Editorial.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the first term was the vigorous revival of rowing as a school sport. It has such a long and glorious tradition in public schools and universities that the addition of an eight to the four teams which annually struggle for honour and Prince Alfred College will crown our athletic achievements and mark the attainment of a cherished hope. Yet we must remember that rowing is only one phase of our activities, and that in their wide range every boy should find some sport to his taste; indeed, without the whole-hearted support of every member of the School, our sporting prowess must inevitably be submerged in the slough of mediocrity.

But, besides athletics, the School opens other channels into which the large enthusiasms of school life may flow. No public school boy should ever suffer from a lack of interests in his life; in every school there are such various demands upon him that his life should be very full. If everything else fails him, he may even become engrossed in learning. More in sorrow than in anger we mention these misguided souls whose "chief good and market of their time" is in the constant cultivation of their brains. If we were moved by a spirit of bitterness we might say that brains needing such assiduous attentions hardly warrant the trouble. It will be forgiven us, we hope, if we point out the oft-repeated truth that they are only grasping half the opportunities thrown in their way by a beneficent School. We do not wish to usurp the offices of a Dutch uncle, but we must stress the manifold advantages of being many-sided; the really great men of the world are usually those who have the widest interests.

Unfortunately the bookworm is not the lowest form of life in schools. There is a type of schoolboy who is attracted by the flesh-pots of Egypt, and whose haven of peace and security is the tuck shop. The world seems to be for them a glorious place in which they may obtain enormous quantities of food; it is their temple of gluttony, and there

" . . . they doon the devel sacrifice
Within that devele's temple, in cursed wyse,
By superfluitee abominable."

There is no place in a school for such as these ; they are so much dead weight which has to be borne on the shoulders of their more spirited brethren.

The purpose of this rigmarole is to point out the error of their ways to these hitherto useless members of the School, and to draw attention to the many School activities which are apt to be taken too much for granted. For instance, the "Chronicle" is expected to make a miraculous appearance once a term ; yet few think of the aid they can give in its production by sending in contributions to its pages. Undoubtedly the "Chronicle" is the criterion of our capabilities, so that every member of the School should be eager to maintain its reputation. Not only should they buy it, but they should take a lively interest in it, and at least try to adorn its pages with their work. Similarly, all other institutions and societies in the School need enthusiastic support ; and their rewards for services are many and great.

And D. S. Riceman and H. K. Kemp on being awarded Entrance Scholarships at Roseworthy Agricultural College.

M. E. Lawton has gone to America as a member of the party touring under the auspices of the Young Australia League. From reports received they are having a most enjoyable tour.

The School extends a hearty welcome to Mr. C. R. Davies, B.A., on his return to the staff.

After an interval of thirty-five years, rowing has again been taken up at the School. Our boys have received a warm welcome on the Torrens, where their appearance has been greeted with most encouraging support. We are especially indebted to the University Sports Association for allowing us to use the shed and boats, and to the captain of the boats and members who have helped us so kindly with their hearty welcome and advice.

The Head Master received a letter from Mr. J. R. Darling, the leader of the party of touring English Public School boys who visited Adelaide recently, expressing their warmest thanks for the hospitality we were so glad to extend to some of their number. He feels that nothing but good can come out of such contacts between boys from different parts of the Empire. We are glad to share this feeling.

Mr. P. E. Johnstone has again shown his deep interest in the School by presenting to the library the International Dictionary of Famous Literature in 20 vols. Mr. H. W. Marshall has presented a Concordance to Shakespeare. The Prefects of 1928 presented 11 volumes on English Literature as a parting gift. To them all we tender warmest thanks.

We welcome Mr. W. L. Haggitt, L.T.C.L., L.A.B., as successor to Miss Wilson, as teacher of Music in the School.

It was noticed by several at the end of last year that Miss Wilson did not seem as alert and vigorous as she was wont to be, but none realised to what extent her health was failing. During the Christmas vacation she rapidly became so much worse that she was compelled to abandon all hope of being able to resume her teaching, and we are sorry to know that her health has not in any way improved since. We miss her greatly. For many years she has given of her best to the music teaching at the School, and many a boy has reason to be grateful for the influence of her refined taste, careful training in technique, and patient sympathy with his difficulties. Her cheery disposition, regular and punctual industry, and her evident and understanding interest in them and their work, have won the respect of a host of pupils; while her enthusiasm in all matters affecting the School, and her loyalty to it, won the regard of all. Our thoughts go out to her in deepest sympathy in her affliction.

The collection in the School in aid of tubercular soldiers and their dependents realised £12.

The School will be well represented at the International Jamboree to be held in London to celebrate the coming of age of the Boy Scout movement. V. H. Dawe, Val. Anderson, F. N. Howland, R. S. Howland, and C. G. Bennett, have been chosen among those sent to represent South Australia.

Mr. A. L. Langsford has kindly presented to the School, as a memento, the first Cotton Medal, which was awarded to his father, the late Mr. Arthur Langsford, in 1871.

Old Boys.

R. M. Scott, B.E., has been appointed City Engineer of Melbourne. We heartily congratulate him on the fine tribute this appointment implies to his work as a man and his skill as an engineer.

C. A. M. Smith was dux of the first year students at Roseworthy last year.

Dr. C. M. Deland has devoted himself to tropical medicine, and has returned to Rabaul to resume his work on one of the stations in the territory of New Guinea.

Dr. A. F. Hobbs has been awarded the degree of F.R.C.S., London,

C. M. D. Bower won the State Championship at bowls recently.

Alex. Burnard, Mus. Bac., left recently for England, where he proposes to continue his studies under eminent musicians in London.

F. F. Heddle has been awarded the A. E. Hamilton Scholarship at St. Andrew's College.

E. H. Bakewell, who has for many years been president of the South Australian Employers' Federation, resigned that position, as he has been elected president of the Central Council of Employers of Australia.

Cyril R. Cole, B.Sc., has been appointed forestry officer at Canberra. Since taking his degree in forestry at the University of Adelaide in 1914, after four years on service at the war, he has been in the service of the Woods and Forests Department of South Australia.

A. P. Shakes has retired from the department of the Controller of Accounts of South Australia after 43 years' service.

C. E. Goldsmith, manager of the Savings Bank of South Australia, has gone on a twelve months' holiday to Europe. He has been 47 years in the service of the bank. Walter Angell has been appointed acting manager during his absence.

Dr. Whitridge Davies, psychologist at Leeds Medical School, has won the Partein prize of £100 offered by the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh for the most distinguished research into the use of carbon dioxide in the treatment of diseases.

A. O. Mitchell, who was a boarder from West Australia in 1899 and 1900, visited the School recently. He had not seen the School since he left in 1900, and was deeply interested in the scenes of his boyhood days, and also in the great changes that have taken place since. He very kindly left £5 as a gift towards the Memorial Library.

F. W. Holden, B.Sc., has been elected President of the Chamber of Commerce as successor to the Lord Mayor, J. Lavington Bonython.

Ivor Hele has gone to Paris to study at one of the great art centres of the world. We wish him much success in the fine enterprising spirit he is showing in efforts to develop his undoubted talent.

Boarders' Notes.

This year brings back a larger number than usual of those who have already attained to Intercollegiate honours. In former years it has been noticeable that boys leave as soon as they win their colours, thinking that the School can do nothing more for them. We realise that they are mistaken! Moreover, a boy who has been honoured by the School with his colours should, in the following year, return the compliment by honouring the School with his presence.

We congratulate the following on their various positions of honour in the School:—G. L. Bennett, R. S. Dawe, M. G. Kirk, T. H. Torr, and R. S. Wilkinson as Boarding-house and School Prefects; C. R. Kelly as a Boarding-house Prefect; L. A. Stevens as Librarian, with L. S. Edelman as his assistant ; R. S. Forsyth and R. S. Wilkinson as members of the tennis team ; N. K. Anderson, R. G. Crouch, L. S. Edelman, R. M. Russell, T. H. Torr, and R. S. Wilkinson as members of the athletics team.

We heartily welcome the Rev. W. A. Dunn to Kent Town Church. Our singing so impressed him that he has asked us to choose our own hymns. Hymn 384 is a good tune, but as it has been set to one of the latest jazz pieces, we will omit that one.

Preparations are already being made for the annual concert under the direction of Mr. Maynard. As the result of experience, the sketches should be very good this year ; for several weeks, during our physical exercises, we witnessed a scene as rendered by the "vulgar boatmen." Of these tragedians we congratulate Koch, Martin, Tresize, Matthews, Bert, Freeman, and Warnecke on being chosen to represent the School in the regatta.

While the Head was coaching these oarsmen, he was reminded of his injured ribs by tripping in a hole on the riverside ; but, other than necessitating Wilkinson to lead the jerks for a few mornings, he was but little inconvenienced by it.

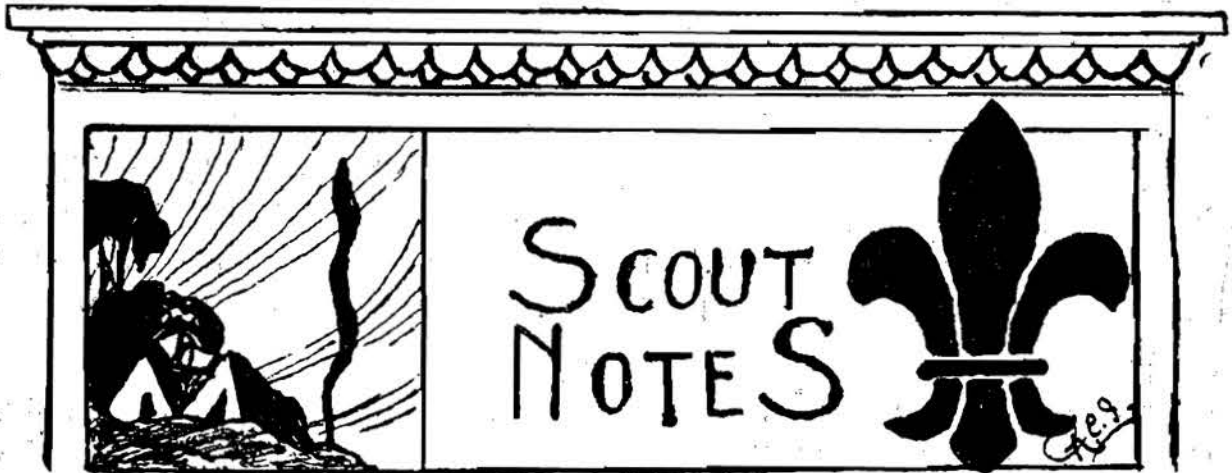

Those of us who entertained the English schoolboys as they were passing through Adelaide, wish to thank Nurse for the excellent repast that she set before us. Of course it was laid for the visitors, but we also partook of it right royally.

We were all pleased to see Len. Anderson with us again at the beginning of the year, but he did not appear to notice it, for after a few weeks he left us to take his place in the outside world. Realising his full value, we were very sorry to see him leave us.

On one Tuesday night during the term we had the privilege of seeing some short plays in the Norwood Town Hall. They were given by an amateur company in aid of the School boating fund. We hope that many such opportunities may come our way during the second term.

We have been mystified in several matters, and would be obliged if anyone could supply us with the following information :

1. Do empty vessels really make the most sound ? If so, why is a certain member of the community in V.I.A. ?
2. Are cracking ankles the first or the last sign of a similar head ?
3. Is Casabi's anchor really as large as he makes out ?
4. When human beings are distinctly told to "keep off the grass," are animals allowed on it ?
5. Has Nurse any quinine ?

We opened the year with a troop of fifty strong, under the leadership of Scoutmasters Tomlinson and Lovell, with Dawe as troop leader.

Interest was very keen, and the ranks were quickly brought to full strength by new boys as well as boys who have come up from the Preparatory School.

We entered a strong team in the swimming competitions for the Gosse Trophy, which was held in the City Baths on Monday evening, March 11, in the presence of His Excellency the Governor, our Chief Scout. Although we did not come near to winning the trophy, our Scouts acquitted themselves well, especially Richardson and Helpman, to whom we extend our heartiest congratulations. All enjoyed a good evening's sport.

We are now looking forward with great hopes to the athletic competitions for the Weigall Cup. Our interest is all the keener this year, since having won it for the two previous years the trophy will become the property of the troop should we be again successful.

On March 23 the troop had its "Big Good Turn" day in honour of Sir Robert Baden-Powell's birthday. We took sixteen boys of the Methodist Home at Magill to Mylor, where an enjoyable day was spent.

At the present time our thoughts are on Kangaroo Island, where we are planning a camp at Penneshaw, Hog Bay, during the first week of the May holidays.

Two old members of the troop, V. Anderson and G. Bennett, are going to England with the Australian contingent of Scouts who are attending the Coming-of-Age Jamboree in August of this year, to be held at Arrowe Park, Birkenhead, England, and we wish them a happy time abroad. Also to Ivor Hele, another old member of the troop, who is studying art in Paris, we accord our heartiest wishes for a brilliant future.

Our new patrol leaders are Andrew, Atkinson, Matthews, and Richardson, and we congratulate them heartily upon their appointment. We also wish to congratulate Oldham, Richardson, Stephens, and Helpman on their inclusion in the Intercollegiate sports team.

We were very sorry to lose Assistant Scoutmasters Herbert and Lade at the end of last year. After being so long in the troop and working so whole-heartedly for it, their loss made a big gap in the ranks which has been hard to fill. However, they still take a keen interest in the troop and we, on our side, extend our warmest wishes to them for success in their new work.

The Debating Society.

This society commences operations early in the second term. As the committee of last year is almost intact, the only change in the executive is that Mr. Potts has assumed the presidency. The committee is—J. K. Brandwood, R. S. Dawe, T. S. Dorsch, L. C. Holland, R. S. Wilkinson.

New boys are particularly urged to attend meetings, and opportunities of showing their powers will be afforded to as many as possible. As in the previous two years, there will probably be two societies--the Senior and Junior. Arrangements for the latter will be made as soon after the holidays as is practicable.

Our Contemporaries.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of the following, and will be glad to receive notification of any omissions either to acknowledge receipt or to forward our own magazine:—The Cliftonian (2), The College Times, Wattle Blossom, The Pegasus, Pulteney Grammar School Magazine, School Echoes, The Coo-ee, The Hutchin's School Magazine, King's College Magazine, The Student, The Scotch Collegian, Wykeham School Magazine, The Wilderness School Magazine, The Limit, The Scotch College Reporter, The King's School Magazine, The Scotch College Magazine, The Echo, The Adelaide High School Magazine, The Wyvern, The Melbourneian, The Swan, The Nelsonian, St. Peter's College Magazine, The Carey Chronicle, The Launcestonian, The Sydneian, The Corian, Wesley College Chronicle, The Mitre, The Newingtonian, The Waitakian, The Melbourne Technical School Magazine.

The Head Master opened the year's session with an inspiring address, in which he expressed his goodwill towards the Union, and said that it would always have his most generous support.

A large crowd gathered to hear Rev. J. H. Allen, whose missionary experiences in India formed the substance of an interesting address. In the little time available he told us something of the religion of the Hindus, and pointed out the similarities between Hinduism and Christianity. The fundamental difference between the two religions is that Christianity holds that Christ was the Saviour of mankind.

The speaker at our next meeting was Rev. C. J. Perry. From all that is going on around us—from the facts of life—we must draw our conclusions. Many of the recent inventions tend to bring the countries of the world nearer together. For news to travel from England to Australia was once a matter of months, whereas now it is merely a matter of seconds. This bringing together of worldly affairs corresponds with the affiliation of mankind into closer fellowship, and so Mr. Perry emphasized the necessity of a universal brotherhood.

The following week we were pleased to have Rev. J. H. Allen with us again. He gave us an interesting description of the work that is being carried on by the English Wesleyan mission among the lepers at Dichpalli, where a well-organised asylum has been erected. There, under modern treatment, the inmates have hope of ultimate recovery from the loathsome disease.

Rev. T. P. Willason took for his subject "Practical Christianity," and used as an illustration the parable of the Good Samaritan. Christianity, he said, is not a system of beliefs, not a series of codes and regulations which tie us down to mere theoretical religion and to false professions of our faith, but it exhorts us to "do unto others as we would have them do to us," and to help our neighbour by word and deed whenever opportunity offers. We thank Mr. Willason for presenting so worthy an ideal of Christian living.

Principal F. Lade gave us an address on the "Unwritten Laws of Christ." People do things which, although not forbidden by the laws of the land, are so repulsive to our better natures, that, to witness them even, "the very stones would cry out;" and Mr. Lade instanced two occasions on which the behaviour of the persons concerned was boorish in the extreme. He went on to say that the man who could stand in the presence of Christ with sealed lips and a cold heart is not a Christian, and unworthy of Christ's love.

Taking as his text the passage from the Book of Proverbs which depicts the "sluggard," Dr. Wright pointed out how many people there are to-day who always have a ready excuse on hand for evading whatever tasks confront them. Later, he showed that those who do attempt great things will be confronted with difficulties, and will meet "lions in the way," but will, in the end, have accomplished something worth while.

Rev. C. Watts Grimmett spoke to us of the respect the young should have for the old. There is, he said, no clear line of distinction to be drawn between young and old people. The young have been described as rash and impetuous; and the old, impatient and unsympathetic. But this difference may, perhaps, be attributed to the difference in outlook upon life. It is to the past that we owe many of the privileges and better opportunities which are ours to-day, and although our elders may be wrong in what they advise us, we must keep in mind that they have been through the school of experience, that their advice is sincere, and that they have our good at heart.

Rev. P. C. Eckersley began an interesting address by pointing out the courage and determination that has been displayed by pioneers of the past. The first sky pilot was Abraham, who brushed the cobwebs of superstition out of the sky, and pointed to the loving spirit beyond. He was followed by Jeremiah, who stressed the necessity of personal faith, and who brought his fellow-men before God. The third and last sky pilot was the unknown writer of the latter half of Isaiah. He saw how difficult it was "for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven," and realised that the true Christian was the man who could patiently and silently bear the burdens of life and yet unselfishly serve his followers.

We are looking forward to the Bible Study Circles for next term. The book chosen for this year's study is Mr. Haslam's "Hero of Men," and the committee hope for the interest and enthusiasm of past years in this branch of the C.U. activities.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS.

Saturday, March 16, the date chosen this year for the Intercollegiate Tennis, was a dull, cloudy day, with a cold breeze blowing across the courts. There was a large attendance, and from the good form shown at practice by both teams, a close and exciting contest was anticipated. The results were remarkably even throughout, and it was not until the last set was finished that the contest was decided. At the luncheon adjournment, after the first round of doubles and singles had been played, the scores were three rubbers each. They were still level—six rubbers each—when the next round had been completed. This left the decision with the last three doubles, and of these Princes and Saints each won one in straight sets, while the score on the third count was one set all. The issue of the deciding set did not remain long in doubt; Wilkinson and Allen won comfortably, thereby gaining the odd rubber, which gave Princes the match. Of the twenty-six tennis matches played to date, Saints have now won sixteen and Princes ten.

The Saints' captain, McMichael, is to be congratulated on his splendid play throughout the day. Mainly owing to his sustained forcefulness and accuracy, he won every rubber in which he took part. He was well supported by Forrest, and Hann and Longmire also played well.

Wilkinson, our captain, showed flashes of his usual brilliance, but was unfortunately not able to reproduce his best form against McMichael. He and Allen combined well in the doubles, and were, in a great measure, responsible for our success. Allen played a good, steady game all day, and was successful in his single. The second double, Brandwood and Holland, lacked consistency, but the former showed up better alone, when in a solid single he defeated Wallach. Holland began well against Hann, but was unable to sustain his form. Forsyth and Brown made an excellent third double, winning two of the three doubles they played, and succumbing only to Saints' first pair. Forsyth's good judgment and placing also enabled him to win his single,

CRITIQUE OF THE TEAM.

(By the Captain).

Allen, J. L.—A fine player, whose lack of height is counter-balanced by his speed across the court. In the doubles he is inclined to overplay his shots; but in the singles, where he has no partner to offend, he plays a very fine game. His court position is good. His change of backhand, like that of one or two other members of the team, came at an unfortunate time. His smashing is phenomenal.

Brandwood, J. K.—A much improved player. His backhand, like the other backhands of the the team, is weak. Has a strong serve, but does not follow it up to the net well. His forehand drive is strong and accurate, but his volleying is often taken too near the body. He has a good court position.

Forsyth, R. S.—A dashing, resourceful player, but not orthodox. He takes much of the power from his serves by serving behind his head. He should not volley as he drives. He has a good topspin drive, and keeps a good length in both singles and doubles. His backhand grip does not permit him to deal comfortably with a low ball. In spite of his being unorthodox, he plays a brilliant game in both singles and doubles.

Holland, L. C.—Serves and drives well, but is slow across the court. He should be on his toes the whole of the time; he spoils many shots by neglecting his footwork. His volleying is good but not too strong. He has an excellent driving length for a double, which is difficult for his opponents to volley.

Brown, K. S.—Serves and drives strongly, but his drive is not always accurate. Is more prone to 'off' and 'on' days than any other member of the team. When on form he plays a fine single, but in the doubles his court position lands him in many difficulties. In his ground shots, instead of getting nearer the ball by means of his feet, he is content merely to stretch for the ball. He smashes well.

[By J. L. Allen]

Wilkinson, R. S. (Captain).—Was very unfortunate at the beginning of the season in having a strained wrist. With constant practice, however, he improved his new style quickly, and cultivated a fine service. He is very quick at net, and his volleying leaves nothing to be desired. As captain he has been a great asset to the team, and a very successful season is due not a little to his able captaincy.

MATCH WITH SCOTCH COLLEGE.

Early in the term, an all-day match was played against Scotch College on their courts. The teams had had little practice, and both were weakened by the absence of cricket playing members. Our team had a comfortable win, gaining twelve of the fifteen rubbers played. They lost only two singles and one double. Detailed scores of the games have unfortunately not been kept. Final scores:—Prince Alfred 12 rubbers; Scotch 3 rubbers.

The School was represented in this match by—Wilkinson (Capt.), Allen J. L., Forsyth, Brown, Allen W. D., Chapple.

MATCH WITH METHODIST CONFERENCE.

On Monday, March 4th, a team representing the Methodist Conference paid us a visit with the object of showing us some of the finer points of the game. Whether they accomplished their purpose or not, certain it is they left our team a little dazed with the destruction wrought in our ranks. Uttering youthful shouts, the worthy and reverend gentlemen pranced their way to victory in almost every set. Our team, it is true, was weakened by the absence of Wilkinson and Holland; but it is doubtful whether their presence would have stopped the triumphant progress of our opponents. At the end of the match, the latter went their way rejoicing, singing, no doubt, hymns of triumph and thanksgiving. Scores:—

J. K. Brandwood,

Rev. S. Forsyth and Rev. A. Jones v. J. L. Allen and Brandwood, 5—9.

MATCH WITH OLD BOYS.

On the day following the match with the Conference, a team of Old Boys came out to give the School team a practice game for the Intercoll. The School team for this match was the same as that which represented us against Saints. Lack of time necessitated a considerable shortening of rubbers, and no singles could be played. Although few rubbers were played out, the Old Boys proved themselves superior in almost every case. Scores:—

K. Berriman and F. Piper v. Wilkinson and Allen, 6—5, 4—6.

E. T. Copping and R. Sawers v. Brandwood and Holland, 6—2, 6—4.

K. Berriman and F. Piper v. Brandwood and Holland, 6—3, 6—3.

E. T. Copping and R. Sawers v. Forsyth and Brown, 6—2, 6—0.

RETURN MATCH WITH SCOTCH COLLEGE.

About a fortnight after the Intercollegiate Tennis, a return match with Scotch College was played on our courts. Both Schools put out their strongest teams, and a close and exciting match resulted. Unfortunately, however, it could not be completed, owing to lack of time. When bad light stopped the game, the scores showed slightly in favour of Scotch; but with four or five rubbers left to play we had high hopes of drawing up to, and passing, our opponents. We were represented in this match by our Intercollegiate team, except for Forsyth, who had sprained his ankle, and who was replaced by W. D. Allen. Detailed scores have again not been kept.

P.A.C. II. v. KING'S COLLEGE I.

Despite unfavourable weather conditions, in the form of adverse wind and dust, a match was played between our seconds and King's College firsts. Our team was not the strongest, and we did not expect so comfortable a win, securing, as we did, 9 out of 12 sets. Scores:—

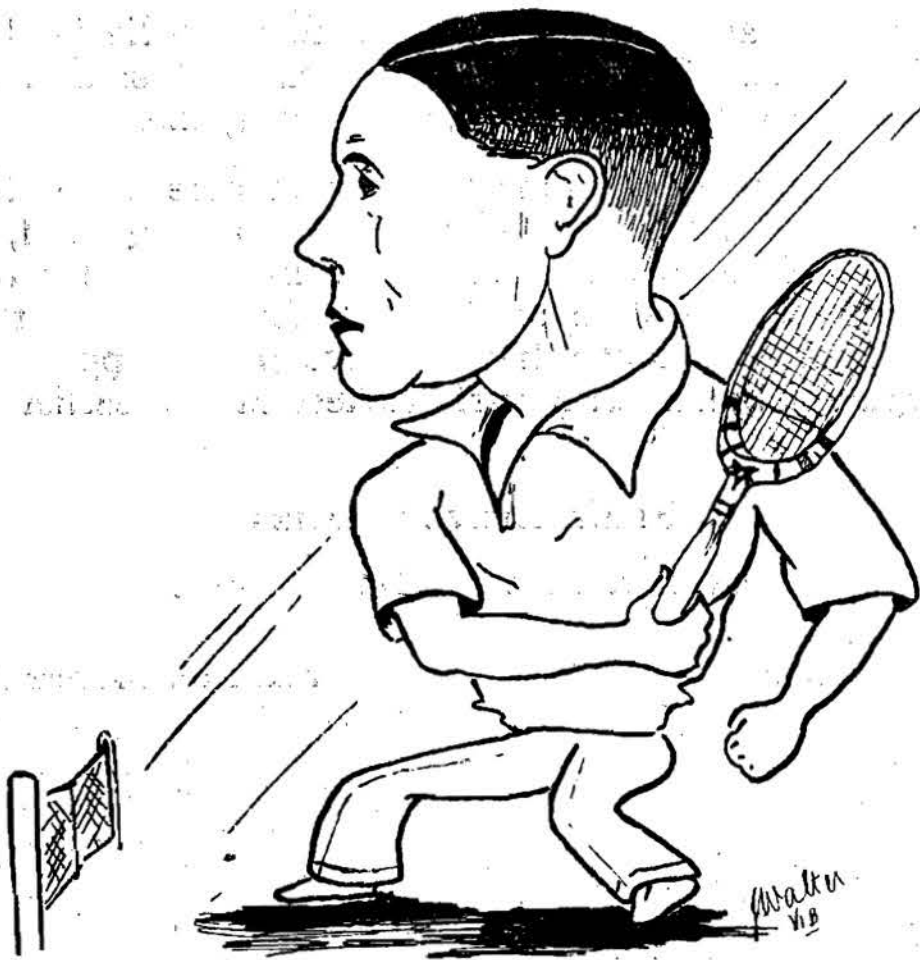

- Allen, J., defeated Read, 11—6.
 - Allen, D., defeated Pahl, 11—10.
 - Copping defeated Hookings, 11—5.
 - Zanker defeated Branson, 11—4.
 - De Vedas defeated Pearson, 11—6.
 - Walter defeated Hastings, 11—5.
 - Thompson lost to Sayer, 7—11.
 - Mullner lost to McNicol, 3—11.
 - Allen and Allen defeated Read and Hookings, 11—3.
 - Copping and De Vedas defeated Pahl and Branson, 11—8.
 - Zanker and Walter defeated Pearson and Hastings, 11—10.
 - Thompson and Mullner lost to Sayer and McNicol, 9—11.
- P.A.C., 9 sets 118 games; King's, 3 sets 84 games.

P.A.C. II. v. KING'S COLLEGE I.

On Saturday, April 27, we played a second match against King's. The weather was ideal, and, after a very enjoyable afternoon's tennis, we won the day by the exceedingly comfortable (?) margin of one whole game. Scores:—

- Allen defeated Read, 9—3.
- Wight defeated Branson, 9—5.
- Zanker defeated Paul, 9—6.
- Nolan lost to Hookings, 8—9.
- Walter lost to Sayer, 8—9.
- De Vedas defeated Humble, 9—8.
- Bungay lost to Smith, 7—9.

Rankine lost to McNicol, 5—9.
 Allen and Wight defeated Read and Paul, 9—5.
 De Vedas and Zanker lost to Sayer and Humble, 4—9.
 Nolan and Walter lost to Hookings and Branson, 4—9.
 Bungay and Rankine defeated Smith and McNicol, 9—8;
 P.A.C., 6 sets 90 games; King's, 6 sets 89 games.

Cricket.

Five Saturdays only were available for cricket. Good use however was made of the time at our disposal, as we were anxious to discover early in the year what cricketers of promise we had in the School.

The most disappointing feature was found to lie in the leadership of the various Elevens, and it is clear that some instruction is needed in this very important phase of the game.

Perhaps the two events most worthy of note were the laying down of a turf wicket in the centre of the back ground, and the setting apart of another section of the front oval for more turf practice wickets. These should be ready for use by the third term of this year, and it is hoped they will give greater opportunities for boys to grow familiar with turf wickets at an earlier age than hitherto.

day's sport, and we were very hopeful that the team, which appeared the strongest we have had in the last few years, would win, even if only by a small margin. But it was a disastrous day for us, as the points for and against show only too clearly.

H. P. Newman has the sympathy of the School in the bad luck which again upset his training and prevented his representing the School. Again our thanks are due to Mr. Mattison, whose untiring efforts on our behalf were worthy of better results. He, with Mr. Williams, supervised our training with the greatest enthusiasm, for which everyone is grateful.

In the first event, the Senior Hurdles, Cooke shot out of his holes and led the field by about one and a half yards at the first hurdle. He maintained his lead to the tape, running in fine style, and equalling the record of $16\frac{1}{2}$ secs. Jolly was third, following close at McMichael's heels.

In the Under 16 100 Yards, our gloomiest forebodings were realised—Saints scooped the pool. Cowell ran very well, and his time of $10\frac{4}{5}$ secs. also equalled the record. Our fellows made valiant efforts, but were outclassed by their opponents.

The Senior 100 Yards followed; here again the best we could obtain was third place. Cooke, who was at the top of his form, again proved the best of our representatives. Walsh ran the race in $10\frac{3}{5}$ secs., a creditable time.

Rossiter, Buttery, and Crouch, our stalwarts in the Junior 100, filled the places in the order given. The time, $11\frac{1}{5}$ secs., although not outstanding, was good for the event.

In the Senior High Jump, Jolly won with 5 ft. $5\frac{1}{4}$ in., a good jump, but one which he has bettered. Oldham jumped well and came second.

In the Old Scholars' 100, Seppelt, Saints' champion of the last two years, had to run hard to beat Grose and Young, also of Saints. The time of $10\frac{1}{5}$ secs was good. Clarkson was the first Red to pass the post.

Walsh ran a good race in the 220 Yards, and managed to beat Chapple and Cooke, who were very close together, as they passed the judges. Chapple gained second place by throwing himself forward at the tape.

W, D. Allen proved himself our best Junior high jumper, managing to win third place. Saints were well served by Bertram and Jay in this event.

McMichael, in the following event, put the weight nearly two feet further than his nearest rival. Torr, our third string, excelled himself, and came third.

The last event before afternoon tea was the Under 16 Hurdles. Stephens appeared to have a great chance of winning this, when he hit a hurdle, and, completely losing his balance, had to run off the course. Nicholls came with a great finish, and scrambled into second place.

The scores at this point were—Saints, 43; Princes, 30.

After the interval came the Broad Jump. Jolly won this easily enough, and Brandwood also got a place.

In the Old Scholars' Hurdles, Seppelt was again to the fore; his time was 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ secs. Hosken, of Princes, was third.

The Senior 440 was the next event. In a slow and rather remarkable race, A. D. Cowan won from Walsh, with Chapple third.

At this juncture, any hopes we had of winning began to fade away rapidly.

The Junior Hurdles was an exciting struggle. Wellington, on whom we pinned our hopes, fell; but Helpman passed the tape abreast of Cowan. The time, 19 $\frac{3}{4}$ secs., was bad.

The 440 Hurdles was disastrous. Cooke, who brilliantly won this event last year, fell heavily at the fourth hurdle, but, as The Advertiser remarked, "was up at once, and held to third place for two more jumps, when he collapsed. He had had a heavy afternoon, and had been remarkable, irrespective of his achievements, for the grit and stamina he displayed in every event." McMichael won easily. Brandwood gained third place for Princes.

Monks, Cowell, and Watts were too good for the Princes' representatives in the Under 16 440.

The result was now beyond doubt, but we expected to go down with colours flying. Burnard, in the Mile, quickly took the lead, and kept it for all four laps. Geddes, Saints' first string, was second, and our other two men made a race of it for third.

The final results were:—

St. Peter's, 76 points; Prince Alfred, 47 points.

The Governor, at the conclusion of the programme, presented the medals won by competitors, and also handed the Cup to McMichael. Saints are to be congratulated on their performance.

School Sports.

Although the day was dull and cloudy, the rain held off, and Saturday afternoon, May 4th, turned out favourable for the School Sports. During the course of the afternoon, some excellent running and jumping was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators, who were gathered for the all-important occasion.

Lack of time for all the events to be run off during the afternoon necessitated the running off of two or three some time during the previous week. These races were the Mile, Putting the Weight, 440 Yards Hurdles, and the heats of several of the events finals, of which were run on Saturday.

Cooke made a good start in the Cup Competition by winning the 100 Yards College Championship from Chapple and Jolly. A little later, he just won the 220 Yards Flat from Chapple; Jolly took third place. In the 120 Yards Hurdles, he passed the finishing tape comfortably ahead of Brandwood and Chapple. In the 440 Flat, Newman won a good race, in which he led all the way from Chapple and Cooke. Jolly came to the fore in the two jumps, winning the Long Jump with 19 ft. 11 in., and tying for first place in the High Jump with Oldham, who, however, was not a Cup competitor.

The last Cup event was the Half Mile, which was annexed by Wilkinson, who finished a long way ahead of Newman and Chapple.

Hearty congratulations to Cooke on his excellent performances in winning the Cup.

House Sports.

On Tuesday and Wednesday of the last week of term, the House Sports were held on the front oval. The competition was excellent, and the keenness with which it was conducted is revealed in the final points obtained by the various Houses, and by the number of dead-heats which resulted.

Rowing.

After an absence from the river of some twenty-five years, we were enabled, thanks to the enterprise of the Head Master, to recommence rowing at the beginning of last term.

The first general meeting held was attended with much enthusiasm. We are only sorry that, owing to various restrictions, we were unable to avail ourselves of more of the proffered help. However, we look to those others to provide the crews of the future.

Once on the river, two crews were soon at work. We were handicapped by lack of a tub pair, but nevertheless were able to acquit ourselves creditably in the regatta on April 27. Although unsuccessful in the finals, the under 16 crew won its heat. When it is remembered that our chief object in entering was "to pave the way," and that we had only six weeks' experience behind us when we raced, there is little need to add that we were satisfied with the result.

In common with all new rowing clubs, we are at present on the resources of one more firmly established, and in this connection our warmest thanks are due to the University Club for the use of its sheds and equipment. We are also deeply appreciative of the advice given and the interest taken by the Head Master, and of the activity of Mr. Tomlinson, who, in the capacity of coach, has been with us on the river almost every afternoon. Mr. Matthews has earned our gratitude for enlisting in us the interest of Mr. Peterson, of Mannum, with whom we hope, in the third term, to renew our acquaintance.

CRITIQUE OF THE CREW.
(By Mr. Tomlinson, Coach).

FIRST BOAT.

Treize (bow)—Has good body swing, but is slow in the recovery; should use his feet more.

Koch (2)—Good body swing. Rows a good blade now that he has overcome his inclination to dig.

Goss (3)—Is still too stiff and jerky in his movements. When his body-swing has more smoothness he will be a valuable 3.

Martin (stroke)—At first was an erratic stroke, but improved greatly in this respect. His chief faults are that he rows short and is slow on the recovery.

UNDER 16 BOAT.

Freeman (bow)—His body-swing and recovery are improving. He must use his feet more—this will give him the beginning which he lacks.

Bert (2)—Has a good body-swing. Had a great inclination to row deep, with consequent unsteadiness to the boat, but he is overcoming this.

Chapman (3)—Has good body swing and good reach forward; his recovery lacks smoothness; keeps very good time on stroke.

Matthews (stroke)—Has a good reach, and rows with life; uses his feet well; must try and keep his back up, even when tired.

Warnecke (cox)—Through his enthusiasm and keenness he became an experienced cox in a few weeks; keeps his men well together.

GENERAL.

Owing to the short time in which they had been rowing, the crews necessarily lacked finish, but they were making excellent progress at the time of the regatta. Their chief faults were, firstly, that they were doing too much arm work and not enough leg work; secondly, that they were not taking the oar home to the chest; and, thirdly, that they were slow in the recovery. However, they showed keenness and spirit, and that counted for much.

Library Notes.

Our readers are aware of the generous spirit which inspired many Old Boys to contribute to the furnishing of the Memorial Library. The result of Mr. Bayly's appeal was far finer than even he anticipated, for, after furnishing the Hall of Remembrance, there were sufficient funds in hand to create an endowment fund for the Library.

The functions of such a library as this are manifold. First it is for the boys; to inculcate habits of study and reading, to educate them as only a good library can educate. Secondly, it is for those other students at the School, those who have also to teach. Here they may endeavour to keep themselves abreast of the latest developments in their subject in the little time they have to spare.

The present need is books, more books, and yet more books; but the standard must be kept high. The library should contain only the best on all subjects, and thus unconsciously it will guide and develop the taste of those who use it.

We cannot think of more fitting presents to the School—for those who can only give a little—than a book, or books. We feel that there are many Old Boys and others who would like to mark their interest in the School in this manner. We suggest that they contribute either books themselves or an amount sufficient to purchase a book or books in which would be inserted a presentation slip showing the donor's name.

For the guidance of those who may be in doubt as to what particular book would be of most value, we append a suggestive list.

THE HISTORICAL NOVEL.

Of late years, much odium has centred round the United States of America. We regard that prosperous country as the home of the "go-getter," the Mecca of the "get-rich-quick." Within its boundaries everything, from art to crime, is commercialized; but, however much this hard-headed conduct of business may repel us, we can draw from it many a useful lesson. In many respects Australia would do well to imitate America's wholesale exploitation of its resources.

We naturally expect the history of such countries as England to provide settings for the literature of to-day. But what of the younger nations, America and Australia? Without doubt they have their history, but has time yet changed those facts of a period past to the romance of the present age?

In the case of America there is no uncertainty. Perhaps no country in the world is turning to such good use the half-forgotten actions of an older generation. With Australia, on the other hand, the answer seems obscure. There are so few good Australian historical novels on the market that we hesitate to comment.

Take two American romances based on incidents from the past. They will have this in common; neither will ante-date the year 1775. Moreover, those that do are but a fractional percentage of the sum total. Now, to 1775 add thirteen years and we come to the foundation of the Port Jackson settlement. Australian history, then, is not much younger than modern American.

That is the point. To me it seems that, with a minority of only thirteen years, Australia might well produce more historical novels. Perhaps we were only a struggling colony when America was framing her Constitution; but we, too, had our pioneers, our covered wagons. Life, after all, is fundamentally the same; it is time that lends it colour. If posterity has found romance in lace ruffles, snuff, and large perukes, Australians, in connection with their own history, have as much right as their American cousins so to clothe their characters.

The Australian aborigine may not have been as picturesque as the Red Indian, but I call to mind a crumbling bullock-wagon whose sides, pierced by spear and bullet-holes, testified to an early meeting between black and white. I have lived a little in Australia's past. I can tell of a shepherd who kept within his bleak cottage a case of books whose covers bore a crest; of an English gentleman who, transported for life, one day seized a horse, galloped to the magistrate, reported himself in Van Dieman's Land, and then raced to the beach to embark for England in a vessel that stood off from the shore awaiting him. I have turned the crank of a hand-organ that once graced the female ward of the old Parramatta Prison. How many hands before mine had rested there?

Australia has the material; it is only necessary for someone to breathe on it the force of human interest for her to produce books as brilliant and captivating as anything from the Old World or the New.

THE UNIVERSITY SYLLABUS.

Of late years the upheavals occasioned by the University syllabus have left us prepared for anything. So unprecedented have been these changes that we are tempted to anticipate the schedule of the future.

Notice.

It has been argued repeatedly in University circles that the majority of failures at the end of the year are decided at the beginning of the year when the syllabus is issued. Candidates, it is maintained, on reading the courses, are stupefied by the colossal task before them and their morale suffers in consequence.

Struck by this novel theory, the Council has decided to make revolutionary changes in the work for 2 ---. It is expected that the syllabus will be something as follows:—

Leaving Examination.

- (1) Wine.—An acquaintance with the physical and chemical properties of the common intoxicants and the distinction between Cognac, Absinthe, and Benedictine by colour, taste, and after-effects is most necessary. The uses of Vin Blanc and Vin Rouge as stimulants must be known. (Tip: Ask any ex-A.I.F. man.)

N.B.—A course of at least 150 practical experiments shall be required. These should be mainly quantitative, answers being taken correct to the nearest bottle. A practical examination will be given; candidates are not allowed to become paralytic before the first half-hour has elapsed.

Text-book: The Synthetic Cocktail (Ginn).

- (2) Women.—Students should acquire a general knowledge of their habits, haunts, and occupations. It is advisable for masters to lay special emphasis on modern emancipation; possible means of combating the evil should be discussed at length.

N.B.—It is desired that teachers shall insist on the comprehension of fundamental principles rather than on the attainment of manipulative skill.

It will considerably aid the study if pupils are encouraged to collect specimens whenever possible. These should be sprinkled with face powder, bottled, and kept in a dark corner for future reference.

Text-book: Euclid's Curves and Angles.

- (3) Song (including Music).—An understanding of the difference between the Swiss Yodel and the Spanish Serenade, and of the descent of both from the common cat-call, with notes on the effect of climatic conditions on each, is essential.

N.B.—If the effective use of the Serenade is studied, a supplementary course of jui-jitsu or boxing is recommended. It is considered most important to educate the student to regard music in the same light as literature—and football, and to absorb its meaning with equal facility and appreciation.

HERITAGE.

Down on the butts in the drizzling rain,
 Cursing and shivering and shooting in vain;
 Sprawling on canvas, tugging a trigger,
 "You ain't no William Tell, eh, Digger?"
 Up to your ankles in a species of mud:
 "It's a blasted side worse when it's puddled with blood.
 Wait till these raindrops are turned to lead,
 And some cow with a Mauser makes you reckon you're dead;
 Wait till you picket and you're so blasted cold
 You're too frigid and rigid to move when you're told;
 Then you'll wish you were back on the butts.

N. F. G. (VI.A.)

SUNSET.

The fleecy clouds were fleck'd with crimson bars;
 The wind-fill'd sails were standing for the bay;
 The dying day now blazon'd in the haze,
 That lit the weary fishers' homeward way.
 In silence that pervaded all the air,
 And sent its message round from lea to lea,
 The sun flamed golden in the crimson glare,
 And 'mid the blazing glory dipp'd the sea.
 All nature seemed to watch him as he sank,
 Beneath the limpid waters, lost to sight;
 And then the crying sea-birds, rank on rank,
 Must turn to find their rest upon the height;
 With Moon o'erhead to shed her precious light,
 And winking stars to crown the tranquil night.

THE SWAGMAN.

Where the scrubs are thick and the plains are wide;
 Where the days are hot and the flies deride;
 Where work is scarce, for farms are few;
 Where carrions mock from the sightless blue;
 I travel along the dusty track,
 A pipe in my mouth, a swag on my back.
 I meet with sorrow, I meet with woe,
 I meet with it all the way I go;
 But now and again I chance to spy,
 While in obsequious mood I lie,
 A sun-brown'd farm-lad, full of glee,
 Tuning some wild-bush melody;
 And, when the sound is far behind,
 The refrain still lingers in my mind;
 Or I hear a stockman's lusty shout,
 As he wheels the wild bush-mob about;
 Which lifts me from my dull despair,
 So I set my face for anywhere!
 So old and grey, yet without a home!
 O, the ground's my couch, and the sky my dome;
 And, at night, when fragrant breezes blow
 Among the gums in the bush, and flow
 Bubbling rivulets where I lie
 Prone beneath the stretching sky,
 Ere to dreams at length I fall,
 I hear the dingo's eerie call,
 And its wailing echo, shivering far
 From the silvery moon to the palest star.
 Could you see me on my way,
 At sunset, noon, or at break of day,
 No doubt you'd think me odd and slow,
 And laugh at the way I choose to go!
 But life's a game, with its "ins" and "outs",—
 A day of joy with a night of doubts,—
 And all my life I've kept the track,
 So what's the use of turning back?

THE TENNIS CUP.

The Tennis Cup is won again;
 For the tennis team, three cheers!
 They've won a Cup for us at last,
 The only one for years!
 The Sports are lost and Football's in,
 It's going hard and fast;
 We've won one Cup so far this year;
 Let's hope it's not the last!

THE BIGGEST GOLDFIELD IN THE WORLD.

The biggest goldfield in the world is the Witwatersrand, which in about thirty years' operation has produced nearly £1,000,000,000 of gold. About this goldfield, which was once barren veldt, has grown up the largest city in South Africa. The field is situated on the highest point of a plateau six thousand feet above sea level. Another curious thing about the Rand is that no one seems to know who discovered it.

As the rich outcrops of gold were used up, it looked as if Johannesburg would dwindle down until scarcely any people remained in it, like other mining towns. But the existence of other gold-bearing reefs was found beneath the main reef, and it is still being worked as much as formerly. With the invention of the cyanide process, much gold which had before been wasted was saved and the output increased considerably.

When the ore is brought to the surface it is shot into bins, where it is ground fine by heavy stamps. It is then passed over copper plates dressed with mercury. Most of the gold is caught in this mercury, which is scraped off the plates daily, and then the mercury is separated from the gold. The mercury is driven off as vapour, which condenses, forming pure mercury, while the gold is left behind. This gold is made into bars and sent away. A bar is roughly 2½ ft. long by ½ ft. wide, and you can have it if you can carry it.

A DISCOVERY.

We had pulled up for dinner in front of the middle "Sister" of the "Three" in the Barrier Range. As one of the men was looking after the billy, my father and I went for a ramble, while the other men stayed behind, smoking and exchanging tales. Not far away, my father noticed a native drawing of an emu, and he called my attention to it. As we approached it, we saw a startlingly life-like goanna carved on the base of a huge overhanging spur. This "carved" goanna made off as we went over to it, and disappeared in a cave about fifty yards further on. Following it, full of curiosity, we entered the cave, and found some more specimens of aboriginal art, with still more further in. These drawings, which were cut into the rock, portrayed wombats, dingoes, wedge-tail eagles, snakes, enormous bush spiders and scorpions, kangaroos, lizards, crows, or wonga pigeons, and a number of wild ducks. We took photographs of some which were at the entrance of the cave, but the ones further in were in semi-darkness. These photographs we forwarded to the Museum authorities.

A CONFUSION OF NAMES.

Although I had been collecting birds' eggs for some time, and had a collection consisting of over a hundred varieties, there was one egg that I could not definitely name.

The tintack, zebra finch, zebec, white-fronted chat, and white-fronted nun are fairly common in the Adelaide hills, and, strange to say, their nests and eggs are exactly the same. Their nests are large, two-storied, and well lined, but the eggs are only found in the bottom story. These eggs are about the size of an ordinary sparrow's, only white with small, regular spots on the thick end.

Now, it happened that one day when I was out birdnesting with a friend I saw a small dark blue and white bird fly from a low bush. I hastened to the bush and found a neat little nest, about as large as the cupped hand, with three of the eggs which I have just described in it.

The next day I took the nest and eggs to the Museum to be classified.

I was informed that these eggs were those of the white-fronted chat or nun, and that if I looked carefully I would notice that the spots were more blurred and irregular. I was also informed that if I ever came across two white-fronted chats' eggs and another one a shade larger and completely covered with spots in a nest, the third one would be a cuckoo's egg. When I got home I examined some zebra finches', tintacks', and zebecs' eggs, and, after carefully comparing them and finding them exactly the same, I came to the conclusion that these were but different names for the same bird.

 TO THE WEARERS OF THE GREEN.

Gallant lads of Spicer House,
 Ho, strip ye for the fray!
 Your duty's clear:
 Raise a cheer,
 And strive to win the day.

Cricketers of Spicer House,
 Play up, play up again!
 Smite some fours,
 The game is yours;
 Quit yourselves like men.

Football sons of Spicer House,
 Speed, speed adown the field;
 Goalwards quick!
 Kick, man, kick!
 Be ne'er content to yield.

Athletes all of Spicer House,
 Fear not to face defeat,
 But strive again
 And yet again—
 Your conquests you'll repeat.

Prep. Notes.

Colin Dunstone, Vincent Gibson, Bob Younger, and Bruce Heath returned to school in February after lengthy absence caused by sickness. Everybody was glad to congratulate them on their recovery.

After a very protracted absence due to serious illness, Brian Johnstone is at last well enough to rejoin his schoolfellows. The news of his complete restoration to health was received with great joy by all Prep-ites.

Of the 37 boys in Senior A last year, 31 moved up to Big School. Three left the School, including Tom Davey, who, while on vacation in Sydney, learnt that his family had decided to move to New South Wales. His brother Malcolm remained in the Prep. until April, when he too moved eastward. Both boys are now attending Newington, our sister school in N.S.W., whither they carried with them the best of good wishes from their schoolmates at P.A.C.

At the beginning of the year the following new boys received a hearty welcome to the Prep. :--R. H. Burden, G. F. Davey, K. J. Davey, R. Dixon, B. E. C. Ford, M. C. Lemon, W. Letcher, M. J. Meth, G. D. Mitchell, D. C. Philips, R. D. G. Reed, T. M. Smith, J. B. South, G. W. Sowden, D. K. Thomas, A. H. Toms, and D. F. Provis.

School officers were elected as under :—

Senior Form Captain—J. E. C. Stephens.

Librarian—K. C. Hale.

Assistant Librarian—M. F. Jones.

Captain of Cricket—J. E. C. Stephens.

House Captains—J. E. C. Stephens (Robertson), T. M. Binder (Chapple).

Keen interest has been shown in games throughout the term. Cricket, athletics, and football have claimed most attention.

At cricket, Chapel House triumphed over their rivals after an interesting game. Robertson House did very feebly in their first innings. Of the 48 runs they scored, Stephens made 26 and Maddocks 16. Waterson (5 wickets) and Binder (4 wickets) most decidedly had the upper hand of the batsmen. To the Chapple House score of 98 the chief contributors were Binder (19), Macdonald (16 n.o.), and Cotton (16). Stephens captured 5 wickets, Maddock and McTaggart each 2. Undaunted by the leeway of 50 runs Robertson House made their second effort, and thanks to Stephens (90 n.o.) and Turner (22), their total reached 135. Waterson was again very successful with the ball, taking 5 wkts., while Gurner accounted for 4. Needing 85 runs to avoid defeat, Chapple House went to it with a will, and reached that total with the loss of only 3 wickets. Binder made 36, Waterson 16 not out, Gurner, 15, and Cotton 10. Maddocks, McTaggart, and Heath secured the wickets.

In athletics, Stephens, McTaggart, Macdonald, and Binder, have shown to advantage as sprinters, and regular practices will be arranged for them throughout the year.

Preliminary runs at football have revealed promising talent, and it is hoped that suitable matches with other schools can be arranged next term.

Two paper chases were held during term, and, though the hares had it all their own way, nevertheless much fun was provided.

Mr. Mervyn Evans, a former Prepite who achieved distinction as Captain of the School four years ago, has rendered signal service to the Prep. during the term by coming out to the School on Saturday mornings and giving the boys the benefit of his experience as a cricketer and footballer. Valuable work has been done, and Mr. Evans' services have been thoroughly appreciated by his enthusiastic pupils.

Great activity has been displayed by the Librarian during the term. The 480 volumes in the library have been re-catalogued, and nearly every boy in the School has been eager to avail himself of the good things provided. For gifts of books hearty thanks are tendered to K. Filmer (12 vols.), R. Buick (8 vols.), C. Dunstone (5 vols.), M. Meth (4 vols), K. Hale and A. Toms (each 3), A. Shuttleworth, C. Borthwick, and B. Heath (each 2), D. Trott, G. Williams, R. Cotton, C. Gurner, G. Sowden, R. Craven, D. Thomas, R. Heddle, L. Cleland, T. Smith, M. Jones, D. Philps, and G. Hume (each 1).

P.A. Old Collegians' Association, Incorporated.

Members are requested to advise the Secretaries of any change of Address.

Members are asked to supply information concerning Old Boys, for publication in our notes.

Annual Subscriptions.

Ordinary Members are reminded that the subscriptions for the current year, viz., 6s. is now due. The Committee will be pleased if members will kindly remit their subscriptions to the Secretaries as early as possible.

Association Blazers.

The Association Blazer is finding favour amongst members. Orders entitling members to secure a Blazer are obtainable from the Secretaries of the Association.

Association Tokens.

Association Tokens are issued to members upon payment of 18s. 6d. These remain the property of the Association, and are returnable if the holder ceases to be a member. Up to the end of 1928, 657 Tokens had been issued.

Country Corresponding Members.

The following suggestion has been made, and the General Committee believe that such arrangement will be of benefit to country members and the Association generally. The proposals are briefly—

(1) The Association to appoint a "Corresponding Member" in the various districts and local centres.

(2) The member so appointed would look after the interests of Old Boys in that particular centre generally.

(3) Extracts from the minutes of general committee meetings will be forwarded to these "Corresponding Members," so that they may more quickly convey to members information in respect to all matters of interest.

(4) The "Corresponding Member" would advise the Secretaries of the Association of all matters of local interest, and be of assistance in fostering and encouraging the usefulness of the Association amongst all Old Boys.

(5) Lists of "Corresponding Members" appointed, together with the districts represented, will be published in the "Chronicle," and Old Boys in these districts would then know to whom to look for any information in respect to Association matters.

The Committee invite applications from Old Boys in various centres who are willing to act as "Corresponding Members" Applications should be forwarded to the Secretaries of the Association.

The following Old Boys have agreed to assist the Committee by acting as "Corresponding Members"—

W. S. Kelly, Giles Corner
 H. E. Jaehne, Minlaton
 G. M. Barton, Peterborough
 K. E. Jacobs, Port Lincoln
 Norman D. Richardson, Strathalbyn
 L. R. Millard, Kulpara
 J. S. McEwin, Blyth
 R. W. Hunt, Bordertown

*Members of Executive Committee.

At the General Committee Meeting held in the Pirie Street classroom on Friday, 5th April last, the Executive Committee was elected.

The Executive Committee then nominated the following to form the House Committee for the following year :—

Revs. W. A. Dunn, E. J. Piper, J. H. Allen, B.Sc., A. B. Lloyd, W. H. Robinson, Col. A. Catt, Messrs. J. M. Bath, J. H. Chinner, A. E. Clarkson, H. H. Cowell, T. C. Craven, S. W. Jeffries, LL.B., M.P., Wesley Lathlean, A. T. Sutton, M.P., and L. D. Waterhouse.

One of the objects of this Association is the furtherance of all that appertains to the welfare of Prince Alfred College, and the College Committee has shown its appreciation of the efforts by appointing, from time to time, members of the General Committee of this Association to work on the General Committee of the College. From the above it will be seen that eight of the Association Committeemen were elected to the Executive Committee, and of these five were appointed to the House Committee.

Old Boys in Sport.

LACROSSE.

Mr. F. G. Davidson, who has served on the committee of the South Australian Lacrosse Association for 30 years, has now retired. He has always shown keen interest in the games and has on many occasions officiated as referee in the Old Scholars' lacrosse matches.

ATHLETICS.

At the University sports meeting L. P. A. Lawrence took first place in the Running High Jump (5 ft. 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.), first in the 120 Yards Handicap Hurdles, and second in the Broad Jump. B. W. Hone gained first place in Throwing the Cricket Ball.

The Jeparit (Vic.) Gift, over 130 yards, was won by F. R. Wilson, of Port Lincoln, from the 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ yards mark. In this race he was matched against Tim Banner, once the sprint champion of the world.

CRICKET.

A review of club cricket for the season 1928-9 shows B. W. Hone and G. L. Bayly at the head of the University batting list. Hone made 626 runs for the season at an average of 104.3, and Bayly 549 at an average of 68.6.

Gordon Harris was second on the list of the Port Adelaide Club with an average of 78.4. On four occasions he made centuries.

FOOTBALL.

Dr. W. R. James has donned the colours for Norwoods in league football, but unfortunately met with a slight accident in the first match.

TENNIS.

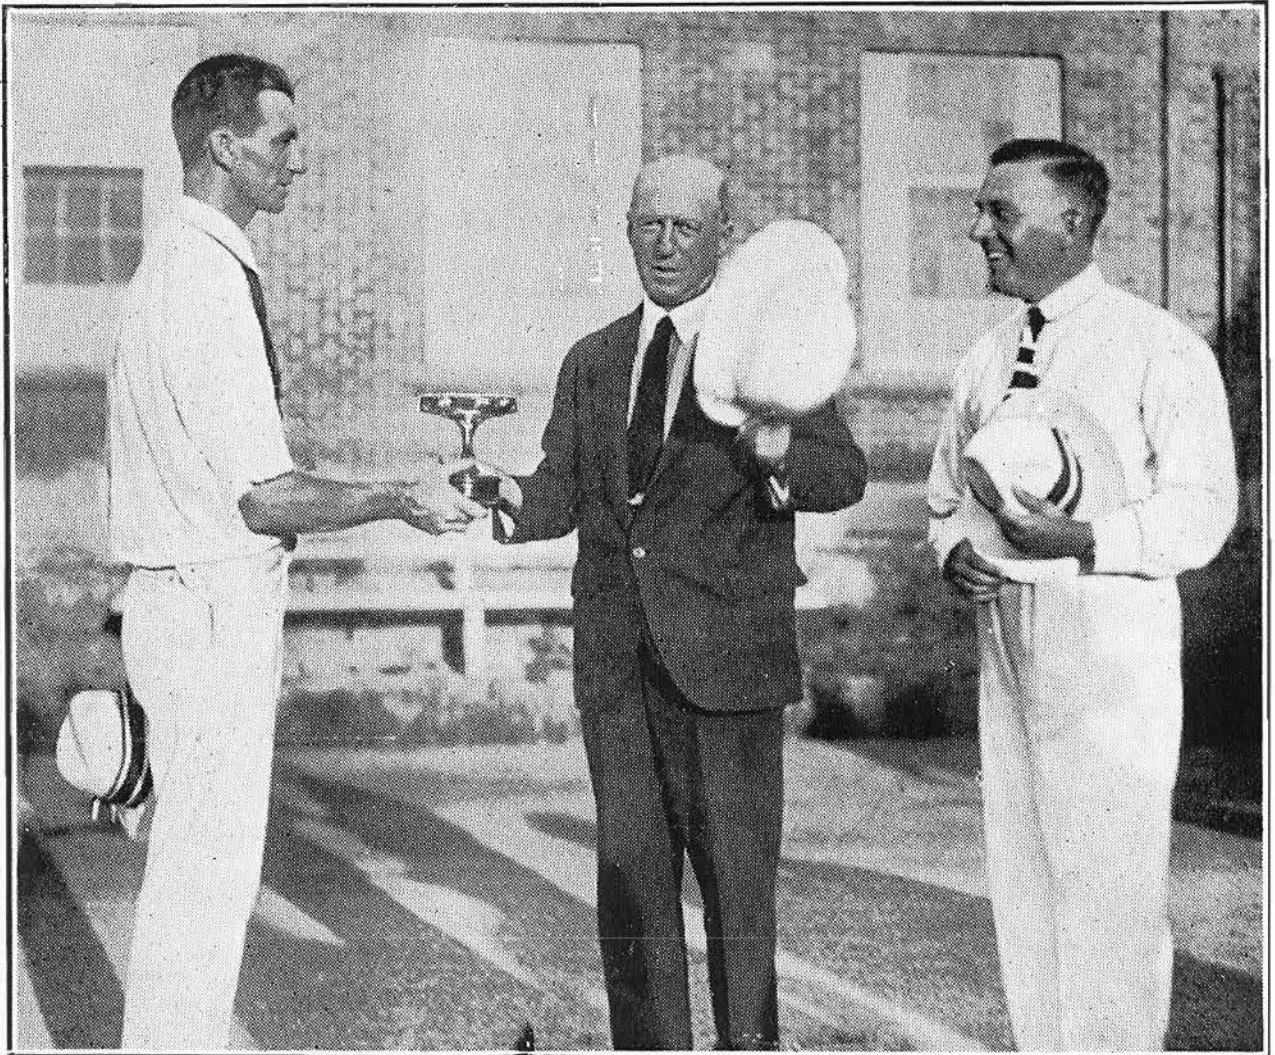

E. T. Rowe showed good form in the S.A. Championships, but was beaten in the semi-final by Crawford after a hard game.

Dr. G. M. Hone was beaten in the Metropolitan Championship at Hyde Park in the final round.

BOWLS.

It is pleasing to report under this heading the achievements of two members of our Association. Each year the S.A. Bowling Association arranges a 4-Bowl Championship, and the contest invariably arouses much interest and provides many keen games before the winner has been decided upon. On this occasion there were about 150 entries, and the final contest was played between Cyril M. D. Bower and Alex. J. Goudie—both Old Reds and members of this Association—the former eventually proving the victor. Both players have outstanding records in the ancient game. Bower has twice previously been the runner-up in this contest, and also ran into the last four in the Australasian Championship, held in Sydney four years ago. Goudie was in the last eight in the latest Australasian Championship contested, and is also an interstate skipper.

FOUR-BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP OF S.A.

C. M. B. Bower (winner)

A. J. Goudie (runner-up)

Doings of Old Boys.

Mr. L. W. A. Peacock, of Berri, and Dr. D. L. Barlow, of Tusmore, left last March for a trip to England.

Harold J. Cattle has been appointed a member of the Port Pirie Technical School Council.

Mr. W. S. Kelly, a past president of this Association, has been appointed a member of the Federal Tariff Board.

Mr. L. S. Clarkson, who is a member of the Old Scholars' Committee, has been appointed a director of Clarkson, Ltd.

Mr. W. Angel has been appointed acting manager of the Savings Bank of S.A. during the absence of Mr. C. E. Goldsmith, who has left for a trip abroad.

Mr. J. Morley Bath, President of this Association, has been appointed to the council of the Chamber of Commerce, Adelaide, as representative of the Institute of Secretaries.

Mr. G. S. Reed has been appointed a member of the Statutory Committee of the Law Society of S.A.

Mr. Alex Flint has been re-appointed hon. treasurer of the Carnation, Dahlia, and Sweet Pea Society of S.A. Mr. Flint is a keen gardener, and would be pleased to hear from any other Old Boys interested in the subject.

Mr. H. McFarlane is at present travelling in the United States of America.

Linden J. Wood is the first Old Red to secure his licence as a pilot under the civil aviation regulations. We heartily congratulate him on his success. Aviation will mean so much to Australia in the future that it is extremely gratifying to learn that Old Reds are doing their share to convince the public of the safety of the latest means of travel. Other Old Reds are at present going through their qualifying flights at Parafield.

An Evening of Short Plays

On Tuesday, April 16, Mr. Lloyd Prider's talented company of young people gave an "Evening of Short Plays" in the Norwood Town Hall, in aid of our newly-formed Boat Club.

The first play, "The Mercy of the Duke," written and produced by Mr. Lloyd Prider, depicted an incident in the life of Cæsar Borgia. In this play, which was admirably staged and acted, the chief parts were taken with great success by Misses Myra Collins and Ruby Nolan, and Messrs. Jack Prider and Milton Woods.

The second item, "The French Doll," was charmingly played by eight or ten tiny tots, of whom Shirley Paterson was the star. Their naturalness and decided talent delighted all who were present.

The concluding part of a most enjoyable evening's entertainment was a short comedy. In this, Mr. Lloyd Prider, who took the principal part, was well supported by the rest of his company.

This is the second time within six months that Mr. Prider and his company have, in so practical a way, shown their interest in the School, and we must express our keen appreciation of the work they have done and the time they have spent in preparing for the evening's entertainment, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who were present.

Saints and Princes at Yorke Peninsula

"FLYING TO DINNER."

Mr. Miller declared that one of the most difficult tasks he had ever undertaken as Secretary of Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Association was to secure a representative party to attend the combined annual dinner of Old Collegians at Yorketown on Thursday, 2nd of May last.

When first approached, each one declared his desire to "have a fly at it," but qualified his acceptance of the invitation by saying "I will put it to the wife and let you know." It speaks well for the present generation of men that there are so many who respect the revised injunction, "Husbands, obey your wives," although there are some who are not so dutiful. Among these latter is our President, who evaded the issue by omitting to tell his good wife how he was going.

Seven intrepid members—four Saints and three Princes—dared their wives and faced the wrath which was to come later. Leaving Parafield at 4.20 p.m. in the 'plane "Old Gold" skilfully piloted by our Secretary's namesake, Capt. Miller, the party came to earth at Yorketown at 5.25, full of good cheer (cheer, I said, Mr. Printer). This gave ample time to accept a characteristic welcome from Mr. Ern. Lloyd ("Lloydie") and the Rev. Mr. Thrush, who were jointly responsible for the excellent arrangements made for the dinner. There was not time for a civic reception, but the Mayor of Yorketown (Mr. Fergusson) greeted the party on arrival, and later attended the dinner and responded to the toast, "The Mayor and his Corporation" (sic). The menu provided at the Yorke Hotel was worthy of the occasion and compared very favourably with some of the dinners supplied at city hostels.

Every member of the visiting party was called upon, either to propose or respond to a toast, and the speeches were certainly not as dry as the lakes for which the district is noted. Indeed, one speaker declared that he had never listened to speeches of such high tone as he had heard that night. Our Head Master (Mr. Bayly) was in fine form, and delighted the diners with his eloquence. Others who contributed to the evening's enjoyment were Dr. E. F. Gartrell, Messrs. S. H. Skipper, A. M. Ashwin, and L. Napier (St. Peter's Association), and J. M. Bath (President) and H. W. A. Miller (Secretary), of P.A. Old Collegians' Association. The Yorke Peninsula Old Collegians provided excellent talent, both in the speeches delivered and the musical items, whilst Mr. M. Newbold (P.A.C.) carried out the duties of chairman in a dignified manner, and succeeded in dispatching the business of the evening in time to comply with the regulations. As Mr. Miller remarked, the event was unique in that this was the first time that representatives of the parent Associations had used an aeroplane for the purpose of visiting their country members. Also that this was the first occasion that Saints had been in the majority. They at least out-sang those Princes who were present.

The return trip was started at 7.45 a.m. next day, and completed at 8.50 a.m. Had the journey been made by road, the distance travelled would have been over 300 miles, occupying practically two full days. Those who had flown for the first time regarded the experience as the most delightful they had ever enjoyed. The trip was aptly summed up by one participant when he said, "It was like sitting in an easy chair on your verandah and watching a gigantic and beautiful picture passing slowly across the view, with every moment full of thrilling interest!"

We are indebted to Mr. R. Wilkinson, proprietor of "The Pioneer," Yorketown, for the interesting photograph, which was taken at 7.30 a.m., prior to the departure of the 'plane from Yorketown.

The President in Sydney.

ENTERTAINED BY OLD REDS.

When Mr. J. M. Bath arrived in Sydney on May 19 for the purpose of attending a business conference, he received a pleasant surprise when he was handed a letter signed by Allan Lyon—"Welcome to Sydney from 90 Old Prince Alfred Boys, who wish to meet you at Farmer's Luncheon Hall at 1 p.m., Friday, 21st inst."

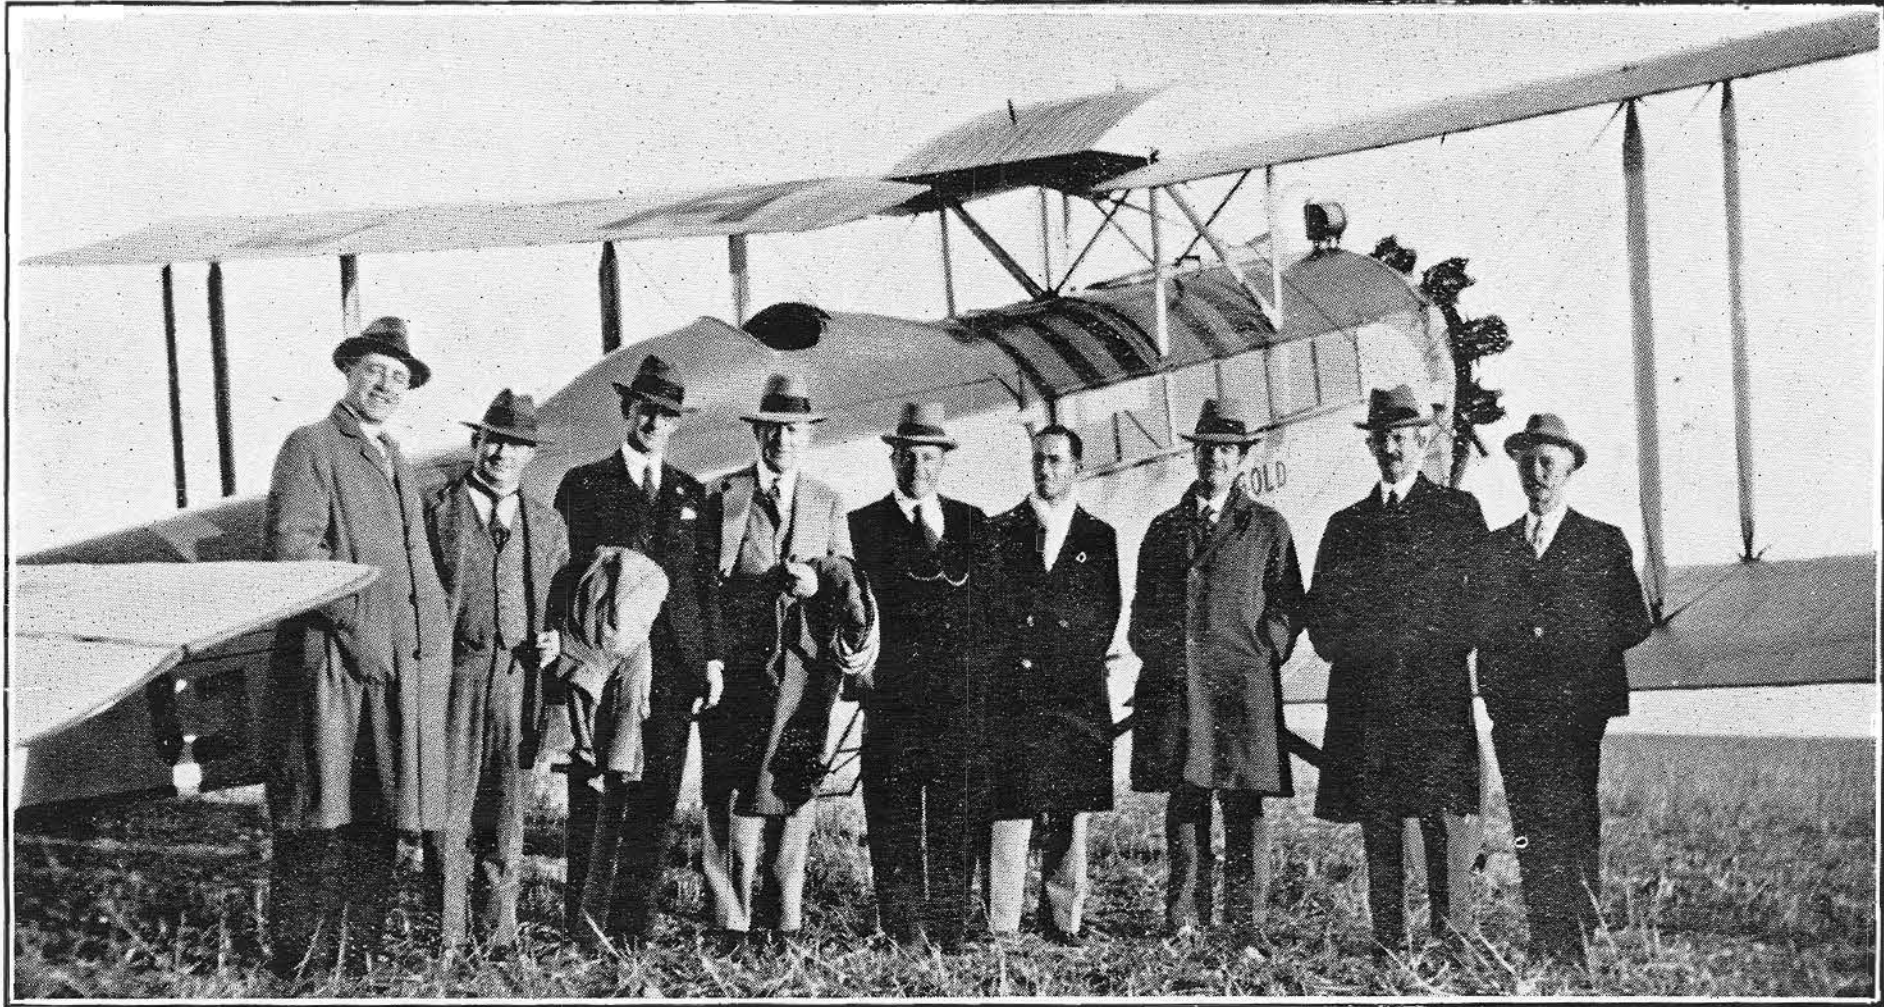

Whilst it was impossible for all of the 90 to attend, the welcome received by our president from the 30 Old Reds who were present was as hearty and spontaneous as if double the number had been there. About 20 letters of apology were received.

The tables were appropriately decorated with the School colours, and Mr. Bath is now the happy possessor of a souvenir of the occasion in a card bearing the signature of each one present at the "Complimentary Luncheon to Morley Bath, President of P.A. Old Collegians' Association," as it was described on the toast card.

After the loyal toast had been honoured, Mr. Allan Lyon, who presided, proposed the health of our President, in which he emphasized the personal qualities of Mr. Bath, and expressed the interest and goodwill of every Old Boy towards the School and the Association. The toast was supported by Messrs. O. Seppelt, H. A. Hack, and E. H. Newman. Mr. Newman referred to his long association with Mr. Bath when in Adelaide as a member of the Adelaide Bach Society and Kent Town Choir.

Mr. Bath, in expressing his thanks for the generous hospitality extended to him, said that whilst he valued very highly the nice things that had been said of him personally, he recognised and appreciated the fact that they were honouring him because of the position that he held as President of the Association.

Representatives of Prince Alfred and St. Peter's Old Collegians' Associations who attended the Combined Dinner held at Yorketown on May 2, 1929.

Reading from the left: Messrs. Leith Napier, Ern. Lloyd, S. H. Skipper, A. M. Ashwin, H. W. A. Miller, Dr. E. F. Gartrell, J. M. Bath, W. R. Bayly, and — Ferguson (Mayor of Yorketown).

In the limited time at his disposal Mr. Bath outlined a few of the recent activities of the Association, and particularly stressed the wonderful response to Mr. Bayly's appeal for the furnishing of the Hall of Remembrance. He recalled with grateful appreciation the generosity of the Sydney Old Reds in providing a window which is such a fitting complement to the handsome gift of Mr. A. E. Clarkson.

Before resuming his seat, Mr. Bath submitted the toast of "Our Alma Mater," which was enthusiastically received and heartily drunk.

One of the many pleasing features of the function was Mr. Bath's reunion with several Old Boys who sat in class with him 34 years ago.

The Old Reds in Sydney intend holding a Dinner on Thursday evening, July 25, and hope to "listen-in" to the Association's Annual Dinner which will be held at the Grosvenor in Adelaide on that night.

Kadina Old Boys.

A combined Old Scholars' Ball will be held at Kadina on Wednesday, September 4. An energetic Committee, consisting of Dr. C. T. Piper, Messrs. L. R. Millard, T. S. Bagshaw, A. A. Paterson, and M. Paterson (secretary), have the arrangements in hand, and are receiving hearty support from old scholars in the surrounding districts. Anyone desiring further information is requested to communicate with Mr. Max Paterson Kadina.

Old Collegians' Day.

For some years past it has been customary to arrange athletic contests with the members of St. Peter's Collegians' Association. The winter games are always arranged to take place in Old Boys' Week, but the contests in the summer pastimes—cricket, tennis, and bowls—have hitherto been arranged on separate occasions. This required three lots of organisation, and involved a great expense to the Associations, and to overcome both of these it was decided to hold all three on the one day. The only place where the necessary accommodation could be secured was on the Adelaide Oval, and this was accordingly secured for Wednesday, 13th February. The Bowls and Lawn Tennis were won by our Association's representatives, and the Cricket ended in a draw.

The Committees were delighted to see so many Old Boys and their ladies present on that occasion, and they are hoping that this year's event may be the forerunner of much bigger social gatherings in the future. On account of the Test Match having been played in Adelaide a few days prior to our function, many Old Boys found it impossible to get the necessary leave from business to enable them to attend.

The complete record of the various games is as follows :—

CRICKET.

Saints were first to bat. Sangster and Pellew opened, the former hitting up 60 in an hour before cutting one hard into the hands of Marshall, close in at point. Pellew went at 94 without any addition to the score. Then Murray and Barker became associated. Murray, who was the first wicket batsman for South Australia for several years before leaving the city for the country, reproduced his old form. He drove with delightful freedom, and varied the stroke occasionally with glances off Shepley. He went into the twenties with an off-drive for four, and followed it with a powerful square-leg shot, which sailed over the pickets for six. Meanwhile Barker was not idle, and a shot past point took the Old Blues past 150, after the innings had been in progress 100 minutes. The last 50 had taken only 22 minutes to compile. Two fours took Murray to 35, made in 30 minutes, and Barker reached 30 runs in 35 minutes.

After lunch a change came over the game. The score was taken to 169 when Barker was bowled. Murray was caught soon afterwards. He had hit five fours and a six. Nitschke square-cut the first ball he received to the fence, and was caught behind off the following ball. Rymill went first ball leg before. Lee, who had come in when the third wicket had fallen, stopped Prince's success. He off-drove Shepley for five, and three lofty fours took him to 26. He followed with a single and three more boundaries before being caught at drive. It had been a breezy knock, only six being scored in singles and couples. Lade's first scoring stroke was an on-drive over the pickets. A little later the innings was declared closed.

Schultz and M. Evans opened for the Old Reds, but wickets fell quickly until Wilton joined Schultz at 75. Between them they added 103 runs before stumps were drawn. Schultz with neat shots, passed 50 after 90 minutes' batting, and with Wilton hitting the bowling in all directions, the score rose at a good rate. All bowling was alike to the latter, and with hard carpet drives and well-timed pulls he passed his partner's score. Eventually he fell to the eighth bowler tried, Nitschke. He had made 79 runs, the highest score of the match, in a little over 60 minutes, and there were 14 fours included in his hard hitting-innings. His wicket fell in the last over of the day. Scores :—

The best tennis of the afternoon was seen in the match between Rowe and D. Turnbull. Each player took a set before Rowe clinched the game, losing only two games in the last set. Scores :—

Old Boys' Week.

The usual comprehensive programme has been arranged by the Committee for the celebration of Old Boys' Week, details of which will be found in another part of this issue. All members desirous of taking part in either Football, Lacrosse, or Golf matches, must send their names in to the Hon. Secretaries. This request is only reasonable, and is made each year, but is ignored by many, with the result that those responsible for the carrying out of the contests have to waste valuable time corresponding with probable players. Members can, by showing a little consideration, greatly help the Secretaries in the job before them. Our annual celebrations make a tremendous demand on their time, and whilst they are both ready on every occasion to do their utmost for the Association and its members, they often regret that their work is increased by the lack of co-operation of the members.

The Annual Dinner will again be held at The Grosvenor, and the Committee are hopeful that His Excellency the Governor will be the guest of the Association. This will be the last occasion on which Mr. Bayly will respond to the toast of "Our Alma Mater" in his official capacity, and the Committee would like to see a large gathering on this occasion. Last year 420 attended the Dinner, that being a record in the history of the Association.

Old Boys' Day will again be celebrated at the College. Each year the attendance shows an increase, judging by the number of those who sign the visitors' book. The Committee would not object if a new book were required each year, so you are asked to put forth a special effort to be at the College on the day set apart. The football match, Town v. Country, is always full of thrills, and the country boys have a bitter taste in their mouths after last year's defeat. They will be down in full force this year, eager for revenge.

On Friday night the Palais Royal will be gay with music and dancing. The sale of tickets will again be absolutely limited to members of the Association, who can procure tickets for themselves and their friends. The success of this Annual Dance has always been gratifying, and is now one of the popular events of the season. Dancing will on this occasion be from 8 till 12, and no extension can be allowed.

The Intercollegiate Football Match will be played on Saturday, July 27. At the time of writing the boys have not made a start with their training, so the writer is unable to give his readers the "dinkum oil." He knows something, however, and he can assure all Old Reds that if they are at the match this year they have a good chance of seeing the Red flag on top.

At the Old Scholars' Service the address will be given by the Rev. W. A. Dunn, President of the Conference. Those who know Mr. Dunn are delighted that he has decided to so honour us, and the Committee take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation. Mr. Dunn is a man's man, and a jolly good chap, and Old Boys can look forward to a fine oration on this occasion.

The Golf match will again be played in the next week (we regret we cannot get more than seven days in). This time it will be played on the Royal Adelaide Golf Links. We understand that there are not so many creeks down there as there are at Koo-yonga, so that even if the weather does again misbehave, players will not have to swim after their ball.

The Committee are looking forward to a jolly reunion, and every member can assist to make the week a success. Don't be modest. Every member is asked to do his bit, and that bit, no matter how small, will be appreciated.

Monthly meetings of this Lodge are held on the first Friday in each month. In order to give country members an opportunity of attending, an emergency meeting will be held during Old Boys' Week, on Saturday, July 27, in the Masonic Hall, North Terrace, on which occasion a First Degree will be worked.

Anyone desiring further information in regard to the Lodge is requested to communicate with the secretary, Mr. R. G. Neill, National Mutual Buildings, King William Street, Adelaide.

Tennis--Past v. Present.

A Tennis match was played at the College on Tuesday, 5th March, between Old Boys and the College team. As the games did not start until 3 o'clock, only the doubles were played.

The College first double played very good tennis; Wilkinson served excellently, and Allen was particularly severe overhead.

The second double, Brandwood and Holland, combined very well, and gave a creditable performance in defeating Torr and Hunwick, considerably enhanced by their fine recovery from 1-5 to 6-5 in the third set.

The third double was not quite so sound, although Forsyth and Brown served well and made some first-class recoveries.

The whole team are great triers, but all seem to have the same main fault, i.e., inability to keep their eye on the ball when volleying, especially when at the net. Scores:—

K. Berriman and F. E. Piper v. R. S. Wilkinson and J. L. Allen, 6-5, 4-6 (unfinished).

K. Berriman and F. E. Piper beat J. K. Brandwood and L. C. Holland, 6-3, 6-3.

K. Berriman and F. E. Piper beat R. S. Forsyth and K. S. Brown, 6-3, 6-5.

E. P. Copping and Ross Sawers v. R. S. Wilkinson and J. L. Allen, 4-6, 6-3 (unfinished).

E. P. Copping and Ross Sawers beat J. K. Brandwood and L. C. Holland, 6-2, 6-4.

E. P. Copping and Ross Sawers beat R. S. Forsyth and K. S. Brown, 6-2, 6-0.

S. Torr and D. H. Hunwick lost to J. K. Brandwood and L. C. Holland, 6—3, 2—6, 5—6.

Luncheon to Mr. R. M. Scott.

The Committee of this Association entertained Mr. R. M. Scott at a Luncheon at the Grosvenor on Wednesday, 27th March, prior to his departure for Melbourne. Mr. Scott was formerly Engineer and Surveyor to the Adelaide City Council, and has now been appointed City Engineer in Melbourne.

Mr. J. M. Bath occupied the chair, and proposed the toast of "Our Guest." He said it was needless for him to refer other than in passing to the excellent work which Mr. Scott had done for the City of Adelaide and for the community as a whole, and while they honoured him for that, it was particularly as a life member of their Association that they sought to pay tribute to him. In congratulating him upon his appointment to such an important position in Melbourne, they nevertheless regretted his departure. They were glad he had been appointed to a position which, in its particular sphere, was second to none in Australia. While they recognised his undoubted professional abilities, they valued him perhaps more for his general qualities as a man, in which regard eloquent testimony had been borne the previous day by the assembly of the staff of the City Engineer's Department, and their presentation to and eulogy of him. Although they, as members of the Association, always took pride in the success of any of their number, they did not like to take too much credit on themselves in the matter, but he was sure that Mr. Scott would pardon them if they basked in the reflected glory of his marked attainments and success. As a life member of the Association they were sure that he would always take a lively interest in it and the School, and they for their part would continue to follow his doings with the deepest personal interest. The fact that so many South Australians had been appointed to important positions in the other States was testimony to the sound training which they received in the public schools and University, and was also evidence that this State was unable to afford the full monetary reward which the excellence of their services demanded.

Mr. W. R. Bayly supported the toast and said that he was glad of the opportunity to pay tribute to Mr. Scott, and to congratulate him upon his appointment. He did not know why, but there was no doubt that leading a more secluded life in Adelaide than was possible in bigger cities tended to give young people the opportunity to develop their mental powers and so equip themselves more fully for the battle of life. It was pleasing to hear old scholars pay tribute to the benefit which they received from their schools. Mr. Scott had been a valued member of their executive, and he would be greatly missed in that capacity. In paying tribute to his personal worth, he felt that he could not refrain from referring to the fine courage, which their guest had shown in hospital when under treatment for injuries received in the war. He had displayed wonderful fortitude in that ordeal, and they were all very pleased to see that he had come out of it so well. He looked upon him as an excellent example of their School motto, "Do brave things, and endure." One of the finest achievements of a gentleman was the capacity to stand up to the actions and suffering of life which were worth standing up to, and Mr. Scott had done that. They wished him a full measure of success in the bigger sphere of service to which he was going. (Applause).

Mr. Scott said he appreciated the honour they had bestowed upon him, but he really did not think that he deserved all the flattering things that had been said about him. He believed, however, that some of those who had occupied lowly positions at school had made such progress in life afterwards as to afford encouragement to others who could be neither head of their class nor captain of sports team. He appreciated the honour of having received the appointment in Melbourne. He was the first old scholar of P.A.C. who had been City Engineer and Surveyor in Adelaide, and City Engineer in the Victorian capital, but he sincerely hoped that he would not be the only Old Red to attain that achievement. The memories of one's school associations were very happy. He thanked Old Reds who had rendered him any assistance, particularly in connection with his professional career, and he admitted that a number had been of material help to him in that regard. He thanked also those who had visited him while he was what he might term in dock after the war, and he was particularly grateful to Mr. Bayly in assisting to break the monotony during that period. Although he was breaking away from his native city, there were Old Reds waiting in Melbourne to welcome him, and some of them had already written to him offering congratulations and felicitations. He would also take the deepest interest in the Association, and in the School, especially as he was a grandson of one of the founders of the institution. (Applause.).

Mr. Scott enlisted in the A.I.F. in 1916, and gained a commission in the Engineers. He was seriously wounded and invalided home and spent a long period of convalescence in the Keswick Hospital.

Farewell to Mr. C. E. Goldsmith

Members of the committee of this Association tendered Mr. C. E. Goldsmith (Manager of the Savings Bank) a farewell luncheon at the Grosvenor prior to his departure for England on an extended holiday.

Mr. J. Morley Bath (President) said that members of the Association were proud to think that Mr. Goldsmith, an old scholar of the College, was at the head of an undertaking with a record few other similar institutions could equal. The Savings Bank of South Australia had done much good for the people, both rich and poor. Much of its success was due to the energy and enthusiasm of Mr. Goldsmith.

Mr. W. R. Bayly said he hoped that Mr. Goldsmith would enjoy his holiday, because it should be the aim of every Australian to cross the Equator. Australians thought a lot of themselves as a people, but there was no experience which could enrich their outlook more than a tour of the world.

In returning thanks, Mr. Goldsmith said that he had happy memories of his school days, which extended from 1877 to 1879. Since then the growth of Prince Alfred College had been remarkable. Through his parents and his father-in-law he had been connected with the School for many years. His father-in-law had been a member of the first committee of the School, and his father had been president.

Referring to his association with banking, Mr. Goldsmith said that he had passed practically all his business life in that profession. He had progressed from post to post in the service of the Savings Bank of South Australia, until in 1924 he had been appointed manager.

It was true that the bank had grown since the time when he entered the service. In those days the amount deposited by creditors was about £1,500,000, but it had grown to something like 23,000,000. One of the features of the bank was that it had its funds invested, so that there was always a large amount of liquid assets available for any emergency which might arise.

P.A.O.C. Football Club

The Annual General Meeting of the Club was held on 25th March at the office of Mr. A. G. Collison. Mr. L. D. Waterhouse presided over a good attendance of last year's players and a number of new members. The Hon. Secretary presented the third annual report and balance sheet, which were adopted.

Election of officers resulted as follows :—Patron. Mr. W. R. Bayly ; President, Mr. L. D. Waterhouse ; Vice-Presidents, last year's officers with the addition of Mr. J. M. Bath ; Auditors, Messrs. C. G. Tideman and J. O. Tiddy. Treasurer, Mr. F. C. Waldeck ; Joint Secretaries, A. G. Waldeck and E. J. Male ; Committee, J. Woods, A. S. Millen, K. Jarrett, and Joint Secretaries ; Coach, N. A. Walsh.

In recognition of the valuable services rendered to the Club by Mr. W. S. S. Gilbert, he was unanimously elected a Life Member of the club.

THIRD ANNUAL REPORT.

The third season of the club can be considered a successful one. Taking into consideration the large number of injuries during the season, the winning of six matches out of thirteen was very satisfactory.

Early in the season, Norm. Walsh, our captain, was injured, and unable to play for the rest of the season. He and L. Allen were our only representatives in the Interstate team, and we all congratulate them on the sterling game they played.

Through the kindly consideration of the College authorities, the team again trained throughout the season on the College oval, and, in addition, enjoyed the privilege of playing three League matches at P.A.C.

Although 33 players were registered, it was sometimes doubtful if we would field a full team. However, we pulled through, finishing third on the list of the second section of the Amateur League, and incidentally contesting our first semi-final.

Two awards were offered for competition during the season.

1. That for the fairest and most brilliant player was won by N. A. Walsh on the umpires' votes, but as he had played only half of the season, our skipper retired in favour of L. Matters.
2. Jack Woods and A. G. Waldeck tied for that of the most consistent player. Dr. Counter came to the rescue and generously presented an extra cup.

This is the first year that the club has done without the assistance of the Old Scholars' Association. The credit of £7 15s. 11d. in the bank, compared with the previous balance, shows a loss of £2 8s. 5d. on the year's transactions. This is caused mainly by increased league dues.

Towards the end of the season the team paid its annual visit to Roseworthy, and engaged in a friendly contest with the College eighteen. This match is the only one of its kind, combining all sports into one, the long stop at Gawler being one of the bright patches of play.

Old Scholars' Week was enjoyed by all, most members taking part in the programme of matches. A special table was reserved at the Dinner, and a box at the Palais evening. On several occasions members made up parties to various shows, and very enjoyable times were spent.

On Thursday, September 6, a dinner was held at the Richmond Hotel for the purpose of presenting club awards. There were 30 present, ten vice-presidents being the club's guests. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

The club wishes to put on record its appreciation of the efforts of our coach, Mr. W. Hutton, whose zeal and enthusiasm were an inspiration to all; also, of the generous financial assistance accorded by the Patron, President, and Vice-Presidents.

The club also expresses its appreciation of the very valuable services rendered to the club by its Hon. Secretaries and Treasurer.

Adopted,

25/3/1929.

L. D. WATERHOUSE.
