THE First Term of a New Year seems to be characterised almost invariably by a lack of that settlement and system which is essential to all accomplishments of merit. The long holidays preceding produce lethargy, and this is far from being discouraged by the many breaks in the term. We are unwilling to be held in check by those in authority over us; we prize freedom, absolute, perhaps excessive, and forget that it is good to be at times controlled by others. We do not unite to carry out what is good for all; we would be wholly independent, and forget how largely we are interdependent. But as we discover the futility of inertia and disorder and disunion, then, if we would accomplish something worth while, we prepare to work hard and to pull together under a common leader, even though it may mean the subordination of our own desires.

Not many years ago there was hostility and discord between a great number of nations. Each was seeking its own selfish ends. Too proud to submit to a decision by the combined Powers, each nation refused to permit a just discussion and settlement of its grievance. War followed, and destruction such as man had never seen before. At last it was over; but irreparable damage had been done, and all the nations that had suffered, and many of those that had witnessed the suffering, united to prevent, as far as they could, the repetition of such reckless and unnecessary bloodshed. Just as lethargy follows holidays, so stagnation of industry is the inevitable resultant of the cessation of international trade. Just as we desire to be unrestrained after holidays, so nations which have striven selfishly in war, desire to strive selfishly in peace. Just as we are unwilling to co-operate after holidays, so nations, though they have a cloak of unity in the League of Nations, cast it off whenever possible, and wear only the garments of conflict and opposition.

Only by all nations co-operating under the guidance and leadership of those best qualified to judge, can we solve the immense problems confronting us to-day. Can armaments be abolished? Certainly not while the seeds of future conflict between the nations are sown in relentless restriction of foreign trade. But they can be abolished; and shall be abolished, when men gain sufficient wisdom to realize that once trade barriers are removed, and people become contented and well disposed towards one another, then all will willingly co-operate for the sake of humanity; and then,

Nation with nation, land with land,
 Inarmed shall live as comrades free;
 In every heart and brain shall throb
 The pulse of one fraternity.

School Notes.

First Term is always a busy one; so many things happen that time slips by very quickly. Once more for good or evil it is ended.

Three out of the five Intercollegiate Sports events fall in the First Term. This has been a red letter term in that we have won all three. Congratulations to Mr. Luke and the Tennis Team on a victory of 15 rubbers to nil—a record that can hardly be beaten. The Athletics contest has always been our weak spot, and we feel proportionately glad when we win. Good luck to the team, and congratulations to Mr. Wadham and Mr. Williams on the success of their excellent work. A great race was the heat between St. Peter's and Prince Alfred when the Eights decided the Blackmore Shield. It is hard to imagine a more exciting race or a closer finish. For the second time we hold the Blackmore Shield and the Gosse Shield as Head of the River. Old Boys and all Prince Alfred supporters all over the country were delighted with the result of the regatta, and we all join in hearty congratulations to Crompton and his crew, to Mr. McLean and Alf Grayson for their good work in training the eight.

At the beginning of the term we were all looking forward to the pleasure of having the boys of the Tongan Choir and Rev. A. H. Wood as our guests. Unfortunately they developed the very prosaic disease called measles, and had to depart to hospital. We were all disappointed; but still appreciated very keenly the concert in the Norwood Town Hall, and the opportunities we had of hearing Mr. Wood talk of his fascinating work in the islands and of seeing and hearing the happy ways and voices of the Tongan boys. Several of them had a most infectious laugh. The cricket match played by the First Eleven against the "Boys" was quite one of the most enjoyable games of the season.

While the German cruiser Koln was in the harbour a party of the Cadets visited the College. The Prefects took charge of them and all thoroughly enjoyed the short time they could spend here in looking round the school and grounds. A very happy lot of boys they were. On the Saturday a team of Cadets played a hockey match on the Back Oval against a Military Team. Unfortunately it was the day of the Intercollegiate Tennis, so that very few of us could see the game.

During the Christmas holidays the School Dining Hall was refloored and generally renovated. A pitch pine floor has been laid, the ceiling panelled with beams, and a new lighting system installed, and the walls beautifully painted. The whole school is grateful to the Council for this addition to its comfort, and to the Old Boys' Association who bore a large share of the cost. This is another of the many good things the Old Boys have done for the School.

The School had excellent results in the Intermediate Examination. Five boys of last year's Va. Form: Keats, Johnston, Barrett, Dibden, and Winter were awarded Intermediate Exhibitions—an unusually large number of successes, which should mean good work in the higher exams in the next year or two.

On March 18th a very successful Bridge evening was held at the School to raise a fund for the purchase of a new tub four. The committee consisted of the mothers of boys interested in the rowing and other friends of the School, and the ladies are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts. A profit of nearly £38 was obtained, and this with a very generous gift from the mother of one of the crew, made the purchase of the boat a very simple matter. The evening was distinctly worth while, not only for the money raised, but also for the good time that all present enjoyed.

Two collections for charitable objects have been taken up this term. One for the Children's Hospital and one for Kuitpo Colony. In each case between £4 and £5 was collected and received by these organisations with very sincere thanks. It is good for the School to feel that it can help such good causes at so little effort, for if everyone gives the little that he can so easily spare, a respectable sum can easily be raised.

The Rev. S. Forsyth paid us a visit recently, and told us what they are doing at the Kuitpo Colony. It was a most interesting talk, and made everyone feel glad of the chance to help so good a work.

Since the last issue of the Chronicle the Methodist Conference has met, and as a result of its deliberations we have lost our old friend and Chaplain, Rev. W. A. Dunn. We have all enjoyed Mr. Dunn's stay in Kent Town, and his close association with the School. Prince Alfred College has, and always will have, a very firm friend in Mr. Dunn, and we would like him to know that he has more friends than even he realizes among the boys who have known him here during the last four years. There are very many good things one could say of Mr. Dunn, but probably the best of all is that he has a genius for making friends, especially with boys. We are all very glad to welcome as Mr. Dunn's successor, Rev. A. B. Lloyd. Like Mr. Dunn, Mr. Lloyd is an old boy of the School, and we still have his fourth and youngest boy in the School. Officially he has had a long connection with the College as a member of the Committee and the Council, and in every way has done his utmost for its welfare. We are looking forward to a good long term for Mr. Lloyd as Chaplain, and the opportunity of closer and more personal touch with one who has for so long been so good a friend to the College.

During the term Excell and Buick have both lost their mothers, while Jarvis and Mattner have lost their fathers, in each of the latter cases quite suddenly. There is not much we can do, and little that we can say, but we would like to assure these fellows of our sincere sympathy with them and their people in these great losses.

The Intercollegiate Tennis this year took place a little later than usual. During the week before the match the weather was sultry and looked unpromising. However, Saturday, March 25th, although cold and cloudy in the early morning, developed into an ideal day by the time play commenced. Curator Wright provided us with three perfect courts, so perfect, in fact, that they were later turned into croquet lawns!

Our team was not chosen until the Tuesday before the match, and only after great difficulty did the selectors choose the final position in the team. We had nine players of remarkably even calibre, and it was no easy task to omit any one of them. We finally chose R. E. Freak, R. Lock, B. H. Nicholas, L. M. Hocking, D. W. Trott, and A. G. Holman to represent us, and A. K. Trott acted as emergency. Saints chose R. W. Hammill, J. D. Ward, A. B. Jay, J. B. Haines, R. E. Welbourne, and T. W. Parkhouse, while G. Hammill acted as emergency for them.

Play commenced at 10.15 with the customary round of doubles. Our first double, Freak and Hocking, had an easy win from Saints third double, Parkhouse and Jay, and with Lock attacking strongly with forcing drives, and Holman backing him up with well placed tosses, our second double accounted for Saints second double, Welbourne and Haines.

On the other court an interesting rubber took place between our third double, Nicholas and Trott, and Saints first double, Hammill and Ward. In the first set Nicholas and Trott combined well to win 6-1, but in the second they dropped their services when leading 3-2, and later 4-3, finally losing the set 6-4. However, in the third set they recovered, and striking out and serving well, went on to win six games straight, much to the delight of P.A.C. supporters, many of whom were hoping for a record win.

In the first round of singles that followed, Holman, by his well-placed shots, defeated Parkhouse, 6-1, 6-1. Hocking started off shakily against Haines, but eventually gained confidence, and won in straight sets. Trott had a more interesting single with Welbourne. He jumped into an early lead, but after winning the first set 6-1, he appeared to get out of touch for a while in the second set and was 5-3 down. At this stage he made an excellent recovery, and driving well down the side-lines and volleying with his effortless style, he won the next three games, to take the set and rubber. We thus went to lunch with the board reading 6 rubbers to nil.

Play was resumed at 1.45 p.m., with three more doubles, all three of which we won in straight sets. All the doubles combined well and worked well for position. After Freak and Hocking, and Lock and Holman had won their doubles, we thus gained our fifth consecutive victory. There was a large attendance when the second round of the singles commenced, but here again we were not pressed very hard.

Although Hammill won only four games against Freak, the tennis was the most spectacular display seen throughout the afternoon. There were some great rallies, while some magnificent strokes were produced by both players. Lock played an excellent game against Ward, hitting his drives with great severity and accuracy, on both backhand and forehand. He allowed Ward only one game in two sets.

Nicholas was far too good for Jay, and won 6-2, 6-0.

Although the outcome of the match had long been decided, the interest was maintained as keenly as ever when the final round of doubles began. Our doubles were now playing faultless tennis, Freak and Hocking quickly finishing their set against Welbourne and Haines.

Nicholas and Trott paired well against Jay and Parkhouse, and only lost two games. At this stage the board read P.A.C., 14 rubbers; S.P.S.C., nil.

Lock and Holman soon gave us a record win by defeating Hammill and Ward, 6-1, 6-2.

Hocking's service to the corners won many points during the day's tennis, while Nicholas played his usual solid and effective game.

All our men played exceptionally well, and are to be congratulated on their excellent performances.

R. Lock lost only 12 games in the four rubbers in which he took part, while the team was ably captained and led by R. E. Freak. The baby of the team, Trott, showed great promise, while Holman's placing was a lesson to all.

Hammill was the outstanding player for Saints. Ward had occasional bursts of brilliance, but these were not sustained.

Welbourne played much better in his single than in the doubles.

Scores:—

Freak and Hocking v. Jay and Parkhouse, 6-2, 6-3; v. Hammill and Ward, 6-0, 6-2; v. Haines and Welbourne, 6-0, 6-3.

Lock and Holman v. Haines and Welbourne, 6-2, 6-4; v. Jay and Parkhouse, 6-0, 6-2; v. Hammill and Ward, 6-2, 6-1.

Nicholas and D. Trott v. Hammill and Ward, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0; v. Haines and Welbourne, 6-1, 6-4; v. Jay and Parkhouse, 6-2, 6-0.

Singles.

Freak v. Hammill, 6—1, 6—3.

Lock v. Ward, 6—1, 6—0.

Nicholas v. Jay, 6—2, 6—0.

Hocking v. Haines, 6—3, 6—4.

Trott v. Welbourne, 6—2, 6—5.

Holman v. Parkhouse, 6—1, 6—1.

Total, P.A.C., 15 rubbers, 30 sets, 184 games; S.P.S.C., 0 rubbers, 1 set, 58 games.

CRITIQUE OF THE TEAM.

(By the Captain.)

R. E. Freak (Captain), by D.W.T.—Has captained the team with great ability. His play has improved immensely this season—he represented South Australia in the last Linton Cup team. When playing on top form the placement of his shots seems uncanny. His volleys and backhand shots are excellent, but his forehand is a little erratic at times. He would do better in doubles if he tossed more. He has every prospect of a brilliant future.

L. M. Hocking—A player who takes advantage of his height, both in his service and his ground shots. He has a good smash and likes the high bounding ball on the backhand. He plays a better double than a single.

A. G. Holman—A very good doubles player who has a very accurate toss. He places his serve very well, but his backhand is weak. He plays a much better double than a single.

B. H. Nicholas—A good left-hander with a strong forehand drive across court. Has a much improved serve and good smash, but is a little slow in his movements about the court.

R. Lock—A much improved player who has a good forehand drive and a well-placed serve. At times he volleys very severely, although his overhead work is still a little weak. He plays a better single than a double, and should develop into a very good player.

D. W. Trott—A very promising player with a good style. His ground shots, both forehand and backhand are good, and has a very severe volley. His service is sometimes weak, but his overhead work is reliable.

MR. H. HOPMAN'S VISIT.

In spite of his short and busy stay in Adelaide during the last March tournament, Mr.

Hopman made it convenient on the morning of Monday, April 3, to pay us another visit.

In the presence of the team and other promising young players, he gave us some excellent advice, and sound coaching.

He stressed the point that when volleying we had to close in towards the net and not fall back. When playing, the variation of length and pace was very important, while an occasional serve wide on the right court was very helpful.

Mr. Hopman also told us that when we were being beaten that was the time when we displayed our ability at the game, and that we should not lose our heads because "a game is never lost until it is won."

We thoroughly appreciate the visit of Mr. Hopman, and we cannot pay him a better compliment than endeavour to cultivate his wonderful style.

ASSOCIATION MATCHES.

The Association Matches played on Saturday mornings at the War Memorial Drive Courts have been of inestimable value to those who participated. Both our A and B teams have done remarkably well, although we have not always played our best team, endeavouring to give as many players as possible the experience of match-play on grass courts.

SUCCESES.

Our boys have been most successful in tournaments this season. Three out of the last four in the School Boys' Championship in the recent March Tournament were members of our team. We feel that we have every reason to be proud of the high standard of tennis in the School at present.

R. E. Freak—Represented South Australia in the Linton Cup; represented The City against The Country, East-Torrens Winter Tournament; Won Singles Handicap (open), won Mixed Doubles Handicap (open), won Invitation Mixed Doubles Handicap. City of Adelaide Championships—Won boy's under 18. Metropolitan—Won boy's under 18. South Australian Championships—Won Men's Doubles Plate, won Schoolboys' Championship under 18 (for second time). Clare Easter Tournament—Runner-up in Men's Doubles Championship, runner-up Boy's under 18.

Lock, R.—South Australian Championships—Runner-up Boys' under 18. Clare

Easter Tournament—Men's Doubles Championship (runner-up), won Boys' under 18 Championship.

P.A.C. V. EASTERN EXTENSION.

This match took place on the Memorial Drive Courts on March 9th—a little earlier than our usual annual match. We were represented by Freak, Nicholas, Lock, Hocking, D. Trott, K. Trott. After a complete round of doubles we were defeated by 5 rubbers to 4. We wish to thank the Eastern Extension Club for the advice and sound practice they gave us.

P.A.C. V. THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

March 13. We enjoy this match very much because it gives our double combinations practice against a diversity of styles. The Conference team, Revs. Forsyth, Jones, Statton, Lade, Perry, Crossley, was not as strong as usual, but after an interesting match we won by 15 sets to 5. Our players were Lock, W. Cane, Freak, Holman, K. Trott, D. Trott.

P.A.C. V. OLD SCHOLARS.

March 16. A team of Old Scholars, arranged by J. Allen, gave us a polish up prior to the Intercollegiate Match. We are indebted to the Old Scholars for the good smashing practice and general coaching the whole team received. Our opponents were J. Allen, D. Allen, Forsyth, Wight, Dibden, Anderson. Despite the quality of the opposition, we more than held our own, and won by 2 sets.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

For our second annual tournament which began on April 10th, we received 326 entries compared with 270 last year. More than half the School has participated, and already we have completed five of the six events.

Mr. and Mrs. Freak again presented a cup for the Under 15 Singles, for which we are very grateful.

Championship Singles.

E. Freak again won the Singles Championship, defeating R. Lock in a hard-hitting match, 6—2, 6—5. The other semi-finalists were A. Holman and D. Trott, both of whom played very well before being eliminated by their more experienced opponents.

The Under 13 Singles Handicap was won by J. N. Bailey, who defeated R. W. Rowe in the final, 9—5. The other semi-finalists were D. J. Davies and A. H. Toms.

There are many promising juniors in this division, and we want them to handle their rackets as much as possible.

Under 15 Singles Handicap.—J. A. Parham (o. 15 3-6) and R. K. Wilson (o. 30) fought out the final of this event, and after an exciting game Parham won 6—2, 6—5. Wilson played very well to defeat E. C. Hutton, 5—6, 6—1, 6—5, in one semi-final, while both Parham and J. Tregoning showed fatigue before Parham won the other semi-final, 9—5, the game being much closer than the scores indicate.

Open Doubles Handicap—This year players were allowed to choose their own partners, the committee reserving the right to refuse any pair which it considered too strong. This event was very closely contested, and the finalists are to be congratulated on their play and determination. D. Keats and G. T. Keats (o. 30) defeated E. Freak and D. Cane (o. 40 3-6), 4—6, 6—5, 6—4, in one semi-final, while M. B. Wellington and W. H. Leak (o. 15 3-6) defeated J. Stephens and C. Compton (o. 40), 6—3, 4—6, 7—5, in the other.

Keats and Keats defeated Wellington and Leak in the final, 6—5, 6—5.

Under 15 Doubles Handicap—This was probably our most interesting event, as all the players showed great enthusiasm and sound knowledge of the game. The ultimate winners were C. Jew and G. W. Haines (o. 30 4-6), who defeated E. F. Johnston and L. W. Caust (o. 15 2-6), in a stirring final, 13/11.

The semi-finals were equally close and exciting, Jew and Haines defeating C. Dundas and R. J. Nightingale (o. 30 1-6), 15—13, while Johnston and Caust defeated A. F. Catt and A. G. Rowe (o. 15 3-6).

The biggest event, the Singles Handicap Open (80 entries), has yet to be completed, and will be continued next term.

In conclusion we must extend our many thanks to Mr. Luke, who throughout the year spends much time in coaching the team and also many junior players.

The work of running successfully a tournament of over 300 entries, and then of coaching a team to beat St. Peter's 15 rubber to love, indicates what he has done for us.

The first meeting of the Christian Union was held in the second week of the term. It was decided to hold meetings on Wednesdays and not on Fridays, as had hitherto been the custom.

We have to thank the following speakers for giving up their time to come and address our meetings.

The Rev. A. H. Woods, M.A., said that the Tongan boys were straightforward, sincere, and unashamed of their religion. Most of them would one day be missionaries in some of the uncivilized islands around Tonga. He then told a little story which one of the Tongan boys had given in an address. The young man had learnt that two times nothing is nothing; in the same way learning coupled with a total lack of religion is worth nothing.

Rev. C. W. Johnson took as text part of the first verse of the first chapter of Genesis, "In the beginning, God," and told us in a direct way that demanded individual attention, always to put God first in our thoughts whenever something new was to be undertaken.

Rev. L. Humphery, M.A., said that just as the airman is brave, who, trusting to his parachute, leaps out of an unsafe balloon, so the true Christian must have courage to face whatever happens, preparedness for it when it comes, and, above all, faith in our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ.

Rev. H. W. Jew said that a certain piano was upright, iron, and grand. We, too, should be upright in character; we should be as strong as iron in our power to stand firm and resist temptation, and we should be grand, with bodies and souls developed. Finally, as the piano is of no use without the musician, so we must have Jesus to bring out the beauty in our lives.

In the opinion of the Rev. Donald McNicol, every boy is intended by God to win. We must think, "God has given me the equipment of body, mind, and soul, and I can win." If we do not, we must somehow have taken the wrong turning. The Bible should be our finger-post. Success means, not the attainment of wealth, certificates, or cups, but "to be the best you can, with what you have and where you are."

The Head Master said that the world was in its present state of depression, not through democracy, as some people would say, but because it had used its freedom for its own selfish interests. We should follow the example of Christ, who lived a life of self-sacrifice to serve others, and in His teachings preached the same gospel.

Although there are sixteen hundred million people in the world, Mr. Hiatt said that only about fifty are our cordial friends. The basis of friendship is self-sacrifice. At school we make our best friends, and as we have a lasting influence on our friends we should make our friendships worth while. Therefore we must set an upright example. In older years it is good to look back on a fine school life.

The Rev. S. Forsyth ran briefly over the work in which he and his co-workers were engaged. They set up boys and men who had gone astray, possibly through force of circumstances. Then there was the Kuitpo Colony relief work, crowded evening services, and pleasant Sunday afternoons. During the week the Mission carried on many activities to help the poor children and their mothers.

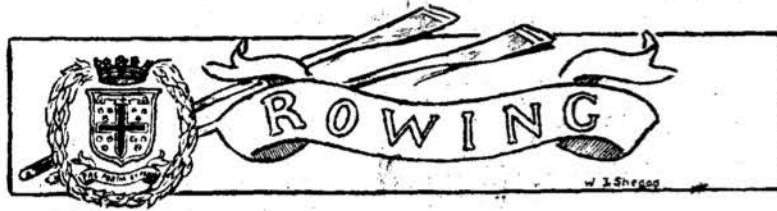

In an interesting address on the First Psalm and its beauties, Mr. Clarkson discussed each verse in turn, pointing out its wisdom and urging us to "know the way of the righteous; for the way of the ungodly shall perish."

The Rev. C. B. Holmes compared the Christian to a little British island called Prince Edward Island. Just as this tiny country draws its power and dignity from the British Empire, so we are part of the Christian Church, and draw our dignity and power to resist temptation from it.

In the last meeting of the term Rev. G. H. Pemberton told us to avoid aimless zeal, and "exercise ourselves" in the works of the Lord. Jesus in His first recorded words showed that He has an end in life. "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" His last words on the cross, "It is finished," are the words of one who looks back triumphantly on a life well spent in the service of humanity. Let us strive after the same end.

The attendances during the term have been very fair, although we should like to see them improved. As the speakers have only a limited time at their disposal, it would be better if some of our members were more punctual.

Early in the second week of the term a meeting of all boys interested in rowing was held to elect officers and take the names of any newcomers in the Club. Crompton and Hill, the only two remaining from last year's eight, were elected Captain and Vice-Captain respectively. Then King was chosen as Secretary, and Hamilton as Committeeman. We were pleased to see that there would be a greater number of boys to choose from for the Regatta crews than we have had before.

After four weeks' solid work the Selection Committee, Mr. McLean, Crompton and Hill, chose the eight. The competition was very keen, and it was found really difficult to make a final selection for positions 3 and 4. It was settled early in the term that Crompton should be stroke, and Hill 7. We did not have a particularly fortunate time during our training, as Hamilton (6) was out of the boat during the whole of the third week before the race, while King (bow) was unable to row on the Wednesday and Thursday immediately preceding the Regatta Day.

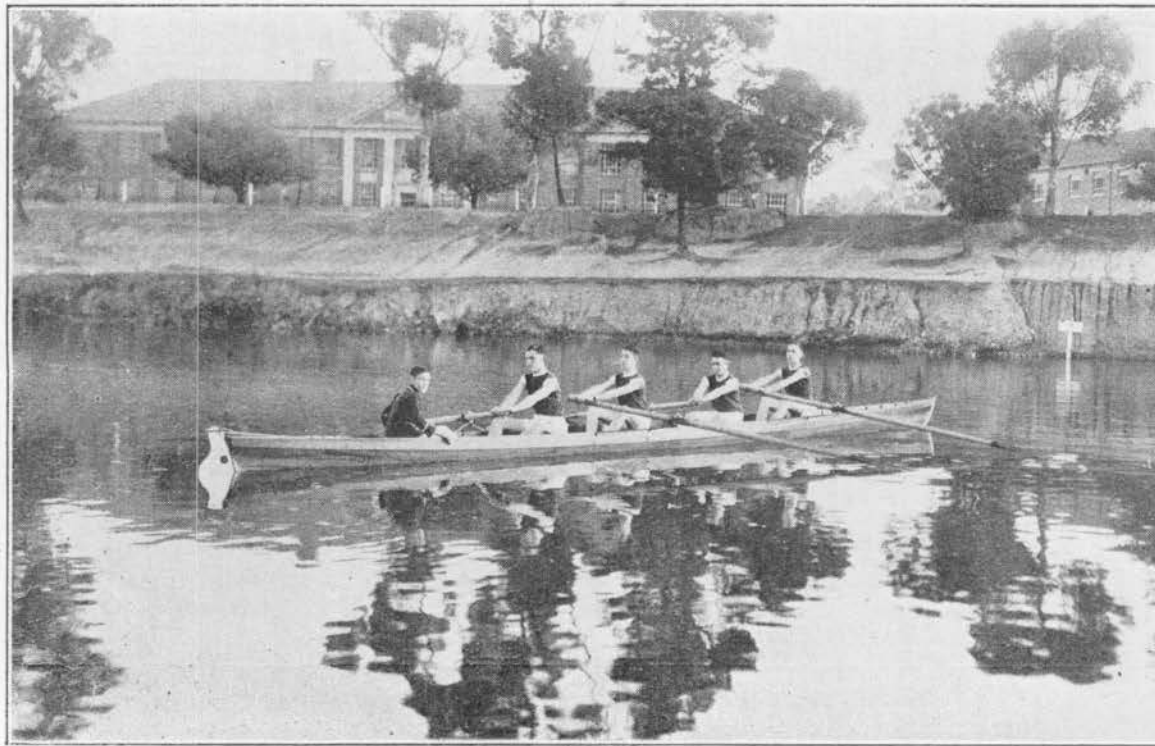

HEAD OF THE RIVER RACES.

When Saturday, April 29th, dawned, our hopes for fine weather were not disappointed. Curiously enough our first race was against Saints. We rowed to the weir, confident that we would get a better start than last year's, when staked boats were not provided. As the gun went off we got away well, a canvas ahead of our rivals. We both kept up a fairly high rating (40—39), and Morphett Street Bridge found us half a length in the lead. The strokes of both crews immediately quickened, and opposite Long Point, Saints were perhaps a trifle in the lead. But our last few strokes counted for much, and the judge's verdict was "Princes two feet." It was a hard race throughout, and after the Bridge it was anybody's. The time, 3.3, was fairly fast.

There was an hour and forty minutes before the final, and after a massage we felt perfectly fit. We hoped to win, as our time was $8\frac{1}{2}$ seconds faster than that of the Adelaide High School crew who had narrowly defeated Scotch in the first heat. In this race we again had a good start and remained half a length in the lead till we passed Morphett Street, when we quickened to 38, and passed the finishing line comfortably a length and a quarter ahead.

Our Eight is to be congratulated; although most of them had never been in a light boat before this term, they swung together throughout both races like old-timers. It was only our superior stamina and the determination of all to win that won us the day. We have had our shed only three years, but have twice won the Gosse and Blackmore Shields, and we hope the Old Boys do not regret having provided us with such wonderful facilities for carrying on the sport.

The Tub crews were selected a week after the Eight, but the Open Slides had a most unfortunate time. Three boys fell ill during the term and could not row, and then on top of all, the night before the race Auricht sickened, and the crew had to be scratched. We hope that Salmon and Wilson were not too disappointed.

The crews chosen were:—

Open Slides.

Bow, Dawkins, A. W. G.; 2, Auricht, J. A.; 3, Wilson, C. N.; stroke, Salmon, B. W.; cox., Cabot, G. A.

Tub Fixed (Open).

Bow, Lowe, K. M.; 2, Mattner, W. P.; 3, Tilbrook, P. M. T.; stroke, Eckersley, M. R.; cox., Smith, C. J.

Tub Fixed (under 15).

Bow, Pelham, K. V.; 2, Philips, D. C.; 3, Dunn, C. F.; stroke, Tregoning, J.; cox., Ford, B. E. C.

The under 15 crew is to be congratulated on winning both its heat and final. They rowed remarkably well for a junior crew, and Tregoning kept them hard at it. The other two crews, particularly the under 16, also put up a good performance.

Our Old Boys' Clinker Four, which consisted of:—

Bow, Walter, J. C.; 2, Ward, R. B.; 3, Jenkins, K. F.; stroke, Williams, J. C.; cox., Freburg, H. E.

rowed two fine races to beat A.H.S. and S.P.S.C. The final was very close. They must be heartily congratulated, especially since they were not able to get together often. Then, too, they are the first Prince Alfred Old Collegians' crew to win this race.

A great deal of the success of our crews this term must be attributed to the coaching they received. During the first few weeks, two boys from last year, R. B. Ward and E. B. Sims, spared time to come down and help. Throughout the term Mr. McLean has been hard at work with the eight, while Mr. Forrestal all the time, and Mr. Potts twice a week, have coached the tubs. During the last month, Mr. A. Grayson, an old boy of the School and a most experienced oarsman, was kind enough to assist in coaching the eight. We wish to say how greatly we appreciate the fine work of these men on our behalf, particularly Mr. McLean, and hope that our success has gratified them.

CRITIQUE OF THE EIGHT.

King, A. J. (bow)—A greatly improved oarsman. He should aim at more complete control of his slide and a smoother recovery. He has been a great worker, always keen to improve.

Barrett, M. J.—A well-built oarsman, capable of becoming an ideal No. 2. At present his reach is too short forward because of stiffness of body movement. This must be remedied.

Trott, A. K.—Considering the short period of training he had, Trott did well, but he has yet to acquire the skill which characterises the oarsman. Lightness of hands, smoothness of drive and power of finish are yet to be acquired.

Dunn, R. K.—He stood up well to the races and justified his selection. In training he at times finished short, failing to carry the stroke right through, and tending to meet his oar. We hope to see him eliminate this fault.

Head of the River Eight, 1933.

HEAT—Defeated S.P.S.C. by 2 Feet. FINAL—Defeated A.H.S. by $1\frac{1}{2}$ Lengths.

A. J. King (bow), M. J. Barrett (2), A. K. Trott (3), R. K. Dunn (4), J. T. Hiatt (5),
F. A. Hamilton (6), J. S. T. T. Hill (7), D. O. Crompton (stroke), J. I. Glasson (cox)

Hiatt, J. T.—His rowing during most of the training period was spoilt by stiffness of hips and lack of swing which caused shortness of stroke. In the last fortnight he overcame much of this trouble and rowed well in the Eights races.

Hamilton, F. A.—He has a splendid physique and natural aptitude as a rower. Smoother forward movement and greater control of his slide would improve his work. He did a lion's share of the pulling at No. 6.

Hill, J. S. T. T.—His liveliness at No. 7 was of great value to us in the last fifty yards of our race against Saints, when he rowed a powerful, clean blade. At times of less strain he frequently failed to concentrate sufficiently, and so fell into errors.

Crompton, D. O. (stroke)—His fine physique and great spirit never showed to better advantage than in the tremendous struggle against Saints. He not only rowed well, but knew what his crew could do, held them together, and inspired them with that grim determination which counted for so much in the final burst. It was a fine piece of stroking. In the final also, a much easier race, he rowed splendidly.

Glasson, J. I. (cox.)—He found an eight a different proposition from a four, and had difficulty in keeping a straight course, but did fairly well in the Regatta.

GENERAL.

This has been the happiest and most successful rowing term we have had. There has been a fine spirit of cheerful co-operation among all the boys, who worked with a will at their training, both in and out of the boat.

Our success in again winning the Gosse and Blackmore Shields has been not only a personal delight to us, but even more thrilling because of the pleasure it has brought the thousands of Old Collegians throughout the State. They can rest assured that we shall do our utmost to maintain the prestige the School has won on the river.

Intercollegiate Athletics

Although the weather seemed rather uncertain when the morning of the thirty-sixth Intercollegiate Sports dawned, by mid-day the clouds had cleared and the sports started under ideal conditions. The turf was springy and fast, and the weather was cool and clear, with a light breeze blowing from the west. After weeks of intense training our team was in the pink of condition and our spirits were high in the expectation of a close and exciting finish.

A few spectators had collected in the members' stand to see the first race, but their numbers steadily increased until there was quite a respectable gathering.

In the first race, the senior 120 yards Hurdles, all got away to a good start, but Hammill and Jay of Saints, drew ahead and gained first and second places, while Dawkins of Princes, ran third. The time was 16 2-5 seconds.

The day had not opened in our favour, but the tables were immediately turned, and Saints never regained their early lead. In both of the following two races our men ran first and second. In the under 16 100 yards Flat, Stain won from McBride in a close finish, his time being 11 seconds, and McGowan won the senior 100 yards flat in 10 3-5 seconds, while Edelman gained second place. We were now in the lead with 15 points to 10.

In the next race, the junior 100 yards flat, we gained all three places, West winning from Shaughnessy and Hill in 11 2-5 seconds.

In both the senior and junior high jumps which followed, the record was broken. In the former, Jay, who jumped confidently to win the event for Saints, went on and raised the record by $\frac{1}{4}$ of an inch, jumping 5 feet 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Stain of Princes also did well in this event, for, although he began rather uncertainly, he soon gained confidence, and jumped very well to win second place. The juniors again had outstanding success in their event, for apart from Marlow's excellent effort in raising the record by $\frac{1}{4}$ of an inch with a jump of 5 feet 3 inches, they also won the other two places, Craven being second and Shaughnessy third.

Toms gave a great exhibition in the 100 yards flat for Old Scholars, when he ran the distance in even time, equalling the record. He was followed by Campbell and Young, thus giving all three places to Saints.

In the next two events Saints were successful. Napier of Saints, won the 220 yards flat in 24 1.5 seconds, beating McGowan of Princes by a yard; while Jay won the putting the weight with a putt of 32 feet 8 inches; Chapman, our representative, was placed third.

The under sixteen 120 yards hurdles was won by Biven of Saints, in 18 seconds, while Monfries and McBride of Princes, were placed second and third.

When the afternoon tea interval came we were leading with 39 points to 34. The whole school to a man was jubilant with our rather unexpected success in so many events, and the excitement which had grown through the afternoon as we maintained our lead, was intense. Everybody was discussing the events which were to follow, and all expressed confident hopes of victory. As for the team, they were determined to keep their lead at all costs. We sat down to watch the afternoon out in an atmosphere electrified with suspense and excitement.

The first event after afternoon tea, the senior broad jump, was won by Jay with a jump of 20 feet 8 inches, while Playford won second place for us, jumping 20 feet 6 inches. Then Stain again came to our assistance and won the under 16 broad jump from Stephens, also of Princes, who came second. His distance was 19 feet 4 inches. We now led by 8 points.

We gained second and third places in the senior 440 yards flat. McGowan assumed the lead from the beginning, but he was beaten by a foot at the post by Napier of Saints, amidst deafening yells of encouragement, while Newman came third. Napier's time was 54 seconds.

West won the junior 120 hurdles for us in 19 seconds, while Trengove and McBride won first and second places in the 440 yards hurdles. We had pinned our hopes on Trengove, and he did not disappoint us. He and Inger of Saints, drew far into the lead from the beginning, and fought a duel for the inside running for the first 300 yards, but the pace was too hot for Inger, who dropped back and secured only third place. During this race the excitement in the Princes' stand knew no bounds.

The under sixteen 440 yards flat was another epic event for Princes. Lawrence of Saints, and Wellington and Stain of Princes, went ahead, but about a hundred yards from the tape the lead was taken by Wellington, who in turn was passed by Stain of Princes, who won by about four yards in 55 4.5 seconds, which broke the record by 1.5 second. This was Stain's third win for the day, while he gained second place in the senior high jump, and he must be congratulated on his excellent performance. We now led with 70 points to 51, and our victory was assured.

The results of the last race, however, the mile, were by no means in our favour. Our first man, Kemp, after running a plucky race, only managed fourth place. As we did not need any points in the mile to ensure our victory, Hill, our first man, did not run, as he was wanted to row in the Eight on the following day.

The final scores were 70 points to 60. We had won the athletics again after two years of almost record defeats. The day had been notable for the number of records broken. Those of the senior and junior high jumps, the 440 yards flat under sixteen were lowered, and that of the Old Scholars' hundred was equalled.

At the conclusion Bishop Thomas kindly presented the medals and handed the cup to the Prince Alfred captain, A. R. Trengove.

The School Sports

On Saturday afternoon, May 6th, the annual sports were held in delightful weather. An unusually large crowd of parents, relatives and supporters of the School attended and keenly enjoyed the enthusiastic rivalry of the competitors. The contest for the Cup was unusually keen, Hill being a dark horse, as he had done most of his training on the river. Trengove, who was runner-up for the Cup last year, and the under 16 athlete Stain, fresh from his victories in the Intercollegiate contest, were expected to clap on all sail and make the contest a stirring one. For a time it appeared that Stain had an excellent chance, as he tied with Trengove in the High Jump and then won the 220 Flat. Hill, on the other hand, could only manage to score 1 point in the first three events, but later he won the 440 yards flat, the broad jump, and ran strongly to win the half-mile from Trengove and Newman. The heats in the handicap events were well contested and provided many close finishes, so that the judges were given a busy time.

We were pleased to see so many Old Boys competing in the Old Scholars' events. The close finishes were a tribute to the handicappers.

In conclusion we offer our warmest thanks to the judges and to those who so generously contributed to the prize fund. The special thanks of all are also due to Mrs. D. Waterhouse, who kindly consented to present the cups and prizes to the successful competitors.

It would appear to be too late to mention events which occurred before Christmas, 1932, but we cannot let the annual cricket match between the Scouts and their parents pass unrecorded. The match was played on the back oval on Saturday, December 17th. With a strong determination to make a big score and avenge the defeat of the previous year, the parents batted first. Unfortunately determination seems to be rather inadequate when keeping a ball off the stumps is concerned, and against the bowling of Nolan and Johnston, there was only one to make anything of a score; Mr. Close got 61 of the 91 scored by the side. An adjournment was made for afternoon tea, kindly provided by the ladies, who also did their part in encouraging the players.

Nerved afresh, and with hope still springing strongly, for they did not know the prowess of certain of their number as bowlers, the parents took their places in the field. But vain the hope! The Scouts forgot the law of kindness, showed an utter disregard for their fathers' feelings, and knocked up a total of 136. Scores:—

The parents have vowed to have their revenge in December next, and we wish them luck!

This year has opened well with a Troop of 53, and Mr. M. D. Close doing good work as A.S.M. We shall not soon forget his work—and play—during the Christmas camp at the Shack. As an added incentive to work, there came, early in the term, the results of the examination, held by the St. John's Ambulance Association in connection with their Junior Course, which nine of our boys had taken; all passed, seven with credit, and we congratulate them on the results.

Thoughts of the State Corroborae and Show have been constantly in our minds, and some excellent work has been done, the results of which will be seen by those who visit the Exhibition between May 13th and 20th. It might be thought that an event like the Show Week calls for special work which the boys never think about at any other time. This is not so; our own exhibits, distributed between the various sections, are collections of various kinds, models, wireless sets, and various things required in Scout work, and are the results of work in which the boys are constantly engaged. Typical of this is the fact that M. Charlick, who is preparing a model boat for the Show, made for use at the Shack, an excellent safe 5 feet high, 4 feet wide, and 2 feet deep, complete with wire gauze and drawers; it was a great boon to us in December last.

During the term we have had two enjoyable outings, one to Morialta and Norton Summit, returning via Violet Farm Gully, and the other up Brownhill Creek, to Crafers Road, returning by way of Waterfall Gully.

Some of the Troop attended the Anzac Day Parade.

The competition for the Abotomey Cup has been fairly keen, the results for the term being as follows:—

Kangaroos, under R. C. Muecke	68
Eagles, under P. M. T. Tilbrook	77
Owls, under J. I. Glasson	65
Magpies, under F. P. Nolan	62
Woodpigeons, under S. Gilbert	57
Hawks, under R. Buick	66

Congratulations to the Eagles! And to the rest, remember there are two terms to go, and you will have to work hard to overtake and maintain a lead over those Eagles.

ASSOCIATION GAMES—FIRST XI.

The report of the activities of the Scouts Parents' Association has been held over till next term.

Finally, during the vacation, the P.A.C. troop won the Weigall Cup. As this is the third time we have won this trophy, it becomes our very own. Details of this are also held over till next issue.

ROVER NOTES.

All the Rovers of last year have left School, and so our first meeting this year was held at the Scout Shack at Bridgewater. We had an enjoyable meeting around the camp fire, every member being present. We slept soundly in the open air until the masters, Messrs. Gibbs and Mutton, awakened us all to go inside out of the rain. We returned home via Waterfall Gully. Our best thanks are due to those who provided for our transport. Three of our members are overwhelmed with University work, so are practically hors de combat. It is planned to meet on Monday nights, but the next meeting will be an investiture on Tuesday, May 31st.

We cordially invite any Old Boy who may be at a loose end on Monday nights to seek membership with us. He need not have been an ordinary Scout. Good fellowship and interesting, useful instruction are promised. Some of our members are to take a course in camp craft this winter.

the previous year. Our ambitions were not in vain, for in a very short while we had East Torrens Colts out for 80. To this small score we replied with 181. The principal scorers being Dawkins and Wellington, each 43, and Bond 39. Our opponents in the second innings could only muster 103, leaving us only three to make for an outright win. Holman and Trengove, our slow bowlers, were responsible for this win; Holman obtaining 5 for 19 and 2 for 34, and Trengove 2 for 17 and 6 for 30.

P.A.C. V. HAWTHORN.

This match proved to be a very dull match for us, for having lost the toss, we were sent in to bat on a rain-drenched wicket. Assisted by the wicket the Hawthorn bowlers found little difficulty in dismissing us, and it was not long before we were trying our utmost to dismiss our opponent's best batsmen before stumps. We were doomed to disappointment, for we were confronted with batsmen who were experienced enough to succeed on a wet wicket.

On the second day we did better in the field, but our batting was very disappointing. Holman's 5 for 18, was a very creditable performance.

P.A.C. V. P.A. OLD SCHOLARS.

For our last game of the season we met the Old Boys, and it proved a most interesting game. We batted first on a fair wicket, but were all out for 105, our early batsmen failing against D. Clarkson's fast deliveries. But our opponents were able to do very little better, and at close of play on the first day had scored 96 for the loss of eight wickets. When the game was resumed the following Saturday Trengove clean bowled Millen and the score stood at 97 for 9. The tail-enders were not at ease when facing Trengove's slows, and for a few minutes the School seemed likely to snatch a last-minute victory. The last two batsmen tried to steal a run and there was a good chance of a run out, but our fieldsman fumbled and the opportunity was gone. Willsmore opened scratchily against Trengove, but a couple of vigorous clouts soon settled the issue of the game. Willsmore then went on to make 37 by vigorous hitting.

P.A.C. V. METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The annual match against the Methodist Conference resulted in a decisive victory for the School. We took the opportunity of trying out some promising juniors, the best of whom was Tregoning, who secured four for 9. The Conference could only make 46, the Rev. Brown being top scorer with 20. We found little difficulty in passing their score and finished with a total of 172.

Stanford's 53 was a pleasing return to form, and included some very fine shots.

CRICKET MATCH V. THE TONGAN CHOIR.

We had heard much about the prowess of the Tongan cricketers, and especially about Henry Taliai, their fast bowler and opening batsman, and so it was with great interest that we awaited the day of the match.

The weather was all that could be desired, and when the swarthy Tongans trooped out in their white shirts and slurs, the oval looked a picture.

Quite a crowd of interested spectators assembled, including a large bevy of lasses from M.L.C., who thronged the grandstand, while autograph-hunters lurked here, there, and everywhere.

The School batted first, Holman and Dawkins being the opening pair, and Dawkins was in an aggressive mood. Henry Taliai opened the Tongan attack, and soon had Holman on the defensive. William Moeaki bowled from the other end, and Dawkins hit 14 off his first over. Dawkins hit freely at both bowlers, and when Holman was caught off Havili, the next bowler, Dawkins had made 41 out of the total of 47.

Wellington came in next and let Dawkins go for the bowling. After hitting a sixer off Moeaki, Dawkins was caught by him at long-on. Two wickets were down for 78, of which Dawkins had contributed 68. Allen came in, and then one of Havili's good length balls trapped Wellington, who was beginning to open his shoulders. Havili was bowling excellently, and took the wickets of Allen and Bond before they added much to the total.

Trengove lasted for a longer time and made 17 before he succumbed to the wiles of Havili, who had then taken six of the seven wickets for 37. Gibson was then caught off Moeaki after making 11. The innings was declared closed with the score at seven for 126. The fielding of the Tongans was rather patchy, but it was brightened by the efforts of two or three—Moeaki in particular, who took two magnificent catches in the outfield.

Henry Taliai and William Moeaki opened for the Tongans, and settled down to business at once. Henry lifted the ball high over the covers several times, but well out of reach. Both batsmen relished Wilton's fast bowling, scoring 28 off three overs. Trengove replaced Wilton, and the batsmen were at once perplexed by his leg breaks. It was apparent that fast bowling held no terrors for them, but that they were quite unused to spin bowling. Henry was stumped off Trengove's third ball for 25. The total was 42. Havea, the next man in, broke his duck, but at the same time Moeaki was run out for 14. Although both batsmen now in, burly David Havea, and slender John Vahai, were troubled by the slow bowlers, the score mounted steadily, until Trengove bowled Vahai. 3—6—67. Soon after Gibson bowled Daniel Ma'afu first ball, and the score was four for 76.

Havea and Paul Kogaika then began to give the outfield a busy time, but they were separated when Bray caught Kogaika off a powerful hit to leg. 5—5—88. Allen bowled a maiden to Havea, who caused much amusement by his contempt of any attempts to trap him; when he blocked a ball, hardly moving his bat, he would wave his hand derisively at the bowler; but when Holman was bowling, his hand went back to scratch his woolly pate in perplexity as the ball came off the pitch at every angle but the expected one. After a slogging innings of 24, he hit one hard to leg, where Bray, running in, took a fine catch. The remaining batsmen did not stay in long, and the Tongans were all out for 102. It was a pleasant afternoon's cricket, the happy smiles of our opponents being one of its least forgettable features. Scores:—

Boarders' Notes

At the opening of the term we were glad to welcome many new boys to our fold. They gave us an exhibition of their singing ability in the pavilion, but we were not very much impressed. Now that they have spent a term with us we hope to see them entering more fully into the busy life of the School.

This year we can boast five School prefects—Hill, Cane, Nicholas, Trescowthick, and Trengove, and these, as well as the House prefects, Edelman, Dawkins, Dickson, and Holmes, and the librarians, Andrews and Magarey, are to be congratulated on their appointments.

The Boarders wish to thank all those responsible for the wonderful improvements in the dining hall.

We have had a number of outings this term and the Saturday evenings have passed pleasantly enough. The Tongan Choir concert was a great treat, and by this time some of us were getting to know these happy islanders quite well. Then parties of us attended recitals by Clifford Lathlean, Philip Hargrave, and Peter Dawson, while the Headmaster very kindly granted us picture leave after the School's great victories in tennis, athletics, and rowing. That reminds us of the Boarders' Tennis Match against Saints, played at S.P.S.C. on April 8th, which we won fairly comfortably, 12 rubbers to 3 rubbers.

Nicholas and Bray defeated Hammill and Hammill, 9—5.

Nicholas and Bray defeated Brookes and Stokes, 9—1.

Nicholas and Bray defeated Gosse and LeMessurier, 9—3.

W. H. C. Cane and Ash defeated Hammill and Hammill, 9—4.

W. H. C. Cane and Ash defeated Brookes and Stokes, 9—1.

W. H. C. Cane and Ash defeated Gosse and LeMessurier, 9—4.

Haines and Sanders lost to Hammill and Hammill, 1—9.

Haines and Sanders lost to Brookes and Stokes, 8—9.

Haines and Sanders defeated Gosse and LeMessurier, 9—6.

Nicholas defeated R. D. Hammill, 6—2.

Cane defeated G. Hammill, 6—1.

Ash defeated Stokes, 6—1.

Bray defeated Brookes, 6—2.

Sanders lost to LeMessurier, 1—4.

Haines defeated Gosse, 4—1.

The House has to congratulate Nicholas on his inclusion in the Intercollegiate Tennis, Hill on being elected Vice-Captain of the Rowing, Trengove who was chosen Captain of the Athletic Team and of Cricket, and the following who were included in the Intercollegiate Athletics: K. M. McBride, P. A. McBride, Newbery, Trescowthick, Edelman, Shegog, and Trengove.

We should all like to express our deep sympathy with Jarvis and Mattner in their recent bereavements.

The Tongans—what fine chaps they were!—were to have stayed at the College, but as several of their number went down with measles, they all had to go into quarantine and so we did not enjoy as much of their company as we should have liked.

Cadet Corps

Our strength this year remains at about the same number as last year. During the first few weeks of term 28 recruits joined up and after they had been measured for uniforms we quickly settled down to steady training. After preliminary instruction, each of the recruits fired a course on the miniature range in preparation for an all-day shoot at the Port Adelaide Ranges.

Our Cadets again took part in the Anzac Day parade and acquitted themselves well. "Smart and well turned out," was the general verdict. We had an excellent muster, as over 90 per cent. of the corps turned out. The crowd thronged the streets more densely this year, and the whole parade was very impressive.

This year we entered a team for the Physical Training Contest at the Anzac Day sports, and we have to thank Warrant Officer Friday for the trouble he took in preparing us. Although competition in this event was not keen, our squad did well and has been awarded a trophy. Sgt. McGowan won the 220 yards flat for cadets, but was unable to run in the 100 yards event because the P.T. work was taking place. This was an oversight on the part of the officials, but McGowan showed what he could do a few days later on the Adelaide Oval.

On the last Monday of term the Cadet detachments of St. Peter's, Scotch, and Prince Alfred Colleges visited the Port Adelaide ranges. The weather was ideal, and the breeze dead calm. Hordes of mosquitoes took advantage of this and made us their targets. Major J. E. Lee, D.S.O., was range officer, and the practices were fired without a hitch. Our shooting was very good, and although complete details are not yet to hand, we may mention that out of a possible of 75, Playford scored 73, Holmes 72, Dickson 72, and Boucher 71—exceptionally good shooting.

The following end-of-term promotions have been made:—

Cpl. D. O. Compton to be Sergeant.

Cpl. R. J. A. McGowan to be Sergeant.

Cpl. H. B. Holmes to be C.Q.M.Sgt.

Cadet A. J. King to be Corporal.

Cadet F. A. Dibden to be Corporal.

Cadet A. J. Bloomfield to be Lance-Corporal.

Cadet M. J. Barrett to be Lance-Corporal.

Music Club

One outstanding item of interest this term was a visit to the Philip Hargrave concert at the Town Hall, where this marvellous boy pianist gave us some delightful numbers. The programme was quite different from the previous one, and included several favourites, the Moonlight Sonata of Beethoven and Liszt's Libestraume, No. 3.

Mr. Fred Williamson also delighted us with his songs, restrained and dignified, yet so sympathetically rendered.

Peter Dawson's concert, of course, brought forth much applause, and his encores gave as much pleasure as the concert numbers, "I Travel the Road" and "Boots" being inevitable favourites.

Associated with Mr. Dawson was Tapia Caballero, a noted Chilian pianist, who gave us quite a bevy of modern composer's works, which we appreciated.

A few went to St. Augustine's Church: Unley, for the Blessing of the Carillon of Bells. We heard Mr. John Horner, the organist and choirmaster, play several well-known chimes and hymn tunes, and were amazed at the beauty and tone effects of the bells. Most of us have had the privilege of listening to the Town Hall bells, which do not, to put it mildly, instil in us the greatest love for peals of bells.

Mr. George Pearce reports that Ash is doing very good work, and we must congratulate Trescowthick on being selected to play in the Conservatorium South Hall. We look forward to the time when he will play in the Elder Hall.

LIVES OF THE GREAT COMPOSERS.

IV.—FRANZ SCHUBERT.

Franz Schubert was born at Vienna on January 31st, 1797, and lived an extremely commonplace early life.

He showed remarkable talent in music, and at the age of fourteen had mastered the intricacies of counterpoint and harmony, and had composed quite a number of pieces.

Poverty was a great drawback to him in many ways, and we find him composing the celebrated "Serenade" on the back of a menu card.

Schubert was a great friend of the poet Goethe, and much of Schubert's music was inspired by Goethe's poems, e.g., "The Erl King." The celebrated opera singer, Vogl, much admired Schubert's songs, and sang them a great deal in the Viennese drawing rooms, thus adding to the composer's popularity.

Schubert composed 15 operas, but these are practically unknown except to musicians. His church music, including the great "Hallelujah," is still performed in Germany. Several of his symphonies are considered among the greatest of their kind. His pianoforte works are brilliant, and in the style of Beethoven, who was Schubert's artistic idol and model.

Schubert died in 1828, and it was his dying request that he should be buried by the side of Beethoven, who had died the year before.

Library Notes.

There are now something between 550 and 600 volumes on the shelves of the Memorial Library, some of which have been purchased by the School, and others kindly presented by past and present scholars.

There are books both for reading and reference on economics, science, the history of English, English literature (including verse, drama, and prose), biography, history, geography, and mythology.

The library is primarily for the service of members of the upper sixth form who are allowed to borrow books. It is invaluable as an aid in their studies, especially during the third term, when public examinations are looming large on the horizon.

Recent Additions:—"Adamson of Wesley, a Great Headmaster," edited by Felix Meyer. This is the biography of L. A. Adamson, C.M.G., M.A., headmaster of Wesley College, Melbourne, who died at the end of 1932, after being headmaster of Wesley for 30 years.

Shakespeare's "Macbeth" (Verity's edition), and "As You Like It" (Verity's edition).

In addition, The Shorter Oxford English Dictionary (2 vols.) was placed in the Boarders' Library.

Science students may be interested to know that we have a number of scientific works on order.

Preparatory School

PARENTS' SECTION.

For many years past methods of instruction have been subjected to searching criticism and examination, and systems of education have been put on their trial.

Among other things, need has long been felt for some corrective to a tendency in the general system to require, or at any rate permit, too great activity on the part of the teacher and comparative passivity on the part of the pupils. To promote industry, and create a real zest for learning, the position needs to be reversed; so that the pupils themselves engage actively in the business of learning, while the teacher keeps as much as possible in the background.

In this connection, a very interesting experiment is being carried out in our junior classes. By the introduction of certain well-tried features of the Mason method, it is hoped to develop at a very early age such power of concentration as will enable pupils to listen intently, observe carefully, and express their thoughts freely in good English.

The school is carefully observing every progressive move in the educational field, and is fully alive to the desirability of adapting to its use new methods of instruction made possible by modern science.

To ensure close co-operation between parents and teachers, and to stimulate healthy interest in all matter pertaining to education, very many English schools have deemed it wise to establish Parents' Associations, and reports indicate that these bodies are performing a very useful function in school life. No doubt the idea commends itself to many parents in our own community, and its adoption would prove distinctly helpful.

Without detracting from the merit of any boy's performance, it seems necessary to point out to parents that success in the classes is, after all, very much a relative matter. Consideration of age, health, etc., when taken into account, often indicate that a boy is doing quite well though he is many moves from top place. What really matters is whether he is tackling the work energetically and doing his best.

BOYS' SECTION.

A very satisfactory enrolment of new boys marked the opening of the year 1933. Difficulty was experienced in grading some; but nearly all have settled down well in their allotted classes, and have entered heartily into the life of the school.

It is encouraging to note that the number of parents who prefer their boys to commence school life in the Prep. is steadily increasing. Every break in school work necessitates a re-adjustment to new conditions, and tends to unsettle a youngster, whereas a definite, uninterrupted course of work is most likely to produce best results.

NEW BOYS.

J. G. Andrew, R. J. Andrew, P. D. Barlow, C. H. S. Dolling, S. G. Hiatt, M. R. Hone, R. E. Lang, H. W. Linn, C. R. Middleton, J. B. Ward, D. B. Cheek, B. M. Cheek, T. E. Cousins, R. C. R. Holder, G. J. Jones, D. R. Newman, I. B. Schafer, E. J. Symons, L. L. Tredrea, J. Waddell, C. A. Welch and H. W. Welch.

Of these, the first ten are sons of Old Reds, while Michael Hone represents the third generation of Princes men. Jack Andrew, his brother Ron, and Laurie Tredrea are boarders, and Howard Linn is to enter the boarding house next term. It is interesting to note that there are now enough doctor's sons in the Prep. to form a cricket team.

Max Tuit returned to the Prep. after a lengthy absence in the country. Ron Dixon paid an extended visit to Perth at Christmas and did not return to Adelaide till Easter. Graham Mitchell, who left with his parents for Singapore in 1930, received a warm welcome on rejoining the school in April.

Most boys are of a practical turn of mind and show a lively interest in machinery. To foster this interest visits are made to wharves, railway stations, and industrial plants as often as possible.

Early in the term a party journeyed by train to Belair, where a cricket match was played.

A few weeks later, at the kind invitation of Mr. J. E. Nobbs, thirty boys paid a visit to the Ayrbrook model farm at Aldgate, where they were right royally entertained by Mrs. Nobbs and her daughters. After inspecting the prize cattle and pigs, and the spick-and-span appointments of the farm, the boys devoted the rest of the day to cricket, pony riding, and (last but not least) eating. A gloriously happy day ended all too soon, and with lusty cheers for their host and hostess, the company reluctantly returned to the city.

A trip of outstanding educational interest and value was that made to the Electric Supply Co.'s power house at Osborne. Mr. W. H. Lang, an old P.A.C. boy, received his young visitors most courteously, divided them into groups, and placed them in charge of three of the Company's officers. On the river front the coal-handling plant and the pumping plant were inspected. Then in turn the groups visited the boiler house, the turbine generators, the control room, and the testing and repair shops. It was all very wonderful, and will certainly prove of great value in the science lessons. Many thanks, Mr. Lang!

No visit to Port Adelaide is complete without the joy of exploring a big vessel from bridge to propeller shaft. The boys who went aboard the Nieuw Holland were lucky enough to attract the notice of a Dutch engineer officer who understood exactly what boys want to know. His English was a trifle uncertain; but his activity in explaining the "insides" of a motor ship was most satisfying. After clambering up into a dummy funnel where the temperature was decidedly warm, some of the party were glad to cool off in the refrigerating chambers.

While at the docks keen interest was shown in the pile-driver and the travelling crane which were being used in the work of reconstructing portions of the wharves.

Mr. Nobbs again placed the Prep. under a debt of gratitude when he invited some thirty boys to the Rex Theatre to see an excellent programme, including a very instructive film depicting jungle life. Those boys who were able to tear themselves away from the enjoyment of the pictures had the additional privilege of entering the operator's box and seeing for themselves how films are projected on to the screen, and how the sound apparatus works.

Good work has been done in the games. Cricket matches against Wykeham and King's excited great interest, and revealed promising talent. A house-match gave several younger boys a chance to display their ability. The last game of the season was played against under Under 13B team, and provided a stirring finish. The boys are grateful to Mr. C. R. Davies for allowing them to have regular practice on turf wickets.

RESULTS OF MATCHES.

P.A.C. Prep. v. Wykeham—P.A.C., 201. James 42 (retired), Middleton 37, Gilbert 31, Brennen 22, Andrew 21, Hiatt 11. Wykeham, 38. Hiatt 4 wickets for 19; James, 3 for 13.

THE SHORTNESS OF LIFE IS A BLESSING.

When a fellow is born 'tis occasion to mourn
 And not to sing gladly and gaily,
 For he soon will find out that, beyond any doubt,
 All the things he can't do increase daily:
 He must always lie down and be quiet and frown
 If he has a slight pain in his "tummy;"
 And he can't suck his finger or even his toe,
 But must be content with a dummy.
 What a happy decease when the inventors of these
 Have to end their inventions depressing!—
 Oh! I think that with me you must surely agree
 That the shortness of life is a blessing.

When he gets a bit older and has to be told
 That he mustn't take jam from the pantry,
 And is order'd to wash all the mud from his face
 Just because he is going to see Auntie,
 He rejoices that death has arrested the breath
 Of dictators of maxims distressing.
 Oh! I think that with me you must surely agree
 That the shortness of life is a blessing.

When he goes off to school and is counted a fool
 If he can't subtract nothing from seven,
 Or is given the cane if he says it is plain
 That three from thirteen leaves eleven,
 He thinks: My confusion is only amusin'
 To masters who encourage my guessing!
 Oh! I think that with me you must surely agree
 That the shortness of life is a blessing.

When a chap has to learn all the writings in turn
 Of Cicero, Livy, and Caesar,
 And must study their styles and their tricks and
 their wiles,
 And must learn how magnificent these are,
 He exclaims, Well, I'm glad that their lives simply had
 To end some time—I don't mind confessing!
 Oh! I think that with me you must surely agree
 That the shortness of life is a blessing.

I don't know what's to come, but the prospects look glum
 If the past but presages the future:
 I would sooner contend from beginning to end
 With the troops of the Duke and of Blucher.
 But thank goodness, the folk who will play such a joke
 As to make us relate what's not in our pate
 And e'en do what we hate; yet, thank goodness, their fate
 Will compel them to cease their oppressing!—
 Oh! I think that with me you must surely agree
 That the shortness of life is a blessing.

"MY CABIN."

As the sun sinks to rest in a glorious flame,
 Firing the woods with its rays,
 It lights up a shack nestling high in the hills,
 The site of my childhood days.

But to me this small cabin's a palace of joy,
 Where I'm happy each hour of the day,
 Where my troubles grow light with the rise of the sun
 And the world keeps far away.

But now, I am thinking, my dreaming must cease,
 For dreaming is only a game,
 And my cabin is only a picture, set back
 In a dusty old wooden frame.

"THE BALLAD OF THE BRAVE LITTLE ARMY."

Now listen all you people
 (You will if you gather near)
 And I'll tell you of an army
 About which you ought to hear.

Now, sirs, this brave little army
 Went a-shooting one fine day,
 But one soldier shot the corporal
 In the middle of next May.
 Then a war against mosquitoes
 Was so bravely fought and lost
 That the soldiers in this army cursed
 And counted not the cost.

The lance-corporal of this army
 Was so fat he couldn't bend,
 So he couldn't dodge the bullet
 Which back-fired from t'other end;
 So they laid him by the roadside
 With the corporal his mate,
 Just as proof to other armies
 Of the sportiveness of Fate.

Then the general came and praised us
 Just because we were so brave,
 And ordered us to dig him
 Such a nice, large, quiet grave.
 We dug him one accordingly,
 So fair and deep and wide
 That he fell in love with it at once
 And then fell in and died.

Th' ossifers of this army
 Were all shot in the trench

For having inadvertently
 Cast sheeps' eyes at a wench,
 So we fought without our orders
 With passions quite unloosed,
 Till darkness came and fighting stopped
 And the 'squitos went to roost.

Now the history of this army
 You've been told from A to Z,
 Of their trials and tribulations
 And the way they plant their dead;
 And their fame shall prosper long mayhap,
 In the annals of our land,
 While mosquitoes carry on the scrap
 Overwhelming heroes grand.

A CHALLENGE.

As a confirmed disbeliever in superstition in any form, I had in a spirit of fun accepted a challenge to spend a night in the haunted chamber of Lord ——'s ancestral castle. When the time came to retire I went upstairs, accompanied by a few well-meaning friends, who gave me sundry pieces of advice about the best way to entertain the ghostly visitor, when he should arrive.

I went in, shut the door, and placing my candle on the table, took stock of my surroundings. There was the usual four-poster bed, chairs, a table, and heavy curtains round the window where an insidious fancy whispered that anything might hide. I dismissed the thought abruptly, and sat down in one of the chairs, wondering how best to pass the night.

I had left the window open, and a gust from the rising wind which was moaning drearily in the trees, rustled the curtains and blew out the candle. I was left in the dark. Not troubling to re-light it, or perhaps not desirous of moving too far from the door, I sat there, listening to the wind. Suddenly it dropped to a dead calm, and a deep silence followed—an unearthly silence, which gave free play to my vivid imagination, and peopled the room with a thousand hideous shapes.

What it was that first made me fall into suspicion I do not know, but gradually I realised that all was not right. There was an indefinable something, an aura of evil, which seemed to pervade the whole room, sapping my resistance and gripping me in its icy grasp.

I rose to move to the window and the fresh clean night air; my way was blocked by an impalpable Horror, bodiless and intangible, but nevertheless as real to my inner sensibilities as if I could see it. I turned to run for the door, but my legs were paralysed, and refused to move, so I collapsed helplessly in a chair. The Presence loomed huge over me, and I huddled in the chair, shrinking from the touch which I somehow knew would be inexpressibly ghastly in its effect.

The sound of voices, and a loud laugh broke upon my ears, and I looked round in bewilderment

—I had fallen asleep. I arose, still feeling rather shaky, and hurriedly made for the door, preferring the ridicule of my earthly friends to the torments of my "thick-coming fancies."

A VISIT TO P.A.C.

Our Alma Mater's not a Zoo,
 Yet as I pass her portals through
 And listen to the noises there
 I hear the growling of a Boer.
 One more discordant note I hear—
 The screaming of a dying Steer;
 A Lynas with a fearsome roar
 Has killed him with his mighty paw.
 And then the note of Nightingale,
 An invitation from the Male
 To Mrs. Finch, who's on her pat
 And does not see the prowling Catt—
 He disappointed seeks the bin
 And licks an empty Salmon tin.
 Enough of this, I hear you say,
 Let's go and hear the donkey Bray.

OUR COUNTRY HOME.

Heigh-ho for a country home!
 We all will farmers be,
 And we'll whistle and sing as our axes ring
 On the stems of each twisted tree;
 We'll plough the soil, and laugh as we toil,
 To think of our future crop;
 We'll sow the wheat in long-drawn rows,
 And when the slender wheat stalk grows
 The grain we'll strip off the top;
 And when our vacant days come round,
 We'll visit our friends in town,
 And taste for a while of the city's wealth,
 Where people envy our strength
 Though they laugh at our hands so brown;
 And when it is time to plough again,
 We'll return to the plentiful sun and rain,
 Of our good old country home.
 So here's to a farmer's healthy life!
 Heigh-ho for a country home!

"DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE."

The night in all its darkness,
 Fearsome was the cold;
 In all their icy starkness,
 The peaks showed clear and bold.
 In a cavern low and damp,
 About a bubbling cauldron sat,
 Illumined by a gutt'ring lamp,
 Three gruesome hags, a scraggy cat.
 Spake each an incantation vile,
 As she in turn with skinny hand
 The frothing pot did stir awhile,
 And poke with blazing brand.

And blood of vampire, poison-filled;
 With slimy ooze from stagnant mire,
 And heart of murderer, gallows-killed,
 Together sweltered on the fire.

Weaving spells of foul design,
 Hurtful both to man and beast,
 Spread their curses nine times nine,
 North and south and west and east.

Crash of thunder, booming low,
 Ghostly wailing full of woe,
 Reverberations deeply knelling,
 Disperse the silence of the dwelling.

And now the glow around the pot,
 Is hid beneath a murky pall,
 A flash, effulgent, searing, hot,
 Consumes the witches, cave, and all.

The mystery of the moors is lost;
 The sun disperses fast the gloom,
 And witches from their broom sticks toss'd,
 Flee the day which spells their doom.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

"What is the secret of success?" asked the boy.

"Push," said the button.

"Make light of everything," said the fire.

"Do a driving business," said the hammer.

"Read books," said the library.

"Do the work you are suited for," said the chimney.

"Work hard," said the iron knob.

"Don't gas too much," said the pipe.

"Don't get hot-headed," said the match.

"Be bitter against no one," said the lemon.

"Sing small," said the dwarf.

"Keep cool," said the ice.

"Be keen," said the knife.

The Objects of the Association are: To keep Old Boys, wherever they may be, in touch with one another and with the boys at the School; also to foster and maintain their interest in the School.

"The P.A.C. Chronicle," of which a large part is devoted to matters of special interest to Old Boys, is forwarded to each member of the Association.

"Old Boys' Week" is observed annually towards the end of July, during which a dinner and other social functions as well as sports contests are held. Also social gatherings are held whenever any occasion arises that makes them desirable.

The Association has donated the following Scholarships to the School:

Old Collegians' Scholarship.

J. A. Hartley Scholarship.

Fredk. Chapple Scholarship.

W. R. Bayly Scholarship.

A. G. Collison Scholarship (gift of the Princes Club to the Association).

The subscription is six shillings per annum. It is suggested that Country Members should remit sufficient to cover four years' subscription or become Life Members by payment of £5 5s. Any Old Boy wishing to become a member can do so by forwarding his name and address to the Head Master, or to any member of the Staff, or to one of the Secretaries.

ANZAC DAY RÉVERIES.

Amidst Australian gum surroundings, with the Adelaide Hills in the background, one of the many groups of Australians met on Anzac Day to do honour to our 60,000 men whose memories live increasingly.

Would that it were possible to have strewn the places of our fallen heroes with Australia's sweetest blossoms!

Instead, in common with tens of thousands of others, we could but pay homage with our thoughts in silent pilgrimage to Gallipoli, France, Flanders, Egypt, and Mesopotamia.

Those men of ours! The flower of our Nation! Their bravery beyond computation! Performing prodigies of valour against tremendous odds. They tenaciously clung to the cliffs of Anzac. There, as upon every front, their deeds are known.

"Dear Silent Hearts, Can you hear us tell?
You gave us the Victory, you who fell."

Could they answer, they would surely reply that they wished no such homage,—But—

"It is for us
Who live and have the things
For which they gave their all
To Ne'er forget
The fast increasing debt
Of love we owe
And ever and anon recall
What they have done
How they have fought and won!"

"It is for us
In Church and State
To set apart and dedicate
Our lives to God:
For such a use
That we may offer no excuse
When we go home,
And meet them face to face.

"And catch their smile,
And unashamed and unafraid
Strike hands with those we've loved
And lost awhile."

Our tribute of love is expressed in Memorial Hospitals, Memorial Parks, Broken Columns, Soldiers on Guard, Soldiers at the Salute. Is that to be all? "They gave us the Victory they who fell."

The best test of our tribute of love will be in the translation of the spirit of those memorials into everyday life; to hand on the victory granted to us as a greater victory in time of peace; to live to be worthy the silent salute of over 60,000 men.

The Challenge is from "height to height," to make this Nation, Australia, born amidst tremendous travail, an "ampler" place for the future generations.

The task of the present is to be faced unreservedly with the indomitable courage of those "silent Hearts who gave us the Victory."

Facing the facts, what are we doing unreservedly to make Australia "bigger?"

On the one side,—

The Legacy Club is doing a monumental work amongst the children; our soldiers in Hospitals receive the best care, the widows and the incapacitated are pensioned.

On the other side,—who dare think smugly of the future of the 5,000 lads annually leaving school in this State; which of us is content with the dole system, and who is satisfied with the general Australian attitude to the League of Nations?

The Anzac spirit challenges to give of ourselves to the uttermost. Well-worn platitudes could not have achieved the victory of war, nor can they ever achieve the desired victory of peace.

"Perish, then, self-interest in these days! Refuse to prefer to live without being bothered!

Pioneer, and be prepared to pay the price.

In a word, the final values of life are Spiritual—not economic and material.

These final values of life are in the last resort personal and individual.

They depend upon the individual and personal attitude towards One Who is the Exemplar of the Spiritual.

When Sir William Orpen was asked to paint the picture of the signing of the Peace Treaty of Versailles, he depicted the magnificent Hall of Mirrors in which was the bier of the Unknown Soldier. At each corner of the bier stood a shadowy form. Seen through the shadows the sunlight "tipped" the Cross, the only sign of sanity and hope.

The "Final" Values are at that Cross.

Anzac Day and 60,000 men—our men—challenge us the way of that Cross!

This then is to be ours, "The Spirit of giving and of living the ampler way and to hand on to the future generations a greater, grander Australia with its increasing message to the nations of the world."

Roll of Honour

On the walls of the Hall of Remembrance, as most old boys of the School are aware, are inscribed in letters of gold the names of Old Reds who served in the Great War, 1914-18. Lately, several omissions have come under notice, and the Headmaster would be glad to hear of any further names that ought to be there.

The following have been added recently:

H. P. Goode, T. E. Raine, R. Burkett, W. W. G. Allanson, L. G. Muirhead, S. H. Graham.

The total number of Old Boys who enlisted is, as far as we are aware, 880, of whom 119 paid the supreme sacrifice.

Purely Personal

The Chronicle Committee are ever on the look-out for some new feature for our School paper. This column is a new introduction, and we hope to record therein short items relating to our various members that may be of interest to their comrades. To keep the column going we shall be pleased to hear of any successes gained, promotions in the business world, successes in sport, etc. On this occasion we give our Junior members pride of place, and as many of those who recently left College will be interested to know what walk in life their School chums are pursuing, we have endeavoured to secure full details respecting all who left at the end of 1932, and give same hereunder.

John deVidas, Bill Dibden, J. L. Dunstone, Ian North, M. G. Sharp, H. G. Andrew and Eric Sims have commenced the Medical Course at the University.

R. W. Jew, A. W. Lemon, Lloyd Ryan, and J. H. Rowland have decided upon Law, and are attending the University for that purpose.

Ron Parker and Paul Henstridge have joined the staff of the Bank of Adelaide.

Bob Wright has secured a position as Book-keeper with Ernest Saunders & Co., and is also taking the Accountancy Course at the School of Mines.

Frank Parsons and K. F. Wildy are with the State Bank, the former at the Minlaton branch and the latter at Adelaide.

R. H. Annells has followed in the footsteps of his late father and joined up with the Union Bank.

H. W. Glastonbury is a Junior Clerk in the employ of Bunge (Aust.) Propy., wheat exporters.

A. J. Charles and F. J. Mableson are both with D. & W. Murray, Ltd., and the former is also doing the Diploma of Commerce Course at the University.

F. A. Jeffress is one of those who at the time of writing had not yet secured a position, but he is taking night lectures for a Science Course at the 'Varsity.

R. C. Yates is also at the 'Varsity, his choice of calling being Electrical Engineering and he hopes before very many years to have his B.E. Degree.

Charlie Bethune is another who is taking the Accountancy Course and is a junior in the office of Flack & Flack, of Grenfell Street.

Bill Shegog is at the School of Arts and Crafts and is taking a course in Commercial Art.

Harry Nicholls is also at the 'Varsity doing the B.E. course, with the idea of becoming a Mining Engineer.

M. D. Linn, Ossie Buttery, and Alwyn Edelman have joined their respective fathers in business.

Angus W. Muirden has secured his Diploma in Education, 1932, and his B.A. Degree, 1933, at the Melbourne University.

R. McK. Gollan has left the service of Elder's Trustee Coy., and has gone to London to take a position with McWilliams Wines Ltd., London House, New London S1, London E.C.3.

Mr. H. B. Piper has been appointed a member of the Statutory Committee of the Law Society of South Australia, in succession to Mr. P. E. Johnstone, who has resigned.

G. J. Kayser is at the School of Mines studying Industrial Chemistry.

A. J. M. Sharpe has written an interesting letter from London to the Headmaster. For many years he has carried on a Mining Consulting Office in London, but during recent years he has devoted his time and money to Biological Research work, and has extensive laboratories at Hertford, 14 miles from London. Sharpe claims some wonderful properties for a production introduced by him under the name of Vit-Alexin. If Sharpe desires to make his product known to the Australian public we would suggest that he forward samples to each of the Association secretaries. Both have aged considerably in their work of late. A sample for the City members' football team would, we know, be greatly appreciated, as many of their players have for years given indications that they are doing their iast kick.

Jack Williams and Colin Runge (members of our 1932 successful Rowing Eight), are still continuing to win races. Williams stroked the winning crew in the Old Collegians' race at the Head of the River Regatta. He and Runge won the Adelaide Rowing Club pair-oared contest.

Cecil R. Delbridge has been promoted to the position of Managing Director of Henry Berry and Co., Pty., Ltd., Adelaide. In this position he succeeds his father who recently passed away.

Mr. J. F. Ward recently proceeded to Sydney to attend the Headmasters' Conference. He was met at the station by Messrs. Alan Lyon, Bernard Berry, and Gordon Davey, who gave him a hearty welcome on behalf of the Sydney "Old Boys." At the Schools Club Ltd., Mr. Ward was entertained by the "Old Boys," and gave a very interesting resume of the early days, the history of the early foundation, and the magnificent contribution of generous benefactors, which greatly interested the "Old Boys" present.

Kenneth Hainsworth Kirkman, LL.B., S.M., Acting Deputy Master of the Supreme Court and Acting Deputy Registrar in Admiralty, has been appointed Deputy Master of the Supreme Court and Deputy Registrar in Admiralty, Division 2.

Brian Hone, son of Dr. F. S. Hone, of Adelaide, has been awarded his tennis blue for the match Oxford v. Cambridge.

Mr. T. H. Rowell, who has been appointed Chief Inspector, Railways and Harbours, in the Controller and Auditor-General's Department, came to South Africa with the South Australian Mounted Rifles in January, 1900, for service in the Anglo-Boer War. He joined the Imperial Military Railways in October, 1900, as a clerk in the Locomotive Department at Pretoria, and in 1903 was appointed accounts clerk in the Chief Locomotive Superintendent's Office, Central South African Railways, at Pretoria. In 1908 Mr. Rowell was promoted accountant in the Mechanical Department at Pretoria, and some two years later was transferred to the staff of the Auditor, Railways and Harbours, as inspector, spending five years at Port Elizabeth and seven years at Cape Town in that capacity. In October, 1922, he was promoted to senior inspector (Railways and Harbours) in the Controller and Auditor-General's Department at Johannesburg. He attended P.A.C. in 1894 and 1895 (School Reg. No. 2659). His address is Box 4506 Johannesburg, South Africa.

The University Council has appointed Dr. Alex. Burnard to the Staff of the Elder Conservatorium, as teacher of composition and orchestration.

G. G. Masson, who is Chief Agricultural Officer in Palestine, under the British Government, was tendered a luncheon by the Committee at the Grosvenor on May 10th last. Mr. Masson proceeded overseas with the 9th Light Horse as a trooper, and subsequently obtained the rank of subaltern. He hopes to return to Adelaide in July and attend the "Old Boys' Week" functions.

J. C. Roach, of the Newcastle Steelworks, Sydney, recently spent a holiday in Adelaide and paid a visit to the Old School.

W. R. B. White who has been studying engineering at the University, is leaving as assistant engineer on the motor boat "Bullaren," to continue his studies in England.

The friends of Mr. F. I. Grey, who is now living at Hawthorn, Victoria, will be pleased to hear that he is recovering from a recent operation.

The following members of the Association General Committee were recently appointed to the College General Committee:—Messrs. A. L. Bertram, P. R. Claridge, A. G. Collison, H. H. Cowell, T. C. Craven, S. W. Jeffries, R. Vardon, David Waterhouse, Dr. A. G. Trott, and Mr. L. B. Shuttleworth. Messrs. A. L. Bertram, H. H. Cowell, T. C. Craven, S. W. Jeffries, David Waterhouse, P. R. Claridge and L. B. Shuttleworth were elected to the Executive Committee, and of these the first five were subsequently elected to the School Council.

In making our enquiries for this column we were gratified to learn that so many of those who left College last Christmas are continuing their studies. In the present times when positions are not plentiful, and the employers can pick and choose, it behoves everybody to fit himself to give his employer of his very best. Our enquiries also brought forth many regrets that several of the boys that have recently left College have not yet been placed in situations. They are all good lads, and the Committee again appeals to "Old Reds" to communicate with the Secretaries if they can assist in any way.

State Parliament

As an Association we hold no political views, but we cannot let the opportunity pass without expressing our congratulations to those "Old Reds" who were recently elected to the State Parliament. From a national point of view we do, however, hope that the training and teaching at the Old School has better fitted them to govern the country. No fewer than seven "Old Reds" obtained the confidence of electors of this State in the recent elections, and it is a record of which this Association is proud.

Mr. S. W. Jeffries has been appointed Attorney-General, Mr. Herman Homburg (who has held that office in a previous Government), Dr. H. Basedow, Messrs. G. R. Laffer, F. T. Perry, H. H. Shannon, and R. W. R. Hunt are the other members.

Back Number of Chronicle Wanted

It is proposed to place upon the shelves of the Memorial Library a complete set of bound volumes of the School Chronicle. All back numbers are in the hands of the Editor except No. 100, pub-

OUTSTANDING SUBSCRIPTIONS.

There are approximately 1,200 ordinary members of the Association at the present time, and to collect a yearly subscription from each is by no means a light task. Our Secretaries who act in a purely honorary capacity and carry on the Association's work purely for the love of and in the interests of the old School and all that it stands for, are probably holding down a heavier job than any of its kind in Australia, and yearly the work grows greater. They do not complain, but still it is thought that members could assist them greatly by prompt and early payment of their dues. We ask any member to exchange places with them for a moment, and conscientiously ask himself what he would wish in regard to unpaid subscriptions. The answer would be, "Nothing would lighten my work so much as the early payment of all dues." That is the key to the solution. You know if your subscription is due. Send it along by the next post.

ASSOCIATION TOKENS.

Owing to increased cost of gold and manufacturers sales tax, Association Tokens will be issued to members upon payment of 20/- (in lieu of 18/6 as formerly). These remain the property of the Association, and are returnable if the holder ceases to be a member. To the end of April last 1,007 tokens have been issued.

LIFE MEMBERS' CERTIFICATES.

Life Members who have not yet received their membership certificates are requested to communicate with the Secretaries.

lished May, 1911. The Editor would be glad to hear from any old boy who has that number available.

Old Boys About Town

Shirley W. Jeffries was at the College from January, 1900, to December, 1904. From there he passed to the University in order to fit himself for the legal profession, and for some years now he has held a leading position in this city amongst those following that calling. He has for some years been a partner in the firm of Fisher, Power & Jeffries. He was recently elected to the State Parliament as a representative for the North Adelaide District, a distinction he had also previously held. Upon the formation of the present Butler Ministry, Shirley was appointed Attorney-General, an honour fittingly deserved, and one that reflects credit on his Alma Mater. Shirley Jeffries is at present a Vice-President of the Old Collegians' Association, a member of the Princes Club, and he plays a large part in the management of the College by virtue of his position on the House Committee.

Dr. Matt Erichsen was at College from 1899 to 1902, and then passed on to the University to study for the medical profession. He secured his M.B.B.S. degree in 1908, and eventually took up private practice at Pinnaroo and Lameroo. He later on returned to Adelaide, and has for some years past been one of our city's leading medicos. Immediately upon his return to Adelaide Dr. Erichsen attached himself to all organisations working in the interests of his Old School, and his loyal support has been of much value. He is a prominent member of the Old Collegians' Lodge, a Past President of the Old Collegians' Association, and a member of the Princes Club. Dr. Erichsen, better known as "Joe" amongst his Old School mates and friends, is of a particularly happy temperament. He can relate a good story, and any meeting he happens to attend should not be on the dull side. If there were more "Joe" Erichsens in South Australia, this State would have said good-bye to the depression long ago.

Three Generations

Mr. F. W. DUNN.

THE CROMPTON FAMILY.

A previous issue gave a record of the Cooper family in the life of the College. There have been other large families whose loyalty to and support of their Alma Mater has called forth appreciation, and whose record merit recognition in our pages. On this occasion we propose to give a few details of the Crompton family in the life of P.A.C. It will be seen that the first member of this family, "H.W.," entered the College in 1878, and he was in turn followed by Alf 1882, Owen 1888, Bob 1890, Tom 1892, John 1897. In 1906 the second generation was established, when Joe was enrolled, and he was followed by Lance in 1907, and Charlie in 1913. Alf Crompton sent his first son Dick to the School in 1916, and Peter followed in 1922. Owen's boy David, who has just cut a niche for himself in the College History by successfully stroking the College Crew, came along in 1922. We believe David is the last of the second generation, but already two members of the third generation are in attendance, as Joe sent along a son in 1931, and Lance another in 1932. Upon reference to the list below it will be seen that for practically the whole of the last 55 years the College has had in attendance a member of the Crompton family. Truly a wonderful record in the history of any large public school.

H. W. Crompton, July 1878—December 1885
 Alf Crompton, April 1882—December 1889
 Owen Crompton, January 1888—April 1894
 Bob Crompton, January 1890—December 1895
 Tom Crompton, April 1892—July 1897.
 John Crompton, July 1897—December 1903
 Joe Crompton, January 1906—December 1912
 Lance Crompton, February 1907—December 1913
 Charlie Crompton, Feb. 1913—December 1921
 D. W. (Dick) Crompton, May 1916—Dec. 1924
 Peter Crompton, February 1922—December 1930
 David Crompton, Feb. 1922—Still in attendance
 Alan Crompton, April 1931—Still in attendance
 J. W. Crompton, Sept. 1932—Still in attendance

Messrs. H. W. Crompton, Lance Crompton, Joe Crompton, Masters Jas. and A. W. Crompton.

The May, 1932, contained the complete record of all instances where three generations had attended the College, or so it was thought at the time. However, other instances of this loyalty to the Old School have been discovered, and later enrolments have added still further names to our list. The McBride and Davey families have unfortunately been hitherto overlooked, for A. J. McBride entered the College in 1883, his two sons, Phil and A. J., came along in 1907 and 1916 respectively, and Phil's two boys have been in attendance since 1927. Arnold E. Davey entered in 1877 and he sent along his three sons, Llewellyn, Bob and Reg, in 1892, 1901, 1906, respectively. Llewellyn's boy entered the school in 1929. Thomas H. Davey followed his brother in 1879—his son, Gordon, came along in 1899, and he sent his two sons in 1923 and 1926 respectively.

Another Crompton, a son of Lance, was enrolled in September, 1932, whilst in February of this year Les Bunday, Dr. Ray Hone, and Charlie Catt sent along their sons, thus calling for entries on our Generations Board.

The complete record is as follows:—

Obituary.

CORRECTION.

In the December issue of this Magazine the death of Chas. G. Tiver was reported at Fullarton on 10th December, 1932, aged 59 years. The deceased did not attend P.A. College. The Mr. Chas. G. Tiver who entered the School in 1875, College Reg. No. 445, is still living at No. 114 Partridge Street, Glenelg. The error is regretted.

ALBERT G. BROADBENT, School Reg. No. 2291, attended College, 1891, died at No. 70 Watson Avenue, Rose Park, on the 2nd April, 1933, aged 54 years.

Dr. R. D. BRUMMIT, who entered the School in 1894, College Reg. No. 2650, died at No. 1 Harrow Road, St. Peters, on the 21st May, 1933, aged 51 years.

W. A. L. CASELY, who entered College in 1878, College Reg. No. 667, died at Malvern, S.A., on 27th January, 1933.

FRANK H. COUNSELL entered the School in 1878, College Reg. No. 632 (Life Member No. 216), died at Brighton, S.A., on the 4th February, 1933, aged 68 years. He was a member of the firm of Davies, Wooldridge & Counsell, architects, and was well known for his integrity and ability. He served his articles in the office of the late Mr. James Cumming, after which he did good work in the Architectural Departments of the Public Services of Victoria, Western Australia and South Australia. Early in this century he went into practice in this State. He designed and erected several well-known Adelaide buildings, including the Liberal Club building on North Terrace, and the State Bank in Pirie Street. Outside his profession he took a whole-hearted interest in many useful works and pastimes, and here, in particular, he won the affection of his fellows. He was a director of the Blackwood Cold Stores, a very active unit in the Liberal and Country League and the Citizens' League, a conscientious member of the committee of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and of the Brighton Baptist Church. He was an enthusiastic bowler, and a life member of the Sturt Cricket Club. He was also instrumental in founding at Brighton an offshoot of the Eucalyptus Society, under the name of The Associates.

PERCY JOHN MARSHALL, College No. 2903, attended P.A.C. in 1896, died suddenly at No. 24, Seventh Avenue, St. Peters, on the 19th May, 1933, aged 50 years.

DAVID ROBERT OSBORNE, School No. 2472, attended P.A.C. 1892-1899, died at Fremantle Road, Gosnells, on the 21st February, 1933, aged 53 years. The deceased was formerly Major of 15th and 16th Royal Scots and Northumberland Fusiliers. He took a keen interest in sports, and was President of the Gosnells Cricket Club and Vice-President of the Gosnells District Football Club.

Dr. HERBERT FRANK SHORNEY, School No. 2026, entered College 1889 (Life Member 183), died at Cambridge Terrace, Malvern, on the 2nd May, 1933, aged 55 years. He was a leading authority in diseases of the eye, ear, nose, and throat, though his most brilliant work, for which he was noted throughout Australia, was performed in ophthalmology. Son of Mr. George Shorney, of Semaphore, where he was born in 1878, he began his medical studies at the Adelaide University. He completed his course at the Melbourne University, graduating with the degrees of M.B., B.S., and later taking also the degree of M.D. For the next two or three years he practised in New South Wales, and then went to London for post graduate work. He was entered as house surgeon at the Middlesex and Golden Square Throat Hospitals, and while there was admitted to the degree of F.R.C.S. at the London University. Before returning to Australia he studied eye, ear, nose, and throat diseases in Vienna and other European centres of research, which he again visited six or seven years ago. He began practising in Adelaide in 1908, and the same year was appointed honorary ophthalmic surgeon at the Adelaide Hospital, a position which he held for 25 years. In addition, he was for many years lecturer and examiner in ophthalmology at the Adelaide University. He was a foundation member of the Australasian College of Surgeons, and was a prominent figure at medical congresses in Australia and New Zealand. Dr. Shorney was the author of a number of papers dealing with the diseases of which he had a specialised knowledge, and his views attracted widespread attention. Apart from his work, in which he was absorbed, his chief delight was his garden. He was also extremely fond of music. For many years he was a member of the Lodge St. Albans.

GEORGE EDWARD EVERS (College Reg. No. 281), entered College in 1872, died at Toorak, S.A., on 19th May, 1933.

DR. HERBERT BASEDOW, M.P., died suddenly at his home, Pirie Street, Kent Town, on 4th June, 1933. Dr. Basedow, who was 52, had been ill for about three weeks, but seemed to have recovered during the past few days. He appeared to be in perfect health when he had a sudden relapse.

Dr. Basedow was elected as an independent member for Barossa in the Assembly at the general election in April. He represented the district in the 1927-30 Parliament. He was a son of the late Mr. M. P. F. Basedaw, who was at one time

Minister of Education in the South Australian Government.

Dr. Herbert Basedow was born at Kent Town, South Australia, and was educated at the College, the School of Mines, Adelaide University, and the Universities of Heidelberg, Göttingen, Zurich, and Breslau. He was the leader of a number of Government and private geological exploration expeditions into the interior. He was formerly Government Geologist, Chief Medical Officer and Chief Protector of Aborigines in the Northern Territory, and State and Commonwealth Aborigines Commissioner. On three occasions he was attached to vice-regal expeditions, travelling with Sir George LeHunte, Sir Tom Bridges, and Lord Stradbroke. His degrees included Bachelor of Science (Adelaide) and Doctor of Philosophy (Breslau). He was a Fellow of the Geological Society.

Dr. Basedow had lived for many years among the aborigines, and was the author of books on the Australian aborigines. In 1930 the Lands and Survey Department at Darwin called a peak near the headquarters of the South Alligator River "Mount Basedow." He was an honorary life-member of the Adventurers of the World, an American institution. Dr. Basedow discovered a new pandanus palm in Arnheim Land, Northern Australia, in 1931, and the botanists of the Royal Gardens, Kew (England), honored him by naming the palm Pandanus Basedowii.

DR. HANS HAMILTON MACK entered College in 1872, College Reg. No. 230, second son of the late Rev. H. Mack, formerly of Adelaide, South Australia, died recently (about August, 1930), at Epsom, England, at the age of 69 years.

Dr. Mack was born in Adelaide in 1861. He had a brilliant scholastic career at the College, of which he was captain, and at the Adelaide University, of which he was one of the first three graduates. Dr. Mack graduated in arts at the age of 18. Two years later, at the age of 20, he left Australia and resumed his studies at the medical school of the London University. After his graduation there he practised medicine in London for the rest of his life.

Dr. Mack leaves a widow, two sons, and three daughters, and several brothers and a sister, who are well-known in Sydney.

EDWARD JONATHAN GLYDE entered College 1875 (College Reg. No. 409), died at Adelaide on 30th April, 1933. Aged 74.

Old Boys' Week

On another page will be found the programme for the celebration of "Old Boys' Week," and we trust that this year's functions will be even bigger and better than on any previous occasion. An appeal is made to members for their assistance, as our Hon. Secretaries have a task that probably no other two men would entertain for a moment in an honorary capacity. A little consideration on the part of members will lighten the work and add to the comfort and pleasure of others. A few remarks about some of the events follow:—

The Bridge Evening has been moved forward and now becomes the first event of the week. Arrange for your partner early, and forward both names to the Secretary. Last year Saints won easily, and facetiously contend that it was as it should be, as all the brains were on their side. Support this function (not Saint's contention) and help to make it a permanent event in our programme.

The Lacrosse, Hockey, Baseball, and Football matches remain as is usual, but a change has been made in the Golf Match. On this occasion it will be played on Wednesday instead of Monday as heretofore, and Mount Osmond links will again be used. Thursday will see the celebration of "Old Boys' Day." We really do want all Old Boys to visit the School on this one particular day. The Old Boy of 50 years ago should fraternise with the "Old Boy" of yesterday. On this occasion it is proposed to issue a special invitation to be present to all those who entered the College over 50 years ago, and it is hoped to secure a group photo of these early builders of the traditions of P.A.C. The youth of to-day will scarcely raise any objection to their predecessors being thus singled out, for if they hang on long enough their turn will surely come. Will those "well respected, lackadaisical, don't care a hang" country members who know anything at all about kicking a football and are able to come along please send your names in to the Secretaries. The Secretaries can no doubt say which of you owe your subscriptions, but you cannot expect them to know the football ability of you all. Therefore send your name in and send it along early. Last year some names were received as late as the day before the match. This is not a post entry event, but a keen game of football for which your selector desires to arrange the best team to carry your colours and to prove victorious over your city rivals.

It is with the greatest pleasure that we announce that the address at the Old Scholars' Service will on this occasion be in the capable hands of our Past Headmaster, Mr. W. R. Bayly. During a period of 28 years many tasks in the work of the Association have fallen to Mr. Bayly's lot, but it is believed that this is the only one that he has not handled. It is needless to say that he will carry his job through with the brilliant thoroughness that has marked all his work, and the Committee ask you to make a special effort to be present on that occasion.

The Annual Dance will again be held at the Palais on the Friday night. Some of the older members of the Association will remember the first dance that was ever held by our organisation—the Committee of that time have reason to do so for after weeks of work there was an attendance of 42, and many chaperones. The attendance has since grown year by year, and on the last occasion we passed the 800 mark. Will it touch the 1,000 this year. The Committee are very jealous of the reputation of this annual gathering, and they particularly ask that no member be guilty of any action that will tend to distract from its good name.

Yorke's Peninsula Combined Dinner

The Seventh Annual Dinner of the Old Collegians of St. Peter's and Prince Alfred Colleges was held at Minlaton on Tuesday, May 16th, and in accordance with the custom of your Association, in its endeavour to foster Old Collegian sentiment in the country, your Committee was represented by Messrs. W. S. S. Gilbert, H. W. A. Miller, and Malcolm Joyner. Mr. Miller flew across in a Moth plane piloted by Mr. Joyner, and Mr. John Hill, acting Headmaster of St. Peter's, chose the same mode of transport, in a plane which was in charge of Mr. Jack Sands, an Old Blue. Mr. Gilbert travelled by the out-of-date and more uncomfortable method, viz., the motor car. On arrival at Minlaton all delegates received a hearty welcome from those who had been responsible for the organising of the function, and there is not the slightest doubt that the interest taken in these gatherings by the parent Associations is greatly appreciated by those resident in the country. The function was held at the Minlaton Hotel, and an attendance to the full seating capacity of the dining room, partook of an excellent repast. Various toasts were honoured amidst enthusiasm during the latter half of the evening, interspersed by musical items of a very high order.

The toast of the Colleges was in the hands of Messrs. V. K. Roberts (P.A.C.) and Dr. A. B. Russell (S.P.S.C.), and this was replied to by Mr. W. S. S. Gilbert (P.A.C.) and Mr. John Hill (St. Peter's). The Association's toast was proposed by Messrs. E. E. Lloyd and L. F. Hayward, and replied to by Messrs. H. W. A. Miller and J. C. Sands. Our "Old Masters"—those to whom we owe so much and whose memories will always be revered—were not forgotten, and Messrs.

R. S. Correll and P. N. Wood spoke on their behalf, whilst Messrs. J. Hill and M. Joyner responded.

The whole programme was carried through with enthusiasm, and the writer, who has attended several such functions, gives the prize to Messrs. A. G. Opie, R. S. Correll, and the other members of their Committee for their excellent efforts in the interests of Old Collegians' sentiment. It has been suggested that a vote of thanks be passed to those exuberant spirits who held an additional function after the majority had departed, and that they be congratulated upon their pianoforte selections which were so soothing to the rest of the household. Such musical ability is wasted in the country.

Old Scholars' Tennis

The annual match between teams representing this Association and St. Peter's Old Collegians met at St. Peter's College Courts on 8th March last, and although the "Reds" secured an easy victory by 8 rubbers to 4, some excellent games were played.

A. G. Edwards and A. N. Dawkins (P.A.C.) overwhelmed their opponents. Ron Hone and G. M. Hone were only able to play one set against Baudinet and Porter, which they won 6-4, 6-1.

J. L. Allen and R. Forsyth (P.A.C.) lost to T. Heath and W. A. Scales, 3-6, 3-6, and lost to A. Turnbull and Fotheringham, 5-6, 3-6, but defeated Evans and Stokes, 4-6, 6-5, 6-4, after a very interesting rubber.

A. G. Edwards and A. N. Dawkins (P.A.C.) defeated T. Heath and W. A. Scales, 6-2, 6-1, defeated A. Turnbull and Fotheringham, 6-2, 6-5; defeated Dr. H. Nott and Porter, 6-0, 6-3; defeated Evans and Stokes, 6-4, 6-1.

F. E. Piper and G. W. Baker (P.A.C.) lost to T. Heath and W. A. Scales, 2-6, 0-6; lost to A. Turnbull and Fotheringham, 6-2, 4-6, 5-6, after a hard-fought rubber; defeated Dr. H. Nott and Porter, 6-3, 6-5; defeated Evans and Stokes, 6-5, 6-2.

Dr. H. Nott (S.P.S.C.) was called away and unfortunately several rubbers were unfinished, but these would not have affected the ultimate result of the match.

Old Scholars' Cricket Match

The Old Scholars' Cricket match was played at St. Peter's grounds on Wednesday, 8th March, and resulted in a win for the "Reds" by 3 wickets and 24 runs.

St. Peter's batted first. P. K. Lee 40, J. Ray 59, and R. E. N. Twopenny 24, were the only players to offer much resistance, and the score showed 180 at the fall of the last wicket. This was a splendid recovery after the board showing 7 for 85. Scores:—

L. S. Walsh and R. G. Williams opened the innings for us, and the latter fell an early victim to Pellew, and the scoring board showed 1 for 2. R. R. Wright then went in and the score was carried to 99 before these two were separated. L. S. Walsh scored 72 before being stumped off Fenner, and Wright reached 48. N. A. Walsh 38 retired, brought our score up to 7 for 202 at the call of time.

Old Collegians' Bowls

The Annual Bowls Match with St. Peter's Old Boys was played at the Toorak Bowling Green on Thursday, 9th May, and resulted in an easy win for our team. Once again both Associations have to express their appreciation of the action of the Toorak Club in placing their beautiful Club House and Greens at our disposal. It is an ideal location for a social match of the nature of ours, and such generosity lightens the work in connection with the function and is a big factor in its success. The full scores are as under:—

--------------------------------------	----

In conclusion we cannot but express our grateful thanks to Mrs. A. B. Jones and Misses Todd and Cooper (3) who worked late into the night attending to our inner wants.

That they provided a dainty supper was the opinion of all, and only those behind the scene really know how large is the part these ladies play in the success of such a function. We would be lacking in courtesy if we did not express our thanks and acknowledge the extent of our helplessness without their aid.

Old Boys in Sport.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

The Cooper family have produced many good rifle shots, and early in the year some magnificent performances were recorded. T. F. G. Cooper, of Port Adelaide Club, who was champion short and middle range shot two or three years ago, recently showed a brilliant return to form by scoring 75 of a possible 80. On the same day, in the Metropolitan Club competition, T. E. Cooper led with 80, amongst other scores being A. L. Cooper 79, S. R. Cooper 75, and R. S. Cooper 70. A. L. Cooper also showed his marksmanship by scoring two eight-shot possibles at Port Adelaide on the following Saturday.

CRICKET.

We congratulate R. G. Williams upon his selection to play in International cricket against Jardine's XI. on the Adelaide Oval in the match England v. South Australia. He fully justified his selection.

TENNIS.

In the recent Metropolitan Tournaments the School Boys' Championship was fought out between E. Freak and R. Lock, the former winning 6—3, 6—3.

In the Men's Doubles Plate, E. Freak and partner defeated F. R. Hone and partner, 6—3, 6—3.

In the Men's Second Open Doubles Finals, D. R. W. Cowan and partner were beaten, 6—2, 6—1.

In the Metropolitan Singles Championship T. G. Luke won the final, 6—3, 6—2, and in the Metropolitan Association Doubles, T. G. Luke and partner also won, 6—3, 6—1.

Men's Doubles Championship.—In the finals G. M. Hone and partner won after an exciting game.

INTER-VARSITY CONTESTS.

The following "Old Reds" left with the Adelaide students to compete in the Inter-Varsity sports:—

Athletics: C. F. Chapple, W. D. Verco (Captain), I. R. Nicholson.

Rowing: W. D. Chapman.

Rifle Shooting: G. and A. Cooper.

AVIATION.

Flying Officer E. A. Kayser has received a commission in the Royal Air Force, and is identified with No. 56 (Fighter) Squadron, North Weald, Essex.

Quite a number of Old Reds are interested in aviation, and the following are a few of the pilots who are doing their bit to uphold the prestige of their Alma Mater:—M. S. Joyner, W. J. S. Maddocks, Lindon Wood, J. A. H. Caskey, and Ian McTaggart. Every Old Red will be glad to know that the latter has made a wonderful recovery from his injuries received in a crash in 1931.

M. S. Joyner has again been elected to the Committee of the Aero Club of S.A., of which he is a leading pilot.

J. A. H. Caskey, who, as far as is known was the first Old Red to be trained in motorless flying, has been elected President of the Northern Gliding Club. This club is the only active club of its kind in the State, and is honoured with the distinguished patronage of Air Commodore Sir Charles Kingsford Smith, A.F.C., K.B., M.C. Incidentally Lindon Wood was the first Old Red to obtain his "A" ticket in civil aviation at Parafield.

So successful was the attempt to bounce the ball to start the Town versus Country match last year from a plane flown by Malcolm Joyner and John Caskey, that the pair have offered to repeat the "show" again this year. Rumour has it they have declared their intention of eating their helmets if they don't improve on their previous effort.

Malcolm Joyner also piloted H. W. A. Miller to Minlation, where they attended the recent reunion dinner.

Cricket

PRINCE ALFRED OLD COLLEGIANS' ELEVEN.

A very successful season was enjoyed by the Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Cricket Team, who finished up in the second position on the premier-ship list of the Adelaide Turf Cricket Association.

Eleven matches were played—two were won outright, six were won on the first innings, two were drawn, and only one match was lost—a very creditable performance.

Throughout the season the side bowled consistently well, and generally the fielding was good, although occasional dropped chances proved very costly. The batting of the team was fair, the outstanding batsmen being H. G. Prest and R. A. Woods. H. N. Shepley, coming into the team late in the season, registered a first-class performance and headed the averages. The team possessed three or four all-rounders who did well, as a reference to the averages will indicate. As a wicketkeeper Male showed great improvement as the season progressed, and did well.

In our last issue particulars were given of the first five matches for the season, and details of the subsequent matches are given below:—

JANUARY 21 AND 28, V. PAYNEHAM.

In this match the club suffered its only defeat for the season. Payneham batted first and were helped materially by dropped chances. Still, the wicket was anything but good, and credit must be given to our opponents, who compiled 241. (A. C. Wilton 3/46, R. Johnson 1/25, H. P. Kirwood 3/47.) Old Collegians failed dismally and could manage only 130. (H. G. Prest 48, Male 15, Jackett 13, Millen 12, A. C. Wilton 13.) Prest's innings was particularly good. Following on, our tally was taken to 84 with the loss of only two wickets (Woods 43 not out, Stapley 24 not out.)

JANUARY 30 (FOUNDATION DAY), V. O.S.P.S.C.

This proved to be a very enjoyable all-day match, and resulted in a victory for our side. Rain threatened in the morning, and caused several interruptions in the pre-lunch session. St. Peter's won the toss and began well, reaching 55 before the first wicket fell—indeed, with only four wickets down for 156, a big score looked certain, but Saints collapsed after lunch before some steady bowling, and their innings closed for 172. (H. N. Shepley 2/65, F. Jackett 1/19, H. P. Kirwood 1/22, L. S. Clarkson 5/25.) An interesting finish seemed probable when five P.A.O.C. wickets had fallen for 81, but L. S. Clarkson and H. G. Prest added 63 at a critical time, and Millen and H. N. Shepley, who was playing his first match for the season, carried the score past our opponents' total, and when stumps were drawn the score was 7 for 256. (R. Johnson 13, Woods 25, H. G. Prest 50, L. S. Clarkson 41, Male 14, H. N. Shepley 59 not out, A. S. Millen 35 not out.)

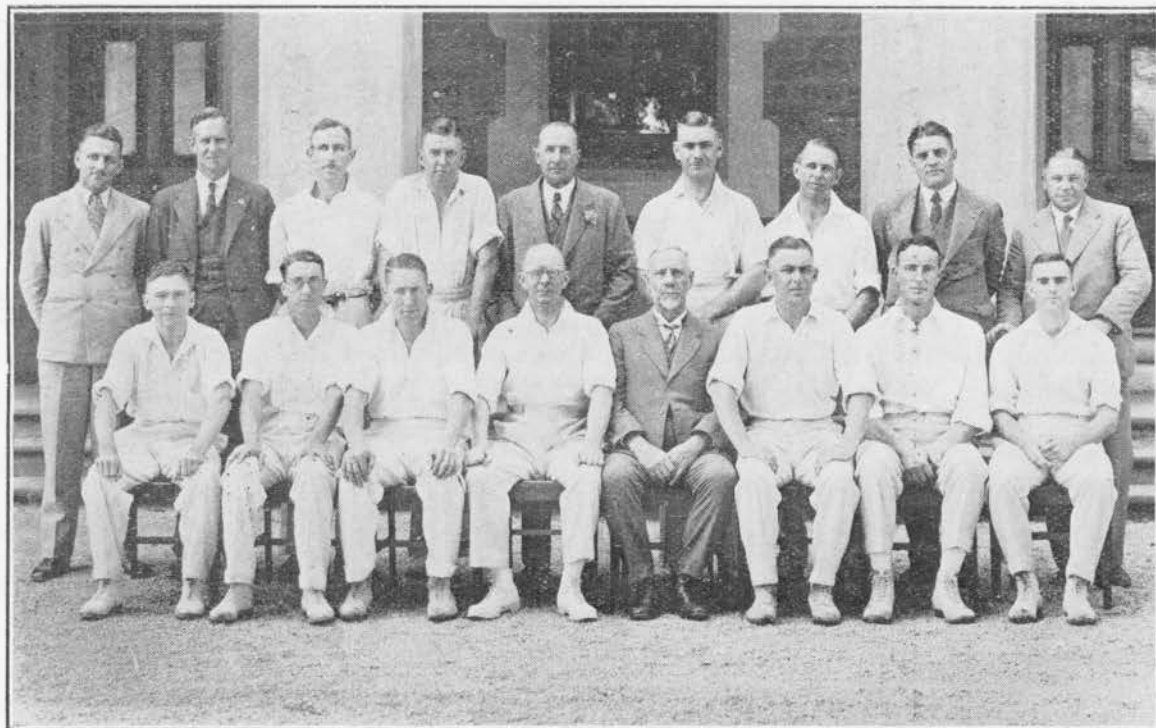

FEBRUARY 4 AND 11, V. EAST TORRENS COLTS.

This match resulted in another victory for the Old Collegians. On the first day the Reds batted first and stayed at the creases all day, compiling Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Cricket Team, 1932-33.

260 for the loss of eight wickets. (R. Johnson 18, Woods 47, H. G. Prest 27, H. P. Kirkwood 48, L. S. Clarkson 11, H. N. Shepley 62, A. C. Wilton 16 not out.) Woods and Shepley both batted extremely well, the former livening up after a slow start, and Shepley showing refreshing enterprise throughout. East Torrens Colts were dismissed for 119 (H. N. Shepley 6/20—this completed an excellent double for the match—A. C. Wilton 1/14, H. P. Kirkwood 1/14, Hancock 1/14.) In their second innings P.A.O.C. lost four wickets for 33 runs, but L. S. Clarkson collected 32 not out in a quarter of an hour and played out time.

FEBRUARY 18 AND 25, V. ST. PETER'S COLLEGE (at St. Peter's College).

This match, contested in ideal conditions, resulted in an outright win for the Old Collegians. The College side, containing many new and inexperienced players, failed rather badly. However, some of their players showed distinct promise. The College batted first and were dismissed for 105. (D. A. Clarkson 3/22, A. C. Wilton 2/13, H. P. Kirkwood 4/21, L. S. Clarkson 1/11). To this total P.A.O.C. replied with 139, the batting being distinctly patchy. (Woods 17, L. S. Clarkson 16, H. N. Shepley 19, H. P. Kirkwood 20, D. A. Clarkson 15.) In the second innings Saints scored only 67. (H. N. Shepley 3/26, H. P. Kirkwood 3/21, D. A. Clarkson 1/4, L. S. Clarkson 2/6), leaving the Old Boys 34 to win. This task was accomplished by the medical profession, A. C. Wilton and H. G. Prest getting the runs between them.

MARCH 4 AND 18, V. PAYNEHAM.

Play in this game was restricted to the second day only. The wicket on the first day was ruined by rain; the captains disagreed regarding the fitness of the pitch for play, the Payneham captain being anxious to proceed, but the umpires, to whom the decision was left, decided against play. On the second day the Old Collegians did extremely well to dismiss the strong Payneham side on a good wicket for 164. (H. N. Shepley 3/41, A. C. Wilton 1/27, H. P. Kirkwood 1/23, L. S. Clarkson 4/23), but as the innings did not terminate until 5.20, there was no chance of a decision, the Reds compiling 58 for three wickets (Woods 33 not out, Stapley 16). Actually this match lost our side the premiership honours. Had a first innings win been recorded, an unbeatable lead would have been established, but as the match ended in a draw, the Hawthorn team drew level, and in the next match passed the Old Collegians.

MARCH 25 AND APRIL 1, V. PRINCE ALFRED COLLEGE (at P.A.C.).

The first day's play was extremely interesting. The College players were dismissed for 105 (D. A. Clarkson 5/15, H. N. Shepley 2/26, H. P.

Kirkwood 2/39), and when stumps were drawn the Old Boys, who had hit out in an endeavour to head the School's total before stumps, had lost eight wickets for 96. On the second day D. A. Clarkson and Willsmore provided a hectic half-hour's hitting, and carried the score to 145 (H. G. Prest 17, Dodd 21, L. S. Clarkson 15, H. N. Shepley 18, J. W. Willsmore 37 not out, D. A. Clarkson 21). Apparently content with a first innings total, the School made no effort to force an issue, and batted for the rest of the afternoon for 160. The College players bowled very well indeed, Trengove in particular, spinning the ball disconcertingly and in their second innings Dawkins batted with assurance and perfect execution.

At the conclusion of the season, the Captain, L. S. Clarkson, on behalf of the players of the team, presented a framed photograph of the players to the President of the Association, Mr. A. G. Collison. Mr. Collison had taken an interest in the Club's doings during the season, and it was hoped that this photograph would be a memento of his term of office.

Averages for the season are given below:—

OLD COLLEGIANS' FOOTBALL CLUB.

The current football season opens with brilliant prospects of annexing the premiership honours in Amateur League A2. The club has been fortunate in retaining all officials and nearly all players of last season.

A few old scholars whom we might well have expected to see with us have failed to turn out with the club. This is very unfortunate, because without the support of fellows leaving school the club must fall from its present high position, and may even in the future be forced out of existence through lack of playing supporters.

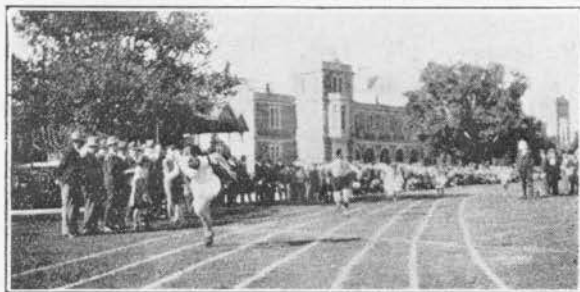

This may be taken as an urgent appeal to all Old Collegians who are seeking exercise or recreation, to rally with the Old Collegians instead of joining other clubs, and in so doing retain their school day associations.

Coach Keith Jackson, as energetic and keen as ever, has the complete confidence of every member of the club, and is quite confident that he can send the team soaring into Amateur League A1 in 1934.

The B team, with its many ardent younger members has transferred this year to the Students' Section. This was done at the request of the combined colleges, who felt that the competition in their association needed strengthening.

We cannot hope to thank the College authorities sufficiently for their interest in the club and also for the generous use of the College grounds both for training facilities and matches.

The club desires to thank the Patron, President, and Vice-Presidents for their interested support and financial assistance in these depressing times.

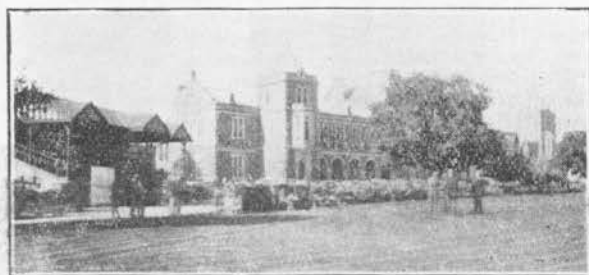

440 YARDS OLD SCHOLARS' RACE, 1933.

Successes of Old Boys

Lindsay C. Dawkins, younger son of Dr. S. L. Dawkins, has passed an examination which entitles him to become a member of the British Institute of Structural Engineers. For some months Mr. Dawkins has been assistant engineer to a firm of architects which is building the new premises of the Institute of Architects in London.

OFFICIALS AND SPECTATORS AT ANNUAL SPORTS.

Who Holds the Record?

We frequently hear that certain boys attended the College for very lengthy periods, and if those tales be true then many of those for whom the honour is claimed must have very closely approached to the age of Methuselah when they commenced to make their way in the larger school of life. Two boys who left College at the end of 1932 have outdistanced all their rivals. Graham Andrew entered the College at the opening of school in 1921, so that he was a P.A.C. boy for 12 years, whilst R. H. Cox entered in May, 1921, and therefore had an attendance record of 11 2-3 years. It is desired to keep an authentic record of such long attendance, and therefore we give a list (as far as is known) of those who were with the School for 10 years or over:—

The Princes' Club

Members of this organisation will no doubt be wondering why the usual annual meeting, which hitherto has been held in April, has not yet been announced. Private urgent business, coupled with the Association work has prevented Mr. Miller from devoting any time to the "Club" work, but he hopes to make up the leeway shortly. The Club had a good financial year, and was able to wipe out its previous overdraft and to pay all expenses.

The following paid their subscription for 1932, and the Committee desire to thank all for their loyal support of their Alma Mater. We will not enlarge herein upon the wonderful influence the work of the Club has had on the life of the College. Members can realise that for themselves, and can pride themselves upon the good work each is doing:—

Interstate Branches

BROKEN HILL.

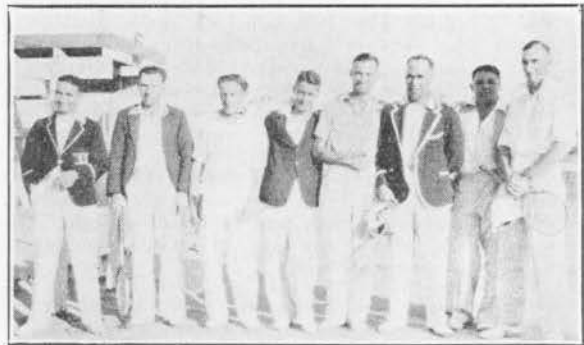

At a meeting of Old Prince Alfred College Boys in Broken Hill on the 10th inst., it was decided to make every effort to form an Old Scholars Branch there. About fifteen members were present, and there are many more on stations in this district. Dr. H. R. Branson was elected Chairman, and a Committee was appointed. St. Peter's have a fairly strong Branch here, and we have already had a few matches with them in various sports. Would any Old Scholar in this district who would be willing to join and who has not been communicated with, please notify Mr. W. B. Coombs, Hon. Sec. pro tem., c/o National Bank of Australasia, Broken Hill.

TENNIS.

A tennis match was played recently on Heuzenroeder's courts between representatives of Prince Alfred and St. Peter's Old Collegians. Saints were successful in winning six rubbers out of seven, with one rubber drawn, unfinished.

Results:—

W. A. Cranz and L. Voss Smith v. L. T. Wreford and L. Edelman, 6—2, 5—6, 6—3.
 B. D. Sweetapple and C. H. Moore v. W. B. Coombs and Ben Griff, 2—6, 4—6.
 C. A. Ferry and F. C. H. White v. Dr. Branson and W. A. R. Morrison, 6—4, 6—5.
 R. L. Watson and R. E. Warburton v. B. Gordon and E. Allen, 6—3, 6—1.
 Cranz and Voss Smith v. Coombs and Griff, 6—2, 6—3.

Princes—L. Edelman, E. Allen, B. Gordon, W. B. Coombs, L. T. Wreford, W. A. R. Morrison, B. Griff, Dr. Branson.

Sweetapple and Moore v. Wreford and Edelman, 1—6, 6—4, 6—2.

Ferry and White v. Gordon and Allen, 6—0, 6—3.

Watson and Warburton v. Dr. Branson and Morrison, 6—4, 4—6 (drawn, unfinished).

St. Peter's, 6 rubbers, 94 games.

Prince Alfred, 1 rubber, 66 games.

Quite a number of both our Old Boys and Saints were present as spectators. An enjoyable afternoon was spent, and it was decided that another match be arranged for the near future.

OLD SCHOLARS AT BROKEN HILL.

A cricket match against St. Peter's Old Scholars was played on 11th December last at the Quondong Hotel. The Quondong is a typical "bush pub," about 30 miles from Broken Hill. Cars left Broken Hill about 9.30, and the Quondong was reached at about 11. This included a very necessary halt at the Blazing Stump, 10 miles out, where radiators, etc., were filled.

After a little light liquid refreshment, the temperature being well over the century, the pitch was inspected, cleaned of gibbers, etc., and found to be in quite good order. Arthur Lewis was appointed as our skipper, and "Stump" Pincombe for Saints.

Saints won the toss and batted solidly until luncheon, 6 for 71. Every score had to be run, so that everyone was quite ready for lunch, which proved to be a lively success.

At 3 p.m. Saints 15th and last wicket fell, all out for 166.

We opened with Williams, an all round score, and Wheaton, who just failed to reach double figures. Saints were particularly lucky there, as "Rusty" had made 67 the day before in A Grade cricket at Broken Hill. Arthur Lewis and Lionel Edelman pulled the score up by scoring 30 and 29 respectively. Comments from the fielding side were very frequent, and personal, whilst the umpire came in for his fair share, there being many run out and l.b.w. decisions. We finished with a "bumping pitch and a blinding light," with a total of 119 for our 13 wickets, giving Saints a comfortable win.

Three cheers were given and received, and an adjournment was made to the hotel. Everybody had an excellent day's sport, etc., and it was unanimously decided to make it a yearly function.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

PERSONAL.

It is pleasing to note that O.P.A.C.'s in W.A. were successful in agricultural contests as the following will show:—

The Royal Agricultural Society of W.A. hold annually in several zones, 50 acre crop competitions which are adjudged for yield, freedom from weeds, a maximum of 100 points being fixed. F. S. Freebairn, who was at P.A.C. 1917-19, and has a farm at Kulin, gained first prize of £10 in zone 7, and a special of £5/5/- for the highest calculated yield. The names of O.P.A.C.'s who contested, with their zones and points awarded for above conditions, are as under:—

Zone 1, P. T. Morecombe, Coorow, 1903-4. 3rd in zone, 34/50, 9/10, 9/10, 13/15, 13/15, total 78/100.

Zone 7, F. S. Freebairn, Kulin, 1st prize, £10. in zone, 47/50, 9/10, 8/10, 13/15, 13/15, total 90/100.

Zone 7, S. J. Trestrail, Karlgarin, 1920-22, 4th in zone, 36/50, 9/10, 8/10, 14/15, 14/15, total 81/100.

Zone 8, C. E. Cockram, Gnowangerup, 1912-13. 1st prize in zone £10, 45/50, 9/10, 9/10, 14/15, 14/15, total 91/100.

Both Messrs. Freebairn and Cockram have been prize winners in previous years.

Mr. Morecombe is a noted fat lamb raiser also.

Another good win, but in a different line, is that of Mr. Alex. E. Grant, of "Yanget," Geraldton, who is a prominent breeder of Illawarra Shorthorn cattle. In purebred herd testing one of Mr. Grant's cows obtained the highest result of any cow in the test over all those in the State for the twelve months ending June 30th, 1932. The term was for 273 days, and yield of milk from his cow 13,921 lbs.; yield of butter fat, 557.63 lbs. Mr. Grant was at P.A.C. about 1897/03. It should be stated that the cattle testing is done by the Agricultural Department, and no awards are granted.

Bert Randell is now playing the Wurlitzer organ at Hoyt's Regent Theatre in Perth. Practising assiduously, putting in often 14 hours a day. He was at P.A.C. 1918-22.

CRICKET.

O.P.A.C.'s met O.S.P.C.'s at cricket at Claremont last February, on nicely couched grounds in beautiful weather. Play commenced at about 11.30 a.m., and was only left for a most enjoyable luncheon, when each party toasted the other to "For they are jolly good fellows" and for afternoon tea.

The Princes were captained as last year by G. L. Burgoyne, who won the toss from Halcombe, and elected to bat. We missed this year C. E. Cockram and L. B. Wilson, who both bowled very well for us last year, and Rev. H. H. Fennell, who could not attend. Notice was probably not sufficient for the two former to get down from their country homes. Princes bowlers were F. C. Waldeck, G. L. Burgoyne, W. B. Chapman, H. G. Eaton, and E. G. Playford. As wicketkeeper Wm. Stokes was again outstanding, and some very fine fielding was done for both sides.

Princes present and their years were as follow:—

A. Schedlish, 1927-9; S. J. Dimond, 1904-9; E. G. Playford, 1917-21; Wm. Stokes, 1896-98; W. C. Fawcett, 1899-02; S. G. Sowden, 1898-03; H. V. Throssell, V.C., 1896-02; F. C. Waldeck, 1917-19; W. E. Southwood, 1896-7; G. J. Whyte, 1893-7; E. W. Cotton, 1876-87; H. H. Wheatley, 1897-03; W. R. Rogers, 1901-3; S. M. Wreford, 1902-4; W. B. Chapman, 1919; G. L. Burgoyne, 1901-3; E. T. Armstrong, 1915-16; G. C. Jackson, 1901-5; A. L. Humphries, 1919-21; H. G. Eaton, 1918-22; G. J. Seppelt, 1901-4.

About an equal number of Old Saints were on the grounds, and the usual friendly feeling obtained throughout. Many ladies, representing both sides, graced the proceedings with their presence during the afternoon, and partook of tea with the Old Scholars. Scores as follow:—

NEW SOUTH WALES.

The New South Wales Old Prince Alfred Collegians' tendered a "welcome luncheon" at Farmer's on Tuesday, 6th February, to Mr. H. W. A. Miller, the popular joint Hon. Secretary of the Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Association during his business visit to Sydney. Every seat in the room was occupied. The toast, proposed by the President (Mr. Allan Lyon) eulogised the guest for his personal qualities, and expressed a sense of appreciation for his capacity to serve others before self. A high tribute was paid to Mr. Miller's sense of personal application to accomplish definite results, and he was assured of the wholehearted appreciation for his years of service as the moving spirit in our Old Collegians' Association activities. He was also asked to convey our congratulations to his son, Dr. Malcolm Miller, upon graduating at the Adelaide University, and a suggestion was made that "Mit" would consult the doctor regularly, ensuing fitness for his various endeavours. Rev. N. C. Goss, who is always at his best in our gatherings, supported the toast in his own inimitable manner. Mr. Miller received hearty applause and a cheery welcome on responding. His resume of the Association's affairs, and details of happenings, records of scholastic achievement, athletic events at the College, all proved interesting. Clem Hill accepted our unanimous invitation to join the gathering, as he happened to be in Sydney as manager of the South Australian cricket team. His welcome was very hearty and spontaneous. He had a toast all to himself. We felt very proud to have him amongst us, and will look forward to another opportunity. Sir Hugh Denison, in his happy and delightful style, proposed the toast, and referred to Clem as "the man who played the game for the game's sake." Clem was cheered "three times three," and in his response very modestly expressed his pleasure at being amongst boys of his old School. Bernard Berry, bright and cheery, proposed a toast, "The Pioneers," as Mr. W. J. Millner No. 6 on the Old Scholars' Roll, and Mr. F. J. Beach were present. He epitomised the real worth and permanent value of the pioneers of the School, and its Old Scholars' Association, and the two oldest old boys seemed very pleased. But brevity and humour punctuated their respective replies. "Fred," said "Bill," did not have it on his own anyway, and "Bill's" rejoinder was equally appropriate. It was a happy function on a bright day, and the School is all the better for it.

The Acting Branch Secretary is Mr. Allan Lyon, No. 350 George Street, Sydney.

VICTORIA.

Mr. W. A. Leitch, general manager of the Union Bank of Australia, has been appointed Chairman of the Associated Banks of Victoria.

Mr. Leitch has had more than 40 years' banking experience, dating from 1890, when he entered the service of the Bank of South Australia. Two years later, when that bank amalgamated with the Union Bank, he joined the staff of the latter and acted in its accountancy department at Adelaide and later at Brisbane and Wellington, New Zealand. While in New Zealand he was promoted to the management of the Wanganui branch, and in 1912 was brought back to Australia. After experience in management at Townsville and Newcastle, Mr. Leitch was appointed inspector for Victoria, South Australia, and Tasmania. Later he became permanent inspector for New Zealand, and in 1927 he returned to Melbourne as chief inspector. In the following year he became general manager of the bank.

The Victorian Branch will hold its annual dinner on Thursday, the 27th July. In view of the pronounced success of last year's combined dinner with St. Peter's Collegians' Association, we shall probably hold a similar function this year, but details have yet to be arranged.

Melbourne Old Boys warmly appreciate the news sent over from time to time from Adelaide. Results of the intercollegiate matches and Old Boys' contests are always eagerly awaited, and it is hoped that the practice will be continued.

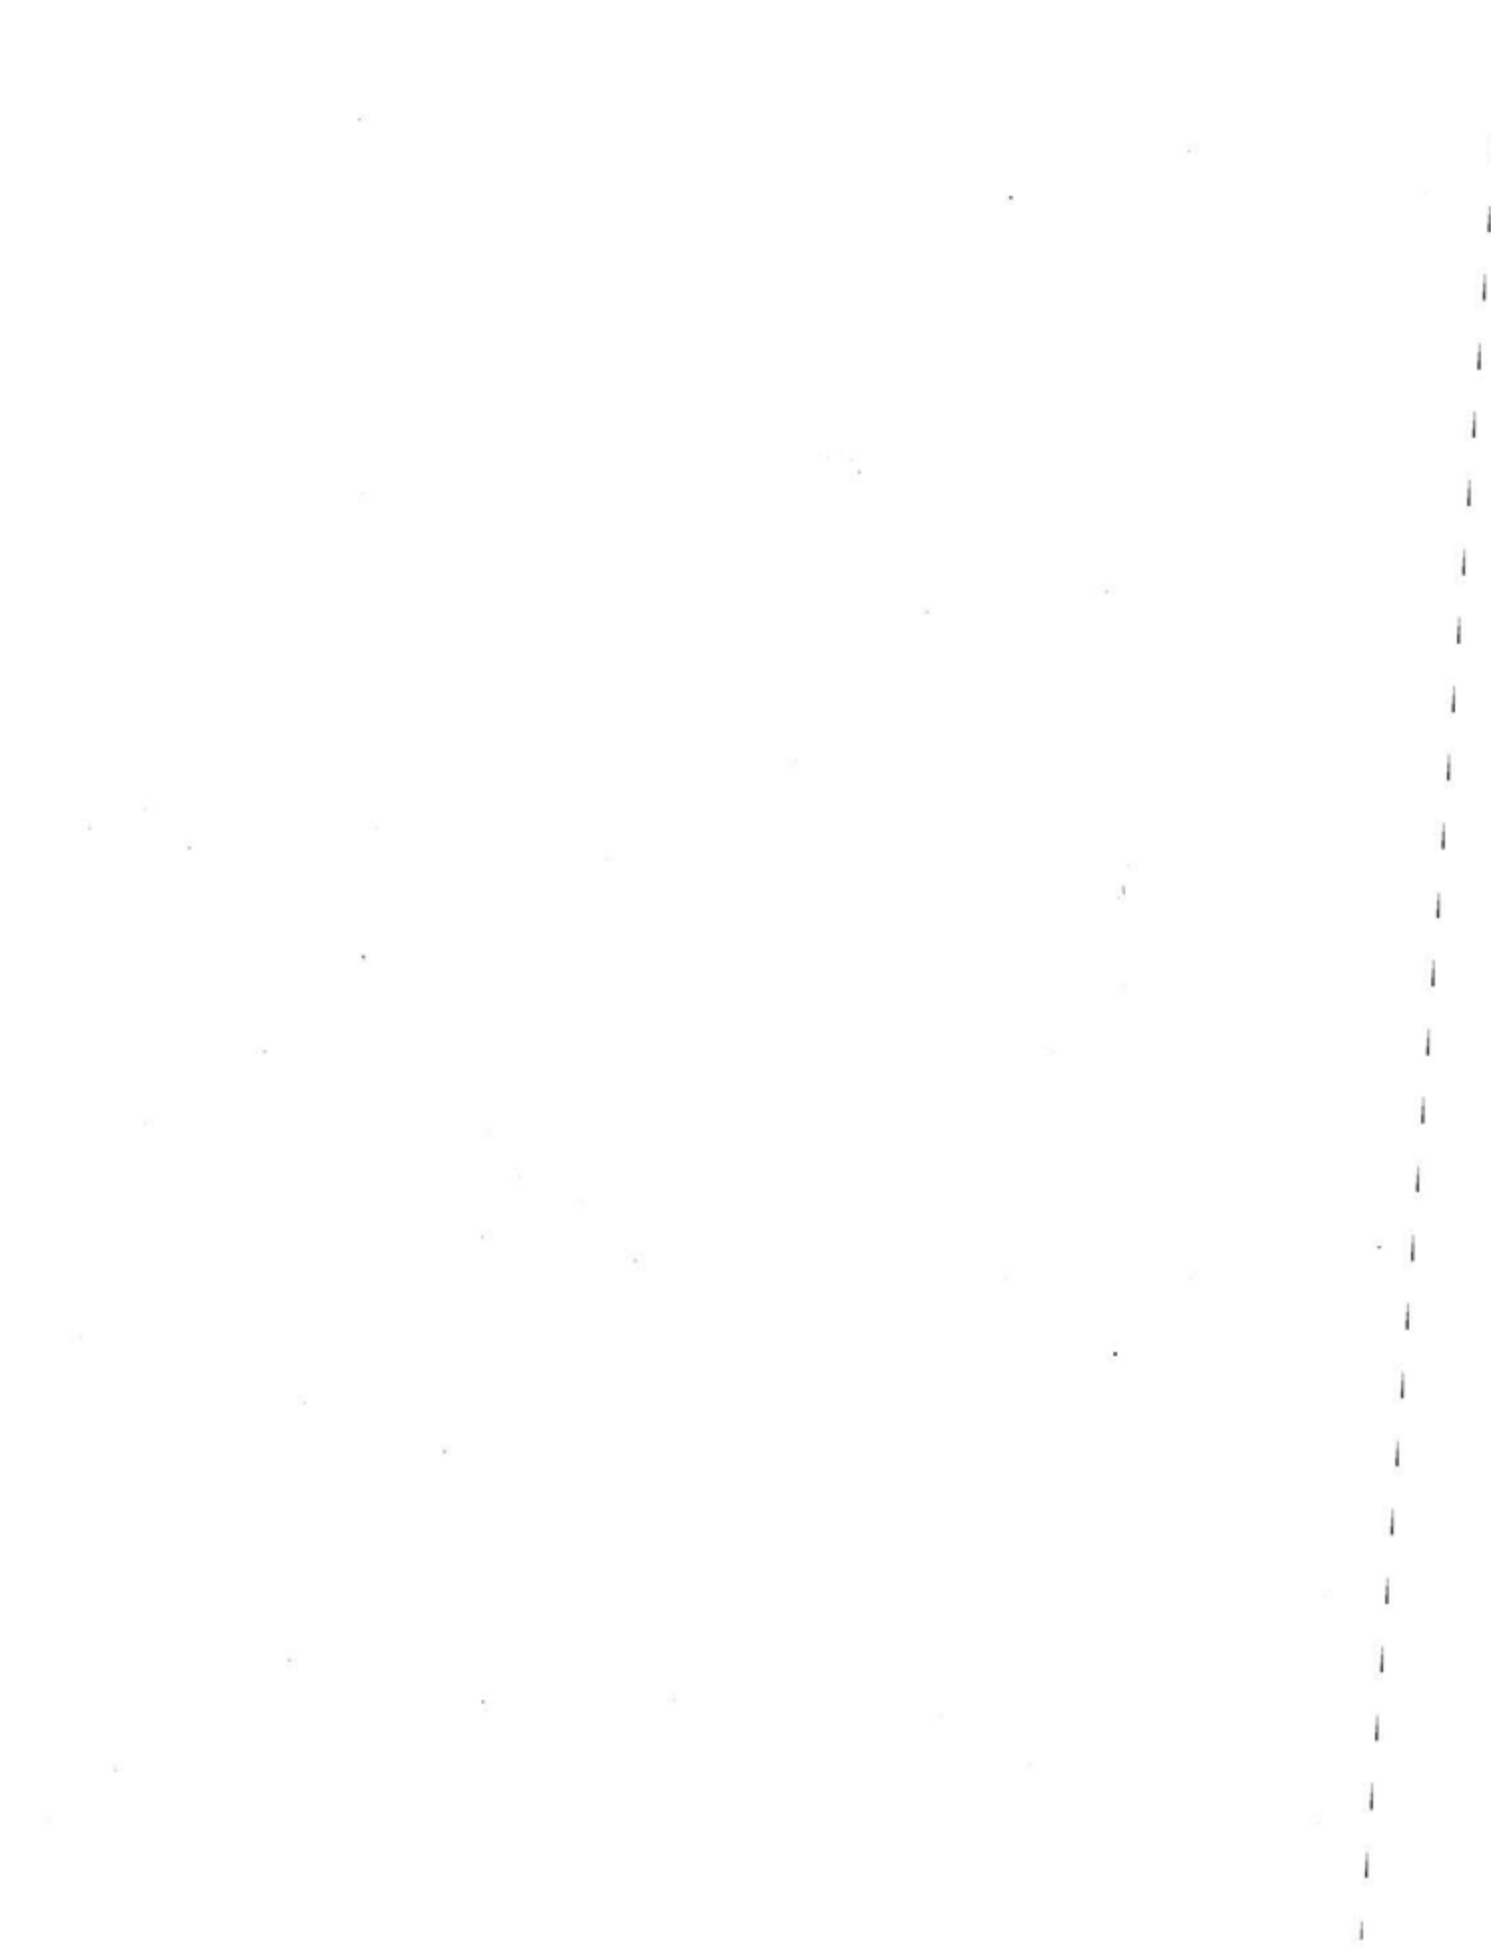

Mr. Paull Fiddian is the Branch Secretary. His address is No. 9, Broughton Road, Surrey Hills.

QUEENSLAND.

Luncheons are held regularly. All communications should be sent to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. Len King, c/o Royal Queensland Golf Club, Eagle Farm, Brisbane.
