greenlees, whose two sons are old scholars, has presented the school with a copy of the well-known picture which gives a spirited representation of one of the historic cricket matches played at Lords between an Australian Eleven and an English Eleven. He has also given us a large number of lantern slides and stereoscopic views of famous places. These gifts are greatly appreciated, and we tender our warm thanks to the donor.

At Assembly on Thursday, April 17, the school said good-bye to Mr. Ward, who has been appointed to the headmastership of a new school to be opened at Charters Towers, in Northern Queensland. The Methodists and Presbyterians of Queensland have recently joined forces in educational activities; they have established a residential college in connection with the University, and have taken over a boys' school and also a girls' school in Brisbane. The opening of the new school at Charters Towers is their latest venture; we wish the school every success. The Captain of the School, A. R. Shepley, asked Mr. Ward to accept a case of cutlery as an expression of the esteem of the boys, and in a few well-chosen words wished him all success and happiness in his new work.

Mr. Ward's successor, Mr. G. M. Potts, M.A., was welcomed at Assembly on Monday, April 28. In introducing him, the Head Master commented on the striking similarity in the careers of Mr. Potts and his predecessor. Both were old scholars; Mr. Ward was dux of the school in 1900. Mr. Potts was second boy in the school in 1907; both won the Old Collegians' Scholarship; both went to the University on scholarships won by their last year's work at school; both, after brilliant courses, took the M.A. degree in classics; finally, both came to us as masters from Queensland Grammar Schools. Mr. Ward came from Rockhampton in 1910, and now Mr. Potts had left some of the most important work done in Brisbane Grammar School to take up Mr. Ward's work among us. The school extends to him a hearty welcome, with the hope that he will carry on the work with the vigor and evident pleasure in it that won for Mr. Ward the esteem and respect of his pupils.

On Monday, April 28, we had to face the fact that Mr. Robertson was at Assembly for the last time as a master of the school. He first entered as a pupil in 1881. After four years as a scholar he took up teaching as a junior master, and from that time on, with the exception of five years spent in other service, has served many generations of Prince Alfred boys faithfully and well. In 1911, when the Preparatory School was detached from the main school, he was placed in charge of it, and with the happiest results. His work at the Preparatory School has won unqualified approval and respect. He has had the gratification of seeing the numbers increase from 23 to 70, and so completely outgrow the original accommodation as to necessitate the erection of the block of buildings of which the Prep. boys are so proud, and which are so admirably adapted to this work. Whatever happy experiences later school days may have brought to them, Mr. Robertson's boys have always looked back to their Prep. days as "the" great days in which the foundations were laid of whatever joys later days brought them. Such feelings prompted N. E. Lade and C. T. Piper, who were among the original 23, to unite all Prep. boys, past and present, now at the school, in showing their appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson. The result was that at his last appearance in Assembly, Lade asked Mr. Robertson to accept a gift of plate from his old pupils as a token of their lasting regard for him and Mrs. Robertson. He acknowledged the debt of gratitude they felt to them for the interest they had both taken in their charges—an interest which did not cease when they ceased to be Prep. boys, but followed them in every detail of their subsequent school life, and even beyond it. He wished them both much happiness in their new association, and called on the school to endorse his good wishes with ringing cheers.

The Head Master then introduced Mr. H. E. Mutton, B.A., who has been appointed to succeed Mr. Robinson. He extended to him a hearty welcome to the school, and expressed the hope that he and Mrs. Mutton would be as happy and successful in presiding over the life and work of the Preparatory School as their predecessors had been.

The prefects of 1918 have presented to the school a memento of their year of office in the form of a picture of the Colosseum. This gift is much appreciated.

Sir Geo. LeHunte, a former Governor of South Australia, who is now Chief Commissioner of Over Seas Scouts at Head Quarters, recently wrote as follows, in a letter to Mr. Frederick Chapple, as Acting President of the Boy Scouts of South Australia:—"I hope all is going as well as ever with the 'Princes,' and that the old battles with the 'Saints' continue to be waged with happy results and chivalrous rivalry on both sides. Please give them my very best remembrances and New Year wishes. Many of both schools have served their King and Australia gloriously, and some are now going back with honours. Some, I fear, have given their lives—I know all would—but their names will live for ever on our Empire's and Australia's glorious Roll of Honour."

Old Boys.

As a result of the recent elections in Great Britain, the school is represented in the House of Commons by two Old Boys. Brig. Gen. Sir Newton Moore easily headed the poll in the contest for Islington North, and Sir Frederick Young won a substantial majority over his opponent at Swindon.

Major L. W. Jeffries, D.S.O., of the Army Medical Corps, has been promoted to be Lieutenant-Colonel.

Sergt. J. D. Robertson, M.M., has won his commission.

Army Form W. 312 has the following comment on the work of Lance-Corp. C. F. Hale, of the 50th Battalion:—"At Villers Bretonneux, on the night of 24/25 April, 1918, this N.C.O. showed skill and initiative in using his Lewis gun. When a part of his main line was held up by machine-gun fire, he pushed forward with his gun and engaged the enemy gun, inflicting heavy casualties on the hostile crew and silencing the gun, thereby enabling the line to go forward with its objective."

Captain R. B. Ragless, who has been serving with the forces in Palestine, has been promoted to Major.

Lieut. J. B. Shaw writes from "somewhere in France":—"As I am proud of having once been a scholar of P.A.C., please do not leave me out of your lists of old scholars who have done their 'bit' for their country." We were glad to get this, as we knew that he was awarded the Military Cross recently, but were unable to get into touch with him.

E. H. Preston is to be congratulated upon completing an unusually successful course at Roseworthy College. He won the gold medal as dux of the College, and received a first-class diploma. His record for his final year includes the following awards:—Gold medal for the highest aggregate in all subjects; Old Students' Cup for first place in Agriculture and Veterinary Science; first prize for Outside Work; first prize for Viticulture; first prize for Veterinary Science; and first prize for Field Engineering.

We are indebted to Mr. Chapple for the following:—Ernest Chapple, B.Sc., who holds an engineering appointment in Siam, was among those who hold from the British Minister at Bangkok a certificate stating that, at the request of His Majesty's Government, they had patriotically consented, against their inclinations, to remain at their posts in Siam during the war, and by so doing had been more valuable to the nation than if they had gone off to the war. This completes the tale of four Old Boys, sons of the late Head Master. All volunteered for active service. Dr. Frederick Chapple was found so useful after enlisting that he is still at Keswick Hospital (now a Major); Lieutenant Alfred Chapple, an engineer, was, after other important duties in the R.F.C., placed at the aerodrome of Regent's Park, London, to report on all suggested improvements to flying machines; and Surgeon-Capt. Harold Chapple has been at various casualty clearing stations and hospitals in France, Flanders, &c.

CRITIQUE OF CRICKET TEAM.

(By the Captain).

Drennan, R. L.—Slow leg break bowler, who gets a lot of work on the ball, but his batting and fielding are still below standard required for firsts.

Fox, R. O.—Kept wickets early in season with some success. Medium paced bowler, who swings both ways. Very good field. Rather too inclined to hit.

Gray, C. D.—Steady bat with excellent defence, who will do much better as he acquires more strokes. Left hand bowler, who has bowled well at times, but inclined to bowl too much on leg. Good field. Batted well in intercollegiate.

Hill, A. K.—Good bat, with fine selection of strokes. Bats confidently. Fields cleanly and safely at mid-off.

Jaehne, H. E.—Left hand bowler, who swings with a new ball. Batting fair, but liable to play across through not getting over the ball. Excellent field.

Kelly, R. A.—As a wicketkeeper has done well in last month of season. Steady bat, but rather a disappointment. Good field at point.

Pflaum, H. C.—Batted well at beginning of season, but has had bad luck the last few matches. Rather inclined to hit. Fielding fair, but slow off mark.

Prest, C. P. (vice-captain).—Good offensive bat, with fine sweep to leg. Medium paced bowler, who swings away with a new ball. Sure field. Skipped team with judgment during captain's absence. Did exceptionally well in intercollegiate match.

Walsh, N. A.—Has fine strokes, but too nervous to utilise them. Useful slow change bowler. Brilliant field.

Worden, C. R.—Medium paced bowler, with plenty of nip off wicket. Would be good bat if less nervous. Splendid field.

(By C. R. D.)

Hone, G. M. (Captain).—Possesses excellent defence, with a fine assortment of punishing shots. Should practice stepping out to drive. Brilliant field, and excellent bowler when on the spot. Has captained the team with great success.

Christian Union Notes.

The first meeting for the year proved, beyond a doubt, that the fellows in the school were realising, more and more, the important part the Christian Union can play in their lives. We are glad to see that many of the new boys are beginning to show a keen interest in this important activity of school life. After Lade, the previous year's president, had briefly sketched the meaning of the Christian Union, for what it stands, and the power for good which it possesses, Mr. Haslam gave a helpful and inspiring address, taking as his subject, "A Boy's Religion."

We regret that at our next meeting, the Rev. J. H. Nield, who was to have given the address, was unable to be present, owing to illness, but the time was spent very profitably in learning several hymns from the A.S.C.U. hymn book. The third meeting was addressed by the Rev. Donald McNicol, who told us that the day when we decided to follow Jesus Christ as our leader, would be the greatest day in our lives.

FIRST ELEVEN, 1918.

BACK ROW.—Mr. C. R. Davies, N. A. Walsh, R. A. Kelly, R. L. Drennan, C. R. Worden, H. C. Pflaum, Mr. F. I. Grey,

The following two meetings were addressed by the Rev. Carrol Myers, who took as his subject "Prayer", and the Rev. Frank Lade, M.A., who urged us never to allow ourselves to become offended in Christ. Both talks were very helpful, and contained much food for thought. On March 29th, the Rev. William Jeffries spoke to us of courage, as not the absence of fear, but as the conquering of it; and the following Friday, the Rev. A. E. Gifford took as his subject, "Faith." He told us that one of the most important attributes of faith was confidence in one's moral convictions.

We desire to thank the men who have so graciously helped us, and we are looking forward to the last two meetings of the term, which will probably be addressed by the Rev. Peter Fleming, and the Rev. R. E. Stanley, both of whom have been on service with the forces abroad.

This year, as in the previous year, the Bible Circles were formed, and began work in the first term. There are day-boys' circles and boarders' circles, all under the leadership of senior fellows. The leaders' circle meets under Mr. Haslam's leadership, on Monday afternoons at close of School. Although only one meeting of the circles has been held, yet the interest shown at that meeting augurs well for the future.

The Student Christian Movement.

Before the flourishing organisation known as the Student Christian Movement obtained such a hold on the spirit of the various colleges and universities of the world, the life of an average student may be described as follows:—As a boy at school his mind is occupied with the work, sports, and other branches of school life. In the latter days of his college career, before he enters the university to take up a higher course of training, he begins to realise that the thoughts and ideas which have filled his mind for so many years can never give him complete satisfaction, and, consequently, he longs for some knowledge of the truly supreme things of life. Even though the moral influence of his school, home, and church tends to keep the mind fixed on high ideals, yet there is sometimes something lacking in all these, for they very often fail in their aim when the student comes into the less sheltered life of the university. The reason for this failure is that Jesus Christ is only abstractly, and not personally, brought before him. He contents himself with the false notion that there is time enough to search for the deeper things in life, when he reaches a maturer age.

Entering then into the life of the university, or college of higher learning, the college student is like a fledgling, which, having learned to use its wings, is eager to fly from the restraining influences of its former life, and thus often meets snares and dangers, the existence of which it had never imagined. Perhaps the greatest danger the student will meet, is that of a deal of knowledge suddenly acquired. A student of science at one of the universities told me in all seriousness, that a thoughtful, earnest fellow could easily be started on the wide road of agnosticism, by even a six month's study of the higher branches of science, unless he retained a firm immovable faith in Christianity. The study of such complex problems as may be found in science tends to cause the students to become either indifferent to the call of Christ, or to deny utterly the very existence of God.

Such, and similar other perils are being, and have been combated, by the forces of the Student Christian Movement. It was first formed in America, towards the close of the nineteenth century, in order to help students in universities to become strong links in the chain of the Friendship of Jesus Christ, and thus to pass safely through the critical stage of their lives. By meeting in fellowship together, they wrestled with their problems, praying to God for strength, and striving to gain a more perfect knowledge of the love and power of the Divine Master. Naturally, in the earlier stages of its life, the Movement was not without its scoffers, but the pioneers held on, and its unquestionable influence at the present day is a sufficient and an abiding testimony to the perseverance and faith of these first Student Christians.

Once having gained a firm footing in the institutions of higher learning, and having realised its ever increasing strength, the Movement next turned its attention to the secondary schools. Although its entrance is continually being opposed by various schools and colleges, yet in this department of its work great things have been accomplished in the past, and will continue to be effected in the future. As the Movement progresses in each school in which it has become part of its very life, so will the spirit of that school rise to a higher level. It has been remarked by many of our senior fellows, that, owing mainly to the power of this organisation, within the last few years, many of the evils which are common to all public schools, have become practically non-existent in the life of the school. The movement, or Union, as it is often called, encourages the older boys particularly, to form a friendship with Jesus Christ, and thus to overcome more easily their weaknesses. His powerful Light is set up before them, to guide them safely through the perils and obstacles of the larger life outside the college. The principles laid down in the Bible, which they study, serve as the foundations on which they may build their life's work.

The many difficult problems of the future will be the more easily solved if the universities and colleges send out into the world men who have a strong hold on the religion of Jesus Christ. The value of the Christian Union in a student's life cannot be too highly appreciated. It is a matter for great thankfulness that more and more students of universities and colleges are allowing Christ to mould their lives after his own pattern, and that the Student Christian Movement is rapidly growing in strength. The time, we hope, is not far distant when all students will so realise His power, that they will go out into whatever life holds for them, confident in, and bound by, the supreme and divine love of the Man Christ Jesus.

Hymn

(Tune—"Abide with Me").

O Jesus, what a sacrifice, what pain
 And agony Thou didst for us endure !
 Thou diedst a servile death that we might gain
 Life everlasting, so sublime and sure !

O gracious Lord, to think that when we sin
 Into Thy pierced side we thrust that spear,
 That bloodstained, goading, plait of thorns drive in,
 And wound that loving head, to us how dear !

Victorious o'er the grave Thou didst arise—
 A glorious end to those sad darkened days !
 And then, a King, ascended to the skies
 To ever hearken to our songs of praise.

O grant us faith to ever trust in Thee !
 The flesh is weak, though the spirit be strong,
 That, when our course of life is run, shall we Join, through Thy sacrifice, the heavenly throng !

—C. C. CRUMP.

Tennis Notes.

There was a record number of entries in the annual tennis tournament, which was begun early in the term. The new courts, which had been laid down last year, contributed in some measure to the attractiveness of the tournament. As there is only one member of last year's Intercollegiate team at the school, there will probably be keen competition for inclusion in the team for this year.

Although the Junior and Senior Championships, and the A grade and B grade singles are well advanced, it does not seem likely that the tournament will finish before the end of the first half of the second term, as the doubles have not yet begun. We hope that tennis will not be lost sight of in the activity and excitement of the football season.

During the past few years our school has been well represented in all kinds of field sport. The Gymnasium has not been lacking in enthusiasts. When we consider the importance of a healthy and strong body to any successful man in ordinary life, surely we can see the assistance gymnastics is going to give us in maintaining a perfect physical condition. A business man must of necessity, if he wishes to complete his daily routine, "burn the midnight oil" occasionally. To do this one must have a strong constitution to withstand the strain thus caused. It will be much easier for us to make ourselves physically fit while we are young, and have the numerous chances offered to us, than when we are advanced in life; therefore we should see that our bodies receive this necessary training while we are at school.

Gymnastics is an exercise which helps us to obtain control over our bodies. Many people are mistaken in that they think well-developed muscles to be a sign of physical strength which is going to keep them healthy in future years, but when they become aged they are unable to continue the hard training which has brought about this condition, and the muscles surrounding the heart, formerly well developed, now become stiff, and heart trouble comes as a result. On the other hand, a steady course of exercise keeps the body continually in a state of fitness.

Unfortunately several boys who had reached an efficient standard left us at the closing of the year 1918, and so, if it were decided to resume the Intercollegiate Gym. competition, an increased interest would give us a better chance of success. Even supposing the Intercollegiate contest were not resumed, surely this form of exercise is not to be placed in the background! There still remains the gold medal to be competed for at the close of the year. This medal is given to the champion gymnast of the school. There is also a silver medal awarded to the boy in each form who obtains the highest marks during the last two terms of the year.

At the end of 1917 it was decided to hold a district competition, which was won by a team of Souths; unfortunately we had to forego this competition in 1918, but there is no reason why it should not be held this year, if teams can be arranged.

Our instructor is doing his best to help us in every way, and to point out our weaknesses, so that we may rectify them. Three times a week the Gymnasium is open to boys who join the extra Gym. Class, and every Tuesday afternoon after school hours.

Cadet Notes.

As is usual at the beginning of the School year, the cadet company had to be re-organised this year, owing to the large number of new boys. The company had just settled down to do some solid work, when Captain Ward left the School, and Mr. Potts, then second in command, assumed charge. We should like to take this opportunity of thanking Captain Ward for the good work he did as commanding officer of the company. One new feature of our training is the great amount of "physical jerks" we have to perform, and there is no doubt about it that these exercises have improved the quality of the drill done, by imparting greater briskness to it. The senior quotas were to have had two days at the ranges, but, owing to the coal shortage, the train service was curtailed, and we could not go, but spent the time at musketry work. The shooting on the miniature range is progressing satisfactorily, under the supervision of Mr. Wallace, and some fine scores have been registered. It is hoped that this will be kept up, and so allow the school to win a higher position in the Schumacher International Competition this year. The Junior Cadets are stronger than ever this year, and when they come up to the seniors in July, the company will assume a record size.

Memorial to J. W. Blacket and G. C. Davies.

Two years ago an appeal was made to Old Boys for funds to erect a memorial to commemorate the work done at the school by the late Capt. J. W. Blacket and Lance-Corpl. G. C. Davies, and subscriptions were received for that purpose. About £210 has been received, of which £175 was invested in war loan, as it was not thought advisable to go on with the work until the close of the war, especially as the greatly increased price of building and building material rendered the amount in hand insufficient for the very handsome and appropriate building designed for us by Mr. P. R. Claridge, and on this account the completion of our design may be still further delayed. It is intended to go on with the work in the near future, if possible; and we shall be glad to receive all donations which have been promised, but not yet received.

Subscriptions will also be gladly received from Old Boys who wish to subscribe, and who have not yet had an opportunity of so doing; so that the required amount may be obtained, and the fund closed.

Subscriptions will be received and acknowledged by the Treasurer, Mr. F. I. Grey, at the College.

Distinctions Won.

Captain M. U. Hübbe was awarded the Military Cross among the recipients of new year honours. He enlisted as a private in the W.A. Infantry at the beginning of the war, and went right through the Gallipoli campaign. In France he received a commission, and joined the Pioneer Division, when he was promoted to a captaincy. He has been wounded several times, but only once seriously.

Colonel F. F. Muecke, of the Royal Army Medical Corps, has been made a Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Captain Chas. F. Drew, of the R.A.M.C., has been awarded the Military Cross. He accepted service with the British Government when they called for a hundred doctors from Australia in December, 1914. He has been on continuous service for the past four years, and has a fine record of work done with various English regiments.

Captain E. J. Colliver was awarded the Military Cross on New Year's Day. He left as a lieutenant of the 43rd Battalion, and has been wholly in France. He headed the list in a brigade school examination held shortly before the armistice was signed.

Major T. E. Cleland has been awarded the Military Cross. He completed his law examinations at the University of Adelaide in 1915, and was attached to the artillery branch of our Citizen Forces. As no Australian artillery was being sent away, he enlisted in London in the Royal Field Artillery, and, after a course of training in Ireland, crossed to France as a second lieutenant of 19th Division, 86th Brigade, in November, 1915. He remained then on active service at the front continuously until January, 1919, except for six months in 1917, spent in hospital, owing to shrapnel wounds. His brigade has a wonderful record of service during these years, and his share in it resulted in his being gazetted Major in April, 1918, and receiving the Military Cross in October, 1918.

Signaller R. W. P. Downing has been awarded the Military Medal, under the following circumstances. He was out at work on the telephone communications for about five hours; for some time in the dark, and most of the time had to work with gas helmet on. His mate was wounded. He helped him back, and then returned to his work and kept communication open with his battalion under a heavy bombardment of gas and high explosive shells.

Intercollegiate Sports.

The twenty second anniversary of the Intercollegiate Sports was held at the Adelaide Oval on the afternoon of Saturday, April 26th, 1919. Although the rain for which the thirsty country had been anxiously waiting, seemed at last to be approaching, the fates decided that it should not spoil the Sports meeting, which was held under ideal weather conditions. The grand stands and enclosures were well filled by the members of the schools and their supporters, and amongst the spectators were many Old Collegians who had lately returned from the front.

The teams were evenly matched, and the issue of the day was in doubt until the last event, the mile, was run, which made the position sure for Saints, who won, with 61 points against our 50 points.

The Old Scholars' Events formed a feature of the contest again this year, and we desire to congratulate Fowler on winning the 440 yards flat race, and the 120 yards hurdles, and Pellew (Saints) on winning the 100 yards flat race. In this race the only new record for the afternoon was established by Pellew, who beat the previous record time of  $10\frac{2}{5}$  seconds, by  $\frac{2}{5}$  second.

Although the medals were unfortunately not able to be presented to the winners of the various events, yet we desire to thank His Excellency Sir Henry Galway for kindly consenting to present the cup to the winning team, and the trophies to winners of the Old Scholars' events.

One of the most interesting events of the afternoon was the Senior High Jump, which resulted in a spirited contest between Trestrail (Princes) and Laycock (Saints). Laycock failed at 5 ft.  $4\frac{1}{2}$  in., thus giving Trestrail the laurels of victory. Although we lost the day, yet Barton and the team are to be congratulated on the great fight which they put up. Results:—

High Jump (Junior).—N. E. Ziegler (Saints), C. B. Hack (Princes), G. Taylor (Princes). Height, 4 ft. 9 in. The jumping was not quite as good as usual, owing partly to the nervousness of the competitors.

120 Yards Hurdles (Senior).—C. H. Howell (Saints), C. D. Gray (Princes), J. H. Davis (Saints). Time, 17 $\frac{1}{3}$  seconds. Howell ran a good race, and won easily, although the time was by no means fast.

100 Yards Flat (under 16).—J. G. Jenner (Saints), L. W. Leak (Princes), E. C. Toms (Saints). Time, 11 $\frac{1}{5}$  seconds. This was a fast race, Jenner failing to reach the record by  $\frac{1}{5}$  second.

100 Yards Flat (Senior).—L. J. Nesbit (Princes), D. J. Johnston (Saints), C. C. Smith (Saints). Time, 10 $\frac{3}{5}$  seconds. The race resulted in a close finish, and the spectators were unable to see who had gained places. Nesbit failed to reach the record by  $\frac{1}{5}$  second.

100 Yards Flat (Old Scholars).—L. V. Pellew (Saints), R. M. Fowler (Princes), G. H. Howard (Saints). Time, 10 $\frac{1}{5}$  seconds. Although Fowler was handicapped by a poor start, yet he ran a great race, but just failed to catch Pellew. A record was established by Pellew, who ran magnificently. This was one of the most interesting events of the day.

High Jump (Senior).—A. C. Trestrail (Princes), H. Laycock (Saints), J. W. Rymill (Saints). Height, 5 ft. 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  in. The struggle for first place between Trestrail and Laycock was especially interesting.

100 Yards Flat (Junior).—N. E. George (Princes), R. D. Elliott (Saints), C. Ralph (Saints). Time 11 $\frac{1}{5}$  secs.

220 Yards Flat.—D. J. Johnston (Saints), I. C. Barton (Princes), L. J. Nesbit (Princes). Time, 24 $\frac{2}{5}$  secs. Although Johnston had the advantage of Barton somewhat by his start, Barton ran a splendid race, but just failed to beat his opponent. Nesbit ran a good third.

440 Yards Flat (under 16).—M. A. Brook (Saints), L. W. Leak (Princes), H. L. Humphries and H. J. Wilson (Princes). Time, 59 $\frac{2}{5}$  secs.

300 Yards Steeplechase.—I. C. Barton (Princes), A. C. Wigan (Saints), J. W. Rymill (Saints). Time, 43 $\frac{3}{5}$  secs. Barton won somewhat easily.

440 Yards Flat (Old Scholars).—R. M. Fowler (Princes), A. E. Monteith (Saints), H. M. Fisher (Saints). Time 53 secs. Fowler ran a splendid race, in spite of having been blocked at the beginning.

440 Yards Flat (Senior).—D. L. Neill (Saints), C. T. Piper (Princes), L. J. Nesbit (Princes). Time, 57 $\frac{1}{5}$  secs. Neill ran a good race, and Piper was not far behind him.

120 Yards Hurdles (Junior).—R. Krantz (Princes), N. E. Ziegler (Saints), B. E. Lawrence (Princes). Time, 18 $\frac{3}{5}$  secs. It was a fairly fast race.

Broad Jump.—D. J. Johnston (Saints), A. C. Trestrail (Princes), C. D. Gray (Princes), Johnston jumped well, reaching 19 ft. 9 $\frac{7}{8}$  in.

120 Yards Hurdles (under 16).—E. C. Toms (Saints), R. S. Cooper (Princes), J. W. Bullock (Saints). Time, 18 $\frac{4}{5}$  secs.

120 Yards Hurdles (Old Scholars).—R. M. Fowler (Princes), L. V. Pellew (Saints), H. W. McGregor (Princes). Time, 15 $\frac{3}{5}$  secs. This race proved perhaps the most interesting of all the events. Fowler and Pellew had a great race up to practically the last hurdle, when Fowler managed to defeat his opponent. The race was also fast, being run in  $\frac{1}{5}$  sec. above record time.

One Mile Flat.—D. L. Neill (Saints), C. T. Piper (Princes), M. I. McLean (Saints). Time, 5 min. 20 $\frac{3}{4}$  secs. Neill won fairly easily, running splendidly. Piper put up a strenuous fight, and ran a good second.

Final scores—Saints, 61 points ; Princes, 50 points.

School Sports.

Ideal weather favoured us on May 3rd, when the School Sports were held on the College Oval, as usual. There was an excellent assemblage of visitors, who were provided with good competition in most of the events. Only one or two events, principally the scratch events, turned out poor fields.

This year we revived our pre-war custom of presenting prizes to the successful competitors, and Mrs. Glover kindly consented to distribute them.

Several events were run off on the Thursday afternoon. It was unfortunate that four senior events had to be run off in succession, as many competitors could not run in all they had entered for. Perhaps we may offer a suggestion here, that the Steeplechase and Mile, being the best races of all, should in future be left till Saturday, and the heats of some of the minor events be run on Thursday instead.

The competition for the Cup was very keen, and resulted in a tie between Barton and Trestrail, with 22 points each. Gray was third with nine, Nesbit fourth with seven, and McGregor and Piper five each.

CUP EVENTS.

100 Yards.—This event was marred by a bad start. Trestrail had far the best of it, and kept the lead to the end. Barton and Nesbit ran second and third.

220 Yards.—Another uneven start. Barton, however, forged ahead of Trestrail, and won by a narrow margin.

120 Yards Hurdles.—The three Intercollegiate men carried off this event, Gray beating Trestrail for first, with McGregor a good third.

High Jump.—Trestrail did what was expected of him, and won easily. McGregor was second and Barton third.

440 Yards.—A fairly slow race. The places fell to Barton, Nesbit, and Piper.

Long Jump.—Gray and Trestrail tied exactly, with Barton third. Trestrail was unfortunate in missing his third jump.

Half Mile.—This left Barton four points to win. He again proved his ability as a long distance runner, and won first place of Cup Competitors. Piper was second. Trestrail, however, came third, and obtained two points, which brought the scores to a level.

District Sports.

The District Sports took place on Monday and Tuesday, April 14th and 15th.

On Monday the scoring was fairly even between Souths and Easts, and the day closed with Souths in the lead with 23 points, and Easts following closely with 19.

On the second day the competition was keen, and no district held any advantage throughout the whole afternoon.

Interest was now entirely centred on the contest between Easts and Souths, Bards and Norths having dropped so far behind as to be altogether out of the running.

The two leading districts continued to divide the points fairly equally, though Easts caught the slight advantage gained by Souths on the previous day, until, at the beginning of the mile, Souths were leading by two points. The contest was well fought out from beginning to end of this race. The first round was fairly slow, but the pace quickened up in the second, and during this round Piper took the lead and kept it by a considerable distance until near the end of the fourth. About 200 yards from the end Barton began to put on speed, and caught Piper about 100 yards from the tape. They then sprinted side by side for some distance, until Barton suddenly drew ahead and won by a few inches. This ended the Sports, and left both districts with equal points.

Both Barton and Piper are to be congratulated on the excellent races they both ran in the mile, and they both deserve congratulation on another score, Piper on the way he won the 440 yards, and Barton on gaining first place in four events.

Final results were:—Easts, 36½ points; Souths, 36½ points; Boarders, 26½ points; Norths, 10½ points.

A Day.

Like a flower just bloomed with petals bright,
 Beautifully fresh and gay,
 Eastern skies at early dawn are tinged;
 'Tis another breaking day.

Over purple hills and misty dales,
 Slowly rides the golden sun;
 Then man's daily works of toil commence,
 Doomed to last till day is done.

Fleecy clouds, like bales of gold-tipped wool,
 Scudding o'er the mid-day sky,
 For a moment dim the flooding light
 Of the fiery sun on high.

When the evening's gorgeous tints appear,
 Scattered o'er the dome-shaped sky,
 And the darkening shadows gently fall,
 Then man knows a day's gone by.

—C. C. CRUMP.

Boarders' Notes.

This year opened upon us with the scare of influenza at its highest: consequently so many boys came back late, that the house was exceptionally slow in settling down, and boot parades were made more prevalent. We have surpassed all previous records with a house of over ninety. We trust all of them will have a happy and successful year.

The Saturday nights this term have been somewhat dreary, and we trust that next term, "Chas." with his "Dancing Spirit," will set things moving. We wish to thank Mrs. Bayly, Miss Dreyer, Nurse, and the Misses Bayly, for making our Saturday evenings more pleasant. We were sorry to see some getting employment instead of enjoyment. Mr. Greenless brought along his lantern slides and explained them to us; we spent a very pleasant time, and should like to thank him for his kindness.

Pomroy and Anderson were made School prefects, Love, Elford, Harbison, and Pflaum were made House prefects, and we congratulate them.

As customary, the Intercollegiate Boarders' Cricket Match was held early this term. The first Boarders played on Saints' oval and had a really good game, winning by about 20 runs. The second Boarders played on our own grounds, and won easily. In this match some hitherto unthought-of cricketers were discovered.

We hope that some dark horses will turn up again to carry off the District Football for us.

We were pleased to find ourselves represented by Gray, Glover, R. Krantz, Waldeck, Taylor, A. McTaggart, Davidson, and Wilson in the Intercollegiate Sports. To Gray and Krantz we extend our hearty congratulations upon their fine hurdling in the Sports.

The boxing class was started straightway after Easter, under Mr. Charlton. We are grateful to Bertie for his enthusiastic work in getting the class together, as it was due to his zealous endeavours that it did not become a thing of the past.

The Saturday afternoons of the latter part of this term have been made somewhat slow for many fellows. It is still doubtful as to whether the cause is really known. We hope that these chaps will now endeavour to put Football first, and throw up grumbling.

Bertie provided us with the right sort of amusement on the evening of his birthday. We trust he has set a worthy example.

Our witty friend "Offa" has shown considerable wisdom this term. His remarks have been of a very sane nature, which, when combined with that jocular touch of his, have made at times even Schurmann laugh. His behaviour, after being released from "lock up" on a certain Sunday afternoon did not seem to become our sporting friend.

We regretted to learn that the brave spirits who make the "Great Trek" did not carry out their their "well planned" object with more celerity and less noise. The saddest part indeed was that the organiser could not evade the clutches of the law.

To Mr. F. Potts and Mr. Luke we extend a hearty welcome, and hope they will have a happy time amongst us.

Could anyone enlighten us upon the following?

Who is all forlorn(a)?

Who considered himself a dark horse for the 220?

Who raised the indignation of the Senior Dorm?

What teacher of harmony trained Shan's voice?

Who is the budd(ing) cricketer?

To those who are leaving, we extend our very hearty good wishes for a successful career in life; those who are coming back, we hope will spend an enjoyable winter term.

Soldiers' Letters.

Capt. H. McFarlane writes from Tripoli:—

You no doubt have had all the details of our wonderful dash with Cavalry, right through to Aleppo, in a little under one month, so I will not worry you with a poor description of that, since it is like a dream now, though it was grim reality at the time. Our horses deserve most of the credit, and they are the wonder of the whole cavalry world. For instance, in the first day, from 4 a.m. to 12 midnight (or, as we call it in army, 0400 to 2400), they covered 64 miles, had  $2\frac{1}{2}$  hours rest, and were then galloped 9 miles to Jenin, to cut off the retreat of 7000 Turks on the Nablus road. When you consider these horses are carrying 20 stone and over, and their feed per diem is  $9\frac{1}{2}$  lbs. of crushed barley you can guess we are proud of them. In 10 days they had covered over 300 miles. Naturally, a number fell out, but not many, and a lot are killed or wounded, but they keep going night and day, and seem to sense the excitement in the same way as the men. After the capture of Aleppo, we were moved back to this place, to occupy, and restore order in this part of Palestine. Our camp is situated at the foot of the famous Lebanon Mountains (10013 feet high), and overlooks the busy harbour of Tripoli and St. Ninias. There is snow within a mile of our camp, and it rains heavily every day. Our camp is just a sea of mud and slush, very different to the heat and dust of the Jordan Valley, and naturally we feel it dreadfully after our 3 years of desert and Jordan heat.

Have been to Cedars of Lebanon, a climb up a winding, twisting road, to 4000 feet above sea level, and then a crawl on foot of 2000 feet to the plateau, covered with snow, where the cedars grow.

Our Australian Flying Corps played a big part in our success, as they simply sat over the principal aerodromes of the Huns, and never let them get off the ground; bombing and machine gunning planes bombed them out of existence. Flying scouts protected us from Hun planes day and night, and only once were we bombed; an A.F.C. pilot crashed the Hun bomber ten minutes after. A Handley-Page bomber took part in this offensive. It was flown from London to Egypt. You really cannot imagine its size unless you actually see it. In warfare, it carries 2 pilots, 3 machine gunners, 1 ton of bombs, has two propellers and engines, and is built like a biplane with a box-kite tail. When not on service, it can carry ten passengers with all their baggage. This plane has started to fly to Australia from Cairo, and has already reached Karachi in India, covering 2548 miles in 36 hours actual flying time. Its pilot is Capt. Ross Smith, M.C., D.F.C., one bar to M.C., two bars to D.F.C. He is a South Australian, and lived at St. Peters. He is accompanied by Major-Gen. Salmond, D.S.O., chief of air services in Egypt and Mesopotamia.

During the stunt our two most pressing needs were horse-shoe nails and medical stores and drugs. The country was so rough that the shoes were torn off the horses' hoofs, and we soon used up the small amount of reserve nails. Also the immense amount of sickness and casualties ran the ambulance short of stores. G.H.Q. were asked by wireless, 400 miles away, to dispatch these necessities 'urgent.' We thought they would reach us by road in motors, probably in 3 or 4 days' time. Imagine our surprise next morning, to find six planes flying above and signalling 'Nails'. At first we did not understand, but we soon did when we were fairly pelted with 7 lb. bags of horse-shoe nails, bandages, and drugs. Thus does the Air-Service co-operate, and help us land fighters.

Our horses are a problem to solve. This type of horse cannot be sold here, and they cannot go back to Australia. G.H.Q. have ordered all rides over 12 years old, and all draughts over 15, which will not be fit in two months, to be shot. Naturally, we should like to bring these horses, which have served us and carried us so faithfully, back to Australia, but it cannot be. One of mine, a coal black mare named 'Dimples' has been from the Canal to Honis, never had a day off, and never missed a stunt.

Dear Mr. Bayly,

While in the Reserve Brigade of Australian Artillery, at Heytesbury Camp, Wilts, quite a number of Old Reds have met together, and as memories of the old School and the many pleasant associations connected with it, are ever fresh in our minds, we are taking this opportunity of writing a short letter to the old School.

First and foremost, we would like to offer our hearty congratulations on the wonderful record the School has achieved in the sporting world this year, at the same time complimenting "Dick" Fowler on his excellent performance at the Intercollegiate Sports Meeting, and also "Gar" Hone, who was apparently the mainstay of the team in the recent Football Match. We hope to hear, early in the New Year, of similar victories in Tennis and Cricket.

Although we have not seen any of the Examination results, we are sure the boys have been quite as successful at the desk as on the playing field.

The latest mails have brought us the programme of the Annual Concert, which, we are all pleased to see, was a great success.

Those that are left of us over here, are still going strong, and we are one and all trying to keep the colours of the old School flying.

We propose holding a reunion evening shortly, in conjunction with several old Saint Peter's Boys who are here.

Before closing, we should like to say that if any of the present boys would like to write to us, we will be only too glad of the opportunity of keeping in close touch with our "Alma Mater"

We wish all Masters and Boys a Merry Christmas, and a Bright and Prosperous New Year.

We remain, sincerely yours,

H. R. Muirden writes:—

I have been asked to write to the Old School and give an account of the intercollegiate reunion, which took the form of a dinner in the historical City of Mons, on the evening of January, 1919. Certainly there were not a great number of fellows present at the gathering—23 altogether, representing both Colleges, at present serving in the ranks of the Third Divisional Artillery. The postcard which I am forwarding with this letter contains the autographs of all those who were present, the Old Reds being marked.

It was thought that this message would strike more deeply if one were to write it who was, as it were, one of the last links in that ever-increasing chain of men all firmly drawn together by the ties of brotherhood to that institution they knew so well in their boyhood days, and which they grew to love and cherish. So I, being the last of those present to attend the Old School was given the honour of writing this letter.

Most of the units of the Third Divisional Artillery are billeted in the town of Haumont, situated near the city of Maubeuge, about twenty-five kilometres from Mons. It so happened that on the morning of January 2nd we were to be inspected by the Prince of Wales, and it was this event that was responsible for my attendance at the reunion, for it was here that I and several others heard about it. Chaplain-Maior C. J. Perry hurriedly arranged the dinner, and I have no doubt that had he more time at his disposal other Old Collegians, whom we knew to be in the brigades, would have been present. However, twenty-three of us eventually boarded the lorry that was to convey us to the scene of our festivity, at the large square in front of the Cathedral in Haumont, and shortly afterwards we were moving along at a fair pace to our destination. The journey was uneventful; conversation naturally turned to topics concerning the Old School or else to home, for which we are all longing.

It was dusky when the motor pulled up in Mons, and getting out we found ourselves in a well-lighted city, practically showing no signs of the ravages of war. Oh, how much different from the country we were in a few weeks ago, where all was desolation and ruin! Even Maubeuge, only 21 kilometres away from Mons, is like a dead city, though shellfire never shattered its walls. But Mons surprised us. This historic Belgian town seemed very bright; bright shop windows, loaded for the most part with souvenirs to catch the eyes of the Allied soldiery passing through, but beside that there seemed to be plenty of food in the city, and that augured well for the success of our banquet. The chief inscription was "Mons: defended by the English on the 26th August, 1914, and entered by the Canadians on the 11th November, 1918." No wonder all was bright on the beginning of this happy new year, which marks a new era in the lives of the inhabitants after their slavery of more than four years.

Well, at precisely a quarter to six, we entered our banqueting room, and found before us a lavishly spread table, around which we were soon all seated. Conversation dropped somewhat as the meal proceeded, but increased between courses. There were eight courses altogether, and I guess we were all well satisfied. Lieutenant W. D. Richardson, sitting opposite me, was heard to murmur as the meal neared the end, "I hope this is the last," Surely this is the cry of a contented and well satisfied man. Anyhow, if he wasn't satisfied he was "fed up." At the conclusion of the dinner, we charged our glasses, and drank the health of the King. Immediately after that, the piano was playing a merry tune under the skilled hands of Lieutenant R. G. Matheson, an old Blue, and the room was soon ringing to the words of some popular songs. Captain R. F. Matters now rose to propose the toast "The Old School." Although he is an Old Red, he spoke for both Colleges, whose sentiments are so alike. He reminded us of the happy days we spent at the old School; how we look back to those days now. He went on to say that we have just completed stern work, but now we can look forward with glad hearts to the return to the home land, and of the greater reunion to come. Before closing, he wished the old School every success in all its activities, and felt certain that all its old traditions would be maintained. Immediately after the toast had been honoured, the room resounded to the words of the old school songs, and a little friendly rivalry was exhibited. The Belgian waiters listened with surprise to the words of "Reds can't be beat", and "Razzle Dazzle", but they served to kindle the old flame in our hearts, and one could almost picture the eager crowd of schoolboys in the pavilion, cheering their champions on the field.

Chaplain Major C. J. Perry then reminded us of those who were absent; those who had paid the price and fallen in battle. Their noble sacrifice in a just and righteous cause will ever be remembered by us, as a heroic example of self sacrifice, which the School will not forget. The toast of "Fallen Comrades" was solemnly honoured.

The rest of the evening was given up to reminiscences. One forgot the military affairs of everyday life, and thought only of old times. In fact, I was quite gloomy the next day, and felt rather homesick, so vividly does such an evening remind one of old associations.

At about ten o'clock we boarded our lorry, and were soon rumbling along the homeward track. The whirring of the motor, and the rumbling of the wheels on the road formed a good accompaniment to some more singing. I arrived home shortly after midnight, conscious of having spent a very enjoyable and beneficial evening.

Some weeks ago I met Gordon Prest, the two Shepleys, Cyril Lewis, and Bill Holden, all of whom are now in Artillery units in France.

The following Old Reds were present :—C. J. Perry, C. M. Hurn, R. G. Carter, H. R. Carter, N. D. Richardson, J. K. L. May, H. R. Muirden, G. H. Downing, R. F. Matters.

Annual Dinner.

At a meeting of the Association held just as the Chronicle was being printed, it was decided that the custom of holding an Annual Dinner, which was in vogue prior to the war, should be revived this year. Complete arrangements have not yet been made, but the function will probably be held at the Adelaide Town Hall on the Thursday prior to the College Football Match.

Education Fund.

The Treasurer has received the following donations towards the above Fund, and the Committee of Management has already taken in hand and placed at the College two sons of Fallen Old Reds whilst others will follow at later dates.
