Editorial

At this time the boys of P.A.C. are accustomed to the sound of men and machinery as they combine to build the School's new Assembly Hall. With the completion of the hall, life at Princes will take on a new aspect, for without doubt, much of P.A.C. school-life revolves around the morning assembly. Every school morning the assembly is held—held in the presence of the past. All around are the honour boards, the reminders of P.A.C.'s past scholars and past deeds: they are the boards of tradition.

In these times when colleges are becoming more and more a minority every year, it is well to remember some of the ways in which Princes boys are fortunate. One of the great advantages of private schools lies in their independence. Independence of decision is a desirable object for everybody, whole bodies of people as well as individuals. We at Prince Alfred College are proud of our independence—it permits us to build a new Assembly Hall, and then to look back at its completion and say it is our achievement, our Assembly Hall.

An Assembly Hall is always a part of tradition, consequently it is fitting to reflect on Prince Alfred College's own tradition. There are people who will dismiss tradition as something vague which hinders and ties down. This is not the case. On the contrary, the tradition of our School is a spur and encouragement. Prince Alfred College's heritage is one of good manners, of high standard scholarship, and of playing the game with spirit and fairness. Knowing this heritage, we can be spurred and encouraged to greater efforts.

Over the years, since 1869, Princes has built a reputation worthy of the upholding. Perhaps we tend to confine our comparisons with other schools too much to the field of sport. We should be more conscious of our standing in respect to manners and behaviour. The School motto instructs us to "do brave deeds and endure". This instruction has an implication of manly forbearance. A Christian gentleman does not need to travel to strange lands to be persecuted for what he does. If we always do what we think is right, there will be persecution enough, in the form of stinging jibes and criticisms. We must indeed live bravely: "faciamus fortia". Just as hard, let us endure: "patiamur". If we can do these things, we shall be secure in the knowledge of having done the right and of thus being truly "Princes men".

G.J.S.

School Notes

The number on the School Roll in the first term is 885 (Big School 632, Prep. 253). There are 138 boarders in the Big School and 22 in the Preparatory School. The secondary boys are distributed as follows: Upper VI (Leaving Hons.) 83; VI (Leaving) 160; Upper V (Intermediate) 132; Lower V 135; IV 122.

It was our delight to welcome to the School in February Dennis Choate from Manhattan Beach, California. He is the first boy to come to South Australia as an American Field Service Scholar and he will be with us for two terms.

We congratulate Mr. B. H. Leak, B.A., A.A.S.A., upon his appointment as master in charge of the Preparatory School, and we wish Mr. and Mrs. Leak happiness and success in their new work. Mr. Leak joined the staff in 1946 and for 17 years has given grand service to the College both in the class room and in the sporting sphere, and we know the Preparatory School is in safe and good hands.

Examination results in general were good, the Intermediate results outstanding. This was true not only of the A form but also of the B, C and D forms. Individual passes and distinctions are recorded elsewhere but the following points are worthy of note. Boys in the A form gained 152 A (credit) passes, the previous highest total being 109 and 33 of the 35 boys in the form had A passes in Mathematics. 12 boys in the B form, 6 in the C, 2 in the D and 2 in the E had A passes in Geography. All the boys in the A, B, C and D forms sat in Mathematics and 89 per cent. passed.

For the first time for many years, one of our boys has won a Tennyson Medal. This honour goes to A. F. Wilson who gained top place in Intermediate English. We congratulate Wilson and also Mr. Leak who was his English master.

Ten Shell Scholarships were awarded on the results of the Intermediate examination and three have been won by A. F. Wilson, P. A. Baghurst and C. W. Slee. Another was won by R. A. Fraser, a pupil at Enfield High School last year, but now at P.A.C. as the holder of the George Shierlaw Entrance Scholarship.

In his annual report the Headmaster refers to the appointment of Mr. David H. Prest to the headmastership of Wolaroi College, Orange, N.S.W. His brother, Mr. R. H. Prest, has succeeded him as master in charge of School House.

We are glad that Mr. H. E. H. Mutton is still with us, even though it be in a part-time capacity, and that Mr. Duff is back again, fit and well after his long illness.

New members of the staff this year are Mr. R. F. Jones, Mr. F. G. Jones, Mr. A. P. Campbell and Mr. T. J. Fowler. Mr. Fowler is an Old Boy and has taken over the economics and book-keeping classes previously taught by Mr. Leak.

The eleven, strong in pace bowling, won the intercollegiate match played on our oval in December. Important factors in our win were a dashing innings by Darley in our second innings and fine fast bowling by McWaters and Hurn. In March, our tennis team after a good start was not able to match the experience of the S.P.S.C. team whom we congratulate on a good win.

The School swimming sports were held in 1962 for the first time for many years. In 1963 the sports were just as successful as they were last year with the general standard of swimming showing a marked improvement.

Once again the School did well in the competitions organized by the S.A. Branch of the Royal Life Saving Society. We gained first place in the aggregate competition and second place in "The Advertiser" competition which depends on the points scored per secondary school boy.

The scholarships at Leaving Honours standard were awarded as follows:— Edward Spicer: N. A. M. Paterson; E. B. Colton: W. D. Riceman; Old Collegians: K. Gehan; John Colton: D. A. Gilmour; Longbottom: I. M. l'Anson; Malpas: A. J. Woodroffe.

W. D. Riceman was awarded a Gowrie Scholarship, the only one at University level awarded to a South Australian student this year.

Annual School Service

On the evening of Sunday, 9th December, the boys of the School gathered with their parents in Kent Town Church for the service which traditionally brings to a close our corporate religious activities for the year. It was conducted by Rev. R. K. Waters, the School Chaplain, and the music was directed by Mr. Rolland May, Mus.Bac., who conducted the choir in the introit, "I Sing of a Maiden" (C. F. Waters) and the anthem, "Good Christian Men, Rejoice" (E. Bullock). The organist was Mr. Mark Symons, B.E.

Geoffrey Williamson, Captain of the School, read the lesson, St. Matthew 6: 19-34 and the sermon was delivered by the Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, M.A., M.Sc.

THE HEADMASTER'S ADDRESS

The first words I jotted down when I came to think seriously about my address for this evening were "Pressures", "Loyalties", "Standards", "Values"—terms which are ever before us as we consider problems of behaviour.

For my text I have chosen part of "Joshua", chapter 24, verse 15.

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve."

Joshua is renewing the covenant between God and the tribes of Israel, and the full verse reads:

"And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom you will serve, whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood or the gods of the Amorites in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house we will serve the Lord."

I imagine that it is only when we come to think about it that we realize how very often all of us have to make a choice—we have to say to ourselves, "Choose this or that". Time and again every day we have to make a choice of minor importance.

Shall we view Channel 2, 7 or 9? Will it be boiled, fried or poached eggs for breakfast?

The small boy with his limited amount of pocket money has to choose between a coke and an ice-cream—and so on almost ad infinitum.

Not so frequently the choice is a more serious one:

"What subjects shall I take at school? For whom shall I vote at an election? Will the new car be a Miniminor or a VW? A Falcon or a Holden? A Mercedes or a Jaguar?

Then there comes the time in our lives when the choice is one of tremendous importance. For a young person there is the choice of a husband or wife, and, mind you, I am not saying who does the choosing, nor am I giving any suggestions or advice on this subject.

Then there is the choice of a career, and later I shall say more about this.

But surely the choice of the uttermost importance is the one propounded by Joshua.

"Choose you this day whom ye will serve", and then the reply as far as he is concerned, "As for men and my house we will serve the Lord", and it is not tomorrow, or next year, or when I am a bit older that the choice has to be made, but today.

However, let me now return to some thoughts on the choice of a career, something of such concern to both parents and boys. May I say that I think many parents, sometimes of even quite young boys become unnecessarily concerned because their sons still have no idea of what they would like to be: wise guidance and not positive direction should be the aim of parents at this stage. And I would warn parents that even in this technological age not all boys have the ability to be scientists or technologists. Even if they have the ability, not all will be happy as such, nor will they be doing their best for this world.

In the choice of a career, boys, you are deciding whom you will serve in a material sense, but at the same time the other choice as stated by Joshua is ever before you.

The call to serve as a minister of the Christian Church either in your homeland or on the mission field comes to very few. But having made your choice to serve God, then be ever ready with receptive ears to hear this call, for it is the greatest call of all. To most men it comes after they have already settled to some other career.

But the Church needs many other full-time workers besides its ministers. This is true both at home and in the mission field. The call is for doctors and nurses, teachers and technicians, farmers and carpenters, in fact for any man or woman with any skills whatsoever, and I urge you to be forever ready to listen to the call. Any one of you will have a worthwhile talent to offer. Though you may well be on a much lower salary, the reward will be great. Here is a life awaiting you that will not be easy by modern standards but it will be a life of adventure. Someone has well said, "If you are out for a soft and a good time don't be a Christian; if you are out for manhood and the real happiness that manhood brings, then follow Christ".

Some critics of modern youth have frequently said that too often they are looking for security above all else when they are seeking a job. The love of adventure has disappeared, so they say, and boys are not seeking adventurous jobs. Only a couple of weeks ago I was asked by one of our daily papers to comment on such a statement. I do not agree, for I think it is impossible to generalize on such a subject. Doubtless it is true for a large number. But if it is true, is it the fault of the boys alone? Remember that you who are the parents of boys of this generation have experienced or can remember the uncertainty and insecurity, the trials and the tribulations of the depression years, and then before the world had completely recovered, of the war years. Can you be blamed if you place a high premium on security for those you love, and if you engender in your sons the idea that security is so important?

In addition the search for security is accentuated these days by the fact that so many are now marrying at a much younger age. And with the added responsibilities there is the ever-increasing regard for security.

I have spoken about a call to direct and full-time service in the work of the Christian Church. Most of you will be employed in other avenues. But equally important is the necessity for Christian witness, no matter what the calling. It is here that Christian witness so often becomes so difficult. It will take strength and courage to speak out and stand up for what you know and believe to be right in so many of the situations that you will meet.

Men of great faith have shown amazing courage as they have given their witness. In "The Book of Daniel", Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego did not falter and were cast into the fiery furnace. Daniel withstood the pressures of his day and was cast into the den of lions. Think of St. Paul and his courage as he was persecuted. Think of the greatest example of all, our Lord Jesus Christ. The devil taketh him into an exceeding high mountain and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them and saith unto him, "All these things will I give thee if thou wilt fall down and worship me". Then saith Jesus unto him, "Get thee hence, Satan, for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and him only shalt thou serve".

Yes, Jesus was tempted even more sorely than we are tempted and he did not falter until he gave us the supreme witness on Calvary.

Great too has been the courage of the Christian martyrs of all generations. In recent years great was the faith and courage of Pastor Niemoller.

It is not, however, the lot of all of us to face the fiery furnace, the den of lions or the horrors of the Nazi persecution. But the young follower of Christ has ever to be watchful and brave if he is to remain a true follower, for the attacks to be countered are often so well disguised and so unexpected.

I doubt whether there has ever been a time of greater opportunities for the youth of our nation as a whole.

I am sure there has never been a time with greater need for determination and watchfulness in overcoming the temptations and pressures of much of modern life.

We read in our lesson, "No man can serve two masters" and later in the same verse, "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon".

Let us think for a while of some of the problems for this generation as I see them. Things that make it difficult for a young man to maintain his standards and serve God. I shall speak under the headings of "Pressures", "Loyalties", "Standards" and "Values".

All parents know that one of the big pressures they have to withstand from the time their children are young is the age-long cry, "But Mummy, everybody has this or that or does this or that", or "Dad, almost everybody in our class is allowed to drive the car to parties", or "Nearly every boy in the class has a car". I take it that this kind of pressure has always been with us, and it strikes the boy himself when he has to fend for himself.

But new forms of communication—both physical and intellectual—have changed the pattern of life more in this last one generation than in any previous period of a thousand years.

Think of the pressures now exerted by the written word in those papers which care more for sensation than truth and in the trashy magazines that flood our country; by the spoken word on the radio; by what we see wherever there is advertising. And all this has been left far behind by TV, which can exert a tremendous influence either for good or evil. All who look at the programmes on the commercial stations must realize the enormous pressures exerted on young malleable minds by some of the advertising. Much of this is very astute and clever and awfully well done. For the life of me, I do not know how a housewife who watches TV ever makes up her mind which detergent or cleaning powder she should use. They are all so perfect.

So many in the commercial world have found that what the teenager can now spend represents big money and in some cases all the cleverness and astuteness of the advertising must most surely have an insidious effect on the young folk who view it and I say nothing of the effect of some parts of the programmes. Yes, the pressures of today are to those of yesterday as mountains to molehills.

And what of loyalties. The problem here is much as it ever was. It is so hard to be a Daniel and stand alone when so-called friends call you to something which your conscience tells you is wrong. And once you have slipped it becomes progressively harder to say "No".

And so to standards: Examiners in 1962 criticised the standards of papers done for them in much the same way as did the examiners of the thirties, and as I know the New Zealand examiners in the years 1915 to 1919 used to say much the same thing. I have an inkling that it is the same when we come to speak of standards of behaviour. Nevertheless I would say to you that you go out with certain standards learnt in your home, your Church and your School. Do be careful to see that these standards are not lowered. Do your best to see that they are raised. Your conscience will be your guide. I do think that the prosperity of the post-war years has contributed largely to the lowering of standards of general conduct in some directions. Lord Cobham, a great man who has just retired from being Governor General of New Zealand said this at a speech day, and I think it is very true. It is not the high cost of living that should concern us but the cost of high living which brings evil far greater than financial embarrassment.

And finally and very briefly, values!

Surely there is something wrong with a world in which so much can be wasted when so many millions are hungry and undernourished; in which the prize money for the Melbourne Cup amounts to more than the salaries paid to 200 ministers of religion for one month; in which the winning of the Sydney lottery gives one person more than the sum total paid to the Prince Alfred College Staff for one year; in which a Presbyterian minister in New Zealand decided not to take the family cat when he moved to another charge, as the money that feeding the cat was costing him per year would keep a leper for a year, and he would give the amount for that purpose.

And I could go on and on with examples. So, boys, try to get a true sense of values.

I am sure that there has never been a finer band of youth than those of today. This is a good thing, for the world you are facing is a most difficult one, and you will need God's help to make it a better one. Choose you this day whom ye will serve.

Ye cannot serve God and Mammon.

To conclude, can I tell you a story of P.A.C. life to illustrate what a boy can do.

This year a boy came across a group in the midst of what we might call Operation Bullying. He said something like this to them, "I am not strong enough to clean you up but, unless you stop, I am going to tell the Rev., or whatever name the boys happened to be calling Mr. Waters at the time. He won't tell you who told him but you will know that I did". This boy did not shrink from his duty and did not fear what others would think of him. The boy was John Miles of VIB who was called to his rest two weeks ago after a short illness. Suffering always from a very weak heart, he yet entered very fully into the life of the School and thoroughly enjoyed it, never fretting over those things he had to miss. In previous years he had not won a School prize, but his name appears three times on this year's list. The Ward Library book that he had at home at the time of his death was "The Life of Christ" by Basil Matthews. We remember him with pride. P.A.C. and this land could ill afford to lose such a young man.

Would that we all will be as ready to meet our Maker as I am confident John Miles was when he was called home!

Parents and Friends Association

The annual meeting of the Association held in the Assembly Hall on Friday, 22nd March, was very well attended. The President, Dr. D. O. Crompton in his report told of a successful year. The usual grants had been made to the scout funds, and to the Preparatory School Mothers' Club, and the usual prizes had been provided. No larger project had been undertaken, and there was a recommendation to the incoming committee that the money available be used for kitchen and other such equipment in the new Assembly Hall.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. N. W. Bayly; Immediate Past President, Dr. D. O. Crompton; Vice-Presidents, Mr. E. C. Stephens and Mr. P. A. Dalwood; Hon.

Secretary, Mr. K. G. Tuckwell; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. E. C. Stephens; Members of the Committee, Mrs. C. F. Crompton, Mrs. H. Searle, Mrs. D. Gray, Mr. R. H. Buttery, Mr. K. Cooper, Mr. J. C. Freeman, Mrs. D. W. Trott, Mr. M. R. Wagner. Hon. Auditor, Mr. H. E. H. Mutton.

At the conclusion of the business portion of the meeting, the Headmaster spoke on various aspects of school life.

At the third term meeting in 1962, the Association was privileged to have as guest speakers Elizabeth Bagot, Cheryl McIntosh, and Mark Pickhaven, three students who had just returned from a year at schools in the U.S.A. as holders of American Field Service Scholarships.

Speech Day

For many years Speech Day has been held in the shade of the trees bordering the drive at the Capper Street entrance to the School. This year saw a change. Platform and seats were set up near the drive at the Pirie Street entrance because work was already afoot on the new Assembly Hall which will in the future make such arrangements unnecessary.

We were fortunate again, as we always have been, in the weather which was mild for the season, and the assembly of parents and friends was numerous.

After the School Chaplain had offered prayer, the President of the Conference, Rev. G. T. Inglis, B.A., B.D., spoke to the School and asked G. D. Williamson, Captain of the School, to read the Games Report for the year. The Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, M.A., M.Sc., presented his report on the year's activities.

It was a great pleasure for us all to have as guest of honour Mr. G. M. Potts, M.A., formerly the loved and honoured Second Master of the School. Mr. Potts, before distributing the prizes, spoke to the boys of what the School offers them, urging them to make the most of her gifts.

In his address to the boys Mr. Potts told them that the School had much to offer them in fostering their physical, mental, moral and spiritual development. Fabulous wealth awaited them on their voyage of discovery through the School, the riches of knowledge—quite as real as material wealth. He reminded them, too, that it was a sad thing when a man was mentally a giant but morally and spiritually a dwarf and, that though success would not come to all in any particular sphere every boy could and should see that he made an honest and persistent attempt to achieve it.

After the distribution of the prizes, Mr. D. L. Davies, President of the Old Collegians' Association, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Potts and the assembly ended with the Blessing.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

Mr. President, the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Mr. Potts, Ladies and Gentlemen,

On these occasions, my first duty is always a pleasant one. It is to welcome the guest of honour. With all apologies to you, my Lord Mayor, who, you will remember, were our honoured guest last year, I must say that the duty this year is even more pleasant than usual. This is because our guest is Mr. Gilbert Potts, M.A., a member of the P.A.C. staff for almost forty-three years, and for many of these years second master. For the few here who do not know him, I will say that Mr. Potts retired twelve months ago. We welcome you, Mr. Potts. We are delighted that you are looking so fit and well and so obviously enjoying your retirement, busy though I know you are.

I could tell you many stories of Mr. Potts. I shall content myself with one. Last year he had nine boys in his Leaving Latin class. When the results came out, there were 6 A, 2 B and 1 C passes. I wondered why I had ever accepted his resignation.

The number on the School Roll at the beginning of the school year was 882, three more than last year, and of these 160 were boarders. There were 626 boys in the big School and 256 in the Preparatory school. Examination results last year were of the usual good standard, with our best results for many years in 5 UC and 5 UD. As a result we have a larger number than usual of boys in the Leaving forms this year. Some of them have found leaving work very difficult and really need another year in a leaving form. In the Leaving Honours Examination G. H. Searle and R. B. McFeat gained places on the General Honours List and N. A. M. Paterson was awarded a Leaving Honours Bursary. The results from 5 UA and 6 A were again very good, with ninety-two and sixty-nine "A" passes, respectively.

New members joining the staff at the beginning of the year were Mr. W. R. Allen and Mr. R. H.

Prest in the big School and Mr. J. Wolstenholme and Mr. R. Hurn in the Preparatory School. Just after Speech Day last year Mr. Keeves tendered his resignation in order to take up a position with the Australian Council of Educational Research in Melbourne. He had given the School magnificent service as a senior science master, as master in charge of Scouts, and as a coach of football. We do thank him for all he did for his old school. Mr. J. H. Davenport was appointed to replace him and he took up his duties in April.

There are some changes in the staff for next year. Mr. H. E. H. Mutton is retiring from full-time teaching, but he has agreed to help us in a part-time capacity. It is thus not necessary for me at this stage to speak at length of his extraordinarily fine and faithful service to Prince Alfred College since he joined the staff in April 1919.

We congratulate our house master, Mr. D. H. Prest on his appointment as headmaster of Wolaroi College, a Methodist day and boarding school in Orange, New South Wales. We are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Prest for all they have done for this school, and we wish them happiness and success in their new work.

It has not been an easy year for the teaching staff. I do not remember a better year with regard to the attendance of boys and I do not remember a worse year in the case of masters. Both Mr. R. T. Smith and Mr. Steele had to undergo quite serious operations in the first term, and Mr. Duff has been so ill that he has not been with us for the last half of the year. I am glad to say that he is now well on his way to recovery. These absences and others for a shorter period threw a big load on the staff, and our thanks are due to them for the fact that the work of the School suffered the minimum of interruption.

Nor has it been an easy year in the Preparatory School. I would express my thanks to Mr. Houston and the other members of the teaching staff, to Sister Rowe and to Mrs. Pearce for the way in which they have shouldered the additional responsibility. We are indebted to Mrs. Smith who helped us in a part-time capacity during the last term.

There is also to be a change in the Librarian of the Ward Library. Mrs. Pearce is leaving us. For three years she has done an excellent job and has been a great help to both masters and boys.

I am happy to report that appointments have been made to cover all the vacant positions.

Once again I must pay tribute to the assistance I receive from the College Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters and the fine work that he does for the boys. Once again the help given by Rev. R. G. Davis, our part-time chaplain, has given Mr. Waters time to hold regular chapel services. The attention this year at some of the communion services and at some of the Student Christian Movement meetings was particularly gratifying.

Not so gratifying was the fact that, at both the mid-year and the end-of-year church services, Kent Town Church, though very crowded, was not packed out. There were not as many present at the end-of-year service as there were ten years ago when the number on our roll was smaller than it is now. A few boys and their parents had very good reasons for not attending. Too many boys and too many parents had no sound reason for not attending.

I have the impression that there were more boys than usual in the senior school who thought that all a P.A.C. boy had to do was to attend the School class from Monday to Friday. I have spoken of the Church services. The same was true of the school concert and of intercollegiate events. There were more applications than usual for permission for day boys to miss the cadet camp, and I could go on quoting further instances of this lack of interest. These boys must know that acceptance as a pupil at a school carries with it certain responsibilities, which a minority of our boys are not prepared to accept. In many cases the fault lies to a great extent with the parents, and for them the greatest guilt is that they are not doing their duty to their sons by seeing that they get the very best out of their years at school.

Last Speech Day I was able to announce that the College Council had instructed Mr. Colin Hassell to prepare plans for a new Assembly Hall. Tenders for the building closed last month, and the tender of Peak Construction Co., was accepted. Work on the site began immediately, and it is anticipated that the Hall will be opened in Old Boys Week at the end of July next year. The total cost will exceed £160,000.

At the time of the main appeal for Westminster School, the College Council promised that a new hall would be built within five years and that there would be no appeal to Old Boys and parents. This was done in order to assist those conducting the Westminster appeal, as many P.A.C. old boys when approached spoke of the great need of an adequate hall for their old school. Even though the cost is much greater than had been anticipated, the hall is still to be built without an appeal for contributions towards its cost. For years the inadequacy of our present hall has meant an overflow for morning assembly, and the life of the School has been a great deal the poorer on this account. In addition staff and boys have struggled nobly at school concerts, both Senior and Preparatory School, and at the same time parents have had to put up with a poor view of the stage and uncomfortable seating.

Next year the Speech Day functions will be held in the new hall.

During the year we were able to purchase two properties in Young Street. When we secured the one between the tennis courts and the scout house, we became the owner of all the houses in the Young Street-Pirie Street corner. The second property is on the other side of the tennis courts.

The housemaster's flat in the main building was renovated and redecorated in the Christmas vacation. Many minor improvements to both buildings and grounds have been carried out. I am sure the grounds have never been in better condition and the groundsman is to be congratulated on the work he is doing. The Parklands oval is now firmly established and the old boys' cricket and football clubs used it regularly this year for their first teams.

Two prizes will be awarded for the first time today. Mrs. Perry has endowed a prize in memory of the late Rev. C. J. Perry, our first full-time chaplain, who was always so proud of his old school. It will be awarded for all-round development in the final year at School.

A prize in memory of Dr. Donald M. Steele, who had such a remarkable record in all sides of school life has been endowed by his widow and his son, Dr. Ian Steele.

Don Steele was Captain of the School in 1911, the first year in which Prince Alfred College had a Captain of the School, and again in 1912. The prize, known as the Don Steele Memorial Prize will be awarded for character and service to the School.

The intercollegiate cricket match is being played this week. Two boys of our intercollegiate team of recent years have this week brought honour and distinction to themselves and their old School. P. L. Rogers was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship. He has had a remarkable academic record both at school and at the university. He is good at games, but what is more important, he possesses to a marked degree those qualities of character which Rhodes was seeking in his Rhodes Scholars. Manly but not sophisticated, and modest to a degree, he is an old boy of whom we are very proud.

With Rogers in the 1957 cricket team was I. M. Chappell who was its youngest player and who remained at school until 1960. He has shown on the Adelaide Oval this year the cricketing ability of which he showed promise in his school days.

The Captain of the School has given you the report on games. Time does not permit me to tell you of the other activities of the School. You will have to read of these in the School Chronicles. I shall mention only one and that briefly. One of the finest things in the year was the voluntary work done in the second term vacation. Groups of boys assisted with projects in Alice Springs, Crystal Brook and here in our missions in Adelaide. I hope that in succeeding years we shall be able to accomplish more in this direction.

In conclusion, may I express the thanks of the College and my personal thanks to all those, and their number is so great that I cannot mention them by name, who have in any way at all assisted us during the course of this year.

I wish you all the compliments of the season and our best wishes for the future are extended to those boys for whom this is their last day at School.

The New Assembly Hall

In our October 1962 issue it was recorded that tenders had been called for the construction of our new hall and an early start was hoped for. These hopes have now been realized. The tender of Peak Construction Co. Ltd. for £152,400 was accepted and the construction of the hall, designed by the College architect, Mr. Colin Hassell of Hassell and McConnell, is now well advanced. It is hoped that it will be completed by Old Boys' Week this year.

The new hall is being built in the area formerly bounded by Capper Street, the new classroom block, the sports pavilion and the Capper Street drive. This drive will in future be closed, the only access being for pedestrians.

It is intended that the present Assembly Hall will be used to provide more study and recreation space for the boarders.

The Late M. D. Close, B.A., Dip.Ed.

The School suffered a grievous loss in the death on 15th December, 1962, of Mr. Maynard Davidson Close, who had been for fourteen years Master-in-Charge of the Preparatory School. Mr. Close had been in ill-health for more than three years but had continued his work with great cheerfulness and courage whenever he was able. It is hard to imagine a more appropriate tribute to his life and influence than that which was spoken by the School Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters, B.A., at the funeral service held in Kent Town Church on 17th December:—

As we here pay tribute to the life of Maynard Davidson Close our love and sympathy go out to the members of his family, especially to Mrs. Close and the boys, and to his brother and sisters.

All of us in this church today have different memories: but there would be this in common . . . that we are thinking of one of the finest men we have ever known.

A man of humour and humility. You would hardly hear of his achievements from his own lips, except by humorous or even derogatory reference to his own capabilities; in sport, for example, as, say, a wicket keeper. Yet this was the man who during his years at P.A.C. played in three successive Intercollegiate cricket teams and two Intercollegiate football teams and who went on to obtain Blues for cricket and hockey at the University. Nor would you, except after long and trusted association, hear from him of his years as a prisoner of war or his previous service as a Lieutenant in the 2/24th Bn., A.I.F. He was a truly humble man with a wonderful sense of humour. And he hated humbug. His penetrating wit could puncture bubbles of self-importance or pretence as soon as they began to develop; yet not unkindly; for he was a sensitive man who entered very completely into the experiences of his fellow men.

He was twenty-two years of age, the eldest surviving son of the Reverend F. W. and Mrs. Close, when his own parents died. He accepted the responsibilities that this brought with characteristic resolution and no resentment at all. He never resented the claims made upon him by others for he was a most unselfish person. As recently as last week he was thinking about other people with love and consideration and made various notes of things that he wished to be done for them. It is hardly surprising that he brought out the best in everybody, and within his own family as well as in the School gained wonderful co-operation without undue noise or assertion of the will.

Nor is it surprising that he was a schoolmaster. Possessing the qualities outlined above, it could be said of him if it could be said of anybody, that he was a born schoolmaster. But he had another.

It was the gift of patience. He was a remarkably patient man. I shall never forget the way he would umpire and direct cricket for Grade IV boys out on the front oval, carefully counting the overs and the runs and according to those little boys all the care of a Sheffield Shield umpire, scorer and timekeeper.

They loved him, of course. They do. The hundreds of boys who have passed through his school and his boarding house. He treated them with dignity and they gained stature visibly in his presence. He was a great and unforgettable schoolmaster and Prince Alfred College was the school he lived for. A student from 1927 to 1931, he was then a teacher from 1932 to 1938. In 1939 he went to Scotch College, Melbourne, but enlistment terminated that appointment. Then in 1946, after repatriation, he returned to P.A.C. and from 1949 until now he has been Master-in-Charge of the Preparatory School. No words can properly record his contribution there.

During his long and painful illness his extraordinary patience has been very evident. Few, perhaps none of us, know what he endured. He didn't complain. Nor did he ever admit defeat. His patience, however, was never mere endurance. Rather it was that courage which is one of the fruits of faith—the faith which, in the shadow of suffering with all its dark mystery, can say, "I know that my Redeemer liveth".

That was his faith as the prayers that he selected or wrote for morning assemblies at school show. It, too, was never paraded. But it was real. And this was his church. Here he worshipped and served on the Trust.

I understand that hymn number 956 was one that he liked a lot:—

"Come, let us anew
Our journey pursue."

Certainly its sentiments were woven into the fabric of his life:—

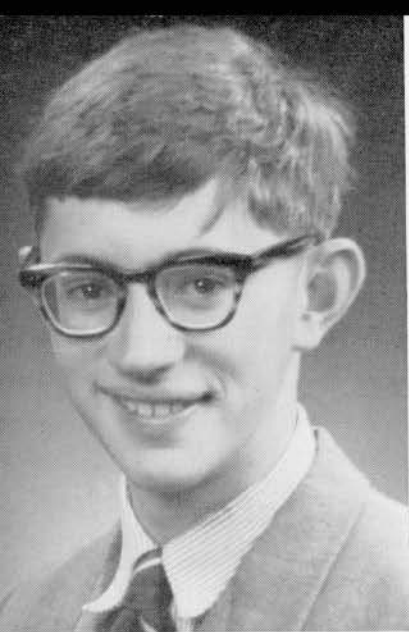

"His adorable will
Let us gladly fulfil;
And our talents improve
By the patience of hope and the labour of love.

"O that each in the day
Of his coming may say:
I have fought my way through,
I have finished the work Thou didst give me to do."

And can we doubt that the hope of the final stanza is also now realized?

"O that each from his Lord
May receive the glad word;
Well and faithfully done;
Enter into my joy and sit down on My throne."

JOHN MILES

OBITUARY

John Miles, who died on 3rd December, 1962, was completing his fourth year at P.A.C. It had been perhaps his best year at School and the Prize List shows that it was a year of achievement also. He was awarded three prizes—for Debating, for the Essay and for Scripture.

He became ill at the time of the Leaving Certificate Examination. Under considerable difficulty he sat for two subjects, passing in both. An operation to deal with an abscess on the brain was unsuccessful and John died. He was seventeen years of age.

Throughout his life John had been forced to limit his activities because of a heart condition, but it was easy to forget this because of his enthusiastic way of tackling everything that he was permitted to attempt. He was mature enough to be really aware of human problems and we shall always remember his zeal for justice and for God. To those who knew him best this memory will continue to be an abiding influence for good.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

This year the Student Christian Movement at Prince Alfred College is under the guidance of Mr. C. D. Mattingley. The members of the committee are: Heddle, R. J. (President); Beare, J. F.; Cleland, L. G.; Gardiner, R. R.; Hannaford, J. A. W.; Hunwick, R. E.; Nolan, F. P.; Norman, T. J.; Potter, J. E.; Parham, J. R.; Rowe, J. E. Searle, G. J.; Smith, M. E.; Smith, R. H.; Telfer, J. D.; Tylor, G. W.; Wilson, A. F.; Woolcock, R. A.; and Wright, G. D. Although this committee consists of senior boys who have had some experience, boys of all ages are welcome at Student Christian Movement meetings. The committee has decided that for the first and third terms most of our meetings will be addressed by guest speakers, while occasionally a meeting will take the form of a panel. During the second term, as in previous years, discussion groups will be held.

At the first meeting of the year, we were addressed by the Rev. Mr. Black, Travelling Secretary of the Student Christian Movement, who addressed us on the purpose of the Movement. At the second meeting, Mr. A. E. Smith, a Stipendiary Magistrate was the speaker. All who attended this meeting found his address most interesting and informative. The third meeting took the form of a masters' panel. We are indebted to Messrs. Bennett, Campbell, Nicolson, Prest and Whitworth, the members of this panel. Many more interesting meetings are planned, all of which should prove helpful and informative to those who attend.

Thanks are due to John Potter who, through the posters which he has made, has helped very much in bringing our meetings to the attention of the boys. Mr. Mattingley's guidance has been very valuable and to him the committee gives its thanks. The work of all who have assisted in making our meetings possible is much appreciated, and it is hoped that our meetings have strengthened the Christian character of the boys of the School and will continue to do so.

THE WARD LIBRARY

This year has begun well in the Ward Library, with the boys taking a pleasing interest. The four fourth forms who have regular library periods, have been instructed in the use of the library, and have been given short practical tests on using the catalogue and the reference books. I am very pleased to say that they showed themselves interested and willing to learn, and have since been using the library to their advantage.

It is pleasing to note that those boys who use the library are proving to be less careless with the books, and are reporting lost books, and paying fines very promptly.

With the total book stock now at 4,329 and the magazine titles numbering over 50, almost every interest can be catered for.

The most popular new books this year have been, "Forever Free", "Cricket Punch", "John H.

Glenn, Astronaut", "Young Cyclist", "Karate by Pictures", "Cricket at the Crossroads", and "Trevor Bailey's Cricket Book". The daily average loans are between 30 and 40, which is quite pleasing.

I would like to thank the boys who so willingly help at lunch times, and sometimes after school. Their help in issuing and distributing books is very much appreciated. Bill Barrows, who does the library printing so well deserves our thanks, too.

Thanks too, to Mr. Duff, who has been very helpful, and who takes such a keen interest in the library.

M. N. Sudholz

PRINCE ALFRED, DUKE OF EDINBURGH, 1844 - 1900

From time to time enquiries are made about the prince from whom the School takes its name. Many probably do not realize that it is his portrait which hangs in pride of place in the entrance hall of the main building together with historic documents connected with the laying of the foundation stone of the school.

The following details collated by Dr. Mervyn Evans from "Life International" may be of interest to readers.

Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, was the second of the four sons of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert. He married the Grand Duchess Alexandrovna of all the Russias who bore him four daughters and one son, Prince Alfred of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. This only son died unmarried at the age of twenty-five.

Since then there have been eighty-seven direct descendants of Prince Alfred, and of these seventy-one are still living.

House Notes

WATERHOUSE

For the past two years Waterhouse, under the leadership of Skinner in 1961 and Darley in 1962 have lost the house competition to Cotton by the narrow margins of one and five points, respectively. We congratulate Angel and members of Cotton House for winning last year's cup.

School work was once again our strongest activity during the third term of 1962. The debating team, under the steady guidance of Searle brought in further points by being runners-up in the house debating competition.

The senior cricket team continued the best sporting effort by Waterhouse for some years; after wins in swimming and basketball, they gathered valuable points by defeating School House in the final. It was mainly through the efforts of Rudd, Darley and Walker, all fighting half-centuries, that Princes won the intercollegiate cricket. Besides the above three, Woodcock, Leak and Gillespie were also Waterhouse representatives in the first eleven.

At the beginning of this year the following Waterhouse boys were elected as School prefects: Smith, Searle, Fuller, Caire, Rudd and Close. All these boys, along with Leak, Young, Hassell and Woodcock were elected to the committee. Congratulations to them all! The first real competition between the houses was the swimming sports; this year's effort was not combined enough although the following boys did well in individual events: Wilkens, Dunsford, Richardson, Finnegan, Rowe and Boer. There were no representatives from Waterhouse in the intercollegiate tennis this year; therefore, for house competition purposes it is apparent that we will have to rely on those cricketers and rowers who play purely social games.

Congratulations to Close and McKenzie on their selection for the first eight and to Choate (from across the Pacific), Richardson, Runge, and Dimond for their selection in the second eight.

This year there has been an increase in the number of standards gained by members of the house, but unfortunately it has been as a result of a good effort by the juniors and only a small number of the seniors. Several boys have been training well for the School Sports and we hope that those who failed to qualify for the finals will pull their weight through the house march.

Searle, Caire, Fuller and Young have all obtained the rank of Under Officer in the cadets. In the Scouting world we are well represented, numbering amongst us T.L.'s R. Smith and R. Close and P.L.'s Leak, Finnegan, D. Close, Dunstone and R. White.

Lastly we express our thanks to the two house masters, Messrs. H. E. Coombes and E. L. Glancey for their help and co-operation during the first part of this first term.

COTTON

Third Term, 1962

This year Cotton maintained its well-earned reputation by winning the House competition again.

We congratulate Dave Angel on the fine manner in which he captained the house, and also on his captaincy of the victorious School first XI, and the not-so-victorious house team in the senior house cricket. Congratulations also to Corbet and Webb, for their excellent effort in the intercollegiate match. Despite the fact that these three players were the only ones in the Cotton senior house cricket team from the first XI, the team made a fine effort in coming second to a very strong School House team.

The victory of the house was mainly due to the scholastic results, and Paterson must be congratulated for his excellent results not only at School but also in the Leaving Honours Examination.

The house wishes to thank Mr. Duff and Mr. Mutton for their continued assistance, and it is hoped that in 1963 Cotton House will again strive to uphold its well-earned reputation.

First Term, 1963

Committee: Messrs. Duff and Perkins (House-masters), and J. Trott (House Captain), J. Tilbrook, R. Carmichael, A. Burdett. The house wishes to welcome Mr. Perkins as the new house master with Mr. Duff, in place of Mr. Mutton who is now teaching part-time.

This year Cotton has six School prefects in its ranks and we congratulate Barrett, Carmichael, Crompton, Nichols, Talbot and Trott.

The first sporting fixture of the term was the swimming sports. Although Cotton came second, it put up an admirable display against a very strong Bayly House team.

Carmichael, Tilbrook, Johnston and Trott were included in the intercollegiate tennis team while Crompton and Nichols will row in the first eight in the Head-of-the-River Regatta. Perks, Carmichael, Tilbrook and Trott have been elected to the Sports Committee.

Included in the first eleven this year are Barrett, Hocking and Corbet. The house is promising to have one of its best years in athletics, since almost half of Mr. Connell's athletics squad is composed of Cotton House members. With a little more enthusiasm displayed in the house marching, Cotton should take the honours on Sports Day!

Cotton has an excellent chance in the senior house tennis shield contest this year, Carmichael, Tilbrook, Johnston and Trott being members of the intercollegiate side.

Under-Officer Craig is our only representative in cadets and we congratulate him.

This year Cotton House has had a fairly good start, and we can anticipate that, if each member does his best, then it will be a victorious one. Apart from sport, however, members are reminded that it is in school work that many house points are gained, and these will be needed if Cotton is to keep the House Shield which it won last year.

SCHOOL

Third Term, 1962

The final term last year ended on a somewhat disappointing note. The house came last in the junior and senior cricket contests, and likewise in the basketball, and as usual we failed to score in the school work competition. With all these defeats we were still able to come third in the House Competition.

At the end of the last year, Mr. David Prest resigned from the position of Housemaster, and we all wish him well for the future as Headmaster of Wolaroi College, Orange, New South Wales. We were also very sorry to say goodbye to Mr. Frank Hambly, who very ably served as a resident house master for the year.

First Term, 1963

We should all like to congratulate Mr. Rob Prest on his new appointment as House master. We should also like to welcome Mr. Geoff Jones and Mr. Peter Lewis who have been appointed resident house masters. David Wagner must be congratulated on his appointment as Captain of the School and Peter Reed on being made a School prefect. This year fourteen House Prefects have been appointed; they are: D. R. Wagner (Head of the House), P. Reed, J. Blake, R. Byrne, F. Chung, A. Eglinton, W. Hardy, I. Hill, P. Jones, R. Pflaum, J. Overton, L. Rayner and C. Siegert.

The school swimming sports were held on Friday, 8th March. School House with much enthusiasm, but lack of talent, once again retained the bottom rung. Max Venning did well to win in the Under 16, 110 yards freestyle, while others to gain placings in championship events were David Wagner, D. Edgerley and Jim Ashby.

This year the House has three representatives in the First VIII. They are David Wagner, Arthur Eglinton and Robert Byrne. John Tiver may also gain a place in this crew as cox. Chris Green was selected as a reserve in the intercollegiate tennis team—an unusual achievement as he is still only an Under 15.

This year it is going to be a hard task to retain the Athletics Cup. But we have great confidence in Bill Hardy, Colin Siegert, Ray Pflaum, Robin Day, Bill North and Rob Nicholls all doing well. We are also very proud of the way all members of the House are entering enthusiastically into the standards competition.

This year much is being done to supply the members of the House with entertainment on Saturday evenings. Pictures have been shown, and a sports evening arranged, which proved to be highly successful. A junior choir has also been formed this year, with the intention of this group singing regularly in the Kent Town Church.

The prospects in the boarding house appear brighter this year, but any hope of obtaining the House Shield, will largely depend on the individual effort of the lads in the school-work competition.

BAYLY

Third Term, 1962

Bayly House finished the year on a very disappointing note, coming last. However, this was mainly due to our lack of ability in House sporting events.

We came third in the house cricket competition, Compton being the only member of the first eleven side.

Our scholastic results, usually a strongpoint, were below the standard of previous years. The debating team gained first place by defeating Waterhouse.

First Term, 1963

This year Tasker was re-elected Captain of the House with Cleland, Pike and Nolan completing the committee. Congratulations to Tasker and Pike on their appointment as School prefects.

The swimming sports were again held at the Norwood Pool and Bayly was well represented by a large number of strong swimmers. In the Open, Viner-Smith swam magnificently to win the final of the butterfly, breastroke (record), freestyle (record) and figured in the Open relay which Bayly won in record time. S. Tregoning won the Under 16 backstroke final. Bayly then completed a treble by winning the Under 14 and Under 16 relays, both in record times. At the conclusion of the day, Bayly with sixty-one points were well ahead of the other houses.

In the intercollegiate tennis this year we had five members. Tasker was again elected Captain and Barton, Hunwick, Lowe and Miller (reserve) were the other players. With this representation Bayly should have an excellent chance of winning the senior house tennis shield.

Usually athletics is where Bayly House falls down badly. However, this year there have been more Sports Day entries and a pleasing number of standards gained by our boys. We hope that this improvement will be brought out on the results of the Sports Day.

Nolan (Captain of Boats) and Giles are to be congratulated on their selection in the first VIII.

This year Bayly House is strong in all aspects of School life, and with the enthusiasm of Messrs. Provis and Bennett behind us, we stand an excellent chance of regaining the house shield.

Club Activities

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

This year has opened very successfully for the Photography Club. At the first meeting, members elected the following committee: I. L. Caire, president; J. Walter, treasurer; and A. R. Gramp, B. D. Coombes, A. J. Hall, P. A. Sheedy, R. Wicks and K. C. MacCormac.

Mr. Fowler has succeeded Mr. Mutton as Master-in-charge. The members wish to express their gratitude and best wishes to Mr. Mutton and Mr. Fowler.

As usual, a very active programme has been planned by the committee for 1963. The club has already visited the Botanic Gardens, East Park Lands, the Zoo and the Thebarton Police Barracks. The Photography Club also intends visiting the Australia Hotel, a television studio, the University, a cool drink factory and the Amscol factory, to name just a few. Mr. West (from Kodak Ltd.) is continuing with his interesting lectures once every three weeks. It is also hoped that Mr. Brooks (from Laubman & Pank) and Mr. Mack (from John Mack Ltd.) will come and lecture on various aspects of photography. A competition associated with the club activities is already in progress.

The Photography Club now has a dark room, which means that members will be able to develop and print their own black-and-white photographs. The dark room is the heart of any true photography club.

All in all, the members are looking forward to a highly successful year. The club promises to prove itself, once again, a most interesting and most active hobby group.

GEOLOGY CLUB

This year the membership has increased to twelve, this makes excursions more difficult to arrange within the limited time available. We are at present engaged in re-arranging the rocks and minerals which became disordered in the change-over to the more spacious room which we now occupy.

Recently the club was presented with an outstanding collection of minerals from the Broken Hill district, and we are deeply indebted to Mr. E. G. Fordham for this gift. A small group within the club is engaged on classifying and naming these minerals.

CHEMISTRY GROUP

Under the guidance of Mr. Provis, boys from both the senior and junior sections of the School are engaged in experimental work during the hobbies period. Preparations will be carried out this term which are beyond the scope of the School chemistry courses.

STAMP CLUB

At the first meeting of the club on Friday, 22nd February, there were nineteen members present. With the help of Mr. Nicolson the club's officers were elected. A. A. Burdett and G. E. Taplin were elected presidents; J. G. Evans, secretary; D. L. Hopkins, treasurer and auctioneer, and the committee consisted of G. R. Lloyd, R. D. Wehr, and A. J. Woodcock.

Immediately the boys assumed their offices and the club got under way. The term's calendar for the club was discussed, and also a subscription of five shillings for the year was fixed.

The meetings so far this term have taken the forms of a general swapping period, a quiz on stamps, and also a very successful auction.

LIFE-SAVING CLUB

The Life-Saving Club is having a very successful season. Recently, the club gained seven instructors' certificates, two Bronze Crosses, several Bars to the Bronze Medallion, as well as forty-four Bronze Medallions, ninety-five Intermediate Stars, 110 Proficiency Certificates, 149 Elementary Certificates, and 163 Safe Swimmer Certificates. The total number of points to date is 2,249.

Mr. Campbell joined the Life-Saving Club this year, and more than held his own at his "initiation".

Four members of the L.S.C. recently won the U 14 Clauston Shield. They were: Freeman, Browne, Gray and Richardson. This is the first time P.A.C. has won this award, and we wish to congratulate them on their efforts.

Our thanks are due once again to Mr. Woollard and Mr. Brown.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club has become increasingly popular and two groups are organized, the more experienced players arranging games among themselves under the supervision of Mr. Jones, while the younger group are helped by Mr. Kurtz. A shortage of sets usually leads to others watching on and much helpful advice is probably passed on during a period by the best players. However, a tournament might be arranged later in the year.

TUMBLING CLUB

This year the tumbling group made a good start under the supervision of Mr. Gabb and Mr. Allen.

This year Mr. Allen and Mr. Gabb have started tests and each boy is graded according to his ability.

As there are not as many members as last year more things can be done. Judging by previous enthusiasm this year should be both interesting and helpful for members.

RADIO CLUB

1962 was a year of change for the Radio Club. At the beginning of the third term we were moved from our old quarters in the Physics Laboratory into an unoccupied house at the back of the Chemistry Laboratory. Most of this term was spent in carrying out certain repairs, and in moving equipment. Later in the term a receiver was presented to us, this arrival being most opportune, as our old receiver was long past retirement. It has since been sold to a member, and the money will be put to good use.

So far our amateur activity has been seriously hampered by lack of adequate facilities, but our moving has solved this. With a new receiver, and a powerful transmitter nearing completion, the members are looking forward to a fruitful year of "ham" activity.

The club has been divided into two distinct groups; one under the leadership of Mr. R. Jones, who is currently engaged in instructing his group in the theory of radio; and another group whose sole activity is that of busily pursuing contacts with our new receiver.

BAND GROUP

This year the Band Group has decreased in number because some members have gone to other hobby groups.

Very little actual playing of instruments has taken place; so the choir is not disturbed. Once again we thank Major Woollard for the help he has given us in obtaining instruments. Our thanks also to Mr. McFarlane who has been making sure we do not get out of hand!

CURRENT AFFAIRS DISCUSSION GROUP

The main aim of this group is to discuss some notable world events each week. This year it has been decided that each week the members of the group will select an item from the newspapers and be prepared to read this item to the group and introduce it as a subject for discussion. This method has proved successful in that the discussion arising from such an article covers a very wide range of world affairs.

At our third meeting this term we were very fortunate to have Mr. Mark Pickhaver, an Australian who went to America on a field scholarship, to address us on "An Australian student in America". The following week Dennis Choate, the American studying here under the same type of scholarship, told us something of the difference he has noticed between his school in America and P.A.C.

We are again fortunate to have Mr. Mattingley to lead our group and help us in our discussions.

CHOIR

The End-of-Year Service in the third term completed a very successful year for the choir. Under Mr. May's expert guidance we sang as Introit, "I sing of a maiden" (Waters), and as anthems "Magnificat" (Dyson) and "Good Christian Men Rejoice" (Bullock).

This year there is quite a strong choir in all sections, and we eagerly look forward to its part in the Mid-Year Service and School Concert.

ART CLUB

At the conclusion of the third term of 1962 the Art Club looked back on a year of interesting excursions and concentrated painting. Our excursions for the year included trips to Bennet Potteries, the National Gallery, an exhibition of modern pottery, and the displays of the Adelaide Festival of Arts. For most of the year, however, we spent our time painting a mural depicting school life and activities. The paint which we used was that which we had made ourselves and it looks very much like a mixture of water-colour and oil paints.

This year we have already made one trip to the National Gallery to see the Australian section which was on show for Her Majesty the Queen. Late in March we were given permission by the Headmaster to use three of the rooms in one of the cottages facing Capper Street. Our immediate job was to begin cleaning and painting the rooms and to effect any repairs that proved necessary. With this completed, we have started two new sections, the Graphic Art and pottery sections.

Our future plans for the year are to show some interesting films of art borrowed from the French and Italian Embassies and to hold an exhibition of our paintings later in the year. With limited financial means we are confronted with huge problems; if any Old Boys of the School are in a position to help us in any way at all the Art Club would appreciate it very much.

SENIOR DEBATING CLUB*Third Term, 1962 — House Debates

The first of the house debates was held early in October—School disagreeing with Waterhouse, "That maniacs, lunatics and other unfits should be sterilized in the interest of the community". The debate was awarded to Waterhouse.

The second house debate was held a fortnight later, the subject being: "That cynicism is justified". The leading cynics of Cotton were opposed by Bayly House. The latter house won the debate by the very close margin of one point.

The final round took place later in the term. Bayly debated very well to defeat Waterhouse and thus win the series. Their subject was "There is no fool like an old fool".

School took the third place from Cotton by winning their argument on the subject, "We are not amused".

First Term, 1963

On the first meeting of the term the committee was elected as follows: President, Mr. Searle; Vice-President, Mr. Nicholls; Organizing Secretary, Mr. Potter; Minutes Secretary, Mr. Crompton; Committee Man, Mr. Cleland.

As usual the School's budding prodigies have gathered together to form this club and they never fail to provide an enjoyable Friday afternoon session. Perhaps the most successful meeting to date has been the "Hot Seat", in which various members were questioned by the house. The question, "To what do you attribute your maturity?" produced some startling revelations.

WORKSHOP GROUP

Under the leadership of Mr. Smith and Mr. Perkins this group has continued to do valuable work for the Physics Laboratory by making and repairing apparatus and equipment.

Some of the work completed or nearing completion this term includes sets of apparatus for demonstrating Boyle's Law, the expansion of gases at constant pressure, the conservation of momentum, the conservation of angular momentum, pendulum supports, an induction coil, two low voltage, A.C. and D.C., power units, and a device for measuring the acceleration due to gravity.

It is hoped that the group will soon be able to move into new quarters in one of the cottages facing Capper Street.

SCOUTS

With so much re-organization and reconstruction of our Scout House (Hazeldene) following the acquisition of the new hut, we have been having a very busy time.

Pathways have been relaid, much attention paid to the lawns, and soon new gates will be put into place. The library has been completely recatalogued and many new books purchased, tents, ropes, gear and maps have been sorted, repaired and stowed in good order. These are but a few of the many vital tasks this group of twelve hard-working Scouts are doing every Friday during hobbies period.

MODEL RAILWAY CLUB

This club is new this year and members have spent each session discussing the detailed planning that is necessary before construction can take place. Under Mr. Davenport's leadership, we have started to clean out one of the cottages near the Chemistry Laboratory, a job which had to be done as the rooms intended for use were in a very dirty condition. Initial progress is limited to some extent by cost of materials, and any friends who have unwanted equipment, particularly rails, that they would care to donate are asked to contact us as early as possible. Such donations would be received with enthusiasm.

WOODWORK CLUB

This year there has been a noticeable increase in the number of members and with the welcome assistance given by Mr. Welby, the members have made steady progress constructing their projects.

Coffee tables, once again, appear to be the popular choice of many members. Other projects include two surf boards, one table tennis table, several desks, a nest-of-tables, a cupboard and a wood gauge.

MODEL AIRCRAFT CLUB

This group, supervised by Mr. Claver and Mr. Nicolson, has once again proved very popular, mainly amongst the first and second-year forms. A total of fifty-four members has been recorded, which is eleven more than last year's final total. This has presented a large problem; and, as yet, no classroom has been allocated for the group. After glancing through the membership list, I am assured that our members will build many fine models, (notably from boarders), which will no doubt make the year an outstanding success.

Scout Notes

Group Scoutmaster: Mr. E. S. Whitworth.

Scout Leader (2nd P.A.C.): Mr. M. N. Gray.

Scouter, General Service: Mr. J. Davenport.

1st P.A.C.: T.L., R. Close; P.L.s, P. Gerrard, R. Monkton, J. Nicholls, R. White, J. Wilson, D. Worthley.

2nd P.A.C.: T.L., M. Smith; P.L.s, D. Close, C. Harvey, A. Dibden, S. Dunstone, D. Johnston, I. Shaw.

3rd P.A.C.: T.L., R. Smith; P.L.s, A. Binns, D. Finnegan, R. Hocking, R. Hunwick, R. Jarrett, J. Leak.

Assistant Scoutmasters: P. Whitham, J. Williams.

Scouter, General Service: J. Hudson, A. Jeffery, P. Chapman, P. Shaughnessy.

Cadet Scouters: R. Blake, O. Crompton, W. Rice-man, D. Trim, J. Willoughby.

We ended the third term 1962 in the words of the Gang Show song, "On the Crest of a Wave": for yet another successful year of scouting at Princes was brought to a most happy end. Looking back in retrospect we do feel that much was achieved and there was a good scouting spirit in all three troops. The following outstanding items come to mind:—

Hazeldene—We are grateful to the Headmaster for the new hut now safely in position. When completed it will provide the extra accommodation for meetings and storage we require.

Equipment—This has had heavy use over many years and its gradual overhaul and replacement has been going on steadily. The acquisition of two new patrol tents through the generosity of the Parents Association and the gift of another small one by the "Old Scouts" has greatly helped this position. We are grateful to Mr. Davenport for undertaking this valuable work.

Scout Party—Thank you to all those who helped once again to make this annual event a very happy evening. The ladies under the guidance of Mrs. Trim and Mrs. Kerr; the band following the inspired lead of Ian Watson; and the preparation work by the P.L.s all combined to give everyone an unforgettable party.

Jumble Sale—Despite the rivalry from two other sales held simultaneously near at hand, our ladies once again did a really magnificent job and raised about £145 towards our funds. Thank you Mrs. Chapman and your loyal band of helpers.

Parents Association—Under the chairmanship of Mr. A. E. Smith and with Mr. W. G. Chapman as secretary and a very strong committee, the work has gone ahead well this year. Camp sites have been inspected, new ones investigated, funds have been raised, work has been done at Hazeldene and we are very grateful to them all for this invaluable support.

Old Scouts—The high quality of scouting in our group is largely due to the continued willing help given by many who learned their scouting at Princes. To them we express our thanks and particularly mention Peter Whitham and Malcolm Elliott. The latter will soon be on his way to England with our best wishes for many happy days.

1st P.A.C.

The enthusiasm of all the members, so evident in the earlier part of the year, continued right up to the closing parade of the last term. Keen competition for the Abotomey Cup was maintained by several new ideas for meetings, one of which was a visit to the sea, finishing with a swim and games on the beach. Another highlight was the Field Day held on Monday, 10th December, in the last week of school. The Patrols left Hazeldene and cycled to Outer Harbour by way of Montefiore Hill and the Torrens Road, passing through many control posts on the way. A series of stunts involving swimming, tracking, life saving and a questionnaire on rules of the road ended in success for the Rosella Patrol.

The Abotomey Cup for 1962 was finally won by the Kangaroo Patrol (P.L. R. Jarrett) closely followed by the Rosellas. Our thanks and appreciation go to Mr. Whitworth for his great help and encouragement throughout the year. We look forward to another great year of scouting.

2nd P.A.C. (Sea Scouts)

This year we again have six patrols under good P.L.s. The meetings got off to a good start: they alternate between regular meetings in gymnasium and boat repair work, the mending of tents and equipment for May camp and work at Hazeldene.

The weather also has been good and sailing was held for the first eight weeks of the term at Outer Harbour. This meant that most recruits and Sea Scouts have had a time afloat. All the "Yachting Worlds" have been in use again and at regular intervals during the season have been brought up from the harbour and reconditioned, work proceeding feverishly to bring them up to top racing pitch. At the beginning of the year a new fibreglass patrol boat was donated and the rig from "Sea Prince" used in this. On the one trial the boat proved to be of sturdy construction and swift, its handling being predictable and sure.

Badges have been keenly sought after and all recruits earning their Tenderfoot quickly. It is also very pleasing to see that quite a few Sea Scouts have been on their First Class hike and others are planning to do so soon. More senior members of the troop are well on their way towards their Queen's Scout badge.

Goolwa is hoped to be the venue for the May camp and with the number of boats available, we hope the weather will be kind enough to permit plenty of instruction in the technique of sailing for us all.

We hope that the year's Sea Scouting, aided by G.S.M. Mr. Whitworth and the S.M. Mr. Gray will be the most successful yet.

M. E. Smith, T.L.

3rd P.A.C.

As reported elsewhere in these notes, another highly successful party was held which was very enjoyable and well run. We join our thanks to those of others to all parents who helped in any way, and to the band and M.C.

Throughout the third term again the emphasis has been on service for others, and after visiting many branches of the Kindergarten Union where "good turns" were done, the troop visited the Kate Cocks Memorial Babies' Home where much good work was done in the gardens, lawns and pathways. In addition we were able to see some of the splendid work this home is doing.

Throughout 1962 the spirit amongst the boys was greater than it had been for several years and this was due, in no mean fashion, to the efforts of the Group Scoutmaster (Mr. Whitworth), the Troop Leader (D. Trim), and the Patrol Leaders (O. Crompton, D. Gray, R. Evins, W. Inglis, W. Richardson, W. Riceman). It is pleasing to see that they, and others who left last year, are retaining that spirit by having regular meetings of old scouts.

We started this year with a very full troop of thirty-seven and one Cadet Scouter (O. Crompton) and, as usual, the first portion of the term has been mainly used in preparation for Easter camp. Wednesday mornings at Hazeldene have seen everybody, under the guidance of Mr. Davenport, doing many jobs: mending tents, renewing the poles, checking cooking utensils, ropes and gear. We are very grateful to him for his help in this and other aspects of scouting.

Other patrols have been on general maintenance and tidying up at Scout House and thanks mainly to Rob Hunwick and "Fred" Binns, and Richard Krantz and Terance Finnegan, both of the 1st P.A.C., the lawn looks fine, and there is a decent path leading right down to the back oval.

Wednesday mornings in the gymnasium have been in the form of First Aid courses for Second and First Class and Ambulance Badge. W.O. Draper of the Army lectured and demonstrated many aspects of dealing with accidents, including stretcher drill.

Finally we must mention that three members of the troop, J. Tuckwell, P. Cooper, and D. Finnegan, covered themselves with glory in swimming to second place in the Eastern Districts Swimming Carnival. It was a most exciting race just won by the "Saints" team by half a length.

R. Smith, T.L.

Cadets

Third Term, 1962

The 1962 cadet year was brought to its conclusion with the annual ceremonial parade. Thanks to much practice and perseverance, all phases of the parade came off excellently. The inspecting officer, Colonel R. A. Blackburn, seemed very pleased with the parade, as we were ourselves.

U/O Fuller was presented with the sword for the most efficient under-officer during the year. The award for the most efficient cadet went to Sgt. Searle.

First Term, 1963

This year began with the usual January instruction courses at Woodside. The results of P.A.C. cadets were of a high standard. In the Under-Officers' Course, all boys from P.A.C. passed, Sgt. Searle coming second and Sgt. Baynes third. A Warrant-Officers' Course was held for the first time, and the results were very pleasing. Sgt. Huntley came second, while Cpls. Nicholls and Miller were both over seventy per cent. In the Senior N.C.O. Course Brookman was third, and in the Signals/Intelligence Course Wright came top.

When school training began again, boys found that there was a different method of allocation of platoons. This year there are only eight platoons, with four in each company. Another change to be made was in respect to a basic rifle-drill movement. The slope arms has been done away with: it has been replaced by the shoulder arms.

Much valuable training having already been done at school, we are now looking forward to the annual May camps. This year the third-year cadets are going to an adventure training area on the Glenelg River in the South-East. The second-year platoons are going to spend three days at Woodside, two at Kuitpo and two in the area around Murray Bridge. The first-years will have a week's training in elementary fieldcraft at Woodside. With this great variety of training, all camps should be very worthwhile and enjoyable.

Swimming Sports

A welcome return was made last year to swimming sports after an interval of thirteen years. Judging by the numbers involved and the spirited competition in this year's sports, held on 8th March, the revival was agreeable to all.

Once again the sports were a great success, owing to the efficient organization by Mr. Woollard, good weather, and enthusiastic competitors and supporters.

With the re-introduction of the swimming, the School has now a variety of sports, in one of which, at least, most boys should find a place.

Bayly House were first in house competition with 61 points, followed by Cotton with 39, Waterhouse with 24, and School who gained 20 points.

The Under 14 House Relay was won by Bayly House in the record time of 2 minutes 31.6 seconds. Cotton was second and Waterhouse third. Bayly also won the Under 16 again in record time: 2 minutes 25.7 seconds, with Cotton second and School third. In the Open, Bayly won in 2 minutes 27.0 seconds which was a record: Cotton again came second and Waterhouse third.

Thanks must go again to Mr. Woollard and all concerned in organizing and running the sports so efficiently.

Results

(All times are new records)

Under 13 55 yards Freestyle—

1, Finnie, J.; 2, Smith, T.; 3, Overton. Time: 36.5 seconds.

Under 14 55 yards Freestyle—

1, Freeman; 2, Gray; 3 Richardson, B. Time: 35.3 seconds.

Under 14 55 yards Breast-stroke—

1, Hale; 2, Hancock, R.; 3 Richardson, B. Time: 48.5 seconds.

Under 15 55 yards Freestyle—

1, Boer; 2, Warhurst; 3, Marshall. Time: 35.4 seconds.

Under 16 110 yards Freestyle—

1, Venning, M.; 2, Edgerley; 3, Dibden, A. Time 82.0 seconds.

Under 16 55 yards Backstroke—

1, Tregoning, S.; 2, Harvey, C.; 3, Marsh. Time: 42.0 seconds.

Open 110 yards Freestyle—

Open—1, Bayly; 2, School; 3, Waterhouse. Time: 2 minutes, 27.0 seconds.

Prefects' Palaver

This year sixteen school prefects have been appointed. These sixteen are well represented in all fields of school activities. Bill Tasker is captain of the tennis for the second year and he is very ably supported by Rob Carmichael and Jim Trott. Ian Rudd is captain of the First Eleven and Peter Barrett and Gary Searle are his associates. Geoff Pike is the captain of the Seconds Cricket and Roger Smith is his team-mate. This year the prefects are well represented in the First Eight with Owen Crompton as stroke, David Close in the bow, and Richard Nicholls and David Wagner constituting the "power-house" of the boat. Ian Caire and Peter Fuller are both Under-Officers in the cadets, and Peter Reed is still serving faithfully as a private in the New Army. Finally, Graham Talbot is a representative on the Science Journal Committee.

From sixteen this year, the one with the most Is Wagner the rower (with Crompton, Nicholls and Close).

He also plays football, and helps those in need,
As does his mate—that fine prefect called Reed.
The cricketers five deserve special notes,
Being Rudd, Barrett, Pike, Smith and Searle—the goats.

Having thought of sport (and Graham with the eagle eye),

And forgotten many accomplishments with a sigh,
We look to the drivers—Bert, Jim and I.

To see us while driving there's nothing finer,
And Talbot's renowned for his screaming, white Minor.

Much more could we say if your ear you would lend.

But we fear you will not, so it's come to an end.

Rural Youth

The Rural Youth Club of 1963 got off to a good start with thirty-one new members. The Committee this year consists of Lewis Rayner (President), Bill Hardy (Vice-President), John Overton (Treasurer), John Blake (Secretary) and news reporter, Ian Hill. Mr. Lewis (President of Adelaide Rural Youth Club) offered his services to the club and was welcomed. His help, together with that of Rev. R. K. Waters will be much appreciated. The Club has a credit balance of 8/6.

The Club this term has had a slides evening with slides from Solly and Chung and an evening of impromptu speeches. Later this term the Club will be taken by Mr. Lewis to see apple-packing in the Adelaide Hills. Future plans are, socials with sister clubs, a visit to the Caterpillar factory, a visit to Channel 2 and talks from visiting speakers.

It is hoped that the Club will continue the year as successfully as it has started it.

Tennis

The annual Intercollegiate Tennis Match was played at the Memorial Drive courts on Saturday, 30th March, under windy conditions, after rain had fallen early in the morning. The teams were (in singles order):—

P.A.C.—W. Tasker (captain), J. Tilbrook, R. Carmichael, J. Barton, R. Hunwick, D. Johnston, J. Trott, R. Lowe, J. Miller (res.), C. Green (res.).

S.P.S.C.—P. Wesley-Smith (captain), R. Harris, P. Newland, G. Muecke, D. Kerr, J. Fisher, K. Wallis, R. Muecke, G. Lawrence (res.), W. Kerr (res.).

As in the previous year the team consisted of eight players and two reserves, each player playing two doubles and one single.

Play began at 10.15 a.m. with the first round of doubles. Our first double, Tasker and Carmichael, won our first rubber, 6—5, 6—5, after a keen struggle with Saints' second pair, Muecke, G., and Kerr. Our second pair, Tilbrook and Barton, however, found their opposition too good and were downed 6—3, 2—6, 4—6 by Saints' first pair, Wesley-Smith and Harris. Hunwick and Trott played well to beat Saints' fourth pair, Wallis and Muecke, 6—2, 6—3. Our fourth pair, Johnston and Lowe, after playing some fine tennis in the first two sets, went down to Saints' third pair. Newland and Fisher, 6—4, 5—6, 0—6. Thus at the end of the first round the scores were:

P.A.C.: 2 rubbers, 6 sets; S.P.S.C.: 2 rubbers, 4 sets.

In the second round, the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh singles were played. This round proved very successful for Saints as they won all four rubbers. Barton, after a very thrilling second set, in which he was 5—2 down and picked up to 5 all, went down to G. Muecke, 4—6, 5—6. Hunwick found Kerr too strong and lost 1—6, 2—6. Fisher was too steady for Johnston, and our sixth player went down, 3—6, 2—6. In the other single Trott lost to Wallis, 4—6, 2—6. Thus the scores at lunch were:

P.A.C.: 2 rubbers, 6 sets; S.P.S.C.: 6 rubbers, 12 sets.

At 1.45 p.m. the players returned to contest another round. Our first pair, Tasker and Carmichael, found Wesley-Smith and Harris very powerful opponents and lost 1—6, 3—6. Tilbrook and Barton put up a great fight against G. Muecke and Kerr, but the Saints' pair won, the score being 1—6, 6—4, 4—6. The eighth singles was played and Lowe, still under sixteen years of age, played quite well against R. Muecke, taking him to three sets. Muecke finally won 4—6, 6—5, 3—6. At the end of round three, Saints had established a very good lead.

P.A.C.: 2 rubbers, 8 sets; S.P.S.C.: 9 rubbers, 18 sets.

In round four Princes looked set to make a comeback. Tasker played brilliantly to defeat Wesley-Smith 6—5, 6—3, and Carmichael, after a shaky start defeated Newland 6—5, 6—1. All eyes now turned to the first court where Tilbrook was playing Harris. This proved to be a marathon set, the Saints' boy finally winning it. Tilbrook played very well in the third set but went down 6—5, 1—6, 4—6. Scores at this stage were:

P.A.C.: 4 rubbers, 13 sets; S.P.S.C.: 10 rubbers, 20 sets.

The final round saw Saints increase their lead even more. Hunwick and Trott were defeated by Newland and Fisher, 2—6, 6—2, 4—6, after a very close struggle, and Johnston and Lowe, in one of the most hard-fought rubbers of the day, went down to Wallis and R. Muecke, 5—6, 6—5, 4—6.

Final scores were:—

P.A.C.: 4 rubbers, 15 sets; S.P.S.C.: 12 rubbers, 24 sets.

The team would like to thank Mr. Gabb, for the many long hours he has spent coaching us. We should also like to thank Mr. Woollard, who gave up his time each Wednesday to develop our physical fitness.

Tasker-Carmichael defeated G. Muecke-Kerr, 6-5, 6-5.

Tilbrook-Barton lost to Wesley-Smith - Harris, 6-3, 2-6, 4-6.

Hunwick-Trott defeated Wallis-R. Muecke, 6-2, 6-3.

Johnston-Lowe lost to Newland-Fisher, 6-4, 5-6, 0-6.

Barton lost to G. Muecke, 4-6, 5-6.

Hunwick lost to Kerr, 1-6, 2-6.

Johnston lost to Fisher, 3-6, 2-6.

Trott lost to Wallis, 4-6, 2-6.

Tasker-Carmichael lost to Wesley-Smith - Harris, 1-6, 3-6.

Tilbrook-Barton lost to G. Muecke-Kerr, 1-6, 6-4, 4-6.

Lowe lost to R. Muecke, 4-6, 6-5, 3-6.

Tasker defeated Wesley-Smith, 6-5, 6-3.

Tilbrook lost to Harris, 6-5, 1-6, 4-6.

Carmichael defeated Newland, 6-5, 6-1.

Hunwick-Trott lost to Newland-Fisher, 2-6, 6-2, 4-6.

Johnston-Lowe lost to Wallis-R. Muecke, 5-6, 6-5, 4-6.

First Term, 1963

The team started the term with several losses, being unlucky in some of them. The first match was against King's College, when we lost 6 sets to 3. Then against Norwood High we lost 9 sets to nil, but were unlucky losing four sets, all 9 games to 8. Next match was against Marion High when we were defeated 6 sets to 3. Pulteney Grammar were our next opponents, we lost 6 sets to 3 with some 9-8 sets again. Then we played Unley High and won our first match. This was a creditable win as Unley had not lost many matches. We seemed to have reached our peak when we played Adelaide Boys High the week before the Intercollegiate. We won 8 sets to 1. Unfortunately we found Saints too good on the day in the Intercollegiate match.

The team would like to thank Mr. Gabb for his untiring assistance and for giving up his own time to help us. We would also like to thank Mr. Woollard for his work in making us fit. It was not lack of fitness or help from these two which made us lose the Intercollegiate match.

SECONDS

The team was successful in winning four matches out of the five matches played.

Our most successful match was that against Scotch in which we won 16 sets to nil. The closest match was that against Pulteney, whom we had previously beaten 15 sets to 1 but this time we lost 6 sets to 3.

The members of the team would like to thank Mr. Gabb and Mr. Woollard for their helpful advice and their interest in the team.

Under 16 "A"

This year the team has been quite successful. In the first match, we defeated Scotch Under 16 "A" team 9 sets to nil. This was followed by wins over Pulteney's Seconds, 9 sets to nil, and Westminster, 9 sets to nil. Owing to a weakening in our team and a strengthening in Westminster's, in another match, we were defeated 9 sets to nil.

We thank Mr. Gabb and Mr. Fowler for their interest in the team.

Under 14 "A"

During the third term of 1962 we won every match, but this term we have won only two matches, losing one, and having two byes. We were defeated by Kings 6 sets to 3 and we defeated Scotch 7 sets to 2, and Pulteney 8 sets to 1.

The best players for the season were Craven, Stephens, and Barrie. The team would like to thank Mr. Dennis and Mr. Gabb for their interest and help in coaching us this term.

Under 14 "B"

Continuing from last year the Under 14 "B" still have not tasted defeat. Playing against Pulteney Grammar School, King's College, Scotch College they have won easily in all cases.

The best players for the year were Schmidt, Manning, Thatcher and Fleet. Fleet played one match in the "A"s, but was defeated 5-6. However, he played well.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Mr. Dennis and Mr. Gabb for their help and assistance.

Under 13 "A" and "B"

The Under 13 "A" and "B" teams have been very successful this term losing only one match so far. There have been no outstanding performances, but all boys have played well and have earned their places in the teams. The schools played so far have been Scotch College and Pulteney. The next week the "A" team had a bye and played Westminster, defeating them, while the "B" team played S.P.S.C. and lost. Drawing another bye, the "A" team could not play, but the "B" team went on to have another victory over Scotch College.

The team would like to thank Mr. Glancey for his assistance and useful advice throughout the season.

Rowing

The Rowing Camp

The annual rowing "camp" this year was divided into a senior and junior "camp". The senior rowers held their week of rowing on the Port River, while the juniors held theirs on the Torrens.

For the first time since 1956 the senior oarsmen were able to train in more suitable conditions than the Torrens. Unfortunately accommodation could not be found near the Port River and the boys had to travel to and fro each day.

The great advantage of a river such as the Port is that long, uninterrupted rows are possible, whereas the Torrens is limited to a maximum of one mile. This meant that the sixteen boys who rowed on the Port, gained much valuable experience. Mr. Duff is to be thanked for his great help in organizing and coaching the boys at the Port.

In spite of the limited distance for rowing on the Torrens, much useful experience was gained by junior crews. All showed keen interest and trained hard in the hope of securing a position in one of the school crews.

Mr. Howard, who spends much of his time helping to keep boats in running order, must be thanked for his much appreciated services at the rowing camp.

Both junior and senior rowers owe a great deal to Mr. Mattingley for his untiring efforts, on both the Torrens and Port, during the rowing camp.

First Term, 1963

Since the commencement of term all boys have been training hard in an effort to be selected for a Head-of-the-River crew. These crews have now been selected.

First VIII

The First VIII this year was fortunate in being able to train during the rowing "camp". This meant that the crew could knuckle down to solid training from the first week of term. They continued this training on the Port River every Saturday morning, made possible by the loan of the University trailer and speedboat. These long, valuable rows have helped them swing together as a crew.

Unfortunately the crew has suffered a few minor setbacks. A number of days were missed due to sickness, while training was again set back when they were forced to row in a borrowed boat. But once again they are training hard in their own boat.

The First VIII is: (bow) D. M. Close, (2) A. G. Eglinton, (3) W. A. Giles, (4) D. R. Wagner,

(5) R. C. Nicholls, (6) F. P. Nolan, (7) R. J. Byrne, (stroke) O. Crompton, (cox) P. J. Mackenzie.

Once again the Eight has had the experienced coaching of Mr. C. D. Mattingley.

Second VIII

The Second VIII was chosen soon after the beginning of term and is proving to be a very strong crew. They have gained valuable experience by training on the Port River every Saturday.

Unfortunately training was marred for a week because of a broken bow on the G. M. Potts. This being repaired their training is once again in full swing.

The Second VIII is: (bow) V. R. Purcell, (2) A. S. Trott, (3) R. G. Dimond, (4) D. S. Choate, (5) P. F. Runge, (6) B. J. Richardson, (7) D. C. Cook, (stroke) J. L. Crompton, (cox) J. D. Tiver.

The Second VII is coached by both Mr. R. G. Morgan and Dr. P. A. Humble.

Open IV

After the initial difficulty of sitting this narrow but fast boat up, the crew began training well. They have spent time keeping the boat in good repair and their efforts are a credit to them.

The Open IV crew is: (bow) T. B. Hill, (2) J. M. Adamson, (3) P. S. Lovell, (stroke) F. Y. S. Chung, (cox) P. G. Lynch.

The crew is coached by Mr. T. L. Binder.

Under 16 IV

This crew displays desirable enthusiasm and is showing great promise.

The crew is: (bow) D. W. Edgerley, (2) I. L. Grund, (3) R. B. Cooper, (stroke) E. H. Martin, (cox) R. Hounslow.

Mr. L. R. Cox is coaching the crew.

Under 15 IV

These oarsmen are training well and are keen for victory.

The Under 15 crew is: (bow) B. P. Wheatley, (2) J. C. Ranger, (3) G. R. Browne, (stroke) J. P. Woodruff, (cox) C. J. Bowman.

The crew is coached by Mr. N. C. Howard.

In addition there is an Under 16 "B" and an Under 15 "B" crew, who will row in regattas prior to the Head-of-the-River.

During past years P.A.C. crews have always pulled their weight, and we hope that this year's Head-of-the-River will be crowned by victory for some crews.

THE S.A. RHODES SCHOLAR FOR 1963

The School was delighted to learn that Peter Lindsay Rogers had been awarded South Australia's Rhodes Scholarship for 1963. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rogers of Keys Road, Lower Mitcham, and is the fourteenth Old Red to win the scholarship. His father is also an Old Boy of the School who left in December 1927.

Mr. Rogers entered P.A.C. in 1953 from the Mitcham Primary School, and in his five years with us won many prizes and awards. He had six credits in the Intermediate examination, being awarded an Intermediate Exhibition and the John Lewis Medal and Prize for the first place in the State in geography, five credits in the Leaving examination, being placed seventh in the Leaving Bursary list, and two credits in the Leaving Honours examination in which he was placed tenth on the General Honours list.

His academic record at the University is equally distinguished. He has just completed the Honours Degree of Bachelor of Engineering in metallurgical and chemical engineering with first class honours, after gaining either distinctions or credits in nearly all his subjects, despite a serious illness midway through his course.

The honours Mr. Rogers gained at school and university were not all academic. In his final year at school he was awarded the Keith Swann medal for the best all-round boy in the school. He was an opening bat for the intercollegiate eleven, is remembered as an excellent close-in fieldsman and was a very useful full forward in an exceptionally strong football team. He was a sergeant in the cadets, and was an active member of the committees of the Student Christian Movement, the Library, the Chronicle and the Science Journal. With such a record, he was an obvious choice as a prefect and he carried out these duties well.

At the University he continued many of these interests; he was a member of the Students' Representative Council and played for the University amateur league A1 side in football and for the B grade team in cricket.

Mr. Rogers is a Sunday-school teacher and an active member of the Westbourne Park Methodist Church. The Christmas issue of "The South Australian Methodist" had this to say about him:

"We invited Mr. Rogers to talk with us about the influences which had helped him to remain a committed Christian during his years of study at the University.

"He listed several identifiable influences which had affected his outlook in recent years. One was his home. Another was a serious illness midway through his course which forced him to think about his faith.

"The church at Westbourne Park had in a number of ways proved an important influence. The holding of an office within the church (e.g., Sunday-school Secretary) can often enable a student to maintain contact with a church despite the presence of intellectual difficulties.

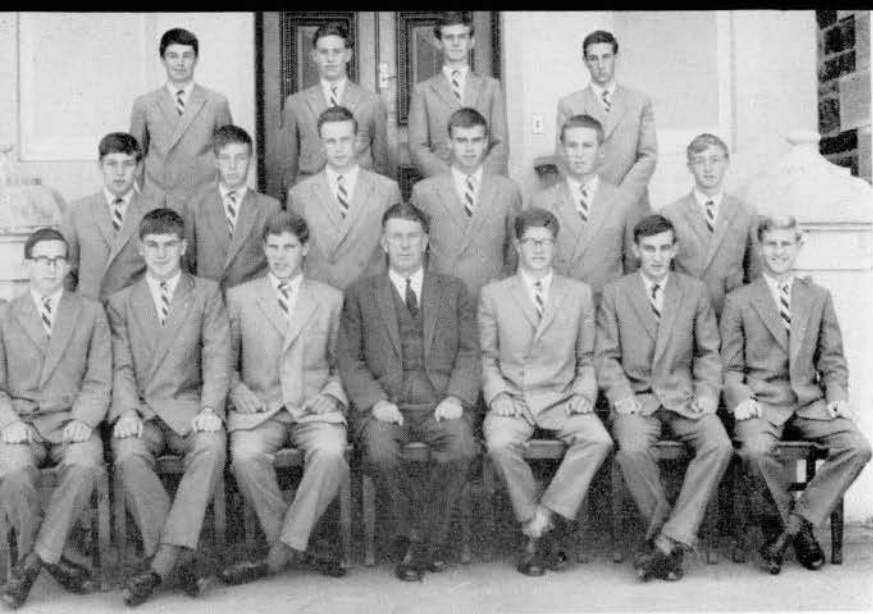

"Mr. Rogers paid a warm tribute to the very great influence of the Student Christian Movement, both during his time at P.A.C. and later at the University. It was the S.C.M. which helped him to find answers to many questions provoked by his life as a student within the University.

"His advice to students going to the University is to join the S.C.M. or a similar denominational group. If possible they should first join a schools branch. Membership in the S.C.M. can help in the transition from school to University life."

Mr. Rogers will go up to Oxford in early October and will enter New College founded by William of Wykeham in 1379. This is the College of our Headmaster, and also of two former P.A.C. Rhodes Scholars, Mr. Brian Hone and Dr. Doug Allen. Mr. Roger Opie, our 1951 Rhodes Scholar, is now a tutor at New College, the motto of which is "Manners Makyth Man", words doubtless remembered by Mr. Roger's father from his days at school.

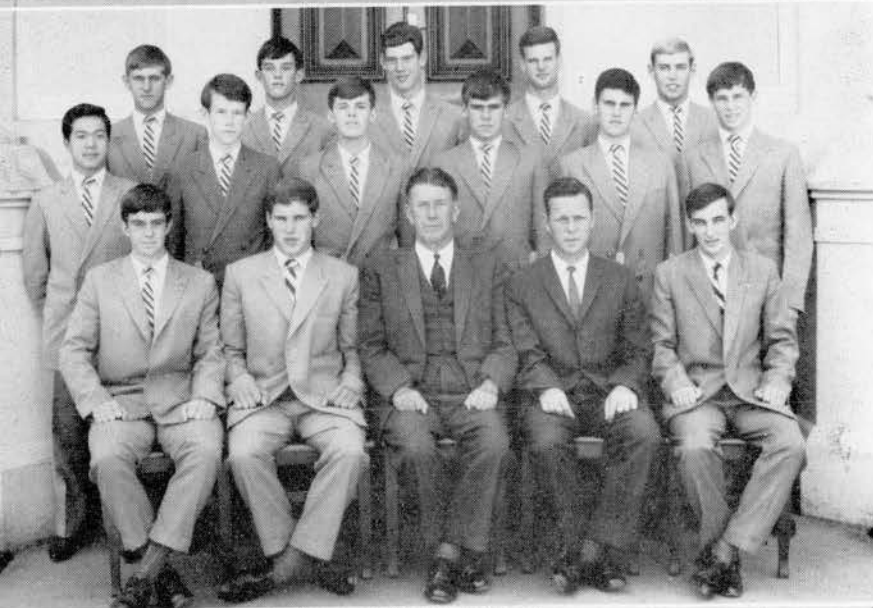

At the conclusion of his studies, Mr. Rogers hopes to receive an academic appointment in an under-developed country.

We tender him our warmest congratulations on the high honour he has attained and we wish him continued success at Oxford and in his future career.

Cricket

With fourteen teams playing in regular Saturday competition, cricket has been catered for to the limit of our available grounds this summer.

The general standard of cricket at P.A.C. is high, a judgement based not only on the performances of present teams and players but on the number of old scholars who are leading players in district and interstate competition. Tradition must play some part and undoubtedly coaching is also a very important factor but another which must not be discounted is the excellent set of playing conditions under which boys can learn the game. Mr. Sylvester Fuchs, the curator, and his staff have raised the standard of our cricket grounds to a level equalled by few other grounds in this State and the thanks of all cricketers at P.A.C. are due to him.

The First XI has had a fair season without quite achieving the successes of which it was capable. It has been very well led by David Angel until Christmas and by Ian Rudd since, but poor and inconsistent form by some of the more experienced players has proved disappointing.

The outstanding individual performance was that of David McWaters, an aggressive fast-medium right-hander of exceptional promise. His 32 wickets at an average of 9.12 runs apiece were a true indication of the havoc he wrought amongst opposing batsmen.

Hurn also had his moments of success and always bowled well, while Webb, Darley and Gillespie were always steady without being devastating.

Leak has kept wickets splendidly, with occasional flashes of brilliance and singularly few lapses.

Of the batsmen, Darley and Rudd, of contrasting styles were most consistent and scored runs when most needed. Angel batted well as did Walker, particularly in the Intercollegiate match. In the latter part of the season, several players showed marked improvement. Woodcock, not yet sixteen years of age, batted for four and a half hours without giving a chance to score 104 not out out of a total of 190 against Adelaide while the ten wickets of his team mates fell at the other end. Rudd continued to bat with his own brand of patient consistency while showing signs of the increasing run-getting ability which would make him a match-winner. Several of the new players showed signs of batting ability.

Of the bowlers, Hocking and Lower had most success with Barrett, Searle, Jackson and Compton showing promise.

The thanks of the School are due to the coaches of the various teams, Messrs. Bennett, Claver, Nicholson, Coombes, Brown, Allen, Provis, R. Jones and G. Jones, and to the senior boys who assist them. Especially grateful thanks are extended to Mr. B. H. Leak for his long and efficient service as sportsmaster and his equally long and successful services in coaching.

To Mrs. Angel and Mrs. Rudd, the organizers, and to Sister McDonald and Miss Woodcock and the mothers of the First XI we express our sincere appreciation for the lovely afternoon teas which have become such a feature of our Saturday afternoon matches.

Intercollegiate Cricket, 1962

In conditions that were ideal for cricket, Angel won the toss for Princes and sent Saints in to bat.

McWaters opened the bowling to Niehuus and struck a telling blow when a swinging yorker bowled the talented Saint's opener with only two runs on the board. Our other key attacking bowler, Hurn, bowled only four balls at top pace before suffering a muscle injury which kept him off the field for the rest of the day. McWaters, however, continued to bowl with sustained hostility till lunch was taken with the Saints' score at 5 for 41.

A solid partnership between Saints' young middle batsmen M. Jay and C. Macklin added 66 very valuable runs to their total and Cleland batted well for 25 not out, but McWaters, still fast and accurate after a prolonged spell, assisted by some good bowling from Gillespie, Darley and Webb, dismissed Saints for a modest 136. McWaters 6/46 off 19.4 overs was a splendid performance.

Rudd and Woodcock opened quietly against an accurate attack and added 17 runs before Woodcock was bowled by Cleland. Darley and Angel were dismissed after brief innings and Walker joined Rudd who was batting very soundly. The two held out till stumps were drawn with the total at 3 for 43.

Walker and Rudd batted splendidly on the second morning and added 91 invaluable runs before Walker was well caught for a very well-made 50. Rudd was dismissed one run later in the last over before lunch. His 53 runs were invaluable, a typical sound, patient, unruffled innings.

Apart from Webb, who hit crisply for a useful 20 runs, our later batsmen failed against the steady Saints' attack, and the Princes' innings closed at 170, a lead of 34 on the first innings.

Saints opened brightly, the first four overs yielding 17 runs before a brilliant catch by Rudd in the gully dismissed Duncan from the bowling of McWaters. Niehuus and McLachlan batted freely and took the total to 60 before Darley dismissed Niehuus L.B.W. and Webb in the next over bowled McLachlan. Jay and Whittle batted soundly against a hostile attack and added 64 runs and then Whittle and C. Macklin hung on doggedly to add a further 66 runs. At this stage the game had swung definitely in favour of S.P.S.C., but an inspired burst of hostile fast bowling by Hurn with the new ball dismissed the last five Saints' batsmen for 16 runs leaving P.A.C. 183 runs behind.

Tension was high as Rudd and Woodcock began our second innings to the accurate bowling of Cleland and D. Macklin. After Woodcock was bowled with the total at 26, the solid Rudd and the aggressive Darley added 49 runs before Rudd was dismissed in a similar manner to the first innings. Darley continued with a mixture of powerful driving and clever placements until with the total at 120 and his own score at 64, he solved the umpire's dilemma by giving himself out, caught at the wicket. Walker followed shortly after with his score a useful 17 and Angel, batting soundly, and Hurn played out time.

Play commenced at 2 p.m. on Friday with Princes requiring 40 runs with 5 wickets in hand. Hurn and Angel went for their strokes immediately and the score mounted briskly. The loss of Hurn at 166 and Corbet at 178 heightened the tension but Angel continued to hit the loose ball hard. McWaters evened the scores with a lofted four to square leg and Angel, fittingly, scored the winning run, giving Princes a win by 3 wickets in a game that was hard fought at every stage.

Cricket Critique

D. N. Angel (captain)—A very capable captain, he has kept the game under firm control. He has developed into a very competent cricketer.

G. M. Hurn (vice-captain)—Has developed into a match-winning all-rounder. He needs only a more settled temperamental approach to be a class cricketer.

D. F. McWaters—A splendid fast-medium bowler with stamina, control and a pronounced late swing. He has had outstanding success.

P. M. Darley—A valuable all-rounder. An aggressive batsman, a useful medium-paced bowler and a splendid fieldsman.

J. N. Webb—A talented cricketer who suffered a most disappointing loss of form.

I. M. Rudd—A very sound and reliable opening batsman who needs only to take heavier toll of loose balls to become a class cricketer.

A. J. Woodcock—A young opener who has an ideal temperament and a splendid technique. He has shown marked improvement.

P. R. Gillespie—Potentially a valuable all-rounder with his accurate medium-paced swing and cut but his batting lacks concentration.

J. D. Leak—Has kept wickets very consistently. He has concentration and his glove-work is clean and very safe.

C. L. Walker—A promising batsman who uses his feet well and times the ball sweetly. A safe field and a useful bowler.

M. E. Corbet—A strong on-side player, but his off-side technique is poor. He needs more drive in his whole approach to the game.

J. M. Ashby—A free stroking batsman, his temperament never allowed him to settle down to play the cricket of which he was capable.

P.A.C. 59 (Walker not out 22) and 64 lost to University "B" 237 (Angel 3/56).

P.A.C. 83 (Woodcock 31) and 3 for 64 (Darley 41) lost to Prospect 88 (McWaters 6/42, Webb 3/12).

P.A.C. 114 (Walker 23, Angel 27) and 126 (Darley 33, Angel 21) lost to Kensington 192 and 3 for 50 (McWaters 4/53 and 2/11).

P.A.C. 150 (Rudd 39, Darley 21, Corbet 33) and 4 for 86 (Gillespie 27, Hurn 35 not out) lost to East Torrens 228 (McWaters 4/46 and 2/10).

P.A.C. 169 (Woodcock 30, Hurn 45, Angel 22 not out) and 4 for 116 (Gillespie 22, Angel not out 34, Webb not out 25) lost to Port Adelaide 6 for 174 declared (Walker 4/40).

P.A.C. 3 for 100 declared (Rudd not out 59, Woodcock 34) lost to Woodville 4 for 131 (Lower 3/28).

P.A.C. 190 (Woodcock 104 not out) and 2 for 74 (Hocking not out 42, Lower not out 24) lost to Adelaide 7 for 201 (Lower 4/23).

P.A.C. 100 (Rudd 40, Jackson 25) lost to West Torrens 250 (Hocking 5/85) and 5 for 41 (Compton not out 22).

P.A.C. 139 (Woodcock not out 30, Hocking 21) and 7 for 124 (Rudd 34, Compton 24, Ide 23) defeated A.B.H.S. 126 (Hocking 4/17, Searle 3/33).

THIRD TERM, 1962

Second XI

Captain: J. O. Chapman

This term the Seconds were undefeated until the last match when we were defeated rather badly by Scotch Seconds. The previous three matches had been against Saints Seconds, Saints Under 16 "A"s and A.B.H.S. Seconds.

Due to rain the first two matches of the season were one-day games. On Saturday, 13th October we had a very comfortable win over Saints Seconds. We dismissed them for the small total of 34 and at stumps had made 2 for 70. Our success was due to the fine bowling of Lower who took 5 for 8 and Kerr, 4 for 24. In our innings Paterson made 23 not out. The next match, which was against Saints Under 16 "A"s proved to be one of the hardest matches for the year. After a poor start by our openers we struggled along to score 76 for the loss of 7 wickets. The side was saved by a good 36 not out by Lower. Again our bowlers did well and dismissed the opposition for 51. Lower took 4 for 15, Lodge 3 for 9 and Kerr 3 for 14. The next match was played on the Back Oval against A.B.H.S. Seconds. We batted on the first day and made 225, the main scorers being Paterson 63, Chapman 39 and Kerr 29. On the following Saturday we dismissed them for 58 and had them 9 for 95 in the second innings. Lower again bowled well to take 6 for 12. Pike provided the first spin bowling for the season and took 3 for 13. In the second innings Hill took 3 for 10. The last match was against Scotch Seconds. They made 122 and then dismissed us for 72. Lodge took 3 for 21 and J. Ashby made 25.

The success of the team this term has been due largely to the bowling of Lower who, in three matches, has taken 15 for 35. The best batsman for the term has been Paterson with an average of 31.

The members of the team are very grateful for the coaching which they have received during the season and wish to thank Mr. Claver for his efforts.

Under 16 "A"

Captain: M. E. Corbet

The Under 16 "A" team had an undefeated term, defeating S.P.S.C., A.B.H.S., S.I.C., and tying with R.C.

In the first match against S.I.C. they batted and reached 132, with Hocking taking 7 for 19. We then batted for 141 (Corbet 56 and Searle 55 retired).

Adelaide High were 4 for 106 at the end of the first day and we struggled to 9 for 109, winning with a four on the last ball of the day. Corbet made 29 and Speakman 24 not out.

We batted first against Saints and totalled 159 with Searle scoring 38, Barrett 29 not out and Hocking 21. Saints batted the following week for 57. Barrett and Hocking took the wickets, 5 for 0 and 5 for 38 respectively. We batted again and made 2 for 110 (J. Ashby 55, Hocking 38).

The match against R.C. resulted in a tie—94 each. Rowe topscored with 31 not out, Searle 26 and Hocking 4 for 34.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Coombes for his excellent coaching throughout the term.

Third XI

Captain: D. L. Paterson

Our Thirds had a very successful season this year, winning all of their matches. Unfortunately, three of our matches were cancelled due to rain

(S.H.C. Fourth XI, S.H.C. Third XI, I.C. Second XI). Our successes were against S.P.S.C. Under 16 "B"s, S.H.C. Boarders XI, C.B.C. Second XI, and P.G.S. Second XI.

We congratulate Rowe, Gerard, Pflaum, Barton, Morris and Thompson on their high scores and also the fine efforts of our bowlers, Nicholls, Morris, Jones and Gerard who have bowled well throughout the year.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Leak for his help during the term.

The results of our matches are:—

P.A.C. 163 (Thompson 38, Morris 20) defeated S.P.S.C. Under 16 "B"s 65 (Jones 6/12, Nicholls 3/3).

P.A.C. 121 and 104 (Rowe 27 and 54, Paterson 22, Lower 25) defeated R.C. Third XI 83 (Lodge 3/7, Nicholls 3/16).

P.A.C. 138 (Morris 31, Inglis 21) defeated S.H.C. Boarders 48 (Morris 3/15, Gerard 3/3, Jones 3/25).

P.A.C. 5/190 (Rowe 59, Barton 32, Gerard 41, Morris 22) defeated C.B.C. Second XI 59 and 89 (Morris 6/15, MacDonald 6/24).

P.A.C. 6/150 (Pflaum 74, Paterson 20) defeated P.G.S. Seconds 7/103 (Morris 2/28, Jones 2/31).

Fourth XI

Captain: P. G. Sneyd

The Fourths did not have a very successful season, winning only one of the matches played—we managed to beat S.H.C. 80 to 84. The eleven was changed many times during the season, due to the requirements of other teams, but it consisted mainly of boarders. The best performances for the season were by Williams who took 6 for 30 against S.H.C. and Eberbach who scored 55 against P.G.S.

The team would like to thank Mr. Allen for the helpful coaching which he gave to them during the term.

Thirds and Fourths

Once again there have been enough boys to form the Thirds and Fourths cricket teams. The afternoon games have also enabled under-age players to play another game, and there have been many willing Under 15s.

Both teams experienced defeat and victory. Although there were no regular captains, boys from the Seconds practice were given a chance to show their "captaincy" ability.

To Mr. Bennett and Mr. Claver go the sincerest thanks for the time they spent organizing the games and coaching.

The Thirds had a successful season, being beaten only by P.G.S. Seconds. Most consistent players were Rhodes, having a batting average of 26, Hopgood and Humphris. The scores were:—

P.A.C. 140 (Hopgood 41, Pflaum 32) defeated A.B.H.S. 50 (Speakman 5/19).

P.A.C. 98 defeated by P.G.S. 112.

P.A.C. 112 (Rhodes 44, Axford 28) defeated S.H.C. Fourths.

P.A.C. 35 and 76 defeated by S.I.C. Seconds 224.

P.A.C. 77 defeated by C.C. 104.

P.A.C. 65 defeated S.P.S.C. 64.

Under 15 Red

Captain: D. L. Haynes

The Under 15 Reds had a reasonably successful season, winning one of the three matches played.

The first match against Adelaide High resulted in a narrow win for them. P.A.C. 66 (Jones 31) and 4 for 80 (Snewin 31) defeated by A.B.H.S. 72 (Milner 6/21).

The second match against C.B.C. resulted in a decisive outright win for P.A.C. P.A.C. 110 (Haynes 22) and 4 for 81 (Haynes 50 not out) defeated C.B.C. 31 (Westerman 4/5) and 29 (Haynes 3/4, Tregoning 3/9).

The third match against Scotch resulted in a win for Scotch. P.A.C. 72 (McIntosh 22) defeated by S.C. 5 for 110 (O'Neill 3/20).

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Brown for his fine efforts in the coaching of the team.

Under 15 White

Captain: J. B. Hassell

Although the season was a disappointing one there was a great deal of enthusiasm amongst the team. Of the three matches played, we lost the first two and won the last one.

Our first match against Saints was fought very closely, our team being narrowly beaten by twenty runs. In the second match, which was also against Saints we were beaten by fifteen runs. In the last match against A.B.H.S. we batted well to win by a margin of forty runs.

Compton was the most successful bowler throughout the season while Blake topped the batting averages.

The team would like to thank Mr. Brown for the work which he has done in coaching the team during the season.

The scores were:—

P.A.C. 120 defeated by S.P.S.C. Under 15 Blue 140.

P.A.C. 96 defeated by S.P.S.C. Under 15 White 105.

P.A.C. 7 for 111 defeated A.B.H.S. 71.

Under 14 "A"

Captain: R. L. Close

The Under 14 "A" team had a successful term, winning two out of the three matches played, defeating Sacred Heart and Adelaide High quite easily, and losing narrowly in an exciting match to Saints. There were no consistently high scoring batsmen, but several boys made good scores, especially Brown with 92 not out against Adelaide High. Warhurst and Westerman bowled well throughout the term. The results were as follows:

P.A.C. 8 for 101 (Mitchell 30, Close 25) defeated Sacred Heart 75 (Westerman 4/27, hat trick, Warhurst 2/8).

P.A.C. 62 defeated by S.P.S.C. 5 for 71 (Martin 26).

P.A.C. 8 for 154 (Brown 92 not out, Noble 26) defeated A.B.H.S. 101 (Warhurst 3/12, Westerman 2/23, Brown 2/11).

We wish to thank Mr. Provis for his excellent coaching and advice which we received at practice and on Saturdays.

The Under 14 "B" and "C" teams have had a successful season. Teams of approximately equal strength were chosen each Saturday, and all those who practised regularly were able to represent the School. Hone and McEwin proved capable captains of these teams.

Under 13 "A"

Captain: M. L. Gray

The Under 13 "A" team had a very successful season this term winning all of their four matches played. The most exciting game was against S.P.S.C. who had not been defeated all the year. We defeated them by 84. Stephens and Hamilton batted very well throughout the season while Stephens, Stanford and Gray were the best bowlers. The team fielded particularly well and played consistently throughout the season.

On behalf of the team I wish to thank Mr. Leak for his excellent coaching and advice both at practice and during the matches.

Results:—

P.A.C. 5 for 62 (Gray 28) defeated A.B.H.S. 8 for 36 (Stephens 3/4, Hall 2/2).

P.A.C. 115 (Hamilton 21) and 5 for 29 defeated S.P.S.C. 31 (Stephens 4/15, Stanford 2/10, Hamilton 3/4) and 4 for 56 (Gray 3/6).

P.A.C. 3 for 110 (Stephens 47) defeated S.H.C. 6 for 71 (Stephens 2/13, Stanford 2/14).

P.A.C. 5 for 113 (Hamilton 56, Hocking 20) defeated K.C. 64 (Gray 4/8, Lower 2/6, Parsons 2/13) and 9 for 26 (Stephens 3/8, Stanford 2/3, Gray 2/9).

The Under 13 "B" and "C" teams, captained by Bennett and Henwood, had very successful seasons. Practices were well attended and all of those who attended regularly were given a game in either team, both being of approximately equal strength. All of those who played are grateful to the coaching received from Mr. Leak.

FIRST TERM, 1963

Second XI

Captain: G. L. Pike

At the beginning of the term it was decided to have a permanent Second XI practice list. The list consisted of sixteen potential players and they were all ensured of a game. The first eight of the eleven were permanent, while the last three were rotated.

Although we lost two matches out of the three, there were occasions when some good performances were put up, both with the bat and with the ball.

The Under 16 "A"s scored 128 with Pike taking 3 for 27, but we managed only 105, over half of which was made by MacCormac with 53. Rostrevor made 128 on the first day (Pike 5 for 50), and we held out to a technical draw at 9 for 107. Barrey topscored with 39. The third match against Sacred Heart was a one-day game and we batted first to total 9 for 132 at the end of 115 minutes with Corbet making 32 and Rowe 26. They then batted and appeared to have no hope at 9 for 60 owing to some good bowling by MacCormac (3 for 35) and Pike (3 for 36). Time was against them, but their tailenders slogged our bowling to reach 9 for 130 at stumps.

The team is grateful to the fine efforts of our coach, Mr. Claver, and we offer him our thanks.

Under 16 "A"

Captain: J. B. Hassell

During this term the Under 16 "A"s had a very successful season, winning three matches and losing one.

The first match was a one-day game against S.P.S.C. Seconds, which resulted in a narrow win for us, our team passing the Saints total with only one wicket in hand. Tregoning scored 30 and Jones took 4 for 4. In the second match against P.A.C. Seconds, we managed to win by twenty and in the following match against Scotch Seconds we lost outright. The following week we played A.B.H.S. Seconds. Our team batted first, and with the help of a fine innings by Blake, we won by two.

On behalf of the team I should like to thank Mr. Coombe for his very keen interest in our games on Saturdays and for his helpful coaching at practices.

The scores were:

P.A.C. 172 (Tregoning 30) defeated S.P.S.C. Seconds 63 (Jones 4/4).

P.A.C. 128 (Blake 34, Alexander 23, Anderson 21) defeated P.A.C. Seconds 105 (Hassell 3/30).

P.A.C. 63 and 70 defeated by Scotch Seconds 165.

P.A.C. 9 for 120 (Blake 60) defeated A.B.H.S. Seconds 8 for 118 (Heywood-Smith 3/15).

Under 15 Red

Captain: R. L. Close

The Under 15 Red team had quite a successful term, achieving victory against Rostrevor and Kings and losing to the Whites and Saints. Our most successful rungetters were Marshall, Westerman, Drew, Green, Close and Warhurst, while Smart, Westerman and Drew were the best of the bowlers.

We wish to thank Mr. Brown for his excellent coaching during the term.

The scores were:—

P.A.C. 79 and 5 for 75 defeated R.C. 37 (Smart 6/15).

P.A.C. 111 (Marshall 30) defeated Kings 84 (Westerman 6/30, hat trick).

P.A.C. 75 (Drew 24) defeated by S.P.S.C. 99 (Martin 4/17 and Drew 3/15).

Under 15 White

Captain: R. L. Noble

The Under 15 White had a very successful term, winning three matches out of four and only losing narrowly to S.P.S.C. During the term we came close to winning two matches outright, against Pulteney and Rostrevor, capturing 8 and 9 wickets in their second innings. We had a comfortable win against the Under 15 Red, but went down by 18 to S.P.S.C. in a close struggle.

In the match against Pulteney, Cox made 62 not out, while Drew bowled well and took five wickets. Against S.P.S.C., Taplin and Brown bowled accurately, both taking three wickets. Smart crashed through Rostrevor's first innings and captured five wickets, while Noble took five in the second innings. In a quickly compiled score of 6 for 110 declared, Noble scored 46 while Mitchell and Westerman both batted well. In the match against the Under 15 Red, Chappell and Noble took four wickets each, while Mitchell was the best with the bat.

We would like to thank Mr. Brown and Mr. Allen for their continual coaching at practices and their invaluable advice on Saturday mornings.

Under 14 "A"

Captain: M. L. Gray

The Under 14 "A" team had a very successful season, winning all of the four matches played. We defeated St. Ignatius, Sacred Heart and a Westminster Under 13 team, as well as defeating Rostrevor outright. Stanford was the most outstanding bowler, taking seventeen wickets, while Stephens and Gray also bowled well. The most consistent batsmen were Stephens, Gray, Parsons, Nelson and Hamilton.

On behalf of the team I wish to thank Mr. Provis for his excellent coaching throughout the season.

The results were:—

P.A.C. 155 and 3 for 34 (Stephens 60, Hocking 38 not out and Read 21) defeated S.I.C. 101 (Stanford 3/28, Gray 3/12).

P.A.C. 85 (Parsons 35 not out, Hamilton 29) defeated S.H.C. 8 for 77 (Gray 4/21).

P.A.C. 7 for 95 declared and 6 for 131 (Gray 29 and 37 retired, Nelson 35 retired, Parsons 26) defeated R.C. outright 14 and 14 (Stanford 6/8 and 6/7, Stephens 4/6 and 3/5).

Under 14 "B"

Captain: T. P. Finnegan

The Under 14 "B" team had a very successful term, winning six of the seven games played. Finnegan was the most successful batsman while Letcher was the best bowler.

The team wishes to thank Mr. Provis for the help which he gave them during the term.

The scores were:—

Under 14 "B" 73 defeated P.A.C. Under 14 "C" 65.

P.A.C. 44 (Finnegan 21) defeated by C.C. 143.
P.A.C. 97 (Finnegan 31, Parish 30) defeated R.C. 69 (Letcher 4/2).

P.A.C. 6 for 100 (Henwood 30) defeated S.H.C. 9 for 64 (Letcher 4/8, Henwood 4/16).

P.A.C. 120 (Speakman 25) defeated S.I.C. 90 (Speakman 5/25, Brinsley 3/18).

P.A.C. 81 (Letcher 43) defeated P.G.S. 46.

P.A.C. 136 (Finnegan 55, Inglis 23) defeated K.C. 111.

Under 14 "C"

Captain: R. S. Hetzel

The Under 14 "C"s had a fairly successful season, winning four out of the six matches played. The most successful batsmen were Brooks, Finnegan and Henwood, while the most successful bowlers were Henwood and Hetzel.

The team would like to thank Mr. Provis for his excellent coaching throughout the term.

The scores were:—

Under 14 "C" 65 (Hetzel 30) defeated by P.A.C. Under 14 "B" 73.

P.A.C. 46 defeated by A.B.H.S. Under 14 "B" 68.

P.A.C. 5 for 97 (Riggs 27 not out) defeated C.B.C. 21 (Hetzel 3/4, Henwood 3/8).

P.A.C. 156 (Brooks 38, Davis 29, Wilkinson 24, Parish 24) defeated S.C. 36.

P.A.C. 64 (Manning 21) defeated S.P.S.C. 36 (Hetzel 5/10, Brooks 3/10).

P.A.C. 136 (Finnegan 55, Inglis 24) defeated K.C. Under 14 "B" 113.

Under 13 "A"

Captain: A. J. Bennett

This term we started the season poorly by losing the first match to Pulteney but ended better by winning the next two against Saints and Rostrevor.

The scores were:—

P.G.S. 84 (Smith 5/15, hat trick) defeated P.A.C. 74 (Smith 25).

P.A.C. 6 for 110 declared (Smith 54, Rossiter 27 not out) defeated S.P.S.C. 69 (Rossiter 3/9, Smith 3/12) and 8 for 99.

P.A.C. 154 (Smith 93) and 3 for 75 (West 32) defeated R.C. 128 (Lower 4/28, Beck 3/43).

I should like to thank Peter Barrett for the helpful advice which he has given to the team during the term.

Under 13 "B" and "C"

The Under 13 "B" and "C" teams did not have a very successful season. The "B"s lost all four matches, while the "C"s won one of its three matches. The captains of the "B"s and "C"s were I. G. Campbell and P. W. Walkom respectively.

The team would like to thank Mr. R. Jones for his fine coaching throughout the term.

The results were:—

Under 13 "B":

P.A.C. 74 (Bond 30) defeated by Scotch 5 for 97.

P.A.C. 80 (French 20) defeated by S.P.S.C. 120 (Hancock 3 wickets).

P.A.C. 70 (Brown 26) defeated by Pulteney 4 for 95.

P.A.C. 49 defeated by Rostrevor 5 for 53.

Under 13 "C":

P.A.C. 71 defeated by A.B.H.S. 9 for 81 (Walkom and Page each 3 wickets).

P.A.C. 9 for 81 defeated by Pulteney 99 (Walkom 5 wickets and Page 3 wickets).

P.A.C. 9 for 69 defeated C.B.C. 59 (Walkom 6 wickets).

TO ANOTHER WORLD

It was hot: too hot to sit, too hot to concentrate on that mass of lines and figures. Slowly Zebarus's book grew hazy, slowly dissolved . . .

A bubbling brook chattered merrily over its stony bed: "It's a lovely day! It's a lovely day!" it burbled continuously. Sad, pendulous weeping willows dipped their trailing fronds into the pellucid water. Daisies struggled for survival with soursobs and clover on the sun-drenched banks. Carolling birds flitted from twig to twig of a giant blue gum that stretched between the cloud-streaked vault and the tiny earth. Its boughs were gnarled with age, its bark hung down in strips, yet it had stood the test of centuries, harbouring, for fleeting moments of its life, roly-poly koalas and other creatures of the wild.

The place was natural, untamed; always had been; always would be in his mind. It haunted him. Everything from its faraway lazy purple mountains to the gigantic superiority of its lone blue gum haunted his dreams and, sometimes, his waking hours. The first time Zebarus saw the spot, the kiss of spring had touched its many blossoms which pinned down the quilt of green by the lively brook. It was alive with colour and buzzing bees. Later, even winter could not take away its characteristic beauty with his frosty fingers.

Perhaps, thought Zebarus, the ever-expanding ripple that is the city's skirts has enveloped it. Perhaps, great smoke-stacks belch clouds of grit and poison gas over the fair countryside. "Do drably-coloured buses and scurrying cars rush over the grave of the ancient blue gum?" he asked himself with horror. "Are there endless lines of television aerials and tenement houses and scraggy children kicking footballs about the dirty streets?" Perhaps the little stream murmurs its greeting in vain, unheard by busy city dwellers hurrying to work, or being swept home to collapse in easy chairs and recover for the next day's grind. Do the lazy mountains reverberate to the boom of exploding gelignite and the crash of loading and unloading scoops?

A frown appeared on his face. Someone murmured: "Zebby's at it again".

But whatever happened there, he told himself, it would always stay in his mind as free from city strife, ruled by the mighty blue gum and mother nature, always . . .

The sky grew darker, and blacker, a flash of lightning split the firmament with its jagged ray and crash after crash of thunder swamped through Zebarus's brain. He returned to this world as a torrential rain of problems, theorems and equations bound in cardboard covers found their mark—his poor innocent head.

By the time all was quiet and the many miniature suns had merged together and returned to their accustomed courses, he realized it was still as hot as ever. It was hot and stifling, perhaps even hotter and more stifling than before, but there were only five minutes to that welcome ringing harmony.

HORSE

The bounty-bearing Greeks constructed thee
And gave unto the trusting foe—
They thought—a horse of peace.

Thou black embodiment of vast hypocrisy,
It is in thee we see ourselves,
O hollow horse of Troy!

The brutal beast of guile is with us still
And has been with us ever since
Troy fell in agony.

THE BATTLE OF NGAKYEDAUK

Although it was one of the major and decisive battles of World War II, there is a hundred to one chance that you have not heard of the battle of Ngakyedauk. This was the 14th British Army's first victory over the Japanese in Burma, and succeeded in repelling an all-out drive by the Japanese to reach Chittagong and finally Calcutta.

On the west coast of Burma, just south of what is now East Pakistan, is a strip of country known as Arakan. Off this coast lies the small island of Akyab, which controls the area. To reach it, from what was India, one had to travel down the Mayu Peninsula.

Down the centre of this, there is a spiny ridge which was thought to be impassable except in three places. These were, the Goppe Pass near the head of the peninsula, the Ngakyedauk Pass about a quarter of the way down the peninsula, and the road from Maungdaw to Buthidaung a little further down the peninsula. This road passed through several tunnels and was heavily defended; so it became the immediate objective of the attacking forces of the 14th Army.

Since October 1943, Lieutenant-General Christison's 15th Corps had been edging down the Mayu Peninsula towards Akyab. He had sent the 7th Indian Division, under Major-General Messervy, down the eastern side of the range, and the 5th Indian Division, under Major-General Briggs, down the western side.

By January they had met fierce resistance at the lateral road, and the 5th Division sent a Brigade over the Ngakedauk Pass (better known as the Okeydoke Pass) to reinforce the 7th Division for a breakthrough. This Division was supplied by mules, which were brought over the "Okeydoke Pass". On arriving in the Kalapanzin Valley, on the eastern side of the range, the supplies built up in an area known as the "Admin. Box" before being distributed to the troops.

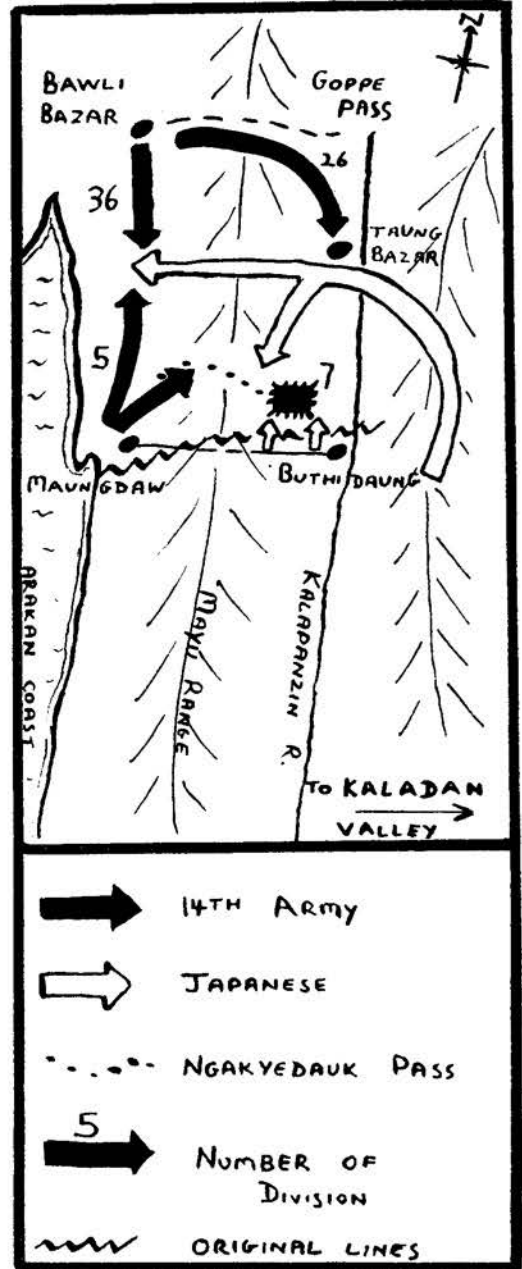

At this time the Japanese were planning a full-scale offensive to reach Calcutta. Despite the Allied attack they decided to carry on. In early February of 1944, they swung around behind the 7th Division in the area of Taung Bazar. Many of the Japanese carried on over the "impassable" ridge and blocked the road from Bawli Bazar to Maungdaw; but most of them turned south to attack the 7th Division and capture the "Box".

Trapped between the Japanese lines and this new force, Messervy did not retreat but formed an all round "Hedgehog" defence. Here the Gurkha, Indian and British troops fought wave upon wave of Japanese fanatics. The enemy overran the dressing station on the outskirts of the box, and bayoneted the patients and doctors, but still Messervy did not give in.

Meanwhile, help was at hand. The Dakotas of Troop-Carrier Command dropped tons of supplies by parachute to the troops, and the fighters of the Third Tactical Airforce completely dominated the skies. In the whole operation, only one Dakota was lost and the Japanese lost sixty-five 'planes.

D.M.H., VUA

The 26th Indian Division (Tigerheads) under Major-General Lomax, fought its way down the Kalapanzin Valley, and the 36th British Division, under Major-General Festing, advanced from Bawli Bazar to crush the Japanese forces on the road to Maungdaw. The 5th Division also sent forces to attack the roadblock from the south, and it sent forces through the Ngakyedauk Pass to clear it of Japanese infiltrations.

The enemy, who had started with ten days' rations, were now without food. Their supply lines around the left flank of the 7th Division were being attacked by the Mayu tribesmen, and the 81st West African Division, under Major-General Woolner, which was far to the east in the Kaladan Valley, was threatening the Japanese rear.

The 7th Division gradually passed to the offensive, the hammer and the anvil met squarely and the Japanese disintegrated. Of the 7,000 enemy which penetrated the lines, over 5,000 bodies were found; many lay undiscovered in the jungle, and hundreds died of hunger and exhaustion before they reached safety; few survived. The battle was over before the end of February.

The enemy was allowed no respite in Arakan, and, after weeks of bitter fighting, the tunnels were captured. When the monsoon broke in late May, and virtually held up all land operations, the 15th Corps was in a good position for the final offensive of 1945.

DIALOGUE BETWEEN TWO SCIENTISTS IN YEAR X

(Where X is greater than 2000)

Egghead: "Did you see on television that Luxembourg carried out its first N-bomb tests last week? Everybody has the beauty of science nowadays—your turn."

Boffin: "Marvellous ain't it? Last night I turned on to a historical programme by mistake—I meant to watch the cartoons. Anyway I decided to watch some of it—fantastic. Do you realize that in the twentieth century, there were some countries without even a guided missile system. The whole world's lucky now—every country has nuclear weapons—your turn."

Egg.: "There's no doubt about it, you see some funny things on the telly. Last night some fellow reckoned that they gave a Nobel Prize for litteryture—can you imagine—for litteryture. Hah! Your turn."

Boff.: "But they do give one for literature, I'm sure they do. Kipolov Nuclearitsky won it for writing a science book—there wasn't a single spelling mistake!—your turn."

Egg.: "Oh yeah! I don't believe it—your turn."

Boff.: "It's true—they used to give them for novels and things. You know what novels were—just like stories on telly, except that you had to read it all. Oh blow! I've slipped over."

Egg.: "I told you I could beat you at hopscotch."

The two brains, two of the men who controlled the world's destiny, went off playing skippy. All of which goes to show that the human race may be approaching senility—but how ridiculous! Science would never let it happen.

EPIS-ODE

A fountain of iniquity
Was splashing waters gay,
Its pH rather low because
'Twas acid-drops that day.
A hepcat strolling down the walk
Gurgled in tones so nice,
"Put up your hands, Roy Rogers,
Or receive a thousand slice".

Roy Rogers quakes and seeks the aid
Of all the things he lacks.
He gulps his Woodies lemonade
And homeward quick he packs.
But hepcats bold in armies strong
Are winging on the flank;
And as he's lost his brandy-balls
Roy Rogers sure is sunk.

His face is like cold porridge now,
(Although his Latin's done),
And so, as a last and dread resort,
Roy Rogers draws his gun.
"The cork will stick!" the brave boy thinks,
As he turns with verve and vigour;
But the cork flies out as with a shout
Roy Rogers pulls the trigger.

And now, my friends, an interlude
Of blessed peace and quiet.
The fight will wait still yet a while
But Roy will quell the riot.
Assisted by the Wonder Dog
He'll shoot them round the bend, which, folks, will happen—with any luck—
At next commercial's end.

WALT DISNEY

The twentieth century has seen the birth of a very popular new art form—the animated motion picture, or “cartoon”. The cartoon has come to be recognized as an art form in its own right mainly because of the genius of Walt Disney, who was born in Kansas in the year 1901. As a young boy Disney displayed a great talent for sketching and it is said that he earned his pocket-money by drawing advertisements for a hair-dresser. At the age of seventeen he enlisted as a Red Cross ambulance driver in World War I.

At the end of the war Disney obtained employment as an illustrator for a magazine; in his spare time he drew cartoons for a film company. His work for this company fascinated him, and, realizing the possibilities of the medium, he and his invalid brother, Roy, moved to Hollywood where they founded a studio. Although he encountered many difficulties, including lack of finance, he persevered with his cartoons and eventually achieved success with his creation of the now-famous character, Mickey Mouse.

Disney's riotous imagination was given new scope by the invention of “talkies” and Mickey Mouse was followed by Donald Duck, Goofy, Pluto and many other lively and amusing characters. Endowing his animals with all the foibles of humanity, Disney next began to exploit the newly-perfected “Technicolour” process.

Disney then began to experiment with longer cartoons and he soon produced his first feature-length cartoon, “Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs”, which was a sensational success. In 1940 his “Fantasia”, with its novel use of visual imagery gave a new dimension to the compositions of the masters. During World War II his studio was used for the production of cartoon documentaries for propaganda and military training purposes.

Today the Walt Disney organization has grown to a tremendous size, giving employment to thousands of people. Its interests have extended from the cinema into various other fields including television, “comics”, and Disneyland, the vast amusement park which is a land of magic for young and old alike. Although his name is now linked with many forms of entertainment, Walt Disney will always be remembered for his development of the cartoon, which, in his hands, became the supreme vehicle for fantasy, farce and the fairy tale, while always maintaining a link with everyday life and the ways of mankind.

THE “WORK-HORSE”

Many people believe that the “work-horse” of the airlines of the world, namely the Douglas Commercial 3, more commonly known as the DC-3, has retired from active service. But this is not so. Just because the major airlines of Australia, Ansett A.N.A. and T.A.A., have such aircraft as Viscounts, Electras, DC-6Bs, Focker Friendships, and to come, Boeing 727s, it does not mean the DC-3 has disappeared from the Australian front. Many of the smaller airlines in Australia and New Zealand use them regularly for passenger services, while they are used almost everywhere as freight 'planes.

DC-3s are converted C-47s, the military version, which began production in 1935. There were about 10,926 produced, excluding licence-built models, and 1,500 or so of these are still in service. In Australia alone, there are about 60 DC-3s in service.

They are a 21-36 seater 'plane with low wing and are powered by twin engines, which each produce 1,200 h.p. They have a range of 1,500 miles, which is more than today's Viscount has.

In America, in the first years of service, they revolutionized air travel, and made flying more of a pleasure.

During the war years they played a valiant part as troop carriers and supply 'planes, and they can be said to have been a factor that helped to win the war.

Many airline companies realize the discomforts of DC-3s, and are rectifying them as well as they can. Many are being sound-proofed, while others are being fitted with bigger and better windows so that observation is easier.

Although many frequent air travellers were happy when it left the major air routes, this valiant little 'plane will stay in service for many years to come. I.K., V UB, and M.H., V UC

CONCERNING THE FIRST OF APRIL

When someone mentions the month of April, the first thoughts that usually enter a boy's mind are "April Fools' Day" and "Easter and its holidays". These two significant dates on the calendar may be connected more than one may think.

The age-old custom of sending people on fruitless errands on 1st April is supposed by some to be a travesty of the sending hither and thither of the Saviour from Pilate to Herod and from Annas to Caiaphas—and hence the above suggestion. This explanation has been much disputed, for many people believe the custom is in some way a relic of the festivities once held universally at the vernal equinox, which, beginning on the old New Year's Day, 25th March, ended on 1st April.

Although 1st April was probably observed as an ancient festival in Great Britain, it was not apparently until the beginning of the eighteenth century that the making of April Fools was a common custom. England and Germany, however, are supposed to have derived it from France.

In India during the feast of Huli, which ends on 31st March, the chief amusement is the befooling of people by sending them on foolish errands. The modern trend of amusement in this country on 1st April seems to be towards practical jokes rather than the errands mentioned above.

It is rather interesting to know that the Scots used to call this old custom "hunting the gowk", that is, "the cuckoo" and an April fool was a "gowk"—"cuckoo" being there, as in most lands, a term of contempt. In France a person befooled is known as a "poisson d'avril", while in Germany such a person is an "Aprilnarr".

If you have been duped and are a gowk, Aprilnarr, poisson d'avril or merely an April fool, I am sure you still feel just the same towards the prankster. After the laughs had this year on 1st April, I am sure that many people are looking forward to this day next year which, incidentally, occurs on a Wednesday.

THE GALAHS

The gaunt gum stands stark against the sand
Amid a heap of rusting ploughs:
Not a sound stirs the ageless land—

Yet, suddenly this scene of silent desolation
Is shattered into chaos as the galahs wheel,
A flame of glory against the setting sun.

The lookouts perch in the long-dead gum;
The cascading flock their feathers preen;
A gun cracks—

And once again the flock
Flares up, screeches, wheels,
Radiant breasts against a radiant sky.

N.G.M., IV A

OUTBACK

Beneath the sprawling gum tree,
I brush away the flies,
And look across the desert,
To where a homestead lies.

I'm headed for that homestead,
Where short-lived rivers flow,
And the birds sing in harmony,
As I heard them long ago.

KELLY

His life a candle, lit by his father's love:
Burning brighter at each bound towards perfection:
His perfection realized in a shadow of his Crown.
Ned—his impulse tracking a groove of wrong,
Wrong, wrong, wrecking his heroic direction:
Rebellion and enmity discarding his utter genius.
"Kelly's down!" they cry: their childish joy
Gives way to reverence of sensitive, rebellious perception.

The candle's snuffed: an intrepid prodigy is lost.

THE END OF THE LINE

It is always sad to part with an old friend. For the past forty-four years trains have wound their way up the sleepy twenty-one-mile branch line from Balhannah to Mount Pleasant. Progress has unfortunately made the line redundant and the trains run no more.

On 3rd March this year the last train ran over the metals as three hundred and sixty-five passengers rode the line on a special run by the Australian Railway Historical Society. It carried more passengers to Mount Pleasant than any other train. "706", a powerful English Mikado type steam loco, built in 1926, hauled the special which consisted of six old country cars and a brake van. Its leisurely journey took nine hours and many stops were made en route for countless photographers.

As early as 1882 a report was drawn up for a line from Balhannah, where it would leave the main south line, to Mount Pleasant following the Onkaparinga, Angas and Torrens River valleys. Reports followed in 1891, 1895, 1898 and in 1904. The 1904 report suggested the use of H type locos weighing 44 tons and a tractive effort of 8,020 lbs. compared with 170 tons and 40,400 lb. of the 700 class Mikado. The H class could haul eight four-wheeled wagons up the line, climbing the grades at ten miles per hour. So even then little traffic was anticipated.

No real interest was shown till 1914 when an act authorizing construction of a line from Balhannah to Sedan at a cost of £677,000 and a further £100,000 for rolling stock was passed.

This was later changed to the present line. Construction was started by the State early in 1915 but was leased to a contractor who finished it late in 1917. There was no official opening as the government was economizing, but regular traffic commenced on Monday, 16th September, 1918.

The line was laid with 60 lb. per yard rail, which is still there, six inches of ballast with one in fifty grades, having a maximum curve of twelve chain radius. A mixed train ran from Mondays to Saturdays, the tiny loco running tender first on the down journey. There were stations at Oakbank, Woodside, Charleston, which was renamed Charleston in 1919, Mount Torrens and Birdwood. Turning facilities were built at Mount Pleasant in December 1918. Maximum speed was 40 m.p.h.

At first there was no staff, a travelling station-master rode in the brake until 1923, when staff were allotted to Mount Pleasant and Woodside. Later Rx class locos, weighing 88 tons and developing 21,420 lb. tractive effort, which could haul 235 tons were used on the line. With the Webb era of 1926 onwards 700 class handled most freight and small railcars the passenger work. The line always remained mostly steam-hauled. A 700 can haul 530 tons although it was rarely needed to do so.

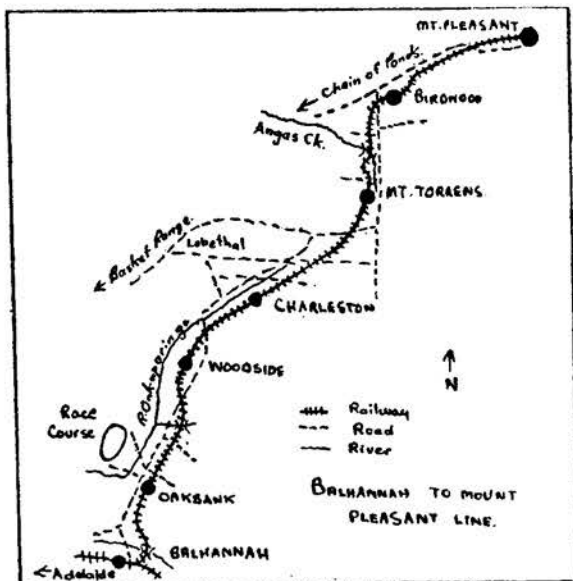

Oakbank race trains first ran at Easter 1920, and as many as nineteen trains have been known to run on an Easter Monday. Large steam locos were used then and on troop trains to Woodside so the track from Balhannah to Woodside was relaid with 80 lb. per yard rail. In 1958 diesel locos were introduced and by 1960 steam had been superseded on the specials. In 1962 all but one were "Red Hen" suburban diesel railcars.

Passenger traffic to Mount Pleasant ceased on the 6th June, 1953, although the race trains still ran and during 1958 specials ran to a hostel at Woodside on Friday and Saturday nights. People could, of course, still travel in the brake of the twice weekly slow, overnight goods but few people, except an occasional rail fan, took the opportunity.

Authority was given to close the line on 13th November, 1962. The line was to close on the last day of February, 1963, but by special request of the A.R.H.S. the line was held open until 3rd March, 1963, so that the A.R.H.S. could run the last train. The last goods left just after midnight on 28th February. It returned early next day. Another A.R.H.S. Special was run behind an Rx on Saturday, 2nd February, and a special railcar on 22nd December, 1962. So in the last three months of its career it enjoyed new found prosperity. Goods are now taken by a private road haulier.

The line will soon be dismantled as Peterborough requires the rail for re-laying. So another link with the past is snapped. It is interesting to note that as one line dies another is born, for on 16th March, 1963, the first passenger train ran to Port Stanvac, a steam-hauled A.R.H.S. Special.

Preparatory School

The School year began in a rather subdued and sad atmosphere for the Preparatory School. The loss of its loved and esteemed Master-in-Charge, Mr. M. D. Close, B.A., Dip.Ed., during the Christmas vacation, cast a shadow over the opening weeks of the term for most of us. During his fourteen years in charge of the Preparatory School, Mr. Close made a significant contribution to its growth and development. His fine work will live on in the lives of those boys whom he has helped and whose character he has developed during their years in his charge. Mr. Close's passing also means the loss to the Preparatory School of Mrs. Close's kindly and encouraging interest in its affairs, especially in the Mothers' Club, and we know we shall miss her very much.

The major event of the School year so far has been the visit of Her Majesty the Queen to Adelaide. The upper classes of the Preparatory School turned out in force to welcome her, and thanks to the fine organization of those responsible for the arrangements each boy had a good uninterrupted view of her progress.

During the term a hundred of our boys went to the Adelaide Town Hall where they thoroughly enjoyed a programme especially arranged for school-children and given by the Symphony Orchestra.

The other activities of the School appear to be going smoothly, both in and out of the classroom. This has been made possible by the continued loyalty and devotion of the teaching staff, who have so cheerfully shouldered the extra burdens thrown on them over the last few years.

Staff

After a long and devoted term as Matron of the Preparatory boarding house, Sister C. Rowe has announced her intention of resigning at the end of the first term in order to devote more of her time and energy to her family at Aldgate. We shall be very sorry to see her go, as her enthusiasm and efficiency have kept the boarding house at a high standard. Her interest in her charges has always gone far beyond the mere call of duty. We are happy to announce that the new matron will be Sister F. M. Hopkinson, and we assure her of a warm welcome when she comes to take up her duties.

Mr. Hurn, who joined the staff last year on a part-time basis, is now doing a full programme of teaching.

We extend a welcome to Mr. Phil Day, who joined the boarding school at the beginning of this year as a resident house-master (non-teaching), and we trust that his stay with us will be happy and rewarding.

At the end of the 1962 year, the staff held their annual Christmas dinner at the Pier Hotel, Glenelg. Our thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Murray

Western for their contribution in ensuring that all present had a most enjoyable time.

Preparatory School Mothers' Club

At our meeting, 25th October, Mrs. Close welcomed Miss Daphne Gum, Director of the Ashford House School for Cerebral Palsied Children.

Miss Gum spoke of the training for children and of the development of the school from one room in the Children's Hospital in 1946 to Ashford House in 1952.

The boys from Grade VI under the direction of Mr. Rolland May sang a group of songs. The accompanist was Melville Waters. Robert Freeman played a pianoforte solo.

Our Ray Day Appeal realized £43/14/10. This will be used for School equipment. We wish to thank all who sent rags and helped to sort them.

On 21st March, our Senior Vice-President introduced Mrs. Leak as incoming President.

In her report Mrs. Leak gave a summary of the Club's activities for twelve months.

The small boys from IB and IC sang some of their favourite songs.

Mr. Leak then spoke of his first impressions on arriving at the Preparatory School as Master-in-Charge. He paid a very warm tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Close. He also announced that Sister Rowe would be leaving at the end of term.

We would like to thank Mrs. Close and Sister for the leadership and assistance they have given so willingly to the Mothers' Club for so many years.

Carol Evening

Because the weather over the last few years has been considered rather cold for outside functions, the annual Carol Evening in 1962 was transferred to the Assembly Hall at the Senior School.

Items were given by the IB and IC choir including a Nativity scene; IA, IIB and IIA separately sang carols, and the combined choir of III LA, III LB, III UA and III UB also sang carols. The evening included a lovely coloured strip-film with an accompanying recording.

Preparatory Leaders

Our congratulations go to the following boys who have been appointed Leaders for 1963: J. P. Jackson (Captain of the Prep.), A. F. Close, P. H. Frost, J. R. S. Hetzel, T. S. Karmel, L. G. C. Kerr, R. P. Kimber, N. W. Lawson, A. S. Martin, M. G. Waters, S. J. Whitham. After receiving instruction at the Police Driving Wing, these boys have been doing an excellent job controlling the traffic at the traffic lights on Dequetteville Terrace. They are also carrying out their other duties very well, and the Captain of the Prep. especially is to be commended for the excellent job he is doing.

Tennis

During the third term last year our tennis team enjoyed a fair amount of success. We won games against Scotch College and St. Ignatius, but lost against S.P.S.C. Towards the end of term, we played Pulteney Grammar and Westminster College teams on the same afternoon and both our teams did well to score comfortable victories.

The climax of the season was the final of the "Prep. Championships". Excellent tennis was provided by both finalists but in the end Tony Smith just deserved his win over Philip Nehmy.

Many boys are showing a keen interest in tennis this year and we appear to have at least as good a team as we had last year. We started the season with an easy victory over Scotch, but credit is due to our opponents for being gracious enough to send a team despite the small number of boys available.

Much stronger opposition came from Pulteney Grammar and, as to be expected, S.P.S.C. However, we did well to draw six sets all against each of these teams.

John Jackson is captain this year and is a fine example to his team-mates in every way.

It is particularly pleasing to see so many Grade VI boys keenly interested and already three of them—McBride, Dixon and Cooper—have found places in the team.

A fixture that all tennis fans look forward to in the third term is the Fathers and Sons Match. It will provide competition for the keen ones, a lighter approach for those less gifted in that direction, and a most enjoyable afternoon for fathers and sons alike.

Cricket

Cricket Afternoon—Early in December the Prep. boys were once again the guests of St. Peter's Prep. at a Cricket Afternoon. Six matches were played, of which two were won by our boys and another game was drawn.

The Fathers and Sons Cricket Match was played on the last Saturday of the third term, and a very enjoyable afternoon was had by all. The fathers were really in trouble until a dashing innings by Mr. Ward Smith carried them to a narrow victory.

Throughout 1962 the Prep. XI was undefeated. Justin McIntosh batted well to score an aggregate of 281 runs (average 48), while Tony Smith did well with the ball to capture 21 wickets for 124 runs. Others to do well on occasions were Roy McEwin and Jim Boucaut. McIntosh is to be congratulated on winning the L. O. Fuller Cricket Cup.

In the first term this year five matches have been played, two of which have been won and three lost. The recent game against Westminster, an addition to the other matches, resulted in a narrow victory for our boys. Tom Karmel, with an aggregate of 65 runs, has been the mainstay of the batting, while Peter Solomon has bowled very well in most games to secure 13 wickets for 104 runs.

Class Picnics

Forms II B, I A, B and C, accompanied by many mothers, enjoyed their day's outing at West Beach. We thank Mrs. G. M. Bennett for once more lending the staff her beach shack. We shall miss its facilities, for by next Christmas time it will be no more. We should be glad to hear from any mother, who has a beach shack at one of the nearer beaches, who would be willing to help us out next picnic time. Games, a sand-castle competition and two swims kept us all busy and happy, and a "good time" was voted by all.

II A journeyed to Seacliff where they all spent an enjoyable day. Mr. Hurn, accompanied by a faithful following of mothers, worked hard and played hard to satisfy the demands of these "young tigers".

Forms III UA, U B, III LA, L B spent the day in the usual way and at the same old spot, South Brighton. The mothers who went along spent an enjoyable time swimming and sun bathing (masters were doing likewise not too far distant).

Our thanks go out to those mothers who kindly made their cars available to transport the boys to and from the beach.

House Competition

Robertson House (Captain, Tony Smith) is to be congratulated on winning the A. W. Welch Cup for 1963. Mitchell came a distant second and Chapple was third.

House Points—	R.	C.	M.
First and Second Term:

CHARACTERS ON THE EIGHT-THIRTY

Every day when I catch the morning bus, I amuse myself by studying the different people who are in or entering the bus. Besides the normal business men there are characters who are amusingly different from the others.

First there is the lady who "jiggles and giggles" as she walks up the bus. When she reaches her seat she seems to crane her neck above everybody else to see where she is going.

There is also the mournful type whom I have nicknamed "Mournful Maurice". He boards the bus at stop nine to be worrying all the time he is sitting there. Since I started coming to school by bus I have only once seen him talk.

There are also two other types, namely, "Newspaper Ned" and "Beehive Betty". The former is never seen because he always has his face buried in the newspaper, and the latter is always seen because of her hair-style which usually causes quite a buzz.

The last thing I notice as I alight are the "Tail-End Charlies". They congregate around the door and stand there chattering in a haze of smoke, and will not move for people trying to leave the bus. D.N.H., III LA

One penny is an emu? And all this dither
One pound is a roo? Hither and thither
Now I ask you Worth changing?
Is all this bother Are we donkeys
With Australian decimal money?

THE RED DEER

The red deer is a very majestic creature. It is the most noble and the biggest of all British wild animals. It used to roam all over Britain, but now it only roams in Scotland and Devon. In the spring two little knobs called pedicles start to grow out of the male's head. When the antlers are fully grown the velvety skin which is on their antlers crumbles up and drops off. When it is five years old it has ten points, but when it is six it may have twelve points on its antlers. The names of the points are: bez, beam, brow, trez, sur royals. It weighs between three hundred and three hundred and sixty pounds. It stands four feet at the shoulders. The hind which is the female is much smaller and lighter and does not have antlers.

OUR PRESIDENT

Mr. Donald Laurence Davies (son of the late W. L. Davies, former Senior Master at Prince Alfred College) attended the School 1934-1942, was a School and Boarding House Prefect and a member of the intercollegiate cricket, athletics and football teams (captain football 1942), thus securing his merit badge.

On leaving school he served as a pilot in the R.A.A.F. (1943-1945), and proceeded in 1946 to the University of Adelaide where he obtained his degree in architectural engineering in 1950. He was a regular member of the University football and cricket teams, was awarded his "blue" for football and held his place in the S.A. Amateur League State team for a number of years.

He is engaged in architectural practice in the firm Brown & Davies Ltd. and has been a member of the committee and architect for the Public Schools' Club since its inception in 1960. Mr. Davies is also a member of the S.A. Methodist Church Building and Property Committees and is a trustee of the Beaumont Methodist Church.

Since 1954 he has been a member of the P.A.O.C.A. Committee, was captain of the old scholars' cricket team during the 1960-1962 seasons, and played with the Football Club until his retirement in 1959.

Mr. Davies, who lives at Beaumont, is married, with one daughter and two sons, the elder now attending P.A.C., the second to commence in 1964.

J. G. MCKINNA

John Gilbert McKinna was invested by Her Majesty, the Queen, with the Insignia of Member of the Royal Victorian Order, 4th Class, at the conclusion of her recent visit to this State.

The Royal Victorian Order was founded in 1896 to be the Sovereign's personal Order, and at no time have recommendations for appointments to it been made by any Prime Minister. The badge of the Order, which has five classes, consists of a white enamelled Maltese cross of eight points having at its centre an oval of crimson enamel bearing the Royal and Imperial monogram of the foundress within a blue enamelled circle bearing the word "Victoria" in gold letters. The oval is surmounted by the Imperial crown. The ribbon is dark blue with a narrow edge on either side of red, white, and red stripes.

Brigadier McKinna, who had a distinguished war record, is the Commissioner of Police. He has an old scholar brother, Andrew, who holds a commission in the C.M.F.

HONOURS

L. T. OLSSON

Leslie Trevor Olsson, who was awarded the M.B.E. (Military Division) in the Birthday Honours last year, at present holds the rank of Major in the Citizen Military Forces and is the Senior Battery Commander 13th Field Regiment R.A.A. He originally joined this unit as a gunner in 1949. In 1959 he was Central Command representative in the Australian contingent which visited the U.S. Forces in Hawaii. To aid him in the conduct of his military duties he undertook basic flying training and now holds a pilot's licence for light aircraft. In civilian life he is a solicitor in partnership with his father and brother, Graham, who are both old scholars.

[We regret that the above was not recorded in the Chronicle last year. Major Olsson was invested by the Governor, Sir Edric Bastyan, last August. Ed.]

New and Retiring Committeemen

New — E. V. Cox

Mr. Eric Cox who was elected to the Committee at the Annual Meeting in November last, attended the School 1936-1939 during which time his main sport was football.

On leaving School he immediately entered the accountancy profession. His studies, however, were interrupted when he volunteered for service with the Royal Australian Navy and only resumed after his discharge in 1946. He is now a Chartered Accountant and a resident partner of Cooper Bros. and Co.

Mr. Cox has given considerable voluntary service to Apex and is both a past district governor and zone secretary of the Association of Apex Clubs. He is married with three children—two boys (the elder of whom is at the School) and a daughter.

Retiring — H. F. Gaetjens

H. F. (Bon) Gaetjens attended the School 1917-1925, and was a member of the Committee for almost ten years. During that time he was closely connected with the organizing of both golf matches (i.e. the close match and the match against Saints), and the close bowls match, with all of which he did an excellent job. He retired from the Committee at the Annual General Meeting on account of the pressure of business, and other activities. On leaving School he entered the family real estate business where he has been ever since. He is the Immediate Past President of the Real Estate Institute and the S.A. Executive Member of the Real Estate & Stock Institute of Australia and is a Fellow of that organization. He has always been an active member of the old scholars' Lodge and is Master this year. In his younger days he was a keen yachtsman with the Henley & Grange Club and nowadays plays golf at Mount Lofty and is also a member of Kooyonga.

New — M. B. McLachlan

Malcolm B. McLachlan attended Prince Alfred College from 1951-1956 and on leaving School spent two years at the Royal Military College, Duntroon. Whilst at Duntroon he gained a Colour in both athletics and football in his first year.

On the death of his father he returned to his family's property, and is now associated with an Adelaide firm of sharebrokers.

A prominent athlete and record holder, he represented the School in intercollegiate athletics 1953-1956, and was also a member of the First Eighteen 1955-1956. He was an active member of the old scholars' Athletic Club for eight seasons and in recent years a committeeman and club selector. In 1959 he represented the State in athletics.

Malcolm is a member of the Adelaide Junior Chamber of Commerce and became a councillor in 1962.

Retiring—P. E. Clark

Mr. Phil Clark, who attended the School 1912-1921, and is a former President of the Association, retired after fourteen years of very valuable service. Formerly chairman of the Old Scholars' football club and one of the most popular members of the committee, he said at the last Annual General Meeting, "I have enjoyed my time on the committee and I hope I have done a worthwhile job".

Mr. Clark was actively connected with the very successful fete held at the School after the last war and was for many years associated with Ellis & Clark Ltd. He is a former member of the Committees of the Chamber of Manufactures, Metal Industries, Apprentice Trades, and a past chairman of the Electrical Manufacturers' Association. He still plays tennis regularly in the summer and is a member of Kooyonga Golf Club. A son, Tony, is also an Old Scholar and has been actively connected with the Old Scholars' Football Club.

EDUCATION FUND

The education of all the children of Old Boys killed on active service has now been completed. The remaining fund is available, at the discretion of the committee, for the children of Old Boy ex-servicemen who have died since their discharge from war service, or failing any children within this category, for sons of Old Boys who shall die before their children's education has been completed.

Should any Old Boy learn of a child or children who may be eligible for the benefits of the fund, please inform a member of the committee so that the matter may be investigated.

Ted Nettlebeck will shortly complete his doctorate at the University of the Sorbonne in Paris. He was awarded a third year to his Overseas Scholarship. His brother Colin, who was prominent in jazz circles in Australia, is now gaining further experience in Europe.

Annual "Get-Together"

This was held at the School on Friday evening, 22nd February, and though the attendance was not quite up to that of previous years, it was an instructive and enjoyable function. The President, Mr. Don Davies, welcomed all those present and introduced various members of the Committee. He reminded the new Old Boys that they were attending their first function as Old Scholars, and he hoped it would be the first of many more. The liaison between the School and the Association was close and friendly and both benefited from the support of one another. It was, therefore, very necessary and worthwhile to join the Association. The President elaborated on this theme with several references from Mr. Ward's History of the School, and then made reference to several funds operated by the Association. Other matters mentioned were the Chronicle, country dinners, monthly luncheons, Old Scholars' Week, and the Public Schools' Club. All these matters, he stressed, were also responsibilities to be undertaken by the new Old Scholars in due course, and who would be expected to carry on the fine tradition built up by previous generations. Malcolm McLachlan then gave a comprehensive report on the various sporting clubs—football, cricket, athletics, squash, basketball—detailing some of their history, their successes, and the present officials. He also mentioned several close events—a bowls match and two golf matches held during the year. He stressed the need for young Old Scholars to support these clubs, and it was rather pleasing to note the number of boys who handed in their names as being interested.

The President then thanked the Headmaster for allowing the function to be held at the School, and members for their attendance. The film "Gretel!" was then shown and thoroughly appreciated by all present. We would express our thanks to Ampol Petroleum Ltd. for their generosity.

The President thanked the Sub-Committee: Messrs. Geoff Hall (convener), Bill Johnson, and Malcolm McLachlan. The evening concluded with supper and refreshments.

Mr. E. E. Cleland, LL.B., appointed a K.C.

PAST ISSUES SCHOOL CHRONICLE

Your Association has not, over the years, kept a complete record of previous issues. This, however, would be a proper and worthwhile thing to do, plus the fact that on occasions they would provide a handy and ready reference. Recently our old friend, Mr. Vernon Smith from Largs Bay, made a number available to the Association and any similar offers from other old scholars would be appreciated. If the Secretary was notified, he could arrange to have them collected.

D. L. Davies, President

Country Dinners

REPORT SOUTH-EAST

The Dinner this year returned to the top part of the South-East and was held at Bordertown on Saturday evening, 16th March, when once again there was an excellent attendance. Proceedings commenced with John Matthews saying the grace.

After submitting the loyal toast the chairman, Mr. Bob Francis (who, by the way, was absolutely untiring and unflagging throughout the evening) welcomed all those present and thanked his committee for their work and support, (Messrs. Colin Pitcher, Jim Simmons, John Matthews, and Jock Mattinson). The chairman then introduced members of the Adelaide party who included the Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, the Second Master, Mr. R. T. Smith, Dr. M. W. Evans representing the President, Mr. D. L. Davies (Mr. Davies unfortunately had to send an apology on account of illness), Messrs. Geoff Hall, Norman Harris, Eric Cox, Malcolm McLachlan, and Dr. David Riceman (members of the Association Committee) and Mr. John Caskey, who formerly lived in the South-East. Mr. Len Wicks presented the chairman with "the Duck" which now always makes its appearance at these dinners, for safe keeping for the next twelve months. Members then stood, gave their name and the year they left School.

Mr. Ren DeGaris, M.L.C., gave a very fine address in submitting the toast to "The School". He referred first to the tradition that lies behind Methodism—the personal acceptance and experience of responsibility which in time became the strength of the middle class, together with the evangelistic work of John and Charles Wesley which has been pursued to this day. These were the ideals of the men who founded the School and of the men who have since guided its destiny and taught its scholars. Old Boys past and present bear eloquent testimony to the success of this tradition and teaching, and must at all times project this spirit of service into the community.

The Headmaster in responding said he was glad to be present after an absence of some years due to the intercollegiate tennis clashing with the South-East Dinner date, and as Mr. Smith, the Second Master, was present he would also be interested to hear what he said about the staff! The School was in good heart and this was reflected in the way Old Boys of both Saints and Princes were playing their part. He then referred to the new assembly hall which it was hoped would be completed by Old Boys' Week, the proposed new laboratories (which would be built largely through the generosity of a fund supported by various Australian companies), and gave some information concerning the School chapel bequest. Turning to public examinations, Mr. Dunning said results had been excellent, and he paid tribute to the staff, mentioning in particular the late Maynard Close.

Led by Colin Pitcher and with Bill Lunn at the piano members then engaged in some community singing. The toast to "The Association" was capably submitted by Len Wicks of Lucindale. After referring to the objects of the Association, the speaker referred to his own years at the School and the influence which the School and the masters had exercised on his life. He stressed the well-known Australian saying "fair go" which by example we should practise in the community. The Association was there to remind us of our School days, our loyalty to the School, our common bonds of friendship.

Dr. Evans, in responding, said we were all very fortunate in belonging to the Association, one of whose strengths was its adaptability. He reminded members that the School had made no call on its supporters for a number of years, but that it was hoped to do something worthwhile for the centenary. The Association had a good and efficient Committee, with each man being given a particular job, and in this way an active interest was maintained in all activities. He then presented three Association ties to the following members: Brenton Koch, the youngest old scholar present, who left School in 1962; Wally Jenkin from Mount Shank, who had travelled the furthest distance; and Syd Makin, the oldest old scholar present, who left the School in 1906.

John Matthews in a very thoughtful address, proposed the toast to "The Masters" and referred to the enormous demands now made on both their academic training and their time for additional curricula activities.

Mr. Ray Smith, in responding, said masters at times get "browned off", but mostly they feel richly rewarded in having a stake in Australia's future and in the successes of their ex-students.

After discussion it was decided that the Dinner next year would be held at Mount Gambier on the usual third Saturday in the month, namely 21st March (the Convener, Wally Jenkin, 'phone O.B. Flat 241, would be pleased to hear from any new old scholar in the district). The chairman then thanked the hotel licensee and his staff for the excellent meal and service, and a good evening concluded with "Auld Lang Syne" and three cheers.

The Adelaide party wish to thank the local committee for having us as their guests at lunch on Saturday, and then for the excellent arrangements during the rest of their stay. A special thank you is due to Mrs. Simmons, and her helpers, Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Mattinson, for the wonderful afternoon tea on Saturday; also to the committee members and Jock Makin for the drive on Sunday morning. Colin Kirkham, a non old scholar, also deserves our thanks for the excellent film we saw entitled "The Good Country". Then finally thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Cook for the usual lavish meal on Sunday and who were ably helped by Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson.

Broken Hill Visit

With pleasant memories of our visit two years ago the following party went by plane on Friday evening, 1st March to Broken Hill: The Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning and his daughter, Miss Barbara Dunning; the President, Mr. Don Davies and Mrs. Davies; the Senior Vice-President, Mr. Jack Gerard; Mr. and Mrs. Brian Fricker; Mr. Malcolm McLachlan; the Secretary, Ross Johnston and Mrs. Johnston.

On arrival, after a good flight, we were met at the airport by the Broken Hill President, Mr. Jack Prider, and Mrs. Prider; Secretary, Bill Harbison and Mrs. Harbison; and committee members, Reg Glasson, Bill White, Eric Minchin, Alwyn Edelman, and their wives.

A pleasant and convivial social evening followed with an exchange of news since the last occasion. On Saturday morning Bill Harbison took some of the Adelaide party to the mines, whilst others had a look around the town. Local members were busy decorating the C.W.A. hall for the dance in the evening. This was well done with School flags, red and white balloons, red and white streamers, School shields and ferns. In the afternoon a trip was taken to the Triple Chance Mine just north of Cockburn. This rather amazing open cut mine running back into the hills is entered through a narrow man-made gorge, sufficiently wide for a truck to enter. Various other out-buildings and loading platforms were noted, whilst we were also fortunate enough to visit the very fine home of Mrs. Kumm, the mine owner, and inspect her collection of antiques, curios, and rock specimens. After some very welcome afternoon tea the party proceeded back to Broken Hill.

The dance in the evening was well attended and most successful. During the evening the President, Mr. Prider, welcomed the Adelaide party and also guests from kindred associations who included Mr. Ern Andrews (Saints), Mr. Ian Crossing (Scotch), and Mr. Jack Lyons (Pulteney). He then proposed a toast to "The School and the Association" and said the Broken Hill Members were always thrilled to see the folk from Adelaide—these days with modern aircraft they felt much closer to one another. Mr. Prider said though numbers were naturally small they were all very proud of the School and the Association and their loyalty to both was assured. He was supported by Mr. Alwyn Edelman, who seemed to be making sure of the next visit.

The Headmaster in responding for the School thanked everybody for their welcome and their hospitality and apologised for Mrs. Dunning. He gave details of the new Assembly hall, the proposed centenary appeal probably in 1967, the staff, making particular reference to the late Mr. Maynard Close, and reminded members that Mr. Davies was the son of a famous P.A.C. master, the late Mr. W. L. Davies.

Mr. Davies responded for the Association and thanked the committee and their wives for all the arrangements and said we were all very happy to be there. The President also referred to a number of Association matters, said we welcomed suggestions from country branches, reminded members of the Public Schools' Club in Adelaide where Dr. Clarkson was President, and said they would be interested to know that Mr. George Fisher was to be the guest speaker at the Annual Dinner. He concluded with, "We recognise your work as a branch and we thank you for it."

Later in the evening Jack Gerard led some community singing and School songs—if perspiration counted for anything he did a really good job. This very happy evening concluded with a streamer dance and the National Anthem.

On Sunday a very pleasant picnic outing was held at Pine Creek Station, just south of the border, where Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomaeus were our hosts. Altogether six cars made the trip and the weather was splendid for such an occasion. Luncheon was served under the shade of some trees and a wonderful meal it was. Don Davies and Jack Prider both thanked Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomaeus for hosting such a large party. This, however, was followed by an even more wonderful cricket match, where the ladies and children batted and the men did the bowling. In this connection the Headmaster hardly looked up to Test Match standard on the sandy wicket, whilst, frankly, Jack Prider and Bill Harbison were both rank failures as wicket keepers. On the way back the car in which President Davies was travelling got stuck in some sand and later a piece of wire caught underneath it. Though the President was first out to help, we understand that he rather spoilt his efforts with some fairly direct remarks to local President, Jack Prider, concerning his driving. It was left to Mrs. Davies to smooth things over.

For the evening meal the Adelaide party invited the branch officers and their wives to be their guests. The meal was somewhat hurried at the end on account of having to catch the plane at 8 p.m. However, we eventually made it, and later reached Adelaide after a very happy week-end.

In answer to several enquiries since received, concerning Mr. Malcolm McLachlan, the answer is, "No, he is not married, but it is rather significant that he is the only member of the committee in that category and it is confidently expected that the position will be remedied during the next ten (10) years."

At the following committee meeting two reports were made available to the committee—one from Mr. Jack Gerard and one from Mr. Prider. To date no action has been taken for two reasons—firstly, because the reports differ very widely, and secondly because the President has been temporarily indisposed. [We understand Mr. McLachlan has offered to present a third report—we further understand that nobody is very interested in his offer—Ed.]

A very big thank you to everyone at Broken Hill for such a well organised and successful gathering.

Sports

BASKETBALL CLUB

We regret that it has not been possible to reform the club for this coming winter season. There were sufficient players for a team, but this did not allow for any reserves, and so it was decided not to proceed at this stage. With a further number of basketball players leaving School at the end of the year numbers should be sufficient in 1964. When notices were sent out recently calling a meeting many of those receiving them did not reply nor indicate in any way whether they were interested or not. This is hardly fair to the convener and in future some reply in writing or by 'phone would be appreciated. Any interested players for next year—other than those who were available this year—are asked to send in their names and addresses to the Association office.

ATHLETICS CLUB

The 1962-63 season proved to be the most successful for some years, with the club very narrowly missing out on a place in the top three and so a chance for the premiership. Brian Dyke and Philip Day took out State titles in the hammer and 440 hurdles, respectively, and were joined by Peter Whitham (two mile walk) in the South Australian team for the Australian Championships.

Membership again increased through the year, and by the end of the season we were well able to fill our three teams in all but some of the field events. In this department we still lean heavily on Brian Dyke who would be very happy to see a few more broad shoulders there to help him bear the field games load.

The cross-country season is about to commence, and we will be represented by a strong winter team under the leadership of dynamic club captain, John Harvey.

Intending runners are invited to contact John or the Secretary, Graham Crawford, C/- Prince Alfred College, for registration forms and numbers.

The club would like to thank those members of the Association committee who acted as officials during the season. This action was greatly appreciated by senior athletes who were thus enabled to concentrate on running, and also proved encouraging to the more junior members, knowing that such interest was being shown by the Association.

Thanks are also due to those Association members who were appointed to the club committee, for their interest and support, and as always to the School and to Mr. Connell for training facilities and coaching.

SQUASH CLUB

The summer season is over and the best that the club could do was to be runner-up in "F" Grade. These lads, in their first full year with the club, did a very good job in getting as far as they did and were beaten by a more experienced team in University Graduates. Better luck next year.

The Annual General Meeting was held last month and Peter Dalwood and Bob Oliver were again elected secretary and treasurer.

The winter season begins the week after Easter and we have entered five teams, so there will be vacancies for any aspiring players, who can contact the above named persons or M. Barton, I. Day, R. Butler, R. Byrne, P. Noblet or B. Fricker.

PERSONAL

Cricket

Five old scholars represented the State last season in Sheffield Shield Cricket—John Lill (vice-captain), Brian Hurn, Ian Chappell (including a brilliant 149 against N.S.W.), John Ducker (captain of Prospect's premiership team), and John Causby.

Others playing "A" grade cricket included David McWaters, who left School last year, Tom Watt, Peter Eaton (Prospect), Peter Willoughby (Adelaide), Jeff Rogers (Glenelg), Bruce Walker (captain), Don Trowse, David Oaten, Tony Clarkson (University), Brian Pittman (Kensington), and Robert Day (West Torrens).

John Lill won the cricket umpires' award as "Cricketer of the Year" for the second time and was top of the District batting averages. Brian Pittman who commenced District Cricket in the 1948-1949 season has now taken his total of runs past the 5,000 mark. He was third in the District averages.

Bob Gibbs was selected in the Adelaide Turf team which played against the Victorian Junior Cricket Association in Adelaide.

It is interesting to note that the late Clem Hill, with Queensland partner, Roger Hartigan, still holds the record eighth wicket partnership in Anglo-Australian Tests. Both Batsmen made centuries—Hill securing 160.

A combined S.A.C.A. side defeated a combined country team by one run recently. Klynton Kitto was the outstanding bowler for the country side with 5 for 61, whilst Robert Day was top scorer for the S.A.C.A. team with 34 not out.

Old Scholars noted playing in the Country Cricket Carnival were Graham Ashby (a century maker), Graham Chapman, David French, Bruce Paterson and Klynton Kitto.

Rex Jettner, as well as being Captain of the Taylorville Cricket Club, is a member of the Morgan Council, and President of the Mid-Murray Football Association.

Tennis

Ern Hunwick, Treasurer of the S.A.L.T.A., was one of the two delegates who succeeded in getting the Davis Cup Challenge Final for South Australia next December.

Ron Hone is on the S.A.L.T.A. Council and is chairman of the coaching committee.

Gavin Battye is chairman of the Associated Clubs' committee which controls district competitions and is also a council member. Bob Piper, Bill Johnson and Ken Baker are also on the council of the controlling body. Bill is chairman of State selectors, and was Captain-Manager of the Linton Cup team. He reached the semi-final of the City of Adelaide Championships (single) and with his partner won the doubles championship.

Amongst those playing district tennis are Ted Little (Woodville), Bill Johnson and Wayne Jackson (West Torrens), Ken Baker, Bob Edgeloe and Bill Tasker (the latter is still at School).

Doug Young and Les Martin, for many years prominent in country tennis championships, were this year both defeated in the semi-finals of the men's doubles.

Barry Sumner (Lameroo), and Trevor Richards (Tintinara), were both prominent players in Country Tennis Carnival team's matches.

Bowls

Howard Greenslade was the skipper of the Maitland team that won the country "Fours" championship. Last year this event was won by the River-ton Rink skippered by his cousin, Lionel.

In the matches, town versus country, Lionel Greenslade played for the country whilst Ernie Dawkins, Merv Evans and Jack Fricker were in the city team.

Keith Angel, current holder of the Kensington Gardens championship, caused a major ripple in bowling circles when he pressed the Australian Singles Champion, Ellis Crew, to a last bowl decision in the "Masters" Championship.

Ross Stanford, former interstate cricketer, after winning the Lockleys Club Championship reached the last sixteen in the "Champion of Champions".

Edgar Caust and Alan Crosby have been elected to the executive committee of the Royal South Australian Bowling Association.

Norm Royal has been made a life member of the Caltowie Bowling Club.

Taking part in special matches the following names were noted—Howard Greenslade against the touring American bowlers, Charlie Catt and Len Clarkson for the city against the country, Ern Dawkins for South Australia in the recent All Australian Carnival in Perth.

Athletics

Peter Whitham, Philip Day and Brian Dyke were in the South Australian team for the Australian track and field championships held in Adelaide recently.

Football

Don Brebner has been appointed Commissioner for Country and Junior Football.

Max Basheer is Chairman of League Commissioners. Mr. C. J. Glover is a proxy commissioner.

The former two are also members of the League Boundaries Commission.

Ian Hannaford won the trophy for best player for Port in the major round.

Reference was made in the October 1962 issue to Old Scholars playing in Norwood's Grand Final team of 1907. Ern Smith was another member of that team and was also in Norwood's premiership teams of 1901 and 1904.

Golf

Dr. Bruce Lawrence is Vice-President and on the committee of the Mount Osmond Golf Club.

R. G. Eaton and G. M. Cox won a four-ball bogey at Kooyonga early in the new year.

Brian Faehse won a Stableford—A Division—at Glenelg, and Lindsay Mills and partner a four-ball Stableford at Glenelg.

Lionel Greenslade, Michael Perry, Howard Edelman, Ken Babidge and Gordon Rinder have also been prominent in club events.

General

Peter Dalwood is now President of the Grange Surf Life Saving Club.

Dr. John Jackson is manager of the Australian Table Tennis team which is at present touring overseas.

Bill Coombs is secretary of the Game Fishing Association of Australia.

CRICKET CLUB

Once again the club fielded two teams in the Adelaide Turf Cricket Association and enjoyed its most successful season for many years. The grade A1 side played very well throughout the season and were rewarded by reaching the Semi-finals whilst the grade A5 side showed improved form and finished well up the premiership list.

Throughout the season enthusiasm was high and both sides played with great team spirit. Amongst the many reasons for our improved performance was the very good attendance at practice throughout the year and the large number of new players who joined the Club. If the keen interest of this season is maintained, and young players continue to come into the club from the School, even better results can be expected.

Much of the credit for the success of the A1 side must go to Bob Gibbs who spear-headed the bowling attack and finished the season with sixty-two wickets including the remarkable feat of four wickets in four balls. During the Christmas period Bob also represented the club in the combined Adelaide Turf Cricket Association side which played a Victorian side and finished the match with six wickets. Murray Wellington, thirty-four wickets, and Colin Forrest, twenty-nine wickets, were the other two mainstays of a very strong attack. On the batting side captain, Malcolm Doley, played well to top four hundred runs while Murray Olsson, Ted Norman and Murray Wellington were others who did well. Our new wicket keeper, Ian Pascoe also deserves a mention for his performance behind the stumps.

For the A5 side, Tom Moore was the main wicket taker with forty-one victims, while Bill

Gibbs and Des Ayres gave good support. The batting was the main weakness of this team, the best efforts for the season coming from Andrew Pontifex and Don Packer.

The season ended with a most enjoyable match against the School; our team winning on the last ball of the day.

During the year five Old Collegians were awarded player life membership of the Adelaide Turf Cricket Association — Dr. Mervyn Evans, Lloyd Letcher, Murray Wellington, Ted Norman and Peter Dalwood.

The Annual Dinner was again held at the Public Schools' Club with Norman Angel in the Chair, and was very well attended by both players and members. The headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, the Association President, Mr. Don Davies, Mr. Ken Webb (an Old Scholar), representing the Adelaide Turf Cricket Association, Dr. Mervyn Evans and Mr. Brian Fricker, members of the School Council and Association Committee, were in attendance. Trophies were presented to Malcolm Doley, Andrew Pontifex, Bob Gibbs, Tom Moore, Ian Pascoe and Don Packer.

The club would like to express its appreciation to both the Headmaster and the School for their assistance during the season, and also to all those who helped the club in many ways during the year.

FOOTBALL CLUB

The 1963 season is now under way with the club fielding teams in A2, A2 Reserve, and A5 grades of the Amateur League competition.

We are fortunate in having Bill Johnson again as our coach, for the third year in succession, who is confident of an even better season than last year. All old scholars who are interested in football are invited to join him on the parklands oval on Tuesday or Thursday evenings for his usual intensive work-out. It is pleasing to note the increased number of young players at practice, as they prove to be of great assistance in strengthening the club. All who do join can be assured of a most enjoyable season, both from playing football and from the numerous social activities throughout the year. A function which will interest all old scholars is a Past versus Present match to be held at the Kangarilla oval on 19th May. Details of this picnic outing can be obtained from the social chairman, Ian Wallace (84771), any member of the executive committee (Chairman, Ted Norman, (718666); treasurer, Ian McKay (716092), or secretary, Tony Clark (35772)) who would also welcome any other queries regarding the club.

We would like to thank all those who have supported the club through the years, especially the Headmaster (without whose continued interest and help in the matter of grounds, the club would not be in the position that it is today) and hope that we shall retain their support for the coming season.

CLOSE GOLF

This event will be played at the Grange Golf Club on Thursday, 20th June. Notices will be sent out to those members who have played previously. Any other interested member should forward his name to the Secretary or to Mr. Eric Cox, 21 Anglesey Avenue, St. Georges, telephone 512628 (business) or 792069 (private).

Subscription for ordinary membership is £1/- per annum.

TWENTY-FIVE-YEAR MEMBERSHIP

Subscription for twenty-five-year membership is £15/15/-.

RECEIPTS FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Owing to the high cost of postage, unless requested, receipts for subscriptions paid by cheque will not be posted in future.

Tennis v. Saints Old Scholars

Both Associations again nominated twelve players for this match which was played at the Sturt Club courts on Wednesday afternoon, 20th March, when we were again favoured by fine weather.

Princes were represented by John Haigh (captain), Bill Johnson, Graham Gabb, Wayne Jackson, Ken Baker, David Williamson, David Rowe, Brian Fricker, Peter Chapman, Peter Millhouse, Dean Davies, and Geoff Trott. The match resulted in a very solid win for Saints—the scores being exactly the same as last year, 9 rubbers 19 sets to 3 rubbers 12 sets. We were down 5 matches to 1 on the first round, and showed little improvement in the second round, though Peter Chapman and Geoff Trott are to be congratulated on winning a hard three set match. Bill Johnson and Graham Gabb playing as first pair won both their matches and played very well. Several late withdrawals weakened the team somewhat, but Saints were far too good and we offer them our congratulations. It looks as if Princes will have to take stock of their position and go in for some team building.

Afternoon tea was served in the clubhouse where Mr. Keith Sims (chairman of Saints) on behalf of all present thanked Mrs. Ross Macdonald and Mrs. Bruce Roberts for attending to this necessary part of the afternoon's entertainment.

Spectators were fewer than in previous years and so it will bear repetition to say again that ladies and children are most welcome.

In the evening the usual dinner was held at the Public Schools' Club, with Mr. Keith Sims as chairman. Other top table guests were Rev. J. S. C. Miller (Headmaster of Saints), Mr. J. A. Dunning (Headmaster of Princes), Mr. Dick Potter (Master at Saints), Mr. Glen Luke (Master at Princes), and Mr. Ern Hunwick who was representing Mr. Don Davies (President P.A.O.C.) who was unable to attend on account of a leg injury.

Mr. Miller gave the grace, and later the chairman submitted the Loyal toast. After introducing the guests he welcomed all those present, which included the players from both teams and officials from both Associations.

Mr. Hunwick submitted the toast of "The Two Schools". Referring to tennis particularly he said he felt the game had attained its rightful place in school sports which befitted the standing of a game played world wide. Sports between different schools drew the schools and the scholars more closely together, and in this regard Saints and Princes valued their rather unique relationship. On such an occasion as this we, as old scholars, owe much to our schools.

Mr. Dunning, in responding for Princes, thanked members for their kind invitation. Nowadays sports play a big part in the life of a school, but every attempt was made to keep them in proper perspective. Mr. Dunning said he would like to pay a tribute to the extra work done by masters in coaching various teams and supervising their matches.

Mr. Miller, in responding for Saints, said it was a great pleasure to be at the dinner, and he hoped that the good relationships between the two schools would continue. Intercollegiate events both at school and between old scholars were a great tradition going back over many years. Mr. Miller reminded members that he had Mr. Ward's history of the school and was waiting for someone to undertake a similar task in relation to Saints.

The chairman in presenting the E. T. Rowe Cup to Michael Brookman (captain of Saints), said everyone had enjoyed the game in the afternoon and the venue appeared to be very satisfactory. On behalf of all present he offered congratulations to the Saints players on their win. Mr. Brookman said they were very pleased to have had another good win and he thanked all the players for a pleasant afternoon and evening, and also those responsible for the arrangements which really made the captains' duties rather nominal.

John Haigh, in congratulating Saints on their win, said it was the only time he had captained a tennis team except where he owned the court. He said Princes players, and he felt sure this applied also to Saints players, looked forward to this match and dinner each year.

The chairman then thanked the Club Manager (Mr. F. D. Clark), and his staff for an excellent dinner; Don Forster (Saints), and Bill Johnson (Princes), the respective conveners, and thanked everybody for their attendance.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' CLUB

The Club has continued to make steady progress and is being well supported, particularly in relation to various old scholar functions which are organized by the foundation associations and their associated clubs. Country members particularly will be interested to know that as from 1st March this year residential accommodation on a limited scale has been available. Bookings and further details can be obtained by contacting the Manager, Mr. F. D. Clark. This service represents a further step in the progress of the Club.

TOKENS AND TIES

Tokens are available at a cost of £1/-/- from the Association Office.

Ties are available at the Association Office or from J. Craven & Co. Ltd., Rundle Street, Adelaide. Prices are as follows: wool 12/6, silk (old style) 5/-, silk (new style, navy blue with a small badge design) 27/6.

Owing to the unprecedented demand for the new silk ties, stocks are temporarily exhausted, but new supplies are expected shortly.

Bowls v. Saints Old Scholars

Wednesday, 13th February saw the usual good attendance of players at South Park for what proved to be a very exciting match. As the scores from the various rinks came to hand Saints continued to maintain a handy lead and with only one rink to finish were in front, 212—200. However, we were apparently underestimating the prowess of Dr. Evans' rink which included the Headmaster, Mr. Dunning, and Messrs. Craven and Jarvis, who had a convincing win, 29—9 and so carried us to victory, 229—221. The evenness of the match was also indicated by the fact that each side won six rinks. The two committee rink games, which do not count in the scores, also resulted in a win for each side.

The match was played under ideal conditions and it was a pity there were not more spectators—in particular the ladies, who had their supper in the club house towards the end of the match. After the match supper was served on the verandah where Mr. Keith Sims, Chairman of Saints, congratulated Princes on their win and handed over the Lucy Shield to Mr. Don Davies, President of Princes. He also thanked South Park for having us all there once again, and the staff for preparing the greens and the supper. He also thanked the conveners, Maurice Brown (Saints), and Merv. Evans (Princes). Three cheers were called for Princes.

Mr. Don Davies, in responding, said Princes were glad to have won if only by a narrow margin—a bit too close to be comfortable. He also supported Mr. Sims in his votes of thanks and said he was sure everyone would be looking forward to the match next year. He called for three cheers for Saints.

Close Bowls Match

This popular social gathering was held at Toorak Bowling Club on Wednesday evening, 27th February when over 100 Old Scholars took part. One or two rinks had to play short, as members who had sent in their names just did not turn up and did not worry to let anybody know. This makes the event difficult to organise and somewhat spoils the evening for other players. If, therefore, in future, you have sent in your name and are not going to play please let the convener know and he will arrange for a substitute—after all, this is only a reasonable request.

The weather was quite good, the greens excellent, and some of the bowling had to be seen to be believed, or maybe it was as someone suggested, "The rinks are a bit too close to one another." Supper was served in the club house, where the President, Mr. Don Davies, after saying they were all pleased to see the Headmaster and Mrs. Dunning, thanked the ladies (convened by Mrs. Davies) for the supper arrangements and the floral decorations. He also thanked Dr. Evans for arranging the date with Toorak and Messrs. Robert Craven (convener) and Jack Gerard for organising the match. The President then particularly welcomed Mr. Eric Dallwitz (President of Toorak), who had been playing in his rink, and asked him to convey to the club our sincere thanks for their hospitality and the excellent arrangements. This was carried with acclamation.

Mr. Dallwitz, in responding, said it was always a great pleasure to have Princes Old Scholars play their match at Toorak, and he hoped we would be there again next year. After thanking Mr. Davies for inviting him to play, he said, "I doubt whether I have seen more crafty bowlers anywhere even if they are not so skilled."

The President then presented Association ties to the rink winning by the greatest margin, 35—5: namely Sam Ford, Lance Burton, Ken Babidge and David Rowe [I am reliably informed that their opponents did not stay to supper—Ed.]; and also to Bill Johnson, the winner of the spider. The President concluded with "Thank you for coming along and we hope to see you all here next year."

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Please note that the subscription for life membership has been increased to £36/15/-.

MONTHLY LUNCHEONS

The monthly luncheons are held at Balfour's Cafe, King William Street, on the third Tuesday in each month at 1.00 p.m., and country members are especially invited to attend when visiting the city.

Interesting addresses have been given by the following guest speakers:—

Rev. W. C. S. Johnson, "The Community's Part in the Cure of Alcoholism"; Mr. Alf. Brumhead, "South American Trade Mission"; Mr. Neil Hopkins, "My Attendance World Conference E.S.U. San Francisco"; Dr. S. I. Evans, "The Old Boy and the Future"; Mr. Ron Metcalfe, "Australia's Migration Problem".

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Old scholars are reminded that copies of Mr. Ward's most interesting and valuable book of the first eighty years, 1867-1948, of Prince Alfred College are still available. No old scholar can afford to be without a copy of this valuable record. Copies bound in red cloth at £1/-/- plus postage are available from the School Bursar or the Association Secretary.

ASSOCIATION RECORDS

To enable our section of the Chronicle to be a history of the doings of Old Boys and to enable the Association to keep proper records, you are asked to forward to the Secretary names of any deceased members, items of interest relating to the doings of members, and in particular, changes of address.

Interstate Branches

LONDON

The Annual Dinner this year will be held at the Oxford and Cambridge Club on Friday evening, 12th July.

The Honorary Secretary, Dr. Stanford Howard, whose address is 148 Harley Street, London W.1., is most anxious to hear from old scholars resident in the U.K., and those who may be visiting at this time. Early contact with Dr. Howard will enable him to send the usual notice at a later date. The dinner is always a most successful and interesting occasion.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

President: Dr. F. E. Gallasch, 56 Stirling Highway, Nedlands.

Honorary Secretary: John Livingston, C/- Lebel Australia Ltd., 37 St. Georges Terrace, Perth.

The following programme has been arranged for 1963 and all members are asked to note the dates well in advance.

5th July—Combined Sundowner.

25th July—Annual Dinner at C.T.A. Club.

4th October—Combined Sundowner (Show Week).

6th October—Golf: P.A.C. v. Saints.

13th December—Combined Christmas Cocktail Party—for members, wives, and friends.

All Sundowners at Naval and Military Club.

It is hoped that all members will give their support to these functions and thus ensure their success. Any old scholars who are not on the Branch mailing list are asked to notify the Secretary.

Honours are even after our first two sporting fixtures with Saints this year. In the cricket match we managed to field twelve a side, each team batted for two-and-a-half hours and, following the call for brighter batting, 358 runs were scored with the "Blues" running out winners by 10 runs. David Mayfield, Eric Smart, and Leigh Kelly journeyed from the country to take part and Felix Freebairn and Con Bussenschutt were among the spectators. The support of these out-of-town members is most encouraging. Among those giving instructions to players from the sidelines were: Stan Wreford, Stan Dimond, Bill Rogers, Frank Gallasch, Jim Glasson, and Ross Leak who filled the important role of official P.A.C. scorer. We are again indebted to Peter Moyes, Headmaster of Christchurch Grammar School, for allowing us to use the College grounds and facilities. Incidentally, Peter contributed in no small way to Saint's success as the following details show:—

Batting

P.A.C.—Ken Hewitt, 90 retired; David Mayfield, 2; Alec Dawkins, 6; Bill Chapman, 11; John Livingston, 11; Brian Kelton, 28 retired; David Kirkman, 0; Geoff Jones, 8; Eric Smart, 1 Leigh Kelly, 1 n.o.; Viv Martin, 1; Rick Dimond, 8; sundries 7; total 174.

S.P.S.C.—Geoff Edmunds, 19; Dick Fenner, 54 retired; Neil Smith, 0; Ken Harley, 29; Merv Muggleton, 28; Jim McKenzie, 10; Peter Moyes, 24 n.o.; Ian Yeoward, 11 n.o.; sundries, 9; total 184.

Bowling

P.A.C.—Mayfield, 1 wicket; Chapman, 2 wickets; Hewitt, 1 wicket; Kelton, 1 wicket.

S.P.S.C.—Moyes, 3 wickets; Edmunds, 5 wickets; Halcombe, 1 wicket.

The bowls match was again held at the South Perth Club and we are indebted to Spencer Haslam for making the necessary arrangements and for skipping Princes' team to victory by the narrow margin of 3 points. Among those participating were: Ross Leak, Vernon Dawe, Brian Kelton, Frank Gallasch, Don Flavel, Jim Glasson, and S. H. Haslam.

Personal

Vernon Dawe received his M.B.E. Award at an investiture during the Queen's recent visit.

David Kirkman is on a three-month trip abroad and hopes to have the opportunity of including Russia in his itinerary.

Rex Morgan is spending his long service leave touring Australia.

NEW SOUTH WALES

The branch president is Gordon Glasson; vice-president, Noel Johnston, and secretary Don Spry, telephone 44 6543.

Candlelight Dinner

A buffet dinner for members and their wives was held at "Ye Olde Crusty Taverne" on Friday, 23rd November, and some forty guests were present. This promises to be an annual affair, if the popularity of the last two functions is any indication, and represents one of the few opportunities for the wives to meet. This agreeable establishment was built in 1840 and achieved distinction as a gathering place for functions of all types, under the guidance of our good friend and old red, the late Leo Buring, who took it over in 1931. The old world atmosphere is carefully retained in the cool cask rooms under George Street, and any old reds visiting Sydney would do well to visit the Taverne for luncheon at "Ye Longe Boarde".

Of special interest at this year's gathering was a Newington College old boy, Tom Milner, whose father was number three on the School Roll, in the period, 1870-1882.

Personal

Brian Monfries, who is a credit officer with Deposit & Investment Co. Ltd, was badly injured in a car accident at Bathurst in early February. At the time of going to press he expects to be transferred from Bathurst District Hospital to Ryde District Memorial Hospital for what appears to be a lengthy convalescence. We were all greatly shocked at the news and are hoping that Brian will not be handicapped in any way as a result. Apparently much depends on the outcome of fairly complicated leg surgery at the present time.

Brian was Sydney president in 1959-60 and for many years has been a solid member of Sydney Branch.

Arnold Weidenhofer, manager, New South Wales for John Lysaght (Aust.) Ltd., was entertained at the Wentworth Hotel prior to leaving for overseas with his wife, on an extended trip to Japan and the United States of America. Arnold rarely misses a Sydney function and lends his unqualified support to any project in hand to keep the flag flying here.

Dr. Henry Brose, oldest of Sydney's most honoured old reds, will be credited with translation in 1922, of a scientific book "Space and Time" by Professor Schlick, soon to be published in a paperback edition in English.

David Harvey was appointed rural advisor to Holbrook and District group this year, and his address is P.O. Box 59, Holbrook, New South Wales.

VICTORIA

President: John Badcock, 13 Ranfurly Drive, Glen Waverley.

Secretary: Peter Newman, C/- Allbright & Wilson (Aust.) Pty. Ltd., 610 St. Kilda Road, Melbourne (51 6991).

Barbecue

A most successful barbecue was held at the home of Charlie Crompton at North Balwyn on 9th December last. The delightful setting, combined with the sizzling chops and sausages, was enjoyed by thirty-five members and their families.

Golf

The Committee had planned a golf day to be held early this year for members but to date unfortunately we have been unable to secure the facilities of a private club or suitable public course.

Annual Dinner

A firm booking for the Annual Dinner this year has been made at the University Union Hall and we hope this occasion will be an even bigger success than 1962. It is very pleasing to see our active membership list in Victoria now stands at 194.

Any member residing in Victoria who is not on our membership list is urged to contact the Secretary at the above address.

QUEENSLAND

This is a composite branch known as the South Australian Schools' Association, with old scholar Phil Coles, Secretary and Treasurer as he has been for many years. His address is C/- National Mutual Building, 293 Queen Street, Brisbane, and he would be pleased to hear from any old scholar taking up residence in that State.

Monthly luncheons are held on the last Thursday of each month at the Albert Hotel, King George Square, and reminder notices are sent out to those members who request one. The Christmas Dinner Dance was held at Tattersall's Club on Friday, 30th November, and was a very successful function. The Secretary has one of the new alternative Association silk ties, which have been so well received everywhere. Any member desiring to purchase one should forward 27/6 together with his name and address to the Association Office in Adelaide.

BROKEN HILL

President: Jack Prider, C/- Station 2BH.

Secretary: Bill Harbison, C/- North Mine.

A full report of the visit from Adelaide is contained elsewhere in this issue. Committee members are to be congratulated on their help and co-operation for this occasion, which was most successful and appreciated by all up here. The usual Annual Dinner will be held on the same night as the Association Dinner in Adelaide (Thursday, 25th July), and we are hoping for a record attendance. Please notify the Secretary if you are not on the branch list and also any changes of address.
