Editorial

A most significant occasion is rapidly nearing us; however, whether we realize its importance and true meaning to us is quite another matter. We all know P.A.C. celebrates its centenary in 1969, but have many of us really considered what has happened here during those years? The question deserves much attention.

Materially, now more than ever before, the development of the School is swiftly accelerating. New buildings are being constructed and major improvements are being introduced on the average at intervals of only two years. What has taken place since 1955 is quite amazing when we realize that no notable building development had occurred prior to that date since 1936 when the Preparatory School was rebuilt. Then, eleven years ago, the War Memorial classrooms were erected, followed by the opening of the modern and extensive Ward Library. 1963 saw the completion of a truly magnificent Assembly Hall which has quickly become the centre of our school activity and daily worship. The much-awaited new Science Block was opened in 1964 and the old science laboratories were modernized and renovated at considerable cost in 1965. The result of these two projects was to provide all forms with modern, well-equipped science lecture-rooms and laboratories—a great boon to the teaching of sciences in this School. The next few years are to see the fulfilment of even greater and more expensive projects. The boarding house has indeed become old (though not greatly so in comparison with many such houses that still exist today) and is to be redesigned and refurnished. Besides this costly task, a completely independent new boarding house is to be constructed. A swimming pool is also on the development programme.

Why should the School expand? What does it do for us which makes it worthwhile for this to happen? In order to explain this, we might say the School is a large, specialized training camp with an intake comprising mainly young boys aged twelve. The product that leaves the School five years later is hardly recognizable any way as the raw material. For, during those five years, the student is subject to intensive training and developing courses which he may or may not realize at the time. Even though the School has changed greatly in appearance since its inauguration, its purpose will always be fixed. It is the place where a young boy is outfitted for his future life. The School trains him to think clearly and logically and above all to recognize that he has a mind of his own which he should continually use to the best of advantage. He is encouraged to worship regularly, to play sport often and to join hobby groups and other activities. Much of this seems to many students to be a needless waste of time. How wrong can they be? This training and advice gives him a purpose and direction for his life. If he accepts it and takes advantage of it, he is bound to lead a happier and more fruitful life than he otherwise would.

Recognizing the value in this world of the well-equipped citizen that the School produces is perhaps the main reason why our Old Boys want the School to continue to prosper and expand. Practically all who leave the School continue to feel affinity and warmth toward it. They remember the experiences they had here, the work they did and the masters who taught them. This feeling for the Old School causes them to be patriotic towards it. They want their children and others to be prepared for life in a similar way, and so, as a result of this feeling, Princes progresses and is developed largely by the assistance of its old scholars.

Just as the foundations of P.A.C. were laid in 1867 and it has looked forward ever since, using every chance that it can of developing and improving itself, so too, we, the students that are educated by it, should do the best we can by using the foundation the School gives us—the wealth of background experience—as a stepping stone in life towards the successful realization of the occupation or position which we wish to take in this world. We know what is right, we know how to do what is right—the College has shown us this for almost 100 years—it is up to us to do it and be thankful for our lesson.

D.K.B.

MR. M. J. A. STAGGS, I.S.O., M.B.E.

After nearly eighteen years of valued service to the School as Bursar, Mr. Malcolm Staggs retired from the staff at the end of 1965.

Prior to his appointment to the position of Bursar at P.A.C. Mr. Staggs had had a distinguished career in the Indian Civil Service. In recognition of his services as an administrator in India he was honoured by being awarded the I.S.O. and the M.B.E.

Mr. Staggs carried out his duties as Bursar with the utmost courtesy, patience and efficiency. He was thorough and methodical in all that he did, and could always be relied upon to come up with the right answer whenever any query arose about any aspects of School administration for which he was responsible.

Immediately after his retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Staggs left for an extended tour overseas. Our good wishes go with them, and we hope that there will be many years of health and happiness ahead for them both.

School Notes

All Old Boys and parents and many friends of the School have been receiving literature giving information about the P.A.C. Centenary Fund Appeal. At the time of writing these notes, the two launching dinners have been held and much preliminary work has been done. About twelve country or interstate dinners have been arranged. The workers for the appeal, and they number hundreds, are confident that the target of half a million dollars will have been reached by the time the intensive phase of the appeal ends in June. Our next issue will have a full account of all that has been done and all that is planned.

The teaching staff in the Preparatory remains the same as it was in 1965. In the Senior School, we welcome Mr. R. J. Jones, Mr. R. D. Willcocks and Mr. J. G. Bowden who replace Mr. A. S. Holmes who has moved to Westminster School and Mr. R. F. Jones and Mr. A. P. Campbell, both of whom have transferred to tertiary work.

Mr. M. J. A. Staggs, I.S.O., M.B.E., retired at the end of January after having given magnificent service to Prince Alfred College for eighteen years. A tribute to him and his work is printed in this Chronicle.

We welcome our new Bursar, Mr. J. R. Stewart, and trust that he enjoys his work with us.

The 1965 Scholarships at Leaving Honours were awarded as follows: Edward Spicer, J. H. Loxton; E. B. Colton, D. F. Cooper; Old Collegians, W. F. Heddle; Longbottom, F. D. Jones; Malpas, R. L. Noble.

Full details of the 1965 Public Examinations are printed elsewhere. Our results at the Leaving stage were outstanding. 107 boys gained certificates and there were 131 A and 216 B passes. D. K. Barrie, R. E. W. Hancock and D. A. Sandow won three of the thirty bursaries awarded to metropolitan schools and thirty-six boys were awarded Commonwealth University Scholarships.

At Leaving Honours, J. H. Loxton was placed second and D. F. Cooper seventh on a General Honours List, shortened this year to sixteen names. W. F. Heddle won a Leaving Honours Bursary and D. F. Cooper was awarded a Gowrie Scholarship.

At the Intermediate, M. R. Raupach had nine and N. G. Martin eight A passes. Martin was awarded one of the two J. J. and Lydia Eden Scholarships granted on the Intermediate examination. They are given to the candidates with the highest total in seven subjects, provided History or Social Studies is among the subjects taken.

The number on the School Roll in the first term is 884 (Senior School 637, Preparatory 247). There are 158 boarders in all, 20 of these being at the Preparatory School. Twelve of the twenty are fourth-form boys.

The renovation of the old chemistry lecture room and laboratories was completed during the long vacation. The lecture room and junior laboratory combine to make a fine unit for the teaching of the new Intermediate Science course. In July, the commencement of the new triennium for Commonwealth Aid for Science laboratories, we shall receive a grant of $10,100 towards the cost of the alterations. In addition we look forward to a grant of $6,000 for scientific apparatus, much of which has already been purchased and is in use.

Major work carried out in the long vacation included cement paving of a large area around the classrooms in the Preparatory School, painting of the exterior of some classrooms, the renovation of III Upper East classroom, and the resurfacing of all the hard tennis courts.

As in 1964, the College Council granted the Festival of Arts the use of the Assembly Hall. "Sound and Image" was presented for a season of ten nights and it was pleasing to hear favourable comment upon the Hall from many who attended.

The Annual Meeting of the Parents and Friends Association was held later in the term than usual and there is no report of it in this issue of the Chronicle. The use of the Hall for the Festival and the necessity of avoiding a clash of dates with Centenary Appeal Fund functions were responsible for the alteration. Professor B. S. Hetzel was guest speaker at the third term meeting.

The 1965 Intercollegiate cricket match ended in a draw, with rather too much defensive cricket being played by both sides. G. Chappell is to be congratulated on a fine all-round performance, and he and his captain, Woodcock, on a most successful year. The School congratulate Ian Chappell, our captain in 1960, upon his selection in the Australian team in the recent Test series against England and in the team to tour South Africa next year.

The School Swimming Sports again proved most successful, and the School did well in both the State life-saving and the swimming relay championships.

We congratulate A. Brown upon his selection in the State swimming team for the national championships in Brisbane, and P. Dalwood who won the silver medal in the Junior High Jump at the national meeting in Perth.

The cadet band now plays quite an important part in the work of the cadets and also in the preparation for the house march at the Sports. We congratulate the members and Mr. Baker on their success in the Band Association Championships.

We were successful in a very closely contested tennis match against St. Peter's College. The general standard of play was higher than in recent years. Well done, Mr. Gabb, Green and members of the team.

Old Boys were awarded 9 of the 118 later year Commonwealth Scholarships, bringing the total awarded to old and present boys to 45. Successful Old Boys and the University courses being taken were as follows:

Architecture: A. R. A. Dibden, W. M. Maughan, D. S. Paine; Engineering: A. H. R. Brookman, B. F. Craven; Law: A. A. Burdett; Medicine: K. M. Mitchell, P. J. Tamblyn; Science: I. D. Hill.

It has been much easier this term for our crews to compete in regattas on the Port River as the College now has a trailer fitted to carry one eight and two fours. Coaches and boys who row are very grateful to Mrs. P. S. Woodruff and her helpers for their great help in this connection.

We acknowledge with gratitude the gift of a lectern Bible, "Revised Standard Version", from the family of the late D. H. Babidge. It was dedicated to his memory by the School Chaplain at a morning assembly early in the first term.

Annual School Service

The service took place on the evening of 12th December and was preceded by an organ recital by Brian Wheatley. The School Choir, directed by Mr. Rolland May, Mus.Bac., opened the service with a lively rendering of the introit "Merry Christmas" (James) and later sang the Anthem "As with Gladness Men of Old" (Handel). Mr. Mark Symons, B.E. was the organist for the service which was conducted by the College Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters, B.A. Simon Tregoning, Captain of the School read St. Matthew's version of the Parable of the Talents (Matt. 25: 14-30) which was the focus of the Headmaster's address.

NO BOY NEED BE A FAILURE AS A MAN

In the realm of public examinations in South Australia, we are seeing the end of an era. In a few years, P.A.C. boys will know as little of what Leaving Honours now means as present boys know of the significance of the Higher Public Examinations for which their grandfathers sat. Yes, Leaving Honours is giving way to the so-called Matriculation Examination. But this is not all, for 1965 is the last year in which we are to have passes and failures in individual subjects in the Intermediate and Leaving examinations. And so at the end of 1966 boys and girls will not gain or fail the Intermediate Certificate or the Leaving Certificate.

For far too long in this State there has been an undue, almost a ridiculous, importance attached to the gaining of the Intermediate Certificate. I have spoken at Parents and Friends Association meetings and at speech days about this. In interviews, I have spoken thus to parents. When I first came to P.A.C., on occasions I felt that failure of a son to gain the Intermediate Certificate was almost a blot on the family honour—that the boy had disgraced the family in the eyes of neighbours, friends and relations. Over the years I have sensed an improvement in the attitude. Now I hope the idea is about to die.

But it is not this type of failure that I am thinking of tonight, though the idea of my subject did come to me as I was thinking of the impending change in the method of announcing intermediate and leaving results. For my part, those not gaining their certificate, who worked reasonably well, were not really failures at all, whereas quite a number of those who passed would be failures in my book. These are the ones who with plenty of natural academic ability, had squandered their time and not given of their best.

But many of you at this time are sick and weary of examinations and of talk of examinations, and so let us move away from them.

Jesus in his teaching makes it patently clear that the failure is the man who does not use the talents entrusted to him. For instance we have what at first sight seems a rather hard and cruel statement. "Whosoever hath, to him shall be given and he shall have abundance, but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath". But does not this mean that knowledge acquired opens the way to further knowledge, but the person who makes no advance gradually loses the little he had. The chief lesson of the well-known parable of the talents read to us this evening by Tregoning is that natural and spiritual gifts are bestowed by God, to quote the words of St. Paul, "to each according to his several ability", but, unless used, these gifts become useless. Negative morality availed the one-talent man nothing.

You are a failure if you do not use these gifts that are bestowed on you. No matter how the world regards you, you are still a failure. You are, indeed, a tremendous success, if you go on making the fullest use of these gifts, no matter how small they may seem to be. As use is made of the gifts, so they will develop and you will be given further opportunities for service and wider responsibility. You are a success, even though the world may not rate you as such.

No boy need be a failure when he grows to be a man.

Now, boys, it is often said, and I think rightly said, at meetings of our headmasters conference and in many other places that the three main influences on your lives should be home, school and church. Each should do its utmost to exert a good influence on you. In Physics you learnt something about action and reaction. As home or school or church acts on you, so, to some extent, you must exercise an influence on them.

But school days come to an end. When you become a man, home and church remain, but the school is replaced by, what I shall call, for lack of a better term, your occupation or your work.

I propose now to pass on a few thoughts on what any man has to do in these spheres as he goes through life to be a true success.

In his work, be he a great business executive or one of his lowest paid employees; be he famed in one of the professions, or the person who cleans his rooms; be he millionaire or pauper, he must give of his best.

He must be courageous, for courage is needed in the humdrum of everyday life, just as it is in battle; he must discipline himself; he must grow more and more efficient.

But it seems to me that, more than ever before, one thing needs saying today. With all the mechanization in the modern world, with its computers and with its electronic gadgets, there is still no substitute for honest work and I would add, for absolute honesty. When you go out to employment, boys, there will always be workmates to tell you that you are a fool if you work steadily all the time, that there is something wrong with your make-up if you do not help yourself from time to time to things that belong to your employers. The number of convictions in the courts for offences ranging from major frauds to minor shop-lifting is staggering, and, let us not deceive ourselves, the number reaching the courts is only a small fraction of the total number. As you go through life, there will scarcely be a day when you are not tempted. Temptations will come your way—minor ones—to help yourself to a few shillings of the boss's money. Major ones, to bring off a smart deal or to commit an illegal act, where the money involved is large.

In the Commandments, we read "Thou shalt not steal". This order should be as demanding today as it was thousands of years ago. There are no shades of colour here between black and white. What you do is either honest or dishonest—you either steal or you do not steal. So if you wish to be a true success, yield not to temptation.

I now digress for a moment to say something of particular application to the younger boys and their parents. In Sydney a few months ago the figures were published of the number of school children who had been caught stealing in the large stores in the last few months. It ran into thousands, and one must, I am afraid, assume that thousands more were not detected. All types of schools were involved. Quite a small proportion had been prosecuted in the courts. At first I was amazed at the large number, but then, on further thought, I said to myself, "Should I not have expected it in the light of my experience of Adelaide and of Prince Alfred College. During the last few years, I have had brought to my notice and have had to deal with far too many instances of thefts from shops, and even the occasional case of boys under sixteen years of age helping themselves to cars, sometimes belonging to their parents, but not always so. Our experience in this direction is not unique. One of the most awkward problems in schools is always petty thieving. Schools and parents must continue to stress again and again, "Thou shalt not steal". Just over a hundred years ago, the punishment was barbarously severe and cruel. Are we too lenient today?

Life in a good school does not consist of classroom lessons alone. To reap its full benefit, a boy must take his due share in the other activities. So a man, without neglecting work or home, should take some definite part in the life of the community. There are many avenues of service. A few are called to serve in the parliaments of our land, more in the sphere of local government, others in trade associations and trade unions. A glance at the appeal lists in the daily press shows just how many worthy causes—charitable and otherwise—are calling out for helpers.

Be warned, however, that you do not let your interest in your work or your interest in some form of community endeavour get out of proportion—become so time-devouring—that you neglect your home life. This can grow on you so easily—almost imperceptibly, without you noticing it. Yet no man can be rated a success in life if he has neglected his home life. Social workers know just how many problem cases of broken homes or of child delinquency have their origin in this lack of balance in the life of one or both parents.

No boy is destined to be a failure on account of heredity or environment. Both may make the road to failure an easier one. All will agree with the truth of this, as far as the millions of underfed and starving boys living in shocking conditions are concerned. But I say and say advisedly that the road to real failure is also made very easy for some who live in the lap of luxury in this prosperous-economy age.

Pray God that this good land of ours never again has to go through the toils and troubles of the depression years of the early thirties. Some of us remember them well; others lived close enough to them to be able to conjure up a good picture of what they were like. My experience is that the boys of the last decade just cannot believe that such times existed in Australia.

It could well be a good thing for us all if a miracle could happen so that every boy in this city, on reaching the age of sixteen (he should then be able to think and judge for himself) were spirited away to live for a month in the Adelaide of the early 'thirties. Many would return with a different outlook and would face life differently. They would have some idea of what their parents or grandparents endured. I am sure they would respect them more and would be less critical of them.

A great responsibility is thrown on the shoulders of parents in our affluent society who, as it is said, have never had it better. Many face up to their responsibilities well, are wise in the guidance of their children, withstand the pressures exerted by their children, pressures so much more powerful when inspired by advertisements in the press, radio and television. But others fail miserably—some through the very pressure that they allow their own business or professional affairs to exert on them—some through their desire to miss nothing in the social swim—some through sheer selfishness in placing the demands of the club, of golf, above all else—some, I fear, through being caught up in so many good works and finding themselves unable to say "No" to requests to join further committees. As a result of one or other of these reasons, not every young man in the making is given the parental, and particularly in many cases, the father's care and supervision in his most important and impressionable years.

In no area is the call to service greater than in the work of the Christian Church. It is sad and a catastrophe to think that so many who call themselves Christian regard this in much the same way as being a member, say, of the S.A.C.A.—as involving the right to use the church buildings and the minister for baptismal, wedding and funeral services because it is the right and proper thing to do, (just as S.A.C.A. members can go to the oval for test matches and football finals)—the right to say what is wrong with the church and the minister without doing anything about it (whereas a S.A.C.A. member has as one of his privileges the right to criticise).

I have said before at these services that the greatest problem of the Christian Church is not the open opposition of the non-believer, but the stultifying apathy of so many who call themselves members of Christian denominations on census forms and of course on application forms for entry of their sons to our schools.

"He that is not with us is against us", and how many of us who are so-called Christians and even full church members are not really on the side of Christ. The call to be ordained men will come to a very few of you, but the call is ever there for service in the work of the Church. A man need not be ordained to be a true missionary in an undeveloped land as a tradesman, a farmer, a dentist, a doctor, and in many other ways. If the call comes, answer it—the call may be for life or for a limited time—but there is a call to all to help in the work of the local church, no matter what the denomination—not only by giving money but, which is more important, by giving of your time and talents and becoming a true follower of Christ.

Often when a man considers the number of people on this globe, or in Australia or even in Adelaide, he may well ask, where there is so much to be done at the place where he works and more so in the church, what can be the effect of the little that he can do? If he does not play his part, there will really be no difference. In Britain in the blackest days of the last great war, the workers in a munitions factory decided that their motto should be IADOM, the first letters of the words, "It all depends on me." Though the workers thought that they had been working at full pressure, yet the output of that factory increased enormously from the time this motto was adopted and each worker lived up to it. Again may I tell you in very brief outline the story told in a children's address here in this church a few weeks ago by Mr. Broomhead. There is no time to tell it as he did, nor have I the Broomhead ability to make a story live. In a big freeze in Britain the B.B.C. announced in the morning news that there were 1,983,777 burst water-pipes throughout the land. When the thaw came, a poor small town plumber became so obsessed with the thought of there being 1,983,777 pipes to mend that he could endure life no longer and decided to bring it to an end. But, when he got to the top of the cliff, the rocks below looked awfully hard, the cold, seething surf most uninviting; so he decided to go to the local for a couple of beers before throwing himself over the cliff. When he came to pay, the landlord said that he did not want any money but he wanted two burst pipes mended. The plumber tore his hair, as he thought of 1,983,777 pipes again, but decided he had better do the job. He went back home for his tools—reputedly a habit of the trade—and, as he worked on the job he gradually became more settled—and then began to rejoice in his work. By the time he had finished, he was his own self again and spent the rest of the day cheerfully mending as many pipes as he could. Are we not all very much like the plumber at times in our work? And how true it is of the attitude of many of us to the work of the Church. We see so much to be done, and so we do not face up to the work. Robert Louis Stevenson once said "We are damned not for doing wrong but for not doing good."

Have you noticed the marble step at the main door of the school? It is worn down on the side that is usually open. Hundreds of thousands of feet have trodden on it. The marble has been worn by, in boxing terms, feather weights, light weights, middle weights, heavy weights. Each has had its effect—so with the talents that are given us and the great work we have to do.

The challenge to you boys as you grow to men, and as you live your allotted span, is to make full use of your talents in your work, in your home and in your church. I suggest you give some thought to these verses which I came across in an article entitled "What are you worth?"

"Supposing today were your last day on earth,
The last mile of the journey you've trod.
After all your struggles how much are you worth?
How much can you take home to God?"

Don't count as possessions your silver and gold,
For tomorrow you leave them behind.
And all that is yours to have and to hold
Are the blessings you've given mankind.

We are only supposing, but if it were real,
And you invoiced your deeds since your birth,
And you figured the profits you made in life's deal,
How much are you really worth?"

I wonder what my balance sheet will be like?
We shall all have much on the debit side. I hope you boys will end with a big credit balance.

Speech Day

The Assembly Hall spacious as it is, was again crowded on Friday, 17th December for Speech Day, 1965. Proceedings opened with prayer, which was offered by the School Chaplain, Rev. R. K. Waters, B.A. After this the President of the Conference, Rev. R. S. Brown, addressed the gathering and called on the Captain of the School, S. L. Tregoning, to present the Games Report for 1965. The Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, O.B.E., M.A., M.Sc., M.A.C.E., then spoke: he gave the assembly his report on the life and achievements of the School during the year and then asked the Guest of Honour to present the prizes.

We were honoured to have in this capacity the Reverend Dr. W. F. Hambly, M.A., President-General of the Methodist Church of Australasia, who spoke, on behalf of the whole Church, of the high regard in which the School is held, and said that all who had taken full advantage of the opportunities it offers deserve to be congratulated. His main theme was "The Value of Tradition". Tradition, he said, must be distinguished from history, being really something handed on because found to be a good guide to conduct. Some things seem constant, such as reading, writing and the science of number, which were necessary for communication and for protection against the manipulation of statistics, and religion is a fourth art constituting a necessary part of education. Traditions, he insisted, must be examined by scientific experiment. We must ask whether segregation of the sexes in education is to be permanent, whether full use is being made of school buildings, whether one group of schools should continue to be set against another. At a time when the world, life, and even God have come to mean different things from what they meant fifty years ago, we must wonder what Education would come to mean. There is the frightening possibility that we may come to learn how mind works, and that people will learn to manipulate this. The greatest responsibility in life will continue to be the making of decisions; Christian schools, we trust, will enable their pupils to make their decisions in love, on the pattern of Jesus Christ their Master.

When the prizes had been given, the President of the Old Collegians Association, Mr. R. B. Craven, thanked the President-General and the Blessing was pronounced.

THE HEADMASTER'S REPORT

Mr. President, Mr. President-General, ladies and gentlemen.

I have the honour to present the ninety-seventh annual report on the work of the College.

My first duty, and a very pleasant one, is to say how glad we at Prince Alfred College are to welcome the President-General and Mrs. Hambly to our Speech Day. Dr. Hambly has had to travel so much both within Australia and overseas during the past six years that we are indeed fortunate that he could accept our invitation to be our guest of honour today.

To you, Mr. President, we extend a very warm welcome, on this your first official visit since your election. Many of you will know that the President of the S.A. Conference is, by our Act of Incorporation, President of the College. Until the commencement of your year of office, the President has acted as chairman of meetings of the College Council, but a change has now been made. I should like to assure you, sir, that this is in no way a vote of no-confidence in you. The Council now holds evening instead of late afternoon meetings. Experience has shown that the President has so many evening engagements that he must attend that it is quite impossible for him to be at more than one or two of our meetings each year. The Council, therefore, decided to appoint a chairman and vice-chairman so that continuity could be maintained. Dr. Hambly is now the Chairman and Dr. Mervyn W. Evans Vice-chairman.

The number on the school roll at the beginning of the year was 897, of whom 642 were in the Senior School. The gradual increase in our numbers over the last few years is due almost entirely to the larger number of boys remaining at school for four, five and six years of secondary education. It is good that this is so, but it does mean that our class-room accommodation is taxed to the limit.

I am often asked what I consider to be the optimum number for our secondary school. I am firmly convinced that we should not have more than four first year forms. This means a total of from 630 to 650 unless there is a marked change in the average time that boys stay at school. For instance, a change, as in New South Wales, to a six-year secondary course would increase this number to well over 700. I think that a larger school must lose something in the personal contact between headmaster, staff and boys, and also between the boys themselves. An additional reason as far as this school is concerned is that the area of our grounds is such that we should not be able to provide adequate sporting and other facilities for a larger number.

This was a remarkable year in that we have had the same secondary teaching staff as in the last half of 1964, and there was only one change in the staff of the Preparatory School.

There is to be no change in the Preparatory School staff next year, but three masters who have been teaching mainly leaving and leaving honours work are leaving from the senior school. Mr. R. F. Jones and Mr. A. P. Campbell are leaving the secondary field to undertake tertiary work, and Mr. A. S. Holmes transfers to Westminster School where he will be senior history master and a house master. We are grateful to all three for what they have done for the school. I know the others will forgive me if I pay a particular tribute to Mr. Jones's excellence as a mathematics master. Secondary education can ill afford to lose such a teacher.

I am very happy to report that I have appointed three masters with wide teaching experience and excellent records to take their places. Unfortunately for the cause of education in this State as a whole, our gain means that the State Department is losing two senior masters from large city schools.

Our examination results in 1964 must surely have been as good as we have ever had—at leaving honours, 5 of the 26 places on the General Honours List, and all were first-year honours students, 3 Leaving Honours Bursaries, Shell Scholarship and B.H.P. Prize to R. G. Jarrett; at leaving, 23 Commonwealth University Scholarships, 34 Commonwealth Secondary One-Year Scholarships, The Thomas Price Scholarship and The Advertiser Prize for first place in the State to J. H. Loxton, a Leaving Bursary; at Intermediate, 36 Commonwealth Secondary Two-Year Scholarships, 3 Intermediate Exhibitions, 5 Continuation Exhibitions. Gowrie Scholarships were awarded to D. K. Barrie and B. V. Hocking, and J. J. and Lydia Eden Scholarships to Barrie and G. W. Stephens, and in both cases only two scholarships were awarded to students who sat for the 1964 Intermediate examination.

Despite the excellence of these results, we received just as much joy and satisfaction from the general standard of the results of the less gifted pupils. As examples, the intermediate C form averaged 5.8 subject passes per boy, and in leaving Mathematics I and II we had a 90 per cent. pass rate.

In view of our 1964 leaving honours results, it is interesting to note that all fourteen of our Old Boys in first year medicine were successful in passing. Six gained distinction, and four of these were placed 1st, 4th, 6th and 8th in the year.

Next year will see a great change in our public examinations. As far as I can tell no system is perfect but I am certain that the impending changes are all wise ones. My one fear at this stage is that the new matriculation may lead to excessive cramming and coaching in the final year at school. This will be accentuated by the necessity for imposing quotas in certain faculties at the University of Adelaide. Experience shows that excessive pressure and cramming in the last year is often a bad preparation for University work. Despite this fear, the new matriculation examination must prove beneficial, though minor changes in the regulations may have to be made in the light of the experience of the next few years.

In 1963, I was able to report the opening of this Assembly Hall, and in 1964 of the new senior laboratories. In each year, the College had been able to purchase several of the adjacent properties. This year I cannot tell you of any new buildings or of the purchase of further property. However, the work of converting the old chemistry lecture room, junior laboratory and store room to modern standards as a cost of approximately £6,000 is almost complete. The cost of this work will ultimately be met by the Commonwealth Government whose help is appreciated. £5,000 will be paid to us in July 1966, and at the same time we shall receive £3,000 to cover the cost of scientific equipment purchased for this and the other laboratories.

Contributions from our weekly collections for charitable and other worthy organisations and appeals amounted this year to £503. In addition, more than £200 was raised for Community Aid Abroad by efforts organised by the senior boys. An active group of Preparatory School boys has raised £40 for Legacy by a series of small efforts held right throughout the year.

Kent Town Methodist Church celebrated its centenary with special services in October. These services had a special significance for Prince Alfred College, and in particular for the boarders who have worshipped there for 97 of the 100 years of the life of the church. Kent Town Church and Prince Alfred College mean a great deal to each other. We appreciate the assistance we receive from the church, and I know that the folk at Kent Town are ever mindful of how much the College means to them.

There are now so many activities in the life of the school that this report would be far too long if I attempted to tell you a little about each of them and to pay even quite inadequate tributes to the masters and others who devote so much time to them. I do suggest that you study the two Chronicles issued each year to see just how much is done.

It has not been my custom to speak at length in my annual report on behaviour problems, though I have mentioned them in my address at the end-of-year Church Service. I do think that it is well to maintain a sense of balance in our thoughts on the behaviour of secondary boys and girls and to remember that very often it is a small minority of boys and parents who do not exercise common sense. Unfortunately what these few do is so evident both within and without the school. The majority of boys are good, sound young citizens. My experience in this school is that many work just as hard or harder at their studies than those who criticise them. Most are willing and co-operative in doing good works. I am pleased that many take an active part in church life, though I wish that all did.

As is usual in my reports, I now express my thanks to all who have in any way at all helped the College and helped me personally during 1965. This is no formality, for I, better than anyone else, know just how many people are involved—the College Council, members of all branches of the staff, boys from the youngest to the Captain of the School, Old Boys and friends. Without the help of all these and others, the College could not function as it does.

Others to whom thanks are due will pardon me, I am sure, if I make mention of two people. The first is the Captain of the School for 1965, Tregoning. He has proved an inspired leader and has set a magnificent example.

The other is the School Bursar, Mr. M. J. A. Staggs, who retires in January after giving this College magnificent service for 18 years. During the time he has been at Prince Alfred College, the number on the roll has increased from 665 to 897, the amount paid in salaries from £16,000 to £97,000, in wages from £7,500 to £29,000, on house expenses (excluding wages) from £7,500 to £21,250. The income from boarding fees has increased from £13,300 to £50,000, tuition fees from £25,500 to £153,000 and total income from £40,000 to almost £200,000.

With great thoroughness and devotion, he has carried out the multiplicity of duties, many of them tedious and annoying, which fall to the lot of a bursar to perform. He has lightened my burden enormously and I am indeed grateful. Mr. Staggs, all in any way connected with this school, trust that you and Mrs. Staggs will be blessed with good health in your trip overseas next year and wish you every happiness in your retirement.

Finally, may I wish the boys who are leaving success and happiness in the future, and wish you all the compliments of the season.

House Notes

Third Term 1965

School House entered the third term of 1965 with quite a comfortable lead in the House Competition. The first inter-house activity of the third term was the house debating in which the School House team of Don Barrie, Bill DeGaris, Robin Day and Ian Parish was victorious.

In the Senior House Cricket, however, we were not quite so successful, as we filled fourth position, in spite of creditable efforts by Kym Mueller, John Mitchell, Chris Parsons and Bill DeGaris. Mitchell and Mueller gained places in the Intercollegiate Cricket team and are to be congratulated on their consistent performances throughout the season.

The outstanding success of the junior house cricket team was due largely to the remarkable performance of Michael Page, Kym Herriot and Bruce Agars. The latter two were selected in the First XI practice squad, a rare distinction for junior cricketers. The inter-house chess competition was not very successful for School House and we finished fourth. As has been the custom for many years now, School House did not score very well in the schoolwork competition, but the percentage of subjects passed by boarders in the P.E.B. examinations was equal to and in some cases higher than the percentages obtained by the School.

In spite of the smaller number of house points gained in schoolwork, School House were still able to win the House Cup by a comfortable margin for the second year in succession.

First Term 1966

School House began 1966 with only one change in Resident Staff. Mr. Chamberlain left the boarding-house and is now teaching at River-ton. His place was taken by Mr. Speakman, who is at present attending Law School at the Adelaide University. Of last year's prefects we welcome back Robin Day (as Head of the Boarding House) David Angel, Bill DeGaris, Don Barrie (as School Prefects), and Chris Parsons. New prefects this year are John Pfeiler (also a School Prefect), Jim Nicholls, Russell Nicholls, David Nicholls, Ian Brooks, David Sandow, Bruce Schmidt, David Keynes, David Tregoning, Grant Brown, Ian Parish and Roger Manning.

In 1965 the boarders met with considerable success in the P.E.B. examinations. In the Leaving Examination, Commonwealth University Scholarships were obtained by Don Barrie, David Sandow, Bill DeGaris, Ian Parish and Bruce Schmidt. In the Intermediate Examination, Michael Page and Robert Scragg were awarded Commonwealth Secondary Scholarships. David Sandow and Don Barrie, with their results of 6 subjects, 6 As, each won a Leaving Bursary. As there are only approximately 30 awarded in the State, this was an outstanding achievement.

The first house competition of the year was the swimming sports in which School House were unlucky to finish third, only four points behind Bayly House and one point behind Waterhouse House. Outstanding individual performances came from Jim Ashby, who won the Under 15 freestyle and broke the record in the Under 15 sidestroke, Gordon Hoad who won the Under 13 freestyle event, and the Under 16 relay team of Overton, Bruce, Scragg, and Bailey who broke the record in this event.

School House this year has two representatives in the First VIII. John Pfeiler is stroke of the Eight and captain of Boats and Grant Brown is bow. We are well represented in the Second VIII by Chris Bailey, Peter Overton, Peter Charlick and Robert Lewis, all of whom row on bow side. The cox of the Second VIII is Nigel Rowe.

Three boarders have been selected in the Intercollegiate Tennis team. Russell Nicholls is No. 1 single, Don Barrie is No. 6 single, and Ashley Nicholls is No. 7 single. These boys are to be congratulated along with Bruce Schmidt and David Angel who were unlucky to miss selection.

With Sports Day soon and Standards being run, we need convincing wins in both these competitions to enable us to make 1966 the third year in succession in which we have won the House Cup.

BAYLY

Third Term 1965

The completion of the third term, 1965, brought an end to a very successful year for Bayly House.

The successes early in the year were followed up in the first couple of weeks of the third term by our three-run victory over Waterhouse in the senior house cricket. This was a very exciting match and could have been won by either team.

Bayly had four representatives in the Intercollegiate Cricket team in 1965, these being Andy Compton, Simon Tregoning, Graham Sweeny and Greg Chappell, who batted and bowled magnificently throughout the match. The house congratulates these boys on their selection.

First Term 1966

This year Bayly has four school prefects: C. Green, P. Dalwood, R. E. W. Hancock, and R. F. Brinsley, and in the first meeting of the year, R. F. Brinsley was elected House Captain, C. Green, P. Dalwood, R. E. W. Hancock and Lellman making up the House Committee. This year Mr. Brown is master-in-charge and, through his interest and encouragement, quite a marked degree of house spirit is already present. Messrs. Crawford, Allen, Nicolson, Jones and Gabb are also house-masters this year.

In the annual school swimming sports, which were held at the Norwood Pool on 4th March, Bayly gained its first victory for the year. We narrowly defeated Waterhouse, who at the start of the open relay, were still ahead. However, in one of the most exciting races of the day, our strong team won by no more than two feet from Waterhouse and Bayly were winners by two points. We congratulate every boy who swam, especially the open relay team and M. Richardson, who greatly contributed to Bayly's win by gaining first place in a number of events.

Bayly has three representatives in the First XI, and we congratulate Graham Sweeny, John Nelson and Roy McEwin for their achievement. Also we congratulate Green, Craven and Wicks upon their selection in the final ten for our Intercollegiate Tennis match, and Hudson who is rowing in the First VIII.

This year we are taking a great interest in athletics, and with the help of Mr. Crawford, we are looking forward to doing well on Sports Day.

WATERHOUSE

Third Term 1965

After a good start in the first and second terms, the third term generally proved disappointing for Waterhouse House. We finished third in the cricket, and consequently were unable to provide the necessary competition to defeat the ever-strong School House.

We congratulate A. Woodcock (Captain), M. Gray and G. Hugo, who played in the Intercollegiate Cricket team, and also last year's House Captain, B. J. Richardson, on his selection in this year's King's Cup crew.

First Term 1966

At the first House meeting of the year, R. Hall was elected House Captain and the following were chosen on the committee to represent the various sports and inter-house activities. M. Gray (School Captain), T. Mayne, R. Hetzel, P. Brebner, P. Rowe, G. Hugo, T. Finnegan, R. Lower, A. Brown, R. Bickmore and P. Drever.

Our house masters this year are Messrs. Harvey, Bowden, Basedow, I. Gray, Glancey and McFarlane. Once again Mr. Harvey, as master-in-charge, has taken a keen interest in house organization.

The annual Swimming Sports this year gave Waterhouse House a good start. Although we did not win, we led the points tally for most of the afternoon and lost by only two points to Bayly after an exciting end to the Senior Relay. The Under 13 age group proved to be very strong, by providing a winning relay team, and it is pleasing to see the enthusiasm displayed by the younger boys. We again congratulate A. Brown on his achievement in being the outstanding competitor at the sports.

Our only representative in the Intercollegiate Tennis team this year is R. Bickmore, who is playing in his third Intercol. We are well represented in the Cricket team by M. Gray (Captain), G. Hugo, T. Finnegan and R. Lower.

P. Rowe (Captain) and P. Brebner have been giving good performances at athletics. Although the entries for sports day have been reasonable, extra effort at standards is required from every one in the house if we are to do well.

Most prominent in the cadets this year from Waterhouse are U/O R. Hall, W/O I I N. Kahl, and W/O I I C. Wagner, while in the Scouts R. Hetzel is a Senior Troop Leader.

The First VIII this year includes T. Mayne, P. Brebner and G. Stewart (cox) from Waterhouse, while there are two members in the Second VIII from the house.

After a pleasing beginning this term, Waterhouse is looking forward to a successful year (provided that the enthusiasm of the younger boys is maintained).

COTTON

Third Term 1965

Although Cotton has been very successful over the past few years, 1965 saw us take a position in the House Competition far too low to be satisfactory.

The senior house cricket team did well to finish equal second with Waterhouse, to a strong Bayly side, while the junior section also shared second place with Waterhouse. There were two members in the Intercollegiate Cricket Team—these being Stephens (third Intercol.) and Hamilton.

Our enthusiastic master-in-charge, Mr. R. Jones, has left to take an appointment at the Institute of Technology and we wish him good fortune.

First Term 1966

Although Cotton has made its customary slow start, with lack of success in the swimming, there is promise of a good display in the School Sports, and the attendance at standards has been pleasing. The Committee for this year comprises Hamilton (House Captain), Brown, Hocking (School Prefects), Stanford and Provis.

Our new master-in-charge is Mr. Woollard, and we hope that some of his boundless enthusiasm fires a considerable number of house members into keen activity. Other masters assisting are Messrs. Ashenden, Baker, Fowler, Claver, and Willcocks.

There are four members of the First XI in the house, these being Green, Hamilton, Hocking and Stanford. Brown carries the house colours in the tennis team, while Crompton (his second year) and Provis row in the First VIII.

In the cadets, Baynes and Bloomfield, both C.U.O.s, are important members, and with Paine, a Troop Leader in the sea scouts, maintain Cotton House's representation.

Heywood-Smith is to be congratulated on his American Field Scholarship and it is hoped that his visit will be as enjoyable and profitable as possible.

With a determined effort by every member, especially in schoolwork, Cotton can rise to its rightful position at the head of the House Competition.

Scout Notes

Once again we take our pen to write a report of our activities. Throughout 1965 a high standard was achieved and maintained in all the troops and in the Rover Crew. It was a record year for camping and hiking—starting with the Jamboree in Dandenong; three troops in camp at Easter and another in the May holidays. The two senior troops hiked through the Flinders in August and there were also a record number of first class hikes, patrol week-end camps at Mylor and Goolwa, and several week-ends for Patrol Leaders at both these places. In all there were over 1,600 nights under canvass—showing some 10/11 nights per group member. This is certainly putting the "OUT" in Scouting.

Already many plans have been made for similar activities for 1966—with a few changes here and there. The junior troops (1st and 4th) will camp as usual at Kuitpo and Goolwa, but the Seniors (3rds) will hike from the mouth of the Finnis River via Ashbourne to Kuitpo. The 2nd troop (Senior Sea Scouts) will have their usual sailing camp at Goolwa in the May holidays and there will be two separate ventures for both Senior troops in August. At the end of the year is the great South Australian Corroboree at Woodhouse and already many have signified their hope of being present. There are always so many to thank and congratulate—and so we single out only the two who gained their Queen's Scout Badge—P/L P. Garrett and P/L M. Ockenden. They have shown great determination and tenacity over many years to gain this coveted award.

5th Troop—S/S B. Hocking, C/S G. S. Martin (in U.S.A.), C/S R. Close (in U.S.A.).

Rover Crew—A.R.S.L., D. Trim; R/M, R. Evins.

We conclude this rather briefer report than usual by once again expressing on behalf of all in the Group our very sincere thanks to Mr. R. L. Whitham (President) and Mr. C. Rogers (Hon. Sec.) and all the committee and members of the Scouts' Parents and Friends Association for the great help and encouragement they have steadfastly given us throughout the year. They raised considerable amounts of money; they helped run a most successful Jumble Sale; they assisted in running a most enjoyable Christmas Party and have supported us in many other different ways. We hope their reward will be seen in the most satisfactory state of our Group here at Prince Alfred College.

Cadets

After much training, the cadet year was brought to a climax with the Ceremonial Parade. The sight of 250 cadets, N.C.O.s and Officers dressed neatly in starched greens was very impressive and the wearing of summer dress was also appreciated by the cadets. Brigadier Veale inspected the Unit, and presented prizes to A. Brailey (most efficient first year) and Sgt. G. C. Fergusson (most efficient second year). C.U.O. D. Cooper was presented with the Sword of Honour. The Platoon Cup was won by C.U.O. Horner's platoon, after a close tussle with C.U.O. B. Richardson's platoon.

A team, captained by C.U.O. D. Bloomfield, won the Jake Rudall shoot during the third term.

During January 1966, about forty cadets attended the courses of instruction at Woodside. Outstanding results were gained by J. A. Woods (second in A. and Q.), R. E. W. Hancock (first in Sig./Int.). Lowrey was highly placed in the Assault Pioneer Course, and cadets Stewart and Gilbert did well in the medical course. All potential under-officers passed the course. Good results were obtained but there was a very poor attendance. This indicates that too few boys are willing to accept responsibility on a voluntary basis. It is hoped that next year more boys will attend the courses and take on leadership now, rather than when it is forced upon them by someone who has drawn a dated marble out of a barrel.

On 16th February, all cadets descended upon Warradale en masse. First year cadets received their initial issues and all second years changed their old winter service dress for modern battle-dress.

There are four first-year cadet platoons in "B" Company commanded by C.U.O.s R. J. Hall, R. F. Brinsley, D. Bloomfield and D. A. Tregoning. In "A" Company there are three platoons. 1 Platoon is the Medical/Assault Pioneer platoon commanded by C.U.O. G. C. Fergusson. 2 Platoon is the Signals Intelligence/Infantry platoon and is commanded by C.U.O. B. P. Bidstrup. 3 Platoon, commanded by J. S. Baynes, is the 2nd Infantry platoon.

Training is now well under way and many interesting lessons are being taught to the cadets. During the first three days of the May holidays, a bivouac will be held at Deep Creek on the South Coast. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance of N.C.O.s and cadets and that they will put to good use their fieldcraft and weapon training.

In Memoriam

In the early evening of New Year's Day a light aeroplane crashed at Canopus Station in the north of South Australia.

Five people were killed.

The School discovered with horror that three of the victims of the disaster were young boys from the Boarding House—David and Bill Radford; and Peter Daniel. There was also Peter's sister, Janne. The pilot of the aircraft was Russell Tiver, a young Old Boy and a former Captain of the House.

David Radford entered the Preparatory School as a boarder in 1961 and was for five years a member of our school family. He was liked by all and earned our admiration by the manner in which he battled against asthma. He did this so successfully, indeed, that only those who knew him well would have realized that he was afflicted in this way.

Little Bill, his brother, came to the School in 1964. Bright-eyed and a little mischievous he quickly won his way into the hearts of the staff and became the friend of all of his fellows in Grade V and the House. Both of these boys came from the North, from Canegrass Station.

Peter Daniel came into the Senior School from Kulpara in 1964 and was universally known as "Little Squeak". He, too, was a "terrific kid". Whenever we think of him we think of rowing for which he showed tremendous enthusiasm as a promising coxswain.

It is hard to think that there has ever been a worse tragedy in the School's history. As we hold these children in reverent memory, the Christian sympathy of Headmaster, staff and boys remains with their parents and all who were so sorely bereaved in this tragedy.

The Ward Library

This year has begun successfully for the library. We have greatly strengthened our Geography, History and Science sections, with the addition of many valuable reference books. These books may be taken out overnight by matriculation students but must be returned on the following morning in order to be available for other students.

We have also added to our Art section, which includes a Larousse Encyclopaedia of Modern Art and the works of Dobell, Drysdale and Heyesen. We wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Hassell for the gift of a beautiful edition of Leonardo Da Vinci.

The School has recently purchased for the library a valuable set of Shakespearean records which are proving extremely useful for English studies.

The end of year stocktaking revealed some interesting facts; nearly 450 books were added to the library in 1965, and we are regular subscribers to 40 periodicals. Our total book stock is well over 5,000 and nearly 600 books are borrowed each month by students. A disquieting feature, however, was the disappearance of many important books. This is a great loss and expense for the library and totally unnecessary and thoughtless.

Thanks to our Master-in-Charge, Mr. Duff, and to the library committee: M. Reid, D. Hawke, P. Drew, N. Lawson, A. Lyndon and Umaphathivam.

Rural Youth

The Rural Youth Club has begun this year with a new enthusiasm.

The first meeting was for the election of officers and the following were appointed: President, David Angel; Vice-Presidents, David Keynes, Bill DeGaris; Secretary, Jim Nicholls; Treasurer, Don Barrie; News Reporter, Leigh Hobba.

The second meeting was the Induction Ceremony, when thirty-six new members were received, to bring the total enrolment to 72.

Two other meetings have been held. One took the form of a film evening on the famine problem of the world and soil erosion. The other was a successful social with P.G.C. Rural Youth Club to which we took a band to supply some of the sound.

The Club has embarked on a project of entering a display in the Royal Adelaide Show and a small group has already started work on this. Once again we must thank our advisor, Mr. Waters, for his valuable assistance and enthusiasm.

If present progress continues we will have a varied and rewarding year.

Memories — Chicago, Illinois

by G. S. Martin, Field Service Scholar

On Sunday morning at 7.45 we boarded the famous "Zephyr" on the Northern Pacific railroad. This beautiful train, with its vista-dome and parlour cars, cruising at 75 m.p.h. is the epitome of luxury travel. It drew into Chicago station at three in the afternoon. Chicago is the main railroad centre on the U.S.A. and there were thousands and thousands of trucks and accessories at the entrance of the station. When we walked out on to the street, I noticed that the two most common cars were yellow "Checkers" or specially-made taxis, and black Cadillacs—fair dinkum!

After a great deal of horn-blowing and swearing our cab driver delivered us to the Congress Hotel. It is rumoured that cabs may soon have rubber bumpers, front and back! The posh doorman opened the cab door and took out the cases, depositing them in the lobby. As there were four cases this required a minimum tip of $1, that is, four times the 25c rate/case. The porter then took the cases to our rooms—another buck down the drain. I think the idea of tipping is, in inexcusable but appropriate Yankee slang, "bad news" or "bad much".

A stroll of six blocks took us to the biggest building in the city—the "Prudential". This is forty-two stories high and a block square. From the top we looked at Chicago—the canal, Lake Michigan, the skyscrapers, and the city. The city stretches for miles and miles, all the way to Gary, Indiana. This huge metropolitan area holds over six million people and the impersonality of it left me depressed. The air was dirty and the buildings black.

The shops opened the next day as we were eating breakfast. Over some ham and eggs, sweet rolls and coffee we discussed our plans for the day. We decided to walk all over the downtown area. We walked up famous Michigan Avenue and saw the world headquarters for the Playboy club and magazine! The Drake Hotel on the lake shore one housed Al Capone and his dearest friends in a luxury suite. We went down to the shore of Lake Michigan and to me it seemed like an ocean without a character. The sentiment of Byron's "Apostrophe to the Ocean" could never be real for me without the regularity of the waves and the mysterious blue of the deep. Here was a great green mass of water, without any order and in a conceited way I felt sorry for it.

There is a section of the city quoted as "between Twelfth Avenue and Eighteenth Avenue on Wells Street" in the guide books and known by the inhabitants as "Oldtown". It is a restored cluster of little shops and bars. The atmosphere is almost nineteenth century until you see an armoured car draw up to collect the day's income of the smallest shop and the occupants of the car carrying a bag in one hand and a gun in the other. This entire area is run by the local syndicate of the Mafia. On one side of the street I saw "Body Shop—Oldtown Dodge" and on the other, "Body Shop", but this time it wasn't cars! Here is a hot bed of vice and a heaven for the man after a quick dime.

As night fell we sat in a Polynesian restaurant and I had my "out-to-dinner" treat—roast lamb. Food is very expensive in the States and meat is no exception. No wonder President Johnson is worried about inflation—our meal for four people cost $32 plus the tip!

On Tuesday we caught a bus to the Museum of Science and Industry. The most interesting exhibit was, I thought, a periodic table with samples of each element, many of their compounds, their spectra and a list of properties. On the way back we passed through a slum area. It was typically an all negro area and I felt sick at the sight of the poor under-privileged children, the litter, the misery and the dirt. These people could keep the place clean but, as the saying goes, "When you're down, you're down". They become so depressed in the surroundings that they do not care. They live from day to day in utter poverty and squalor. Chicago has had the greatest slum clearance programme in the world but there is still a long way to go.

On Wednesday, as my A.F.S. brother and I were looking at the reptiles in the Natural History Museum, a gang of boys came up behind us and demanded some money. "You ain't going nowhere till I get some money" one of them said and punched me in the back. I was ready to hit him but the chances were that he had a knife. We kept them talking as we edged out into the well-lit main hall, where they retreated. We told the guard and he said: "That's not my area, tell the guard in the next hall". Of course there was no guard in the next hall, so we let the matter drop.

That night we caught the train home and I realized that never before had I packed so much into so few days. Chicago is a place we have all read about but know very little of. Every civilization has its evils but it takes a huge, impersonal conglomeration like this city to make one realize that it takes an individual and his efforts to fight decadence and corruption and that when the individual becomes submerged, it is the beginning of the end.

Prefects' Palaver

This year the prefects are leaders in many of the School activities. Of the captains of teams elected, each one is a prefect: they are Michael Gray (cricket), Chris Green (tennis, for second time), Robert Hancock (swimming), Peter Rowe (athletics, for second time), and John Pfeiler (boats).

The First XI have Gray (captain) and Chris Hamilton as members, while Rob Brinsley, Bruce Hocking and Bill DeGaris are in the Second XI. Hancock led a most successful swimming team which just failed to win the Open Freestyle Relay in the inter-school swimming.

For the Head of the River, Pfeiler (Captain of Boats), Trev Mayne and Peter Brebner are our representatives in the First VIII, and Robert Hall is in the Second VIII. Many prefects are training hard for the combined sports, including Robin Day, Brown, Gray, Peter Dalwood, Brinsley, Richard Hetzel, Rowe, David Angel and Brebner. Dalwood's effort in making the State Athletics team as a high jumper is outstanding.

Green (fourth intercollegiate, and captain), David Brown (third intercollegiate) and Don Barrie (second intercollegiate) were stalwarts of the school tennis team in its narrow victory over Saints this year. At the beginning of the year Gray and Hamilton were awarded their merit badges for colours in football, cricket and athletics.

Those with authority in cadets are C.U.O.s Brinsley and Hall, while Queen's Scout Hetzel is prominent in the Scouts. Editor of the Science Journal is Hall and of the Chronicle is Barrie. DeGaris has done well to gain an A.F.S. scholarship and will be leaving us in July.

On the academic side, there are two Leaving Bursary winners, Barrie and Hancock. In the tests completed, Hocking has taken top position in VIUA.

Mike Gray is this year's "boss of the mob",
 Captaining cricket is his favourite job;
 In last year's footy he shone on the wing,
 And running is his other favourite "thing".
 Dave Angel is also a footballer too,
 When he's not around the girls are all blue.
 A capable editor is Barrie called Don,
 When he's playing tennis there's nothing put on.
 Pete Brebner I feel deserves mention here,
 He talks and he rows and he runs like a deer.
 Rob Brinsley is next ("the movable tree")
 He'll frighten St. Peter's in his mid-winter spree.
 Our Captain of Tennis is Greeny; the nark,
 Catching boys smoking is his favourite lark,
 He and his partner Dave Brown (with no "e")
 Will be leading our team we hope to victory.
 Pete Dalwood called "Dags" is a high jumper fine,
 He's broken all records right down the line,
 And Bill DeGaris is bound for the 'States,
 For a year full of highballs, broad accents and dates,

Next comes "Wes" Hall, but really it's Rob;
 Where cadets I feel concerned he does a good job.
 Richard Hetzel is a boy who works hard in school
 And knows all about the Scout's Golden Rule.
 Ern Hancock is large and makes quite a splash
 But when in the water he swims like a flash.
 Chris Hamilton is also a sportsman renowned,
 He plays cricket and footy but he's sure to be drowned.

John Pfeiler is next, a rower of fame,
 He's also the possessor of an embarrassing name.
 Pete Rowe is this year's Captain of Aths,
 He sprints down the track but can't do his Maths;
 Trev Mayne is a rower who sits in an eight,
 He also plays rugby, representing the State.
 Of basketball fame is lanky Bruce Hocking—
 If he'd been left out, that would have been shocking!

And last is the writer of this bit of mess
 I've wasted your time and mine I confess;
 But in case you're concerned to learn of my name,
 Why, I am called Day and of very small fame.

Club Activities

STAMP CLUB

This year began promisingly for the Club with twenty members, all of whom appear to be very interested. The election of officers was held at the first meeting. The office holders for 1966 are M. W. Jones (President), R. H. Tillet (Secretary), C. H. Hanson (Treasurer) and G. Cane (Committee). A programme for the year was drawn up, and this includes stamp auctions which, as in the past, will be open to the whole School, films, talks and, of course, activities such as swapping. With a considerable sum in the treasury, we shall be able to provide worthwhile prizes for competitions, which will be held regularly.

We look forward to a successful and active year under the supervision of Mr. Glancey.

CURRENT AFFAIRS DISCUSSION GROUP

Since the last report, the group has had as guest speaker Dr. A. C. Castles, from the South Australian branch of the United Nations Association. Dr. Castles' talk proved most informative, and the members of the group, as well as those who visited from other clubs, benefited greatly from his knowledge and willingness to answer questions.

As the main aim of this group is to discuss some notable local and international events each week, it has been decided that we shall change the form of our meetings. Each member has been assigned a particular country or area, and at each meeting he will present a brief report of events occurring in that area. In this way we shall all gain a comprehensive knowledge of current affairs. During the remainder of the meeting, we shall have a general discussion on any topic of interest, and express our varied views and opinions. Guest speakers are being organised for some further meetings, but as yet no one has spoken to us.

The group would like to thank Mr. Mattingley for his useful guidance and help in the work of the club.

MODEL AEROPLANE CLUB

Our master-in-charge, Mr. Claver, was not able to be present at the first meeting of our club. The second meeting, though, was a very pleasing one, as we saw eight planes out on the oval. We have some boys who are still building their planes in the club room. Rowe is supervising the repair of the room, as it is in a very bad state. We have forty-four members in the club with S. Funnell as Treasurer and R. Temby as Secretary.

During each term we hope to have at least one competition. These will be run in two classes for 1.5 c.c. and 2.5 c.c. engines. The club fees this year will be used to buy prizes and also materials with which to repair damaged 'planes.

JUNIOR DEBATING CLUB

The Junior Debating Group this year, under the guidance of Mr. Harvey, has a good membership of twenty-two. The club this year voted Hetzel, Houston and Crompton as its committee.

The club aims to promote confident speaking and a general knowledge of public speaking. The club this year started with a very successful debate, the topic being "That Homework should be set for students at P.A.C." The motion was narrowly carried by eleven votes to ten.

Further debates and impromptu speeches have been planned for the rest of the year, and we look forward to a profitable and enjoyable experience.

WORKSHOP GROUP

This year the senior and junior workshop groups are restoring broken equipment to working order. In the senior group, work has been put into the devising of new conservation of momentum apparatus, and mounting various electrical equipment, under the helpful guidance of Mr. R. T. Smith.

ARCHITECTURE CLUB

The club began the year with six members under the guidance of Mr. Luke. By the second week the membership had swelled to nine.

So far no combined effort has been made on any large scale project. The members have been "working" independently, but we hope in the future to be able to inspect several nearly completed buildings, if possible. It is also hoped that a determined effort will be made on a worthwhile design, and a model of the design constructed.

SENIOR DEBATING CLUB

At the first meeting of the Debating Club in 1966 the first term committee was chosen. Those elected by fair means or foul were President, Mr. Gray; Vice-President, Mr. Parish; Organizing Secretary, Mr. Day; Minute Secretary, Mr. Heywood-Smith; Committeeman, Mr. Vulfsons.

The second meeting of the term was to have taken the form of prepared interviews, only one of which eventuated. This was between Mr. Nicholls as Adolf Hitler and Mr. Day as Don Dunstan, Q.C., and was generally thought to be amusing.

Mr. Dennis has given us some very interesting talks on the seemingly lost art of debating, and we are looking forward to a demonstration debate for the benefit of new members. Our earlier meetings showed a need for increased enthusiasm and readiness to prepare speeches. We sincerely hope that this position will greatly improve as several inter-school debates are being planned for the second term.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

We welcome a new member of the staff, Mr. Bowden, as one of our supervising masters.

For 1966, with the aid of a committee of boys guided by Mr. Fowler and Mr. Bowden we shall endeavour to retain and encourage interest created in past years.

Several excursions have been planned by the committee, the first of which is a visit to a photographic display in connection with the Festival of Arts. Some competitions will also be held to encourage individual expression of talent within the club.

Thus we hope to enjoy the success of previous years with continued enthusiasm shown by the boys who pursue this popular hobby.

LEATHERWORK CLUB

This term the Leatherwork Club has started with a membership of over fifty boys. The two groups are under the direction of Mr. Duff and Mr. Steele.

The boys are enthusiastically using the equipment to make some fine models, the chief of which are comb-cases, wallets, belts and Bible and Hymn Book covers.

RADIO CLUB

Last year Mr. Jones helped the club considerably by allowing the younger members to use two electronics kits. An amplifier for use in the amateur transmitter was started and will be used in the new clubrooms. The club was moved back to the cottages at the beginning of the year.

Unfortunately, Mr. Jones has left and this year the club will concentrate on amateur transmission and the theory behind receivers. It is hoped that transmission will be resumed early in the year as soon as the lack of power and absence of an antenna has been rectified. The club has been limited to a very small number this year.

The thanks of the club are due to Mr. R. F. Jones whose untiring assistance last year was invaluable to the younger members.

LIFE-SAVING CLUB

This year the Life-saving Club had a season of mixed fortune. Once again we felt the need of a school swimming pool since the Unley and Norwood pools are some distance from us and are getting cramped for space. We are finding it increasingly difficult to have practices for awards. Once again over 150 boys applied for membership, but of these only 60 could be accepted. After the Public and School examinations, Life-saving examinations were held. The number of awards was less than in previous years. The awards gained were—

Water Safety Certificate, 250; Resuscitation Certificate, 250; Proficiency Certificate, 15; Elementary Certificate, 10; Intermediate Star, 60; Bronze Medallion, 35; Bar to Bronze Medallion, 5;

Bronze Cross, 2; Bar to Bronze Cross, 1; Instructor's Certificate, 5. Total number of awards, 633.

A squad consisting of D. W. Freeman, R. E. W. Hancock, A. R. Brown, P. E. Rowe and B. P. Bidstrup represented the School in the South Australian Royal Life-Saving Championships on Saturday, 14th March. They did very well, winning the Secondary Schools Championships for the second consecutive year from A.B.H.S. and Norwood High School. They also came third, overall. Members of the team won every individual event they entered. A. R. Brown won the freestyle and towing race, R. E. W. Hancock won the Men's Long Plunge and came second in the freestyle, and D. Cox won the Under 14 towing race. R. E. W. Hancock and D. F. Provis competed in the skills championships, coming fourth and third in the A and B sections, respectively.

We are again indebted to Mr. Woollard and Mr. P. V. Brown for their tireless help in organization during the past season.

CHOIR

Third term, 1965—The Choir sang at the End-of-Year Service under the hand of Mr. May, who returned from his overseas trip early in the term. The introit was an Australian carol, "Christmas Day", by William G. James, and the anthem was "As with Gladness", by George Handel. The members would like to thank Mr. May for his patience and guidance through the year, and also Mr. Ian Gray, who was the master-in-charge during Mr. May's absence.

First term, 1966—This year, the Choir and Drama Clubs have combined to present the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera "H.M.S. Pinafore". Drama Club members hope that Mr. Coombes will have the time and energy to produce a one-act play in conjunction with "Pinafore", which will be staged in the third term this year. Pleasing interest has been shown by senior members of the School with the result that the tenor and bass sections have been considerably swelled. Even at this early stage, we have been getting familiar with the songs, and it seems as if there will be much fun at rehearsal; so, if there are any more senior boys interested, it is not too late to join in the production. By the way Mr. Coombes has been singing on Fridays, we think he must want a part!

LITERARY APPRECIATION GROUP

A new club under a new master, Mr. Jones, is attempting to study some of the finer points of English usage. A radio play "The One Day of the Year" by Alan Seymour is our first attempt and we hope to present it before some members of the school. There have been other ideas put forth by various members, but plans about them are indefinite. We have also attempted to write a Petrarchan sonnet and have listened to poetry recordings. The atmosphere of our meetings is quite informal, but we hope that by their means we may arrive at a fuller knowledge and appreciation of our literary heritage.

MODEL RAILWAY CLUB

This year the Club consists of a group of young boys, who are very keen to commence setting out the new track. The table for this was completed at the end of last year.

While this work is being done, some of the boys, using their own equipment, will operate the original layout.

CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB

This is a new club formed this year under the guidance of Mr. Basedow. The activities so far this term have been devoted to teaching the basic principles of the game to those who have not played it before. We are all sure we shall find it of much interest and benefit in the near future. We all express our thanks to Mr. Basedow, who has spent much of his time instructing us.

BIBLE STUDY GROUP

The Bible Study Group has started with a small number of keenly interested boys. The help of Mr. Waters has been invaluable. We are using the book "How the Bible Came to Us" as a text-book and this is a very interesting study. Any new members would be sure to profit from this discussion and are welcome at any time.

WOODWORK CLUB

This year only sixteen boys have been selected for the Woodwork Club, and with the competent supervision given by Mr. Welby, the members have made steady progress, starting or constructing their projects. Coffee tables are a popular choice by many members but other models include boot boxes, tables, skim-boards and drawers.

SCOUTS HOBBY GROUP

All the Scouts who worked in and around Hazeldene in 1965 earned the Jobman Badge. This year our group is somewhat smaller than in former years. Although the quantity may have been lowered, the quality has been raised and already this band of eight keen workers has made its mark on property and equipment. They will have a busy year, for we now have both 33 and 35 Young Street to maintain.

CHEMISTRY GROUP

Under the guidance of Mr. D. F. Provis a group of students from different levels in the school are planning and carrying out experiments in Chemistry during the hobbies period. It is intended that the boys will direct their efforts towards aspects of chemistry outside the scope of the school chemistry courses.

ART CLUB

Last September, twenty Art Club members, and Mr. Gray, made a very successful trip to the Flinders Ranges, visiting Warren, Buckaringa and Bunyeroo Gorges, and stayed for three days at Wilpena Pound. Much good and diligent painting was done and at the end of the year an exhibition of these paintings as well as others done by the members who did not go on the trip, was held in the Assembly Hall foyer. Club members would like to thank the Headmaster and all others concerned for their assistance.

This year's President is Sam Perry and he, and the other committee members meet regularly to discuss the future activities of the club.

The club will hold an Art Camp in Central Australia next September and altogether, a very active year is expected.

CHESS

This year the Chess Club is under the very capable guidance of Mr. Ashenden and Mr. Wilcox.

Four teams have again been entered in the inter-school competition. These are in the same grades as in 1965, namely, "B", "C", "D", and "E" and will begin playing in April on Friday nights.

We are at present finishing a tournament which will help Mr. Ashenden decide the order of the team members. Last year such tournaments gave our boys valuable practice which many other schools did not have, and was an important factor in our success.

COURT MAINTENANCE

Hard work has continued this term on the Head's court and its surroundings. The boarders, under the careful observation of Harold Schmidt, must be thanked for the watering of the tennis courts throughout the term. The hedge has been given another trim and we hope this is the beginning of a profitable year under the helpful guidance of Mr. Gabb.

Original Contributions

YOU OF THE OUTER DARKNESS

Reckless Speed. A crash. She dead; he only just alive. Blood. Ambulance. Doctors. A cool, soft bed. Not a thing remembered.

To whom it concerns: Sir, This is the Outer Darkness. The place of more death than life. A black world. An experience, a mind, not a person, not a body. A hot place, a cold place, nebulous, cruel, strange. Dead to the world but alive in experience; a new dead life. All black but a black light to see by but nothing to see. An experience, strange calm. Remember when you went bird-nesting and fell from the tree. Yes, a tree, green in the black light. Silly boy. Silly boy. There is a noise, an itchy irritating sound, a noise of depth, dimension. Of shovelling gravel or traffic at a distance.

There is wailing, weeping and gnashing of teeth in the Outer Darkness. But why? I am content. I am free. I am without pain. I have no body in the Outer Darkness. I am beyond the limits of myself. What is the world here? What is the world anywhere? What world?

There is something moving. It is me. I am travelling to a star, a small white star. But it is gone and I am travelling to a shiny hot white light. It is the Sun and its heat is cruel. "Lighten the darkness, O Sun." But No. The darkness is master.

I see my father milking a cow. He is singing. Recognize me, Father. But the cow has gone and my father, too, and the milk spilled. It is all white in the blackness. The singing remains. Loud. But it moves away and becomes the noise, the sound of the sea in a shell.

I am a nameless experience and I am in the world of the nearly dead. A cool world, a slow world of seeing without looking. There are two stars now. "Hello little star. You have found a friend." Where are my friends? Who knows? Who cares? Not I of the Outer Darkness. I am hot, very hot and wet. There are rivers of steamy sweat all around. My formless body is shivering in the cold clammy, slimy sweet sweat. But I have left it.

The world shivers and there is chaos, pathos, turmoil. Why? It is in me but around me. The black light is fighting red and yellow with thunder and sparks. They approach. It is the teeth which gnash and grind. Hateful sound. Ghoulish noise. Blinding light. Many sounds. Many lights. It is all around. I am the centre. What have I done? Was it me? Will someone tell me? Shout voice, shout and scream for help. Go to the star. The star will listen. Go to the star. Shout. Please let me go. But no. I am held down. Scream. There is a fiend in the Outer Darkness. But it is quiet again. Silent and quiet. The silent noise of the sea again, cool, soft, slow, easy, quiet. Who is that there. It is a hazy person or two people. Why am I trembling? Why am I here? They look at me and I look back and do not care.

I am sinking back. The blind is drawn and you are in the Outer Darkness. There is a fish which swims and blows a bubble and I can breathe with the fish. It is good. But go to the top, go up, but there is no top to the Place of Shadows, and I will float underneath. A black man bobs past and smiles but I only look and he bobs into the distance on the oily swell. Go after him. He is of your kind. Call to him. But too late. All is black and dark and void, and a white line crosses the black. It is the middle of a road and goes on to infinity, and is gone.

There is a green sound and leaves all around. Big shiny jungle leaves and they are wet. I move through and get wet cheeks and cool. The jungle is gone and it is a blue world, no, black again. The dew drips from me to form little stars. There are clouds overhead which will give rain to swell the sea. A fish comes up and looks with round eyes and smiles and I smile back and it goes down again and I think a fish cannot smile and I laugh and laugh and laugh heartily and the waves of laughter echo back so I stop, but the laughter is thunder and cruel to the ears.

There is a dull ache, an awareness not far from me and always with me, where legs would be. The ache increases to throbbing pain and I toss and turn to avoid it. I cry like a little boy and I am held down as before and the swell of the oily black sea splashes around me. There is panic, futile panic. From what? I know not? It is not the jungle. It is not the sea. It is not the fish. I am afraid of the Outer Darkness. I am in the depths of despair. Desperate. Scream. Scream again to nothing and again. There is no love. No hope.

I am tired, very tired, Sir, you will understand. Very, very weary. Very tired, and I must wake up. The two people are still there, and it is dusk in the world and raining.

JOINED THE ARMY

He was given a pair of army greens,
And a hat, a coat, and socks,
A first-aid kit, a rifle, and badge,
And told to go to the "range".

The "range" consisted of cardboard men;
Some black, some yellow but none were white,
And he was told they all were bad,
And young, as he was, he believed them all.

In June or July he was sent to war,
(A useless, horrible thing called war,
Which men create to ruin themselves),
And he flowed in the stream of hate.

A pure boy, a wholesome boy, a lively active youth,
Whom men mutilated and scarred
And finally killed,
With hate still in his mind.

Hate, the creed of men and wars;
Will thrive forever in our world,
If men who delight
In wearing uniforms and carrying guns,
Are not taught to grow up.

THE DESERT

Dark red sand lights up as sun appears
And fills the desert with a thousand dunes
Painting blue over the black of night
And showing everything and nothing.

Rolling hills of sand roll on,

And time stands still.

The rolling days become but a memory in the mind of man

And day is coloured night.

There is no rest in this yellow world

No oasis, no brief escape from harsh reality

No rainbow over the neat yellow hill,

Just an indifferent sameness.

No matter what his setting, where he is,

The lonely man will live this yellow life.

The desert's edge lies in his own ambition

Without it death is just an afterthought.

KURDAITCHA

When someone mentions "tight shoes", one naturally tends to think of highly civilized people, such as over-weight ladies over-drinking at cocktail parties to ease the pain in their snugly-shod feet. But I think the tightest shoes of all are the "kurdaitcha" shoes of death.

These are the ritual killing shoes of the aborigines of Central Australia. "Kurdaitcha" is also the name given to those mythological dream-time creatures which are held spiritually responsible for such killings.

Actually, "kurdaitcha" is a means of tribal law enforcement. According to dream-time law, certain crimes must be punished in certain ways. Such crimes as the revealing of tribal secrets to women, or similar crimes which endanger the tribal life, may be punished by "kurdaitcha".

In a case such as this, the offender is watched until his crime becomes blatant. A council of tribal elders is then called, sentence is passed, and an executioner chosen. The executioner must be a fully initiated member of the tribe. From this moment onwards, the offender is as good as dead. The executioner, the tribal medicine man, and a few helpers set out under cover of darkness. He, the killer, disguises his footprints, which are easily recognizable by those who know him, by putting on the ritual "kurdaitcha" shoes. Both his little toes are dislocated to disguise his gait, which can also be recognized. The shoes themselves are made of emu and cockatoo feathers, matted together with blood from the arm of a young man. They are held in shape by a network of human hair. The executioner's decorations are completed with such things as a coating of charcoal, a new hairdo, and a conical helmet.

When the victim is found, the executioner, with sacred stones between his teeth to make his aim sure, creeps up on the enemy and kills him, usually with the aid of a spear. But then the victim's lodge members may become enraged at the killing, and the executioner will become the victim. Surely this would indicate that the "kurdaitcha" are the tightest shoes. M.C., V UA

THE TORTURE CHAMBER

Slowly I was drawn towards the door, from behind which came yells and screams. A victim like myself was led out. Then I was admitted.

The sight before me was awful. The walls were grey; the floor and ceiling were grey; everything was grey except for the white gown of my torturer. He ordered me into the cold steel chair. On a bench were his tools of destruction, an array of hooks and barbs.

He grasped my throat in a vice-like grip and looked into my eyes with an icy stare. He pulled at my face with a hook. I struggled weakly but could not overthrow my strong oppressor. He reached for another implement, put it down and began to fit a barb on to it.

A strong light shone in my eyes. I grew dizzy; things began to whirl; my limbs started to sting. Every time he touched me I felt as though I was trodden on by fifty horses.

"No, no, for pity's sake no!" I cried. "I'll do it. I'll do it next time! Aahh!"

He advanced on me; the cabin began to whirl; there was a humming noise in the air. It grew louder and louder, then reached a higher pitch. My face began to hurt.

Suddenly it was silent. I opened my eyes but my torturer had vanished. He reappeared behind me with another implement. He pulled at me. I felt as though my jaw was dislodged. He advanced. The humming noise began, I could not stand it. I screamed. I was going mad, mad. Once more he felt my mouth and tightened his grip. Would I get out alive?

He reached for a tool, pulled at me with it, then relaxed his grip.

"Now will you do it?" he said.

"Yes, yes, I'll clean my teeth every day."

"Good, and next time you come to the dentist don't make such a fuss." J. C., IV A

THE EYE

Who are we?

—A rat-race confused, murky, material,

Living

In a land where no one achieves his trying desire from existence?

Striving for what?

Ah Success! life's only dimension to the closed eye Which looks and lives superficially.

Activity, society, labour, tension.

Forever the lid collapses in self-wrought doom

Everything based—self-centred in its Own tradition and respect, love and honour.

All's worthless—futile.

Life is a farce, a ceremony of pomp and show

Misleading ourselves to stupid security.

Nay!

Life's different. Something's unsaid about the sphere.

O open eyes! neglect the closed ones,

See what you want to see.

Look around,

Observe, perceive, capture the magnificence,

The mystery of it all surrounds us.

Most of us are too blind

For God.

THE MESSAGE OF SPRING

Where on earth is sound more beauteous heard
Than the song of spring, sung in a tuneful voice,
The throaty chirping of a growing bird
Sings "Nature is awake; let us rejoice".

Bare branches blossom out in coloured show
And flowers bloom the rainbow on their stalks,
Barren trees begin the green and grow,
And once more are there leafy forest walks.

A new clean freshness dominates the air
And mile on mile of brown ground turns to green.

All nature's creatures wake and here and there
Bound across nature's brightly painted scene.

For all is but a painting, ne'er quite showing
The joy the bird doth try to us to sing
To express the fun that can be found in growing
If life does not become a meaningless thing.

What better shows spring's lightness than the bee
Which buzzes in delight at new-found wealth?
Who knows what it is like thus to be free,
Never to look for sickness where there's health.

As winter yields before spring, so must we,
Else we beget the coldness dressed in white
For ne'er will leafy green bedeck our tree
Till we become a part of nature's fight.

A TEST RIDE

It is 8 a.m. on a Saturday morning in mid-summer. I have told my parents I am just going for a short test ride in the hills. I put on my helmet and goggles, start the powerful motorcycle and ride gently down the street to the corner and turn east. Up the hill I roar, out of the built-up area and past the speed limit sign. A stream of cars is driving slowly behind a semi-trailer; so back to third gear and pass them with ease. Round a few more bends and the uphill straight appears. A sports car is struggling along at about fifty miles per hour; so back to third again and I flash past it. Next comes a junction with the main road. I turn west and head for home. First there is a small rise followed by a fast, downhill straight—50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 95, 97, 99—then comes a short rise—not quite the “ton”—I must try harder next time. I slow down to sixty so that I shall not scare people. Round a gentle left-hand bend at seventy and past some service stations. Look out!—swerve to miss a motorist who is pulling out of a service station—he probably hates motorcycles any way, judging by the look he gives me. After a few more corners there is a small rise on a left-hand bend. The bike bottoms on its springs—not so fast through that one next time. Back to second for a sharp left-hander and then blast off down the straight past all the cars. I pull up at the traffic lights and then ride gently home, turn into the drive and smile innocently at my parents.

A CENTURY LOST, A CENTURY WON

Grim visaged castle of night;
Stone walls, wooden doors,
A strange and awesome sight,
Green lawns, well-scrubbed floors.
This is our heritage, our past,
A never-ending stream of life;
Of death, and lives well-cast.
But still you must survive.
By day you are a happy place
By night, a golden, silent ghost,
Against the silent, sleeping race.
I offer you this gracious toast.

Long live the School for years to come
Your century has just begun.

THE PYRAMIDS

Far in the east the mighty pyramids stand
Silent; except for the eternal wind.
They majestically survey the monotony of the desert,

Broken only by ancient caravans and tourists.
Mountains of rocks; created by suffering,
They stand, a monument to the cruelty of man.
How little the tourists realize the slave's hell,
That built these mighty tombs
And all for one group of men; the Pharaohs!
The sounds of biting whips and cries of agony;
These all mark the site, where death was a blessing.

These wretched builders wished an early death
Merely to escape from their own existence
And to thousands it came.

A SLOW DEATH

The sky had been cloudless as usual on this day, past days, and, unfortunately, future days. A slow trickle spluttered periodically out of the old bore. The wind whipped up clouds of dust off the ground and flung them into the moistureless air. A faint neighing sound broke the evening stillness and served only as a reminder.

The sun rose early. Its heat distributed itself uncomfortably around us as we awoke to face another day. The trickle from the bore had been reduced to an occasional drip falling only to disappear into the atmosphere, as if in pursuit of its predecessors.

As we walked over the parched earth, we thought of days long time past, of herds of cattle, of the splendour and good times when we received good money for good work. We remembered those who had been before us, creating out of dirt and stones a home, a life to live, and a worthwhile business. We thought of humorous incidents and sad ones but never any as sad as this.

We kicked our dusty boots, rid them of their needless burden and stepped slowly into the car and, as the motor leapt to life, we thought of the lifelessness around us.

As we drove out past the once proud gate bearing the once proud name of a hard-working family, we saw only a rotten post lying in the dust with scattered pieces of wire strewn around it.

We were never to see that post, that wire, nor even the homestead again; too much had been given for only meagre rewards. We knew prosperity would return, but we neither had enough time nor enough patience to wait for the uncertain future.

The pains of drought had been too terrible, too long and exasperating to the mind, so that life seemed useless in the dry heart of this vast land.

AT THE BARBER'S

I go into a barber's shop,
For him to take locks from my top.
I see a person in the chair,
I think, "Oh no, I'm next up there".

The dreaded time has come for sure,
I say, "There must be someone more";
But no, he says with a greasy smile—
"Let me shear you for a while".

I seem to be there an eternal time,
But at last he says to me "out you climb",
So at last I'm out of that dreadful place,
Having lost fifty cents—and lost some face.

STRATEGY

If I were a leopard in the zoo,
Pacing up and down, the way they do,
With spotted skin and eyes of green,
I'd pretend to be so fierce and mean,
That nobody'd dare even clean my cage.
I'd snarl and claw in a terrible rage
Till they all agreed, with worried faces,
That I really belong in other places—
Then I'd smile and wink at the people there
And trot along home, to my jungle lair.

AUSTRALIANS, TODAY!

I make my way very sluggishly down to the bus stop, not wishing to catch the bus. The morning air is chilly, although the sun is just coming over the eastern horizon. The noise of my sandals flusters the birds awakening from their night slumbers. It is early on Monday morning. I jump on to the bus feeling carefree and content. Deciding to be friendly, I sit next to an elderly Italian, who mutters something about the weather. The impertinent conductor approaches me and I dig in my pocket for my money. He throws it into his bag with his dirty fingers and questions my age as usual. Presently, a young man smoking a pipe hops on to the bus and stands next to me. I am now confronted with two streams of tobacco smoke and I decide to move to the window.

The bus has to pause for a moment while an old gentleman hesitantly crawls over the stairs and makes his way to the nearest seat. He has the appearance of an English gentleman with his white hair and sophisticated cough. Suddenly there is a loud crack, and then this man picks up his crushed nut from under his shoe. He gives a broad smile and says, "Don't worry old chap, it's only my breakfast".

An unexpected halt by the bus causes everyone, including the conductor, swearing under his breath, to lurch forward.

Many Australians travel by bus, never failing to give the customary "Ow'ry going mate?"

One observes always that these are the people that make the bus a cheerful means of transport instead of a spiteful one. One hears the loud "austrine" drawl as a man relates his week-end adventures to everyone as well as his mate.

Everyone is alarmed as a new Australian becomes angry when the door will not open. He seems very impatient to get to work and shouts out to the driver, "How s'about opening s'door" (with a few adjectives in between). Everyone mutters a few comments, but the flow of conversation starts again.

In contrast to the talkative Australian there are the coloured people. The Asian is usually quiet and serious, wishing to take no part in the conversation. Then there is the aboriginal, sitting shyly at the back of the bus. I become absorbed in this talk of the different groups and am only reminded of my departure by the lisp of a young boy, too small to reach the cord, who says to the driver: "Next thtop, pleathe!"

Yet, as I amble to school, I wonder whether most of us are aware of the changing cosmopolitan atmosphere that Australia is acquiring.

THE YACHTS

White wings in water
The yachts
Slip smoothly through the sea
Silently,
Beams born of box
Minute against the might of the main.
You, and your madness, your spirits entwined,
Contest supremacy with the relentless swell
Littoral looming large to the left,
You strive for fulfilment of man's desire,
Friendship with the sea.

ANTICIPATION

With only fifty yards to go
I said, "I'm sure to win.
I'll make it just this once, I know
Unless my legs give in".

With forty yards left to the end
I saw success in sight.
On left and white, sure, I was penn'd
My head felt rather light.

Now only thirty yards was left
'Twixt me and the great prize.
Of senses nearly all bereft
I pushed and closed my eyes.

Twenty yards to go I knew,
I felt a sort of pride
Within my heart my triumph grew.
I mused, "I'm not denied".

Ten yards, a mere ten paces,
Was all I had to take.
Around I saw a sea of faces
Quite certain I would break.

A step away, I've won for sure,
But glory's cruelly cut.
When I look up to see the door,
—The tuck-shop has been shut.

THE TRAMP

He lies with arm outstretched upon the forest floor,
No scientific nonsense knows he, to stain his fluid mind,
The art of living, his study; to die, his own ambition,
This lover of nature's aesthetic charms lies still.

Perchance he is dead and without knowing it
He lies with innocent mind and happiness.
But no! he wakes, he starts and stretches
And is once more a man, alive and strong.

He lifts his swag and tries the strain
And slowly plods in his domain.
His life is simple, full of pleasures,
This musier among the world's treasures.

OLD TO YOUNG

An old man sits in the garden near a young boy of nine years who is playing with a rubber ball and it is clearly noticeable that the youngster is listening intently to what the old man is saying.

"Why, when I was a young lad of eleven or twelve I was apprenticed to a sea-captain, and had been over the sea twice, but boys are made softer nowadays. The captain to whom I was cabin-boy, was a six-foot tall giant of a man with huge, broad shoulders and a long red beard stretching from his chin to his waist—"

"Really, to his waist, grandpa?"

"Well from his chin to his shoulders, but as I was saying, he was a giant of a man and he was rough with all the crew, holding them together with iron rule. At this time I was his cabin-boy and was unspeakably terrified of him, but I discovered that at times he could also be gentle. Why, I remember the time when he had disembarked with the crew, leaving me in charge of the ship. Being terribly proud of myself, I revelled when the chance came for me to show my seamanship. It happened that, while he was away, a great storm blew up and the anchors snapped, leaving the ship drifting aimlessly. I took the helm in hand and I stalwartly defended the—"

"But grandpa, you couldn't have—"

"Don't interrupt, son. Although the bosun was aboard, I helped him very greatly to save the ship. Not like these young "sissies" you see nowadays, with long hair and lipstick. Why, if I were twenty years younger I'd show them a thing or two. Why when I was a youngster of eleven or twelve I was in the army, serving as drum-boy in Egypt and I was—"

"But grandpa, I thought you were—"

"Don't interrupt, my boy, as I said when I was eleven or twelve I had to work in the fields as a farmer to earn my keep. Not like these young fools you see on the — television."

The youngster fails to understand the old man's world of reminiscing and similarly the old man does not follow the child's train of thought. How could he be farmer, soldier, and sailor simultaneously? And why does he keep interrupting his elders all the time?

This is the way life ends and begins!

The old go through a period similar and yet exactly opposite to that of the young, like parallel lines, never meeting, but keeping in close contact with each other in imagination and thought.

Whether the old man was a soldier, sailor, and farmer we shall never know. Probably he was all three at different times in his life, but finds it hard to distinguish between them and all periods fall into one—life.

END OF LIFE

The water turned the dirt to bog.
Their breath condensed to clouds of fog.
They sat around the sheltered fire
Each resting on a hollow log.

The flicker of the leaping flames,
Reflected on each face.
The leader of that little band,
Kept each man in his place.

There as they drank their dirty tea,
Their thoughts were far and wide.
Jack who was a farmer's son
Was thoughtless like a boy.
And as he cleaned his deadly gun
He thought it but a toy.

For five years Ben had been a married man
And he thought along the lines which only husbands can
As he thought of wife and son,
He remembered all the years of fun,
Praying that they and all alike
Might live to know a better life.

Dave was still a bachelor
And said he'd always be.
The safety of his men came first.
To give them food, to quench their thirst.
To hide them from the enemy.

Soon the hungry fire died out,
But all thought on a little while Remembering all their happy past
In moments that might be their last,
For early next morning they would rise.
Their aim. An act of sabotage.

DEATH

On padded feet it moves with stealth
Noiselessly through the inner soul,
Swiftly moves the terror through the brain,
Softly moves death.

Nothing can nor ever will defeat or overcome it.
It moves peacefully, quietly,
But fights a battle won;
Nor takes prisoners, nor shows mercy.

It is a bridge between this world and the next,
The road ahead divides two ways.
It is the gate between two lives,
From hence begins the worst life or the best.

None can question, it comes from God,
To whom its victims go.
'Tis not the judge but the executioner.
His axe is sharp.

THE STORM

Great thunderclouds from the west
Darken the sky at noon.
Lightning flashes, creatures run
From the thunder's boom.

Rain comes down in sheets
And floods the barren countryside,
While rivers and streams flow miles wide,
Like the incoming tide.

Roads are cut and railways covered
And the outback silence dies,
As the people of the desert rejoice
And the storm passes by.

THE DESERTS MURDEROUS HAND

In the vast expanse of perilous land
Covered by mountains of shifting sand,
Life-giving water's a precious treasure,
Here the traveller finds no leisure.

The blazing sun is beating down
On the miles of lifeless brown,
Where barren rocky outcrops found,
With choking clouds of dust are bound.

A slight mishap, a small mistake
Is all the traveller must make;
The victim's added to the roll—
The desert takes another toll.

The blazing sun is beating down,
On the miles of lifeless brown;
The aging bones crumble to dust,
In a land no man can trust.

Tennis

The annual intercollegiate tennis between S.P.S.C. and Princes was contested on the Memorial Drive courts on Saturday, 27th March. It was a very mild day, no wind and in general, perfect conditions for tennis.

P.A.C. this year, because of their earlier successes during the season, came out favourites over the S.P.S.C. side.

The teams were: P.A.C., R. Nicholls, R. Bickmore, M. Craven, D. Brown, C. Green (captain), D. Barrie, A. Nicholls and P. Beckwith.

S.P.S.C., R. Irving, C. Roberts, I. Lawrence (captain), T. George, P. Weaver, C. Brookman, C. Lawrence, T. Formby.

Play commenced at 10.15 a.m. with the first round of doubles. Our first pair, Nicholls and Craven, played Saints second pair, Lawrence and George. It was a tense three set struggle until finally we gained the upper hand and won 6-4, 5-6, 6-2.

The second doubles pair, Bickmore and Green, fought desperately but narrowly went down to the S.P.S.C. number one pair, Irving and Roberts, 6-5, 6-5.

Brown and Barrie, our third doubles combination had little trouble in defeating C. Lawrence and Formby, 6-0, 6-3, while the fourth pair of Nicholls and Beckwith found S.P.S.C. third pair too strong and went down 6-5, 2-6, 6-0, after a gallant recovery in the second set.

Three singles were also played before lunch, those of Brown, Green and Barrie.

Brown, after losing the first set badly to George, 6-3, s rambled home in the second, 6-5. In the third set he gained new confidence and won very convincingly 6-1.

Green showed patches of his past form by downing Weaver 6-5, 6-2, in his best match for the season. This was his third intercollegiate singles win in succession.

Barrie after losing the first set to Brookman (5-6) won the second set and gained a 6-0 win in the third.

The baby of the team, A. Nicholls (fourteen), played courageously against the older, more experienced Lawrence, but was defeated 6-3, 6-0.

However, Beckwith, playing in his first intercollegiate match, scored a triumphant win over Formby, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

After lunch Bickmore and Green scored a good win over the second pair, Lawrence and George, in straight sets 6-1, 6-1.

Nicholls and Craven found Irving and Roberts too strong and were defeated in straight sets 6-4, 6-4. In the singles round Nicholls was beaten in straight sets by Irving, 6-5, 6-0, Irving proving too consistent. Bickmore also had no answer to Roberts and went down in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

The next single was vitally important to us in keeping our two-rubber lead. Mick Craven took some of the tension off our position by beating

Lawrence in three sets, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. This was Craven's best performance for the day.

This win meant that we were two rubbers up on S.P.S.C. but still down on sets. We had the third and fourth doubles still to play. Both were uncertain and we began to give up hope of winning when both doubles lost the first set. In the second set Brown and Barrie battled tenaciously to win it 6-4. Beckwith and Nicholls also redeemed themselves but just failed by losing to the S.P.S.C. pair 6-5 in the second. The third set of the third double was a brilliant display of winning tennis by Brown and Barrie: they won 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Final scores were: P.A.C., 9-19; S.P.S.C., 7-20.

DRIVE TENNIS

P.A.C. have also performed very well this season in their Saturday morning matches at Memorial Drive. The team, consisting of Nicholls, Craven, Bickmore, Green, Brown and Barrie, won all 5 of their matches, 3 of them 9 rubbers to nil. Admittedly the competition this season has declined as compared to previous seasons.

All players performed excellently and credit must be given to Mr. Gabb for our success.

Saturday Drive matches scores were:

P.A.C. defeated S.H.C., 6-3.

P.A.C. defeated B.H., 9-0.

P.A.C. defeated A.T.H., 9-0.

P.A.C. defeated K.C., 7-2.

P.A.C. defeated P.G.S., 9-0.

We would also like to thank Mr. Woollard for his physical fitness training on Monday nights. Mr. Fowler, too, gave us much assistance and our thanks go to him.

Open "A"

The team has had a very successful season, winning matches against Concordia (8-1), Scotch (9-0 and 9-0) and Kings. We were narrowly defeated by Saints (4-5), winning two doubles and two singles against them. Four members of the Intercollegiate "10" (Beckwith, Ashley Nicholls, Wilson and Wicks) played for us during the season. Consequently the keen competition between players striving to make the "10" probably helped to account for our good results.

Mr. Gabb and Mr. Woollard, giving continual encouragement to us, have shown much interest in the team.

Open "B"

This year has been a very good one for the "B"s. So far they have been undefeated and have won most matches easily, defeating Kings, Scotch, Westminster and Immanuel. The team has been unsettled since, for convenience, boarders were often played in home teams. Most consistent players for this term were Alexander, Jarvis and Jarrett.

Mr. Fowler has helped and supervised the team.

Under 16 "A"

The Under 16 tennis team has had a very successful season, winning all five matches which it played.

Although many under sixteens played for higher teams, we defeated Immanuel, Concordia, Pultney, Scotch and Kings, often winning easily.

Mr. Fowler and Mr. Ashenden assisted the team greatly throughout the term.

Under 15 "A"

The 1965-66 season has been most successful for the Under 15s which have won seven of the ten matches which they have played during the third term of 1965 and this term. We lost to Scotch twice (6-3, 7-2), and Saints once (5-4).

The best and most consistent players for this term were Spangler, who was defeated only once, Denton and Hetzel.

With constant encouragement and advice, Mr. Fowler and Mr. Ashenden coached the team this year and last year.

Under 14 Tennis

So far this season the Under 14 "A" team has played well, remaining undefeated. We had convincing wins over Scotch, Concordia and Pultney Grammar, with a closer match against Immanuel.

The "B" team has had an equally successful season winning every match also. Altogether the standard of play has been quite high in both teams partly due to the constant help and encouragement which Mr. Basedow has given to the team.

Under 13 Tennis

So far this year the Under 13 "A" and "B" teams have been very successful in winning all of their matches. The boys have shown much interest under supervision of Mr. Glancey.

The captain of the "A" team is David Lower, with Gordon Hoad as vice-captain. The "B" team has Phillip Fradd as captain and Randall Harris is vice-captain.

Tennis Critique

R. M. Nicholls. One of our most consistent players who has an effective double-handed backhand, but an unreliable forehand. He is the most improved player in the side and well deserved his number one ranking. Unfortunately he lost in the intercollegiate match, but it was only his second loss for the season.

R. L. Bickmore. A very slightly built player with great forehand passing shots. He, too, is extremely consistent and never gives up trying. He lost only one match for the season, and that was in the intercollegiate match, mainly because of lack of physical strength.

M. B. Craven. A gallant fighter who has a reliable serve. He has many good ground shots although his volleying lets him down sometimes.

He played very consistently in the intercollegiate match to win his match, and perhaps it was his best for the season.

D. C. Brown. Improved greatly in the last few weeks before the intercollegiate match. Is a stylish player with a good serve and ground shots. His performance in the intercollegiate match was excellent.

C. G. Green (captain). Has very good ground shots, but an unreliable serve. This year he has not played as consistently in the past, but played very well in the intercollegiate match, winning his third intercollegiate singles in succession comfortably.

D. K. Barrie. A very unorthodox player but nevertheless very effective. He has a good serve and ground shots but his volleying lacks concentration. He scored a good intercollegiate match win by a consistent effort.

A. R. Nicholls. Our youngest player this year but always holds his own. He has excellent ground shots but his serve lets him down.

P. J. Beckwith. Another newcomer to the side. Has played very well this year despite close competition. Has a reliable serve and ground shots but his volleying lets him down.

M. H. Wicks. A player who just missed out on the team this year. He has some good shots but needs to string them together to form his game.

J. F. Wilson. Also just missed out on the team. Has a powerful though slightly erratic serve and sound ground shots.

Swimming Sports

This year the Swimming Sports again proved that swimming has become a major sport in the school. House spirit was shown to be strong during a finish that excelled any previous School Swimming Sports. With only one event to go, the Open relay, School House was ahead with 54 points, Waterhouse next with 53 points, Bayly third with 52 and Cotton fourth. Then the gun sounded for the start of this relay and gradually the Bayly team slipped away from Waterhouse and School. On the last leg Greg Richardson dived in with a five yard lead over Alfie Brown of Waterhouse. Brown, although tired from his magnificent swim in the Open freestyle, swam strongly and at one time looked as if he would overtake Richardson, who, however, just managed to hang on and touch the end only one foot ahead. The victorious Bayly team which smashed the record by 5 seconds, was comprised of Hancock, Moore, Bidstrup and Richardson. In the final analysis the first three positions were reversed and thus Bayly was first with 60 points, Waterhouse second (58), School third (57) and Cotton fourth (36). The great strength of house spirit in the School was evident from the boys' cheers as the last race finished.

The best individual effort came from Alf Brown who broke records in the Under 16 and Open Breast-stroke and Open Freestyle events while sharing a record with Peter Rowe in the Open Life-saving Hipcarry. Jim Ashby (School) won the three Under 15 events while Mark Richardson (Bayly) won both the Open and Under 16 Backstroke events. Altogether there were 886 competitors in 154 heats and finals over the three hours of the sports, a very pleasing turnout. The judges, starters, announcers and runners all did their best in getting so many races finished in such a short time. Special thanks must go to Mr. Woollard whose tireless work in preparation deserves the school's wholehearted thanks.

Results of the finals of Championship events were:

Under 13 Freestyle—

1st, Hoad, G. W. (S); 2nd, Pemberton, M. C. (C); 3rd, Gray, R. D. (W). Time 38.7 seconds.

Under 13 Breast-stroke—

1st, Toop, P. G. (W); 2nd, Hoad, G. W. (S); 3rd, Coventry, M. A. (B). Time: 55.7 seconds.

1st, Brown, A. R. (W); 2nd, Fogden, M. D. (S); 3rd, Gerrard, M. J. (B). Time: 40.5 seconds (record).

Under 16 Backstroke—

1st, Richardson, A. M. (B); 2nd, Germer, J. S. W. (C); 3rd, Smith, A. W. (C). Time: 39.6 seconds (record).

Open Freestyle 110 yards—

1st, Brown, A. R. (W); 2nd, Bidstrup, B. P. (B); 3rd, Hancock, R. E. W. (B). Time: 62.0 seconds (record).

Open Breast-stroke—

1st, Brown, A. R. (W); 2nd, Hancock, R. E. W. (B); 3rd, Richardson, G. B. Time: 39.2 seconds (record).

Open Backstroke—

1st, Richardson, A. M. (B); 2nd, Smith, A. W. (C); 3rd, Hetzel, R. S. (W). Time: 39.2 seconds.

Open Life-saving Hipcarry—

1st, Rowe, P. A. - Brown, A. R. (W); 2nd, Hancock, R. E. W. - Bidstrup, B. P. (B); 3rd, Freeman, D. W. - Weeks, D. J. (C). Time: 36.7 seconds (record).

House Relays—

Under 13: 1st, Waterhouse; 2nd, Cotton; 3rd, School. Time: 3 minutes 0.4 seconds.

Under 14: 1st, School; 2nd, Bayly; 3rd, Waterhouse. Time: 2 minutes 42.8 seconds.

Under 15: 1st, Cotton; 2nd, Bayly; 3rd, School. Time 2 minutes 24.8 seconds (record).

Under 16: 1st, School; 2nd, Bayly; 3rd, Cotton. Time: 2 minutes 18.5 seconds (record).

Open: 1st, Bayly; 2nd, Waterhouse; 3rd, School. Time: 2 minutes 5.4 seconds (record).

This year there was keen competition for places in the teams to represent the School in freestyle and medley teams. R. E. W. Hancock was elected Captain of Swimming while A. R. Brown was elected Vice-Captain. Teams were:

Open Freestyle Relay—1. R. E. W. Hancock; 2. B. P. Bidstrup; 3. G. Richardson; 4. A. R. Brown.

Open Medley Relay—1. Backstroke, M. Richardson; 2. Breast-stroke, R. E. W. Hancock; 3. Butterfly, A. R. Brown; 4. Freestyle, B. P. Bidstrup.

Under 14 Freestyle Relay—1. K. Thorne; 2. J. S. W. Germer; 3. D. Cox; 4. A. G. Campbell.

Under 14 Medley Relay—1. Backstroke, A. Campbell; 2. Breast-stroke, R. B. L. Lord; 3. Butterfly, J. S. W. Germer; 4. Freestyle, K. Thorne.

These teams competed in "The Advertiser" Teams Championships at the City Baths on the 25th March. The Open Freestyle team did remarkably well in swimming second by only the barest of margins to Henley High. Both teams recorded 1 minute 56.2 seconds. Unlike past years reliance on Alfie Brown was not total and although Alfie did a sub-26 seconds 55 yards freestyle, the team swam so well that he was only one yard behind Henley High represented by three State swimmers. In the Open Medley we recorded a third. The Under 14 Freestyle gave us a fifth while the Under 14 Medley team took us to fourth position.

A life-saving team comprised of D. W. Freeman, R. E. W. Hancock, B. P. Bidstrup, A. R. Brown and P. A. Rowe were victorious in winning the schools T.S.I. cup in the State Championships. A. R. Brown, R. E. W. Hancock and D. Cox won individual events.

Overall the School has had a most successful season.

Rowing

Third Term 1965

The apathy which has been a feature of third term rowing for some years was partially eradicated in 1965 when an eight coached by Mr. Mattingley raced on two occasions. In addition an Under 16 crew coached by Mr. Howard and Under 15 and Under 14 crews coached by Mr. Provis competed once.

In the opening regatta the eight was completely outclassed.

However the Under 16s consisting of M. H. Lloyd (bow), A. R. Newman (2), P. M. Charlick (3), J. R. Plush (stroke), B. M. Adamson (cox), rowed surprisingly well to win their event. The Under 14s, composed of J. R. Pointon (bow), G. M. Playford (2), A. G. Campbell (3), J. E. Ashby (stroke), R. R. Freeman (cox), were also successful.

The Under 15s, after being beaten only twice in two seasons, were easily defeated. This can be partially attributed to lack of training.

Results—

Maiden VIII: Kings College defeated P.A.C., 3 lengths.

Schoolboys VIII: S.P.S.C. defeated P.A.C., 3 lengths.

Under 16 IV: P.A.C. defeated S.P.S.C. "B", 2½ lengths.

Under 16 IV: P.A.C. defeated S.P.S.C. "A", 1½ lengths.

Under 15 IV: S.P.S.C. defeated P.A.C., 2 lengths.

Under 14 IV: P.A.C. defeated Kings, 2 lengths.

In the City of Adelaide Championships three weeks later a changed and greatly improved eight rowed extremely well against Adelaide Rowing Club's Senior eight.

After a re-start the crew was in a winning position at Longs Point, when 4 man lost control slightly and the resulting lapse allowed Adelaide to win.

Result—

Open VIII: A.R.C. defeated P.A.C., 2 lengths.

Time: 2 minutes 59 seconds.

In the final week before the exams some invaluable experimentation with style and training methods was carried out when four senior oarsmen leaving school combined with half the eight.

Rowing "Camp" 1966

Training for all but the Under 15s was carried out from the 1st till the 5th of February.

An eight was boated on the first day, and a second crew on the third day when the Firsts moved into their own boat. In addition, several fours were active.

The camp was supervised by Messrs. Bowen, Howard, Provis and Mattingley.

First Term 1966

The term began with the delivery of our long-awaited boat-trailer, the funds for which were raised by an energetic group of mothers headed by Mrs. Woodruff.

Also it was announced that Brian Richardson, Captain of Boats in 1964-65 had been selected for the State crew.

Training takes place four days a week for the following crews:

First VIII—G. E. Brown (bow), M. L. Fischer (2), R. E. Hudson (3), D. G. Provis (4), A. D. Crompton (5), T. A. W. Mayne (6), P. R. Brebner (7), M. J. Pfeiler (stroke), G. J. Stewart (cox), Mr. C. D. Mattingley (coach).

Though selected later than first eights of other schools the crew is making good progress under its coach and the dynamic stroking of Captain of Boats, Pfeiler. Even the fact that it is a very light crew does not lessen its chances for success later in the season. The crew has raced in three regattas, and rowed extremely well.

Second VIII — C. M. Bailey (bow), R. J. Hall (2), P. H. Overton (3), M. P. Ockenden (4), P. M. Charlick (5), A. R. Newman (6), R. K. Lewis (7), R. I. Lellmann (stroke), N. C. Rowe (cox), Mr. N. C. Howard (coach).

This young and inexperienced crew has improved rapidly and performed creditably in its first regatta.

The crew would like to acknowledge the loan of eight barrel blades to them by Torrens Rowing Club.

Open IV—M. H. Lloyd (bow), N. R. Kahl (2), D. M. Runge (3), A. D. S. Dowie (stroke), B. M. Adamson (cox), Mr. T. L. Binder (coach).

Lightweight IV—J. A. Lowrey (bow), S. C. Fidler (2), D. A. Sandow (3), A. L. Hobba (stroke), G. L. Swift (cox), Mr. T. L. Binder (coach).

Lightweight Fours is a new event this season, and competing oarsmen must weigh less than ten stone.

Under 16 IV—D. A. Young (bow), D. M. Thomas (2), M. J. Gerrard (3), C. R. Clarke (stroke), B. W. Cock (cox), Mr. D. F. Provis (coach).

Under 15 IV—J. R. Pointon (bow), G. M. Playford (2), A. G. Campbell (3), J. E. Ashby (stroke), R. R. Freeman (cox), Mr. D. F. Provis (coach).

On 12th March all crews but the Open and Lightweight fours raced in the Schoolboys Regatta on the Torrens.

Results—

First VIII—S.P.S.C. defeated P.A.C., ¾ length.

Second VIII—Kings defeated P.A.C., 1½ lengths.

Under 16 IVs—S.P.S.C. defeated P.A.C., 6 lengths.

Under 15 IVs—P.A.C. defeated Kings, 2½ lengths; P.G.S. defeated P.A.C., 8 feet.

Cricket

The season 1965-66 has been a very satisfactory one for cricketers at P.A.C. The Senior School has fielded thirteen teams throughout the season and competition for places in these teams has been very keen.

The First XI led by Ashley Woodcock and Greg Chappell until Christmas and by Michael Gray and Graham Sweeney since, has had a particularly good season, losing only to A.B.H.S. in the first match of the new term, drawing the Intercollegiate Match against S.P.S.C. after leading on the first innings and winning against Sacred Heart College in a most exciting match, against Rostrevor College, Concordia College, Pulteny Grammar School, S.P.S.C. in the return game and Scotch College.

Stars of the team were undoubtedly Woodcock and Chappell, who formed what must be one of the finest opening pairs the School has had. Their four partnerships in Intercollegiate matches against S.P.S.C. of 88, 85, 58 and 107 and their mammoth stand of 215 against Scotch College show their merit. Chappell scored four centuries and Woodcock two during the year and Gary Hugo went close to a century with scores of 87 not out and 84 in successive innings this term. Others to do well with the bat were John Mitchell, Simon Tregoning, Michael Gray, Graham Sweeney, Kim Mueller and in the new year, Brenton Green and Greg Stanford.

The two key bowlers in the 1965 team were Chappell and Grant Stephens. Chappell's flighty leg-spin bowling brought him a harvest of wickets, some 55 at an average of 8 runs per wicket and against batsmen of lesser technique he was almost unplayable. Stephens, medium-fast left-arm, bowled accurately, economically, and at times with hostility, to record figures that often did not reflect the value of his bowling to the side. Andrew Compton, slow off-spin, Simon Tregoning and Chris Hamilton, medium pace, made up a sound attack. Kim Mueller kept wickets soundly, taking some brilliant catches. This term Richard Lower, Greg Stanford and Michael Gray have proved matchwinners with the ball.

In the seconds, Ian Haines showed fine batting form which he was unable to reproduce in the First while Chris Hamilton, Sandy Rhodes and John Williams made good scores and Greg Stanford and Bruce Hocking bowled well.

Among the juniors outstanding performances came from Kim Harriot, David Bartlett, and Bruce Agars, and in the Under 13 and Under 14s from Mark Schwartz, Grant Dawkins, James Hetzel, Ben Ball, Robert Ferris, and Richard Bartlett.

The School was delighted at the selection of our 1960 captain, Ian Chappell, in the Australian Test XI against England for the Fourth and Fifth Test Matches and in the Touring Team for South Africa later this year. Although a number of P.A.C. boys have gone on to reach Sheffield Shield status with our State team, Ian is the first since before World War I to win a place in a Test XI. All P.A.C. boys, present and past, wish him every success.

Mr. Sylvester Fuchs, who for many years has made a great contribution to P.A.C. sport in the excellent quality of grounds, wickets, tennis courts and general amenities, suffered an illness during the summer but now seems to be on the road to recovery. In his absence Mr. Tom Winter and the other members of the Ground Staff deserve thanks for the extra burden they shouldered so well.

Special thanks are due to Mr. B. H. Leak and Mr. R. H. Prest who kept the grounds watered during the groundsman's absence.

First XI Critique

(by the coach)

A. J. Woodcock (captain). A dedicated cricketer, he captained the side with quiet enthusiasm and considerable skill. As an opening batsman he applied intense concentration to a splendid defensive technique. He needs only experience to become a class player.

G. S. Chappell (vice-captain). Possibly the finest all-round schoolboy cricketer in my experience. A commanding batsman, especially strong on the on-side, a splendid leg-spin bowler and a brilliant fieldsman, he could go far in the game.

A. B. Compton. A flighty off-spin bowler, a useful bat and sound field, he played an important part in the team's success.

G. W. Stephens. A tall left-arm pace bowler who maintained accuracy and hostility over long spells. His batting was rather disappointing.

G. V. Hugo. A right-hand batsman of considerable promise, he has a sound defence and a wide range of strokes.

J. W. Mitchell. A correct right-handed batsman with a good range of shots, he is at present limited by lack of power in his strokemaking.

S. L. Tregoning. A valuable all-rounder. A steady medium pacer and a hard hitting batsman.

K. A. Mueller. A wicket keeper-batsman of considerable promise. His keeping is neat and alert and he has taken some remarkable catches.

G. P. Sweeney. An aggressive right-handed batsman, strong on the on side and a brilliant field. Shows distinct promise.

M. L. Gray. A punishing batsman with a wide range of strokes, he has only to overcome hesitancy early in his innings to become a prolific scorer. A useful medium pacer and a fine field. As captain in the new year he has done very well.

C. J. Hamilton. A medium-paced left-hander who swings the ball sharply but has occasional lapses in control. A tenacious batsman and a very good field, he gives of his best.

I. C. Haines. An aggressive right-handed batsman and a useful leg-spin bowler, he could develop into a good cricketer.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CRICKET

The sky was clear as Woodcock decided to bat after winning the toss from the opposing Saints' captain, Macklin. Chappell and Woodcock began confidently against the pace attack of Macklin and Lane, and a large opening stand seemed assured. However, with the score at 58, Woodcock was unfortunately run out for 19. Then Hugo joined Chappell in a dogged partnership, against some particularly tight bowling. The extremely slow outfield was the main reason for the very occasional four, and runs were hard to find. Nevertheless, Hugo and Mitchell in turn kept one end going while Chappell drove and cut magnificently until just before tea he was dismissed for a brilliant, patient 107. After the tea adjournment Mitchell took the initiative and batted well for his 17 when he was caught in slips. Without addition to the score, Gray was bowled by Wallman, and the huge score which the team hoped for seemed lost. However, Sweeney and Tregoning batted diligently to take the score to 210 when Sweeney was bowled by Wallman. As so often happens, Tregoning, the second batsman in this partnership of 48 followed him one run later. Stephens then joined Mueller who was soon bowled. Compton and Stephens batted out time, till at stumps when the players left the field with P.A.C. 8 wickets down for 213 runs.

The next morning runs were again hard to find. Compton and Stephens kept the innings alive by a plodding partnership of 39. Quickly following Stephens' dismissal, Compton was bowled for 28, and P.A.C. were all out for 253. With 15 minutes to go till the luncheon adjournment, Basten and Thompson strode on to the oval to commence Saints' first innings. The pair were kept down by steady bowling from Stephens and Hamilton. When Chappell was brought into the attack, however, things began to happen. After a maiden, he had Basten stumped by Mueller for 13, thus causing Saints to lose their first wicket with the score at 28. Wells, however, plodded along with Thompson, keeping out an accurate P.A.C. onslaught. Then in Chappell's sixth over, Thompson, coming down the wicket to drive, was brilliantly stumped for 28. Betts joined Wells, and success again came our way, as he was trapped l.b.w. by the first ball he faced. 3 for 57 was the score as Lane took the crease. Four balls he played, and on the fifth he turned one into Hugo's hands at short leg. The jubilant P.A.C. side had Saints 4 for 57. McMichael joined Wells who was in great form. Shortly before stumps he was bowled by Compton for a fine 47.

The next morning the remaining five Saints batsmen put up a dogged resistance to the virile P.A.C. attack, and were all out shortly after lunch for 217, Macklin having made 44 n.o. and Chappell having completed a fine double by taking 6 for 61. Since there were only 7½ hours of play left in the Intercol., and the teams separated by only 36 at the end of the first innings, P.A.C. had to score quickly if we wanted to win. With this in mind, Woodcock and Chappell again set the innings in motion. Both openers tried hard to penetrate the defensive field set by Macklin. A magnificent 97 opening stand left P.A.C. in a sound position when Woodcock departed having made 49. Tregoning was sent in at number 3 to boost the scoring rate, but this move failed. The rest of the day was spent in picking up odd runs. Chappell, playing a forceful innings, was caught when he danced down the pitch to loft Pridmore over his head. His 76 was invaluable to the team's second innings. Compton and Hugo saw out the day, and left the field with the score at 3 for 136.

Soon after play began on the next, the final day, Compton was run out. The next three batsmen compiled 30 between them and P.A.C. declared its innings closed at a quarter to three at 7 for 174, leaving Saints needing 211 for outright victory to make in 165 minutes. With the slow outfield and our strong bowling line-up this task seemed impossible. However, Basten and Thompson attacked the bowling in fine style and had registered 72 runs in just over an hour when Thompson was run out for 29. Very soon Basten followed with the score still at 72. From this point the interest of the game petered out as the Saints batsmen compiled 166 for the loss of five wickets when stumps were drawn. In this innings Lane made 47 and Stephens bowled excellently to take 3 for 57 from 20 overs.

Congratulations must go to Greg Chappell whose 107 was the first century since the 1957 intercollegiate match, and whose 6 for 61 and 76 in the second innings combined to make a memorable match.

Congratulations, too, to Woodcock for his sound batting and to Stephens for his long, accurate spells of fast bowling.

First XI Matches

P.A.C. 9 for 179 (Chappell 49, Hugo 39). Rostrevor College 83 (Chappell 6 for 31).

P.A.C. 191 (Chappell 100, Mueller 24 not out, Hugo 21) and 3 for 44. S.H.C. 79 (Chappell 5 for 42, Stephens 3 for 15) and 9 for 148 (Compton 3 for 20).

P.A.C. 238 (Tregoning 70, Gray 67). C.C. 106 (Stephens 4 for 13).

P.A.C. 1 for 259 (Woodcock 104 ret., Chappell 79, Hugo 48 not out). K.C. 112 (Chappell 6 for 36).

P.A.C. 9 dec. for 290 (Sweeney 69, Mitchell 58, Hugo 35, Woodcock 28, Compton 28 not out). P.G.S. 79 (Stephens 3 for 14, Hamilton 3 for 18, Chappell 3 for 20) and 6 for 62.

Under 16 "A"

Captain: B. R. Henwood

Coach: Mr. Coombes

Of the four games played by the Under 16 "A" team in the third term last year, two were won and two lost. In all matches the bowlers performed well, dismissing the opposition for reasonable totals. However, inconsistent batting prevented these totals from being reached and the team did not realize its full potential. The most successful batsman for the term was McEwin, while Stanford and Henwood each took the most wickets.

The first match was a one-day game against St. Peter's College Second XI. Strengthened by the inclusion of Milner, Haines and Hamilton from the Seconds, we gained a comfortable first innings win.

P.A.C. 5 for 133 (Haines 76) defeated S.P.S.C. Second XI 5 for 86 (Stanford 4 for 22).

The next match was played against our Seconds and after an exciting match, we lost by 7 runs on the first innings. After losing 6 for 48, a win looked impossible, but a partnership of 45 between McEwin and Brinsley put us in sight of victory.

P.A.C. Under 16 "A" 128 (McEwin 40, Brinsley 16) lost to P.A.C. Second XI 135 (Stanford 4 for 30, McEwin 4 for 35).

A one-day game followed against Rostrevor Seconds. We narrowly lost by 5 runs, having only limited time. A misunderstanding robbed us of 10 minutes, and a possible victory.

P.A.C. 6 for 76 (DeGaris 31 n.o.) lost to R.C. Second XI 9 for 81 (Tregoning 4 for 12, Henwood 3 for 19).

We finished the term with a win over S.P.S.C. Under 16 "A". Once again defeat looked probable, but we were rescued by a 60 run partnership between Brinsley and Chapman.

P.A.C. 169 (Chapman 59 n.o.) defeated S.P.S.C. 121 (McEwin 3 for 29, Henwood 3 for 32).

Under 15 Red

Captain: R. Lower

Coach: Mr. P. V. Brown

The Under 15 Red team had a mixed season, winning two out of the four games played. The team started well with a comfortable win over S.P.S.C., followed by another win over Kings in a close fight. In the next match we lost to Westminster, and then finished the season with an outright defeat at the hands of St. Ignatius.

P.A.C. 7 for 173 (Sweeney 86, Lower 32 n.o.) defeated S.P.S.C. 5 for 127.

P.A.C. 6 for 75 defeated K.C. 58 (Lower 6 for 21).

P.A.C. 85 lost to W.C. 132 (Lower 5 for 19).

P.A.C. 39 and 62 were defeated by S.I. 113 (Bjoldal 5 for 32) outright.

Under 14 "A"

Captain: M. G. Page and D. N. Bartlett

Coach: Mr. McFarlane

The Under 14 "A" team had a very successful season winning all but one of the five matches played. In the first match we were defeated by Sacred Heart. We then followed this loss by four good wins over Saints, A.B.H.S. Black and White teams, and C.B.C.

The best batsmen for the season were Martin and Karmel while the best bowlers were Pascoe and Sullivan.

P.A.C. 79 (Martin 18, Waters 14) lost to S.H.C. 96 (Pascoe 5 for 21).

P.A.C. 93 (Pascoe 39 n.o., Bartlett 16) defeated S.P.S.C. 52 (Pascoe 7 for 10).

P.A.C. 150 (Bartlett 28, Karmel 25, Waters 22, Herriot 21) defeated A.B.H.S. Black 26 (Bartlett 4 for 3, including the hat-trick, Pascoe 3 for 6, Sullivan 3 for 17).

P.A.C. 123 (Karmel 22, Martin 21, Herriot 31) defeated A.B.H.S. White 69 (Sullivan 4 for 21, Pascoe 3 for 15, Herriot 3 for 15).

P.A.C. 107 (Herriot 27, Martin 25) defeated C.B.C. 39 (Herriot 4 for 12, Pascoe 3 for 15) and 7 for 26 (Pascoe 4 for 10).

Under 14 "B"

Captain: R. Hill

Last year we were quite successful, and were only beaten twice, very narrowly, by A.B.H.S. and Sacred Heart. Two games were played against A.B.H.S. In the first we won convincingly, but lost in the second.

P.A.C. 140 (Weise 25, Hill 17) defeated A.B.H.S. 45).

P.A.C. 30 lost to A.B.H.S. 42 (Waterson 3 for 7).

P.A.C. 135 (Hill 42, Reece 25) were defeated by S.H.C. 140 (Smith 3 for 38).

P.A.C. 112 (Kerno 56) defeated S.P.S.C. 85 (Weise 4 for 17, Sullivan 3 for 30, Waterson 3 for 20).

P.A.C. 105 (Hill 37 n.o.) defeated P.G.S. 74 (Weise 3 for 20, Smith 2 for 10).

Under 14 "C"

Captain: A. R. Clements

Coach: Mr. Harvey

The team lacked the experience and determination needed to win a game, although we lost narrowly each time. The best player for the season was Whitham, and Baker did a good job behind the stumps.

Under 13 "A"

Captain: G. M. Schwartz

The Under 13 "A" team enjoyed a very successful last term, winning five of its six matches.

We defeated Scotch, C.B.C., and Sacred Heart outright, St. Ignatius and Scotch on the first innings as well as losing by the same margin in a return match.

Hetzel had a good season scoring 250 runs with a top score of 62 and taking just over 30 wickets, with 13 for 17 being his best match performance.

The whole team contributed to its success.

Captain: C. K. Nicholls

The Under 13 "B" team had a very successful season winning all the six games played. We were successful against A.B.H.S. (three times), Scotch, C.B.C., and Sacred Heart. Best batsmen were Nicholls and Ferris while Ferris and Nicholls excelled with the ball also.

FIRST TERM 1966

Second XI

Captain: H. G. P. Chapman

In the three matches played this term, we have won each convincingly. P. Speakman is to be congratulated on heading both the batting and bowling aggregates with 99 runs and 15 wickets. Other batsmen to score well on occasions were DeGaris, Chapman, Wilkinson, Brinsley, Johnston and Fyfe.

In the first match against Adelaide High Under 16 "A", we recorded our best win of the season. Due to a hostile second spell of pace bowling from Hetzel, supported well by Speakman, the opposition was dismissed for 112. An opening partnership of 90 between DeGaris and Speakman, and a second wicket partnership of 75 between Brinsley and Speakman, clinched victory for us.

P.A.C. 202 (Speakman 72, DeGaris 55, Brinsley 32) defeated A.B.H.S. Under 16 "A" 112 (Hetzel 5 for 30, Speakman 4 for 30) and 1 for 56 (Speakman 1 for 8).

In the next match we defeated St. Peters Under 16 "A", Chapman and Fyfe being the main rungetters. Johnston stumped two and took one catch, in a fine effort behind the stumps.

P.A.C. 167 (Chapman 43, Fyfe 26 ret.) defeated S.P.S.C. Under 16 "A" 130 (Speakman 4 for 32, Fyfe 2 for 18, Tregoning 2 for 18).

In the last match, Rostrevor Seconds offered little resistance to our attack. However, we made our lowest total for the term, only Wilkinson and Johnston keeping the bowling out for long.

P.A.C. 104 (Wilkinson 45, Johnston 25) defeated Rostrevor 47 (Speakman 3 for 10) and 4 for 82 (Speakman 2 for 82).

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Mr. Bennett for his coaching at practice, Mr. Nicholson for his enthusiastic attendance at the matches and Mr. Townsend for his assistance as scorer.

Third XI

Captain: R. E. W. Hancock

This year we had a fairly successful season, playing three games against Saints Under 16 "B", Saints Thirds and Rostrevor. After defeating Saints Under 16 "B" outright, in a match that lasted until the last ball had been bowled, we were defeated on the first innings by Saints Thirds, a team clearly stronger than us. At times the bowling lacked strength, but the batting was good, including a number of fine starts by Hiatt, a fighting innings by M. Chapman, and a magnificently attacking knock by Perks.

P.A.C. 93 (Johnston 30, Brooks 25) and 9 for 127 (Chapman 47, Hiatt 15) defeated S.P.S.C. Under 16 "B" 43 (Townsend 5 for 20, Brooks 4 for 15) and 173 (Wagner 2 for 10, Brooks 2 for 15).

P.A.C. 150 (Perks 58, Inglis 18 ret., Hiatt 15) were defeated by S.P.S.C. Thirds 8 for 200 dec. (Brooks 2 for 20, Campbell 2 for 18, Richmond 2 for 12) and 4 for 60.

P.A.C. 8 for 216 (Hiatt 66 ret., Hetzel 55 ret., Inglis 30) and 4 for 68 (Inglis 32 ret., Hiatt 24 ret.) defeated R.C. 129 (Hetzel 6 for 42). Our thanks go to Mr. Baker for his continued interest in our activities during the season.

Under 16 "A"

Captain: A. J. Bennett

This term, the Under 16 "A"s did not fare very well, losing all three of the matches played. In the first match, King's Second XI defeated us outright.

P.A.C. 53 and 80 (Boucaut 23, Reid 19) were defeated by Kings Second XI 160 (Herriot 3 for 21, Bjordal 3 for 33).

In the second match we were defeated by S.H.C. Second XI.

P.A.C. 54 (Bennett 24) and 8 for 56 (Britton 20) were defeated by S.H.C. Second XI 135 (Rogers 4 for 17).

In the last match we fared better but still could not manage a win against a strong A.B.H.S. Second XI.

P.A.C. 67 (Britton 15) and 100 (Bennett 21, Herriot 15) were defeated by A.B.H.S. Second XI 6 for 78 declared and 7 for 94 (Rogers 4 for 20).

On behalf of the team members, I would like to express my thanks to Mr. Coombes for his attendance at matches.

Under 15 "A" Red

Captain: D. N. Bartlett

The Under 15 "A" had a successful season winning all of the three matches played. We defeated Saints, beat St. Ignatius outright,

P.A.C. 187 (Bartlett 50 n.o., Faehse 49, Herriot 18) defeated Saints 107 (Faehse 7 for 28).

P.A.C. 116 (Faehse 32, Martin 32) defeated S.H.C. 30 (Faehse 4 for 10, McLaren 5 for 8) and 69 (Dreyer 3 for 12, Bartlett 3 for 13).

P.A.C. 87 and 2 for 55 defeated R.C. 30 and 9 for 114 (Faehse 3 for 26).

The team would like to thank Mr. Brown and Mr. Allen for their helpful advice.

Under 15 White

Captain: I. R. Pascoe

In the first match we played Rostrevor, but a superior fielding and batting side defeated us.

Rostrevor batted first in the one-day game and made 6 for 86 (Richardson 3 for 19, Weise 2 for 33). When we batted we only made 37, with Agars making 14.

In the next match we played Saints Under 15 in a two-day match. We batted first and made 76 (Agars 28, Pascoe 21). In Saints' first innings of 57, Sullivan took 4 wickets. In the time remaining we made 6 for 35 and Saints made 52. We won by only 2 runs.

In the last match against Saints we were easily beaten by a strong Saints team. We made only 50 runs, and managed to take only 3 Saints' wickets in their total of 171.

The team would like to thank Mr. Brown for his helpful advice at matches.

Captain: G. M. Schwartz

Under Mr. McFarlane's guidance, the Under 14 "A" team had a moderate first term. In our first match, we narrowly missed gaining an outright win over St. Michael's. We captured 17 of their wickets while they struggled to make half our score.

We were somewhat disappointed when defeated by Saints in our second match. We finished 62 runs behind their total. Bad fielding and running between wickets cost the side the match.

After four changes in the side for our last match, we managed to compile 169 runs on the first Saturday against Rostrevor.

P.A.C. 6 for 146 (Hetzel 50 ret., Schwartz 41 ret.) defeated S.M.C. 40 (Schwartz 5 for 6) and 7 for 22 (Ferris 4 for 3 including the hat-trick).

P.A.C. 119 (Hetzel 34) were defeated by S.P.S.C. 181 (Schwartz 4 for 48) and 1 for 51.

P.A.C. 9 for 169 (Schwartz 47, Ball 44) defeated Rostrevor 133 (Nobbs 5 for 46).

Captain: C. K. Nicholls

The Under 14 "B" team was not very successful, winning only two matches out of five. We lost to Adelaide Boys High, Sacred Heart, and our Under 14 "C"s, after adjusting the teams somewhat. The matches we won were against Scotch College and Saints. The best batsmen for the season were Nicholls and Ball. The best with the ball were Brooks and Nicholls.

The team would like to thank the masters and parents concerned, for their help, which was appreciated by all.

Captain: B. W. Rundle

Of the four matches played, we won two and lost two. The two matches we won, we did so very comfortably. The first game we won was against our own "B"s. The win was largely due to the excellent batting of Ball and Mitchell, who between them scored half the total runs. The second match we won was against A.B.H.S. This win was also due to some good batting, although the bowling was not up to standard. The two matches we lost were against S.P.S.C. "B"s and P.G.S. "B"s.

P.A.C. 67 (Buttery 15, Mitchell 16) were defeated by S.P.S.C. 105 (Jarvis 4 for 25, Hull 3 for 31).

P.A.C. Under 14 "C" 107 (Ball 47, Mitchell 30) defeated P.A.C. Under 14 "B" 78 (Mitchell 3 for 19).

P.A.C. 99 (Harris 26, Bowman 24) defeated A.B.H.S. 44 (Buttery 2 for 21).

P.A.C. 52 (Blake 15) were defeated by P.G.S. 95 (Blake 3 for 19, Thompson 1 for 12).

The team would like to thank Mr. Crouch for his coaching.

Captain: R. D. Gray

The team started the season exceptionally well by passing St. Ignatius' score without losing a wicket. In the second match against C.B.C. the team won on the first innings. The third match was an easy win when we dismissed S.H.C. for 12 runs. In the last match against Saints we had a convincing win when we nearly doubled the opposition's score.

The best players for the season were Bartlett, Thiem and Gray. The team would like to thank Mr. Claver for his coaching and attendance at matches.

P.A.C. 126 (Ryan 28, Phillips 27, Gray 26) defeated C.B.C. 49 (Bartlett 3 for 6).

P.A.C. 125 (Bartlett 54, McLean 25) defeated S.I.C. 59 (Thiem 6 for 10) and 4 for 48 (Thiem 3 for 16).

P.A.C. 161 (Bartlett 47) defeated S.H.C. 12 (Thiem 8 for 6) and 7 for 36 (Gray 4 for 25).

P.A.C. 82 (Bartlett 30, McLean 16) defeated S.P.S.C. 49 (Gray 4 for 18, including hat-trick, Bartlett 4 for 3).

Captain: N. J. Leach

The team had a mixed season, winning one match and losing one. The first game against Saints resulted in a win to us by 13 runs. However, against Rostrevor "A"s we lost by 19.

The best bowlers were Penhall, Solomon and Waters while Penhall and Leach scored most runs.

The team would like to thank Mr. Bowden for his coaching and encouragement throughout the season.

P.A.C. 64 (Phillips 12, Penhall 10, Leach 10) defeated S.P.S.C. 59 (Penhall 3 for 15, Waters 2 for 8, Phillips 2 for 12).

P.A.C. 65 (Penhall 25, Ryan 10, Leach 10) lost to Rostrevor "A" 46 (Solomon 3 for 21, Waters 2 for 13, Moore 2 for 0).

Under 13 Green

Captain: R. A. Snow

Although the team has not met with great success, we have fielded very well. Our bowling needs to be of better length and accuracy. Our batting has been steady with Haydon top-scoring. Our team has shown good team spirit.

P.A.C. 122 (Haydon 48) lost to S.H.C. 133.

P.A.C. 41 (Jackson 13) lost to A.B.H.S. 83.

P.A.C. 54 (D. Parham 19 n.o.) defeated Westminster 53 (Jackson 4 for 13).

Acknowledgements

The success of all teams which played this term was due mainly to the untiring efforts of the masters who coached and managed the teams, and it is to them that the thanks of the school are due: Messrs. Bennett, Nicholson, Coombes, Baker, Gray, McFarlane, Crouch, Harvey, Brown, Allen, Claver, Bowden and Jones. Once again the cage continued its effectiveness in dealing with equipment, and it is due to Mr. McFarlane's helpful supervision in controlling the smooth running of the cage that we are greatly indebted. Special thanks must also go to Mrs. Woodcock, Mrs. Gray, Sister McDonald, Miss Woodcock and the mothers of the First XI for the friendly atmosphere created at afternoon teas throughout the season.

Preparatory School

School Notes

When school began this year, the enrolments were 245, and since then there have been 4 additional arrivals. Settling in was very quickly achieved, and all phases of school life are going well. From the beginning of the term there was keen anticipation of the School Camp at Adare, Victor Harbor, during the last week of March, and this turned out to be a highly successful and enjoyable venture. A detailed report of its activities appears elsewhere.

The boys are still showing keen interest in raising funds for charitable causes. Last year a further £25 was given to the Legacy Club, and this year no less than four separate groups are operating.

Our results in two essay competitions held during 1965 were very pleasing. In the Local Government Essay Competition our boys won second and third prizes, and James Cooper was second in the Group Competition. In the Victor Martin Memorial Competition arranged by the R.S.P.C.A. our boys won the Sub-Junior Section. In the Junior Section, James Dagnall was first, Stuart Watson second, and James Cooper fourth. In the Sub-Junior, Nicholas Ibbotson was first and John Chynoweth third.

We congratulate Stephen Dunn on being Dux of the Preparatory School in 1965, and Alastair Hunter on winning the J. R. Robertson Scholarship. Our best wishes go with those boys who have graduated to the Senior School, and we shall follow their progress with interest.

There have been no changes of staff this year. It is gratifying to see the continued interest shown by the teachers in school activities both inside and outside the classroom. We were delighted to note the success achieved by Mr. Houston and Mr. Hewlett in their tertiary studies.

It is pleasing to see the interest that is being shown in chess again this year. Our school team has begun with a win in their first competition game for the season.

We are indebted to Mr. Sparrow for the interest he takes in the upkeep of the grounds, and for the many helpful things he does for everyone.

During the Christmas vacation a large area of the grounds was cemented, and this has improved our playing areas considerably.

We welcome Mrs. L. Rogers to the position of Secretary in the place of Mrs. Pearce, who has retired after many years of sterling service to the School. We hope that Mrs. Rogers will enjoy her stay with us.

We are very glad to see that the staff of the Boarding House is unchanged. Sister Rowe and the resident masters do an excellent job of looking after the boarders, and things in their department are kept running smoothly.

Leaders

We congratulate the following boys on their appointment as Leaders for 1966: Michael Wills (Captain of the Prep.), Robert Condon, Andrew Crompton, Carl Dorsch, Alexander Gray, David Lovell, Peter Marriott, Timothy Phillips, Graeme Taplin, Andrew Tucker, Richard Woollard. It is a very great compliment to be chosen by the boys and the masters to fill this important office, and we wish them well.

Mothers' Club

A most successful sale of outgrown clothing was held at the Preparatory School on Tuesday, 15th February. The sum of $16.25 was received.

We hope to hold a further sale early in the second term.

Four yellow raincoats and hats for Leaders on Road Duty during winter, were purchased.

At the General Meeting Mrs. Dunning was introduced to the mothers.

A bracket of songs by II B boys was very well received.

Mr. Leak addressed the mothers and thanked them for financial help in procuring arithmetic equipment aids and also for setting aside $250 to buy a Mathematics Laboratory, a Literary Appreciation Kit, and further education aids.

Various Science, English and Geometry Aids were displayed.

We were sorry to lose from our Committee Mesdames Gray, Phillips, Hobbs, Harris and Bayly, but we welcome Mesdames Woolford, Fricker, Tucker, Dorsch.

We are particularly glad to have the assistance of Mrs. Wills, the mother of the Captain of the Preparatory School.

Art Display

On the morning of 6th December, 1965, the boys of the Preparatory School, under the guidance of Mr. Malcolm Gray, held a Display of Art in the foyer of the New Assembly Room. The function was opened by the Secretary of the Preparatory School Mothers Club, Mrs. A. F. Gray, and was appreciated by the parents and boys who visited it.

Junior Concert, 1965

The 1965 Junior Christmas Concert took the form which is rapidly becoming traditional; namely, I C and I A each perform a chosen playlet, I A and I B combine to "act out" the Christmas story, and the audience participate by singing carols, led by the II A choir.

This year the boys of I C played "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" to a tape-recorded narration of the well-known poem, augmented by a "live" commentary by Mr. R. Smith. The boys of I B enjoyed bringing to life the poem "The Crooked Sixpence", and IA and IIB performed the Christmas Pageant, "A Little Child Shall Lead Them". Lighting by Mr. Houston, music and accompaniment by Miss Dunn and Mrs. Hunter, the unstinted co-operation of teachers and boys, all contributed to a successful evening.

House Competition, 1965

After a most even competition, the House Cup was eventually won by Mitchell House for only the second time since the House was created. At the end of the second term, points were even, but they managed to forge ahead and then hung on to their slender lead.

Class Picnics

The morning of Monday, 13th December, dawned fresh and fair, and at nine o'clock the Preparatory School was ringing with the shouts of excited boys as they clustered around the cars that were to take them to the annual beach picnics.

The junior grades travelled to Tennyson, where Mrs. Tidswell had again offered her home as a base for operations, and soon the boys were having wonderful fun on the beach and in the water.

The boys in II A, III L, and III U journeyed to Brighton. They were given a display of aqualung equipment and its use by the Police Aqualung Squad, operating from the Brighton Jetty, and afterwards did their best to submerge their teachers by weight of numbers.

After a most enjoyable day, the boys, some nursing the beginnings of bright suntan, returned to School in high spirits. They were all most grateful to those parents who provided cars for the day.

Cricket

During the third term of 1965 the Preparatory First XI won all nine games played. Some of the best individual performances recorded were:

Gray 62 not out and 6 for 21 against Sacred Heart;

Taplin 4 for 16 against St. Peters;

Brinsley 6 for 13 against Scotch;

Lovell 42 and Thiem 5 for 13 against C.B.C.

Richard Gray is to be congratulated on winning the Cricket Cup presented by L. O. Fuller, Esq.

This year the team has again performed well, winning 4 of the 5 games played.

Brinsley's 6 for 11 from 7 overs against St. Peters was an outstanding achievement, while his batting too, with scores of 35 not out and 61 not out, has proved a delight to watch. Lovell has continued to bat well throughout, scoring 105 runs (average 52.5) this term. Taplin has again bowled consistently, and with a little more luck would have taken more wickets.

Preparatory Second XI—

The P.A.C. Preparatory Second XI finished the 1965 season by winning 7 matches and losing 8. Wins in the third term were recorded over Kings, Pulteney, Scotch and St. Ignatius. Highlights of the term included a fine 51 not out by Dalwood who finished at the head of the batting averages, and a hat-trick by Raggatt against Scotch.

The 1966 season has begun well for the Preparatory Second XI. We have won 3 of our 5 matches, including a great win over Sacred Heart on their own ground. This is the first time this has been done by the "B"s for many years.

Places in the team are keenly contested, in fact the list of boys vying for selection seems to grow longer each week. We are all confident that under Michael Wills' leadership, the Second XI will go from strength to strength this year.

Tennis

We are still having difficulty arranging matches for our tennis players, and during the first term we have played only two games. The first, against S.P.S.C. on their courts was a close contest, eventually resulting in a win to our opponents, but with the rubbers even. We managed to win the second game, against P.G.S.

We are grateful to Mr. Hewlett for arranging these games, and for the interest he takes in us.

Fathers and Sons Cricket and Tennis

On the last Saturday of the School year, we held our traditional Fathers and Sons Sports Day. This year we played two cricket matches, one in the morning for fathers and sons of the "B" team, and one in the afternoon for the "A" team. The fathers proved much too strong in the "A" match; Messrs. Brinsley, McLean, Solomon, Gray, Cuthbertson and Lovell led a determined onslaught on the Preparatory bowling, and the fathers scored 156 in quick time. The boys could manage only 105 against a varied and interesting attack.

In the "B" match, the picture was reversed. The fathers scored 106, the top-scorers being Mr. Dalwood and Mr. Williamson, but the boys relished the chance to play Dad's bowling, and finished with a total of 153, in spite of dire threats about deprivation of meals for lack of filial respect.

The tennis players also had an enjoyable afternoon, during which some of the father and son combinations looked very impressive.

The afternoon tea, provided by the mothers, was a welcome respite for the weary during the day.

Cricket and Tennis Day v. S.P.S.C.

It was our turn to entertain our rivals from Saints in December, and we are always glad to see them and do battle in both cricket and tennis. There were six cricket matches, and rivalry was keen.

We hope that our visitors had an enjoyable day, as we most certainly did.

Swimming Sports, 1965

On 1st December, the Preparatory School held a swimming carnival at the Unley Swimming Pool. A most interesting and enjoyable programme was arranged, and the day was a pronounced success. It is hoped that this can once again become an annual feature on the School calendar. We are very grateful to Mr. Woollard and Mr. Hewlett for arranging the programme, and to the other members of the staff for their help in running the carnival.

P.A.C. Preparatory Camp School

Adare, Victor Harbor

Despite the previous week's threat of foul weather, Sunday, 27th March, dawned fine and mild, and by 12.30, 130 optimistically enthusiastic grade 6 and 7 boys had mustered for their first-ever Camp School. The attendant masters were rather more apprehensive perhaps, but from the start there was little or no time for pessimistic musings.

Excellently organized by Mr. G. Hewlett, the project was to prove highly successful.

The previous day's advance party, under Mr. R. Smith, was thoroughly prepared for the unusually large intake, and soon Adare bulged with enthusiasm-bursting, unpacking, bed-making boys. That night dormant bodies overflowed from double-decker bunks on to stretchers and sleeping-bags spread upon the floors.

Early morning swims followed by seemingly frenzied study sessions on:

Contours, rivers, new mathematics, painting, drawing, scrambles up the bluff; "Auto-motive Engineering", cricket, football, mouth-to-mouth Resus. Folksy-singing, mysteries of Mammalia, mapping, climates, water-safety rules; first-aid, track-downs round the Granite Island, "Rippling kinships" from Goolwa to the Mouth. Welcome calm of evening worship—then bed, bed . . .

All settled into the pre-arranged pattern with Snips and ice-creams, buns and teas, mounds of dishes, Emu parades, musterings, showers, dormitory inspections, Everests of "washing-up"—and the thousand and one things that one hundred and thirty boys demand in a camp school—and unfalteringly take in their stride. Older knees trembled and sagged—but the good weather held!

At approximately 1.35 p.m. on Friday, 1st April, Mrs. Rattley, the amazingly co-operative resident Housekeeper, must have stood in her kitchen, glazed of eye, silence-shrouded, wondering—we had left by 1.30.

We too wonder. The boys? They know. "Good!" "Massive!" "Fantastic!" That is enough.

THE SPIDER IN THE WEB

A car swerved round the corner and spurts of machine gun fire struck dead the President. The Spider had struck again!

Seeing many people rushing towards the body I jumped into my sports car and trailed the killers. I stopped quickly and reported the car number and description to the police and was off again. I thought I had lost them until I saw five people dumping the car over the cliff. They hailed me but I drove on. They put a hole through one of my tyres with a bullet, and I fired back. They ran up to some boulders for protection. I settled down for a fight from behind my car.

As I expected they moved to different positions. Before I knew it bullets were flying all around me. They punctured another tyre and put holes in my radiator and petrol tank. Soon the car was afloat. I picked up some sharp metal and made a slight cut on my body to make the killers think I was wounded. As the flames reduced I lay still as possible and led the murderers to think I was dead.

They walked away, so I bandaged the cut and grabbed my pistol and rifle together with some ammunition. They led me for two miles until they entered a cave.

I waited for five minutes nearby then entered. In the failing light I saw two skeletons in a corner surrounded by inefficient camouflage. Suddenly I trod on a stone and on one side of the cave the stone wall parted and in front of me was an underground room.

A bullet flew past my ear and I jumped behind a convenient boulder. I was just about to run for the entrance of the cave when a gang of men blocked my passage. Bullets came upon me from all sides sending chips of rock flying. I saw my only chance. I fired at the roof, starting a minor collapse. The men at the entrance stepped back. Then I punctured the ceiling of the room, which also started to collapse. The men rushed for the exit and escaped. Then I grabbed a machine gun of theirs and blocked the entrance. I dodged heaps of rocks in the room and entered another room where the Spider stood—defenceless. I fired close to him and he told me all I wanted to know. I forced him to mislead his men and to show me a secret passage. I drove one of his cars to the police station, with him bound and gagged in the back.

So ended the reign of terror of the king of the underworld, the Spider. R.H., III UW

A DOG IN A RABBIT HOLE

About five years ago, in the Christmas holidays, we went down to our shack at Aldinga.

One evening Robert, my brother, took Scamp, our dog, for a walk in the sandhills. Scamp saw a rabbit and ran after it. The rabbit ran down its hole and Scamp went in after it. When Scamp was going in he bumped a branch which was supporting a lot of sand and it fell and covered the hole.

Robert ran back to the shack and told Mum and Dad who came with spades and a fork. They dug and dug but could not find Scamp. Later on a friend of ours, Mr. Clark, helped us dig for Scamp, too. When it was dark we gave up hope.

In the night Robert cried and cried, and Mummy woke up at four o'clock in the morning.

Next day Robert and his friend went down to the hole and they heard thumping. They ran back to the shack and told Dad. After dinner Dad, Robert and his friend went back to the hole where they dug a big hole.

Suddenly a little bit of sand fell. They dug where the sand had fallen and soon a little black knob appeared, then a head. It was Scamp. We dug round his body, but he could not run out, because his leg was caught between two branches. We broke the branches and Scamp ran out and started to sniff the bushes. He had been in the rabbit hole for twenty-one hours.

We took him to show Mr. Clark, and when Scamp ran up to him, he nearly fainted.

JACK

There was a boy whose name was Jack,
Who loved to ride a horse bareback,
But once when he went out to ride,
He chanced to kick his horse's side.

The horse did whinney, snort and neigh,
And tossed the boy the other way.
He landed hard upon his head,
Inside the porkers muddy bed.

The porker snorted, got up steam,
And charged him like an oxen team.
Jack, his head still pretty sore,
Was squashed out flat against the door.

A week ago they found him there,
Dried like raisin, prune or pear.
They wept, but when their grief had passed,
They nailed his hide up to the mast.

STURT'S JOURNEY DOWN THE MURRAY

On Wednesday, 10th November, 1829, a small party of men left Sydney on a journey which was to prove one of the most daring and exciting adventures in Australian history. The leader of the party was a soldier whose name was Charles Sturt.

Sturt was born in India in the year 1795. His father was a judge in Bengal. In 1826 Sturt sailed for New South Wales as a commander of a regiment of soldiers which was to supervise the convicts.

With him on his expedition down the Murrumbidgee went five men—his servant Harris, Frazer, Maxwell, Hopkinson and Clayton, a carpenter. They took with them teams of dogs and horses as well as a dray carrying the necessary materials to build a whaleboat.

After travelling for six weeks through desolate and inhospitable country it soon became clear that the country was too rough for the horses to go any further, so Sturt decided to build a whaleboat. After four days of hard labour the whaleboat was painted and set afloat. It seemed to Sturt impossible that it could hold all their provisions for her afterpart had already been used up as an armoury. A smaller boat was therefore built. The building material was obtained from a tree which they felled from the forest.

On the 6th January, the explorers set out. In Sturt's own words "whether ever to return again being a point of the greatest uncertainty".

After three days the river became wider and flowed in a general westerly direction. Suddenly it became shallower again and Sturt began to fear that it might end in a marsh like the Rivers Lachlan and Macquarie. Soon large trees appeared blocking parts of the river. Also the water was muddy and it was difficult to see underwater snags.

On the 12th January the explorers came upon a considerable creek junction from the south-east. Below it the Murrumbidgee grew deeper and wider. Suddenly the river turned south. For the next twenty-four hours the explorers were carried at a terrific rate down the river and they had an anxious time avoiding a creek junction. Less than a minute later they were swept into a broad and noble river. Sturt said in his journal: "It is impossible for me to describe such an instantaneous change of circumstances upon us . . . we continued to gaze in silent astonishment at the capacious channel which we had entered".

The current was very strong in this area of the Murray which was, of course, the river into which they had been swept. The river stretched from fifteen to two hundred yards across. The party had been sailing for about nine miles when they came upon crowds of natives who were singing their war-song. They had painted themselves many different colours and waved spears in the air. Sturt immediately steered for the middle of the river and passed quietly downstream. The natives ran along the bank trying to keep within range of the boat. Soon the river became shallower. The reason for this was that there was a sandbank ahead which stretched two-thirds of the way across the river. On the sandbank the natives ran in a dense mass. To avoid a battle would now be impossible. Sturt handed out guns to his men. He made signs as he approached the sandbank to try and convince the natives that the explorers were friends but to no avail. Sturt cocked his rifle. Three seconds later the life of the nearest native might have ended but out of the corner of his eye Sturt saw a second party of blacks on the left bank. These blacks suddenly started swimming across the river and when they reached the sandbank persuaded the attacking party that the explorers were friends.

Thirty-three days after leaving the depot the party reached Lake Alexandrina. Sturt said in his journal: "It was now near sunset and one of the loveliest evenings I had ever seen. The sun's radiance was yet upon the mountains but all lower objects were in the shade. The river banks with their rocks and huge trees were reflected in its tranquil waters which were unruffled save by the thousand wildfowl which made a noise as of a multitude of clapping hands in their efforts to rise from the waters".

They dragged the boats over shoals and quicksands but soon realized that it would be impossible to sail them into the sea. Even though they could not do this they had struck the coast deep in the bight of Encounter Bay—a feat which no white man had ever performed before.

A TRIP TO THE VICTORIAN SNOWFIELDS

My family and I departed from Adelaide in August for the Victorian snowfields. We had rented a cabin at Bright. It is a very picturesque township surrounded by high mountain peaks. On our first day we went to Mount Buffalo and were very disappointed to find very little snow, certainly not enough for skiing, but we managed to have a lot of fun on a toboggan. On the return journey to Bright we passed through very rich land with dairy cattle grazing on it. Our next trip was to Falls Creek. The approach to this ski village was through a very scenic township named Mount Beauty. This town is the headquarters for the hydro-electric scheme. On our arrival at Falls Creek there was plenty of snow. It was so pretty to look up the mountain with ski lodges tucked into the mountainside with their roofs covered with thick snow. My father hired skis for me and it was a wonderful thrill to come down the mountain slope.

Another trip we had was to Mount Hotham. Here we found very deep snow and the road was completely covered. The snow plough was engaged all the time in keeping the roads open. This day I enjoyed most of all as the slopes were much steeper. My father took colour slides of this trip and occasionally we have a picture night and recall the fun we had on our first trip to the Victorian snowfields.

AN EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jones would probably just make it to the party. After Mrs. Jones had put her son, Peter, to bed and then applied her cosmetics they were both finally ready to leave. I switched on their television set and pulled up an armchair and was ready for a peaceful night's baby-sitting. Then on came my favourite programme "The Touchables".

Settling down into the chair, I heard footsteps on the staircase. It was Peter. I went and met him. He said that the television was too loud and he couldn't go to sleep. I sent him back to bed. I decided to turn off the television set. "As long as I can't watch television," I thought to myself, "I may as well read a book." I walked to their library and selected a book.

Suddenly, as before, I heard footsteps on the staircase. I called, "Peter is that you?" I received no answer so once again I walked to the steps. It was Peter. This time he said he couldn't sleep because the lights were on. Peter went to bed again with the lights turned off. I decided to fix myself a snack. In the refrigerator I found lots of delicious things, but, at the door of the kitchen was Peter. "How can I sleep with these smells all around me? Anyway, I feel rather hungry!" he said. He marched in and took an apple, a banana, a bunch of grapes and a tin of biscuits. Then he said his father always told him a bedtime story. This time we both marched upstairs. I began the story, "Once upon a time there were three bears —z-z-z-z!" I feel asleep. The next thing I knew was that Peter wasn't with me. Where was he? I looked everywhere. Then Mr. and Mrs. Jones arrived home, and they joined in the hunt. Suddenly I found him on the top of the larder cupboard. He was sticky and messy with jam all over him. Mrs. Jones said she would give him a good spanking but naturally I said it was all my fault, though deep down inside me I felt like giving him a spanking myself.

Mr. Jones gave me my ten dollars and I drove off home.

WHEN I GROW UP

I would like to be a naturalist. I hope to go to lots of places. If I do, however, I will take lots of boxes to put little animals in—suggestion, a ladybird. For the bigger animals, I will put them in cages. I might shoot some of them and put them in huge glass cases and I will have some for pets. I might stay in South Australia or I might go to Africa.

THE SCARECROW

The old scarecrow in the field,
Watching the crops as they yield,
Has stood through many a storm,
Scaring the birds as they take the corn.

In the field alone at night,
When the full moon shines bright,
He casts an eerie silhouette,
Have you and the scarecrow ever met?

JOURNEY INTO SPACE

10-9-8-7 . . . The flat, monotonous voice echoed through my head. Excitement welled in my body. My very veins seemed fit to burst with every throb of my body. 5-4-3-2-1-0.

We were off with a roar and a flash of light, off on our journey into space. The rocket roared into the air, further and further from those watching on the ground, until we were out of sight. As we shot up I felt nervous, my head seemed to whirl around, dizziness overcame me and I passed out.

When I came to I could see we were high above the earth's surface which appeared as a giant map beneath me.

This was rather a frightening sight!

The rocket began to roll and I took a last look at the earth below before it passed from sight.

"Could they be the lights of Melbourne?"

Instruments had to be checked and as I set about this task my thoughts reflected on my mission to reach the moon. Before long my instruments were ready and I could take pictures of the moon, its surface and any life I might find there.

My thoughts then returned to earth. I could just picture my name in big letters across the morning newspaper and underneath a photograph of the rocket I was journeying to the moon in.

"Calling Space Craft 1. Calling Space Craft 1! Come in Captain Ronson, over."

The radio message brought my thoughts back to the present.

"Space Craft 1 receiving you, Space Craft 1 receiving you, over."

"Ron, how is it up there? Have you taken any pictures yet? How much longer before you land? What are you doing? Keep in contact with us all the time from now on, over."

"I have taken some pictures of space. I should land in another hour. Just now I am looking down to earth. The air around me is filled with small, glittering objects which seem to be flying past my window. Now I can see the moon again. I th-i-i-nk I can see movement on its surface.

"I've just chosen a suitable landing site. It's now time to press the button to fire the braking rockets. I've prepared everything for landing. Over for now."

The space craft began to spin then there was a sudden bumping, the engines stopped. I knew I was safely on the moon and I pressed the button to open the door.

OUR PRESIDENT — R. B. CRAVEN

Mr. Robert Burbury Craven, who attended the School 1927-37, is a son of the late Mr. T. C. (Charlie) Craven, who was president of the Association in 1926. Mr. Craven was first elected to the Committee in 1958, has since served on various sub-committees, and is a former chairman of the Old Scholars Athletic Club. In 1963 he was elected junior vice-president, senior vice-president the following year, and president at the A.G.M. last November.

He had a brilliant athletic career and represented the School in this sport from 1933-37. In his final year he won four Intercollegiate events and dead-heated for first place in a fifth. (Subsequently he won the University Athletic Cup on two occasions, and is a former State Title Holder of the 100 and 220 yards flat). In addition he was a member of the First XVIII for two years and a prefect in his final year.

During World War II he enlisted in the R.A.A.F., attained the rank of Flight-Lieutenant, and saw service over a wide area of the South-West Pacific. After discharge he joined the family business of J. Craven & Co. Pty. Ltd., and following the death of his elder brother John last year, he became Chairman of Directors.

Mr. Craven has been actively connected with the Retail Traders' Association of S.A. for many years, and is a past president. In addition he is currently vice-president of the Australian Council of Retailers. Other interests include membership of the Naval and Military Club, the Adelaide Bowling Club, and Royal Adelaide Golf Club.

Married, with two daughters who attend P.G.C., and two sons (one at the School, the other now left and at the University), Mr. Craven resides at 3 Eringa Avenue, Glenunga.

Purely Personal

Sir Russell Dumas recently received the rare honour of being made the sixth Honorary Member of the Australian Institute of Engineers. Sir Russell, who has had a distinguished career in W.A., is a former Director of Works and Chairman of the State Electricity Commission. He is Chairman of the North-West Development Committee and has been closely associated with the Ord Valley project since its inception. He also took a leading part in the establishment of the Kwinana Refinery.

Graham Taylor who did a Science Course at the University is now a Research Scientist with the C.S.I.R.O., Division of Coal Research, at North Ryde, N.S.W. He was for many years a prominent member of the Old Scholars Athletic Club.

Elliott Smart, who migrated to Western Australia in 1935, started as a share-farmer with a capital of $400. Recently, he sold the homestead part of his "Erregulla Springs" property for $500,000. He still owns 70,000 acres of this property, plus others. His philosophy, "I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence, the thrill of fulfilment to the stale calm of Utopia!" In the 1958-59 season he harvested 317,000 bushels of wheat and shored 47,000 head of sheep to yield 450,000 pounds of wool.

Dr. Elliott Forsyth has been appointed Foundation Professor of French at the new LaTrobe University of Melbourne. He has lectured at several American Universities and is the author of a book in French.

Professor Donald Cheek was in Adelaide last December conducting a post-graduate lecture week at the Adelaide Children's Hospital. He is attached to the Pediatrics Departments of the Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore.

Phil McBride junior, a member of the Australian Wool Board, visited South Africa in October of last year to attend a meeting of the International Wool Secretariat held at Port Elizabeth.

Dr. David Riceman has been elected a vice-president of the Legacy Club of Adelaide.

David Smyth and Clive Philpott, who are both attached to the Department of Zoology and Genetics at the University, have been selected to do research on rare marsupials in the north of South Australia. The Nuffield Foundation of London made a $4,000 grant which was supplemented by a grant from the Royal Zoological Society.

Edgar Lawton returned from overseas last year after attending the World Convention of the Churches of Christ at Puerto Rico. Whilst in America he was able to hand over some valuable manuscripts, found in South Australia, which were the main works of Alexander Campbell, the man who founded the Churches of Christ of America.

Mr. Jack Glover, as Chairman of the Board of Governors of the 1966 Adelaide Festival of Arts, is to be congratulated on a magnificent job, which brought great credit and renown to him and to the State.

Robert Dawe, son of Lewis Dawe, is known as the "form horse" of Australian vocal competitions. He has been second in "The Advertiser" Aria twice, once third and twice second in the Adelaide Eisteddfod and second in "The Sun" Aria. At the Ballarat South Street Competitions last year, he romped home in the aggregate with seven firsts and a second. Some years ago he won an Elder Scholarship and has studied under baritone Arnold Matters. Handel's "Messiah", presented by the Adelaide Harmony Choir, was conducted by his father, Lewis Dawe, and the organist was Rolland May.

Professor Emeritus Sir John Cleland is one of four honorary Fellows of the Royal Society of South Australia. In a recent letter to the press he was urging that volunteer labour be used to check the advance of the noxious weed, "African Daisy".

Mr. Les Cowan of Balhannah, a brother of the late Sir Darcy Cowan, said he believes that twenty Army Cadets from P.A.C., who attended the opening of the Federal Parliament in 1901, took some Mauser rifles with them which had been captured from the Boers in South Africa and sent by Lord Roberts out here to his late brother, that is, Les Cowan's late brother.

Dr. Brian Shea, reported in the October issue as having been appointed South Australian Director of Mental Health, said he was impressed by developments in this field in South Australia since he had been away.

Robert Helpmann recently visited Adelaide. On being chosen "Australian of the Year", he said it was not so much an honour for himself as for Australian ballet.

Dr. Gordon Prest has received promotion in the Grade of Commander (Brother) in the Order of St. John. He is a past chairman of the St. John Ambulance Association, South Australian centre.

John Clarkson has been appointed Sales Manager of Clarkson Ltd. Previously, he was an outside representative and country sales supervisor.

Frank Anderson, previously southern regional manager for Mutual Acceptance Co. Ltd., has been appointed Chief Manager at Head Office in Sydney.

Dr. Keith LePage has been appointed by Executive Council a member of the new Social Welfare Advisory Council.

Alan Hickinbotham has been elected to the Council of the Town and Country Planning Association.

Len Clarkson and Bob Piper have recently joined the Board of the Home for Incurables. Eric Williams is Chairman of the Board, and Dr. L. L. Davey is Chairman of several sub-committees.

The following Old Scholars are Foundation Members of the recently established Executor and Trustee Institute of Australia—Norman Angel, Stan Chinner, Murray Leak, Keith Davey, Clarrie Tideman, Harry Vincent and Ted Whittam.

Frank Hill, who has been managing editor of the "Adelaide Stock and Station Journal" and "Australian Stud and Farm" for the past three years, has been appointed Group General Manager of the Stock Journal's three Associated Companies, including Publishers Pty. Ltd., the printing house which produces the group's own papers and a number of other publications.

Dr. Trevor Waterman will be leaving shortly for the U.K. to gain further medical experience. He will travel as a ship's surgeon and expects to be away for twelve months.

Bruce Isaacs also leaves for the U.K. shortly and expects to be away two years and gain further experience in the footwear trade.

Peter Milhinch is now C/- Queen's College, University of Melbourne.

Mr. Bob Wilson of Rose Bay, N.S.W., now over ninety, recently sent five years' subscription as an ordinary member, so that he is now four years in advance. He thinks this ought to see him out!

Dr. W. R. Martin, currently in the U.K., is now at the Liverpool Maternity Hospital.

Dr. Dick Bennett, reported in the October issue as having been appointed to the new second chair of Surgery at Melbourne University, is now living at Box Hill North.

Brent Blanks has moved to Canada and is now C/- Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce at Toronto.

David Watson, a senior P.M.G. engineer, who recently spent several years overseas, has been posted to Melbourne and is working on micro-wave communications at Headquarters.

Tony Clark, who went overseas at the end of 1964, has been furthering his experience in electrical engineering with a firm of consulting engineers in London.

Rev. Ronald Williams, who was previously in the Anglican ministry here in Adelaide, has joined the Overseas Mission and is now C/- Bishop's House, Suva, Fiji.

David Medlow, formerly at Warrawong, N.S.W., has recently been appointed General Superintendent of Merchant Mill at Australian Iron and Steel Pty. Ltd., Port Kembla, and will be living at Lake Illawarra.

David Horner, who left school last year, is now a staff cadet at Duntroon. He was one of six boys selected from South Australia.

Geoffrey Taylor, who won a Qantas Cadet Pilot Scholarship, has moved to Sydney to do his course and is living at Marrickville.

Other changes of address noted were—

Ivor Daniel to 84 Grover Street, Wagga, New South Wales.

Jonathon Baker to 701 Canning Highway, Applecross, Western Australia.

John Loxton to 5 Goldthoms Avenue, East Kew, Victoria.

Leon Holmes to C/- Shell Coy (Pacific Island) Ltd., Box 169, Port Moresby, Papua.

D. M. Lowe to 46 William Street, Mount Waverley, Victoria.

B. G. Jeffreson to 201 Burke Road, East Malvern, Victoria.

I. B. Cook to 23 Gilghi Street, Woomera.

G. T. Sherman to 16 Phillip Avenue, Downer, Australian Capital Territory.

Keith Higgins to Strathalbyn.

Bryan Shedlich to 24 Scott Grove, Burwood, Victoria.

Fred Shedlich to C/- State Bank, Kingscote, Kangaroo Island.

K. J. Atkins to 2 Gerrard Court, Glen Waverley, Victoria.

ASSOCIATION BLAZERS

Blazers are obtainable by members of this Association, but a certificate of membership must be obtained from the Association Secretary.

EDUCATION FUND

The education of all the children of Old Boys killed on active service has now been completed. The remaining fund is available, at the discretion of the Committee, for the children of Old Boy ex-servicemen who have died since their discharge from war service, or failing any children within this category, for sons of Old Boys who shall die before their children's education has been completed.

Should any Old Boy learn of a child or children who may be eligible for the benefits of the fund, would he please inform the Secretary or a member of the Committee so that the matter may be investigated.

ASSOCIATION TIES

Members are reminded that these are available from the Association Office, 185 Melbourne Street, North Adelaide, or J. Craven and Co. Pty. Ltd., Rundle Street, Adelaide. Prices are as follows:

| Red woollen tie (with white stripes) | $1.25 |
| Navy blue woollen tie with badge motif | $2.75 |
| Navy blue silk tie with badge motif | $2.75 |

Annual General Meeting

The Eighty-seventh Annual General Meeting of the Association was held at the School on Thursday evening, 18th November. At the risk of being wearisome the comments which were made in reporting this meeting last year are hereby repeated: "Like most meetings of this nature in these days it was not well attended and we can only add that this seems a pity. Over the years the Association has been extraordinarily well supported and, in fact, is still; and though this is primarily a business meeting it is still a pleasant and interesting evening, which the Committee does appeal for more Old Boys to attend".

This is the time to learn of the many activities of the Association and of their extent. It is also an opportunity to meet officers and committeemen, and to bring forward any ideas (or complaints) which may be helpful.

After the report and accounts had been received, Mr. Piper, in moving their adoption, referred briefly to various items, and was supported by the Treasurer, Mr. Hunwick. The latter said it was pleasing to report a surplus for the year, largely as the result of a more satisfactory Old Boys Week. The annual election of officers followed the usual pattern with Mr. Robert Craven (previously Senior Vice-president) being elected President. Like his predecessor, Mr. Bob Piper, his father was also President, and the family has rendered great service to the School. Mr. Brian Fricker moved up from Junior to Senior Vice-president, and Dr. David Riceman became the new Junior Vice-president. Mr. Piper, after an excellent year in office, automatically became the Immediate Past President. The Treasurer, Mr. Ern Hunwick, and Auditors, Carl Muecke and Geoffrey Clarke, were re-elected, and in connection with the latter appointments a word of thanks should be expressed for their excellent work over a very considerable period of time.

Centenary Building Fund Appeal

All members will by now be thoroughly conversant with the aims and objects of this appeal, news of which appears elsewhere in this issue. Its success will not only enable the centenary of the School to be fittingly celebrated, but is essential for the proper development of the School. It is very pleasing to note, and perhaps very proper, that many of the appeal leaders have held, or are holding office in the Association. We have always

The new President, in proposing a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Piper, referred to their untiring efforts and attendance at many functions, including Old Scholar sporting fixtures. Mr. Piper, in responding, said it had been a privilege and pleasure for them both. Mr. Brian Fricker proposed a vote of thanks to the Headmaster, Mr. Dunning, and Mrs. Dunning, and said their interest and loyalty in everything related to the School and the Association were appreciated by all Old Scholars far and near. The Headmaster had always given a lead in setting exemplary standards, and this had been reflected in the good standing of the School and the Association. The Headmaster, on behalf of himself and his wife, thanked Mr. Fricker and members for their kind expressions, and said that with any Headmaster a school always became very much a part of his life. A vote of thanks was given by Mr. Jack Gerard to retiring committeemen, Messrs. Norman Angel, Colin McKay, Dr. Alan Clarkson and Mr. Jim Lang, all of whom had given good service, and in particular the first three who were past Presidents of the Association. In addition, Mr. Angel had been Treasurer for approximately ten years.

After supper, the President announced the results of the ballot for election to the Committee which resulted in those standing for re-election being successful, plus four new members—Messrs. Ted Stephens and Brian Potter, and Doctors John Bunday and Brian Hobbs. Mr. Craven then introduced Mr. Don Davies, who gave an excellent illustrated talk entitled "Architectural Impressions Overseas". In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, Dr. Riceman very truly said it was one of the best and most interesting addresses we have had at such a gathering, and "Mr. Davies is to be heartily congratulated".

prided ourselves on having a live and active membership which is loyal to the School. I do, therefore, earnestly entreat each and every one of you to support this cause, remembering:

"From down the far years comes the clarion call:

Your School and my School, the Best School of All."

Robert Craven, President

Annual Get-Together

It is pleasing to record that this social evening, held each year at the School for boys who have left in recent years, and, in particular, the previous year, was very well attended. Mr. Geoff Hall (Convener) occupied the Chair and after welcoming those present, introduced the President of the Association, Mr. Bob Craven. Mr. Craven impressed on those present the necessity—perhaps, in fact, an obligation—of joining the Association, and was able to illustrate the close ties which have always existed between the School and the Association. In return for the support which the Association has given to the School, the latter has been able to do many things and provide many facilities which have helped to build up the Association. The President referred to the various social and sporting events during the year, the importance of country boys attending country dinners, the interstate branches and the Public Schools' Club. In regard to the latter, he said this was a natural and worthwhile Club to join, and no harm could be done by enrolling now. Finally, he referred to the coming Centenary Fund Appeal and said the Appeal Committee would like to see as many young boys as possible at the Inaugural Dinner. Graham Evans, Secretary of the Athletic Club, then gave a short history of that Club, mentioning some of their successes and prominent athletes over the years. He said more members were wanted—not necessarily champions—but athletes who would take part in events week by week and so build up team numbers. Graham was followed by Miles Fuller, captain of the old scholars "A" cricket team. He said the Club has three teams in the Turf Association which practise at the School. Matches are played on good grounds and social events are held during the year. Over the Christmas holidays, there is almost invariably a shortage of players and the Club would like to see this rectified. Mark Skinner then gave an interesting talk about football and the old scholars Club, which is now quite a large organization and this year will be fielding four teams in the Amateur League. Last year all teams had reached the finals without any one team winning a premiership. The Club would now need at least 100 registered players, which meant that every old scholar resident in the metropolitan area who wanted to play good football would be welcomed by the Club. Chairman Geoff Hall then gave details relating to the Basketball and Squash Clubs. It was a pity these Clubs were not represented by one of their members. An excellent and thrilling film was then shown detailing the Surf Championships in Hawaii, together with exhibitions by the champions. We are indebted to the proprietor of the John Arnold Surf Shop for this fine film and wish to express our thanks. At the conclusion of the film supper was served and so a new group of old scholars had attended their first Association function.

Fifty Years Ago

Sir Samuel Way, for many years one of the Governing Committee of the College, Chief Justice of South Australia, and Chancellor of the University, died in January, 1916. Forty-eight years before his death he was one of those present when the College foundation stone was laid by Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh.

Mr. Will Ashton has presented to the School another of his paintings. It is a large and very fine picture of a scene in the Grand Canal, Venice. (Fifty years later it still adorns a wall of the School entrance hall.)

The School Committee, at the end of 1915, accepted the prefects' proposal that the boys should forego Form prizes, and that their value should supplement war funds.

Ronald M. Scott, B.E., has had the distinction of Associate of the Institute of Civil Engineers, London, conferred upon him. He has since enlisted for active service.

Len Shuttleworth, who has been for the last three years joint Secretary with "Mit" Miller of the Old Collegians' Association, has enlisted for active service.

Captain Stan Gilbert, a master on the College Staff and an officer in the Cadet Corps, has left to serve with the Australian Imperial Forces.

Mr. C. S. Newman, former master on the staff, given a lieutenant's commission in West Surrey Regiment.

Leaving Honours Bursary winners: F. R. Hone, C. E. Dorsch, K. S. Hetzel, A. L. Reimann.

Dr. J. C. Verco elected president of the Royal Society Council.

Senior Public Examinations—K. W. A. Smith topped General Honours List.

Prince Alfred Collegians T. E. Cleland and R. S. Davey have gained commissions in the British Army.

T. D. Campbell passed in all seven subjects at recent Dental Board examinations, completing a four-year course in two and a half years.

D. H. Hollidge, founder of Kyre College, is leaving to continue duties as Classics Lecturer at the University of Adelaide.

Leonard Darling has been gazetted lieutenant in the Royal Field Artillery.

G. S. Reed is to relieve G. C. Ligertwood as Associate to the Chief Justice (Sir George Murray).

S.A. Institute of Architects: elected Council Members—H. E. Fuller and A. M. Bonython.

Alfred G. Newman, Vickery Chambers, Pitt Street, Sydney, Honorary Secretary of the Sydney Branch.

Reg M. Dunstone was appointed to the School's teaching staff.

Public Schools' Club

The Club continues on its way and one hopes that it is now well and truly established. The membership in total number is excellent, but the percentage who use the Club to any extent is not large enough, and it is suggested that what has previously been considered a reasonable upper limit, will be raised. (This is not to say that there has been any limitation of numbers in the past, but the committee was closely watching the position.) It has now been finally decided that the extensions, largely concerned with a dining room, cannot be commenced for at least twelve months. Present running costs, plus the additional cost of servicing a substantial loan, finally decided the Committee not to proceed. This is a great pity, as the Club really needs these additional facilities to keep it well up to standard. No criticism is levied at the decision of the Committee, but rather at the many members who could support the Club is some small measure at least, but apparently do not. Old scholar membership of the Club is very good, but for those who have not joined, but eventually want to do so, it would seem a good time.

The Committee dinner, which is held each year, is an excellent idea, and in addition to present members, former Committeemen are also invited. There was a very good attendance at this function late last year, with President Alan Clarkson in charge. It seems that as the lateness of the hour grows, so does the number of speeches and the length of them! However, for "the originals" on the Committee, it is interesting to look back on the early meetings and, perhaps, wonder how it all happened. It was a fine ideal that launched the Club, and it is to be hoped that the generations of boys from the founder old scholar associations will support and maintain this ideal.

Country Dinners

EYRE PENINSULA

The last of our Annual Re-union Dinners for 1965 was held at the Hotel Boston on Friday evening, 29th October. Glen Walkom, our long-standing and faithful regional secretary, who very reluctantly agreed to be Chairman, did an excellent job and kept the programme moving all the evening. Lloyd Clarkson gave the Grace, and a little later the Chairman submitted the Loyal Toast, which was followed by the singing of the National Anthem. The latter then introduced the party from Adelaide, which included the following—Mr. Doug Provis, representing the School and the Headmaster, Mr Bob Piper, Association President, Mr. Norman Angel, past President and committeeman, Dr. Alan Clarkson, past President and committeeman, Mr. Laurie Lawrence, a past President, and Mr. Bon Gaetjens, a former committeeman of the Association. The Chairman also read a number of apologies and a telegram from Junior Vice-president, Brian Fricker, conveying greetings and best wishes.

Some of the local members present (apart from Glen and Lloyd) were Hubert Mellor, John McFarlane, John Kelly, David Kelly, Geoff Pearson, John Richardson, Neil Octoman, Jim McDonald, Ron Cooper, Peter Thyer, Frank Kuhlman, Ron Faehse, Ian Pearson, Dean Dennis, Trevor Pearson and The Hon G. G. Pearson. Members then stood in turn and gave their name and the year they left School. Laurie Lawrence then compered some enthusiastic Community Singing, with Trevor and Ian Pearson alternating at the piano. Now either the piano or Laurie needed tuning, and as we were all inclined to blame the latter we thought it much better when Laurie decided to become less vocal and to concentrate on a kettledrum. However, as he said afterwards, "A chap can't do more than sing his best!" This no doubt is true, and a sense of fair play forces us to offer our thanks.

The toast to the School was most ably proposed by Glen Pearson after he had been introduced by the Chairman, who outlined his career in Parliament and the high offices he had held. The Chairman also referred to his many activities locally, including a strong loyalty to his church. When Glen remarked that he felt he had been pressurized into the job, Alan Clarkson remarked that he presumed the situation was fairly desperate at that stage! The speaker took as his theme the statement that "Education is far too important to be left solely to the educated." After quoting from some of the great literary figures of bygone days on the subject of private schools, the speaker said he tried to find consolation in the fact that "Criticism is sometimes a hidden source of flattery". However, great strides had been made all over the world this century in education, and some of the figures quoted in relation to secondary education in the U.S.A. were most enlightening, as indeed was the wide variety of ways in which Government grants had been used—from clothing children to all sorts of school equipment.

Mr. Pearson said that while it was self-evident that we must always be striving towards higher and better standards in education, we had also to find some basic stability in the continuing intellectual changes. The hope was that by drawing in and interesting all sorts of peoples, and pooling ideas, those interested in education at all levels would sort themselves out and provide a pattern for the future. The speaker said that, whilst he was quite sure that a great school like P.A.C. would cope with these developments, he was also sure that no school can make the whole man or essentially change the boy. The fact was that the school and the parents must be as one. Mr. Pearson concluded by paying tribute to the present and former Headmasters and staff who have done a wonderful job over the years in training succeeding generations of boys.

After the Toast members sang "Our School Colours". The Chairman, in introducing Mr. Provis, said he had been first a scholar at the School for many years, and then subsequently returned as a staff member after war service in the R.A.N. and completing a University degree. Mr. Provis thanked Mr. Pearson and members, and said though he did not believe that the world owed young people either a living or a continual round of entertainment, it did owe them the best education possible. Again taking up Mr. Pearson's theme he said the question of who was going to give the lead in these changing standards was vitally important, and he like many others had a feeling of hesitancy and sometimes inability to make up his mind. However, the challenge was there and the job had to be done. Mr. Provis said he brought an apology and greetings from Mr. Dunning. He also referred to various other stalwarts of the staff, the successes of the School in the Public Examinations and on the sporting fields, the large number of boys taking part in sports, cadets, scouts, hobbies, and trips organized to Queensland, New Guinea and the Snowy Mountains. Altogether, the School was in good heart and forging ahead. Mr. Provis revealed that there was a further reason why he personally was pleased to be there as his great-grandfather had landed in Port Lincoln from England in 1853 and started the Poonindie Mission Station. He had lived on in this area until 1900, when he died at the great age of 95.

Some further community singing was called for, and the chairman, having made the initial "Blunder" and not wanting to hurt Laurie's feelings (some said out of a false sense of loyalty), asked Laurie to take over again. After somebody had found where he had mislaid the music, this item went off surprisingly well. Hubert Mellor, very truly introduced by the Chairman as "one of our great P.A.C. stalwarts over here", then proposed the toast to the Association. He referred to the close liaison between the School and the Association which had always been a feature of P.A.C. activities to the very great benefit of both organizations. He also referred to the continuous growth both in activities and members of the Association, and the good work done by the members of the Committee down the years.

Like many Old Boys who had attended the School during the time of Mr. Bayly's headmastership, he had always remembered that "Manners maketh man" and he believed that the vast majority of Old Boys lived up to this. He also believed that the School motto, "Do brave deeds and endure" had been observed by many Old Boys. He concluded by saying that he hoped everybody would consider it his duty to join the Association when he left School as we each need one another.

The Chairman, in introducing the Association President, Mr. Bob Piper, referred to the very great service which his family had rendered, both to the School and the Association, from very early days. Mr. Piper said it was always a great pleasure to attend these country reunions, and particularly on this occasion as he had last been here 24 years ago, when he stayed with his late uncle, Dr. Cyril Piper. Referring to some of Mr. Mellor's observations he detailed the growth of the many activities of the Association, and particularly the sporting clubs. He said, "Each one of you helps to make up our strength and our membership", and urged members to maintain a continuing interest. The President said he was pleased to report that the Association was now represented in the National Capital where a combined Branch with Saints had been formed. Some discussion then took place, firstly in relation to the venue for next year, and the consensus of opinion was for Port Lincoln. It was also resolved to call a further meeting shortly, when it was hoped that a representative gathering of members would discuss the whole matter with particular reference to attendance. It was heartening to listen to the remarks of members, and several already have undertaken to do some "deputation work". The President then presented three Association ties to the following members—Frank Kuhlmann of Mud-amuckla, who had travelled the furthest distance (approximately 240 miles); David Kelly of Yee-lanna, the youngest Old Scholar present; and Glen Pearson as the oldest Old Scholar present. [Glen is most anxious that it should be made clear that this was purely "an arrangement", as other older members present had already received ties on previous occasions.—Ed.]

The Chairman thanked all members for their attendance, and the management and staff of the Hotel. This most enjoyable evening concluded with "Auld Lang Syne". The final vote of thanks which concludes the report has been recorded in similar vein before, and though of course never asked for, should never be taken for granted. To Messrs. Glen Walkom, Lloyd Clarkson, Hubert Mellor and their wives, we say, "Thank you most sincerely for the wonderful week-end and for your kindness and hospitality. It does us all good to enjoy the warmth and genuineness of your company and friendship."

A dramatic sea rescue operation at Coffin Bay near nightfall on Saturday will probably pass into history, as almost certainly did the President's reputation as an engineer. In point of fact another reputation did pass into oblivion. However, it was decided by those present to keep it a close secret, and we want to assure Lloyd Clarkson that we have no intention of letting him down.

SOUTH-EAST

The attendance at the Keith Hotel on Saturday night, 19th March, for this dinner was one of the best for many years in this area. Unfortunately, Cyril Cook, to whom most of the credit must go for organizing it and who was to have been Chairman, was unable to attend through illness. However, Ray Davidson at short notice very capably took over, and everything went well. A special word of thanks is also due to Mrs. Bayly and her staff for a splendid meal. The Chairman, after submitting the Loyal Toast, welcomed all those present and introduced the party from Adelaide, which included—Mr. Ray Smith (second master and representing the Headmaster Mr. J. A. Dunning and the School), Mr. Robert Craven (President of the Association), Dr. David Riceman (Junior Vice-President of the Association), Mr. Don Davies (Committee member, Past President and member of the School Council), Mr. Jack Gerard (Committee member and Past President), Messrs. Norman Harris, Andrew Jeffery, and Eric Cox (Committee members), Mr. Peter Dalwood (Committee member and President of the Parents and Friends Association), and Mr. Ern Hunwick (Treasurer). Apologies were then read and further apologies noted, after which members stood in turn and gave their name and the year they left School. Jack Gerard then compered some community singing, which concluded with an enthusiastic rendering of the School war-cry. At this stage Norman Todd, who came from Adelaide to attend the dinner with his son Roger, seemed to be experiencing some difficulty in eating, drinking and singing at the same time, and it was a pity really that he wasn't asked to give a solo.

The toast to "The School" was proposed by Don Moseley, who is well-known in this part of the South-East. The speaker said that when he was a boarder the School seemed to him a big place—big in reputation and buildings—and the masters likewise seemed to tower above him. However, as the years have gone by he has realized more and more the things which the School taught him have stood him in good stead over the years—self-determination, tolerance, ability to get along with one's fellow men, honesty of purpose, etc. These are the things that matter and which the School has so well instilled into succeeding generations of boys. Some details as to the number of students under succeeding Headmasters illustrated how the School has grown. Concluding with the thought that P.A.C. is a big slice of our background throughout life, he asked members to stand and honour the Toast. This was followed by the singing of "Our School Colours".

After being suitably introduced and warmly welcomed, Mr. Smith responded. He thanked Mr. Moseley for the Toast and members for the way in which they had honoured it. As the Chairman had made some references to his science books he remarked, "Apparently my books were not one of the major pleasures you experienced at School", and this seemed to meet with almost unanimous approval! Mr. Smith then went on to mention some of the masters and said Mr. Steele's class was still "standing up and sitting down as usual". Some details of the Centenary Appeal were given, the major works to be undertaken, and these it was hoped would be completed by the centenary year, 1969. He urged all members to support the appeal in every way possible. Public examination results were very good last year and thirty-six Commonwealth Scholarships were won at Leaving standard. Turning to sport, Mr. Smith mentioned some old boys who had been prominent, including Ian Chappell in the Australian XI, and then made particular reference to Peter Dalwood junior who had won both the junior and senior high jump at the State Championships whilst still at School. He concluded by saying he was delighted to be present and to see the excellent attendance.

After some further community singing compered by Jack Gerard, David Davidson, another well-known local identity, proposed the Toast to the Association. He suggested that this dinner was proof in itself of the worth of the Association, and despite differing outlooks and callings we all showed one common interest—the School, and we were proud of the fact that we went there. When a boy leaves the School he leaves with a wide circle of friends from all over the State and the Association is the link that binds these friendships and enables members to know and keep in touch with one another. The speaker then detailed some of the activities of the Association and referred to the news about various old boys in the Chronicle, and reports of various events. He suggested that through our membership of the Association we demonstrated our loyalty to the School, and he felt sure that future generations would continue to support it and enjoy its benefits.

The Chairman, in introducing the Association President, Mr. Robert Craven, said they were delighted to welcome him, congratulated him on his appointment and asked him to respond. After thanking the proposer and members the President reminded members that the late Sir Winston Churchill had paid tribute to the training received at his School and what it had meant to him, and no doubt this applied to all present in relation to P.A.C. The Association attempts to carry on where the School has left off, and provides a link and a bond between the School and succeeding generations of Old Scholars. Referring to Old Boys in various parts of the world Mr. Craven recalled the wonderful hospitality which he and his wife had received in Hong Kong from Fred Chung and his father at their hotel, and how eager Fred was to hear about the School and Old Boys. The President then gave some details of the sporting and social activities of the Association and its associated clubs; also some details of the doings of Old Boys including Jack Glover's splendid job at the Festival of Arts and Robert Helpmann's worldwide ballet standing. He concluded by presenting three Association ties to the following members—Gordon Miells who left the School in 1916 and was the oldest old scholar present; Peter DeGaris who left in 1965 and was the youngest old scholar present, and David Clarkson who had travelled the furthest distance. A further special, not to be repeated, presentation was made to Alwyn Shepherd whose wife had presented him with twins recently and who now has four sons. The Chairman then raised the question of the venue for the dinner next year, and it was agreed that it would be held at Naracoorte on Saturday, 18th March, with Ken DeGaris as convener. An excellent and successful evening concluded with Auld Lang Syne.

The party from Adelaide together with Mr. and Mrs. Stan Angel from Pinnaroo would like to express their thanks to Don Moseley, and Ray and David Davidson for taking them on a very interesting tour of the district in the morning and to their wives, plus Mrs. Lloyd Davidson for a wonderful lunch at Mount Monster. Actually we were told it was to be a barbecue lunch and perhaps that is what it is called down there. However, we rather thought that it was about a ten-course South Australian Hotel style dinner—thank you all very much.

COUNTRY DINNER DATES

Members are requested to note the following dates and to make sure that the regional secretaries have their name and address—

Saturday, 14th May: Mid North Dinner, Appila (Bruce Reichstein, Murray Town, phone 205).

Friday, 3rd June: Yorke Peninsula Dinner, Maitland (Don Gunning, Maitland, phone 258).

Friday, 28th October: Eyre Peninsula Dinner, Port Lincoln (Glen Walkom, Port Lincoln, phone 419).

Upper Murray Dinner: This dinner, which was to have been held at Waikerie on Saturday, 7th May, has now been suspended to enable the Centenary Appeal Dinner to be held on that evening. Bryce Heinemann (Waikerie, phone 340) will continue as regional secretary and the dinner will be held again as usual next year, at Waikerie on Saturday, 6th May.

Branch Reports

LONDON

The annual dinner will be held as usual at the Oxford and Cambridge Club on Friday, 8th July. The Branch Secretary is Dr. Stanford Howard, whose address is 148 Harley Street, London W1, and who is most anxious to hear from any old scholars who are visiting the U.K. and Europe. Those who do go overseas are urged to try to fit this dinner date into their itinerary, as members resident in the U.K. always find it most interesting to meet those from "the home town". A full report of last year's dinner appeared in the October 1965 Chronicle and it is hoped that this year's will be equally successful.

For the information of members the following is a list of old scholars resident in the U.K. according to Association records—

QUEENSLAND

(S.A. Schools Association)

In the October 1965 issue it was reported that Phil Coles and his family had recently returned from an enjoyable trip overseas, and now elsewhere in this issue is recorded his obituary. An old scholar of P.A.C., Phil had lived for many years in Brisbane, and for as long as most of us can remember had been secretary of the above Association and had carried out his duties methodically and with meticulous care. Our sincere sympathy is extended to his wife and family, and we would like both them and Queensland branch members to know that we appreciate the work he did. The new secretary is Mr. G. J. Steadman whose address is Box 934 M, G.P.O., Brisbane, and we wish him every success and hope that the Association will continue to grow and flourish. A recent circular indicated that monthly luncheons are continuing at the Carlton Hotel, and that a successful Dinner Dance was held at Tattersalls Club in December. A family barbecue has been arranged at a private home for 17th April.

BROKEN HILL

Present office holders are as follows—

President, Bill Harbison; Town vice-president, Alwyn Edelman; Country vice-president, Alan Bartholomaeus; Secretary, John Beck; Treasurer, Reg Glasson.

The Branch has suffered a distinct loss, first in the retirement of Bill White to Adelaide, and secondly in the transfer of Jack Prider to Adelaide. Both had given long and enthusiastic service, ably supported by their wives, and we would like to place on record our sincere appreciation for everything they did [Adelaide committeemen who have visited Broken Hill with their wives would like to endorse these remarks which are so well merited. We hope to see them at some of our functions in Adelaide.—Ed.] A cricket match against Saints is planned for some time in April when we are hoping for a good attendance and a real family picnic day.

VICTORIA

President: Bob Skinner, 38 Kerferd Street, East Malvern. 50 4627.

Secretary: John Chappell, J. H. Minet & Co. (Australia) Pty. Ltd., 414 Collins Street, Melbourne. 67 7041.

Committee: John Keeves, Bruce Burrows, Peter Hodges, Ian Bower, Dean Crowe, Peter Newman.

Our last official function for 1965 was the Christmas barbecue which we were forced to forego during the previous year. Once again, this proved to be extremely popular and we particularly thank Bob and Beverley Skinner who made their delightful home available for the occasion.

Dean Crowe and Peter Newman constructed their unique barbecue system once again and the function was given added status by the Chef's appearance in a 1945 model boater, previously thought to be extinct in Victoria.

Plans are in hand for the 1966 golfing series against Saints and we have just heard that Robin Hone, President of the combined branch in Canberra, will be present at our Annual Dinner.

The Secretary is at present revising the list of Old Boys residing in Victoria and will be glad to hear of any newcomers to this State.

CANBERRA

This combined Princes and Saints branch now seems to be reasonably well established and regular notices are being sent to local members.

Here of course there is a continuous movement of members coming and going, and it would be appreciated if the secretary could be advised accordingly. Also it is interesting, but not very satisfactory, to note that some of the old scholars on our local register here are not members of their parent association. A note to your respective association secretary would very promptly remedy this position.

So that members can make an early diary note a circular has been sent out listing the functions for the rest of the year. They are as follows:

Friday, 17th June, 7 p.m. Dinner, Hotel Canberra.

Wednesday, 14th September, 5.30 - 7 p.m. Sun-downer, Rugby Union Club, Barton.

Friday, 9th December, 6.30 - 8 p.m. Cocktail Party for members and ladies, Commonwealth Club, Acton.

Since our last branch notes we can report that Colin Moodie (Saints) has been appointed Australian Ambassador to the Netherlands, Jim Forbes (Saints) has been switched from Minister for the Army to Minister for Health, and John Allgrove (Saints) has gone to Hong Kong in the Trade Commissioner Service. Also congratulations to three Princes old scholars who graduated from Duntroon at the end of last year. They were Roger Wainwright who is now with 5 R.A.R. at Hols-worthy, N.S.W., and Geoff Pearce and David Noble, both of whom are now doing courses at the S.A. Institute of Technology. Details of members previously in Canberra include R. G. (Mac) Fowler, now back in Adelaide, Robin Allen at Sydney University, J. N. Lithgow, J. F. Norsworthy, and Dr. Trevor Ophel, overseas, whilst new P.A.C. arrivals noted in the latter part of last year were R. G. Berriman, David Green and Bruce Humphries.

The Christmas cocktail party last December at the Commonwealth Club was a very enjoyable event made possible by the co-operation of some of our members, to whom we offer our thanks.

The Branch President is Major Robin Hone, 49 Gilbert Street, Hackett, and the Branch Secretary is Alan Crawford, 37 Rosenthal Street, Campbell.

NEW SOUTH WALES

Branch President: Carl Stange, 3 Birubi Avenue, Pymble. Telephone 44 4897.

Branch Secretary: Don Spry, 128 Mona Vale Road, St. Ives. Telephone 44 6543.

Pre-Christmas Get-Together

A large number of Old Boys, wives and friends, attended an enjoyable and informal gathering at the popular Weinkeller on the 29th October last.

Several novel competitions were held, testing the general knowledge of the gathering in respect of school affairs. The prizes (donated by Gurn Parker) were mostly won by the ladies.

Personal

Members were delighted to learn that Jack Hiatt has been appointed a Queen's Counsel for the State of New South Wales by the Attorney General. We believe he is the first Old Boy of Princes to receive this distinction in New South Wales.

Jack reminded us that another Old Boy had a distinguished career in the legal world of New South Wales. L. A. (Fred) Harris was admitted to the Bar on the 18th February, 1909, and is now Senior Member of the Junior Bar in New South Wales.

Major Robin Hone, an ex-member of the Branch, is now President of the combined Saints and Princes Canberra Branch.

Jim Cowan, who returned from Mauritius in 1965, is now Assistant Administrator of the Qantas Cadet Training Scheme at Rosebery, near Sydney. Included among the cadets is Geoffrey Tylor, an Old Boy.

Centenary Building Fund Appeal

A dinner is being organized on 14th April, for the purpose of launching the appeal in New South Wales, and it is expected that the Headmaster and the Chairman of the Regional Committee, Bert Kelly, will be present. An enthusiastic response is anticipated.

Ken Brown has been appointed Chairman of the Appeal for New South Wales and is supported by the following committee: Carl Stange, Don Spry, Peter Dunn, Brian Hawkes, Noel Johnston, Gurn Parker, Jimmy Cowan.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Following the Annual General Meeting, the undermentioned officers were elected: President, Dr. David Kirkman; Secretary, Bob Page; Treasurer, Brian Kelton. Committee: Ken Hewitt, John Pelham, Ken Stanton, and Auditor, John Pitman.

With the retirement of John Livingston, we would like to record our thanks for and appreciation of his efforts as secretary over many years, in fact for most of us as long as we can remember except when his service was broken some years ago whilst he was away overseas.

It is pleasing to report there has been some increase in membership recently, and we are happy to welcome several recent arrivals, including John Pitman (C/- A.M.P. Society), Mostyn Phillips (Goodrich Tyres), Neville Yates (Department of Agriculture, University of Western Australia), and Graham Evans, also Chris Harvey, C/- Price, Waterhouse & Co.

The annual Cricket Match against Saints was played at Christ Church Grammar School on 5th February, when Saints recorded their third successive victory. Princes were represented by Ken Hewitt (captain), Alec Dawkins, Viv Martin, John Pitman, John Livingston, John Pelham, Neville Yates, Bob Page, Brian Kelton, David Kirkman, and Peter Grigg (sub.).

The annual bowls night was held at the South Perth Club on the 10th March. It is gratifying to record there was a better attendance than in previous years, and Princes followed their performances of the past few contests by winning fairly comfortably. The team was as follows: Bill Rogers, Con Bussenschutt, Ross Leak, Alan Chipper, Rex Morgan, Jim Glasson, Frank Gallash, Spencer Haslam (who kindly organized the programme), Edgar Liddelow, Lin Wilson, Ken Stanton, Bob Page, David Kirkman, John Pelham, Brian Kelton, Ken Hewitt and John Livingston.

The programme for the rest of this year is as follows:

Friday, 6th May: Combined Sundowner, Naval and Military Club.

Friday, 1st July: Combined Sundowner, Naval and Military Club.

Thursday, 28th July: Annual Dinner (probably at C.T.A.).

Friday, 23rd September (Show Week): Combined Sundowner.

Sunday, 25th September: Golf Match at Cottesloe Golf Club.

Friday, 9th December: Combined Christmas Buffet Dinner.

This year it has been decided that the Annual Dinner will be a combined function with Saints. It is in the nature of an experiment but we hope it will prove as successful as the Joint Sundowners. We shall still have a private room for the Interstate Hook-up, which comes through about half an hour before the actual dinner begins.

The Joint Christmas Buffet Dinner held at the South of Perth Yacht Club last December was in every way a success, with the excellent attendance of approximately 70. Other names not mentioned previously who attended were Don Flavel, Glen May, G. J. Whyte, Fred Rundle, and Leigh and Brent Kelly.

It is very pleasing to report that our two oldest active Old Reds, Bill Rogers and Stan Dimond, invariably attend all of our meetings during the year.

There has been considerable press publicity during the last year relating to Eric Smart, who, prior to selling part of his property, could claim to be the world's biggest wheat farmer. His record of 409,000 bushels harvested (355,400 of it being wheat) established in 1963, still stands. A "Stop Press" message indicates that his total grain production this year was 473,200 bushels! Furthermore, with 56,000 Merinos he is also the State's biggest pastoralist. Part of his property was used for training purposes by an armoured division during the war, and since then several scores of land mines have been recovered, much to the horror of the tractor drivers. When Mr. Smart bought "Erregulla" in 1947 he was advised against taking on this so-called "wasteland" which had lain idle for 60 years. However, once again his philosophy based on his claim that adversity brings out the best in people was proved to be correct.

Ken Hewitt was recently awarded his "Five Millions" completions badge by the A.M.P. Society. This is quite an achievement, as he is only the third representative to have done so in this State.

Alan Chipper, who has been associated with the W.A. Savings and Building Society for the past 40 years, has been appointed Chairman of that organization.

A well-known old scholar identity passed on in January of this year in the person of Edward Charles Atkins, of Applecross. Mr. Atkins arrived in Adelaide from London with his parents in 1873, and was educated at P.A.C. He migrated to Western Australia in 1896 and took up property at Murgoo in 1905, then a further family property, Tibbradden Station, near Geraldton, in 1928. His chief interest was the development of pure Peppin blood sheep. In his earlier years he was a keen footballer, and was also associated with horse racing for many years.

New and Retiring Committeemen

New

John Bunday attended the School 1936-41, was a member of the Intercollegiate Athletic and Football teams, and in his final year was Captain of the School. On leaving School he proceeded to the University and graduated M.B., B.S. in 1947. During this time he played football for University and the Old Scholars Club and was a member of the Old Scholars 1946 first ever premiership side. After hospital experience in Adelaide and Broken Hill he went into general practice first at Cleve and then at Mildura. Following further post-graduate hospital work he graduated M.R.C.O.G. in London in 1961 and returned to Adelaide late in 1962. Since then he has been in practice as a consultant in obstetrics and gynaecology. John is married with three daughters and a son who is in the Prep. School.

Brian Potter attended the School 1938-40 and then proceeded to the University on a cadetship where he took the B.Sc. degree in 1945. After two years as a demonstrator in the department of physiology he was appointed to a research position in C.S.I.R.O. (division of biochemistry and general nutrition) which he still holds. He was admitted to the degree M.Sc., in 1950 and is currently engaged on problems associated with the nutrition and metabolism of sheep. In 1956 he was selected a member of the biological group which investigated the effects of radio-active fall-out at the first atomic bomb trials at Maralinga. In 1962 he went overseas and visited research institutions in U.S.A., U.K. and Europe. Brian is married with a daughter and two sons (one of whom is at the School).

Ted Stephens attended the School 1921-1931 and in his final year was a prefect, member of the Intercollegiate football team, captain of the athletic team, and won the School Athletic Cup. On leaving school he joined the old established family real estate business of T. Stephens & Son, of which he has been a partner for many years. At various times he was President, Secretary and Captain of the Old Scholars Football Club of which he is a life member, played cricket with Kensington, and metropolitan "A" Grade tennis for Tranmere. He was also assistant secretary of the S.A. Amateur Football League for 5 years and is a former president of the School Parents and Friends Association. Ted is married with a daughter and two sons (one of whom is at the School and the other, who formerly attended the School, is now at Sydney University).

Brian Hobbs attended the School 1940-47, was a member of the Intercol. Athletics team, and a keen scouter. With the enthusiastic help of his family the sea scout unit was started, which has now developed into a fine unit with a property at Goolwa. Several years after leaving School he decided to take up medicine and graduated M.B., B.S. in 1955. Then followed two years overseas, and eventually he entered private practice in 1960.

His sporting interests include tennis and golf and he has also been much interested in Community Aid Abroad—a self-help scheme for under-developed countries, particularly India. Brian comes from a family who have had a long association with the School and his uncle Dr. Alan Hobbs was at one time a member of the Committee. He is married with three boys and a daughter, and his oldest son entered the School this year.

Retiring

Norman Angel was appointed Treasurer of the Association in 1946, shortly after his discharge from the A.I.F., and continued in that capacity for 10 years. In 1956 he was appointed Junior Vice-President, and subsequently President in 1958. After leaving school in 1924, he joined the staff of the Executor Trustee and Agency Co. Ltd. and in 1964 was appointed Manager. In relation to his appointment as a junior clerk in 1925, he says that the other chaps thought he resembled the staff officer in appearance and that that was how he got the job! Whilst doing the Commerce course at the University, he took an active interest in student affairs and was Secretary and a Committeeman of the Commerce Students Association. He also played lacrosse for University and cricket with the Old Scholars team. He has given long and very valuable service to the Association, for which we express our thanks, and likewise in the administration of the Education Fund, of which he is still a trustee. He is also a member of the Old Scholars Lodge.

Colin McKay was elected to the Committee in 1954, served on a number of sub-committees, and is a past Chairman of the Football Club. He was elected Junior Vice-President in 1957 and President in 1959. He left School in 1921, immediately went into the insurance business and retired last year from the position of General Manager of the S.A. Insurance Co. He is still doing some of this type of work in the insurance field. At School he played football and cricket, and in 1926 became a foundation member of the Old Scholars Football Club. He has been a member of the Old Scholars Lodge for many years and for a number of years was on the Committee of the Parents and Friends Association. He is on the Board of Governors of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Hospital, a member of the Stock Exchange and Commerce Clubs and, it has been rumoured, plays golf.

Alan Clarkson was elected to the Committee in 1955, served on various sub-committees, was elected Junior Vice-President in 1958, President in 1960, and so followed in the footsteps of two of his brothers, namely, Len and David. Since the introduction of the small Chronicles in January and July each year, he acted as editor and both editions are now well established. He left School in 1927 (having gained a Merit Badge for cricket, football and athletics) and proceeded to the University where he graduated M.B., B.S. For many years he practised on the West Coast at Cleve and Port Lincoln, where he was actively associated with Freemasonry and Rotary, Medical Superintendent of the Port Lincoln Hospital, and President of the local Tennis Association. He was also a keen and loyal supporter of every Old Scholar Dinner on the Coast. Returning to Adelaide "in the 'fifties", he continued many of these activities and is currently in his third year as President of the Public Schools' Club.

Jim Lang was appointed to the Committee as the result of a casual vacancy in 1961, and subsequently elected at the Annual Meeting in that year. He left School in 1933 and entered the accountancy field, which, together with real estate, has occupied his working life, except during the war years. A chartered accountant and an associate in Commerce of the University, he has been, for many years, Governing Director of Dawe Bros. Horace Chapman & Co. During the war he served as a pilot with the R.A.A.F. Prominently associated with the Real Estate Institute of Australia, and a member of the Land Agents Board, he also has other activities including membership of the Rotary Club of Adelaide, the Red Cross Council and the School Council. It is to be regretted that business commitments forced his retirement from the Committee. A son, Roger, attended the School and is at present in the U.K.

The Lodge deeply regrets the passing of four of its members in the last six months.

R.Wpl. Bro. C. C. Crump, P.D.G.M. died on 5th October, 1965. His death was a grievous loss to the Lodge and to Freemasonry in general in South Australia, for he had rendered outstanding service for many years. He was a Past Master of our Lodge and maintained a keen interest in its affairs until his passing. In Grand Lodge he became Grand Lecturer and Senior Grand Warden, and later had conferred on him the rank of Past Deputy Grand Master because of his conspicuous services to Freemasonry in this State. He also held very high offices in several other septs of Freemasonry. One must mention in addition that our Brother devoted much time and energy to his Church, for he was a local preacher and Sunday School Superintendent for many years.

On 15th October, 1965, Wpl. Bro. R. T. Mellor passed away after a long illness. He served the Lodge with distinction as its Worshipful Master and then as Director of Ceremonies. His friendly disposition and other sterling qualities won for him the esteem and affection of all who knew him well not only in the Lodge but also in other activities outside the Lodge.

Bro. Sir Frank Perry died on 20th October. He had been a member of the Lodge for over forty years, but in recent years his many outside interests prevented him from attending our meetings. He was a member of the Legislative Council of South Australia, Chairman of Directors of the Perry Engineering Company, and a member of the Council of the University of Adelaide.

Because of his outstanding public service in various capacities, Her Majesty the Queen was pleased, in 1955, to confer on him the distinguished order of Knight Bachelor. He passed away full of honours and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

To complete the list of our losses we regretfully record the passing on 4th January, 1966, of Wpl. Bro. Frank Baldwin who had given good service to the Lodge and was one of its Past Masters. To his own regret and that of the Lodge, poor health in recent years prevented his regular attendance at Lodge.

Our Old Collegians' Lodge has not initiated many new members during the last year or two, but its officers are carrying out their duties capably and conscientiously.

attached is $1.25. Members are reminded that these tokens remain the property of the Association and are held by the member only for so long as he remains a member of the Association.

Sports

FOOTBALL CLUB

After a reasonably successful 1965 season, the Club is looking to the future with great optimism.

Enthusiasm is running high this season under the excellent guidance of coach Doug Standley, and it is encouraging to see the large number and good quality of players who are training for the first time with the Old Scholars this year.

Even so, more recruits are still required as the Club is fielding four teams in Amateur League this year, A2, A2 Reserve, A3 and A3 Reserve.

It is with regret that we lose four A grade players from last season. Dean Treloar (overseas), Dean Perrott (retired), Peter Parkinson (retired), and David Johnston (training with Sturt). Congratulations, David, and we hope you are successful in your efforts to make League.

All interested supporters and players who would like information regarding the Club's activities this year can contact Bill Johnson (Chairman) John Edwards (Social Committee Chairman) or Ian Hall (Secretary, 31 1016), any one of whom will be only too happy to help you. We had quite a good following last year, which was appreciated by the players, and we hope it will be as good and even better this year.

Suitable mention was made at the Annual General Meeting of the wonderful work done by retiring chairman Norman Harris. We are very pleased that he is remaining on the Committee, and with Bill Johnson as the new chairman, the Club should be well managed.

CRICKET CLUB

Season 1965-66 has been one of the most successful in the history of the Prince Alfred Old Collegians Cricket Club. Three sides were again entered in the Adelaide Turf Association, in grades A1, A5, and A6. The A1 and A6 sides were successful in their first semi-final and both sides are playing off for the premierships of their respective grades. The A5 side also finished the season well, but did not reach the four.

Much of the credit for the A1 team's success this year must go to its captain Myles Fuller. Myles, who won the President's trophy for the top aggregate in A1 of the Association in 1964-65, has again won the Club's A1 batting aggregate. Phil Brown, Ian Day, Craig MacIntosh and Rod Wicks have all batted well. Richard Blake with over 30 wickets has had a good season, while Robert Day and Bob Waters have also done well with the ball. The A1 side defeated Richmond in the Semi-final and play Clarence Park in the final.

The Club's third side, after its initial success last season in grade A7, was promoted to grade A6. Colin Forrest, after an excellent job last season, went one better this year in leading the team into the final. Ted Norman headed the batting aggregates, while Colin Forrest and Rod Giffen have also had good seasons with the bat. Colin Forrest has taken over 60 wickets while Robert Jeffery has also done well with over 40. Robert Jeffery is to be congratulated on his 13 wickets against Kelvinator in the semi-final. The A6 side play Payneham in the final.

The A5 team has had a similar season to last year's and finished eighth. The fielding of this side has not been up to standard, which possibly prevented it from gaining a place in the four. Bill Alexander, captain, headed the batting aggregates, while David Compton and Murray Olsson also had good figures. Des Winderbank had another excellent season with over 50 wickets and he was well supported by David Compton and Peter Barrett. This team's much better performances in the last half of the season are encouraging for next year.

The Club would like to express its appreciation to the Headmaster and the School for their assistance and for the use of the School's ovals and facilities, and also to all those who have helped in many ways during the season.

The Club averages will appear in the next main issue of the Chronicle, together with, we hope, a report on two premierships.

ATHLETIC CLUB

The 1965-66 Athletics Season is almost complete, and it has been a most successful one for our Club. In Inter-club Competition, the "A" Grade team lifted themselves from seventh last year to fourth, after a slow start. The combined "C" Grade team finished in third place, while the Junior team was again second.

State Championships also proved successful for many Club athletes. Peter Dalwood won the Senior High Jump title with a leap of 6 ft. 5 ins., which exceeded his S.A. Junior Residential record by $\frac{1}{2}$ in. He then made it a double by taking the S.A. Junior High Jump title.

Phil Day showed a return to top class form by clipping 0.3 sec. from his S.A. Residential record in winning the S.A. Senior 400 metres hurdles. Unfortunately, Phil was leading the field in the S.A. 200 metres hurdles when he "ran into" the last hurdle and had to be content with third placing.

Placings were also gained by—SENIORS: L. Cleland, 3rd in the 3,000 metres Steeplechase; J. Tilbrook, 2nd in the Shot Putt; R. Hannaford, 3rd in the 110 metres hurdles; JUNIORS: P. Brebner, 3rd in the 200 metres; S. Tregoning, 3rd in the 200 metres hurdles; R. Day, 2nd and 3rd in the Long Jump and Triple Jump respectively; P. Rowe, 3rd in the 100 metres; G. Howe, 3rd in the 110 metre hurdles; SUB-JUNIOR: R. Bond, 2nd in the Long Jump. The Junior 4 x 100 metres Relay team was placed second.

Congratulations to Peter Dalwood on being selected to represent S.A. in the Australian Championships. Best wishes to Phil Day who is to compete in Perth as an individual.

Thanks are extended to all those who helped to make the season such a success, and we are sure that next season will be even better.

Miscellaneous

Brian Richardson (stroke of the School crew in 1964 and 1965) was selected to row in S.A. King's Cup Crew at Hobart. (Brian is a son of the late Max Richardson who also rowed for the School and the State.) The crew did remarkably well and perhaps Brian can emulate his father by rowing next year in a winning King's Cup crew.

Ross Catchpole, Keith McCoy, and Tom Flint have been prominent in yachting events.

Peter and Robert Freeman, and John Gerard were members of teams which took part in the first Inter-club Water Ski Competition in December of last year.

CLOSE BOWLS

Approximately 150 players took part in this popular social event, which was played at Toorak on Wednesday evening, 9th March. The match resulted in another win for the President's team and it has been suggested that we should have a change of selectors, or even more unkindly that we should get some competent selectors! After the recent hot weather the evening was quite cool, and at the conclusion of play members gathered in the Club House for supper. President Rob. Craven, in speaking to members, announced that his team had won 9 rinks to 7 and that several games had been drawn. He then thanked the ladies' committee, convened by Mrs. Craven for the excellent supper arrangements, and Mr. Don Davies (the convener). The champion rink, Messrs. Paul Dalwood, Bill Shepherd, Colin Gray and Eric Padfield, put up a record in scoring 51 to their opponents 10. (For those of you who read these reports it is interesting to note that their opponents were last year's winners.)

Now as bowlers, this rink would normally be considered average golfers and Eric Padfield was so delighted with the big win that, even before the President had presented them with Association ties, he actually volunteered that his rink would do the washing up. (This is usually a press gang job.) Furthermore, I understand that Eric is quite agreeable for his rink to continue to do this job each year until somebody breaks their record. [The offer was referred to the Committee at a recent meeting and they are quite happy to accept.—Ed.] As has been customary it was our pleasure to have the President of Toorak (this year Mr. Bill Harslett) playing in the Headmaster's rink against the President's rink. This match, incidentally, resulted in a draw. During supper Mr. Craven also took the opportunity of thanking Toorak for having us there (eighteenth year) and asked Mr. Harslett to convey our thanks to his Committee. Mr. Harslett, in responding, said he thought there was now some tradition in this evening and in carrying out the event at Toorak, and he hoped it would continue for a long time. He also expressed his own pleasure at playing in the match and said it had been a great evening.

CLOSE GOLF

This event will be played as usual at the Grange Golf Club on Thursday, 16th June. Notices will be sent out to those members who have played previously. Any other interested member should forward his name to the Association office, or to the convener Eric Cox, 58 Brandreth Street, Tasmore (telephones: business 51 6861, private 31 2380).

Tennis v. Saints Old Scholars

The venue for the game this year was at the Kensington Gardens Courts on Wednesday, 16th March. Although the weather in the morning looked rather threatening at times, the afternoon was quite fine with a cool breeze blowing. Perhaps the uncertain conditions kept most of our usual spectators away, particularly the ladies and children; but we would like them to know that their absence was noted, and we hope to see them again next year.

After the first round the scores were almost level, with Princes leading by the odd set, and it looked like a close finish. Whether the afternoon tea or advancing years proved Saints' undoing is not known (although the latter is suspected); but Princes carried all before them in the second round and won five of the six games, the final scores being 8 rubbers 17 sets to 4 rubbers 10 sets in our favour.

Detailed scores were as follows (Princes' names on top)—

FIRST ROUND—

| | | |
|--|-----|-----|
| Johnson and Gabb defeated Potter and Forster | 6—0 | 6—0 |
| Baker and Little lost to Kerr and Bills | 3—6 | 4—6 |
| Davies and Dennis defeated Davidson and Wilson | 6—3 | 6—4 |

| | | | |
|--|-----|-----|-----|
| Jeffery and Lyle lost to Astley and Allen | 3—6 | 6—3 | 4—6 |
| Tasker and Trott defeated Brookman and Redwood | 6—3 | 6—0 | |
| Williamson and Rowe lost to Barker and Muecke | 4—6 | 3—6 | |

SECOND ROUND—

| | | |
|---|-----|-----|
| Johnson and Gabb lost to Kerr and Bills | 2—6 | 2—6 |
| Baker and Little defeated Potter and Forster | 6—5 | 6—4 |
| Davies and Dennis defeated Astley and Allen | 4—6 | 6—3 |
| Jeffery and Lyle defeated Davidson and Wilson | 4—6 | 6—4 |
| Tasker and Trott defeated Barker and Muecke | 6—4 | 6—2 |
| Williamson and Rowe defeated Brookman and Redwood | 6—3 | 6—1 |

During afternoon tea Graham Brookman on behalf of all present proposed a vote of thanks to Mrs. Ken Baker and Mrs. Herb Baker for the excellent job they had done, and assured them it was very much appreciated.

In the evening the dinner was held at Public Schools' Club with President Robert Craven in the chair. In welcoming those present the chairman made particular reference to Mr. Dick Potter representing Saints and Mr. Graham Gabb representing Princes. The rest of us, he suggested, were there because we either made the teams, or as officials or committeemen of the respective Associations we invited ourselves. Apologies were received from both Headmasters and from Mr.

SQUASH CLUB

The playing programme has been planned by the Squash Committee for the season 1966-67 and five teams will be entered in the Association competition during the winter and at least four next summer.

In the summer competition now drawing to a close our top team of Ian and Robert Day, Brian Measday, John and Mal Barton are in the grand final and are confident of gaining the "B" Grade premiership. Our Sunday morning practices at the Public Schools' Club courts continue, new members are welcome and there is always a Committee member in attendance.

The Annual General Meeting was held at Peter Dalwood's home on Wednesday, 2nd March, 1966, when the Annual Report and Accounts were adopted, and officers elected for the next twelve months. After the business was completed, supper was served, and we would like to express our thanks to Peter and his wife for a pleasant evening.

For further information re playing times, subscriptions, etc., contact either Peter Dalwood at 57 6281, or Mal Barton at 71 1188.

BASKETBALL CLUB

In November the club held its first Annual Dinner at the Earl of Zetland Hotel.

Trophies were presented, with Ross Hocking winning "best and fairest" for the "A" team and Geoff Shuttleworth for the "B" team.

A Christmas get-together was held at Geoff Shuttleworth's home in mid-December and Geoff Woollard was presented with a pewter in appreciation of the time and effort he has put into both the social activities of the Club and the excellent job of coaching. It is undoubtedly due to him more than anyone else that the Club is now in a very stable position.

During the Summer season neither of the teams was successful in gaining a place in the four, but we are hoping for better things this winter season and a full training programme is in operation. Two teams have been entered in Bowden "B" Grade this winter and will be playing on Friday nights. Supporters would be very welcome.

The Annual General Meeting will be held on Friday night, 1st April, at 15 Stanington Avenue, Toorak East. All Old Boys wishing to join the Club are invited to attend, and further enquiries should be directed to either Geoff Woollard (P.A.C. or 71 8376) or Ian Shaw (49 6889). We would like to express our thanks to Geoff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shuttleworth, for having the Christmas Get-together and the Annual General Meeting at their home.

PERSONALCricket

Congratulations to Ian Chappell on being selected to play against England in the Fourth and Fifth Tests, and also in the team to tour South Africa later this year. By the time he returns he should be a seasoned international player. This season Ian made 1,019 runs with the remarkably good average of 63.6 in all first class games.

It must be a long while since Princes old scholars occupied 6 of the 9 top places in the District Cricket averages, excluding only the grand final. They are:

John Lill (Surt), 877 runs (average 79.7), first.

Ian Chappell (Glenelg), 453 runs (average 75.5), second.

Jeff Rogers (Adelaide), 598 runs (average 49.8), fourth.

John Ducker (Prospect), 531 runs (average 48.2), fifth.

Don Trowse (Woodville), 489 runs (average 44.4), seventh.

John Causby (Woodville), 597 runs (average 42.6), ninth.

For the third time in six years John Lill has been voted "Cricketer of the Year" by the S.A. Cricket Umpires' Association, which is a very fine effort.

Other old scholars playing District Cricket include: Ross Hocking (Sturt), Peter Willoughby (Adelaide), Brian Hurn, David Oaten and Ashley Woodcock (all of Kensington), Ray Lyon (East Torrens), Tom Watt (Prospect), Lyn Walker (Sturt), Brian Dickson (Salisbury), and Greg Chappell (Glenelg). Ashley Woodcock and Greg Chappell were selected in the S.A.C.A. Twelve to play a Combined Country Carnival Team.

Noticed playing for Adelaide University against Melbourne University in December were Bob Smith, John Leak and Rob Angel.

Ron Faehse recently completed playing in his twenty-ninth Country Cricket Carnival. He first played whilst a boy at School in 1937, aged 14, and is now in his fifteenth year as captain of Eyre Peninsula. He has been the organizer of teams from that area for the past thirteen years.

It is interesting to recall his match-winning effort, together with Peter Kitto, in the 1938 Intercollegiate Match when they figured in a fifth wicket stand of 212 in the final innings. The match lasted six days.

Other P.A.C. names noted playing in the Country Carnival were Hurn, McWaters, Ashby, Paterson and Chapman.

Noted playing "B" and "C" Grade were Peter Eaton, Robin Candy, Rob Angel, Ian Pascoe, John Leak, Bob Smith, Ian Ide, Colin Webb, Des Speakman, Peter Whitham and Stephen Woodcock.

Murray Ducker, brother of Prospect captain, John, has again been umpiring in "A" Grade.

Twenty-five years ago Mervyn Evans, when captain of the Combined Saints and Princes Old Scholars Cricket team, made 100 not out against Woodville, and followed this up with 116 against Teachers College the following Saturday.

Arthur Dawkins is currently captain of the well-known "Frank Lee Taxation Team". Other well-known P.A.C. cricketers who have played for this team include Len Clarkson, Bill Leak and Norm and Laurie Walsh.

John Beck, Branch Secretary at Broken Hill, played a leading part when his team won the "A" Grade Premiership. He top-scored with 82 runs, and took 9 for 45 (2 innings). Two other old scholars playing "A" Grade at the Hill are Kym Smith and Marshall.

Bowls

Don Collins of the Salisbury Club, and formerly of Glenelg, won the Masters' Singles Championship of South Australia. This is the second time only that this event has been won by a local player, the other winner being Ern Dawkins. This is Don's first major title, although he has been runner-up in both the State Singles and the Champion of Champions.

Howard Greenslade of the Adelaide Club (formerly of Maitland) was a winner in the Masters' Pairs Championship. Dave Cleland, Somerton, was runner-up.

Four of the seven teams that represented the city against the country in February were skippered by Old Boys, namely Don Collins, Ern Dawkins, Merv Evans and Jack Fricker. (Ern Dawkins was also selected in the State side which played against Victoria and New South Wales in Adelaide late last year.) Keith Angel played as a leader in the City versus Country contest also.

Peter Kitto, currently President and Club Chairman at Marrayville, has been building up a reputation for himself as "Giant Killer No. 1" since he was promoted to First Division skipper. He has been on the Club Committee for ten years.

Max Paterson (Bute), Jack Millard (Kadina) and Norm Royal (Caltowie) were noticed playing in the Country Bowls Championship.

Ross Stanford, who formerly played cricket for South Australia, is now playing in top division bowls for Lockleys. He was a member of Lindsay Hasset's Commonwealth Services cricket team.

Eric Wilson is the reigning champion at the Beaumont Club.

South Australian Parliamentarians recently won their fourth "All States Politicians' Bowls Tournament" in six years. Sir Lyell McEwin was the team captain, and Jim Heaslip was a member of the team.

Football

Max Pontifex made one of his very rare visits to Adelaide to see the grand final last year. A former interstate player, he won the Magarey Medal in 1932, and now lives at Wagga, New South Wales.

John Martin is the new President of the Glenelg Football Club.

Mark Skinner has been elected to the Executive of the Amateur Football League.

Alan Hickinbotham has been elected to the "General Purposes" Committee of the S.A. National Football League, and Max Basheer continues as Chairman of the League Commissioners.

We are all hoping that Peter Darley will be able to resume his League career this season—his absence has been a great loss to the game in South Australia.

Graham Combe of Crystal Brook was successful in winning two successive "Mail" medals for the Northern Areas Football Association (seasons 1964 and 1965). He has also been captain-coach of the Club during these two years, but unfortunately pressure of business commitments has now forced him to give up playing.

Athletics

Old scholars connected with Association Committees include Trevor Siegele (member of Reinstatement and Fund Raising Committees), Graham Crawford (Rules) and Dr. Bruce Lawrence (Selection).

Congratulations go to Peter Dalwood, jun., (and still at School) on winning both the senior and junior State High Jump Championships, and on being selected in the State Team. Likewise to Phil Day on winning the 400 metres hurdles. It was also good to see a number of other old scholars placed in various State titles.

Golf

Trophy and event winners noted during the summer months were Graham Wicks, Ken Babbage and Paul Dalwood (Kooyonga); Don Davies and Brian Constable (Royal Adelaide); Geoff Cooper (Mount Osmond); Lloyd Letcher (Mount Lofty).

Dudley Trott and his son, Geoffrey, were again successful in the father and son event at Royal Adelaide for the Wendt Trophy. They had previously won it two years ago.

Others noted taking part in various events included Ern Hunwick and his son, Robert, Bob Piper, Gordon Rinder (Royal Adelaide); Bob Mason, Ern Rowe, Gerald Cox, Alex Gray, Michael and David Perry, and Cec Davies (Kooyonga); Nick Cox and Don Bartlett (Mount Osmond); Howard Edelman (Glenelg); Jack and Ken Gerard (Grange); Bill Francis and Garth Cord-Udy (Mount Lofty); David Ind (Marino); Rex Mutton (Thaxted Park); David Compton (North Adelaide).

Tennis

Bill Johnson captained the State side which played Victoria in Melbourne towards the end of last year. (Unfortunately they did not repeat their win of the previous year.) Bill is also Chairman of Selectors, and plays for West Torrens.

Ken Baker and Graham Gabb have been playing for Kensington in District Tennis.

Geoff Trott is secretary of the University Tennis Club. Wayne Jackson and Dean Davies were both members of the University team which won the A1 Metropolitan Premiership last season. Rob Moysse and Rob Cowan have also been playing Metropolitan.

Noted playing in the Country Carnival were Trevor Richards, Barry Sumner, Doug Young and Les Martin.

Irwin (President of Saints). After the meal the chairman announced the scores and handed over the E. T. Rowe Cup to David Williamson (captain of Princes). David said they were naturally pleased to have won and thanked Saints for the good game. Graham Brookman (captain of Saints) in a few brief words congratulated Princes and said that as usual it had been a good afternoon and evening. The chairman then thanked the Club manager (Mr. Clark) and his staff for the excellent meal, and the conveners Bill Johnson (Princes) and Graham Brookman (Saints).

In the course of conversation during the evening one of the topics concerned the number of years some players have been competing in this match, and it would seem that Michael Astley and Graham Brookman (Saints) plus David Williamson (Princes) have been playing almost continuously since the end of World War II. This is a wonderful record and they have every reason to be proud of it. David Rowe (Princes) must also have notched up quite a number of years. At one stage Graham Brookman said something about his retirement from these games, and whilst we do not know whether this was in jest or in earnest, if it was the latter we would like to say firstly, we shall miss him, and secondly, congratulate him on his long record of captaincy.

Bowls v. Saints

This match was played at South Park on Wednesday evening, 9th February under very pleasant conditions. The usual twelve competitive rinks were played and resulted in a good win for P.A.O.C., the final totals being 256 to 190. (Actually we won nine of the twelve rinks and one was drawn). In addition the two Association Committee rinks (in our case skippered by the President and the Headmaster) both had substantial victories. After the match, supper was served in the club dining room, and during this period Mr. Keith Sims (Chairman of Saints) presented the Lucy Shield to Mr. Rob Craven (President of Princes). In congratulating Princes, Mr. Sims referred to the remarkable number of victories by Princes—in fact as far as the Shield records go, (that is, from 1928), Saints have won on only four occasions. He also thanked South Park for having us there again, their staff for contributing to the success of the evening, and the conveners Messrs. Maurice Brown (Saints) and Mervyn Evans (Princes). He concluded by calling for three cheers for Princes. Mr. Craven in responding said Princes were naturally pleased to have maintained their good record, but equally important was the excellent social evening always associated with this event. He endorsed the various votes of thanks offered by Mr. Sims and called for three cheers for Saints. Both Associations would also like to record their thanks to Mr. Keith Gibbs, the secretary of South Park, who always has everything well under control with the minimum of fuss, and who also helped during the evening by making any announcements and giving out progress scores.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Old scholars are reminded that copies of Mr. Ward's most interesting and valuable book of the first eighty years, 1867-1948, of Prince Alfred College are still available. No old scholar can afford to be without a copy of this excellent record. Copies bound in red cloth at $2.10 plus postage are available from the School bursar or the Association secretary.

SCHOOL ETCHING

After persistent enquiries from members for some years, the Association has at last been able to purchase a limited number of excellent prints. The original by Mr. John Goodchild shows the historical centre building and the first two wings. The old pavilion is also sighted and so the whole drawing is of considerable historical value. The cost to members is $10.50 and copies may be obtained from the Association office.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP CERTIFICATES

These are now available at a cost of 50c from the Association office, 185 Melbourne Street, North Adelaide.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Subscription for Ordinary membership is $2 per annum.

Subscription for Life membership is $73.50.

Subscription for Twenty-five year membership is $31.50.

Owing to the high cost of postage, unless requested, receipts for subscriptions will not be posted.

SPECIAL PURPOSE FUND

From time to time members and friends of the Association had mentioned the practicability of having a fund to which contributions may be made for the purpose of assisting the objects of the Association.

In 1964 your Committee resolved to create in its accounts a Special Purpose Fund into which all gifts of money, legacies and bequests to the Association could be paid, and the money used from time to time at the discretion of the Committee to further these objects including assistance to old scholar sporting clubs, interstate and overseas branches, and for administrative equipment.

Should any members desire to contribute to this Fund either during their lifetime or by their wills the monies will be gratefully received and used accordingly.

MONTHLY LUNCHEONS

These are held regularly at Balfours Cafe, King William Street, on the third Tuesday in each month (with the exception of December) at 1 p.m. and country members are especially invited when visiting the city.

Any old scholar who would be able to attend reasonably regularly can contact the Association office and have his name included on the mailing list.

Since the last report, interesting addresses have been given by the following speakers: Mr. John McKinna (Interpol), Mr. Ian Haig (The Middle East), Mr. Harold Pascoe (S.A. Succession Duties), Rev. John Bennett (The More We are Together) and Mr. Stephen Day (Indonesia).

ASSOCIATION RECORDS

To enable our section of the Chronicle to be a history of the doings of old boys, you are asked to forward to the Association office any relevant items of interest.

Members are also requested to notify promptly any changes of address, and next of kin can be very helpful by sending in the names of any deceased members.

PAST ISSUES SCHOOL CHRONICLE

Your Association has not over the years kept complete records of previous issues. This, however, would be a proper and worthwhile thing to do, and in fact two or three sets could well be used by the Association itself. To date there has been some gratifying response from members, to whom we express our thanks.

The Headmaster, Mr. J. A. Dunning, is also anxious to build up further complete sets at the School, so that back numbers are much in demand.

So far as the Association is concerned the issues we particularly require relate to the years 1908-1923 (numbers 91-138).

If transport should be a problem this can be arranged by telephoning the Association office.
