Editorial

People the world over were excited when news of Colonel John Glenn's successful space flight was released. They were thrilled because this achievement illustrated, without a shadow of doubt, just how great the march of science has been, and will continue to be—and they were amazed because a seemingly impenetrable barrier to Western science had been broken.

Sportsmen everywhere applauded when a New Zealander, Peter Snell, showed qualities of endurance and determination to better the existing record times for the mile and half-mile. To achieve this feat, he trained arduously over many months, and persevered until he was the very epitome of Robert Bruce's famous statement, "If at first you do not succeed, try, try, and try again".

Australians, and particularly South Australians are engrossed as preparations for Adelaide's second Arts Festival draw to a close. This type of festival, which is devoted to the cultural life of our society, is, regrettably, all too rare, particularly in Australia. However, local and foreign authors, playwrights, musicians, actors, singers, and their ilk are combining to produce an Arts Festival which promises to be even more successful than the first presentation. This, too, represents a step forward, for it is sad, but undeniable, that too little emphasis is placed on the artistic and cultural facet of civilization.

Boys of Prince Alfred College are trained to take their place in the world in one or more of these, and other spheres of activity.

But, does education in these spheres alone serve as a complete introduction to, and assimilation into, the world around us?

No boy is reasonably educated until he is capable of meeting his responsibilities and obligations to his neighbours, in the Christian sense of the word. To have a fully developed moral sense, one must be able to take a place in the world as a man—not simply legally and physically, but by attaining mental maturity. It is hard to learn how to realize the relatively narrow limits of one's knowledge and understanding, but the foundations for this self-evaluation should be laid at school.

However, the world is not conducted entirely on an individual basis. A realization of personal and comparatively trivial problems must be supplemented by a concern for the innumerable and infinitely varied problems of the world as a whole, which, whether considered individually or collectively, loom in ominous fashion. The student of today must learn to consider these problems with a mature outlook, because, as a result of the inevitable march of time, some scholars of today will become leaders of tomorrow. Can we then assure ourselves that our mental and moral quality has been so tempered as to withstand the stresses to which it will soon be subjected?

Prince Alfred College provides the means with which we can equip ourselves thus for life, and it is our responsibility to do so.

School Notes

The number on the school roll in the first term is 882, (Big School 626, Prep. 256). There are 139 boarders in the Big School and 21 in the Preparatory School.

Friends of the School will be interested to know that Mrs. Ward has sold her home in Adelaide and purchased one in Melbourne where she will be close to her daughter, Jean (Mrs. A. Yule). Her address is 149 Foster Street, Dandenong, Victoria.

Reference is made in the Headmaster's annual report to the fact that Mr. Potts, Mr. Peard and Mr. Phillips in the Big School, and Mr. Kesting and Mr. Watson in the Preparatory School were leaving us at the end of 1961. We welcome Mr. R. H. Prest, Mr. W. R. Allen, Mr. J. Wolstenholme and Mr. R. W. Hurn in their places. Mr. Prest and Mr. Hurn are both Old Boys who played a prominent part in the life of the School in their schooldays.

Early in January Mr. J. P. Keeves was appointed to the staff of the Australian Council of Educational Research. He had given excellent service in the class room, with the scouts, on the playing fields, and earlier in the boarding house. He is one of our Old Boys of whom we can well be proud and we wish him well in his new position. Mr. J. Davenport was appointed in his place and he took up duties on 2nd April.

Early in the second week of this term, Mr. Steele had to undergo a serious operation. This was quite unexpected, as he had been in his accustomed place on the previous day and had almost got to the stage where he had the boys in his form doing those things he expected of them. His many friends will be glad to know that he has made a good recovery, and that he is now back and doing full-time teaching.

During the long vacation extensive alterations and redecoration were carried out in the housemaster's flat. Mr. and Mrs. David Prest and their two young sons are now in residence. We welcome them and we know the welfare of the boarders is in capable and kindly hands.

Mr. D. R. Bain, already a member of the teaching staff has come into residence, and Mr. F. S. Hambly, an Old Boy, is helping with residential duties.

When our last issue of the Chronicle was being prepared, we learned with a great deal of regret that Mr. R. H. Cotton, who has for so long been a very good friend of the School and who has, in particular, given so much care and enthusiasm to the preparation and printing of the Chronicle, had decided to retire from his active work with Gillingham & Co. Ltd., our printers. We suspect, however, that he may still be tempted to try his hand at the "paste up"—his special forte—and we offer him our sincere thanks and best wishes for a long and happy retirement.

We acknowledge gratefully an anonymous gift which covered the cost of extensive repairs to the billiards table in the boarding house.

It will be seen from the detailed results published elsewhere that the School again did well in the public examinations. A particularly pleasing feature was the good Intermediate results gained by boys in VUC and VUD, the larger than usual number of credits (A passes) by boys in VUB, and the large number of Leaving credits (74) gained by boys in VIA. P.A.C. boys won 5 of the 30 leaving bursaries awarded to students attending metropolitan schools.

We have to record a win in the intercollegiate cricket and a loss in the tennis. The eleven was a strong one but was in some difficulty until the third morning when a more aggressive approach to their batting gave them a comfortable win. The tennis teams this year were eight a side instead of six. In a most exciting finish, S.P.S.C. won by nine rubbers to seven. At one stage the score was seven rubbers all, with the two remaining matches at one set all. For the first time for many years, not one member of our team had played in the previous intercollegiate match.

School swimming sports were held again this year after a lapse of twelve years. The sports were held at the Norwood pool and were most successful.

The scholarships at Leaving Honours standard were awarded as follows: Sir Thomas Elder, G. H. Searle; E. B. Colton, R. B. McFeat; Old Collegians', G. W. Trott; Longbottom, N. A. M. Paterson; Malpas, R. N. E. Smith.

R. J. Heddle was awarded a Gowrie Scholarship which he holds during his Leaving and Leaving Honours years.

Annual School Service

The School Service, traditionally held on the last Sunday of third term, has come to be one of the most significant functions of the school year. It is a moving occasion, especially for those who are leaving the School. This year it fell on 10th December and was, as it always is, attended by a very large congregation of boys and masters, parents and friends of the School. The service was led by the School Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters, B.A., and the address delivered by the Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, M.A., M.Sc., who based what he had to say on the noble and beautiful passage on faith in Hebrews 11: 1-10, 32 and 12: 2 which R. N. E. Smith, Captain of the School had read for the lesson. The School choir under the direction of Mr. Rolland May, Mus.Bac., sang with spirit and feeling Quilter's setting of Rudyard Kipling's "Non Nobis Domine" and the anthem "Christians Awake" (Maunder). Mr. M. Symons, B.E., was organist and before the service a very pleasing recital was given by one of our boarders, G. J. A. Riggs.

HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS

My subject tonight is faithful men and men of faith.

On ever so many occasions, I have heard speakers from this pulpit, particularly at anniversary services, speak of the magnificent faith of the men and women who almost a hundred years ago built this beautiful church. What faith they must have had in their God! How proud we are of this church and how proud we should be of its founders! Nowadays the attendance at ordinary services may be but a fraction of what it was at the turn of the century but this church still plays a great part in the Christian life of the community.

Who can measure the influence of our two school services, of the special services held here during the meeting of Conference, of the nativity festival held each year, of the play to be performed here next March as part of the Adelaide Festival of Arts?

They were men of faith, too, who a few years later founded Prince Alfred College. Read the early chapters of Mr. Ward's history of the School and you will be convinced of their faith. What a tremendous debt many of us in this church tonight owe to these men of the 1860s!

But let us not forget that there are men of the same faith today. There is a remarkable parallel between the story of the foundation of our new Methodist College, Westminster School, and that of Prince Alfred College. The new project was made a matter of earnest prayer. Plans went ahead for the construction of the buildings before the result of the appeals was known. It is not necessary for me to tell you of the success of this venture of faith. It has been thrilling for me to see the reaction of friends in other States when I have told them the story of Westminster.

A hundred years hence men will pay tribute to these men of Westminster who in, as they will say, the dark, uneducated days of the 1860s had the faith to found such a school, just as we today look back upon the 1860s and the founders of Prince Alfred College.

But casting thoughts of the Westminster achievement aside, can we really be satisfied with the faith of our Australian people as a whole? Of our South Australian people? Let me be more specific.

Can we who in some way or other comprise the Prince Alfred College community—students, staff, parents, old boys, friends—be satisfied? If we, you and I, could be given marks for the real extent of our belief in and practice of those things in the Christian faith in which we profess to believe, marks also for how faithful and unselfish we have been in our service to our church and our fellow men, how should we fare? If we were graded as the Public Examination results will be this year, would it be an A, B, C, or D pass or an E, F, or G fail.

A greater danger to the Christian way of life today than Communism is the apathy of so many Christians and those who call themselves Christians. There are those who are in a church when they are christened, again when they are married; they hope that when they die they will be given a Christian burial; they go to a church if they are invited to a christening or a wedding, they even go gladly, provided it does not clash with other interests. That is the extent of their interest in the church, though they would have no hesitation in calling themselves Methodist or Presbyterian or Church of England on census or similar forms. They take it as their right to make use of those things the churches provide, such as schools for their children, and old folks' homes for their aged parents.

Then there are those of us who attend church, some regularly, some less so. Has it just become a habit with us? Is it just the respectable thing to do? Is it a salve to the conscience for all the ways in which we have fallen during the week? How many of us of my generation can say in our inner hearts that our faith equals that of our parents or our grandparents or that we are serving God and His Church as faithfully as they did? Yes, in ourselves lies the grave danger to our Christian way of life. The great majority lack the fire and enthusiasm that we should have for the church and all that it stands for.

Our lesson this evening was portion of that well-known chapter of Hebrews, the eleventh, which looks out over the past and sums up the working out of the ways of God in history. We see that all the efforts of the men of God in these early days would have been useless unless in each age there had been those who carried on the work of the past. The Hebrews are told that the heroic example of these men should encourage them to stand fast. In the opening verses of chapter 12 which were the closing verses of our lesson, the writer points out that the Hebrews ought to run their race patiently, looking to Jesus, the supreme example of patient endurance. He pictures these heroes of bygone days as spectators surrounding the arena where God's people were running the race of life, but the runners' eyes are fixed, not on the spectators around them but on Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of the faith.

Now what about the race that we, you and I, are running today? Naturally I shall try to direct our thoughts particularly to those who this week leave school days behind. Young though you be, you are running your race. Let us think as the writer to the Hebrews did that the spectators looking at you as you run your race are not those now on earth, but that there are myriads of them, some well-known in history, some who in their days on earth loved you well, but all men and women of faith. Are you happy about what they see of the way you are running your race? And Jesus is there. But are your eyes focussed on Him?

I can imagine some of you saying to yourselves that this is all very well, but the opportunities do not arise these days to do such deeds as these men of the Old Testament did, nor even such as were possible in the days when there were still lands to be discovered and explored, in the days when wars were more gentlemanly affairs, and individuals could play a big part. No call will come to you as it did to Abraham to go forth, not knowing where he went, or as to Noah to be moved with fear to build an ark. You have not had, as the writer puts it, the chance to subdue kingdoms, to stop the mouths of lions; you have not been stoned nor have you had to wander about in sheepskins and goatskins.

Do not be deceived. In the past, for every man of faith who has had the limelight and whose deeds are known to posterity, there have been hundreds and thousands of men who, putting their trust in God, are now among the faithful band of witnesses.

It is not only the spectacular trials of life that require boys and men of faith to overcome them. To stand fast and not to yield to the temptations that have faced you as you have been growing up has been no easy task. As you go out into the world, the temptations and dangers will be ever so much greater. To overcome them will need all your strength: even then you will succumb, unless you have faith in God and seek His help.

Thus the challenge comes today to each of you young men to go out into the battle of life, strong in the faith of your fathers, a living faith.

To some will come the call to give your life to the full-time service of the church, be it as a minister or in some other capacity. This is the noblest call of all. It has been a joy to note the number of P.A.C. boys entering the ministry—Methodist and of other denominations—in recent years. One day this week, I was glancing through the Rostrevor College magazine, and I noted the prominence given to the career of an Old Boy who had just been ordained as a priest. Then on the same page in prominent print there was an honour roll of all Rostrevor old boys who are priests. The thought came to my mind that there was a lesson for us. Are we not too apt to record successes in other spheres with pride, and yet we take little note of those receiving the call to the noblest of all services.

I am given to believe that most, if not all Roman Catholics consider that no greater honour can come their way than to have a member of the family devote his life to the full-time service of the church. This is certainly not true of all Methodists. Twice this year, I heard of parents being strongly opposed to their sons joining the ministry, and these sons were no longer school-boys but had left school for some time. In most cases the call will not come to you in your schooldays, but if and when it does, be ready to answer it.

The call may come to others to work for some of the less fortunate peoples of the earth, perhaps as a missionary—preaching, medical, teaching and so on—one is accustomed these days to read of the poverty of millions of people in the undeveloped areas of this earth, and not only in the undeveloped areas. What do we, so fortunate to live in such a country as Australia, what do we do about it? Any Australian visiting Colombo for even a few hours is appalled at the conditions under which tens of thousands of men, women and children live. What chance is there for these people and particularly these children? And this is true of countless cities and countries. Yet what do we, what do you, what do I do about it? How well a New Zealander who lived in Asia described it:

"When I return from the need and pain that is Asia, I always notice what New Zealanders are talking and worrying about. Once it was that petrol was taxed another shilling a gallon—once that there was a further restriction of imports—and once that our standard of living was threatened by the possibility of Britain joining the European Common Market. I do not notice it for very long of course. Very quickly I, too, am sucked into the self-centred materially-minded atmosphere which is New Zealand today."

Is this true of Australia too? I fear the answer is "Yes".

But most of you who are leaving can be divided into three groups—those returning to work on the family property, those going into employment and those continuing their studies.

To the first group I would say that there are pitfalls in country life as well as in city life. People in your area will look to you to set an example of good, faithful citizenship for you have had great advantages.

To those receiving their first pay cheque shortly I would say this. As I see it, one of Australia's greatest needs today is a better understanding between employers and employees. Many of you will ultimately be employers. While you are not, try to look at things occasionally from the point of view of the boss. When you become a boss, don't forget that you were once an employee. Australia will be able to take its proper place in the world only when we have workers giving faithful service and employers realizing their responsibilities to their employees.

Time does not permit me to say all I would like to say to those entering the University. Here your faith in God will be subjected to the severest of tests. I remind you that Rev. Arthur Jackson has been appointed Chaplain to Methodist students and his help will be available to all P.A.C. Old Boys. If you find your faith in what you have believed is growing faint, then do I pray you will go and discuss your problems with Mr. Jackson.

Next Friday is our Speech Day, and at it I shall be reading out the prize list for 1961. This is a list of those who have excelled in their studies, in their games, or in some way or other in the multitude of activities now included in the general life of a good school. I am one of those who are old-fashioned enough to believe that there is a place in our school for such prizes.

We grow very accustomed these days to reading honours list of the most varied kinds. In December we have our faculty pass lists from the University with their distinctions and credits in order of merit. In summer the press each Monday morning carries a cricket honour list of batsmen and bowlers who have done well in the Saturday's district cricket. In winter we have the honour list of leading goal-kickers in league football, and there are other lists of players who have scored points in various competitions sponsored by commercial firms. I have no quarrels with such lists.

But, as I said earlier, we were given in our lesson an honour list of men who through faith had accomplished much—a roll call indeed of faithful men and men of faith.

I suggest to the boys that there is a far more important honour list than our prize list or any of the lists I have mentioned. This honour list is one that no human eye will ever see. It is the one which neither I nor your form masters nor your sports masters nor even your parents can draw up. This would be an honour list of faithful boys and boys of faith.

I remind you again that the race of life is run not before earthly spectators but before God, before the witnesses of the faith in past days. You may not be called to do anything spectacular in life. For one reason or another you may be compelled to live what the world considers a humdrum existence, but there is still a place for you on this roll of honour. So I say "stand fast in your faith and thus withstand the trials and temptations that will beset you. Serve God faithfully and by so doing you will also serve your fellow men".

If you are leaving school and your name has not been on a school prize list, then it is too late for you ever to gain a place, but if you have won a prize, then your name will remain on the list. Not so with this my imaginary honour roll. If your name is not on the list today, then there is still time for you to gain a place for this list continues to life's end (but don't delay). If your name is now on the list, beware of the wiles and temptations that face you and make sure that your name is still there at the final roll call.

The prayers and hopes of your school and I am sure of your parents and friends are that your name will be high on this honour roll of faithful men.

Speech Day

Despite unfavourable signs, the weather held good for Speech Day which was again held out of doors at the School. After the opening prayer, the President of the Conference, Rev. G. C. Hutchinson, addressed the company. The Captain of the School, Roger Smith, read the Games Report for the year which presented a comprehensive picture of our sporting activities at the various age levels and showed that the School had won the intercollegiate contests in tennis, football and cricket, had been defeated in the final of the Head-of-the-River and taken second place in the Combined Schools' Sports, winning the senior section. The Headmaster then presented his annual report. The guest of honour this year was the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of Adelaide, Mr. C. J. Glover, who before distributing the prizes and scholarships, spoke to the boys. He recalled that thirty-eight years ago his father was the first Old Boy of the School to present the prizes at a speech day and observed that he himself was the first Old Boy of the second generation to do so. His advice to prizewinners was to be mindful of and grateful for what the School has done for them, to the less successful to persevere and do their best, and to those returning to remember that school days are happy days and to stay as long as possible. He concluded by expressing the belief that school life today is far better than it was in his schooldays and that the greatest lesson the school has to teach and the most essential is that of courage. Mr. A. W. Crompton, President of the Old Collegians' Association, expressed the thanks of the School to Mr. Glover.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

Mr. President, the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I have the honour to present the ninety-third annual report on the work of the School.

My first duty and a very pleasant one is to extend, on behalf of the School, a warm welcome to you my Lord Mayor and to Mrs. Glover, and to thank you for your great kindness in accepting our invitation to be present. We gratefully acknowledge the great interest that you, sir, take in your old School, and we are proud of what you are doing for our city. Well may it be said that you are a son well worthy to follow in the footsteps of your father who also did so much as its first Lord Mayor for this city, and was also so interested in this his old School.

The number on the school roll this year was 879, a slightly smaller number than last year.

It is pleasing to record that we had 84 boys in our leaving honours forms this year. This necessitated the provision of three classes in English, Mathematics, Physics, and Chemistry, two in Biology, and one in Latin, French, History, Geography and Economics. Five years ago we had 53 leaving honours boys and ten years ago 35.

Examination results last year were good, and particularly so in the top intermediate and leaving classes. Boys from V upper A gained 109 credits, with every boy except one gaining at least one credit. They gained nine intermediate and eight continuation exhibitions. Boys in VIA passed in 196 of the 199 leaving subjects taken and gained 75 credits which were shared by 27 of the 33 boys in the form. Four won leaving bursaries and twenty-two of our twenty-seven Commonwealth scholarships went to boys in this class.

Quite a good standard has been maintained by the examination classes this year, and we expect results well up to the average. At times some of the masters and I have thought that quite a few of the boys who did well in the public examinations last year had the impression that they could afford to rest on their laurels and take their studies more lightly this year. I take the opportunity of pointing out in advance to those who will be granted credits on their papers in the recent examinations and to their parents that such an attitude is folly.

The School has been remarkably free from epidemics this year. This is true for both day boys and boarders, and as a result the number of absences has been remarkably low. This contributes a great deal to the efficiency of class teaching. For some years we have been indebted to the school medical officers, Dr. McKay and Dr. Rischbeith for the care they have taken of our boarders. Dr. Rischbeith found it necessary to relinquish his duties in June, and we would express our gratitude to him for all that he has done for us.

There has been much discussion during the year on a proposed new matriculation. The need for a change is recognized in both school and university circles. It is not easy at this stage to predict how alterations in the matriculation requirement will affect the general pattern of secondary education in South Australia but it seems almost certain that there will be major changes. It may well be that the time is now ripe for a thorough investigation of our secondary examination system with particular attention to the course to be taken by students with no chance of deriving benefit from or coping with a University course.

Last year I told you of the decision of Conference to appoint Rev. R. G. Davis as minister of our Kent Town Church, and of the arrangement by which he would join our staff as an additional chaplain. Mr. Davis comes to us three full mornings a week and takes classes in both the Big and the Preparatory Schools. Mr. Davis has been able to relieve Mr. Waters of some of his form periods. This has allowed Mr. Waters to hold chapel service each week. The Big School boys are divided into three groups—the sixth and upper sixth, the upper fifths, and the fourths and lower fifths. Each group has three chapel services a term.

Communion services are held twice a term on Tuesday mornings at 8.15 a.m. in Kent Town Church. The Student Christian Movement has had a busy year with many of the lunch hour meetings very well attended. Kent Town Church was again crowded for both the mid-year and the end of year church services. I consider these to be the two most important happenings in the school year, and I regret that there are still some parents who, for no good reason, do not attend themselves, nor do they ensure that their sons attend.

I acknowledge with gratitude the gift by the late Rev. E. M. Ingamells of a sum of money to endow a prize in memory of his son Rex, an Old Boy of the School who won a considerable reputation as a distinctively Australian poet. This will be awarded each year to the Editor of the Chronicle, and the winner this year is G. H. Searle.

We welcomed Miss Whysall, and Messrs. G. J. Crawford, L. N. Nicolson, D. R. Bain and B. D. Phillips to the staff of the Big School in February, and Mr. W. L. Davies to that of the Preparatory School.

I have to report some changes in staff for next year. A year ago I announced that Mr. G. M. Potts was retiring from full-time teaching, but that he had agreed to help us in a part-time capacity. He now considers that the time has come for him to give up his work with us. We greatly regret the decision, and we wish him well in his retirement after almost forty-three years of distinguished and loyal service on the staff of his old School.

Mr. N. E. Peard, our housemaster, leaves us to become master in charge of the Middle School at Pulteney Grammar School. Mr. Peard is a man of many parts, and we thank him for all that he has done for this school. He will be greatly missed not only in the class room and boarding house, but also in the general life of the School where he has been doing so much in such things as the general oversight of hobby groups, the arrangement of vacation tours, the printing of many school programmes, and in other ways.

Mr. B. D. Phillips, after one year with us, goes to Westminster School as science master. Mrs. Swaby is retiring after being with us part-time for some years in charge of our Leaving Honours Biology class. That such a high percentage of our Old Boys have faced up successfully to the examiners in first year medicine in recent years can be attributed in no small measure to the excellent preparation for University biology that they received from Mrs. Swaby.

In the Preparatory School, we say farewell with regret to Mr. Kesting and Mr. Watson, two masters who have given excellent service for many years. Mr. Kesting plans to travel abroad extensively and Mr. Watson is joining the psychology branch of the Education Department. We remember with gratitude the way in which Mr. Kesting so willingly carried out the extra duties that were his during Mr. Close's long illness in part of 1959 and 1960.

Mr. M. D. Close returned to full-time duty as master in charge of the Preparatory School at the beginning of the year. We all rejoice at his restoration to health. This is shown by the fact that he was not absent for even one day during the year.

Miss Wilkins had leave for the first and second terms and Mrs. Symons for the second and third terms to enable them to travel overseas. We were fortunate to secure such well qualified teachers as Mrs. Thorpe and Mrs. Ludbrook, two temporary teachers, to replace them, and we thank them for all their help.

I am very pleased to be able to announce that all staff vacancies have been filled by the appointment of well qualified men. Mr. D. H. Prest, already on our staff, will succeed Mr. Peard as housemaster. He has already had experience of the house both as a boarder and as a junior resident master, and this should stand him in good stead.

This School suffered a great loss through the passing of Rev. C. J. Perry and Mr. W. L. Davies. Both men had given magnificent service to their old School, which they loved so well. Mr. Perry was our first full-time chaplain and Mr. Davies was a member of the staff for almost forty years.

Prince Alfred College learnt with great sorrow of the death of Mr. P. C. W. Disney, the headmaster of Scotch College. Mr. Disney's influence spread far beyond the bounds of his own school and his passing was a great loss to the cause of education in South Australia. We extend our sincere sympathy to Scotch College, and to Mrs. Disney and the members of her family.

The life of a large school is so complex today that time fails me to report adequately on the multitude of activities, and I must ask you to read of these in the Chronicle. The Captain of the School has read to you the report on games and has voiced appreciation of the work and interest of the masters. I should like to add my word of thanks to the masters and to the Old Boys who give so willingly of their time to help not only in sports but in cadets, scouts, concerts, dramatic work, school Chronicle, science journal, debates, life saving, rural youth meetings and hobby groups of all kinds. We are very fortunate to have so many masters in both the Preparatory School and the Big School who are so well qualified and so willing to assist in the coaching of games, but we are also fortunate in having masters with other qualifications and interests to assist in other groups.

It is perhaps invidious to select any master or any activity for special mention, but I am sure others will forgive me if this year I mention the excellent record of the first football team coached by Mr. Bennett, and of the cadet unit under the command of Major Woollard. The football team was unbeaten until the last match when it went under by a narrow margin to Wesley College who had won the schools competition in Melbourne.

Brigadier Long, G.O.C. Central Command was the inspecting officer at our ceremonial cadet parade, and he spoke in most glowing terms of the dress, bearing and steadiness of our cadets on parade. Two of our cadets have been accepted for entry into the Royal Military College, Duntroon, next year, and another two subject to their passing the leaving examination. This week we had the good news that S. N. Gower had gained the Sword of Honour for exemplary conduct and the performance of duty and the Queen's Medal for first in the class of graduating cadets at the Royal Military College. Four years ago Gower was an able leaving honours student, an under officer in the cadets and a member of our first eleven and our athletics team.

During the year a fine modern change room and toilet block has been completed in the Preparatory School. This has been the major work carried out, but many minor improvements have been made to buildings and grounds. The parklands oval was used regularly in the football season, and the turf wicket was used for the first time last Saturday. Mr. McFarlane, well known to us previously for his work with our cadets as a warrant officer on the permanent staff was appointed to the position of Laboratory Steward in June. Not only has he been able to increase the efficiency of the practical work done in the laboratories, but he has also done much to improve their appearance.

In October we were able to purchase another house in Capper Street. This will not be used for College purposes for some time, but we are securing possession of three other houses in Capper Street which we have owned for some time and will use them next year for hobby groups and other purposes.

More important is the news that the College Council has instructed Mr. Colin Hassell to prepare plans for a new Assembly Hall to seat over a thousand persons. Present hopes are that the hall will be opened in Old Boys' Week, 1963.

I cannot conclude this report without a brief mention of Westminster School. It has been founded by men of faith of the middle of the twentieth century, just as P.A.C. was founded almost 100 years ago by men of faith of that time. We congratulate our younger brother on a most successful first year, and we wish Mr. Forder and his school all that is good in the year to come.

As usual I conclude my report with an expression of thanks, and this is no mere formality. I would say thank you to all who in any way have helped the College and have helped me during 1961—the members of the Council and in particular the Honorary Secretary, Mr. R. C. Hall, the Honorary Treasurer, Mr. T. W. Cotton, and Dr. M. W. Evans, Mr. D. A. Clarkson and Mr. B. A. Fricker of the buildings sub-committee, the architect, Mr. Colin Hassell, the College Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters, the second master, Mr. R. T. Smith, the master in charge of the Prep., Mr. M. D. Close, the teaching staff, the Bursar, Mr. Staggs, and the office staff, the domestic and ground staff, the Old Collegians Association, the parents, the Captain of the School, the prefects, and finally the boys.

I wish those leaving all that is good in the years to come and all of you good wishes for the Christmas season.

House Notes

Third Term, 1961

School House finished the year on a rather disappointing note, after such an enthusiastic start. The early promise shown was not fulfilled, and the house came third in the house competition. Schoolwork, as in past years, was again disappointing.

The house cricket competition provided another disappointment, as we came last. Our faithful friend E.P. made his fifth consecutive duck in the house competition. We congratulate Geoff Hurn, the only member of the house in the intercollegiate team.

The Boarding House picnic was again held at Port Noarlunga, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed himself. We thank Sister, Miss Woodcock, and especially Mr. Peard, for his good organization.

First Term, 1962

Committee: Messrs. D. H. Prest (Housemaster), D. R. Bain, G. F. Connell, F. S. Hambly, G. C. Kelly (Resident Masters), and G. M. Hurn (Captain of House), J. O. Chapman, D. J. S. Hill, D. R. Wagner, E. P. Ashby, J. M. Ashby, R. I. Eglington, J. W. A. Evans, N. D. Hall, H. W. Holmes, D. D. Jenkin, P. M. Reed.

The Boarding House is very sorry to have lost Mr. Peard at the end of last year, and we wish him well and all success in his new position at Pulteney Grammar School. The house was also sorry to lose Mr. Paul Stewart, who has graduated in dentistry, and Mr. B. Phillips, who has taken over his new post at our brother school, Westminster. The boys would like to welcome our new Housemaster, Mr. Prest, and our new resident masters, Mr. Bain and Mr. Hambly. We are all sure they will enjoy their stay with us.

The house congratulates Geoff Hurn, the Captain of the House, and Owen Chapman, Dave Hill and Dave Wagner who are all school prefects.

The intercollegiate marbles contest was highly successful this year and resulted in a draw. This should add much interest to next year's game. The prize winners this year were Parish, the captain, and Nicholls. Thanks to Seymour Hill for his fine coaching over the past three years!

The athletics are once again in full swing and School House has some promising athletes. The standards are coming up soon and as the boys have been training hard, we hope to fare well.

This year the boarders have been given two new table tennis sets, which are situated in the gym. In addition, our old billiard table has been carefully repaired. The boys have appreciated these gifts very much as they play an active part in the life of the boarders.

Through lack of training, School House came last in the swimming competition. The conditions for swimming were good, but School House lacked ability.

Socially, the boarding house has probably never been happier. Our new housemaster is assisted by an augmented resident staff, and many of the seniors seem to have adopted new interests.

COTTON

Third Term, 1961

This year Cotton failed to live up to its well-earned reputation, finishing third behind Bayly and Waterhouse in the house competition.

In the house cricket the senior team could only win third place, although it contained five of the intercollegiate eleven. We congratulate Angel who was captain, Webb, Shearer, Shaughnessy, and Lovell, all of whom participated in the Intercollegiate match.

Our scholastic results were disappointing, and it was here that the house failed. The debating team did well to come second, being narrowly defeated by Bayly House.

Paterson and Trott had excellent results in the Leaving Honours, and Blake and Freeman in the Leaving examinations.

It is hoped that next year the juniors will show a greater interest in the house, and with the help of Mr. Mutton and Mr. Duff, regain some of the prestige it lost during the year.

First Term, 1962

This year Cotton has six school prefects, and we congratulate Williamson (Captain of the School), Angel, Blake, Cox, Paterson, and Webb.

Four of these prefects, Angel (Captain of the House), Cox, Blake, and Webb, were elected to the house committee, and we hope that Cotton will again emerge as the top house for 1962.

In the opening term of each year there are many sporting fixtures, including the Intercollegiate tennis, the Head-of-the-River Regatta, and the Combined Sports. This year, in addition to these, Swimming Sports were held at the Norwood pool. The house did not win the cup, but we were successful in the senior house relay, and Crompton won the open breast-stroke.

Webb, Cox, and Angel were elected to the sports committee, and Angel was again elected captain of the School's first eleven, Webb and Paterson both being members of the team. Cox once again has the honour of being stroke and captain of the first eight, while Gardiner has also been chosen in the crew.

Cotton once again appears likely to win the senior house tennis shield, Edgeloe, Webb, Tilbrook, Carmichael and Trott all being members of the Intercollegiate practice squad.

The house is well represented in Mr. Connell's athletics squad, and we hope to repeat last year's success, but once again it is up to the members of the house to show their keenness, by a determined effort on sports day and in standards.

In the cadets we are represented by Williamson, who has been appointed senior Under-Officer, and the house extends its congratulations to him.

This year promises to be an excellent one for Cotton, particularly in sport, but we remind members of the house that it is in schoolwork that many house points can be gained and these are needed if Cotton is to win back the house shield which it lost to Bayly last year.

WATERHOUSE

Third Term, 1961

At the end of the second term in 1961 Waterhouse was in second position in the house competition and had a good chance of winning the cup. However, because of the all-round power of Bayly House, Waterhouse lost by one point. In the basketball Waterhouse was narrowly beaten by a strong Bayly team. The debating was also won by Bayly with Waterhouse third. We won the senior house cricket after beating School in the first match and Bayly in the final. Congratulations to Ellis (vice-captain), Darley and Rudd for their selection in the first eleven! Waterhouse, being represented in the house rowing by two intercollegiate rowers, Reeves and Lamb, came third in the rowing competition. We congratulate School House on their fine victory in the house rowing. Finally we were happy to learn that Searle had gained eighth place on the General Honours List.

First Term, 1962

This year the House Committee was chosen as follows: Messrs. H. E. Coombes, G. I. Glancey and P. M. Darley (Captain of House), D. C. Hassell, G. W. Reeves, R. H. Smith, A. G. Lamb, C. L. Walker, P. R. Gillespie, I. M. Rudd.

Congratulations to Darley and Hassell on their appointment as school prefects! This year, with the inclusion of the swimming sports in house competitions, it became clear to all that Waterhouse was well represented by a large number of strong swimmers. It was quite evident that in the under-age relays, Waterhouse had by far the strongest teams and we were narrowly beaten by Cotton in the Open Relay. Congratulations to Darley who swam brilliantly to win the Open 110 yards Free Style and to Reeves who took third place. Wilkens also swam well to win the open backstroke. The under 15 age group gained valuable points for the house by taking first, second and third places in the under 15 freestyle, first place being gained by Richardson. At the conclusion of the day, Waterhouse with sixty-two points were well ahead of the other houses.

In past years it has been the scholars of the house who have been our mainstay. Once again we look forward to a good academic year.

In the intercollegiate contests this year we hope to have many representatives. Congratulations to Lamb and Reeves as members of the first eight for the second year. In other crews we are also well represented and look forward to winning the house rowing in the third term. In the athletics we have Reeves, Darley and many capable under-age boys. It is hoped that the house's effort in standards this year will be much better than in previous years and it is up to every boy to pull his weight in this field. Boys now playing in the first eleven include Rudd, Darley, Walker and Leak.

After a good start it is hoped that the house will pull together and win the House Cup for 1962.

BAYLY

Third Term, 1961

This year Bayly won the House competition for the first time in a number of years, narrowly defeating Waterhouse. This is very encouraging and if we can improve in athletics we stand a good chance of repeating our success this year.

With only Clapp and MacIntosh from the first eleven side, Bayly managed to finish second in the senior house cricket. Congratulations to Clapp and MacIntosh who participated in the successful intercollegiate match!

Bayly House scholastic results were this year quite good and many valuable points were gained in this division.

Debating was also a Bayly House strong-point as we finished first, defeating Cotton House.

Noble is to be congratulated on being selected to go to the Royal Military College, Duntroon.

First Term, 1962

Bayly House have two school prefects in Compton and Walton. Tasker was elected House Captain, Compton, Walton and Woodroffe completing the house committee for 1962.

In the intercollegiate tennis this year we are represented by Tasker (captain) and Woodroffe, with Hunwick and Pascoe as the reserves. We congratulate these boys.

In the Swimming Sports, held at the Norwood pool, Bayly came second to Waterhouse. Walton gained a first and three seconds and D. Tregoning also did well in the junior sections.

A. Compton (still an under 15) is our only representative in the first cricket eleven, showing great promise as an off-spin bowler. Bayly will be at a disadvantage when the senior house cricket is contested in third term, but we shall fight hard.

We congratulate Giles and Nolan, who are in the first eight and hope that they can do their part in helping Princes to win the Head-of-the-River this year.

The entries for Sports Day were generally poor, although last year we improved one position on Sports Day. We hope the improvement will continue this year.

As in previous years, Bayly House should do well in schoolwork and it is hoped that we continue to hold first position.

In the cadets we have Woodroffe, Francis, Marlow and Giles as under officers and these boys are to be congratulated on their success in the January Under Officers' Camp.

Messrs. Provis and Bennett are again in charge of the House and, under their supervision we are hoping that 1962 will be another victorious year for Bayly House.

Rural Youth

1961 was a very successful year for the P.A.C. Rural Youth Club and the third term was no exception to this. This was due to the enthusiasm of the officers and members and to the help of our organizer, Rev. R. K. Waters, to whom we are greatly indebted.

The first meeting took the form of a debate and we should like to thank Mr. P. R. Stewart for being adjudicator. The next meeting was a most enjoyable and instructive showing of slides by Mr. Kym Kelly concerning the rural practices seen during his visit to England and Europe. The final meeting for 1961 was held for the purpose of electing officers for 1962. The following officers were elected: E. P. Ashby, President; D.

J. S. Hill, Vice-President; D. D. Jenkin, Secretary; J. R. Blake, Treasurer; and L. K. Rayner, News Reporter. The previous officers were thanked for making 1961's activities very interesting and informative.

1962 rural youth activities have already commenced on a very keen note. The first meeting was held for the purpose of initiating and welcoming new members, who, together with old members, now total sixty-one.

The next meeting for this term was a slide evening and social at Presbyterian Girls' College. We all enjoyed it and hope that we can return the hospitality within the near future.

Student Christian Movement

Committee

Mr. D. H. Prest (Master-in-Charge), W. D. Riceman (President), A. H. Baghurst, P. G. Barrett, J. F. Beare, J. O. Chapman, D. R. Compton, P. M. Darley, W. C. Gardiner, K. Gehan, D. C. Hassell, R. J. Heddle, D. J. S. Hill, R. F. Lees, R. B. Marlow, G. D. Martin, N. A. M. Paterson, J. E. Potter, J. E. Rowe, M. E. Smith, R. H. Smith, G. A. T. Talbot, G. D. Williamson, R. A. Woolcock.

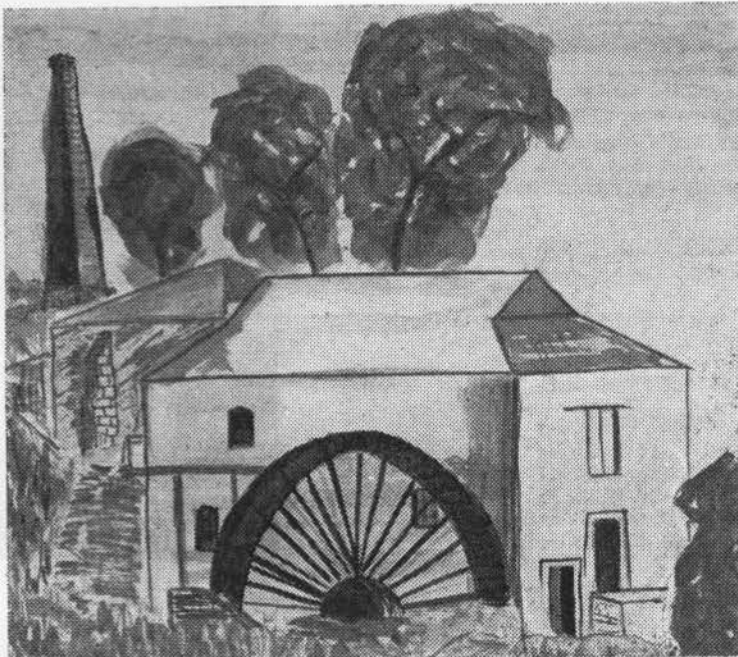

The committee formed at the beginning of the term consist of twenty-five boys from the Leaving and Leaving Honours classes. Decisions have been made concerning the type of meetings to be held during the year. For the first and third terms we hope to have speakers to address us each Thursday lunch hour, while during the second term there will be discussion groups open to all boys in the School.

Two meetings have been held so far this year.

Our first speaker was Rev. C. T. Symons, Past President of the South Australian Methodist Conference, and now Director of the Department of Christian Education. Mr. Symons had just returned from overseas, and he gave us a very informative address on the Communist situation in Europe. We hope that his talk will be regarded as a challenge to all those attending.

The second meeting took the form of a panel of masters. We are indebted to Mr. Smith, Mr. Provis, Mr. Duff, Mr. Mattingley, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Bain for coming along and answering the questions submitted by the boys. As would be expected, the attendance for this meeting was very good.

The committee has nominated a fine selection of speakers, and at future meetings we hope to have Mr. F. Hambly, Mr. David Pill, Mr. L. J. Gomm, and Mr. Cook.

Club Activities

TUMBLING CLUB

The Tumbling Club has begun its activities on a good note this year under the careful supervision of Mr. Gabb and Mr. Allen. So far, this year, each period has been extremely interesting and it looks as though our work will improve over the weeks. If more equipment were available, the periods might prove even better, as it becomes fairly crowded with only one springboard and one vaulting horse. Judging by the enthusiasm shown at the last meeting, this year should be both interesting and beneficial for the members.

BIBLE STUDY GROUP

This is our second year of activity and the group has proved most helpful to the boys who have been, and are in it. In the third term last year we completed a series of studies on "Jesus Christ, the Light of the World." This was the theme of the World Council of Churches meeting in New Delhi last year.

At present we are studying the "Letters of the Seven Churches" in Revelation.

We should like to thank Mr. Waters for leading the group.

CURRENT AFFAIRS DISCUSSION GROUP

This is only the second year in which this group has met. At the first meeting, it was decided to hold discussions in two ways, by having one member to present a topic for discussion, and by choosing a notable world event to occupy the group for the period.

We are very fortunate in having as master-in-charge, Mr. Mattingley, who is always eager to help in supplying facts about world problems.

CHESS CLUB

In this club there are thirty-four members who are under the supervision of Mr. Kurtz. During the Friday afternoon hobbies period, the inexperienced chess players are shown how to play the game and also some of its finer points. The rest of the members play tournaments amongst themselves.

LEATHERWORK CLUB

The Leatherwork Club has started this year with a maximum number of forty boys divided into senior and junior groups. The senior class, in the absence of Mr. Steele, is being taken by Mr. Glancey, while the junior class is being taken by Mr. Duff. Work is already well under way.

WORKSHOP GROUP

Last year a number of projects were successfully carried out by the Workshop Hobby Group which meets on Friday afternoons in the workshop adjacent to the woodwork room. The main activities of the club consist of the construction and repair of school laboratory equipment. This year, under the supervision of the masters-in-charge, Mr. Smith and Mr. Perkins, it is hoped to increase the facilities of the group and to extend its activities considerably.

SCOUTS

About twelve keen scouts are working over at "Hazeldene" during the hobbies period this year. They are cataloguing the books in the library, sorting out first-aid gear and bandages and making an inventory of the stores. While doing this they are repairing any damage. Another occupation is typing and duplicating notices and forms for the group. These boys are doing important work in the maintenance of the troop's gear, equipment and records.

SENIOR DEBATING

Near the end of the last term the final of the house debate was held on the subject: "There's nothing either good or bad but thinking makes it so." After a close fight one point separated the teams—Bayly winning from Cotton.

This year's first meeting as usual saw the election of officers. Mr. Dennis is still our master and helper. Nigel Paterson is our president and David Hassell our vice-president. The two secretaries are Peter Darley (Minute) and Martin Peard (Organising). David Angel, our committeeman, does not feel completely unnecessary, as the committee was called upon to endorse a programme.

We began with a team game "Mon Mot" based, as you will realise if you parlez francais, on the

J.K.M. 5 UA

B.B.C. word game, "My Word." Unfortunately it was not a success. However, we hope another game later on will be more spontaneous. The Organising Secretary intends the next team to have a "warm up" session before facing the members. The future programme includes a follow-up on last year's TV review, this on the commercials and the products, various forms of speeches, one gimmick being to give the speaker opening and closing words and have him invent the rest for the club's benefit, and a variation on the good old debate, known as an Oregon Debate.

Our members fill the Memorial Library this year and with such a large number we hope for a good year's speaking.

ENGINEERING

The Engineering Group of about forty members in Mr. Bennett's charge have got away to a good start this year. The early part of the year has been taken up largely by lectures, discussion and reading.

We have been fortunate enough to get a number of instructional books and charts which are proving very helpful.

It is planned that the group will do some maintenance and practical work later on during the year.

BAND

This year the band has been formed into an actual hobby group. Any boy, whether he is in the cadets or not, is welcome to join. This will enable the band in future years to start off with experienced members. Another advantage is that the cadet members of the band will have that extra little bit of drill that counts so much. Some of the new buglers shocked their instructors by the way they played. Most of the new drummers have grasped the tunes and they are well on the way to reaching the required standard.

The band had a chance to show their skill when they marched through Adelaide on 13th March with many other cadets. There was an unexpected rush of boys wanting to play the drums. Unfortunately we did not have enough drums.

It must be mentioned that the boys in the band are giving up many other hobby groups which require a lot less work and drill.

Mr. Macfarlane, the master-in-charge, looks after our requirements and keeps us in order.

STAMP CLUB

The club opened this year with an enrolment of twenty-nine members. G. R. Lloyd was elected secretary and G. I. Evans, treasurer. D. L. Hopkins and A. A. Burdett were elected joint vice-presidents with Mr. Nicholson, who is master-in-charge, as president. Our members are all very enthusiastic and so we can say that we are looking forward to an interesting and successful year.

GEOLOGY CLUB

The aim of the club this year is to sort and catalogue the large collection of fossils at present in a disorderly state. The minerals, sedimentary and igneous rocks also have to be put in order. We intend making numerous excursions to places of geological interest, but, as the number of members has risen substantially these will be a little more difficult to undertake than in previous years.

Mr. Crawford is, as last year, the master-in-charge.

RIFLE CLUB

This year Mr. Luke, who has been in charge of the club for many years, again undertook to see that the club was run in a proper manner. Fourteen boys were elected out of the large number that applied for membership, and all have had one shoot at the school range.

CHEMISTRY GROUP

A group of students from different levels in the school will plan and carry out experiments in chemistry during the hobbies period. It is intended that the boys will direct their efforts towards aspects of chemistry outside the scope of school chemistry courses.

ARCHITECTURAL MODELLING

A new group was formed this year for boys interested in architecture. At present the membership totals three only—A. G. Lamb, D. B. Harry and G. D. MacKenzie.

All three are planning to take courses in architecture at the University and a year's practice in model-building will give them useful experience in this increasingly important phase of architecture.

At the moment each member is working on a model designed by himself and every few weeks, the period will be turned over to discussions and designing.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club is now quite strong, numbering ten members. The main occupation is building and operating forty and one metre amateur equipment. The members are keen and the club operates at every opportunity.

A series of lectures are being held each Tuesday after school for the benefit of those interested in obtaining their amateur licences. Our thanks to Mr. D. H. Prest for his help and organisation.

CHOIR

Our main event of the third term was the End-of-Year Service in which the choir joined together to present two items. As the Introit we sang "Non Nobis Domine" (Roger Quilter) and "Christians Awake" (Mauder) was sung as the anthem.

Prior to the service, one of our members, Gavin Riggs, gave a very fine organ recital which was widely appreciated.

Our thanks again to Mr. May under whose guidance the choir was well prepared for its last performance of the year.

WOODWORK CLUB

This year the Woodwork Club is again active. Many promising students enrolled, but preference was given to eighteen of the senior members of the School. R. I. Eglington was elected treasurer, the subscription for the year being two shillings.

The majority are working on surf boards and coffee tables, which should be of high quality.

We should all like to express our thanks to Mr. Welby for his encouragement, organisation, and interest in every member of the group.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club, at its first meeting, elected the following committee: G. Evans, Secretary; I. L. Caire, Treasurer; J. P. Flavel, A. R. Gramp, B. D. Coombes, Committee.

There has been a change in masters this year. Mr. Whitworth is now occupied with scout activities during hobbies periods, and Mr. Mutton has kindly consented to manage the Photography Club this year.

An interesting programme is being arranged. The club intends visiting the Colonel Light rooms of the Australia Hotel, a television studio, the Advertiser building, the Botanic Gardens, the Adelaide Airport, and the University grounds. Already the club has visited an art exhibition at "The Advertiser" Sound Shell, Elder Park. Mr. West from Kodak Ltd., will give a series of lectures this year, dealing with film processing and developing, colour and cine-photography, flash photography and portraiture. There will also be competitions included in this year's programme.

Finally, the members would like to express their sincere thanks to Mr. Whitworth for the work he has done to make the Photography Club one of the best hobbies groups at the school, during the past three years.

LIFE-SAVING CLUB

In the third term last year some of the club members were examined for their respective awards. The points obtained from these awards, and those gained by the physical education classes have already brought our total to over a thousand points.

The boys of the club would like to welcome Mr. R. Prest to their ranks, and we hope he will enjoy being with us.

This year the School is resuming the School Swimming Sports, after a lapse of thirteen years. The Life-Saving Club has taken advantage of this as it will give us a chance to have patrols during the races. This is only a precautionary step, but I am sure the senior boys taking part in the patrols will benefit greatly.

The Life-Saving Club will also have its eyes on any promising swimmers, and I am certain they can be convinced that the Life-Saving Club is the best hobby group.

In the next month the boys of the club will be training hard for their awards. Examinations for these awards are in early April, and we are hoping for good results. There are quite large groups training for the Intermediate Star, Bronze Medalion, and Bronze Cross awards. A somewhat smaller group is training for the Award of Merit, an award yet to be won by a P.A.C. student.

The club would like to thank Mrs. Brown for the use of her swimming pool when the Norwood Pool was unavailable. Every training session is important, especially for the senior members, who need continual practice in the water.

MODEL AEROPLANE CLUB

Already there has been a pleasing number of planes brought each week so early in the year, and there seem to be a large number of boys who are keen to be active members of the club.

Every member of the club is desired to bring a model each week, but this is impossible in some cases, because of bad weather or transport problems. A minimum appearance of six planes each week, however, is not too much to ask from thirty members.

JUNIOR DEBATING

This year we have started quickly and efficiently and with Mr. Coombes as the Master-in-Charge, we are looking forward to a very successful year of achievements in debates, talks by various members of the group and impromptu speeches. As a variation, we propose having debates both of a serious and humorous nature so as to bring out the hidden talents of both the serious-minded and the would-be wits.

The opening debate was on the unusual claim—"That it would be an advantage for man to have a tail." This brought many laughs, and suggestions that a tail, slit up the middle, might be very useful as a pair of braces or as a seat for anyone umpiring cricket, caused much amusement and nearly carried the day for the pros; but it was not to be and the motion was lost.

We are at the moment a small group and would welcome others to come along and join us; we assure them of variety and a really enjoyable sixth period on a Friday afternoon.

ART CLUB

This year the Art Club began enthusiastically with a large number of new members under the leadership of Mr. Gray.

With more emphasis placed on practical work, an emphasis begun last year, this coming year promises to be a very successful one.

This year pottery-making will probably be attempted if it is possible to obtain a potter's wheel and the use of a kiln. The club began the year's programme with a visit to the Advertiser Art Exhibition at Elder Park.

As we did last year, we propose periodically to devote some meetings to visiting either art galleries or various other institutions of art.

The Art Club has been approached to sketch the diagrams for the forthcoming Science Journal. The club will, therefore, this year form an integral part of School life.

We sincerely hope that this year the Art Club, with the large number of young, keen members and under Mr. Gray's guidance, will have one of its most successful years.

Cadet Notes

Third Term, 1961

Brigadier Long, G.O.C. Central Command, was the inspecting officer at our annual Ceremonial Parade. The Parade went off without a hitch and the Brigadier stated in his address that he had never seen a better cadet parade in all his years in the army. His compliment speaks for itself coming from a man who is anything but prone to give such praise. After the march past and salute, the band, led by Drum-Major Hines, gave a demonstration, which was followed by an artillery demonstration and firing by those boys who had done this course during the year.

U/O Jackson, W. R., was presented with the sword for the most efficient under officer during the year at School, and the award for the most efficient cadet went to W/O Boyce.

Before the summer camps, the potential C.U.O.s went on a three-day bivouac at Cape Jervis. This bivouac named "Operation Roughstuff" lived up to its name. This task proved to be one of the most gruelling and difficult tasks yet tried by the Cadet Corps. The country was rough, mountainous and the worst scrub country in this State. The land rose from sea-level to over a thousand feet in less than three miles, and there were numerous deep valleys. In all only about thirty miles were covered in three days of arduous compass marches and exercises, each cadet carrying a twenty-five-pound pack. Kangaroos and rabbits abounded in this almost virgin country, and one wondered how even they survived! However, one of our groups managed to come out on top, and to them (U/O Royal and group) we offer our most sincere congratulations for winning such a difficult and demoralizing course.

First Term, 1962

The year started with the usual summer camps held at Woodside in January. In the Potential Under-Officer course the results were pleasing and the standard high, while in the Senior N.C.O. course first and second places went to Baynes and Trott respectively. In addition, in this course we gained four out of the first six places, a very creditable effort.

In the Junior N.C.O. course the results were pleasing and the standard high. In the Mortar (Specialist) course Coombe and Hobbs came equal second with seventy-eight per cent., while W/O Fidler topped the assault pioneer course. Caire was first in the A. and Q. course, and the results from the intelligence course were very good, although we failed to take any places. In the medical section Searle and Mitchell gained the first and second places respectively.

With the summer courses behind us, the first thing to confront us on returning to School was a march through Adelaide by all second and third year cadets, part of Army Week display. Princes led the procession from Victoria Square, down King William Street to Torrens Parade Ground.

We are now looking forward to the annual May camps. One camp, for the first and second years, is being held at Woodside, while all cadets in subsequent years are going to Wilpena Pound area in the Flinders Ranges, led by our Assault Pioneer Section.

Thus we anticipate another enjoyable and successful year in cadets.

Rowing

Third Term, 1961

Owing to the repairs being carried out on boats, the crews were unable to compete in the races during the third term, Under 14 and Under 15 boys took the opportunity of learning how to row in the few boats on which reconditioning had been completed. The fleet of tub IVs is now in perfect order, and the young members of the club are training hard in them.

First Term, 1962

The rowing camp this year was held on the River Torrens from 30th January until 2nd February, and was very successful.

This year the boys who attended consisted of Under 14s and Under 15s and twelve boys who were considered to have a good chance of attaining a seat in the First VIII.

All the Under 14s and Under 15s were lucky to have a perfect fleet of boats in which to row, and because of the competition, a very good Under 15 crew is expected.

The boys competing for the First VIII had ideal conditions for training and the choosing of the crew was very difficult, but with Giles changing to bow-side the crew was chosen as follows—

W. A. Giles (bow); D. R. Wagner (2); E. P. Ashby (3); W. C. Gardiner (4); A. G. Lamb (5); F. P. Nolan (6); G. W. Reeves (7); L. R. Cox (stroke), and P. S. Bowman (cox).

All boys who expected to gain a position in a crew have been training solidly over the past few weeks, and crews are almost picked.

Prefects' Palaver

Third Term, 1961

During the third term two annual events came to pass as usual. These were the School Play and the "Red and White". In connection with both we must extend our grateful thanks for the help supplied by the mothers of the boys.

Congratulations to David Noble on his acceptance into Duntroon R.M.C.

Dave Angel and the first eleven had a fine win in the Intercollegiate Cricket. Shaughnessy bowled well to take six wickets for twenty-four runs, and so did Darley who took three for twenty.

Finally, but not least, congratulations to Roger Smith for his captaincy of the School in this year.

First Term, 1962

This year got away to a good start, prefects being prominent in all phases of school life. We are represented in rowing by Cox and Wagner, in athletics by Blake, Darley, Chapman and Hurn, in cricket by Angel, Hurn, Darley, Paterson and Webb, in tennis by Webb, in cadets by Williamson and Paterson and in scouts by Hassell. Compton is business manager of the Science Journal, and Paterson Editor of this Chronicle.

Congratulations go to Paterson and Blake for their Bursaries in Honours and Leaving respectively.

As usual, by tradition, this palaver must be ended with some verse, the standard of which has fallen to an all-time low.

Now, if any master should look this way,
Please overlook this, and show no dismay.
The word on Pete comes from a little "bird",
Whose praises far and wide are heard.
Johnny to school comes in his Simca
And is simply shocked to see his locker.
Dave (Eliot Ness) his rod he thrashes,
And leaves all behind in flames and ashes.
Nigel ranks as our greatest Casanova
Whose fame is known the whole city over.
While "Piggy" courts many a damsel fair,
"Tubby" swims and beats all who venture there.
Geoff skilfully hurls the shining leather,
While Lindsay's boat glides like a feather.
"Doggy" his aspiring scouters leads
On to many brave and noble (?) deeds.
"Wag" like Samson pulls the oars,
And wins the race amidst loud roars.
Owen kicks with speed and skill,
And the score goes up Princes 7—nil.
Along the run-up to the jump Secco strides
And then through the air he gracefully glides.
Dave Angel now sports quite a shiner
And thus ends our ode to a faulty rhymmer,
"Willy", the writer of this hopeless ditty,
To all who read, offers his heartfelt pity.

Scout Notes

Scouter-in-Charge: Mr. E. S. Whitworth.

S.M.: Mr. M. N. Gray, 2nd P.A.C.

1st P.A.C.: T.L., R. G. Jarrett; P.Ls, M. Roach, T. Norman, C. Bennett, P. Tamlyn, M. Talbot.

2nd P.A.C.: T.L., I. R. C. Kerr; P.Ls, D. Hassell, P. Freeman, G. Rutherford, L. Barrey, M. Smith.

3rd P.A.C.: T.L., D. A. Trim; P.Ls, S. Inglis, R. Evins, D. Gray, W. Riceman, O. Crompton, W. Richardson.

Quartermasters: R. Allen, J. Parry, R. Smith.

Scouters: P. J. Whitham, R. W. Barrows, J. L. Kallin.

The beginning of the Scout year at Princes was marked by the heavy news that our Scoutmaster, Mr. J. P. Keeves, had decided to take a position in Melbourne, thus leaving us and so severing his long and distinguished connection with P.A.C. Scouting.

The high standard and ideals maintained by John Keeves over so many years have borne fruit in the lives of many who have passed through the troops under his care and expert guidance. His scouting has often been unconventional but it was conducted with great energy and imagination: there are many who owe him a great debt of gratitude.

Elsewhere in this issue testimony is paid to his many services to Princes; so we here would say a simple, but a very sincere "thank you" to him on behalf of all who knew him to be a man of high integrity, great faith in the Scouting method, and a leader whom many were happy to follow.

Looking back over the third term of 1961 we feel that a most successful and satisfying year of Scouting was completed.

Congratulations to all who gained badges and awards, particularly to R. Philpot, R. Trezona, and Darrell Trim who gained the coveted Queen's Scout Badge.

The Scout Party, held on a Tuesday towards the end of term was voted a great success by all who enjoyed an evening of games and dancing under the expert handling of "M.Cing." by Mr.

Ian Watson and Mr. Colin Luke. Our sincere thanks go to the mothers for their spontaneous help and especially to Mrs. A. E. Smith who was responsible for the organisation and decorations.

The Jumble Sale, organised by Mrs. Trezona and Mrs. Chapman, at which so many mothers and fathers and friends assisted, raised just over £150—we are indeed grateful to all concerned for this wonderful effort.

On Friday, 2nd March, 1962, the A.G.M. of the Scouts' Parents and Friends Association was held in the Assembly hall. There was a record attendance, due no doubt to the presentation to Mr. J. Keeves. Mr. Henry Rymill (State Chief Commissioner), Mr. H. Gerner (Commissioner Eastern Suburbs), Mr. H. Matters (S.P.S.C.), and Mr. R. T. Smith (representing the Headmaster who was unavoidably absent through a long-standing previous engagement) were present and paid tribute to Mr. Keeves and his connection with every phase of his scouting. Mr. P. Smith, President of the Association then presented to Mr. Keeves on behalf of all scouts, past and present, and their parents a fountain pen and cheque.

Colour slides were shown by A.S.M. P. Whitham of the Adventure Hike across Tasmania in the January holidays on which some twenty or more Rover Scouts enjoyed the rigours of mountain climbing.

We are very pleased that Mr. P. Smith and Mr. W. Chapman were re-elected chairman and Secretary, respectively. With them and the strong committee which was elected the future for the scouts should be assured. We are grateful to those members of the committee who have retired after many years of happy and devoted service. To them and many others who have unobtrusively worked behind the scenes, to the many old Scouts who have helped on many special occasions we tender our very sincere thanks.

We all look forward to the arrival of Mr. John Davenport who is to become a member of the teaching staff early in April. We extend to him our greetings and best wishes, hoping he will be very happy in our scouting team here at Princes.

1st P.A.C.

Scout Field Day for 1961 was held on 11th December in the last week of school. The patrols left Hazeldene between 9.15 and 9.45 a.m. and travelled on the Main North Road and Tea Tree Gully Road to the Yatala Vale oval for lunch. The return journey was down the Lower North-East Road past Hope Valley reservoir, then through Campbelltown, along Penfold Road and down East Parade to the Norwood Pool for a quick swim. After this we returned to Hazeldene to find that the Kookaburra Patrol was first, closely followed by the Kangaroos.

The Abotomey Cup for 1961 was won by the Kangaroo Patrol, (P.L., C. Harvey) with 550½ points; the Kookaburras were a close second with 540 points.

All P.Ls attended the Eastern Suburbs Patrol Leaders' training week-end at Woodhouse on 3rd and 4th March and all voted it a worthwhile week-end. We are looking forward to our Easter camp and the week-end Patrol Camps at Mylor in the second term.

We are very happy to have the continued help of Peter Whitham and Graham Bowen in their usual enthusiastic way at our Friday meetings and with Mr. Whitworth we look forward to a year of good scouting 2nd P.A.C.

This year we again have six patrols under the leadership of six very keen P.Ls, Ian Kerr being Troop Leader. Our meetings got off to a good start; the Court of Honour planned out an interesting programme of "stunts" one week, alternating with regular meetings in the gymnasium the following week. The weather, too, has been most kind and much sailing was had early in the term at the Outer Harbour in all our three boats.

We hope to be under canvas again during the May holidays and repeat, then, the great success of the 1961 Goolwa camp. This was voted one of the most successful camps we have had—enough boats being taken down to give ample sailing time to all the troop.

Just before the start of the 1962 school year we heard that Mr. J. Keeves was leaving us and going to Melbourne. This was a great shock as he had played a very important role for many years. On behalf of all Sea Scouts we thank him for all he has done for us and wish him every success in his new position.

We look forward to a year of good Sea Scouting and welcome the return of Mr. Gray whose knowledge and ability in sailing will help us all.

3rd P.A.C.

The capacity of the troop has again been stretched to a maximum with six full patrols. At the present Mr. Whitworth is running the troop, assisted by A.S.M. John Kallin and T.L. Darrell Trim. We look forward to the arrival of Mr. Davenport who, we hope, will give assistance in our activities.

The Troop was well represented at various District and State scouting functions early in the year and on 16th March the whole troop was present at Woodhouse, after hiking from the Burnside bus terminus, to witness the early Initiation Ceremony—both formal and informal!—of the new members.

Troop meetings are being held on the same lines as last year, alternating between patrol stunts and meetings in the gym. There we shall carry out badge instruction looking towards the First Class and Queen's Scout badges. We hope there will be a camp at Easter again; this is the year we go to Kuitpo Forest and plans are being made for a venture in September, possibly in the Grampian Mountains in Victoria. In all, the 3rd P.A.C. Troop is looking forward to another extremely successful year.

Cricket

The First XI have had a very good season, just missing the final four in B Grade after winning two matches outright and three on the first innings of the nine games played.

The intercollegiate match against St. Peters was won finally by six wickets. It was a game dominated by bowlers until the last morning when Shearer and Webb showed the first purposeful batting of the match to make the game safe for Princes. Prior to their partnership medium-paced seam bowlers in Taylor (S.P.S.C.) and Shaughnessy had used the humid conditions to wreck their respective opponents first innings.

Outstanding performances were with the ball rather than the bat, rather surprising in such a dry summer.

Robert Shaughnessy, 8 for 25 off 16 overs against Salisbury, 4 for 15 against Port Adelaide and 6 for 24 off 14 overs against St. Peters, Geoffrey Hurn 6 for 31 against Adelaide and 3 for 13, David Angel 6 for 14, 4 for 23, and 5 for 63, David McWaters 8 for 20 and 3 for 15 all turned in excellent performances.

The best batting was that of Ron Ellis with 91, 63 not out and 49 and Ian Rudd whose aggregate of 301 for the season was our highest. Rudd's highest score was 49 but his value was more reflected in the fact that he scored 20 or more in 7 of the 14 innings in which he was dismissed.

Prospects for 1962 are very bright. Competition to make the First XI is fierce and juniors have been putting in claims with some outstanding performances.

The fact that year after year young players come up to the Firsts and become successful players in what is basically an adult competition reflects the sound and patient coaching given to Princes' teams by Messrs. Leak, Provis, Whitworth, Coombes, Brown, Claver, Bain, Nicolson and Allen, and a number of the senior boys which helps to make the task of the First XI coach so much easier.

The thanks of the School are due to the Curator and the ground staff for the excellent playing conditions they provide, to Mrs. Angel and the mothers of the First XI, and to Sister McDonald, Mrs. Harris and Miss Woodcock for the splendid afternoon teas during the season.

1961 INTERCOLLEGIATE CRICKET

This year's intercollegiate match was played at S.P.S.C. A little rain had fallen the night before the match, and although no more fell during the match, conditions were overcast and rather humid. Wright won the toss and Saints decided to bat first on a fairly easy-paced wicket, a rather doubtful advantage considering the humid and slightly windy conditions prevailing.

Rossiter and Niehuus opened the batting for Saints against the bowling of Hurn and Shaughnessy. They took the score along into the twenties in a brisk manner, although they never really looked on top of the P.A.C. opening bowlers, both of whom were swinging the ball and attacking the wicket very well in the heavy conditions.

With the score at 21, however, the first breakthrough came. Niehuus was caught by Shaughnessy in the gully from the bowling of Hurn, Rossiter was caught at mid-on by Rudd off Shaughnessy and Macklin went leg before wicket to the same bowler. The collapse continued and with the dismissal of Whittle and Wright, both bowled by Shaughnessy, Saints had then lost 5 wickets for 31.

Only McLachlan, who top scored with 26, and wicket-keeper Mufray showed any resistance to the P.A.C. bowling. McLachlan was finally dismissed when he mistimed a drive off Hurn and Angel accepted a fairly simple catch at mid-off. Saints were all out soon afterwards for 96—Shaughnessy finishing with the excellent figures of 6/24 from 14 overs. He bowled well from start to finish, showing excellent control of swing and change of pace in the cross-wind, and thoroughly deserved these figures. He was well supported by Hurn who took 2/28.

Shearer and Rudd opened the P.A.C. first innings. The innings did not get away to a good start, however, as Rudd went leg before wicket to Saints' opening bowler, Taylor, for 8 with the score standing at 11. Angel joined Shearer and seemed to be settling down well when he was bowled by Taylor for 9. Webb and Shearer carried the score along to 61 before the latter was caught behind from the bowling of Macklin for a well-compiled 31. A few runs later Webb was also dismissed by Macklin for 15. Ellis joined McIntosh and these two carried the score to within one run of the Saints' first innings total before Ellis was caught and bowled by leg-spinner McLachlan shortly before stumps. Hurn went in intent on preserving his wicket until the next day. There was a misunderstanding between the batsmen, however, and Hurn was very unlucky to be run out for 2. Lovell came in five minutes before stumps, and at the end of the day's play he was not out 4, with McIntosh at the other end a very sound 22 not out. The total stood at 6 for 105.

The next day play resumed sensationally, with three wickets falling with the score still at 105. On the first ball he received from Taylor, McIntosh was clean bowled for 22. Lovell was caught on the fence trying to hit McLachlan out of the ground and Shaughnessy went leg before wicket to Taylor. The innings came to a close with the score at 113 when Clapp went leg before wicket to Taylor, Darley remaining not out. Taylor, the Saints' opening bowler finished with the excellent figures of 5/11.

P.A.C. broke through the Saint's batting early in the second innings when Hurn shattered Rossiter's wicket in the opening over. The second wicket fell at 11 when Niehuus was caught behind by Ellis from the bowling of Hurn. The third wicket fell at 22 when Macklin was clean bowled by Darley. Murray was joined by the Saints' captain, Wright. These two batted very well and appeared to be getting on top of the attack when Princes broke through again. Murray was bowled by Darley with the score at 53 and in the next over Wright was out when he was clean bowled by Clapp, without any addition to the score. With the dismissals of Whittle and Latimer without any appreciable addition to the score, Saints were 7/91 and P.A.C. were in a strong position again. McLachlan was again in good form, however, and with Ackland-Horman carried the score along to 131. Angel finally broke the partnership when he had McLachlan stumped by Ellis for 35. Success again rewarded Angel's persistence when he clean bowled Ackland-Horman for 15, and Clapp finished off the innings by bowling Taylor, with the score at 138. The bowling honours were evenly shared in the second innings with Darley 3/20, Clapp 2/11, Angel 2/15 and Hurn 2/34 being the wicket-takers.

The P.A.C. second innings resumed with 122 runs needed for victory. The first wicket fell at 2, however, when Rudd was caught in slips from the bowling of Macklin. Angel joined Shearer and both batsmen batted confidently until stumps. In the last over before stumps, however, Angel got a touch to an out-swing from Taylor and was brilliantly caught behind the wicket by Murray. At stumps on the second day, P.A.C. were 2 for 20 and still needed 102 runs for victory.

Shearer and Webb resumed the innings on the third day and soon both were batting very confidently. Shearer reproduced the form he had shown in the first innings and with Webb also in fine form at the other end, the pair added 60 runs in a little over even time. The partnership came to an end when Shearer was bowled by Taylor and the fourth wicket fell when McIntosh was caught and bowled by McLachlan. Ellis joined Webb and the pair added the required runs. Webb remained not out 47 to be top-scorer for the match and Ellis remained not out 13.

Thus P.A.C. ran out winners by 6 wickets. Although the batting was at times slow, the interest was maintained by the closeness of the scores, and taken over all it was a really good match. Webb and Shearer (batting), Shaughnessy (bowling) and McIntosh (fielding) are to be congratulated on winning the trophies presented for the best performances in the intercollegiate match.

CRICKET CRITIQUE

Angel, D. N. (captain)—A thoughtful and very mature leader, he has had marked success. A penetrating leg-spinner and a sound, tenacious batsman.

Ellis, R. W. (vice-captain)—As a wicket-keeper he is extremely safe and capable. His keenness has had a marked effect on the team's fielding. A batsman of considerable promise.

Hurn, G. M.—A tall pace bowler with a high, easy delivery. Speed, lift and venom are there, accuracy is on the improve. He is a useful bat and a splendid fieldman.

Shearer, M. A.—An unaccountable loss of form and confidence left him a shadow of the fine batsman of the previous season, but he has talent and will be a fine player.

MacIntosh, C. M.—An aggressive batsman with a somewhat awkward style, he has a solid defence and cracks the loose ones hard. A splendid fieldman.

Webb, J. N.—A natural, free batsman with a pleasing style and good technique, his limitations are temperamental rather than technical. A fine field and a useful bowler.

Shaughnessy, R. V.—A left-arm medium-pacer who is very close to being a champion. When conditions give him the little venom that he normally lacks he bowls magnificently. A superb gully fieldman.

Clapp, J. H.—A tall medium-paced stock bowler, he moves the ball a little either way and has taken some valuable wickets.

Darley, P. M.—He has developed into a useful all-rounder. He is a punishing batsman, a splendid fieldman and a difficult medium-fast bowler.

Lovell, D. J.—A free-hitting left-hander who played several valuable innings. Concentration on on-side strokes has lessened his effectiveness.

Rudd, I. M.—A tenacious left-handed opener with a splendid defence, he has been our most consistent batsman. With a little more power and experience he should develop into a class cricketer.

Walker, C. L.—A sound and correct batsman, he has taken rather a long time to settle down. He is tremendously keen, and several good innings late in the season should give him confidence to go on to bigger scores.

McWaters, D.—A strongly-built pace bowler with splendid control and a most difficult late outswing. He could well become a class cricketer.

Gillespie, P. R.—A tall right-hander with a pleasing style. He has all the strokes and needs only greater concentration to become a prolific scorer. A useful medium-paced bowler.

Leak, J. D.—A quick, capable keeper whose play is marked by deft glovework.

Ashby, J. M.—A forceful right-handed batsman who shows signs of developing into a prolific run-getter. An excellent field.

Compton, A. B.—A young off-spinner who could develop into an outstanding cricketer.

Woodcock, A. J.—A young opener with an excellent technique and splendid concentration.

Paterson, N. A. M.—Shows promise as an opening bat. He has the technique and the concentration but lacks experience.

FIRST XI

Third Term, 1961

7th and 14th October—P.A.C. v. Salisbury

We started the season well by winning the toss and batting. The pitch was an excellent batsman's wicket but despite two fine knocks by Lovell (61) and Ellis (49), little support was given and we were dismissed for 152. Then Shaughnessy, using the new ball to great advantage into the wind, took 8 wickets for 25 runs of 16.2 overs to rout Salisbury for 83. We then resumed batting and declared at 3/91, Webb batting well for an undefeated 64. Little trouble was met in dismissing the opposition for 79.

P.A.C. 152 (Lovell 61, Ellis 49) and 3/91 declared (Webb 64 n.o.) defeated Salisbury 83 (Shaughnessy 8/25) and 79 (Angel 4/23, Clapp 3/1).

21st and 28th October—P.A.C. v. Port Adelaide

Losing the toss on this occasion, we bowled on a wicket with a fair amount of grass on the surface. The opposing team was all out for 59, Angel with 6/14 and Shaughnessy with 4/15 taking the bowling honours. We then batted and due only to Hurn (38 n.o.), who batted well, we managed to pass their score with 83. Port Adelaide batted again and declared at 7/213. We replied with 5/116 and the match ended with a first innings win to us.

P.A.C. 83 (Hurn 38 n.o.) and 5/116 (Rudd 45 n.o.) defeated Port Adelaide 59 (Angel 6/14, Shaughnessy 4/15) and 7/213 declared.

11th and 18th November—P.A.C. v. Adelaide

Thanks to the services of our excellent groundsman the pitch was again in excellent condition. Adelaide batted and in a sudden burst, Hurn had the remarkable figures of 4/3 off two overs. Opposition was met, however, and they were finally dismissed for 150. We then made 92, Angel and Webb the only two who made respectable scores. Adelaide batted again and made 108 for the loss of five wickets. We then made 125 of which MacIntosh made a fine 58.

P.A.C. 92 (Angel 35, Webb 27) and 125 (MacIntosh 58, Rudd 30) were defeated by Adelaide 150 (Hurn 6/31) and 5/108 declared (Webb 2/22).

25th November and 1st December—P.A.C. v. West Torrens

We lost the toss again and West Torrens batted on a perfect wicket. They were dismissed for 80 by a good all round effort from our bowlers. The wicket-keeper, Ellis, had five victims and followed this up with a fine 91 out of a total of 223. At stumps on the second day West Torrens were 3/125 and the match ended in a win on the first innings to us.

P.A.C. 223 (Ellis 91, Rudd 49) defeated West Torrens 80 (Hurn 3/13, Darley 3/13, Angel 3/10) and 3/125.

9th and 16th December—P.A.C. v. Prospect

We won the toss and batted. We made 157 of which MacIntosh made 60 and Angel 40. On the following Saturday in the heat, the bowling and fielding was lacking the zest which had characterized it throughout the season, due no doubt to the intercollegiate match during the week. Prospect made 311 and Hurn, Darley, Clapp and Lovell each got 2 wickets.

P.A.C. 157 (MacIntosh 60, Angel 40) were defeated by Prospect 311.

First Term, 1962

29th January and 2nd February—P.A.C. v. University

University won the toss and put us in on a perfect batting wicket. Faced with a strong attack we were dismissed for 74. University batted and ended with 8/235 declared, Hurn bowling well to get 4/64. We fared better in our second innings and scored 9/158, Ellis making 63 and Shaughnessy 25.

P.A.C. 74 (MacIntosh 23) and 9/158 (Ellis 63 n.o., Shaughnessy 25) were defeated by University 8/235 declared (Hurn 4/64).

17th and 24th February—P.A.C. v. Sturt

We won the toss and batted. Thanks to fine batting by Walker and Rudd we made 182. Sturt batted and made 9/215 declared. In our second innings we were 8/135. Rudd and Darley both batted well, Rudd having a good double for the match.

P.A.C. 182 (Walker 44, Rudd 41) and 8/135 (Darley 54, Rudd 45) were defeated by Sturt 9/215 (Angel 5/63).

9th and 17th March—P.A.C. v. Port Adelaide

We lost the toss and fielded. The wicket was perfect and a good all-round bowling and team effort sent the opposition back for 135. We batted and then saved by a last wicket partnership of 35 by Gillespie (31) and Compton (6 n.o.) we managed to pass their score. This was the second time we had played Port Adelaide and on both occasions we beat them in a last-wicket stand.

P.A.C. 138 (Rudd 31, Darley 31, Gillespie 31) and 3/55 defeated Port Adelaide 135 (McWaters 3/15, Compton 3/29) and 7/213 declared (Webb 3/20).

16th March—P.A.C. v. N.S.W. Country

The visiting N.S.W. team won the toss and batted, the time being split since it was a one-day match. It was bright cricket, Angel getting 25 hit off one over and at afternoon tea, the opposition were 7/142, McWaters and Hurn being the best of the bowlers. We batted and chiefly through the efforts of Darley, Angel and Ashby we passed their score comfortably. It was an enjoyable match and the cricket was bright throughout.

24th March—P.A.C. v. Old Scholars

We looked forward to this match as we had been beaten the previous year, and we wished to avenge our defeat. The old scholars won the toss and put us in. We made 151, Gillespie (43) and Angel (21) being the main scorers. The old scholars then batted and McWaters bowling fast and accurately bundled them out for 62. This was a fine piece of bowling and he ended up with 8/20 of 10.1 overs.

P.A.C. 151 (Gillespie 43, Angel 21) defeated the Old Scholars 62 (McWaters 8/20).

OTHER TEAMS, THIRD TERM, 1961

Second XI

(Captain: W. G. Holdich)

The Seconds had a very successful year and were undefeated until the final match when we were beaten to a large extent by the fate of the toss and of the elements.

We managed this term to beat both Saints Second XI and Under 16 "A", although there were anxious moments in both matches. Then the match against A.B.H.S. Second XI resulted in an outright win when we were set 70 runs in 30 minutes, and thanks to a tremendous six from David Compton victory was assured. Then on a rain-soaked pitch and with some bad batting we were beaten by S.C. Second XI.

The highest rungetters during the year were J. Ashby and D. Hill (over 300). B. Tonkin, P. Darley (over 150) and J. Bridges scored consistently. In our bowling C. M. Philpott had over 25 wickets while P. Darley, G. Flower had over 15 and G. Holdich and D. Hill, 10 wickets, helped.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Nicholson for his keen interest shown at practice and matches throughout the year.

P.A.C. 3/157 (Darley 77 n.o., Hill 70) defeated S.P.S.C. Second XI 9/154 declared (Philpott 3/24, Darley 3/35).

P.A.C. 147 (Hill 69) defeated S.P.S.C. Under 16 "A" 135 (Philpott 3/30, Darley 3/25, Flower 2/28, Hill 2/23) and 3/43 (Holdich 2/8).

P.A.C. 6/108 declared (Bridges 39 n.o.) and 8/71 defeated A.B.H.S. 53 (Darley 7/21) and 125 (Philpott 6/28).

P.A.C. 45 (Hill 18, Pascoe 16) and 3/119 (J. Ashby 35 n.o., B. Tonkin 30 n.o.) lost to S.C. 5/126 (Philpott 2/21).

Third XI

(Captain: D. L. Paterson)

This year the Thirds had a very successful season, winning all matches.

P.A.C. defeated King's College Second XI outright (MacKenzie 50).

P.A.C. defeated Rostrevor College Third XI outright.

P.A.C. 90 defeated Sacred Heart College Third XI 67 (R. Hocking 29). R. Hocking 3/22, Lodge 3/35.

P.A.C. 97 and 90 defeated S.P.S.C. Thirds 72 and 74. Pontifex 27, Lodge 27, Searle 36. B. Hocking 4/21, Lodge 7/31, Yorath 3/8, Middleton 2/0.

P.A.C. 225 defeated S.P.S.C. Under 16 "B" 30 and 13. Pontifex 100. Lodge 4/14, Yorath 2/2, Paterson 2/4, Nicholls 7/4.

P.A.C. defeated C.B.C. Seconds outright. Searle 39.

P.A.C. 146 defeated P.G.S. Second XI 117. Bennett 24, Searle 41. Lodge 5/36.

We congratulate Lodge, Hocking and Nicholls upon their fine bowling performances. We also congratulate Searle for his batting. The team thanks Mr. Bain for his assistance throughout the year.

Under 16 XI

(Captain: J. O. Chapman)

This term the team has been quite successful, as it has won three of the four matches played. We lost the first match of the season to St. Ignatius Firsts and then defeated A.B.H.S. Under 15 "A"s outright, and Saints Under 16 "A"s and Rostrevor Seconds both on the first innings.

In the match against S.I.C. Firsts, they batted first and made 140. The best bowlers were Pike who took 4/37 and Chapman 3/39. They then dismissed us for 68. The best scores were 21 by Corbet and 16 not out by Gerard. St. Ignatius scored 2/124 in their second innings.

In the next match against A.B.H.S. Under 15 "A"s we made the big score of 6/317 declared. The main scorers were J. Ashby 116 retired, Chapman 83, Gillespie 49, Hassell 40, and Yard 18 not out. In their first innings they were all out for 68. Gillespie took 5/38, McDonald 3/6, and Yard 2/19. We batted a second time and declared at 3/35, of which P. Ashby made 25. A.B.H.S. made 135 in their second innings. Gillespie again bowled well to take 4/25, while McDonald took 3/27.

The next match was against Saints, who were all out for 111. The best bowlers were Gillespie 3/22, Walker 3/35, and Pike 3/15. We then made 224, the main scorers being Walker 88, Hassell 60, and McDonald 27.

In the last match which was against Rostrevor Seconds, we dismissed them for 70. Walker took 6/36 and McDonald 2/7. We then made 9/234. The main scorers were Chapman 93, Paterson 28, and Pike 33 not out.

The best bowlers for the term were Gillespie and Walker while Chapman scored the most runs.

Our congratulations are extended to Walker on being chosen as twelfth man for the intercollegiate side.

The team would like to thank Mr. Coombes for his splendid support throughout the year.

Under 15 Red

(Captain: M. E. Corbet)

The Under 15 Red team was defeated once, by Scotch.

This term, in the first match we fielded an "A" team against Saints "A"s. Hotchin took 5/18 and Barrett 3/4 (hat trick) in dismissing Saints for 56. Then Hotchin figured in a winning total of 156 by scoring 45 not out.

A.B.H.S. "B"s were all out for 88 with Searle taking 4/42 and Hotchin 3/29. At the end of the day we were 1/88 (Searle 42 not out), and rather than waste ten minutes on the change we declared the following week and dismissed High School for 44 (Hotchin 4/15, Jackson 4/19). We then won outright, with a total of 86.

C.B.C. proved difficult opponents. We batted for 180, of which Leak scored 93. Without Hotchin we dismissed them for 177 (Corbet 6/62, Searle 4/67).

Scotch shocked us. On a wet pitch we were all out for 44. They made 105 (Hotchin 6/46, Jackson 4/46) and dismissed us again for 87. They then won outright, getting the necessary 27 for the loss of 1 wicket.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Claver and Mr. Brown for their enthusiastic coaching and support.

Under 15 White

(Captain: P. G. Barrett)

During the third term of 1961 the Under 15 White cricket team had quite a successful season.

We had quite an easy win over an Adelaide High Under 15 side. In this match, Speakman and Johnstone made over 50 runs in a very quick time. The whole team made 174 runs in about ninety minutes. The Adelaide High side were out for 120, Wicks and R. H. Smith both taking 2 wickets.

In contrast to this easy win, we were beaten outright by an innings by a team representing St. Ignatius Under 15s. St. Ignatius batted first and were dismissed for 154 runs, Wicks taking 6 wickets and Barrett 3. When we batted we were dismissed for 45 and 99.

The team would like to thank Mr. Brown for his assistance both at practices and matches during the term.

Under 14 "A"

The Under 14 "A"s had a very good season, winning two out of the four matches. The matches won were those against S.H.C. and C.C. and those lost were against A.B.H.S. and S.P.S.C. Woodcock, Compton, and Hassell were the leading batsmen throughout the season, while Compton, Beauchamp and Blake were the leading bowlers. We should like to thank Mr. Provis for his help and advice throughout the season.

Scores—

P.A.C. 165 (Woodcock 67, O'Neill 40) defeated S.H.C. 67 (Compton 4/22, Beauchamp 3/8).

P.A.C. 125 (Hassell 49) defeated by S.P.S.C. 5/130 (Compton 2/35).

P.A.C. 3/224 (Woodcock 100 not out, Compton 65, Hassell 47) defeated C.C. 126 (Hassell 3/21).

P.A.C. 127 (Woodcock 49) defeated by A.B.H.S. 144 (Beauchamp 2/20, Blake 2/17.)

Under 14 "B"

(Captain: J. G. Williams)

We were not very successful this term but fought in good spirit with many tight finishes. We won matches against S.H.C. and A.B.H.S. and lost to S.C., S.P.S.C., C.B.C., I.C., S.H.C. and P.G.S.

Those who contributed most to the team were Jarrett and Snewin with the bat, Lewis, Rhodes, Middleton and Jarrett with the ball. Kobelt has done well lately. Middleton, Stennett and Martin did well in the field.

Our thanks go to Mr. Whitworth for his helpful coaching, and splendid support.

Under 13 "A"

(Captain: R. Close)

The Under 13 "A"s did not have a very successful season, losing all four of our matches. We lost narrowly to S.P.S.C., but were easily defeated by S.H.C., S.I.C., and A.B.H.S. Brown, Noble, and Green were the most consistent batsmen, while Brown, Close, and Warhurst were the most successful bowlers.

We would like to thank Mr. Leak for his coaching and continual help on Saturday mornings.

Results—

P.A.C. 48 and 51 (Close 20) defeated by S.H.C. 146 (Brown 5/36, Martin 2/20).

P.A.C. 109 (Brown 32) defeated by S.P.S.C. 116 (Close 3/28, Noble 2/21).

P.A.C. 98 (Brown 33) defeated by S.I.C. 142 (Close 2/20).

P.A.C. 143 (Noble 64, Green 27, Brown 24) defeated by A.B.H.S. 234.

Under 13 "B"

(Captain: I. Hone)

The Under 13 "B" team did not have a very successful term, losing six of the eight matches played. We defeated P.G.S. and S.C., but were defeated by S.H.C. (twice), C.B.C., S.P.S.C., P.A.C. Prep., and A.B.H.S.

The highest team score was 126 which was made against S.C. The highest individual score was 50 made by Marshall. Westerman had the best bowling figures for a match—4/1.

Results—

P.A.C. 65 (Heddle 14, Westerman 22) were defeated by S.H.C. 80 (Westerman 3/43).

P.A.C. 72 (Taplin 23, McEwin 25) were defeated by C.B.C. 98.

P.A.C. 36 were defeated by S.P.S.C. 86.

P.A.C. 36 were defeated by S.H.C. 116.

P.A.C. Under 13 "B"s 52 were defeated by P.A.C. Prep. 96 (Huxtable 3/20).

P.A.C. 5/102 (Cox 35, Westerman not out 24) defeated P.G.S. 45 (Westerman 4/1, Hone 4/15).

P.A.C. 82 (Cox 38) were defeated by A.B.H.S. 83.

P.A.C. 9/126 (Marshall 50, Manuel 23) defeated S.C. 25 (Hone 4/6, Marshall 3/11).

FIRST TERM, 1962Second XI

(Captain: J. Chapman)

This term has been quite a successful one for the Second XI, as they have won three out of four matches.

The first match of the term was on 10th February when we played A.B.H.S. Under 15 "A"s. We dismissed them for 55, the main wicket-takers being McWaters (4/17) and McDonald (3/15). P.A.C. then batted and scored 227 in very quick time. Gillespie top scored with 59 and others who did well were J. Ashby 39, McDonald 32 not out and Paterson 22 retired.

In the next match we were defeated by our own Under 16 side. They made 124 to our 78, the main scorer for us being Pflaum 23 and Chapman 20. In the second innings the Under 16s were 6/150.

The third match of the season resulted in a very pleasing team effort against Rostrevor Seconds. The main features of this game were the excellent fielding by the Princes side, and the bowling of Pike who took 5/3 of 5 overs. Rostrevor were dismissed for 34. In reply we made 140, the main scorers being Chapman 34, Pflaum 31, and Hill 20.

In the final match of the term against Sacred Heart Seconds we batted on a sticky wicket and were dismissed for 92, McDonald being the only notable batsman scoring 36. We then took the field and did well to dismiss the opposition for 88, this being 4 runs short of our total. Lower bowled extremely well to take 4/11 off 9 overs, Chapman took 3/37 and Lodge 2/17.

The members of the Second XI wish to thank Mr. Claver for the very keen interest he has shown in us on Saturdays and for his excellent coaching at practice.

Under 16 "A"

(Captain: M. Corbet)

During the term we played four matches, winning three and losing the fourth to Scotch.

In the first match, played against S.P.S.C. Second XI, on their main oval, they batted for 74 runs, Hotchin taking 5/12 and Hocking 4/29. We batted for the remaining time (it being a one-day match) to be 136 for the loss of 8 wickets (Corbet 40, Jackson and Barrett each 20).

The following week we played our own Second XI on the back oval. We totalled only 124 (Hocking 34, Jackson 26, Speakman 20 not out) but the Seconds did not reach it the following week, managing only 78 due to Hocking's bowling performance of 5/25. We batted a second time, scoring 150 for 6 (Corbet 61, Hocking 33 not out, Jackson 29).

On a sticky wicket at A.B.H.S., their Second XI dismissed us for 82 (Hocking 30) and the following week (the wicket being no better) they were dismissed for 47 (Hocking 4/11). Again we failed, making only 48, in the second innings. They then batted till stumps to be 3/20.

Scotch Second XI were a far better side than we had so far met. Their openers caused trouble, and it being a one-day game we managed only 66 for 8 (Hotchin 23 not out). In a tense finish they passed our score to be 9 for 85 at stumps (Hocking 4 for 38).

Hocking had the highest aggregate (118) for the season, followed by Corbet (110) and Jackson (94). Best with the bat, Hocking, also took the bowling honours with 17 wickets with Hotchin taking 11.

On the team's behalf I should like to thank Mr. Coombes for his enthusiastic coaching and support throughout the term.

Third XI

(Captain: D. Paterson)

This term our Third XI had another successful season, by winning all matches. Our wins were against S.H.C. Fourth XI, S.P.S.C. Under 16 "B" XI, and R.C. Third XI. Our last match against S.H.C. Third XI was cancelled because of rain.

S.H.C. Fourth XI: Forfeit.

P.A.C. 163 (Thompson 38, Morris 20) defeated S.P.S.C. 65 (Jones 6/12, Nicholls 3/3).

P.A.C. 121 and 104 (Rowe 27 and 54, Paterson 22, Lower 25) defeated R.C. Third XI 83 (Lodge 3/7, Nicholls 3/16).

The team thanks Mr. Bain for his assistance during the term.

Fourth XI

(Captain: P. Sneyd)

Although it was a rather disappointing season, there was a great deal of interest shown by all players.

There were three matches played, against Pulteney, Kings and Immanuel. Of the three, the one against Immanuel was the closest result. Here Princes came within three runs of the Immanuel score in a fighting finish.

The other two matches were against higher grade teams, and the fourths performed well, although they did not win the matches.

The most successful batsmen for the season were Eberbach and Sneyd, the latter also doing a good job behind stumps. Batting honours go to Eberbach who made the highest score for the season with a dashing 55 against Pulteney.

Of the bowlers, Hoppood and Young were the most successful, taking over half of the wickets between them.

The team looks forward to a better season in the third term, and extends their thanks to Mr. Allen for his very helpful coaching throughout the season.

Under 15 Red

(Captain: A. Woodcock)

The P.A.C. Under 15 Red cricket team has had a reasonably successful season, winning one match, with a loss and a draw in the other two games.

In the first match against Rostrevor we won quite comfortably. The second match against S.P.S.C. Under 15 White was an exciting match in which they beat us by three runs. In the last match against S.P.S.C. Under 15 Blue the match was drawn.

The team would like to thank Mr. Brown for his help on Saturday mornings and also at practice.

Scores—

10th February—P.A.C. 210 (Woodcock 95 not out, Compton 28) defeated Rostrevor 110 (Compton 4/35, Blake 3/15).

24th February—P.A.C. 155 (Woodcock 53, Haynes 32, Compton 30) defeated by S.P.S.C. 158 (Compton 4/33, Woodcock 3/25, Milner 3/20).

10th March—P.A.C. 1 for 24 drew with S.P.S.C. 101 (Woodcock 4/27, Blake 3/42, Rhodes 2/7).

Under 15 White

(Captain: J. Hassell)

The Under 15 White had a successful season, winning the first two matches and losing the last one. The first match was against Pulteney, and after a small first innings score, we managed to win by a few runs. In the second match against Kings we won after an exciting finish, but in the last match we were defeated outright.

10th and 17th February—P.A.C. 50 and 65 defeated Pulteney 43 and 9/68.

24th February and 3rd March—P.A.C. 1/79 declared and 6/45 defeated Kings 44 and 9/79 declared.

10th and 17th March—P.A.C. 50 and 85 defeated by Rostrevor 7/163.

Under 14 "A"

(Captain: R. Close)

The Under 14 "A" team did not have a very successful season, winning only one of its three matches. The first was only a one-day match, which we won quite easily, Green and Marshall being the most successful batsmen. In the second match against St. Ignatius, we were defeated by 22 runs, Marshall and Green again scoring well. In the third match we were defeated badly by 84 runs, and narrowly missed an outright defeat.

We wish to thank Mr. Provis for his excellent coaching.

P.A.C. 5/88 (Green 37 not out, Marshall 27) defeated Concordia 40 (Marshall 4/12).

P.A.C. 110 (Green 38, Marshall 21 not out) defeated by St. Ignatius 132 (Warhurst 3/16).

P.A.C. 51 and 9/45 defeated by Rostrevor 7/133 (Brown 4/19).

Under 14 "B"

(Captain: R. Day)

The Under 14 "B"s did not have a very successful season, losing all four games played. These were against Concordia, Rostrevor, Sacred Heart and S.P.S.C. Smart and Henstridge were our best in bowling, while McEwin, Henstridge, Day and Hopkirk were the most successful batsmen. We should like to thank Mr. Whitworth for his helpful advice throughout the season.

P.A.C. 76 (Hopkirk 19, Day 17) were defeated by Concordia 90 (McEwin 3/11).

P.A.C. 53 (Hedde 15) were defeated by Rostrevor 62 (Henstridge 3/9).

P.A.C. 45 (Bennett 12) were defeated by Sacred Heart 94 (Smart 3/13).

P.A.C. 68 (Henstridge 27) were defeated by Saints 87 (Smart 4/9).

Under 14 "C"

(Captains: I. G. Hone and K. McEwin)

The Under 14 "C" team did not have a very successful term, winning only one of three matches played. We defeated S.C. but lost to C.B.C. and A.B.H.S. The match which was to be played against P.G.S. was postponed. We should like to thank Mr. Whitworth for the advice he has given us throughout the term.

Results—

P.A.C. 50 were defeated by C.B.C. 54 (Hone 3/16).

P.A.C. 91 (Mitchell 59 not out) were defeated by A.B.H.S. 108 (Smart 2/14).

P.A.C. 64 defeated S.C. 27 (McEwin 8/15, Martin 2/0).

Under 13 "A"

(Captain: M. Gray)

During the first term, the Under 13 "A"s had quite a successful season, winning two of the three matches played. Hamilton and Stanford both batted well, while Stanford was the best bowler, taking 8/19 against St. Ignatius. Stephens also bowled well.

On behalf of the team I wish to thank Mr. Leak for his excellent coaching and advice both at practice and during the matches.

Results—

P.A.C. 8/59 were defeated by S.P.S.C. 1/98.

P.A.C. 150 and 5/40 (Hamilton 60, Gray 31) defeated S.I.C. 51 and 9/60 (Stanford 8/19, Stephens 2/30, Moore 2/15, Hall 2/12, Gray 2/7).

P.A.C. 3/96 (Stanford 42 retired) defeated R.C. 36 and 3/6 (Hocking 3/1, Stanford 2/2, Gray 2/3, Read 2/4).

Under 13 "B"

(Captain: A. Bennett)

P.A.C. Under 13 "B"s won three out of five matches for this term.

P.A.C. defeated P.G.S. by 65 runs. Best performances: Bennett 29 retired, Speakman 16, Hancock 4/0.

P.A.C. defeated P.A.C. Under 13 "C" by 26 runs. Best performances: Bennett 36 retired, MacNab 35 retired and 5/19.

P.A.C. defeated Rostrevor by 92 runs. Best performances: Reed 36, MacNab 25, Chapman 17, Parsons 16 and 6/3.

P.A.C. were defeated by S.H.C. by 26 runs. Best performances: Letcher 26 and 2/9, Parsons 2/9.

P.A.C. were defeated by S.P.S.C. by 26 runs. Best performance: Letcher 3/15.

The best all-round performances for the season came from Letcher, Parsons, MacNab and Bennett.

I should like to thank Mr. Leak, Lyn Walker and David Compton for their invaluable coaching at practices and matches.

Under 13 "C"

(Captain: B. Henwood)

The Under 13 "C" team had a fair season, sharing wins and losses equally among four matches. We defeated S.P.S.C. and C.B.C. but lost to our own Under 13 "B" and to A.B.H.S.

The highest score made by an individual was 45 made by Letcher against S.P.S.C.

17th February—P.A.C. 124 (Letcher 45, Hall 33 not out, Henwood 31 not out) defeated S.P.S.C. 49 (Hall 3/18).

24th February—P.A.C. Under 13 "C" 86 (Henwood 30, Riggs 24 not out) were defeated by P.A.C. Under 13 "B".

3rd March—P.A.C. 30 were defeated by A.B.H.S. 84 (Henwood 2/25).

10th March—P.A.C. 74 (Speakman 24, Chapman 29 not out) defeated C.B.C. 33 (Speakman 3/11, Chapman 3/15).

Swimming Sports

After an interval of thirteen years, swimming sports have returned as part of our School activities. From the response of all those who entered, we concluded that it was more than welcome. Friday, 9th March, was the big day for the 654 competitors.

Under the enthusiastic and efficient organisation of Mr. Woollard, coupled with keen competitors and supporters, and the best of weather, the sports were a complete success. The Norwood and Kensington Pool was hired, but we hope that one day we will have our own pool.

The swimming sports gave many boys a chance to gain a trophy, whereas it would have been difficult for them to do so in another sport.

Waterhouse House were too strong in house competition, gaining sixty-two points; Bayly was second with thirty-six; followed by Cotton, twenty-seven, and last, School, with only ten points.

The Under 14 house relay was won by Waterhouse; Bayly was second, and School third. Waterhouse won the Under 16 relay, with Cotton second, and Bayly third. The open relay was won by Cotton in a close finish, barely defeating Waterhouse, with Bayly third.

We thank Mr. Woollard for organising the sports and running them so efficiently.

Tennis

Third Term, 1961

The team which played this term would have been one of the youngest teams to represent the School for many years, and we had a reasonably successful season, winning four of the nine matches played. The results were—

Woodville High defeated P.A.C. (5 sets to 4)
 Kings College defeated P.A.C. (9 sets to 0)
 P.A.C. defeated Concordia College (7 sets to 2)
 P.A.C. defeated Sacred Heart College (6 sets to 3)
 Norwood High defeated P.A.C. (5 sets to 4)
 Brighton High defeated P.A.C. (9 sets to 0)
 Saint Peter's College defeated P.A.C. (5 sets to 4)
 P.A.C. defeated Adelaide High (5 sets to 4)
 P.A.C. defeated Scotch College (7 sets to 2)

The players to gain a place in the team were: Edgeloe (all matches), Tasker (all, except when he was ill), Wainwright (all), Carmichael (8), McKenzie (6), Tilbrook and J. Trott (4 each), Woodroffe (3), Pascoe (2), McCallum and Burford (1 each). Older players who were leaving at the end of the year, namely, Jackson, Daebeler, Dennis, Cranston and G. Trott all played one match.

First Term, 1962

Owing to the fact that there has been a shortage of water, there were no matches at the Drive until 17th March. We played Pulteney twice on our courts, winning the first match comfortably and the second, although even in sets, by a few games.

The team would like to thank Mr. Gabb for his continual interest and assistance, and Mr. Woollard for his help in the gymnasium, to get us fit for the intercollegiate match.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS, 1962

The annual Intercollegiate tennis match was held at the Memorial Drive courts on Saturday, 31st March under perfect conditions. The teams were (in singles order)—

P.A.C.: Edgeloe, Tasker (Captain), Webb, Tilbrook, Carmichael, Woodroffe, McKenzie, McCallum, Pascoe (reserve), Hunwick (reserve).

S.P.S.C.: Teague (Captain), Shetliffe, Wesley-Smith, Harris, Muecke, Kerr, Fisher, Newland, Muecke (reserve), Winnall (reserve).

This year there were eight players and two reserves in each team, each player playing two doubles and one singles match, whereas in previous years there have been six players and two reserves, each player playing three doubles and one singles match.

Play began at 10.15 a.m. with the first round of doubles. Our first pair, Tasker and Edgeloe, played Saints' second pair and managed, in three sets, to defeat them, 6—4, 3—6, 6—4. Our second pair, Webb and Tilbrook, however, found their opposition too good and were downed by Saints' first pair, Teague and Wesley-Smith, 6—1, 6—0. Woodroffe and Carmichael played well to beat Saints' fourth pair, Newland and Fisher, 6—3, 6—4. McKenzie and McCallum also did very well to defeat Saint's third pair, 6—1, 6—4. Thus at the end of the first round, we had taken a lead of three rubbers to one.

In the second round the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh singles were played. Tilbrook showed a fine, powerful display of tennis in his first set against Harris, 6—2, but from then on Harris was a little too good for him and in one of the longest and most thrilling singles of the day just defeated him, 2—6, 6—5, 8—6. Carmichael after having two set points against him on Muecke's service, managed to pick up and win the first set, 6—5, but in the second set he had little difficulty in winning 6—3. Woodroffe and Kerr played a three-set match from the base-lines, with Kerr having the edge over Woodroffe and we lost this single, 6—3, 2—6, 3—6.

McKenzie's opposition in Fisher was too great, and McKenzie lost 3—6, 0—6. After the second round P.A.C. had had their lead reduced to one set and the stage was all set for a close and thrilling match. The scores were—

P.A.C.: 4 rubbers, 10 sets; S.P.S.C.: 4 rubbers, 9 sets.

In the third round the eighth single was played while the first and second doubles were being played. McCallum played quite well in this single but seemed to just miss the lines with his powerful ground strokes, and was defeated, 4—6, 3—6, to give Saints a lead of five rubbers to four. This lead was lost, however, when Edgeloe and Tasker played a fine game to win their doubles match in straight sets. Webb and Tilbrook were unfortunately beaten in the closest doubles match of the day, 5—6, 6—4, 5—7. Thus Saints regained the lead and after round 3, scores were—

P.A.C.: 5 rubbers, 13 sets; S.P.S.C.: 6 rubbers, 13 sets.

The fourth round saw Carmichael and Woodroffe not in form and beaten by Muecke and Kerr, 4—6, 3—6. The all-important numbers one and two singles were played at this stage. Edgeloe, after losing the first set, completely outclassed Teague and won, 4—6, 6—1, 6—3. Tasker played at his brilliant best and overpowered Shetliffe in straight sets, losing only three games. This made the rubbers once more all even at 7—all and the fate of the Intercollegiate hinged on the last two rubbers of the day—the fourth double and third single. McKenzie and McCallum played a disappointing first set and lost 6—2. However, they came back into the game in the second set by winning 6—5. The third set was very close as there were several breaks of service in the later stages. Our pair was unable to capitalize on McCallum's strong serving, however, and this set was lost, 8—6. All eyes now turned to the third single between Webb and Wesley-Smith, for whoever won this match clinched the Gosse Cup for his team. Webb was tired after his close three-set double which he had only just completed before he played his single. He fought hard to win the second set, 6—5, after losing the first set, 6—2. Although he tried hard, Webb could not hope to defeat the determined Wesley-Smith and the Intercollegiate was lost when the last stroke was played and Wesley-Smith won the third set 6—3.

Final scores were—

P.A.C.: 7 rubbers, 19 sets; S.P.S.C.: 9 rubbers, 19 sets.

It was a closely-fought match and Saints did not clinch it until the final stroke was played. Our team played very well and is to be congratulated for doing so well when not one of the team played in last year's Intercollegiate. Tasker and Edgeloe played particularly well to win all four of their rubbers against tough opposition.

Mr. Gabb and Mr. Woollard are to be congratulated and thanked for doing such a wonderful job with an inexperienced team.

Webb-Tilbrook, lost to Teague-Wesley-Smith, 6—1, 6—0
Edgeloe-Tasker, defeated Shetliffe-Harris, 6—4, 3—6, 6—4
McKenzie-McCallum, defeated Muecke-Kerr, 6—1, 6—4
Carmichael-Woodroffe, defeated Fisher-Newland, 6—3, 6—4

Carmichael, defeated Muecke, 6—5, 6—3

Woodroffe, lost to Kerr, 3—6, 6—2, 6—3

McKenzie, lost to Fisher, 6—3, 6—0

Tilbrook, lost to Harris, 2—6, 6—5, 8—6

Edgeloe-Tasker, defeated Teague-Wesley-Smith, 6—5, 6—4

Carmichael-Woodroffe, lost to Muecke-Kerr, 6—4, 6—3

Webb-Tilbrook, lost to Shetliffe-Harris, 6—5, 4—6, 7—5

McKenzie-McCallum, lost to Fisher-Newland, 2—6, 6—5, 8—6

Edgeloe, defeated Teague, 4—6, 6—1, 6—3

Tasker, defeated Shetliffe, 6—0, 6—3

Webb, lost to Wesley-Smith, 6—2, 5—6, 6—3

McCallum, lost to Newland, 6—4, 6—3

TENNIS CRITIQUE

Tasker, W. G. (captain)—Has good ground strokes but is inclined to serve too many double faults. He is fast about the court and has an ideal temperament.

Edgeloe, R. K.—Has an even game with a good service but an inconsistent smash. Sometimes tends to lack concentration when volleying.

Webb, J. N.—Has consistent ground strokes but unreliable volleying. His second service could be improved.

Tilbrook, J. M.—Has a good forehand but under pressure he tends to push the ball instead of stroking it in his usual style.

Carmichael, R. W.—Played well in the intercoll. He has a very even, consistent game.

Woodroffe, A. J.—Has a steady forehand and backhand, but his volleys lack penetration. In a single, he does not go into net as often as he should.

McKenzie, G. M.—He tries hard and has good shots for his size. In doubles he tosses well and volleys consistently.

McCallum, R. T.—His forehand is good but his backhand is at times uncertain. He has a tendency to serve too many double faults.

Pascoe, T. F.—He has a steady game with a fairly good service. He seems to lack concentration at times.

Hunwick, R. E.—He has a good service and a good forehand, but he is slow about the court.

SECONDS

The team has had a fairly successful season, having won three out of the five matches played. We were strengthened somewhat, when two boys from the first practice squad joined us. Best players were Paterson, Jackson, Johnston, Miller and Barton, whilst many others have practised regularly.

The team would like to thank Mr. R. Prest for his keen interest and helpful coaching.

Under 15 "A"

The team has had quite a successful season up to date, winning three out of the five matches played. In the first match against Enfield High, we were defeated 7 sets to 5. The team won the following match against Saints, 7 sets to 5. The next match, the closest, was won by Unley High School the scores being 6 sets all, but the opposition won by 10 games. We were very successful in the next two matches, winning 12 sets to nil against Scotch and 10 sets to 2 against Urrbrae High.

The members of the team would like to thank Mr. R. Prest for his helpful advice and the interest he has shown.

Under 14 "A"

During the third term of 1961 we won every match excepting the one against Norwood High School "A1" team in which we lost 5 sets to 7.

This term the team has won every match for the season. In our first game we defeated Norwood High School "A2" team, 8 sets to 4 on their courts. On our own courts we were successful against Pulteney Grammar in winning 10 sets to 2. On account of wet weather we were forced to cancel our match against Saints which we all regretted. We defeated Enfield High School by 10 sets to 2 on our courts.

The best players for this season were Green, Rasheed and Talbot (Captain). The team would like to thank Mr. Dennis and Mr. Gabb for their helpful coaching and interest through such a successful season.

Under 14 "B"

This term the Under 14 "Bs" had a very successful season, winning 6 matches out of 8. During the term we had a very narrow win over St. Peters, the scores being 6 sets all, and 60 games to 56 games. We were defeated twice during the term, once by Woodville High and once by Kings College. We defeated St. Peters, Norwood High, Gilles Plains, Unley High, Brighton High and Enfield.

The best players were Gerrard, Worthley, Lowe, Dunsford, and Williams.

We thank Mr. Dennis for coaching us during this term.

The scores throughout the season were as follows—

P.A.C., 5 sets lost to Woodville High, 7 sets
P.A.C., 6 sets, 60 games defeated S.P.S.C., 6 sets, 56 games
P.A.C., 4 sets lost to Kings College, 8 sets
P.A.C., 12 sets defeated Norwood High, 0 sets
P.A.C., 8 sets defeated Gilles Plains, 4 sets
P.A.C., 9 sets defeated Unley High, 3 sets
P.A.C., 7 sets defeated Brighton High, 5 sets
P.A.C., 10 sets defeated Enfield High, 2 sets

Under 13 "A"

We had a very successful season winning 5 matches of 5, scoring 57 sets in all against our opponents' 3. We defeated Kings, 12—0; A.B.H.S., 11—1; A.T.H.S., 10—2; Findon High, 12—0, and Woodville High forfeited to us. The best players were Wilson (Captain), Craven, R. M. Nicholls and Wicks. The team would like to thank Mr. Glancey and Mr. Gabb for their interest and help in coaching us this term.

Under 13 "B"

The Under 13 "B" team has had a very successful season, and did not lose a match. The best players were Buttery, Brinsley, Beckwith, Manning, and Drever. The team thank Mr. Glancey for coaching them. Our matches were against, Norwood High, St. Peters College, Unley High, Pulteney Grammar, Scotch College.

BREAKFAST

After stumbling out of a comfortable bed, fighting for a shower when everyone else wants one, hurriedly dressing, and then, in a half-stupor packing homework books, I like to relax and have a peaceful breakfast.

As I slump heavily into a chair, I see staring at me with unblinking eyes a cow whose mouth is twisted into an unnatural sickly smile. I sneer back at her, but she doesn't mind—she's only cardboard anyway. Still, she irritates me.

I grab the packet with the cow on the outside and tip it upside-down. I am pleased. She is on her head and I do not like her. I could kick in her big buck teeth.

Then a rustle is heard and flakes pour from the packet. I pour milk over them and listen for the snap and crackle. It doesn't come; so perhaps I have the wrong cereal.

But as I push spoonfuls of cereal into my mouth, my befuddled mind gradually clears. I become aware of the surroundings and turn on the radio. After five minutes of advertisements I switch it off and return to eating.

After this cultural interlude of commercials I usually make some toast, and by this time I am thinking as clearly as ever.

At this juncture the rest of the family comes for breakfast. "Good mornings" are exchanged even though it might be raining and even if everyone is feeling very melancholy.

My sister waves a geography book above her head and blurts out in one breath, "I couldn't learn last night—we were on Channel two—so test me right now, please".

Mother asks questions. Then my sister looks very worried, wrinkles her brow and then gives a reply, the most frequent being, "Ooh! Give me a look".

Then Dad starts with:

"Haven't you got any other flakes? These are all soggy. Where's the milk? Pass the sugar. Don't eat like that. Sit up to the table."

"Yes dear, yes dear, don't get upset. Now what is the capital of Victoria?"

"Come on! Come on!" storms my brother, "I've only five minutes to catch the train. And who has taken the paper? I want to read the funnies. And don't say there's nothing better to eat than cereal."

"All right, all right. I'll get you some eggs."

"Eggs! I had eggs yesterday. I want steak."

"Mummy, Mummy. You've got to test me or I'll get into trouble with the teacher."

"Can't you see that I'm doing something for your brother? Now be quiet, child."

And so the turmoil continues for any time up to fifteen minutes, at the end of which everyone is exhausted, and in no fit condition to face the prospect of the coming day. However, I smile to myself and think how wise I was to have had breakfast early. Then I take my bag, put my cap in my pocket, and start out for school.

THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF ELIZABETH

Elizabeth was named after Her Majesty the Queen. It was officially opened by the Premier, Sir Thomas Playford, on 16th November, 1955. After less than seven years the population has climbed steadily to 25,100 people. The city has been planned for a population of 60,000 persons and is already the largest centre of population outside the metropolitan area. In little more than ten years' time Elizabeth, together with the neighbouring district of Salisbury will have a population exceeding 100,000 people.

Elizabeth is a well-planned city. The planners have given much thought to such details as parks and playing areas, shopping centres and wide streets. Most of the homes in Elizabeth are designed and built by the Housing Trust. There are fifty different designs. Churches, commercial buildings, and schools are built under private arrangement.

There are at present seven neighbourhood units, or suburbs. Each of these suburbs has its own neighbourhood shopping centre with a primary school and a church nearby. These shopping centres are a feature of Elizabeth with their wide parking areas and a large range of shops, including banks, a post office, and a mothers and babies' health centre. At present there are over 9,000 school children attending schools in the Elizabeth-Salisbury district.

Many of the people living in Elizabeth are migrants, most of them coming from Great Britain. Many of the streets are named after places in England.

Elizabeth attracts migrants because of the reasonable cost of buying or renting a house and the facilities offered for employment. Many industries are being established in areas especially reserved for them. The Weapons Research Establishment, which is nearby, also provides much employment. Added to these local employment opportunities is the nearness to Adelaide, only seventeen miles away. Elizabeth is connected with Adelaide by a good, fast train service, and a dual highway.

WINTER'S END

Young Winter was a portly youth,
With eating habits most uncouth;
At meals he took large draughts of ale,
And soon grew rather like a whale.

He wasn't fond of exercises,
Nor won nor sought athletic prizes.
Of his unhappy fate indeed
Let sluggards one and all take heed!

One day young Winter tried to run—
A thing he ne'er before had done;
He took off with a jet-like motion,
Then went out with a loud explosion!

THE END OF THE WAY

"Hey, Tom! How long do you think you're going to stay there?"

Thus shouted Robert Einsley at his companion as he mounted the final stairs to the top of the old Church tower. Below and around him, as far as the eye could see, there was continuous brush and scrub country, broken only by a dirt road winding through the plain three miles away to the north, and disappearing into the hills that ran along the western horizon.

"I hope not for more than about three seconds, Bob," shouted back his companion. Tom Answorth was seventeen, two years younger than his friend, yet he seemed twice as large as Bob, and about seven inches taller. In short, their ages were the converse of their physiques, and from their looks they seemed to be about twenty and twenty-five.

With a grunt of exertion, Tom pushed the little pencil down the top of the flag pole into a small hole that was drilled into the wood. He was standing on the very top of the tower, and stretching full length to reach the top of the flag pole, while Bob was on the little ledge about three feet below. Tom also saw the endless scrub, yet the sight did not register in his mind as anything except a bush-fire hazard. Bob, on the other hand, marvelled at the way the undergrowth had completely covered the four other little ruins that were once houses, yet for years had been the resting places of countless numbers of birds. The top of this church was all that the scrub had not dominated, and viewed from the road it looked like a solitary boat in an ocean of scrub.

Five minutes later, the two boys, covered in sweat, were crashing back towards the road, and every minute a new scratch would start to ooze blood, so thick was the undergrowth through which they were travelling. The path they had trod could easily be seen, because, as they went along, they frightened scores of birds into flight, until they fluttered down into some other part of the terrain, and were lost from view as if swallowed up into the very earth.

Unbeknown to them, however, a man was watching the way they were going by the action of the birds. From a little rise some five miles to the south, and perched on top of a tree larger than the rest, and with a pair of powerful binoculars in his hand, he regarded the far-away activity with an air of excitement. He saw the two boys reach the road, and he did not stir in his tree until they had disappeared from view forever over the farthest hills.

As soon as they had, however, he climbed down from his tree, and, with minute care, he placed the binoculars in their case and put it over his shoulder. The man thought he was rich; indeed, for a man of his position he probably was—he was a leper. Apart from his binoculars, all he owned was a piece of torn rag which, at one time long past, was a pair of trousers.

These two boys, Tom Answorth and Robert Einsley, were his only friends, and now he knew that, because of their efforts, he would have many more. The man had been a leper for three years. A doctor had seen him, yet in this wicked country, Australia 1985, it was too much trouble to cure him, and he would have to be put to death. He had pleaded, but in vain. The two boys had pleaded for his life, but had been warned that if they so much as spoke to him again they, too, would be killed. In desperation, the man had fled into this neglected part of what had once been a thriving community, which after the communists had overrun Australia had been left to die. They had looked for him, but could not find him; so they watched the boys. Only once had they got to the man again without the communists' knowledge, but they had arranged their method of communication. The boys were going to plead with the communist premier of Australia—a kindly man who, they hoped, would spare their friend's life.

And so, the man knew, here was the answer. Hastily he made his way to the church. With difficulty, for he had only one hand, he climbed to the top of the tower, and then stretched out and slowly drew the pencil from the top of the flagpole. He pulled the thin paper gently from the pencil's centre, and leaning against the pole, opened it and read:

"Dear Jan, the Premier has sworn to kill you if the dingoes don't—we can no longer feed you."

These two boys, Tom Answorth and Robert Einsley, were his only friends, and now he had lost them. The old man shut his eyes, and opened them again. He read on. There was a quotation that Bob had found from a poem that he knew was the man's favourite. It read:

"that which we are, we are;

One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

THE RED AND YELLOW FOKKER

The three Nieuport Scouts banked and dived at a hundred and twenty odd miles an hour at the lone German Rumpler Taube aeroplane. Their guns spitting lead, the occupants of the Nieuports saw the bullets rip into the fabric. The Rumpler jerked upwards; the pilot was dead. Then, spinning, spinning, spinning, the 'plane fell and smashed on to the treeless expanse of no-man's land.

Suddenly the rear Nieuport felt the shudder of bullets in its fabric and it glided towards land. Five German Fokkers appeared from behind a cloud. Outnumbered, the British craft fled into the grey clouds. Watching in awe, one of the British pilots saw a red and yellow triplane dive on the landing Nieuport. German cavalry were on the horizon, and the helpless pilot stood with his hands up. The triplane opened fire, and the defenceless man fell. The date was February, 1918; the Fokker pilot, Hauptman Hans von Werner.

Two weary pilots landed their Nieuports at Arras that evening. One was Albert Collison. A major in the Royal Flying Corps, he had taken two youngsters out for their first look at the lines. Only one was alive, the other murdered by the red and yellow Fokker, when it was sure that he would not reach Allied lines. Major Collison sought revenge.

The next morning and the next afternoon, the next evening and the day after that he searched the skies for his enemy. Days after the incident, he came across his prey. He dived, but the Fokker was quicker. It turned and ended up on Collison's tail. The circle tightened until he could see the other pilot at his controls. The guns chattered viciously, and the fumes blackened their faces. The triplane's exhaust blew out black smoke. The engine stopped and started again and stopped once again. The German turned from the circle and dived for the lines. The Nieuport followed, and as the Fokker came into Collison's sight his finger tightened on the trigger.

He pressed. He pressed again. Of all the bad luck! His gun had jammed. Despondently Collison made his way back to the airport, where unfairly he took it out on the hard-working mechanics.

The next week passed uneventfully. One morning in March the squadron set out on escort duty. Flying at three thousand feet above the crawling R.E.8s, Albert Collison remembered the episodes with the red and yellow Fokker. Suddenly, out of the sun shot twelve Gothic crossed triplanes. An R.E.8 fell like a stone; smoke issued from its engine and the observer spun out of his seat and smashed into the oozing mud of no-man's land. The red and yellow Fokker was first up to meet the diving Nieuports, and so the dog-fight began.

The British were overwhelmingly outnumbered, and soon the planes were scattered throughout the skies, banking, sideslipping and diving at each other. Collison had already destroyed one Fokker before he met his arch enemy. They drifted over the lines, but always twisting, turning and firing at each other. To his great annoyance, Collison's ammunition ran out. The German attacked viciously and the lead from his Spandau machine guns flew towards the luckless Englishman. Then his gun jammed. They were on even terms now, but Collison was determined to kill the German.

Flying like a mad man, Collison turned to meet his adversary and the German ran for home. Seeking victory, Collison gave chase, and at last he was within three feet of the Fokker. Turning obliquely, he allowed his undercarriage to smash into the frail tail of the red and yellow triplane. The aeroplane spun on its axis and headed towards the earth. It was the end of von Werner and the red and yellow Fokker.

As he headed for home, Collison found to his great dismay that his aircrew had stopped turning. He dived to gain speed, but vainly. A forced landing was inevitable.

Seeing a rather clear field, he glided in. He jumped clear from the 'plane and set it alight. In less than three minutes he was captured by German infantry and he heard the familiar, "For you the war is over".

In a prison camp in Germany, Major Albert Collison felt happy over the death of Hans von Werner, but he wondered if it was worth it, as he might have killed the German another day when he might have reached home again. In eight months, the war was over and Albert Collison again returned to the Royal Flying Corps.

SECOND THOUGHTS

As I walked across the scorching sands of that Arabian desert

I felt myself to be as one grain of sand; a pin-prick in infinity.

My mind worked so as to perceive the pettiness of life, and would have lain there then and died had not appeared afar

The towering walls of that Arabian town; Contrasting so with the smooth white flatness of the sand,

That I awoke from the dilemma of my mind And was possessed again by that supreme desire, The will to live.

CHARMED, I'M SURE

An age-old device for averting evil or harming enemies is the use of a charm. Even in this modern age charms are still widely used. People carry rabbits' feet for luck and a horse-shoe is generally regarded as a good-luck charm.

Every now and then, we read in the paper that a native has died after an instance of "pointing-the-bone". This is an example of how a charm may be used for harming opponents. This use of charms was more common in medieval and ancient times; however, since voodoo is still practised in many parts of the world we cannot disregard it.

There was a certain ritual performed whenever a charm was placed on someone or something. The time and manner of their production, often accompanied by complicated incantations, were very important to their degree of success.

The uses of charms were many and varied. For instance, they were used to remove thorns from the feet, to ward off headaches, to act as an antidote to snakebite and to hinder thieves—to name only a few. In each case the charms were expected to work quickly and effectively. Sometimes the material of the charm was destroyed, because it was believed that, as it perished, its object would be achieved. Because of this belief, charms were not very frequently preserved.

However, in the Pitt Rivers Museum at Oxford (England) there are many strange specimens. For example there is one charm used by an old woman in 1895 for curing warts. It consisted of four short pieces of straw, cut at each side of a knot. The straw was rubbed over the wart nine times with incantations and was then buried. The straw would decay very quickly, and at the same time the wart was supposed to vanish. (Admittedly, this method is somewhat different from that adopted by some members of the school—that is, pouring concentrated HNO_3 over the wart.)

During the plagues, charms used to be in very great demand. They met with varying success; this was probably due to differing degrees of faith the sufferers had in the charms. For in modern times, we know that it is the state of mind which governs the success of that "mysterious" object—the charm.

CAPE BARRON ADVENTURE

The boat was nowhere to be seen. We had arrived at Lady Barron at eight o'clock in the morning, the time scheduled for the mail boat to leave for Cape Barron Island, one of a group of islands off the north-eastern tip of Tasmania, an island where the population consists mainly of half-caste aborigines.

When the boat arrived, the mail man, who was to take us over, warned us that it would be some time until all was ready. The first to go aboard were thirty sheep, which completely filled the ship's hull. Among other mishaps, one sheep fell into the water, and was hauled up with a winch. A family came aboard with heaps of luggage and household material, the sheep belonging to them. They were to get off at a small island where they had a sheep station.

Setting out an hour late, we arrived at their island and rowed the family, with children, provisions, and a sheep-dog, ashore. Further around the coast in about ten feet of water, all the sheep were thrown overboard, and prodded sufficiently to set them swimming to shore.

An hour later we arrived at Cape Barron Island, where a large crowd of people were waiting at the shore to carry away the stores. As for us, we climbed into the rowboat, to get out of it in two feet of water. Finding a sheltered position, that is, under a weedy embankment, we had a cut lunch, in the company of myriads of flies and ants.

After this, my mother and sister went to visit the local schoolmaster while I looked for limpets for fishing bait on the shore. After they had delivered a personal package to the headmaster, we had a brief look about.

The people are of mixed ancestry, and their complexions range through all kinds of human colourings. Their history cannot be read in books, as few people know of these people on their strange island in the Furneaux Group, famous for its geese.

Everyone saw us leave, since this is one of the main events occurring twice weekly. The wind has risen considerably, giving rise to a very choppy sea. As the boat was much lighter now, it bounced about on the waves soaking everyone.

Noticing a large barracouta line, I threw it overboard, to troll for a fish. My reward was no fish, but a pair of badly sunburnt legs.

Three hours later, we arrived at Lady Barron where our uncle and aunt had been waiting for us for over an hour.

THE RETURN

The man watched as the sack rolled down the steep slope to the river below. He gazed with pleasure as it struck the sharp rocks which protruded out of the otherwise smooth, green hillside. He smiled sardonically as it struck the calm, dirty-grey water of the now silent river whose waters were once a urging torrent of blue haze in the winter months. As he returned to the road he pictured in his mind a struggling dog endeavouring to escape from its deadly enclosure. John Sykes felt he had at last rid himself of his worst enemy.

A few weeks previously his wife had purchased a pedigree dog which gained all her attention and unflinching devotion to such an extent that Sykes, being of a harsh and cruel disposition, had felt an overpowering dislike for this pampered canine. Finally, after days of patient waiting he had gained the perfect opportunity to rid himself of this rival for his wife's affections. His mind was now pondering on numerous but ridiculous excuses to be made to his wife to explain the mysterious disappearance of her pet but, before he had decided on the perfect excuse, he arrived at the front gate of his lovely country house, which was several miles from the nearest town. Sykes spent the afternoon pottering about his neat, attractive flower-garden which added splashes of colour to the drab fields of wheat stretching endlessly on all sides.

His wife returned home from visiting friends in the neighbouring town early that evening and Sykes almost forgot his experience with the dog until tea-time, when something mysterious occurred. From the backyard was heard a loud barking, which echoed throughout the roomy house. Sykes' wife casually remarked that her little darling needed feeding, but her husband, ignoring her remarks, left the table white-faced and shaking and went upstairs to his bedroom. He opened the door and flung himself on his bed, trembling with fear. The door slammed shut behind him. Downstairs he could hear a pitiful, whining sound which caused him to force his aching head under his pillow. Suddenly the barking and whining ceased just as they had begun. Sykes sat up on his bed, trembling, but now recovering from his violent shock. His face was bathed in perspiration and his legs felt extremely weak, so weak in fact that he found it impossible to walk.

Then the silence of the house was shattered by the whining of the dog and the creaking of the stairs. The whining and the creaking became louder. Sykes rushed around his room forgetting his previous weakness but unable to escape from this mysterious and unenviable situation. His unloaded shotgun then claimed his attention, and, just as the door opened, he flung himself on the indistinct form silhouetted against the fading rays of the setting sunlight which streaked through the casement window. His gun struck something soft which yielded easily to his vehement blow. He then collapsed on the landing, sobbing pitifully. His wife lay stretched unconscious before him, her head bleeding profusely from the blow. Her dog, squatting on his haunches was whining at the sight of the motionless form of his mistress. Sykes noticed that the dog had his foot bandaged and hanging limply from a rough wooden splint.

Sykes had not remained long enough at the river to see that the sack had been cut by the stones and had easily allowed its little prisoner to escape and return once more to its devoted and kindly mistress.

"WOMEN OF THIS GLEN"

The watchful moon shone motionless above
The lonely village tucked within the glen;
The crofters' huts beneath the mellowed light
Cast gloomy shadows like the pits of Death,
Who stalked nearby to strike his steely blows
Down on his host, who knew not treachery.

The piper slowly climbed the hill and watched
The silent village sleep beneath the sky;
He heard the icy winds whine in Glencoe.
He shuddered as he watched the moon eclipse.

Horror! The shining globe sees distant doom,
And everywhere is blackness and chaos.
He blew upon his pipes full loud and long;
Throughout Glencoe the mournful notes were sent.
Throughout Glencoe the piper's message flew.

'Woe! Woe! Oh women of this glen, arise!
Arise from this dark peril, Rise . . . arise
Red Colin warns you now of slaughter . . . now!
Oh! Clan Mac-Ian they will scatter soon,
Broken and split assunder they will flee;
Oh women of this glen arise . . . arise!
The wailing notes went floating by unheard.

THE BIG RACE

For ten weeks we have been training solidly for this day. I shall never forget how absolutely exhausted I was after each night of hard training. Rowing, surely, is one way to get fit the hard way and this I found out soon after the eight was picked. During the first few weeks of training, we concentrated on style and swinging together as a crew.

Then we really got into training. Before the coach even got down, we rowed six hard miles (three trips to the weir). By this time, the crew had almost had enough, but it was only a sample. The coach got into the cox's seat and again we rowed up to the weir at hard pressure rating thirty-six strokes per minute. If one of us did a thing wrong, some strong language would be thrown at us. Then we started on courses, rowing the 1,000 yards as hard and fast as we could. Back to the weir we would go for another, this time with our own cox. Well can I remember the night when, after rowing seven miles and two courses, we rowed a third very badly. We stopped at the bank and the coach, very explosive, jumped into the boat and again we rowed up to the start. This time he did not get off our backs for one second and, luckily for us, we rowed reasonably well, but still the coach was not satisfied. Back we went for another. This time he was satisfied and we were on the verge of collapse. Still we had not finished our night's training. When the boat was put away we started our hill climbing exercises to get fit. This consisted of sprinting up and down the banks of the Torrens.

It has taken us six weeks of hard training to be at our peak on this day. We have half an hour before the final of the Head of the River. Already we have won our first two heats and now my stomach feels weak as I shiver from head to foot. It comforts me to look at the other crew members and know that they feel the same way. We are all sitting on the bank waiting for the minutes to tick by. People are gathered all around us as they also wait for the final, but surely they cannot feel as nervous as we do. We have twenty minutes left and our second eight are at the starting point. They're off! I can see the two crews just coming under the Morphett Street Bridge and it appears as if our second crew is behind—yes they are and as they head for the finish they seem to be catching the other crew. Have they left it too late? Bang, Bang—yes! Our second eight is narrowly beaten.

So far out of the three finals in which our crews have been, we have lost three. The whole school now relies on us to win the only final left and take the Head of the River.

The time has come for us to get ready. As we push away from the landing, we can see the hundreds of faces watching us and now the boys give us the school War Cry. I should feel proud but I just feel weak and nervous. Lightly we row up to the weir, turn the boat around and wait anxiously. The voice saying "You must win," keeps running through my mind. With the opposing crew beside us, we wait for the starter. Both crews are ready—"Row!"—this is it. We are rating about forty-two and right beside us is the opposition. We now move out of the ten-second zone and head for the bridge and still the other crew is not an inch behind or in front. As we come under the bridge, they I think, are in front but there is still hope because of the angle at the finish. I am tiring now and can hear a slight noise which must be the shouting crowd. I feel dizzy as we pass Long's point. I can't think—I can't feel anything—my legs and arms seem to be missing—I can't even see the other crew—I'm only semi-conscious. Bang! Bang! we have lost the Head of the River!

THE PEACEFUL RIVER

Along the River Murray, all is quiet and serene;
The ducks are swimming lazily around:
And everything seems tranquil, not a water-skier seen,

When from the distance comes a curious sound.
A steady noise—(an engine)—but what on earth is this?

For every now and then, a muffled boom:
The ducks are thinking that, perhaps, the engine is amiss,

But other unknown reasons here do loom.
The sound is growing louder, and around the river's bend,

Arrives the very source of all this noise:
A speedboat with a water-skier tailing on behind,
Who's balanced on his ski with graceful poise.
This all seems very innocent, but, lurking in the boat,

The generator of the "booms" doth lie:
A double-barrel shotgun, goodly accurate, afloat,
And ready, (when at ducks aimed), to let fly.
The skier sees our band of ducks and waves with might and main,

His driver, seeing, calmly closes in:
The ducks, all startled, take to wing, but efforts are in vain,

The shotgun speaks with awe-inspiring din.
Most of the ducks fly clean away (in top gear all the same)

But others, they are far less fortunate;
The boat collects the carcasses of ducks who gained no fame,

And starts again, (the time is getting late).
A skier's life is such a life, a variation so
Provides the fun and food, (as on this day),
And now they must, in consequence, as all of you will know

Arouse themselves in search of further prey.

OVER A BILLY

The lanky stockman looked like the typical Australian bushman.

As the long shadows of sunset crept over the undulating scrubland, he could be seen wearily dismounting from his horse. With long, bouncing strides he marched towards the creek that ran through this section of the countryside.

He burrowed a small hole in the sandy soil near the creek with his strong fingers and filled his dirty, black billy with the water that strained through. He collected some of the dry twigs that lay beneath a huge gum that seemed to stretch forth its massive arms in a form of supplication.
The stockman struck a match on the sole of his heavy riding boots and with it lit the twigs and leaves. The crackle of the flame came with the little wisps of smoke that rose from the fire. When the flame was hot enough, he put the billy of water on the fire and added some tea he produced from a packet in his saddle.

With his back against the giant and a tobacco pipe in his mouth, he rested while he waited for his tea. The heavenly solitude and the hypnotizing incense of the eucalyptus smoke played magic with the stockman's thoughts. He idly drew meaningless figures in the sand, as he sat, gazing into the dirty, yet somehow cool creek.

In this moment of tranquillity, he remembered how afraid of the bush life he was when he first came from the "big smoke". He reflected upon the disappointments, the happiness, and the blunders he had made at first. Yet bush life was now his only life.

How vivid was the memory of his longing to be back home in the first year. He chuckled when he remembered the time he upset all the crockery in the cookhouse and how hard it was to give a week's pay to replace it. The worries of settling and the examples of inexperience were now overlooked as he could still see in his mind the first annual bush concert he attended, at the homestead. He felt a glow of exhilarating happiness when he recalled the time he rode on his first roundup.

He looked over his shoulder to see his faithful friend, the chestnut horse, who had remained his constant companion for the past nine years. The sound of the boiling tea reached the stockman's sensitive ears, and he shuffled wearily over to the fire, plucked the billy from the flames and poured the hot liquid into a battered pannikin. He crouched on his haunches as he always did when drinking, and enjoyed his comforting cup of tea.

Some minutes later, a thin figure on his horse disappeared into the golden sunset, leaving behind him the place known to the local aborigines as Bantjarama, "the place of many dreams".

CRUISING

During the Christmas holidays I had a most interesting experience, when my friend, Neville, and I went on a three-day cruise down St. Vincent Gulf. The trip was made in a sixteen-foot catamaran. Before the actual journey was to take place, arrangements and plans were made carefully weeks beforehand. The catamaran, which belonged to my friend, had to be repainted and fitted out. We also added two lockers to the hulls, to take all our provisions and camping gear. A terylene canopy was then added to deflect the spray, which might have upset things. On the eve of the day, Neville and I made our last fittings, and loaded the gear aboard.

It was fairly late that Saturday morning when we set out, as the tide in the Price Creek had been out early that morning. It was a fairly calm day, and the wind just filled the sails. Just outside of the creek, we went about, and ran southwards with the wind. For that part of the morning we ran close inshore, averaging about six knots. The catamaran was well loaded down. This slowed us a great deal. However we had made allowance for this, and by five o'clock we had reached Ardrossan. We spent the night by the campfire, after having a rather burnt tea.

At sunrise we were off early, because we had to cover a large stretch, Ardrossan to Port Vincent. This time the wind was averaging twenty knots, and we "reached" along at a fair pace. Both Neville and I skippered, each taking the helm for an hour. There were quite a few hectic times that morning, as the wind came in gusts up to thirty knots or more. These had to be watched for, because they might have capsized us. It was early that afternoon when we reached Port Vincent; so the rest of the day was spent cruising around the bay. That night we went to bed fairly late, and consequently we were up late.

Unfortunately that morning the wind was near gale force. But Neville and I were determined to make the journey back. Because it blew so hard, we had to change skippering every half hour. Our boat, here, was averaging up to twenty-three knots. This was really sailing. At noon we had reached Ardrossan and by early afternoon, we had reached Price Creek. It was strange, yet a blessing, when we sailed up the calm river that afternoon. Both of us were very tired, and the rest of the afternoon was spent sleeping on the decks of the catamaran. We had accomplished what we had set out to do, and that was enough for us.

A TRIBUTE TO AN OUTSTANDING BREED OF LOCOMOTIVE

Recently withdrawn from service on the S.A.R. was the last but one of a breed of locomotive that for the last thirty-five years has been outstanding on the lines of the Mount Lofty Hills. These thoroughbreds were the "mountain" or 500 class. The locomotive withdrawn last October was number 504 named "Tom Barr Smith".

The first of these locomotives arrived from Armstrong, Whitworth and Co., England, in late May, 1926. The other nine arrived during that year. During 1928 the first nine locos were named after prominent South Australians and loco 509 was named "W. A. Webb" in honour of the S.A.R. Commissioner.

In working order the locos weigh over 222 tons and develop nearly 60,000 lbs. pulling power at their drawbar. Between 1929 and 1936 the locos were rebuilt at Islington Works with an extra bogie, which had a booster for increased power, a new centre headlight and a sleek running board.

The first locos were withdrawn in March 1958 and since then the curtain has gradually fallen on these locos. The majority of the class can now be seen, rusting away, at Mile End Depot. The 500s will probably be greatly missed after the withdrawal of the last survivor, number 500, for they had almost become part of the Mount Lofty Hills as they battled over the 1 in 50 and steeper grades of the lines with the "Overland" or heavy freights.

"Tom Barr Smith" was not to vanish unceremoniously, however, for the Australian Railway Historical Society had a special train from Adelaide to Tailem Bend behind 504 last October. She behaved magnificently, even hauling her five carriages up to fifty-four m.p.h. and showed that even after thirty-five years she is still as faithful as ever. Keen railway enthusiasts from Victoria, New South Wales and South Australia made recordings of the loco's sounds and at the three photo stops en route cameras worked overtime.

Although these engines were not built for speed, speeds of nearly sixty m.p.h. have been recorded, but nothing can, and perhaps never will touch the power and efficiency that these magnificent locos have. They are indeed a fitting tribute to the quality of the workmanship that has held them together for so long and they show up well the skill in the design that made them.

Let us hope that before they are all put to the torch for scrap iron at least one of these fine locomotives is preserved for all future generations to look at in awe.

THE THOUGHTS OF THE CATTLEMAN

The setting of the tireless sun
Across the plain dies slow,
But in the morning it will come
Again, with golden glow.

The trees cast scraggy shadows
Across the parched soil,
And in the camp the billy hangs,
Always about to boil.

The thick red dust that fills the air
About the placid herd,
Now settles down upon the camp
Like a softly landing bird.

Now it is time to lie and rest,
The day's long work is done,
And with my pipe I'll thus abide
Until the rise of sun.

The Ward Library

1962 has begun well in the Ward Library, with a steady average of forty books per day going out on loan. The fourth form classes were given instruction in using the catalogue and the reference books, and making the most use of the library in general. It is encouraging to note that fourth formers are, on the whole, voracious readers, considering the time available for reading lessons as they get further on in the School. Nearly every boy has a particular hobby or interest, and his knowledge of his pet subject can be supplemented with books from the library. With the Ward Library's stock of 4,175 books and 50 magazines, nearly every interest can be catered for.

Most popular of the new books this year have been, "Fighting Pilots", "Snorkel Diver", "Living Free", "Water-skiing", "The Challenging Tests", and "Learning to Drive a Car". Latest editions of standard reference books have been acquired, plus the new "History of Australian Literature", by Green. I would like to say thank you to the boys who come in every day to help with the lunch hour rush, and to Jeffery Evans, who is carrying on the job of printing stationery for the library.

Parents and Friends Association

There was the usual large attendance at the annual meeting of the Association on Friday, 16th March. The President, Mr. C. F. Compton, presented his annual report and this was adopted. The President told those present that the Association had made a donation of £150 to the College to cover the cost of moving and altering the very necessary traffic lights in Dequetteville Terrace. This was in addition to the usual help given by the Association in providing prizes and making grants to the Prep. School Mothers' Club and scout funds.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. D. O. Crompton; Immediate Past President, Mr. C. F. Compton; Vice-Presidents, Mr. N. W. Bayly and Mr. E. C. Stephens; Hon. Secretary, Mr. K. G. Tuckwell; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. K. G. Lamb; Members of the Committee, Mrs. G. M. Gray, Mrs. D. Gray, Mrs. H. Searle, Mr. H. M. Adamson, Mr. R. H. Buttery, Mr. P. A. Dalwood, Mr. D. W. Trott, Mr. D. A. Williamson.

Preparatory School

There have been quite a few changes on our Preparatory School Staff. Mr. Ian Watson, who had been with us for a long period, left to join the Psychological Branch of the Education Department. While he was with us he turned his enthusiasm to many things. He helped with the scouts, he ran a Summer School Camp, he introduced the Reading Laboratory and he revitalized the Preparatory tennis. He will be sorely missed. We wish him every success in his new field and trust that it wasn't our oddness that initiated his interest in that work.

We also said farewell to Mr. Norman Kesting who joined our staff in 1950. He had been promising himself a trip overseas for quite a number of years, but it still came as a shock when he took the final plunge and resigned.

Mr. Kesting did much to extend the interest of the boys outside the classroom. His Natural History Club was never short of members and his camps and educational tours were so popular that often not all those wishing to participate could do so.

We trust that he will enjoy his two years abroad thoroughly and that when he returns, like a lion refreshed, there will be a place for him on our staff.

Mrs. Ludbrook was with us only two terms, taking Mrs. Symons's class during her absence abroad. However, this period was long enough for us to realize her quality and for her to make an indelible impression on her small charges. We hope that if ever a suitable vacancy occurs on our staff she will be free and willing to accept it.

We welcome to our staff Mr. Jack Wolstenholme, who has had many years experience teaching in England and Rhodesia. He has settled quickly into the life of the Preparatory School and we hope he will be happy with us. We also welcome Mr. Richard Hurn who has taken charge of II A. Mr. Hurn is an Old Boy who represented the School at football, cricket and athletics. His years as a boarder are now standing him in good stead as he is a resident master in our Boarding House.

Mr. Bob Kite, a Teachers College student, is also helping with resident duties.

Mrs. Symons is back with us again after two crowded but enjoyable terms abroad.

Cricket

During the third term of last year the Preparatory team played 8 games and were successful in 5 of them. Stanford, Stephens, MacNab and Tregoning were the most successful with the bat and Stanford, Stephens and Milner with the ball. Stanford is to be congratulated on winning the L. O. Fuller Cricket Trophy.

Second Team matches were played against St. Peter's College and Westminster.

Cricket Afternoon with St. Peter's

We were hosts last year to St. Peter's. Six cricket matches were played in which our 3 Grade VII teams and our Grade VI "A" team won their games. Grade VI "B" was narrowly defeated while the Grade V team was forced to admit the superiority of its rival.

In the tennis Princes won 15 of the 18 sets played.

Afternoon tea served by class representatives of the Mothers' Club was enjoyed by nearly 400 boys.

Fathers and Sons Cricket

On the last Saturday of the year, two Fathers' teams met their sons. Despite the presence of a fair sprinkling of "A" grade and Interstate players (retired) the matches were closely contested. A sporting declaration by the Fathers allowed the First Teams' match to be tied while in the Second Teams' game the Fathers were defeated.

A Fathers' and Sons' tennis championship, played on the same day, was won by E. C. Stephens and Owen.

House Cricket

Mitchell won its two senior games and one junior game, Robertson, one senior and both junior games last term. This term once again Chapple earned the wooden spoon, failing to record one win in its four games.

Mitchell won its two senior and junior games and Robertson one senior and one junior.

First Term, 1962

With only three members of last year's team back we started this term with not very sanguine hopes of success. However, to our surprise, we have won the four games we played. MacIntosh, with 121 runs and four wickets, McEwin, with 67 runs and six wickets, and Boucaut, with 63 runs and seven wickets, have been the mainstays of the side.

The second team played one game against Westminster which it lost.

Tennis

Mr. Watson had moulded two very sound tennis sides which had a very successful season. Michael Chapman is to be congratulated on winning the Preparatory School Singles Championship.

Unfortunately, all of last year's players went up to Senior School and Mr. Wolstenholme has tried to build bricks without straw. The two teams have played three matches each. The "As" have lost all theirs and "Bs" two of theirs.

The Mothers' Club

In the third term meeting last year, at which the Rev. Frank Borland was the speaker, the committee augmented by past members and friends organised a very successful luncheon to which former members of the club and mothers of new members were invited.

The first meeting of 1962 was very well attended and Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Lower, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. Nobbs were elected to the committee.

On the last Saturday of last term a very happy Christmas party was held in the Senior School assembly hall. Father Christmas was the special guest and he was given a rousing welcome by the boys of Grades I and II and their little brothers and sisters.

The club served afternoon tea at the close of the gathering, the parents watching the Fathers' and Sons' contests also participating.

This Year the club has presented the School a wireless set and another set of Reading Laboratory cards.

School Crossing Lights

During third term last year the School crossing lights erected by the Parents and Friend's Association began operating.

The Police Courtesy Car helped to make the motorists aware of their existence. When prefects and Preparatory leaders were trained as monitors the safety of the crossing increased.

Leaders

The following are to be congratulated on their appointment for 1962—D. G. Provis, D. W. Bedford, T. G. Craig, R. G. Hunt, G. R. McEwin, N.

G.I. VI UA

G. Martin, A. R. Nankervis, P. D. Lehmy, M. J. W. Reid and A. W. Smith.

Carol Evening

The Carol Evening was held on Wednesday, 29th November. As the weather was threatening, we moved to the Senior School Assembly Hall where a programme which included community singing, special carols, and a Christmas film was enjoyed by quite a large number of parents and boys.

Boarders' Picnic

Once again the boarders and quite a number of the staff and their families travelled by bus to Aldinga Beach. Unfortunately a dodge tide prevented the boys from holding their fishing competition from the Big Reef. However, the weather was fine and hot and the boys spent most of the day in the water. Sister Rowe served a lunch of hot-dogs and rolls in lieu of the usual barbecue meal.

Class Picnics

On Monday, 11th December, all of the classes set out for the beach. Grades I to IV, in cars this year instead of a bus, went to West Beach where Mrs. G. L. Bennett again lent her beach shack as a headquarters.

The other classes occupied most of the beach between South Brighton, where Mrs. Brown's beach house was used as a base, and the jetty.

House Competition

Robertson is to be congratulated on winning the House Competition for 1961.

Our President

Mr. Alan Woodhouse Crompton (son of Joseph Crompton, a former President of the Association and for many years now a member of the School Council), comes from a family whose name is linked with the history of the State and is almost synonymous with Prince Alfred College. It is therefore fitting that he should be the first third generation Old Boy to be elected to this office. He attended the School 1931-40, was a member of the School VIII, held the rank of Sergeant-Major in the Cadet Corps, and also took part in football, athletics, and debating. Two years after leaving School he enlisted in the R.A.A.F., was posted overseas to the U.K. and engaged in operations with 461 Squadron (Sunderland flying boats). He was discharged in 1945 with the rank of Flight-Lieutenant. In post-war years he has been actively associated with Apex having held the offices of President (Adelaide), District Governor, Zone President, and was recently made an honorary life member of the Adelaide Club. He has also rendered very valuable service to the Children's Hospital and has been for some years a member of the Board of Management. Mr. Crompton is a Director of the well-known group of companies which carry the family name, and of which he represents the fourth generation. It is interesting to note and perhaps appropriate that the business this year celebrates its centenary. Mr. Crompton, who lives at Marryatville, is married and has three daughters.

Purely Personal

At the recent State elections Sir Frank Perry and Sir Lyell McEwin were re-elected to the Legislative Council, the Hon. G. G. Pearson was re-elected for the Assembly seat of Flinders and Mr. Jim Heaslip was elected unopposed for Rocky River.

George Fisher, chairman of Mount Isa Mines Ltd., has been appointed a member of the Council of Australian Mineral Development Laboratories.

Dr. R. E. Steele recently returned from the U.K. where he obtained the F.F.A.R.C.S. after study at the Royal College of Surgeons and the Middlesex and Queen Elizabeth Hospitals.

Harry Williams and Jim Lang were members of the committee for the recent £100,000 Red Cross appeal.

G. V. Sando has recently transferred from manager, Commonwealth Bank, Murray Bridge, to a similar position at Port Pirie.

L. M. White, recently returned from the U.K., has now taken a position with the MacLeay Shire Council at Kempsey, N.S.W.

Mr. Harry Tuck, formerly Associate Professor of Engineering, University of Tasmania, who retired in 1960, has been doing some part-time lecturing at that university and the Hobart Technical College.

Robert Berriman, who has lived most of his life in Tasmania, retired several years ago, after forty years' service with the Electrolytic Zinc Company. In his younger days he was a prominent tennis player.

G. V. Selth, now Headmaster of Launceston Church Grammar School, recently received on behalf of that school a £10,000 donation being the first disbursement from an industrial fund for the advancement of scientific education in independent schools in that State.

Mr. H. E. (Pat) Lange is still going strong at eighty-three. A bushman and stockman most of his life, he was in his heyday one of the best known roughriders in Australia.

Russel Ward was recently in Adelaide—he is senior lecturer in history at the New England University, Armidale, N.S.W. Reported in the last issue was the fact that at the invitation of U.N.E.S.C.O. he had written the Australian section of the history of the scientific and cultural advancement of mankind up to 1905. More recently he has been on the A.B.C. University of the Air, dealing with the history of the squatting and pastoral industry in Australia. Last year his book, "The Australian Legend" shared first place for the Ernest Scott Prize, given by the University of Melbourne for "The most distinguished work published in the bi-ennium (1958-9) on Australian, New Zealand, or British colonial history in the Pacific".

The following have been awarded Later Year Scholarships under the Commonwealth Scholarship Plan for Tertiary Students: D. G. Cant, W. R. Giles, B. A. Gooden, M. A. B. Jolly, C. D. V. Lloyd, D. B. McInnes, R. J. Worthington, J. W. Hudson, C. J. Michelmore and R. G. Pearlman. D. B. Paul was successful in gaining a scholarship for organic chemistry. R. W. Ellis was awarded a cadetship with the Department of Agriculture.

David Churches, who recently passed out of his naval training school with the highest possible marks, is now with a squadron doing a tour of duty in the far east. He will return to Australia in July.

John Batchelor is chief engineer at Channel 9 and Rex Heading is production director.

W. D. Freestun has been elected president of the South Australian Fellowship in Tasmania.

Allen Shepley recently retired from the Bank of Adelaide—his last position deputy chief inspector.

Don Kennett is a director of Wool Bay Lime Ltd. and subsidiary companies.

Colin Newbery has been re-appointed auditor of the Poliomyelitis Welfare Association.

Ross Catchpole has been appointed a director of C.M.A. Ltd.

Laurie Walsh is the incoming president of Adelaide Rotary Club. His twin brother, Norman, is on the committee of the Junior Boys Legacy Club.

John Lee has just completed his two-year term as president of the Australian Society of Animal Production.

Len Wundke is now sub manager, Adelaide Office, Bank of Adelaide.

Rex Lloyd tied for the J. F. Bett Prize for the best use of plywood in an architectural design.

Reg Coombe, police magistrate, attended the recent Citizenship Convention in Canberra.

Ken Gerard, immediate past president of the S.A.I.T. Graduates' Association, recently presented on behalf of graduates a bust of Sir Kerr Grant to the Institute of Technology.

L. R. Short is chairman of Dominant Holdings Ltd.

Frank Beauchamp and Max Brinsley are president and secretary respectively of the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association.

Harold Boas, president of W.A. branch 1937-8, who entered P.A.C. in 1896, recently sent over some notes concerning his school days and doings of the branch. Mr. James Ashton taught him drawing and art, and on leaving school he took up architecture. During his term of office as president, they were visited by the late Mr. J. F. Ward, then headmaster. The annual dinner in 1937 was held on the 6th October at the Australia Hotel. Office bearers at that time included Sir Thomas Coombe (patron), S. J. Dimond and W. R. Rogers (vice-presidents), secretary and treasurer E. W. Cotton. Monthly luncheons were held in those days when there were 227 known old scholars resident in Western Australia.

Allan Hannam was producer for last year's Adelaide University Revue. Wayne Anthoney also helped with writing the show.

Matt Tiddy, personnel manager of A. Simpson and Son Ltd., was one of a small group selected to represent Australia at the Second Duke of Edinburgh Study Conference to be held in Canada shortly.

Frank Hill has been appointed assistant managing editor of the Adelaide Stock and Station Journal.

Peter Barker who went to the U.K. last year to study engineering is working with the DeHavilland Co. in Herts.

Col. R. P. Woollard has been transferred to H.Q.'s Eastern Command, Victoria Barracks, Sydney, as Officer in Charge, Administration.

John Tremlett was leader of the Freeling debating team which won the State final of the Rural Youth Movement—seventy-seven teams competed.

Dr. Maurice Wellby, M.Sc., M.B., B.S., has recently been successful in gaining his M.D. degree. The work for this degree was carried out at the Adelaide University, Department of Medicine. Dr. Wellby was recently appointed medical biochemist at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

Country Dinners

REPORT SOUTH-EAST

This was again a very successful and well attended function held at the Memorial Hall, Lucindale, on Saturday evening, 31st March, 1962. The party from Adelaide included Mr. Chester Bennett (representing the School), Mr. Alan Crompton (President of the Association), Mr. Jack Gerard (Junior Vice-President of the Association) and Dr. David Riceman (a member of the Committee). The chairman, Mr. Norman Hobbs, opened the proceedings with the grace, and later submitted the loyal toast which was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. After Brian Copping had read the apologies, the chairman in his introductory remarks made several "broad-sides" at the "townies". It was the writer's intention to answer them later in the evening, but the chairman saw to it that time did not permit. However, he was in good form throughout the evening and his eloquent vocal diarrhoea was almost equal to that of Ralph James. Members stood in turn and gave their name and the year they had left School. Jack Gerard then led some community singing (heavy cold and all—lucky to escape pneumonia he told us) with Ian Tiddy and Bruce Pederick at the piano. It was a pity to have to announce the intercollegiate tennis results at this stage, but it had evidently been a close match; so congratulations to Saints. The ladies who had voluntarily done such a wonderful job were given an enthusiastic reception when they made an appearance and members stood, and sang "Why Were They Born so Beautiful?" The chairman thanked them on behalf of all present. Ron Kelly, a prominent Naracoorte old scholar, proposed the toast of "The Old School". By an ingenious use of several dictionary definitions, he proved to those present that only boarders attended "college". The writer has grave doubts as to whether he really made his point, but it was perfectly obvious that he had the weight of numbers on his side. He referred to some of the early history of the School and its headmasters. Like the new Westminster School, he said it had been founded by an act of faith and goodwill. After the toast had been drunk members sang "Our School Colours". Mr. Chester Bennett in responding said he brought good wishes from the Headmaster, and congratulated the local committee and the ladies for the lovely dinner and decorations. In a very thoughtful response he outlined present plans and doings at the School both in relation to School work and sporting activities. He also gave details of masters on the staff both new and old, and added they were all pleased to note the great amount of civic and community work that old scholars were doing in the South-East. He concluded with the thought that the School owes a tremendous amount to the support and enthusiasm of its old scholars which he hoped would always be so.

Andrew Keeves proposed the toast to "The Association" and made one or two very interesting suggestions from the viewpoint of country members regarding the boarding house and accommodation. The President of the Association in responding thanked Mr. Keeves for his thoughtful remarks and assured him that the points raised would be investigated and considered. He assured members that country dinners were regarded as being a vital part of the Association's activities, and reminded members that the strength of the Association lay with its members. He also referred to the wonderful job that old scholar Lord Mayor Mr. Jack Glover had done in connection with the Festival of Arts. It was pleasing to note that the President had not been completely misled by the chairman's earlier remarks and presented him with "The Duck" used on previous occasions at South-East sporting fixtures for "ducking out" on the tennis match. He then presented Association ties to the following:—

Rex Quinn of Kingston who attended the School 1914-18 for being the oldest old scholar present; Richard Bromhead (1956-61) for being the youngest old scholar present; and Jeff Nicholls of Coojar, Victoria (1938-40) for having travelled the furthest distance.

It was decided that the dinner next year would be held at Bordertown on the third Saturday in March (16th March) so as to avoid clashing with the intercollegiate tennis. A very happy evening concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne".

The traditional visit was made to Cyril Cook's place on Sunday by the Adelaide visitors for dinner, where we had a most enjoyable time including a return of everything after enquiring "What's next?" A very big thank you to Cyril and his wife and family.

At the November meeting, congratulations were extended by the Worshipful Master to Wpl. Bro. H. E. H. Mutton on having had the rank of Past Grand Deacon (Senior) conferred on him by the M.W., the Grand Master for long and meritorious service as a member of the panel of Grand Lodge Lecturers.

At the festive board, a toast to Wpl. Bro. Mutton was proposed by his old friend and colleague, Rt. Wpl. Bro. G. M. Potts, P.G.W., who incorporated in his toast a quiz regarding Wpl. Bro. Mutton's Masonic career, with life-savers as prizes.

The final meeting for 1961 was held on 1st December. A very interesting lecture was delivered by Wpl. Bro. H. E. H. Mutton. Three special toasts were proposed at the festive board: "Our Founders" were honoured in a toast proposed by Wpl. Bro. R. P. Goode; Wpl. Bro. W. F. Patterson proposed a toast to Wpl. Bro. Goode as a tribute to the high honour conferred on him for his devotion to the St. John Ambulance Brigade, and another special toast was proposed by Rt. Wpl. Bro. G. M. Potts to our distinguished member M.W. Bro. Sir Geoffrey Reed, P.G.M., on the occasion of his fortieth year in the craft. Rt. Wpl. Bro. Potts traced Sir Geoffrey's career from the occasion on which he and a St. Peter's College boy each presented a basket of flowers to the Duchess of York during the intercollegiate football match on the Adelaide Oval in 1901, to his approaching retirement from the South Australian Supreme Court Bench. Sir Geoffrey's response was both interesting and entertaining.

At the March meeting, a special toast was proposed by Wpl. Bro. J. E. Vardon to Rt. Wpl. Bro. H. V. Menz to welcome him home, officially, after his recent return from abroad. Rt. Wpl. Bro. Menz during his response gave an entertaining account of some of the highlights of his trip. He stressed the benefits of going abroad and urged that none should miss any opportunity of doing so.

Since the installation in October, the following brethren have been made Master Masons: Bro. D. W. Perry, Bro. J. L. Raymond and Bro. B. Thomas.

All old scholars who are Freemasons are reminded of the annual practice of changing the normal August meeting to the last Saturday in July, to coincide with Old Boys Week.

A cordial invitation is extended to all brethren to visit Prince Alfred Collegians' Lodge during the evening after the intercollegiate football.

MONTHLY LUNCHEONS

The monthly luncheons are held at Balfour's Cafe, King William Street, on the third Tuesday in each month at 1 p.m., and country members are especially invited to attend when visiting the city.

Interesting addresses have been given by the following guest speakers:

Mr. John Lavis, "Europe as seen by a dental surgeon"; Mr. C. J. Egar, "The West Indies Test Series"; Mr. P. F. Pollnitz, "The tourist industry"; Mr. Howard Zelling, "The territories of the Commonwealth"; Mr. G. T. Clarke, "Motoring in Europe"; Mr. Keith Macdonald, "Television at home and abroad"; Mr. J. D. S. Keatinge, "The French Foreign Legion"; Mr. T. F. Ballantyne, "Sarawak—Borneo"; Mr. Frank Ray, "Modern features of the Stock Exchange"; Mr. Gilbert Potts, "Reminiscences"; Mr. Ron Hone, "Tennis".

THE HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Old scholars are reminded that copies of Mr. Ward's most interesting and valuable book of the First Eighty Years, 1867-1948, of Prince Alfred College are still available. No old scholar can afford to be without a copy of this valuable record. Copies bound in red cloth at £1/1/- plus postage are available from the School Bursar or the Association Secretary.

Sports

PERSONAL

Cricket

John Lill (vice-captain), John Causby, Ian Chappell, and Brian Hurn (twelfth man), were selected in the State Sheffield Shield team during the season.

John Lill (captain of Sturt) scored 625 runs for the State, including a century against Queensland at an average of 36.7.

Ian Chappell, aged eighteen, top scored for the State against Victoria in Adelaide and playing against New Zealand at one stage had the remarkable bowling figures of 3 for 6.

John Causby opened the batting against New Zealand and scored a very creditable 37.

John Ducker (captain of Prospect) skippered the S.A.C.A. side which played a combined country side at Mount Gambier. Don Trowse (University) scored 94 not out in this match and John Causby 54 not out.

Bob Pearlman (captain Varsity), his brother Rex and David Oaten were members of the Australian Universities cricket team which toured New Zealand. All did quite well with the bat including a century by Rex against Canterbury University and 84 by Oaten at Christchurch.

In the annual match against Melbourne University Bob Pearlman scored 81 and David Oaten 35. Robert Smith and Anthony Clarkson were also members of the team. The latter has been a very consistent wicket taker throughout the season (4 for 14 against Adelaide).

Other old scholars noted playing district cricket include Brian Pittman (153 against Sturt) and Dean Trowse (Kensington), Alan Lyon (East Torrens), Peter Willoughby (Adelaide), Tom Watt (6 for 17 against East Torrens), and Peter Eaton (Prospect), and Bruce Walker (University).

Old scholars names noted in the Country Cricket Carnival include D. French and P. Whittam (Southern Districts), R. K. Kitto (Yorke Peninsula), G. and B. Paterson (Bute), G. Chapman, G. and B. Ashby (Mid North).

Murray Ducker (a former University player and brother of John) who umpired his first "A" Grade match in 1960, was appointed as one of the umpires for the S.A.-Victoria Shield game.

A rare feat was achieved by Peter Dalwood playing for the old scholars in the Turf Association when he scored a century in each innings (112 and 102) against I.C.I.

Don Davies, captain of the old scholars "A" team also achieved a fine double against Richmond taking 5 for 11 and 5 for 23.

Brian Applebee while in England played cricket for Walsall in the Birmingham League.

Coromandel Cricket Club recently celebrated its centenary. Currently president is Keith Ashby, and other well known Princes names amongst past players and officials are Hewett's and Chapman's.

Peter Dalwood and Jack Tregoning were members of the employers' team in their annual match played against the apprentices.

Bowls

Don Collins for the second time in four years was runner-up in the State Singles Championship, losing both games by the "proverbial inch". Also he skippered a pennant rink that headed the State average well on into mid-season.

Lionel Greenslade of the Riverton Club performed well in the Country Carnival. His play earned him selection as one of the country skippers picked to play three matches against the city. He climaxed a successful week by assisting his four to victory in all three games, incidentally all against South Australia's best interstate captains.

Ern Dawkins with Saints old scholar Jack Robinson won the State Pairs Championship. It was the second time that Ern had won the title, the previous time in 1951. Each year Ern and Jack skip fours against each other in the old scholars' match—a "grudge" match of the friendliest kind! Also, Ern was chosen to skip the S.A. four to play each State to decide Australia's representatives for the Empire Games.

Two Old Reds played off in the final of the Toorak Championship—Lloyd Chinner and Roy McWaters and finished in that order. The Headmaster has joined this club, and when time permits plays in tournaments—already he had toppled several seasoned players.

The annual match with Saints has developed into one of high standard which can be judged by the fact that of our forty-eight players twenty-two play regularly in the first division and nine in the second. The organizers regret that it is not possible to select all Old Boys wishing to play.

Ern Phillips won the Championship at the Lockleys Bowling Club.

Tennis

The following have been noted playing district tennis: Bill Johnson (captain), Wayne Jackson (School champion 1960-1) both with West Torrens, Graham Gabb and Dean Davies (North), Ken Baker (Kensington), Robert Dennis (South), Jim Daebeler (East Torrens). Bill Johnson and partner reached the Men's Doubles semi-finals of the State Close Championships, and he was also in the finals of the City of Adelaide Championships.

Les Martin and Doug Young were again prominent in the Country Championships, the former playing off for the singles title and with his partner taking out the doubles title, in which one of his opponents was Doug Young. Both players were selected in the S.A. country team which played against a Victorian country team.

Old scholars are prominent in the list of office bearers of the S.A.L.T.A. Ron Hone is vice-president, Bob Piper, Bob Drennan, Gavin Battye, Ken Baker and Bill Johnson are all council members, Ern Hunwick is treasurer, whilst two of the three interstate selectors (Gavin Battye and Bill Johnson) as previously mentioned are old scholars.

Golf

Bill Shephard was selected in the combined States team which played New Zealand last year. He was also equal second amongst the amateurs for "The Advertiser" £1,000 Par, and he is again playing for Kooyonga in the Simpson Cup series.

Laurie Johnston was committee chairman for the annual golf match in support of Legacy played for the Governor's Cup.

Old scholars who won events in summer competitions included Paul Dalwood and partner (four ball aggregate at Kooyonga), Ken Babidge (who won a stableford at Kooyonga), Garth Cord-Udy and Fred Catt (who won stablefords at Mount Lofty), Ian Day (who won a stableford at Kooyonga), David Rowe and Michael Perry (four ball stableford at Kooyonga), and D. K. and D. C. McKenzie (Royal Adelaide Canadian Foursome Father and Son).

Other names noticed included Dick Collison, Ron Jew, Graham Wicks, Brian May, Brian Constable, Max Raggatt, Ernie Rowe, Ron MacIntosh, Keith Chapple and Colin Gray.

Football

A history of the South Adelaide Football Club reveals that amongst his many activities Herman Menz was patron of that club for twenty years.

John Lill received a trophy last season for being leading goal-kicker with Norwood.

Ian and Doug Hannaford were amongst trophy winners for Port Adelaide last season.

Dr. Dick Stoddart is one of three surviving members of the 1907 Norwood team which won the Championship of Australia when it defeated Carlton at the Kensington Oval.

Max Basheer, a former Amateur League interstate player, has been appointed chairman of the S.A. National Football League Commissioners. He is a former captain and coach of the old scholars' football club and honorary solicitor of the Amateur League.

Ray Trenorden has been appointed captain of North Adelaide for the coming League football season.

Leon Lovegrove, who retired from West Adelaide last season, has been appointed to the selection committee of that club.

Alan Statton and Clarrie Tideman have been re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively of the S.A. Amateur Football League.

Miscellaneous

Bruce Pontifex was selected in the State training squad (lightweight fours) for the Australian Rowing Championships.

Peter Whitham finished third in the S.A. Walkers' Club Five Mile Championship.

Clinton Kitto finished fourth in the 130 yard Appila Gift.

The Old Scholars Athletic Club retained the Junior Shield in the State Amateur Athletic Championships.

FOOTBALL CLUB

With some change having been made this year in the grading of teams in the Amateur League we find the club engaged in grades A2, A2 Reserve and A4. We view the position with optimism but are somewhat concerned that we have not yet sighted twenty-eight of last year's players.

A pleasing feature of this season's enrolment is that seventeen boys who were at school last year are out with the club. The executive realize that thanks are due to Mr. Chester Bennett for his interest in this regard.

Coach Bill Johnson is again applying himself with energy on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Park Lands Oval to the welding of individuals into teams. His task will be lightened when cricket, tennis, fishing and other attractions cease for the winter.

Any member of the executive (Chairman, Don Davies), social committee (Chairman, Ian Wallace), Treasurer, Ian McKay, or Secretary, Len Driscoll, 'phone 56 8552, would welcome enquiries. This applies to both players and supporters to whom, on request, programmes will be forwarded.

CRICKET CLUB

The old collegians again fielded two teams in the Adelaide Turf Cricket Association, one in Grade A1 and the other in Grade A4, the latter having been promoted from Grade A5 after their good showing last season. Both teams had poor seasons, the A1 side finishing tenth on the premiership list and the A4 side bottom. However, enthusiasm has not been wanting and I feel certain that next season, with an improvement in our batting, we should do much better.

Attendance at practice was good and sufficient players were available to fill both teams on most occasions, but we should still like to see more players out next season. The encouraging fact is that we gained three players from last year's intercol. team, all of whom performed creditably in the few matches in which they played.

The A1 side did not hold a very good position on the premiership list at any stage, but this was not the fault of our bowlers. Captain Don Davies bowled consistently and economically to take thirty-eight wickets while Murray Wellington captured thirty-nine victims, and there was good support from Bob Gibbs, Bill Glastonbury and Malcolm Doley. The batting on the whole was not good, with many lapses in concentration, while the fielding at times left much to be desired—dropped catches do not win matches!

To finish the season a match was played against the present school team, the latter having a very good win. After the boys had been dismissed for a reasonable total the supposed age and experience did not show its superiority and we collapsed for a very meagre total. However, much enjoyment was derived from this game and we hope that it will be continued for many years.

The annual dinner was held at the Public Schools' Club and was quite well attended by both players and members. Trophies were presented to Malcolm Doley, Don Davies, Murray Wellington, Richard Blake and Neil McDonald.

The club would like to express its appreciation to the Headmaster and the School for their help and co-operation during the year, and also to those who have assisted in club activities and the running of the club generally.

ATHLETICS CLUB

At the beginning of the season many of the older members of our club decided to retire as it was felt that there were many junior athletes more than capable of filling the vacancies. However, because of injuries during the season, the club has been struggling to remain in "A" Grade. Had it not been for the sterling performances of Brian Dyke in the field games, and our walkers Peter Whitham, Peter Richards and Ian Siegele the position would have been very serious indeed.

The club rallied towards the end of the season however, to retain the Junior Shield in the State Championships, Robert Hannaford contributing two firsts and two seconds. Congratulations also to Brian Dyke who again took the senior hammer throw title and was runner-up in the decathlon, and to Mark Skinner who, following family tradition, established a State junior high jump record at 6 feet 2½ inches.

The club expresses its appreciation to Mr. G. F. Connell, club coach, and to Mr. Dunning for allowing the use of the School oval and facilities.

Any Old Boy interested in athletics and wishing to join the club as a competitor or as an official should contact Graham Crawford at the School or at 76-5392.

SQUASH CLUB

The summer season has finished and our team in "B" Grade was again successful in winning this grade for the second successive year; beating Norwood 4 rubbers to 1 in the challenge final.

Results were:

L. Stubbs d. D. Stevens, 9-3, 9-7, 9-5.

I. Day d. M. Gray, 9-0, 9-3, 9-1.

B. Measday lost to J. Job, 9-6, 3-9, 9-2, 3-9, 2-9.

P. Dalwood d. D. Mordaunt, 9-1, 10-8, 9-2.

M. Barton d. J. Lane, 9-5, 10-8, 9-1.

This team will automatically be eligible for "A" Grade next summer season and will have to be really "on their toes" to get into the final four in this higher grade.

Ian Day is to be congratulated on his good season; losing only once but later beating his vanquisher twice rather easily.

Public Schools' Club team was very unlucky, for after being undefeated in the minor round were beaten in the final by Saints. This winter we have entered four teams in the Squash Racquets Association competition playing in "B", "D", "F" and "J" Grades. The "J" Grade side, we are pleased to say, consists of lads who left School last year and with the advice that they will be getting from the senior members of the club they should improve very quickly as the season progresses. We will be very glad to see any more young old scholars who wish to play with the club as we still have to find more players for our P.S. Club team.

This season could see another two pennants coming our way and a team in "A" Grade next year. New players are wanted all the time to replace the "old men" of the side.

For further particulars contact Peter Dalwood, 31 2497; Bob Oliver, 53 1669; Brian Fricker, 8 6681.

BASKETBALL CLUB

Unfortunately after the lack of support from old scholars last season and the failure to reply to the circular this year, the committee decided at the annual general meeting on Tuesday, 29th March, 1962, not to enter any teams this season. It is with regret that this action had to be taken, but no club can function without the full support of its members and regular attendances at matches.

We hope that next year, with more players leaving school, they will support their old School club with more enthusiasm. Any player who would like to place his name on the list for next season is asked to contact Geoff Woollard, 18 Halsbury Avenue, Kingswood. Telephone 71 8376.

Branch Reports

LONDON BRANCH

The branch Secretary is Dr. Stanford Howard. Address, 148 Harley Street, London W.1., United Kingdom, telephone Welbeck 1207.

Mr. Howard is most anxious to hear from Old Boys presently residing in the United Kingdom or who may be visiting there from time to time.

The dinner this year will be held as usual at the Oxford and Cambridge Club on Friday evening, 13th July. If it is likely that any old scholar who is not on Mr. Howard's list will be either visiting the United Kingdom next year or taking up residence there would he please let Mr. Howard know.

NEW SOUTH WALES

The Branch President is Arnold Weidenhofer, Vice-President Gordon Glasson, and Secretary Don Spry, 2 Reely Street, Pymble. Telephone JJ 6441.

VICTORIA

The combined Christmas party with Saints was held at the Public Schools Club, and proved a most enjoyable function. It was hoped that results for golf and bowls matches against Saints would be available for this issue, but they have both been postponed until later in the year. We are now looking forward to the annual dinner to be held on Thursday, 26th July, when the telephone hook-up with Adelaide and other branches will again take place. The committee is hoping for a record attendance and Victorian old scholars who are not on this branch waiting list are asked to forward their names to the branch secretary, Dean Crowe, C/- Albright & Wilson (Aust.) Ltd., Box 4544, G.P.O., Melbourne. The branch president is Rob Hill.

QUEENSLAND

South Australian Schools' Association

Local members and visitors are reminded that monthly luncheons are held on the last Thursday of each month at the Grand Central Hotel at 1.00 p.m.

The annual meeting will be held on the 5th Floor, M.L.C. Building (B.P. Australia Ltd. Staff Room), on Friday, 27th April, at 8.15 p.m. and all members are asked to attend. Ladies are also invited and after the meeting there is to be a programme of films followed by supper.

Old scholar Phil Coles has for many years now done an excellent job as Secretary of this Association and is always pleased to hear from Old Reds who take up residence or who are visiting Queensland. His address is National Mutual Building, Queen Street, Brisbane (telephone 2 8017).

A Christmas Dinner Dance and Christmas Sundowner, held in December, were both very enjoyable and successful functions.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

This year has seen the usual sporting and social activities with our old rivals from Saints. A combined Sundowner was held on the eve of the cricket match, which was played at Christchurch Grammar School at the invitation of Peter Moyes (Saints) the headmaster, on Saturday, 3rd February.

Despite the extremely hot day, we had a fairly good attendance with about forty attending the luncheon and some seventy or so present during the afternoon. Among the onlookers were Dr. J. L. Rossiter, Dr. Frank Gallasch, Messrs. S. M. Wreford, S. J. Dimond, and Fred Waldeck, and we were all delighted that Dr. S. L. Dawkins was able to put in an appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Kirkman who were holidaying in Perth were welcome onlookers.

The fixture was voted one of the most enjoyable yet held and Princes were victorious by the slender margin of 3 runs. The scores were:—

Batting

Saints—G. Edmunds, 30; P. Moyes, 13; Canaway, 0; J. McKenzie, 1; Smith, 3; F. Howe, 70 (n.o.); M. Muggleton, 0; J. Gawler, 0; M. Rymill, 1; J. Bednall, 16; Jenkins, 2; Sundries, 12; total 148.

Princes—K. Hewett, 26; D. Mayfield, 12; A. Dawkins, 19; J. Livingston, 4; M. Wundke, 0; R. Dimond, 20; G. Whitford, 19; V. Martin, 15; G. Jones, 9 (n.o.); D. Kirkman, 19; R. McKenzie, 1; Sundries, 7, total 151.

Bowling

Princes—Mayfield, 3/35; Hewett, 1/36; Whitford, 3/28; Wundke, 3/21; Jones, 0/7; Livingston, 0/9.

Saints—Edmunds, 5/56; Gawler, 1/26; Rymill, 3/30; Moyes, 1/32.

It is with deep regret that we record the sudden death of our friend Max Rymill who for many years was one of Saints' chief supporters. This year he made a special journey of 400 miles in order to take part in the cricket match, and he will be sadly missed from our future gatherings.

The bowls match was another enjoyable function held at the South Perth Club towards the end of February, when Saints were the victors by a mere point. Princes team was Spencer Haslam, Fred Waldeck, Alec Dawkins, Frank Gallasch, Ken Kirkman, Ken Hodby, Ross Leak, Rex Morgan, John Livingston, Felix Freebairn, and Brian Kelton.

Our last joint function was a buffet tea held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waldeck to whom we are indebted for their generous hospitality. Among the forty odd present were Jim DeLaine from Melbourne, Don McTaggart, Claude Anderson, Peter Chapman and Alan Harris.

The branch is still on the map and reasonably active but we need more members and will welcome all newcomers—especially those who can join in our sporting activities.

BROKEN HILL

A Saints and Princes cricket match was played at Avondale Station in November. This was a very happy social event for members and their families, and was well supported. Each side batted thirteen men and the final scores were P.A.O.C. 132, S.P.S.C. 108. The rules provided that everyone had to bowl and everyone had to score. Jack Prider (Currently Branch President) was stumped once, bowled three times, and caught once, before he got off the mark—he eventually made 10. Congratulations, Jack, on reaching double figures! We would like to express our thanks to Mr. Ern Andrews (Saints) for having us at his property and for the lovely tea which followed at his home. The Branch Secretary is Bill Harbison, C/- North Mine, who would be pleased to hear of any old scholars taking up residence in the area.

EDUCATION FUND

The education of all the children of Old Boys killed on active service has now been completed. The remaining fund is available, at the discretion of the committee, for the children of Old Boy ex-servicemen who have died since their discharge from war service, or failing any children within this category, for sons of Old Boys who shall die before their children's education has been completed.

Should any Old Boy learn of a child or children who may be eligible for the benefits of the fund, please inform a member of the committee so that the matter may be investigated.

SUCCESSSES OF OLD BOYS

As another University Commemoration is to be held within a few weeks it has been thought advisable to withhold the publication of successes of Old Boys until a complete list is available.

LINCOLN COLLEGE

Lincoln College, North Adelaide, was opened in 1952 with thirty-one students housed in a pleasant property at 45 Brougham Place, North Adelaide. Since then, under the direction of the Master, Rev. W. F. Hambly, and the Council, the College has grown very rapidly, there now being 120 full-time university men living in three properties along Brougham Place and a fine new building in Ward Street.

From the beginning members of this Association have been active at Lincoln, Vic Miller, Andrew Duguid, Wilbur Harvey, John Burchmore and Michael Smyth having been College Club Presidents in 1952, 1953, 1954, 1956, and 1959 respectively. Dave Prest is currently President of the Lincoln Collegians' Association, and would be pleased to hear from any Lincolnian who is not yet a member.

The following are P.A.C. Old Collegians at Lincoln College this year:—P. D. Bastian, G. R. Branson, A. Brown, P. W. Bumford, S. D. Clark, I. L. Clarkson, A. M. Coombe, D. M. Cooper, Inquiries to be addressed to: The Hon. Administrator, Box 3847, G.P.O., Sydney, New South Wales.

New and Retiring Committeemen

NEW — N. A. HARRIS

Mr. Norman Harris who was elected to the Committee at the last Annual General Meeting attended the School 1925-28. A successful student, who also played cricket and football, he joined the staff of the Commonwealth Bank on leaving School. Here he made steady progress and prior to his recent transfer to the Reserve Bank of Australia was the senior valuer in this State for the Commonwealth Bank. He joined the A.I.F. in 1939 and sailed from Australia with the first contingent of troops to go overseas. After service in the Middle East he was co-opted for intelligence duties with the American forces and was subsequently honoured by being awarded the M.B.E. He is a member of the State Board of the Commonwealth Institute of Valuers, is a past Committee member of the "Thirty-Niners" Association, Vice-President of the Parents' Association of the College Park Scout Troop, and formerly played cricket and football with the old scholars' clubs. He is married with four boys, the eldest of whom is currently at the School.

RETIRING — L. P. A. LAWRENCE

Mr. Laurie Lawrence, a former President and Joint Secretary of this Association and one of its best-known members, retired after twenty-five years sterling service. He attended the School 1919-25 and was a prominent athlete and footballer. At the University he continued with his athletics (being a former State high jump champion) and also obtained his blue for lacrosse. After experience with a mercantile brokering house he joined Lawrences Ltd., becoming managing director in 1936. He is also on the board of several other companies associated with the tobacco business. His community interests have always been many and varied including the Rotary Club, various offices in his church, the S.A.A.A.A., Liberal and Country League, and he has been a J.P. since 1942. Nowadays he takes his golf quite seriously and has become a convert to water skiing. He is married and has three daughters and two grandsons.

Retiring — W. F. Patterson

W. F. (Bill) Patterson attended the School 1921-22 and spent two years on the Committee during which time he had been active in assisting with country dinners and the Basketball Club. He resigned because of the pressure of other activities — particularly those connected with Freemasonry. He has spent all his working life with the Electricity Trust, is an associate of the School of Mines, and holds a Bachelor of Engineering Degree from the University of Adelaide. He has also been a keen supporter of Rostrum, and has three sons who attended the School.

New — Bill Johnson

Bill Johnson attended the School from 1944-1952. He represented the School in the inter-collegiate tennis in 1951 and 1952, and was School tennis champion the same two years. He has represented the State in tennis over the last ten years in both junior and senior teams, and has captained the senior team for the last three years.

He is a member of the S.A.L.T.A. Council, and also an interstate teams selector. He has played League football for Norwood, and after transferring back to Amateur League, represented the State in amateur football. He is at present the captain-coach of the P.A.O.C. Football Club.

He is a son of Mr. R. W. M. Johnson, a Past President of this Association, and is a sales representative for Clarkson Ltd.

Tennis v. Saints Old Scholars

This match played under ideal conditions at the Sturt Club courts on Wednesday afternoon, 21st March, resulted in an overwhelming victory for Saints, the final scores being nine rubbers nineteen sets to three rubbers seven sets. Princes were represented by Bill Johnson, Graham Gabb, Ken Baker, Mark Woollacott, David Rowe, Gordon Schwartz, Howard Welch, David Williamson, Brian Fricker (captain), Colin Hockney, John Haigh and Myer Solomon. At the conclusion of the first round of matches Saints led by four rubbers to two, and then only after Drs. Welch and Williamson had gone down after a closely fought rubber. However, in the second round of matches David Rowe and Gordon Schwartz were our only pair to win, and so Saints registered their best win at least in post-war matches.

Afternoon tea served in the club house was a pleasant interlude, and enjoyed by all present, including a number of spectators. We would like to extend our thanks to Mrs. Bill Johnson (convener) and the ladies who helped her in this connection.

As usual a dinner was held in the evening and on this occasion at the Public Schools' Club. The President, Alan Crompton, was in the chair with Mr. Dick Potter representing Saints and Mr. Glen Luke representing Princes. Office holders and committee men of both Associations were also present. We were fortunate to have as a special guest, Mr. Ian D. Hayward, a former President of Saints old scholars and currently President of the Public Schools' Club. After Mr. Crompton had submitted the loyal toast he announced the scores (which announcement met with a mixed reception) and then introduced School and Association representatives. He then asked Mr. Hayward to address those present. Mr. Hayward outlined the history of the club and said he hoped this would be the first of many of these dinners to be held at the club. He also paid tribute to the work done by Saints and Princes old scholars in helping to establish and maintain the club. The support given to the club to date indicated that there was a need for such a club where university men, the professions and business people could meet on common ground. It also brought Adelaide into line with Melbourne and Sydney where similar clubs had been established for many years.

The toast to the two Schools was given by Mr. Fax Bonnar who referred to the traditional friendship and rivalry which had always existed and which he hoped would always continue. Old Boys of both Schools have been fortunate to have attended such well-known and well established institutions and he considered that as time went by this was realized more and more by former students. It was symbolic of this friendship that wherever and whenever old scholars of these two Schools met it was always easy to strike up an immediate friendship and an association of common ideas and ideals.

Mr. Potter in responding for Saints, after apologizing for the absence of the Headmaster, said that as he had spoken on previous occasions at this dinner he proposed to adopt the motto on this occasion of "Leave it to Luke". He thanked Mr. Bonnar for submitting the toast and for the way in which it had been received. Mr. Luke in responding for Princes recalled that he had now seen forty-five intercollegiate tennis matches (surely a record). He apologized for the absence of the Headmaster and thanked Mr. Bonnar for so ably submitting the toast. He also referred to the increase in numbers (from six to eight) as from this year of those taking part in the annual intercollegiate tennis match. Both Schools had grown considerably in numbers over the years and therefore it seemed reasonable to give two more players from each School an opportunity to represent their School on this occasion.

The chairman then presented the E. T. Rowe Cup to Graham Brookman, captain of Saints, and congratulated him and his team on their excellent and well deserved victory. Mr. Brookman in a very delightful response said Saints were very pleased to have the cup back again after a lapse of four years. He thanked the players and organizers for making the match possible and hoped they would all be there again next year.

Mr. Fricker offered congratulations on behalf of Princes and made it quite clear that Saints had the cup for twelve months only. The chairman proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Clark, club manager, and his staff for an excellent meal and a very pleasant evening.

Annual "Get-Together"

This annual social evening for new Old Boys, held at the School, on Friday evening, 16th February, was again well supported. Geoff Hall welcomed those present and then introduced the Association President, Mr. Alan Crompton. The President said he had received an apology from the Headmaster, who was the Patron of the Association, and thanked the Headmaster for allowing them the use of the assembly hall. He then urged all those present to join and give their support to the Association and so to the School, and referred to the recent first issue of the smaller Chronicles which in future will be issued in January and June, in addition to the regular Chronicles of April and October. Members would thus have a continuous, up-to-date, account of School and Association activities. He then outlined details of the various activities of the Association and stressed the country dinners and Old Boys Week. He also referred to a recent operation on Mr. J. S. Steele, and said he was sure everybody would wish him a speedy recovery, and concluded by thanking the sub-committee, Messrs. Geoff Hall (convener), Bill Johnson and Andrew Jeffery. Mr. Hall then introduced Bill Johnson (coach of the Football Club) who spoke particularly in relation to the sporting clubs. After a detailed report about these clubs and introducing the representatives of the clubs present, he urged as many boys as possible to join the clubs, and reminded them that old scholars were the only source of players. Two very interesting films followed—dealing with Davis Cup tennis and international motor racing—and a very pleasant evening concluded with supper and refreshments.

Committee's Visit to School

The Committee, at the invitation of the Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, Attended morning assembly on Thursday, 9th November. The School Chaplain, Rev. R. Kyle Waters, took the service and the lesson was read by R. N. E. Smith (Captain of the School). The Headmaster welcomed Dr. Alan Clarkson (the President), and other Committee members, and thanked the Association for the support they had always given to the School, and asked Dr. Clarkson to address the scholars. The President in thanking the Headmaster for his invitation referred to the close and friendly ties which had always existed between the School and Old Boys. He then outlined the objects of the Association—the welfare of the School, the unity of old scholars, and the maintenance of their interest in the School. These things could be and have been achieved by all boys leaving the School joining the Association and giving it their wholehearted support. The President also referred to the numerous activities of the Association—sporting clubs, luncheons, country dinners, bowls, golf, the various events against Saint's old scholars, and Old Boys Week. With the continued support of the boys leaving School the Association would go from strength to strength, both in itself and in its support of the School. He concluded by asking all those leaving this year to make sure of joining, wished them every success in their examinations, and wished the First Eleven good luck in their match against Saints.

Bowls v. Saints Old Scholars

This annual event took place at South Park Bowling Club on Wednesday evening the 28th February. The new lights were very much appreciated—we understand now amongst the best in Australia. The weather was a little cool and there were one or two drops of rain, but as always the evening was thoroughly enjoyable and the greens in excellent condition. It was also pleasing to note a number of ladies present—more would be welcome. Princes maintained their very good record in these games and won 268 points to 204, which represented 9 winning rinks out of 12. Two non-counting rinks played between the Committees of the Associations resulted in two further wins for Princes. During supper Mr. John Carne (Chairman of Saints) presented the Lucy Shield to Mr. Alan Crompton (President of Princes), congratulated Princes on their win, and thanked South Park for allowing the match to be played there once again. Mr. Crompton in responding, said Princes were very glad to have won the game, and he was sure everybody looked forward to this evening. He supported the vote of thanks to South Park, and also thanked the conveners, Dr. Merv Evans (Princes) and Ross Macdonald and Maurie Brown (Saints). Supper was served on the long verandah of the clubhouse for the players, and in the dining room for the ladies. We would also give our thanks to various people engaged by the club for helping towards the success of the evening.

Close Bowls

This very popular fixture played on Wednesday evening, 21st February, was well attended despite the weather. With heavy rain just prior to the start of play and one or two light showers during the evening, the weather was not ideal, but this did not dampen the enthusiasm of the players. The winning four—David Williamson, Geoff Woollard, Graham Gabb and Graham Wicks—had a record victory 30 to 6 and we think it better that their opponents should be unnamed. A "Spider" at the conclusion of play was won by a regular supporter of these events in Colin Gray. During supper the President, Mr. Alan Crompton, thanked Toorak Club for once again allowing us the use of their greens and clubhouse, which was very much appreciated. The club President, Mr. Dalwood (Snr.) who played in Mr. Crompton's rink, in responding said the club was always pleased to have "Princes", and he was happy to note the way in which the numbers had grown over the years. He reminded members that the Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, was now a member of Toorak, and concluded with, "I hope you have all enjoyed yourselves and I hope we will see you all next year". The President, after presenting Association ties to the winning four and the winner of the Spider, thanked the Ladies Committee for attending to the supper arrangements, the sub-committee for arranging the game (Messrs. Bon Gaetjens, convener, Phil Clark, and Robert Craven), Merv Evans (liaison officer), Tony Clark (drinks), and those present for their support.
