

140 Years Strong

A faded, circular portrait of a man with dark hair and a beard, wearing a suit and tie, serves as a background for the text. The portrait is centered and occupies the upper half of the page.

Gentlemen,

I have great pleasure in accepting your invitation to lay the Foundation Stone of this College, which has so noble an object as to the sound education, as well for the sons of the Wesleyan Church, as of other denominations.

It gives me great pleasure to accede to the request you have made, that this Institution be named after me, and the trowel which you have so kindly presented to me will ever remind me of this most eventful day.

May Almighty God grant His blessing upon this Institution and the purposes for which it is intended.

Alfred

Princes — 140 years strong

Fourteen boys attended the first classes held at the recently completed Prince Alfred College at Kent Town on July 19, 1869.

You can imagine the excitement of those families as their sons were the first students in the building whose foundation stone was laid by Prince Alfred himself. On this day commenced the magnificent tradition of educating boys which is Prince Alfred College, and in doing so created a community that takes pride in its roots and eagerly looks to the future.

The School was the first in the state to install a science lab and it has produced more Australian Test cricketers than any other in the country. Old scholars have made their mark in medicine, agriculture, business, sport, community leadership, the military, academics and virtually every aspect of life. Old Reds can be found all over the world.

This has been a year of celebration as we marked our 140th Anniversary, and we celebrated in many ways. The combined Preparatory and Senior Parents' and Friends' hosted a successful Quiz Night in the John Dunning Building. A worship service was conducted at Wesley Church at Kent Town, and our advertising tagline was 'Princes — 140 years strong'.

The Headmaster invited past Preparatory and Senior school captains and vice captains to attend the inaugural 'Captains' Club'. Men who lead the school between 1942 and 2008 enjoyed a wonderful lunch together in the Prince Philip Theatre in the company of the Lieutenant Governor of South Australia.

Founders Day Assembly was held at Wesley Church and 12 Old Scholars were inducted into Our Princes Men Gallery in recognition of their service to the School. The Middle and Senior students attended and as they left each one was presented with a huge fresh donut with red and white icing! Prep boys enjoyed their donuts at a special 140th birthday party.

Our choir and orchestra helped make the 140th service special.

Band Director Andrew Newhouse wrote a brass 'Fanfare' in honour of the year's celebrations and renowned artist and sculptor Robert Hannaford has completed an incredible sculpture of a young boy walking on his hands.

My personal highlight was the aerial photograph taken on the front oval and selected as the cover for this year's Chronicle. The challenge of arranging almost 1200 people into the numbers '140' was significant. Added to that were the variables of weather and technical issues of photography from a helicopter!

The resulting photo is a significant one in the history of our school and reflects the pride of staff and students alike.

During all these activities the boys at PAC continued to thrive as they worked and played. The Chronicle was there for it all as you will see in the following pages.

Throughout the year visitors to the school remarked on how busy the boys were and you will read reports of their academic, sporting, artistic, musical and social achievements. From intercols to excursions and from music to classrooms, this 140th year has been another one of boys excelling more than they expected.

You will also have the opportunity to appreciate the work of the Parents' and Friends' Associations, the Prince Alfred College Foundation and the Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Association, all of whom have made significant contributions to the success of our 140th year.

Without doubt, if the original fourteen students at PAC could see the modern school of today with its one thousand and twenty four students, they would echo our statement: 'Princes — 140 years strong'.

Through this edition of the Chronicle you are invited to celebrate with us and to share our pride in Prince Alfred College.

Prince Alfred College began at the Kent Town campus on 19 July 1869. We are 140 years strong!

At the heart of Christian belief is the conviction we are people with a story, a story that is portable, a story that is meaningful, a story that is not bound to one time or one generation. It is a story of faith moving us forward. In 2009 we affirmed the strength in our heritage as a Uniting Church School. This story that began in faith has developed over time, continually moving us forward into the future with fresh hope, vision and renewed energy. At the 140th Anniversary Service held at Kent Town Wesley Church we said together in prayer:

Living God, you call us together to be your people, in the living hope of your abiding presence among us. We give you thanks for the commitment and vision of our founding fathers. We also give thanks for the commitment and dedication of all who served together since the beginnings of Prince Alfred College. Thank you for the strong traditions shaping our community, our fellowship, our dreams and visions. We acknowledge that at times the task has not been an easy one. You have held us in the palm of Your hand for these past 140 years. We offer our praise for your abiding covenant promised for this path and what lies ahead. Guide us forward, as we continue to answer your call to care, to educate, to inspire, to equip and to serve.

Amen

This year has featured many developments in school organisation, strategic planning and facility. The Three Schools model — Preparatory, Middle and Senior — and supported by Student Life, has been successfully introduced. The Year Sevens joined the rest of the Middle School in July and are enjoying their new experience of school under the leadership of Head of Middle School, Mr Peter Karamoshos. The Senior School led by Mr Nicholas de Dear, and Preparatory School with Mr Neil Andary as Head, are now established as distinct schools, meeting the unique developmental and academic needs of our students. Mr Stephen Clohesy, Director of Student Life, is leading a team of committed staff to enrich the school experience with opportunities in music, community service, sport and cultural expression. A Prince Alfred College education is now strongly guided by 'Princes Pedagogy', our model of teaching and learning, and the Student Life Framework which defines the co-curriculum experience.

Our current strategic plan, New Horizons, has served the school well over the past five years. During 2009, a new strategic plan has been drafted ready for launching to the school community early in 2010. The plan recognises that Prince Alfred College needs to continually improve and make effective plans for the future. Over the last five years, we have implemented major building programs and focussed on structural improvement. While this is ongoing, the focus of the next three years will be on maintaining stability and consolidating our achievements and success as a school for boys. The Strategic Plan aims to ensure compatibility and continuity of our vision, purpose and goals.

This year we have continued to improve our facility. In August we opened and blessed the Prince Alfred College Early Learning Centre, a magnificent space for our 2–4 year olds. This three million dollar development located on The Parade West will cater for 110 children and provides an early learning program based on the principles of Reggio Emilia and the International Baccalaureate. Work has begun on an upgrade and extension of the Assembly Hall, which will add a pavilion space to the front of the original building. We are indebted to the Federal Government for Building Education Revolution funding of $3 million for this project to be opened in July 2010.

The Prince Alfred College Council has once again been ably led by the Chair, Mr Bruce Spangler, who stepped down from the role in August before retiring in December. Dr Ben Tidswell, as Deputy Chair, has acted as Chair for the remainder of the year. Mr Jeff Ellison has continued his important work as Treasurer, as has Mrs Fleur Michell as Secretary. The main committees of Council have been strongly led by Mr Craig Nicholls (Building), Mr Jeff Ellison (Finance) and Mr John Harry (Organisational Development). The Council has contributed significantly to the future of our school and I thank all members of the Council, its committees and the Electoral Committee for their dedicated service. Very sincere thanks are extended to retiring members of Council, Mr Bruce Spangler, Mr Jeff Ellison, Mr Craig Nicholls and Mr John Easling, who together have given more than 50 years of committed service to Princes.

The Executive Leadership Team comprises the Headmaster, three Heads of School, Director of Student Life, Director of Community Relations, Director of Finance and School Operations and the Human Resources Manager. My Executive Assistant, Mrs Margaret Gleaves, has supported the work of this group throughout the year until her illness in Term Four. In July, we celebrated her 30 years of service as Assistant to the Headmaster at Prince Alfred College — she has worked with four Heads in this time. We wish her well as she recuperates and look forward to her return next year. The Executive began the year with a leadership development program, which has led to the formation of an outstanding team. I pay tribute to Mr Justin Sinclair, who oversaw our finance and school operations functions, but left the school to move to Melbourne in October.

The school has benefited from many new appointments this year. Rev Mark Dickens began as our Chaplain in Term Three and has in this short time contributed much to our chaplaincy program, comprising worship experiences, spiritual development, community service and Religious Education. I thank Rev Trevor Klar, who left at the end of Term One, and Rev Chris Harkness, who acted in Term Two. With the Assembly Hall out of action for much of the year, we have enjoyed using the Wesley Church at Kent Town more frequently for worship and school events. The Commissioning Service to begin the year, 140th Anniversary service, Founders Day and Valedictory Day were key events enhanced by the venue. The new Head of Middle School, Mr Peter Karamoshos, and Head of Senior School, Mr Nicholas de Dear, are strongly behind developments in the school this year.

Two very long serving members of staff will 'hand in their chalk' this year. Mr Jürgen Kracht, Curriculum Leader: Languages and Mrs Pamela Freeman, Director of Music and Performance, retire after 20 years contribution each to the school. We pay great tribute to their work in support of the curriculum and co-curriculum here at Prince Alfred College. Mr Kracht has led tours to France and China, and overseen the badminton program and Mrs Freeman has transformed music from a fledgling program on her arrival to one that is now nationally acclaimed. We wish them both well in retirement. Other staff leaving this year include Mr Craig McFarlane, Deputy Head of the Preparatory School, Mr Lee Swiderski, Curriculum Leader: Mathematics, teachers in the Middle/Senior Schools: Dr Nigel Currie, Mr Geoff Brougham, Mrs Carmen de Miguel, teachers in the Preparatory School: Mr Josh Francou, Mrs Michelle Pitcher, Mr Randall Pearce, Director of Rowing: Darren Potts and Karen Lancaster, Administrative Assistant, Senior School. Thank you all.

The Prince Alfred College Boarding House has been full all year. At the end of Term Two we farewelled Mr Sam Cheesman, who was replaced as Head of Boarding by Mr Tim Agnew — it was a seamless transition. Sam's contribution to boarding was significant and his legacy of a well organised and happy Boarding House has been readily taken up by Tim, a former boarder himself. The Boarding House Prefects, introduced this year, have united all 112 boarders into a strong and commanding presence in the school. Their contribution to the school in academic achievement, sport and cultural programs has shown a steady increase throughout the year. Jack Kelly has been an exceptional Captain of Boarding, well assisted by his Vice Captain, Matt Easter. Sincere thanks are offered to all Boarding House staff who support our boarders so well as residential assistants, and in housekeeping, catering, health and property services.

Mr Neil Andary, Mr Bruce Spangler, Mr Kevin Tutt and Mr Nick De Dear ready for the Princes 500.

Our international students continue to enrich our community. Sung-Hyeog Park has been the Captain of International Students this year and Vice Captain was Marcus Yung. Jack Fuller has achieved his prefect goal to encourage our students from overseas to be more actively involved in the life of the school. The work of Anna Polias, Debra James and Mani White in ESL instruction, marketing and student wellbeing cannot be underestimated.

Our graduates of 2008 were successful in the South Australian Certificate of Education and International Baccalaureate Diploma courses. In 2008, 145 students completed the SACE or the IB Diploma. These students were awarded a total of 25 merit scores. Lachlan Stranks TER 98.5 and Xing Xiang (Tom) Wu TER 98.2 achieved three merits each. Further, six students were awarded Bilingual Diplomas in the International Baccalaureate. In SACE subjects, 20.2% of students achieved A grades in South Australia, at Princes, 28.9% of boys achieved A grades, well above the state average. The world average IB Diploma score per student was approximately 31 points, with Princes students achieving an average IB Diploma score of 32 points. This equates to a TER of approximately 93.3 in South Australia. International

Mr Kevin Tutt, Mr David Oaten and Mr Don Davies at Old Old Boys' Assembly.

Students Yunze Wang TER 99.55, Xing Xiang (Tom) Wu, Huan Zhang TER 97.75 and Lester Chu TER 97.75 achieved outstanding results completing their courses with English as their second language, while James Venning TER 97.75, Samuel Schuler TER 96.05 and Harry Murdoch TER 95.35, are wonderful examples of dedication to academic and sporting achievement while boarding. Overall, 15.3% of our students were placed in the top 5% of the state, 29.3% in the top 10%, and 56% of our students were in the top 20% of the state. We are very proud of these young men.

The school has always sought to uphold and enhance excellence in academic performance, and develop and improve our academic success. However, the indicator of our success more often lies in an understanding of how well graduates of Prince Alfred College have functioned in university and in their professional lives. Graduates from this school are both well rounded and academically successful — one without the other is not enough.

The Captain of School, Lucas Lovell, has made an extraordinary contribution this year, as has the Vice Captain, Alastair Young, and the prefects. Student leadership has been evident in every aspect of school life — the organisation of the Red and White, the introduction of recycling programs, presentations at key events and student representation. The introduction of the Middle School saw the appointment of James Keeves as Captain and Matthew Brown as Vice Captain. In the Preparatory School, the movement of the Year 7s to the Middle School led to two Captains and Vice Captains this year: Oliver Collison and Adam Gwinnett for the first half of the year and Sam Alexander and Oscar Ellery in second semester. The Student Representative Council has been introduced across the school this year as part of a new and consistent approach to student leadership.

2009 has featured significant success on the sporting field. Badminton has proven to be popular, in particular with our international students, and old scholar, Andrew Harvey, has provided excellent coaching and game strategy to our players. Cricket participation has been healthy and our 1st XI side was victorious in the 133rd Intercollegiate Cricket Match against St Peter's College in March. The team then went on to win the State Schoolboys One Day Championship for the second year in a row, with a convincing win against Henley High School.

In Rowing, Prince Alfred College won the State Schoolboys Premiership, won the 1st XIII State Championship and came second in the Head of the River Regatta. Princes swim team continued its dominance by winning the Intercollegiate Swimming Trophy for the sixth year in a row. The Intercollegiate Tennis saw a one-sided 15–0 victory and the Drive Team won the State Championship. Water Polo is becoming a popular sport particularly in the Middle School.

Mark Davis and Paul Rigoni coached the Princes 1st V Basketball to a nail biting, one point, victory over Saints in the Intercollegiate Basketball with the winning goal, a three point shot from Phil Harford, coming with one and a half seconds left on the clock. The 1st XVIII football team won the Tennyson Football Challenge Cup for the fourth year in a row, with a 34 point win over St Peter's in the Intercol and four players were selected in the State U/18 team and one player in the State U/16 team.

The 1st XI Hockey team remained undefeated for the season and recorded a 6–2 Intercol win to retain the Simpson Cup. Soccer has continued to have great appeal for our students and Princes drew 0–0 with Saints in the Intercollegiate match for the second year in a row.

Viv Jensen's and Paul Urban's Squash boys once again proved that Prince Alfred College is the premier school for squash by winning four out of seven squash premierships. The 1st XV Rugby side had an outstanding season making the grand final of the Rugby SA School Boys Competition and defeating Saints 24–0 in the Intercollegiate Rugby match at Princes.

Princes Open A/B Table Tennis teams had solid wins over St Peter's and the A Chess team won the State final and flew to Melbourne in December for the national finals. It is fair to say that PAC celebrated its 140th birthday by dominating the 2009 Intercollegiate contests.

Similarly, Princes has forged new ground in the Arts. It has been another spectacular year in music, with over 200 performances by our various ensembles, bands and choirs throughout the year. There were many highlights: the Opening of the Early Learning Centre where 40 Junior String players conducted by Strings Director, Erna Berberyan, performed their hearts out to herald in this wonderful new learning environment; the annual Musical Production by the Princes Music Theatre Company — this year, 'The Pirates of Penzance', performed and accompanied by singers and musicians from Princes, Saints Girls and Annesley; the annual trek to Mt Gambier for 'Generations in Jazz' — our fifth visit and our first with four Bands, one in every division. We not only were acclaimed on stage, but our Band Director, Andrew Newhouse, was presented with the Director of the Year Award. The prize, a workshop day with James Morrison, concluded with a memorable Concert, Jammin with James and featuring all four of our bands plus singer Emma Pask. This was a fitting farewell for eleven of our Year 12 musicians, many of whom were in the inaugural trip to Mt Gambier five years ago. In August, we took out six Gold Standard Awards at the SA Schools Band and Orchestra Festival.

Under Choir Director, Tasso Bouyessis' guidance, our choral program is growing in strength and diversity as the Princes Choir establishes itself alongside the traditional Chapel Choir, which this year sang at four different Churches and supported all our School Services, including the Ex-POW and Remembrance Day Services. Many of our musicians are reaching professional levels and performing at venues such as the Capri Theatre (Saxophone Quartet), the Royal Adelaide Hospital (Camerata), The Adelaide Club (Soloists) and Glen Woodley Estate (Team of Pianists). Captain of Music, Andrew Dibden, was awarded as the first ever Ambassador of Music for his exemplary contribution to music programs at Prince Alfred College.

This year's edition of the Science Journal and Red Leaves Literary Journal were magnificent. Thanks to respective editors, Jerome Squires and Travis Cordingley, the committees and also staff involved, Dr Paula Mills and Mr Geoff Brougham.

Our achievements in cultural programs were also notable. The Chess team were State champions and competed in the national finals in Melbourne and narrowly lost the Intercol by one point. Thanks go to coach, George Howard, patron, Richard Thorne, and staff members Marie Milicevic and Paulo Abrantes. The Mooting team of Joel Amos, Firas El Achkar and Andrew Dibden were also State champions and travelled to the Gold Coast for their national championships. Prince Alfred College hosted the Nineteenth Annual Intercollegiate Debate in the Prince Philip Theatre on 18 August. Record crowds attended the evening where the topic for the debate was, That there is too much violence in entertainment. The 2009 Intercol team was made up of Ryan Muller, Jerome Squires, Joel Amos (Captain), with Jacob Kendall as Chair. The boys were the affirmative for the evening and put up a good debate. They were unfortunate to lose to a very strong St Peter's team.

The Parents' and Friends' of Prince Alfred College have once again contributed financially to the betterment of the boys at Princes. Congratulations to Rachel Johnston and Mary Evens for their leadership, and to all committee members for their support. Key events included a Quiz Night, Melbourne Cup Luncheon and the highly successful Princes Contemporary Art Show. The friend raising efforts of our two Parents' & Friends' has done much to strengthen the Princes community.

We are believed to have the largest active old scholars association in the southern hemisphere — 10,000 copies of the Princes Record are mailed out three times per year. Over 200 Old Old Boys turned up for their annual assembly, 302 for Vintage Reds and more than 450 for the Annual Dinner. Old scholar gatherings were held in every region of the state, every capital city in the country, and in Hong Kong and London. Five old scholars were honoured within the Order of Australia this year for their selfless contribution to the community. Sincere appreciation is extended to the President, Mr Andrew Clarkson, for his two years of office and to the committee who give tirelessly to their old school.

The Foundation has served the school wonderfully well over the years, and even more so in 2009. One million dollars was allocated to the building of the Early Learning Centre, and annual giving funds were raised to improve the facilities at Scotts Creek. A new tax deductible Scholarship Fund has attracted considerable support. Thanks go to the Board, Community Relations staff at Prince Alfred College and the President, Mr Andrew Chapman.

Schools that stand the test of time have enduring attributes. At Prince Alfred College, our staff and their passion for academic excellence, the quality and diversity of our programs, the strong sense of community, and our desire to make every boy a success in one or more areas of school life are our core strengths. Good schools also recognize that there is always room for improvement and understand the value of periodically assessing their position and planning for the future. After 140 years we know we have an outstanding school; the challenge ahead is to be even better.

Kevin Tutt
Headmaster

School Captain

It is now the end of the 2009, 140 years into the life of Prince Alfred College. From 1869–2009, it has been a school of culture, tradition, pride and respect, held in the highest regard as an educational institution.

And, whilst strongly holding onto our past, 2009 has seen a drive for PAC to become a school of the future. To continue our development into a school that encourages inspiration and innovation; a school that is aware of its global responsibility, a school where teamwork, mateship and passion are fuelled by its students and a school where leaders are bred.

One of my proudest moments as Captain of School was counting the donations with Mr Clohesy and learning that the Princes community had raised in excess of $10,000 for the suffering citizens of Victoria. However, Mr Clohesy and the Princes' boys went beyond donations, fielding a trip to Victoria in the July school holidays to help in the rebuilding phase. It is this active service, care and compassion for our wider community that is something of which the entire school can be proud.

The 2009 Prefect Group identified three main focus areas that would guide our contribution to the school throughout our final year; the first being a greater emphasis on House spirit in light of the structural movement away from the House system to the Year Level program for pastoral care and student welfare; the second being a drive towards making Prince Alfred College environmentally sustainable; and the third being a commitment to actively serving our state, national and global community. The overwhelming response of the PAC community to the Victorian bushfires was a significant step towards our achievement of the latter objective and the Prefects were quickly on board and determined to ensure the other goals were also successfully met.

The 2009 Swimming Carnival was a highlight, with the creativity of the Year 12's serving as the foundation for what was an event that defined the Princes' spirit. Showcasing the wildest costumes, colours and chants, it was clear that our fears for the House system were unfounded. The House Captains' must be applauded for their time, effort and dedication in ensuring that both the Swimming and Athletics carnivals and all House events were highly contested, successful and, most importantly, enjoyed by all. There is no doubt that the House system is alive and well at PAC.

As is customary, the Princes and Saint Peter's College communities came together again for what was undeniably one of our most successful Intercol seasons in recent years. The summer season saw the Red's achieve victory over Saints in the tennis, cricket and swimming. However, the 2009 winter Intercol season was one to remember. Whilst boasting big wins in the football and hockey, the true Princes' spirit came alive in the soccer and basketball. The First XI boys held on to retain the trophy with a nil all draw against Saints whilst Phil Harford's 'three pointer' on the siren put the Princes Open A Basketball team ahead to win by one point in what was one of the greatest Intercols of all time.

Any reflection on 2009 would not be complete without my acknowledging the achievements of the PAC Music department. The Princes' Big Bands once again descended on Mt Gambier fielding a band in each of the four different divisions. With Big Band 1 finishing in the top 5 bands Australia wide and Big Band 4 consisting of only Prep School boys, it was no surprise that our very own Mr Newhouse took out 'Band Director of the Year'. Competing against the best band directors across the nation, it was truly special to see Mr N get the recognition he deserves. This awarded the school an entire day workshopping with James Morrison, capped off by an amazing finale concert that completed what has been an integral part of the Princes' experience, especially for the Year 12 boys involved.

There have been many other successful events, including our fantastic Red & White that have contributed to a great year at PAC in 2009. But, upon reflection, I realise that it is the shared experiences, the values, commitment, loyalty and passion of the people who together make up this great school that will stay with me and guide me as I continue my life's journey.

Vice Captain of School, Alistair Young, deserves special mention for his huge effort and faultless support not only as my fellow leader but as a best mate. To the Prefects, whose outstanding work, support and mateship have been integral to our success as a team this year; I thank you and could never have done it without you. And to my fellow peers, I count myself lucky to have had the opportunity to share my years at Princes with each and every one of you.

To all teaching staff, your commitment and caring nature to every boy is invaluable. Of particular significance to me; Mr Parker, Mr Joy, Mr Clohesy and Ms Morelli, who have all been passionate and dedicated in their support. And special mention must be made of Mr Tutt and Mr de Dear, whose guidance and wise counsel has taught me much. Your personal support and mentoring has been invaluable and I will take many of the lessons I have learned from you with me in life.

And lastly, to every single Princes lad. Our school offers you many and varied opportunities. Seize these opportunities, take risks and discover what makes you happy; follow your dreams and shape your own future. Your character and passion have been inspirational to me this year and, despite the sadness, it is comforting to know that my involvement with Prince Alfred College and the people I've met will never cease. It is this mateship, loyalty and passion that is truly Princes. Unmatched by any other.

Lucas Lovell

Jürgen Kracht

It is really very difficult to sum up this unique, somewhat eccentric but entirely amiable, clever and intriguing character.

Since his entry into the school in 1987, Jürgen has made waves, made himself noticed and made an impact. For some it was because of the Father Christmas beard, or possibly the red socks and sandals. For some staff it was his propensity to whistle, perhaps a tad tunelessly, the Pilgrims' Chorus, while for others it was his imaginary cricket balls bowled through the classroom or the striking features of his wardrobe, either the elegant satin Chinese jackets or his jumpers with a tie knitted down the front!

Jürgen's arrival in Australia was almost as dramatic. After a lengthy cross continent journey from Germany in his trusty VW Beetle, he sailed from Singapore to Fremantle then traversed the Nullarbor to settle in Adelaide. A teaching stint at Elizabeth West High School, some upgrading of his qualifications at ANU and some years as Head of Languages at Marion High School, were the prelude to Jürgen reaching PAC. In addition to his native German, he is qualified in English, French, Russian and Chinese. His skills as a player of table tennis are legendary and those as Coordinator of Badminton were added very quickly. His passion for the Arts rounds out his well-balanced persona. We have benefitted from his broad knowledge of the world, his genuine erudition. He is a true educator.

For the members of the LOTE Faculty, the key ingredients of this enigmatic fellow we fondly called "Notre Cher Patron", our beloved leader, are his loyalty, his humour, his clear vision of the requirements for successful language learning, his commitment and dedication to his colleagues and, above all, his absolute integrity. We have trusted him, admired him, respected him and feel the deepest affection for him. Our working lives will never be the same and we will miss him enormously. His contributions to the students, the staff and the language programs at PAC have been vast. He is indeed irreplaceable!

Viv Jensen

Pamela Freeman

There are some members of staff who are so intertwined in the fabric of Princes that you cannot imagine them ever leaving. After 18 years of dedicated service it is hard to tell how much the school has moulded itself around Pamela Freeman, and how much Pam has moulded herself around the school.

Few remember the time of Before Pam. Details are sketchy, but most point to a Department that was a pale shadow of today's. One of Pam's first tasks was to assemble an ensemble to play for a visiting dignitary. Now, finding any school ensembles that sounds good in the month of February can be difficult, but compounding this, few boys had any ensemble experience. Most would consider this task impossible. However, through her characteristic tenacity, Pam somehow made the performance happen, and the tide began to turn.

Pam's work habits are legendary. There has been the odd occasion where one of the other Music Staff will arrive at work earlier than she does, but they are so rare that this event would be discussed well into the next term.

Pam is not only one of the most dedicated members of staff, but also one of the most generous. She always has an open door for the numerous parents and students with the usual barrage of requests, complaints, or just a chat. She has a remarkable memory for names, and not just of every boy who has attended in 18 years, but of their parents, grandparents, and anyone else who might have attended a concert. She also has an encyclopaedic knowledge of staff member's birthdays and other special days.

Pam still loves performing. She has played numerous stringed instruments as well as piano and clarinet, often learning a new instrument to fill a gap in an ensemble.

She is fiercely defensive of her beloved Keyboard Lab. Do not think about leaving the wrong switch on when you leave the room. In this room, she could bring to life the group keyboard teaching techniques learned on her Churchill Fellowship.

After 18 years of growth, she has decided to retire when the Music Department she founded is reaching its potential. A mark of how much she loves the school is the manner in which she has gone about ensuring the continued success after she departs. In 18 years, I'm sure boys will remember a Music Head named Pam Freeman who started it all.

Rev. Mark Dickens

From the Chaplain

2009 has seen a change in the chaplaincy at Prince Alfred College.

After a five year placement, the Reverend Trevor Klar concluded in the role of Chaplain at the end of Term 1. The Reverend Chris Harkness, minister at Wesley Uniting, Kent Town, kindly stepped into the role on an interim basis for a day and a half a week for the duration of Term 2. Kind thanks and appreciation are extended to these two people for the contribution they have made to chaplaincy in the school in the time they were in the role.

Prince Alfred College remains committed to being a school affiliated with the Uniting Church in Australia. The school's heritage is closely associated with the former Wesleyan Methodists, and the Kent Town congregation in particular. PAC continues to promote Christian values, which include honesty, respect, and compassion. The school prides itself on being an open and inclusive school, instilling a culture that is committed to the principles of integrity, ethics, and justice. In addition to striving for academic excellence, the intent is to see boys reach their full potential, equipped to face the journey of life, and be the best they can be in every sphere.

The role of chaplain at Prince Alfred College is an all-encompassing one. It includes being present to provide pastoral care and counselling for students, staff, families of students and staff, and old collegians as well; facilitating the opportunities and occasions for worship; supporting and resourcing teaching staff on matters to do with faith and spirituality; identifying and nurturing potential collaborations outside the school, particularly in the area of community service; and representing the school to the wider church. There are no two days that are the same as my presence throughout the week spans the Early Learning Centre through to the Senior School.

The Third term proved to be quite a busy term to start in. It included my participation in several events, including the Old Scholars Chapel Service; the Old, Old Boys Assembly; the Old Collegians Dinner; the Chapel Choir Service; the Ex Prisoners of War Association Service; the PAC 140th Anniversary Service; and Founders Day Service. In addition to this, there was the Scotts Creek Open Day; a visit to one of the year 9 classes during their extended stay at Wambana; a dinner in the Riverland with some of the parents of boarders from PAC and Seymour, and then a day in the PAC tent at the Riverland Field Days.

With the Assembly Hall being out of action while the renovation and extension work takes place, chapel services and assemblies for the Middle and Senior Schools have been taking place at Wesley Uniting, Kent Town. Whilst this requires greater logistical planning, it has been good to renew a closer association with the church for reasons I have already mentioned.

The Preparatory School continues to meet weekly for chapel services, breaking into two groups; these being Junior Primary (R-2's) and Primary (3-6's). These services are predominantly planned around a theme and are led by the students themselves following some initial suggestions and guidance from myself. It has been great to have some of the older children from the ELC join JP chapel from time to time too.

I have enjoyed being here thus far, and I am looking forward to the journey ahead with excitement and anticipation.

Rev. Mark Dickens

The Rev R Kyle Waters ED BA

The Rev R Kyle Waters ED BA was housemaster at PAC from 1945–47 and Chaplain from 1955–75. He also served as President of the School (1971) and served on the Electoral Committee and Council. He was born 9 February 1922 and died 13 January 2009. His funeral took place at Wesley Uniting Church, Kent Town following distinguished service in the Methodist and Uniting Churches.

Following his work with the Bank of Adelaide, he joined the AIF in 1941. He served in New Guinea in the 439th Australian Heavy AA Troop until his discharge in 1944 when he began his theological training at Wesley College. He was ordained in the Kent Town Methodist Church on 8th March 1950.

Kyle gave memorable and distinguished service as the Chaplain at PAC during the Headmastership of Jack Dunning and Geoff Bean. He exercised a ministry not only to the boys and staff but also to their parents and family. In fact his ministry continued as boys called on him to conduct marriages and funerals and sought his counsel at other times.

While Chaplain of PAC his name became a household word throughout SA and beyond because of the deep love and respect in which he was held by the whole school community. A tribute to him by the Synod in 1987 said, "His energy, enthusiasm, eloquent and powerful preaching, common sense and deep pastoral concern for all committed to his care made him a loved and respected friend of many."

At his Funeral the Rev Don Catford said Kyle lived by the motto of John Wesley, "Do all the good you can, by all the means you can, in all the ways you can, in all the places you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, as long as ever you can."

Rev Don Catford (PAC 1955-59)

An Introduction to the Student Life Department

As a single-sex school, Prince Alfred College offers a unique commitment to the growth and development of boys.

The school aspires to develop young men who are open, creative, inquiring, socially and emotionally at ease, and who strive to achieve excellence and personal best in all their areas of endeavour. In the tradition of the Uniting Church in Australia, young men are encouraged to develop an appreciation of Christian principles. As an International Baccalaureate school we seek to develop in boys an awareness of self, the ability to think critically and independently, and to be resilient, generous and prepared to act with others' interests at heart.

It is a community that aspires to challenge, inspire and maximise the potential of every boy so they can engage in the world with confidence and compassion.

With this broad mission in mind Prince Alfred College has, this year, established the department of Student Life and a Student Life Team, to coordinate and align the vast array of programs outside the classroom. Student Life targets the physical, emotional, social, cultural, creative and spiritual development of the individual student with the view to enhancing and complementing the academic focus of the formal curriculum and the learner's profile of the International Baccalaureate. At present it includes the following programs but the team certainly recognise that there are many additional and significant influences in a student's development.

Boarding	Health
Sport	Educational Psychology and Learning Supports
Performing Arts	House structure and activities
Community Service	Student Leadership
Chaplaincy	International Students and Programs

Outdoor Education (Scotts Creek)

The Student Life Team is made up of the respective program coordinators. This group is a highly professional and innovative team who have embraced the concept and challenges of implementing a unified approach to Student Life with enthusiasm and determination. The challenge for the Team and key to bringing about positive influence has been to first clearly identify what we believe were the most significant common principles shared by these very diverse programs. A Student Life Framework has therefore been created that defines what we believe is the essence of a holistic approach in keeping with the heritage, spiritual traditions and ethos of the school.

Central to those discussions was our belief that we must assist students to become proud of, and comfortable with who they are, motivated and skilled to realise their unique potential. We want our students to be empathetic and compassionate individuals who demonstrate a genuine concern for the welfare of others and who desire to action their concern through authentic community service.

Our programs outside the classroom seek to inspire and enable our students to interact effectively with others and engage significantly in the world around them. As knowledgeable global citizens, we want our students to be respectful of cultural diversity and ambassadors of unity.

As encapsulated in our school motto "Go Beyond" we aim to encourage boys not to settle for relative comfort but to seek a higher calling in whatever dimension of life they pursue. When confronted by the challenges inherent in that search we want them to recognise the need for persistence and when confronted by adversity, the importance of resilience.

As a consequence the Prince Alfred College Student Life Framework incorporates six agreed principles. These include an absolute commitment to:

- Enhancing Well Being
- Upholding Christian Values
- Encouraging Interaction
- Embracing Challenge
- Inspiring Leadership
- Promoting Learning Excellence

It is our fundamental aim that all students will be exposed to sequential, developmentally appropriate experiences in each principle during their time at Prince Alfred College from Reception to Year 12. It is our belief that a commitment to these foci will best prepare and empower our students to become men of integrity ready and willing to assume positions of leadership, responsibility and positive influence within their own family and the wider community.

This framework will direct and shape the nature, content and delivery of all Student Life programs and initiatives. Programs must be underpinned by an attention to the major principles and the more specific guidelines contained within the detail of the framework. As we strive to implement our Student Life framework we also recognise the critical importance of collaborating with parents, extended family and the wider community in this endeavour.

The Student Life initiative is an exciting one. Its true power lies not only in its undoubted implications for individual personal development but also in its capacity to clarify and unify purpose and build a genuine spirit of collegiality and lifelong learning within the school community. The Student Life Team looks forward to working with all stakeholders to implement the following framework and its guidelines and so ensure we continue, as a community, to provide the most significant and effective educational experience.

Mr Steve Clohesy
Director of Student Life

Student Life at Prince Alfred College will provide every student with opportunities to develop as confident well-rounded young men of Christian principles capable of and dedicated to making a difference to their world, eager to become the best they can be.

Student Life:

Enhances Student Well-Being

Self Awareness — Students will understand their personality traits, emotions, personal values, and behaviours with a view to developing their many unique gifts and talents and identifying and honestly addressing their weaknesses.

Self Actualisation — Students will be provided with a challenging, differentiated educational experience that will enable them to realise their full potential.

Upholds Christian Values

The Uniting Church — Students will be informed of the values and traditions that mark the history of Prince Alfred College, maintained to this day through the School's affiliation with the Uniting Church in Australia.

Respect — Students will be young men of integrity and honesty, practising respect for self, others, School, community, and environment.

Diversity — Students will celebrate and appreciate difference.

Right and Wrong — Students will clearly understand the concept, importance and expression of the principles of ethical decision making, moral courage, and social justice.

Encourages Interaction

Peers — Students will develop the skills of teamwork and relationship-building and the ability to support and affirm others.

Senior School Student Representative Council 2009

School Community — Students will participate in school activities that promote spirit, collegiality, and community.

Authentic Community Service — Students will seek to make a difference by engaging actively in community service programs at local, national, and international levels that promote empathy, compassion, and understanding.

Embraces Challenge

Going Beyond — Students will have access to a host of opportunities, disciplines, and experiences that will require the acquisition, mastery, and application of new skills to overcome significant challenges.

Resilience — Students will demonstrate resilience and persistence when confronted by challenges and adversity.

Inspires Leadership

Desire — All students will have the opportunity to develop leadership skills with a view to fostering not only the ability to lead but a desire to lead.

Action — Students will be encouraged to exercise responsible leadership, to be courageous and honest, fair-minded and just.

Promotes Learning Excellence

Life Learning — Students will embrace the fundamental aim of a Prince Alfred College education to touch hearts as well as minds, promote growth through all domains of knowledge, and to encourage students to create a better and more peaceful world through service, understanding, and respect.

Left: Mr Jarrod Cross and boys serve up a feast.

We enjoyed two busy terms at the start of the year in Little Princes Kindergarten ahead of our move to the new ELC.

We celebrated Easter with an egg hunt and lots of sharing eggs with our friends. In May children prepared for our annual Princess' Tea Party for Mothers Day and enjoyed a morning of thinking pink and lots of scones with jam and cream!

The new Early Learning Centre opened on July 21st after much preparation and amidst great excitement from the staff and children and tears from a few of the new two year olds!

The centre opened with approximately 60 children aged 2-5 and is now open for 50 weeks of the year from 7.30am until 6 pm Monday to Friday.

The centre runs under the Reggio Emilia philosophy and has been designed to encourage the children's creativity and provide many challenges for them. We celebrate their achievements and foster their curiosity and their growing confidence. We endeavour to provide an environment that is filled with fun, opportunities to explore, learn and share a sense of community.

Our first few months have been extremely busy with lots of events that have promoted our part in the school community.

Our official opening was held on 4th August and was attended by around 100 guests who all had an interest in our new centre or had been part of its development. A plaque was unveiled the Chairman of the School Board, Bruce Spangler and the ribbon cut by Philippe Scalzi assisted by Lucas Lovell the School Captain.

We celebrated Book Week and joined with the Prep School and many parents for a parade on August 28th with our children dressed in a jungle theme. We had chosen this theme as we were assisting a group of students from neighbouring schools and colleges who had written and were promoting a children's book as part of their Young Achievement Australia project.

Our next event was the annual Big Boys Breakfast for Fathers Day on September 3rd. Approximately 120 fathers and children attended and bacon and eggs were cooked and served in a great production line! The Dads were all sent off for the day with a lovely bowtie created especially for them by their child.

September was a busy month as we also joined the boys from the Prep School in the Chapel for a service to mark Founders Day and then enjoyed donuts in the school colours in our Town Square.

Grandies Day on 11th September was another busy day for us with many Grandparents joining us at the start of the day and visits from quite a few who had grandsons in the older classes but were keen to see the new centre!

Fourth term began with Sports Day which was a morning of lots of races and games that many of our parents joined in with and left the children (and staff) exhausted but very proud of their efforts!

We are currently preparing for the annual Nativity play which will include two year olds for the first time and promises to be a "not to be missed" event !

The ELC now has 100 families who have children attending on various days. Our Two year old room has a "wait list" and we have constant enquiries from parents who are keen to enrol their children in our fantastic new setting.

The centre has become a hive of activity, learning and fun and is a wonderful start for many children here at Princes!

Mr Neil Andary

Change has a considerable psychological impact on the human mind. To the fearful it is threatening because it means that things may get worse.

To the hopeful it is encouraging because things may get better.

To the confident it is inspiring because the challenge exists to make things better.

King Whitney Jr.

Much change took place in the Preparatory School in 2009. Our Year 7 boys, at the end of Term 2, entered the newly formed Middle School; we opened the PAC Early Learning Centre and developed a new classroom precinct for our Reception students ready to operate from the start of 2010. The Assembly Hall redevelopment forced us to modify Grandies Day celebrations, music concerts and speech night. If Whitney is correct, some of us viewed the changes with fear and saw things getting worse, some are hopeful the changes will bring long term benefits to the school, and some, including me, are inspired by the challenge to make things better.

Documenting the events, celebrations and learning that takes place over a year is a daunting task. Indeed no short article from me could do it justice. This year our boys, staff and families took part in camps, sleepovers, sports days, excursions and incursions, whole school assemblies, Old, old boys day, valedictory assemblies for two sets of Prep leaders, Grandies Day, Art shows, farewell assembly for Reverend Trevor Klar, induction assemblies for new Middle and Prep School leaders and Reverend Mark Dickens, Oliphant Science awards, debating and public speaking, Chess and sporting teams, School tours, Opening of the new ELC, Mother and Son Dinner, Father and Son camp, curriculum evenings, Father and Son bedtime story night, nativity plays, carols and speech night. And I haven't mentioned, weekly assembly and chapel services, 'Jammin' with James' Morrison, music and singing, and time spent learning myriad of interesting facts, figures, skills and values. All this, and much, much, more.

The year began with welcoming new staff, boys and their families. March was an exciting time for our boys as many year levels visited Clipsal and once again our Year 3 boys had the opportunity to visit the Team Vodaphone in Pit Straight, our Reception and Year 5 classes were enlightened by the Biante Touring Car Masters crews and other classes enjoyed opportunities to speak with and visit other drivers and crews. This helped to bring the Clipsal 500 into the classroom offering opportunities for real life experiences and learning.

Swimming carnival and camps were a highlight of Term 1. Taylor took out the carnival and Cotton the Spirit Cup. Year 11 leaders joined our boys for some action filled days at Scotts Creek and Victor Harbor. Father and Son Camp for our Year 5 boys was another great weekend organised by our outdoor education team led by Phil Noble. Fathers and sons enjoyed a weekend of games, activities and bonding as they competed for the Father and Son Cup.

Term Two provided highlights for our Taylor boys again as they took out the Cross Country event. Our musicians enjoyed great success at the Generations of Jazz festival in Mt Gambier, Year 6 and 7 boys enjoyed camps at Scotts Creek and we said farewell to our Year 7 boys with a dinner and valedictory service. With their parents, they were welcomed to the Middle School by newly appointed Captain, James Keeves and Head of Middle School Mr Peter Karamoshos.

Rite of passage is important to us and to the boys. As we implemented the Middle School structure it was vital we provided opportunities for leadership to our Year 7 boys before they moved to the Middle School, and to our Year 6 boys before they too made the transition. As a result we have had a busy year inducting two sets of leaders and saying goodbye to two groups of students. It becomes quite emotional as we honour the good times the boys had in the Preparatory School. I pay tribute to Oliver Collison and Sam Alexander for their contributions to the School. Each had a shortened time in their roles as School Captain, but embraced the opportunity and led by example. I also pay tribute to the other School and House Captains as they too demonstrated outstanding skills and grace in their roles.

The opening of the Prince Alfred College Early Learning Centre was a wonderful occasion for the School. This purpose built facility offers an outstanding learning environment for children from the age of two. Congratulations to Mel Bishop for ensuring a clear vision of exemplary early learning environments and to Jeanine

Dry for skills and patience in ensuring the centre opened with a sense of calm and purpose. Our local Member of State Parliament, Ms Vinnie Cicorello was so impressed with the facility at the opening she insisted Premier Mike Rann see the centre and organised for him to visit early in Term 4. We now have over a hundred families utilizing the facility each week.

This year many parents were enlightened and entertained on one of a number of Thursday nights where each year level offered opportunities to find out more about their son's learning. These curriculum evenings showcased how our staffs from Kindergarten to Year 6 engage our students in learning. Parents were treated as students for the night and worked together to solve problems, ask questions and communicate with each other. Over a shared supper and refreshments parents overwhelmingly endorsed the evenings.

Fathers of boys in Reception to Year 2 also enjoyed the Father and Son Bedtime story night. Treated to the short story 'Blinky Bill goes to School' in pantomime by staff the boys and their fathers then enjoyed sharing stories and supper.

Few will forget the evening with James Morrison held in the Preparatory Gymnasium after a day working with 'conductor of the year' Andrew Newhouse and our big bands. Those who were fortunate enough to experience the sounds of our big bands will, I am sure, keep this in their memory bank for some time.

Taylor narrowly won the year 3-6 Sports day and Waterhouse won the Spirit Cup. After a rain postponement the Kindergarten and Junior Primary Sports day was held in fine conditions at the start of Term 4. Enjoyment was had by all as they participated in the health hustle, a rotation of events and a sprint race.

Our sports days are always well attended and supported by our Parents and Friends association who again provided lots of goodies for both children and supporters to enjoy.

A huge thank you to outgoing President, Rachel Johnson, Vice President Jane Willsmore and their team for the many tireless hours of organization, preparation and support of events for our community. Through fundraising, the P&F donated funds to purchase interactive whiteboards in classrooms, the dividing curtain in the Gymnasium as well as the development of the bike shed and numerous smaller items. Their support of the Art show, Quiz night, Mothers day and Melbourne Cup lunches all go a long way to foster both friendships and fundraising.

As the year comes to an end we say goodbye to a number of staff. Craig McFarlane has been a great support to me as Deputy Head of the Preparatory School and we wish him well in his new role at St Peter's Woodlands. Randall Pearce has accepted a management role at St Andrew's School, Michelle Pitcher is moving to Perth and Josh Francou to our friends at St Peters. We extend our thanks and good wishes for their new adventures.

2009 has certainly been a year of change. Our staff has been wonderful in accepting and supporting the change. They have seen change as a way to make things better. It is truly a mark of their excellence as professionals. Words cannot thank them enough.

Next year the Preparatory School will continue to expand. With the opening of a third Reception class, in newly created spaces left vacant by the Little Princes Kindergarten, and a third Year 5 class we will have around 400 boys to start the year. Our Early Learning Centre will continue to expand and will be nearly full from the start of the year. Change will continue to embrace us as it always does. We are inspired because the challenge exists to make things better.

Kelvin Sparks
Dean of Studies
Preparatory School

The Preparatory School has used the Primary Years Program of the International Baccalaureate Organisation as its curriculum framework for many years now.

With its emphasis on inquiry and deeper understanding, the PYP is an optimal vehicle for learning in the 21st century. By focusing on universally valid concepts, the PYP helps our boys understand today's complex yet increasingly interrelated world. 2009 has been an important year of consolidation for the PYP at PAC.

A detailed and wide-ranging evaluation process exists to ensure that PYP schools are moving forward in their implementation of the program. 2009 was the year for our second five-year Evaluation. All sectors of the Prep School community were involved in assessing our performance against a set of standards and practices drawn up by the IBO. In early November a team of experienced educators visited the school to probe and confirm the findings of the self-study. This evaluation process was a rewarding and stimulating professional experience for our staff and the visit validated the groundwork that has been done, proving once again that the PYP is a vehicle for sharing best practice from around the world in ensuring quality learning outcomes for all our boys.

In 2009 we have continued to broaden the strategies that we use to assess learning. On the one hand, the NAPLAN tests at Years 3 and 5 gave us useful data to supplement our own in-house testing. However, there is a wealth of research evidence confirming that we gain a much better picture of our boys' learning when we use a wide range of assessment strategies. Consequently, in 2009 several year levels held 'learning journeys' at the end of a unit of inquiry. These included a 'Food, Fun & Fitness Expo' in Year 2, 'Aussie Animals' in Year 1 and a look at Biomes in 5/6P. Learning journeys provide an opportunity for students to present their findings to an audience (including their parents) in a range of dynamic and interactive ways.

Other strategies used in the Preparatory School include anecdotal records of learning that we observe during the school day, developmental continuums and so-called 'rubrics' that provide a scale for rating a student's performance on a given task by describing different aspects and levels of achievement.

Another assessment strategy that is particularly effective with boys, and is also one of the guiding principles of the PYP, is inviting boys to reflect actively on their learning and how they can enhance their future performance. At PAC this happens in every classroom and many of these reflections are filed in portfolios as a record of the boys' internal learning process.

It was a natural step this year, then, for us to give our boys the opportunity to communicate their understanding of their learning directly to their parents by introducing Student Led Conferences. This took place in term three. Student Led Conferences are formal reporting sessions with parents that are led by the boys themselves. They received training to take on this new role and guidelines were provided for parents, too. After some initial misgivings, parents responded very positively to the experience, enjoying the opportunity to hear their son's 'voice' in the learning process, enter into conversations about learning and help set goals for future progress. Student Led Conferences truly put everyone on the same page. In this way boys learn to take greater ownership of their learning.

During the course of 2009, as part of our structural reorganisation at PAC, our Year 7 classes moved over to the Middle School. This meant that our Year 6 class could come under the PYP 'umbrella'. Guided by the 5/6-team leader, Randall Pearce, our Year 6 teachers developed six new units of inquiry to engage the hearts of minds of our oldest students. These included 'Evolution', 'Digging Up the Past' and 'Conflict & War'. This has also provided an opportunity for the 5/6 multilevel class units of inquiry to become aligned with those in the mainstream classes.

Another very important theme for us this year has been 'Celebrating Excellence'. Many of our boys excel in a wide range of areas and we wanted to acknowledge their achievements in a more public way. Many boys in Years 4-6 competed for the inaugural Preparatory School Poetry Recital Prizes, which went to Zachary Mizgalski and Jordan Lesicar (Year 4), Tony Tabakov and Maris Colton (Year 5) and Paul Leone and Jack Jeanes (Year 6). These boys then represented the school in the interschool Poetry Recital competition, at which Jack Jeanes won 2nd place in his competition and Zac Mizgalski 3rd place in his.

Our participation rate in a range of competitions has continued at a high level this year. Twenty boys in Years 5 and 6 entered the Mathematics Challenge for Young Australians. Three of them, Paul Leone, Hrishikesh Rajaram and Max Hood, achieved the maximum possible score, a truly remarkable achievement. A further nine boys achieved a Credit. It was encouraging for the future that three of these were Year 5 boys. A total of 31 boys in Years 5 and 6 entered the Mathematics Olympiad, of whom two, Will Hudson and James Jezukaitis, received a near-perfect score. Many of our boys participate in the online Mathematics program and Stephen Ottanelli in Year 3 finally achieved his goal of a Gold Certificate Award, a first for PAC.

Our boys also continued to achieve excellent results in the Oliphant Science Awards. Patrick Gayen and Matthew Jezukaitis gained 1st place in the Year 3-5 and R-2 contests respectively with one 2nd place and 3rd places also going to PAC boys from Years 2-5. Moreover, three boys, Andrew Thomson, Lucas De Garis and Samuel Jackson, were awarded the Australian Institute of Energy and ETSU Utilities sponsor prize for their model of how geothermal energy works.

2009 has been a good year for the Preparatory School. The PYP evaluation report has confirmed the direction in which we are moving and our teachers and support staff are eager to move forward as a dynamic team providing cutting-edge learning for boys.

My Experiences Being School Captain

I would like to start out and say that my time being a school captain has been such a great experience. It has really opened my eyes to what being a leader is really about. The moment Mr. Andary called out my name; I knew that I would have a tough six months ahead of me. But as I got into the job, I realised that it definitely was not all about being recognised by others and being treated differently. It was about serving others and putting yourself last. The experience has taught me lessons that I will have with me for life about leadership and hard work.

As I looked back at the past 6 months and what I've achieved, I realized that my job would have been a whole lot harder if I didn't have the 7 other captains supporting me. They were always been there when I needed a hand, and they always supported me during challenging times. The leadership role overall was certainly a lot more fun with the other captains around.

What would be a captaincy without any memorable moments? During my time as school captain, the other captains and I have experienced a lot and just about everything we did had plenty of fun involved.

One of my memorable experiences as captain was the day we went across to Annesley along with captains from 2009 has seen many changes within the Preparatory School. The biggest of course was the Year 7's, our head boys, packing their bags and moving out. A mixture of excitement and nerves as they joined the Year 8's and 9's to form our newest section, the Middle School. This of course meant our leader, Oliver Collinson had to hand over the reigns and I thank him for his excellent leadership for the first two terms. No sooner had the Year 7's moved on, the LOTE (Languages Other Than English) and OSHC took over their classrooms.

Term 3 started with a Service at Wesley Uniting Church celebrating 140 years of Prince Alfred College. This coincided with Old Scholars week where we were visited by past scholars from far and wide. A highlight for me personally was catching up with the Prep School Captain from 50 years ago, Mr Bruce Beauchamp.

From our oldest to the very young we also saw the opening of the Early Learning Centre. This new facility takes boys and girls from two years of age into an exciting and purpose build 'village'. The winter intercol sports were played during Week 5 and it was great to see so many prep boys supporting the firsts in a whole range of other schools, to learn all about endangered species. We were mainly looking at orangutans, but we did also find out how much the world has been affected by certain things. On the bus ride back from that excursion, we all thought it would be a great idea to inform the rest of P.A.C about these endangered species. Together we came up with a whole PowerPoint presentation about not only endangered animals, but other problems our world needs to face. In all, the experience at Annesley has opened all our eyes to see how much we can make a difference. We passed on an important message to the rest of our community, and hopefully made a difference.

Throughout the two terms of being captain, I easily would have struggled if it weren't for the support of some of the teachers. Firstly I had great support from teachers like Ms. Lozowy and Mrs. Brister. They have helped me with many of my tasks, and made my job a lot easier. Ms. Lozowy also gave me a lot of class time off because of all the things I had to do, so I am also grateful for that too. Secondly, I want to thank Mr. Andary and Mr. McPharlane for all the work they put in. They have always been there whenever I needed help or advice, and that has made it so much easier to carry out the duties of being captain. I would like to have continued my role as captain for the whole year instead of 6 months. However, I realize that the move to a Middle School system is a really positive system and I respect that.

Finally I just want to say that my time being school captain has been memorable, and I will never forget the things I've learnt during my time.

Oliver Collinson, Captain Terms 1 & 2 games. PAC had outstanding success this season and I'm sure the crowd helped them along.

Once again Grandies Day was very busy, with many important visitors being led around the school and shown all sorts of work.

Sports Day was held in perfect conditions and with all the teams in great voice it was Taylor who just beat Cotton over the line with Waterhouse awarded the 'spirit cup'. It was great to see the boys putting in 100% effort and having such a good time. Well done to the House Captains for keeping their boys cheering all day.

Term 4 is the shortest and quite often the busiest term. Summer Sports finally began after a wet start. The Jack de Vidas Art Show was again a highlight. Many parents attended to see the great works of Art on display. Congratulations this year to Edward Hannemann for being judged the winner.

I have really enjoyed being given the opportunity to be captain and have found the position very rewarding. I really appreciated the support of all the other Captains.

To Mr Dunsmuir who helped me manage my school work and gave some leeway when required. To Mum and Dad, thank you for helping me with my speeches and for your ongoing support, and lastly to Mr Andary and Mr McFarlane who have given us all great advice and shown us what great leadership really is. Thank you 140 Years Strong! How education has changed for the littlest Princes Men in the Preparatory School!

The Reception classrooms have been alive with activity in 2009 and our rooms are a colourful display of work celebrating our achievements.

We began the year establishing classroom rules, talking about cooperation and how to make a happy school. As soon as the Clipsal 500 zoomed down Dequetteville Terrace, we began our inquiry into things that move on land, in the air and on water. We were privileged to be visited by Drew Marget and Gavin Bullas, from the Biante Touring Car Masters team. The boys then enjoyed visiting the track and cheering their heroes on.

In Term 2 the boys studied a science unit about the human body. Information texts and visual literacy tools were introduced to help them learn about labelling diagrams and report writing. Several doctors visited to show models of body organs and dissect a heart. How interesting! We also had a special focus on literacy with a unit called 'Once Upon a Time...' The boys loved constructing a 'new chair for Baby Bear' with their parents at home. They also wrote cute letters apologising to Baby Bear for breaking his chair.

The Mid-Year Reception class began in Term 3. Working in mixed Reception groups we studied a unit called 'Under the Canopy'. We inquired into the rainforest habitat, the plant and animal life there and human responsibility to conserve this fragile ecosystem. Highlights included visiting the Botanic Gardens Conservatory and the Adelaide Zoo. Mr Andary visited with his pet Orangutan and shared a lovely story with the boys. We also wandered over to visit the huge Moreton Bay Fig Trees and explore their amazing buttress roots which have been climbed on for over a century by PAC boys!

We joined the ELC children in their new centre to celebrate the school's 140th birthday. The children shared a special PAC donut, sang Happy Birthday and signed a canvas to mark the occasion.

The year finished with our unit 'Who are the People in the Neighbourhood?' in which the boys explored the people and places that make up our local community. The Neighbourhood walk was a fun way for the boys to use their mapping skills and culminated in lunch at Rymill Park.

The annual Nativity marked the end of the boys' very first year of school. It is always gorgeous to see how much the little fellows have grown up, and such a proud moment for parents and teachers alike. We hope the 2009 boys have very special memories to take with them from Reception on their journey as Princes Men.

What a busy and exciting year we have had in Year 1!

We began our year with a 'peaceful' start, getting to know our new teachers and classmates. Our first unit of inquiry was called 'Peace Begins with Me'. We looked at ways to create calm classroom environments and discussed how we could treat ourselves and others in ways that were respectful and caring. Our visit to the beautiful Himeji Gardens was a highlight and reinforced our understanding of how environments can affect our mood and behaviour.

Term 2 started with an inquiry into our family histories in our unit 'My Place, Your Place, Our Place'. We enjoyed finding out information about our families and where we all came from. We have some very interesting people in our families!

We ended Term 2 with a BANG! — 'Science in the Kitchen!' Experiments, experiments, experiments! There were many highlights including a visit to the Senior School Science Lab and our favourite — Year 1 Science Day! Explosions, lava lamps, melting and taste testing are just a sample of some of the activities we enjoyed all day. We even came up with our very own experiments to test some of the theories and questions that we had.

Term 3 began close to home. We inquired into 'Our Princes Community'. By walking around the school, clipboards at the ready, we discovered so much about what facilities our school has and how many people work here. We decided to interview a variety of different people to find out what they did to help our community be a successful one. We thank everyone for answering our many, many questions...!

To complete Term 3 we began a research unit called 'Aussie Animals Oi! Oi! Oi!' We had so many questions about animals and we all chose one Australian animal to focus our research project on. We published our research by creating our own information books and designed and built a diorama of our animal's habitat. We presented all of our amazing work at our Aussie Animals Expo.

Term 4 saw us 'treading the boards' with our unit 'All the World's a Stage.' We learnt all about the elements of creating a performance and explored many ways to use our voices, bodies, faces, props, masks, music (to name a few...) to help us tell a story. We loved being dramatic!

What a great year. Well done boys on your amazing attitudes, inquiring minds, determination and all the efforts you put into your time in Year 1. You are all fabulous!

Michell Pitcher, Kathy Kupke
Year 1 Teachers

Year 2 has had an exciting learning journey this year as they participated in many challenging and engaging experiences.

We began the year at 'Top Gear' with our first PYP unit. The boys were fascinated as they explored the ways that cars have evolved over time. Our visit to the National Motor Museum in Birdwood was a great springboard for inquiry. The Thebarton Road Safety excursion enabled the boys to learn and practise their road safety skills. Though our excursion to the Clipsal 500 we were able to take a closer look at cars designed for a purpose and meet Aussie Racing Car driver and PAC Old Scholar, Rob Thomson, who also visited us back in our classroom. A highlight of the unit was certainly our very own PAC 500 car race as the boys showcased their very own step in cars that they had designed and made at home.

Boys learned to 'Read Between the Lines' as we investigated the wisdom that can be found within Aesop's fable and parables from the Bible. This literature based unit enabled the boys to showcase their learning through drama, creative play and multimedia.

The boys had lots of 'Food, Fun and Fitness' with our Term 2 unit of inquiry as we considered how they can make healthy choices and achieve a balanced lifestyle. Cooking experiences, fitness circuits and the participation in the Junior Primary Walk-a-thon, along with guest speakers and self-assessment, enhanced and expanded our understanding about what it means to be and stay healthy. The unit culminated with the Year 2 Assembly and Healthy Lifestyle Expo where the parents and Preparatory School classes were invited to attend and learn from the boys' various stalls.

We then had 'A Look at China'. This coincided with our visit to the Adelaide Central Markets and lunch at T-Chow. It was delicious! The boys looked at the geography, lifestyle, culture and folk tales of China. They particularly enjoyed learning about the importance of dragons to Chinese culture, the background to the Great Wall of China and investigating the wide range of inventions originating from China.

There were 'Ripples in the Pond' when we delved into pond environments as we investigated the survival of pond creatures, their reliance on the environment and our responsibility in protecting their habitats. KESAB guest speaker Steve Walker amazed the boys with his research on frogs leading them to undertake their own pond creature research, making use of our developing research skills, helped by Mrs Gilchrist. An excursion to the Urrbrae Wetlands opened our eyes to the minute creatures in pond environments as we examined them under microscopes. Once back at school, the boys worked in small groups to produce an informative and well presented pamphlet that highlighted the need to protect and preserve waterways. These pamphlets were displayed in various parts of the school.

In Term 4 it was time to 'Celebrate' as we embarked on our last unit for the year. Parent guest speakers shared their knowledge regarding cultural celebrations. A special emphasis was placed on the boys' own family celebrations. The boys were involved in the planning and preparations for our own end of year celebrations.

Our boys have now come to the end of their Junior Primary journey. We hope they will look back on this time with fond memories.

Year 2 Teachers*

Art mirrors life

This unit of inquiry has been quite unique and dynamic in the past and this year was no exception. The boys were exposed to a variety of art forms that opened up discussions about what art is and what form can it take. Through fortunate circumstances, we were able to view some fabulous fringe shows that encompassed the performance arts genre. We took a trip to the South Australian Art Gallery where we were provided with an experienced curator who guided us through pieces that were of huge interest to the boys. We also managed to secure a fantastic guest artist Mr David Kelly from the Adelaide Hills who came and spent time with the boys, talking about his work and answering their thoughtful questions. At the end of this unit, the boys were asked to inquire into the life and history of famous artists and present their research to the class. We were blown away with the diverse and fascinating information that related to artists from all over the world and at the level of knowledge that the boys had attained throughout the five weeks.

Year 3 Camp

This year we went on a two-night camp at the Woodhouse Activity Centre in the Piccadilly Valley. They engaged in some fantastic environmental research and reporting as well as attempting the physical obstacles, rope ladders and wooden tunnels on Challenge Hill. The boys took part in various activities such as bush cooking, mini Olympics, attack and defend and some exciting problem solving games. They also got up close and personal; with a baby crocodile, lizards, a baby bettong and a giant python just to name a few! Thanks to a brilliant wild life expert sharing his creatures with us. A night walk around the glorious campsite was a highlight for many with the boys exploring the sounds and delights that could only be found and heard after dark. After some initial trepidation during the first day, the boys quickly got into the camp spirit and had a fantastic time returning home with newfound maturity, responsibility and appreciation.

Chocolate

In term three the boys went crazy for our "chocolate" unit. They began by tasting and describing cacao beans, cocoa and dark, milk and white chocolates. Creative questions were posed about when it was discovered; how they made it and where did cacao beans grow. Together they researched interesting facts about the discovery of chocolate and created a time line to show some of these events. Next the boys decided to create their own chocolates with individual boxes. It begun with some market research, asking boys in lots of classes questions about their favourite flavours and chocolate wrapper designs. This information was used to design and create their chocolates and wrappers. Some had mint in them, some had cherry or apricots and some even had a mixture. The boys produced their boxes on the computers and by carefully folding and fastening, made them look like the real thing.

Cogs Gears Wheels and Axles

This year the unit changes focus as the boys explored and created the individual parts of many machines. They discovered what makes the machines useful and how simple ideas can develop into very useful machines. We were fortunate to have Mr Terry Stead come in and show some excellent models using recycled materials. The boys quickly turned tissue boxes into truck bodies with balloons as simple pneumatic lifters to tilt the trays. Levers were created to wind up loads on cranes and forklifts were also created. By the end of the term we had a series of wonderful machines displayed in our rooms.

Solar System

This year we introduced a new unit called "Spaced Out" looking at the Solar System and our place within it. Boys naturally have a huge fascination with all things "spacey" and it took a matter of minutes to establish that not only did the boys have incredible prior knowledge to start with but also there were many burning questions to be answered! The boys were given display folders that they used to fill with inquiry questions, which had been formulated by them. Over several weeks they independently researched using a variety of sources such as encyclopedias, reference books and the Internet and were very proud of their completed reference folders. The night walk on the camp, where they boys had a real opportunity to explore the galaxy, was a great highlight and complemented this unit well.

Julia Blethlyn

A fresh new start

Like all years we were all very excited about starting 2009.

We had new teachers, with new ideas and different methods of teaching and we also had the sprinkling of new boys who had just started their PAC journeys. It was a fresh beginning for all and we couldn't wait to get started.

Term 1

Throughout Term 1 we inquired into how humans misuse earth's natural resources in our unit titled 'Is The Planet Worth Saving?' We enjoyed researching, writing and making posters that showed our inquiry into humankind's abuse of natural resources such as water, oil and energy. Mr Nigel Staker from General Motors Holden visited our school and discussed what their company was doing to help improve their stance on global warming.

Visiting Teams from Clipsal 500

We went on a camp to Victor Harbor and stayed at the Toc H camp site. We were involved in a lot of beach games and aquatic activities. We wrote in our journals each day and visited such places as the Signal Point at Goolwa and Granite Island at night to see the Penguins. On our last day we went to Greenhill's Adventure Park before returning to P.A.C.

Term 2

For 'Invasion or Settlement' we went on two excursion to help us inquire into the question, was Australia invaded or settled by Europeans? We visited the Botanical Gardens, where our guide was a young Aboriginal man who showed how Aboriginal people traditionally used, looked after and relied on the environment. We also visited the Museum where a tour guide helped us discover many aspects of Aboriginal life.

As part of our Inquiry into 'Change Matters' we invited a scientist from the CSIRO to come and demonstrate and get the boys to join in some of the wonders of Science

Term 3

Inquiring into Poetry was how we started the second half of the year. Our unit was called 'Packing a Punch with Poetry' and we became powerful poets ourselves. We first read many different poems and became involved in many 'Poet's Theatre'. We recited poems in class and during assemblies. We used the computers to publish our own poems that went into our portfolios. We were also visited by poets/writers Pegge and Potter who took the boys through some writing of poetry sessions and then performed for the year 3 and 4 classes.

For our Program of Inquiry in the second part of the term we studied inventions in a unit titled 'Technological Times'. We looked into inventions from the past and present and researched into whether they have improved our lives. We used the library and the resource section with its encyclopedias to help our research.

We designed our own invention to make a simple everyday task easier to complete.

To make our term even busier we enjoyed other activities such as Grandies Day and Sports Day.

Term 4

In Term 4 we inquired into a new unit called 'Team'. Boys had many opportunities to talk to a variety of members in the community relating to teams. We participated in a speed questioning session where successful leaders in their specific fields were interviewed by the boys for three minutes. A bell rang and then they moved to the next guest. We also visited the South Australian Cricket Team (Redbacks) and enjoyed some fantastic discussions with players and officials.

2009 has been a great year because our teachers have managed to fit in a lot of fun things for us to do, while still finding the time to do more serious work. Everybody is excited about starting Year 5 and the challenges that await us there. We wish Mrs Tabytha Allan all the best as she goes on maternity leave next year and look forward to her return in 2011.

Year 3/4R

A Very Full Year!

Our first topic of investigation was 'Exploring' where we investigated two explorers and compared them in several forms as well as studying why they wanted to explore and what made them go. We also researched mechanical principals and we studied them at the Clipsal 500 to see mechanics in action. Maths always featured in our class learning about processes and formulas required to find a solution. The topic of Time was very interesting as it was able to be adapted to many topics. Some boys chose to look at time through speed whilst others chose to research about the Olympics. Drop and Bump'.

Throughout the year we had lots of fun investigating books from around the world. We put our own big book together with the research we had done throughout the term. We also investigated 'Leaving the Earth Behind' and went to two aviation museums and the Parafield Airport Control Tower, which were all fabulous. For the last 3 weeks of the term we started planning our production for our parents called 'Buildings and Birds'. As part of our class tradition we all did a Christmas cross stitch as a Christmas gift for our parents. We have all had a great year with many experiences and a lot more knowledge in a huge variety of subjects.

Anthony Rositano and Max Kirkby 3/4R

What a year we have had in Year 5! From the beginning in Term 1 through until the end of Term 4 our days were packed with many exciting activities and learning experiences.

Term 1

We welcomed Mrs Foster (formerly Ms Clemente) to the year 5 cohort and what an actioned packed introduction to life at Prince Alfred College.

We started our first unit of inquiry on advertising and looked at the persuasive nature of advertising. The boys were lucky enough to each receive a model car from Biante (sponsors of the Biante Touring Car Masters). As part of the unit, the boys were asked to design an ad campaign to sell the model cars. This included market research through the construction of a survey and designing a print ad to promote their product and ultimately sell to a target audience. During this unit we spent many hours in the computer lab learning how to use Photoshop to help make advertisements to promote our products. This proved to be a hit with the boys and was a wonderful way to kick off the year.

Other highlights in Term 1 were the father son camp, visit to the Clipsal 500 and the camp to Scott's Creek.

Term 2

We started Term 2 with our unit on energy. After investigating the different forms of energy the boys were asked to design a "mouse trap" to demonstrate their understanding of how energy is used in its various forms.

Following on from this was a unit investigating the global impact of energy production. We looked at the effects of global warming and things we can do to help preserve the planet for future generations. Both units culminated in a trip to the Pelican Point Power Station where the boys experienced first hand how electricity is made.

Our highlights in Term 2 were the visit to the power station and the science show.

Term 3

This was going to be a busy term. With just 9 weeks to fit everything in, the boys were going to have to work diligently to get everything completed — and they did.

We started the term with a unit on exploration and investigated the impact; both positive and negative, exploration has had on civilisations. The boys were asked to choose an explorer and investigate further into the motivation behind exploration and how people's lives have been affected as a result.

Our highlights in Term 3 were the student led conferences and the footy tipping competition.

Term 4

How much can we fit into 8 weeks? A lot we hope!

We started this term looking at Global Poverty and the issues associated with the impact of poverty on both individuals and populations. A huge hit with the boys was the "World Feast Game". In this simulated game, the boys were able to experience the global inequalities that exist between regions in food production and distribution. After investigating global poverty and its causes, the boys, in pairs, chose an aid organisation to research and ultimately present to their peers in a short presentation. The culmination of this unit saw the year 5's have a "Giant Sale" and all money raised was donated to Uniting Care Wesley to ultimately help people in need.

In what has been a very busy year, the year 5's can be very proud of their achievements and look forward to their final year in the preparatory school in 2010.

2009 has been a year that we will never forget.

Well done boys!

Josh Francou, Lisa Foster
Year 5 Teachers

2009 saw the beginning of the Middle School at Prince Alfred College, which meant that year the 6 boys, became the leaders of the Preparatory School midway through the year.

Not only have the boys been engaged in inquiring about a diverse range of topics, they have also participated in exchanges with girls' schools, House Sport and excursions to extraordinary places.

Term 1

The year sixes had a great start to the year, with an exciting inquiry topic all about Biomes and other fun activities. The new boys were welcomed into the Prince's community and everyone learnt new skills such as rock climbing at Vertical Reality. The acquisition of new skills continued to develop throughout the term culminating in a fantastic camp at Scott's Creek. All the boys learnt to play the web of life and even learnt how to fish. Some were better at it than others! The term for the boys was exciting and one of their favourites.

During the second term our year 6 team examined two units of inquiry. Our first unit 'Digging up the past' the boys examined where inventions and discoveries from the past came from. Our inquiries lead us to discover that all inventions from the past have been developed and superseded by another idea. We examined past civilisations and which inventions they contributed to today's society, an example one boy discovered is that Romans discovered the bikini.

Our second unit we inquired into how we govern ourselves, our main focus was to look into the different ways countries organise and govern themselves. We had a mock parliament, guest speakers and plenty of roll playing through out the unit. At the same time we managed to fit in a mother/son dinner as well as a trip to Annesley College.

Term 3

Completing two Programs of Inquiry in Term 3 resulted in a very busy term of activities and excursions for the Year 6 boys. Evolution was our focus on a visit to the South Australian Museum where the boys explored the various exhibits and asked numerous questions of our guide. On a second excursion we toured a number of religious places; the Zhulin Buddhist Temple at Pennington, the Islamic Arabic Centre and Mosque and St Peters Cathedral. On a fun morning in Rymill Park, the Year 6 boys were presented with the challenge of constructing 'milk carton boats' and the testing of these on the lake. Allied with this was 'The Great Race' where the boys, working in groups, had to race around Rymill Park, attending stations, completing set tasks and finding clues to solve a puzzle. Together with Book week, Grandies Day, Debating, Founders' Day, Arts Groups, Transition Day, Sports Day and the PAC Lodge Short Talk Competition, this was undoubtedly a very busy, challenging and rewarding term.

Term 4

Our unit of inquiry titled 'Conflict or Peace' has caught our interest in many ways. During this unit we have inquired into what is conflict and how can we promote peace. Another aspect to school life has been the year 6 captains organising the house sports. All the houses compete in extra curricular events, such as public speaking and debating, chess, tennis and cricket. All boys look forward to these events and competing against friends. We are all looking forward to the year 6 fair. This is a great event that builds on our leadership and organisational skills. At the end of this year our classes graduate to the middle school. All the year 6's are looking forward to our graduation. Though sad to leave the Preparatory School we are also excited about our next adventure here at Prince's.

Debating

It seems that our boys enjoy a good argument, as this year 45 boys from Years 5,6 and 7 participated in debating, comprising 6 B grade teams and 4 A grade. The boys were challenged by topics such as community service, laptops, corporal punishment and the ban on plastic bags, but their endeavours in preparation, teamwork and speaking were commendable and resulted in a high level of success throughout the season. The B team competition always finishes after four debates but the A4 team gained a place in the quarter finals and we wish the boys well as they compete against St Peters Woodlands. The efforts and commitment of the coaches, Ms Hart, Mrs Leeson, Mr Roller, Mr Sparks, Mr Pearce, Mrs Sathurayar, Mr Dunsmuir and Mr Behan are greatly valued and appreciated. Many thanks also to the parents for their support in transporting and attending debates.

Mrs Lynda Polain

B3 Debating

This years B3 debating team consisted of Maris Colton, Cameron Young, Harry Lyons and Hugo Chapman and Mr Roller our coach. We had four debates and our team won three. Maris Colton was a strong first speaker. Cameron Young did very well for a first year debater. He was one of the best second speakers in the team with strong arguments and delivery. Harry Lyons was very 'active' during the debates showing lots of different expressions and getting right to the point. Hugo Chapman was a solid third speaker who was outstanding when rebutting the opposition's arguments. He systematically destroyed the other side's case. We debated very well in all four debates. It was a great team to be part of.

Maris Colton 5/6P

Public Speaking / PAC Lodge Short Talk Competition

This year we trialled a different approach towards the boys' involvement in the Junior Orator Competition by incorporating the heats within the school day. Participation required the presentation of a three minute prepared speech and then a two minute impromptu speech, with only twenty minutes to prepare. Boys from Years 5 and 6 entertained the audience with a variety of speeches and their impromptus particularly were quite amazing given the boys had only twenty minutes to choose a topic then prepare a speech. Our boys again demonstrated an excellent capacity for understanding the correct protocol and speaking publicly to an audience ranging widely in age. Jack O'Brien was selected to present his speech in the Junior Orator semi-finals, competing against other Independent schools and he represented PAC well.

The PAC Lodge Short Talk Competition is an annual event and this year 13 boys elected to participate. This entailed presenting a prepared three minute speech then a two minute impromptu on one of three given topics. The standard was impressive and the speeches provided an entertaining evening for the large number of parents, family and Lodge members attending. It was especially pleasing that two PAC Old Scholars, Wesley Le Grand and Michael Healy and a current student, Joel Amos, were able to assist in adjudication. All boys received certificates but the winner and recipient of the PAC Lodge Short Talk Competition medallion was William Miller from Year 7.

2009 Preparatory School Sports Day

In the middle of a wild and wet week the Prep School sports day was held in reasonable conditions. There was great team spirit as boys participated in a slightly new format. This years novelty events were dispersed though the day to ensure active involvement by all boys more often.

Our Parents and Friends Association ensured everyone was well fed with an awesome BBQ and Subway lunch as well as lots of treats throughout the day.

Taylor finished victorious narrowly ahead of Cotton. Waterhouse demonstrated outstanding team spirit and were awarded the Spirit Cup.

- Under 8 Champion — Emmett Wildman (Taylor)
- Under 9 Champion — Sam Elliott (Waterhouse)
- Under 10 Champion — Max Meyer (Taylor)
Oscar Bernardi (Waterhouse)
- Under 11 Champion — Stuart Harris (Watsford)
- Under 12 Champion and Cox Trophy recipient for highest points scorer in Year 6 — Andreja Lalic (Cotton)

Preparatory School Visual Arts

The Preparatory School students have had a busy and exciting year in Visual Arts in 2009. It has been a pleasure to see boys of all ages designing, planning, problem solving and creating within Art lessons. The students of PAC are very creative and always willing to give things a go.

One of the highlights of this year was donating eight large canvases to the Women's and Children's hospital to brighten up the wards and provide the children visiting with something colourful and interesting to look at. This was a joint SRC and Visual Arts project and every student in the Preparatory School participated in designing and painting the canvases. They were absolutely beautiful artworks and the boys should be very proud of their efforts. A group of SRC students traveled to the hospital to deliver the canvases and the recipients were delighted with their gift and extremely grateful.

Book Week provided a wonderful opportunity to create artworks relating to and in response to stories. Each class designed and created a range of works that together formed a striking display in the library foyer.

The Junior Primary students created extraordinary artworks for the Grandies Day Art Exhibition which was enjoyed by all who attended.

The Jack de Vidas Art Exhibition this year was a great success. Every student had a piece of work on display in the John Dunning Building and together they were a stunning exhibit of their hard work and creativity throughout the year. Congratulations to Edward Hanneman who won the Jack de Vidas Prize.

Over the year the students have participated in a number of Art Competitions and events. Congratulations to all students for your efforts, imagination and creativity in Visual Arts for 2009.

Oliphant Science Awards

Science has provided the knowledge, understanding, inventions and solutions that allow us to live as we do today and face the exciting and significant challenges of the future. Logic and the law of averages say that some of our Prince Alfred men will be part of the science community that leads the way.

Judging by the results this year in the Oliphant Science Awards, we may have a disproportionately high contribution to scientific endeavours! Six individuals and one group of three boys were honoured with awards, enriching the excellent results of recent years. Remarkably, Patrick Gayen received first place for the Experiments category for the second successive year with another brilliantly conceived and conducted experiment of his own creation. Max Kirkby was also a place getter again in the Computer Applications category demonstrating his ability to conceive and manipulate computerized robotics.

Matthew and James Jezukaitis have nailed the formula and process to create crystals as both again were awarded highly this year. William Miller and Thomas Johnson both produced award-winning entries of exceptional quality in the Essay and Games categories respectively.

Andrew Thomson, Lucas DeGaris and Samuel Jackson created an outstanding geothermal model demonstrating its origin, extraction and energy producing ability. It was awarded the Australian Institute of Energy and ETSA Utilities sponsor prize for the best entry at Years 6 and 7 with a 'sustainable generation and uses of energy' theme.

The quality of every single entry submitted by our students was again extremely high, representing themselves and the school superbly. Each and every entrant could feel very proud of his time, effort, creativity and perseverance.

Year 5 Red Cricket

In Term 1 the Year 5 Red team played in the Friday afternoon modified competition. This gave the boys an opportunity to develop skills and gain experience batting, bowling and fielding in a variety of positions. These proved invaluable when, in Term 4, Year 5 Red joined the Saturday competition. The boys played well together, continuing to develop accurate and effective bowling, and improved batting and fielding techniques. I was especially impressed by the encouragement and support that the boys showed each other each week, and the sportsmanship displayed both on and off the pitch. Thank you to Mr Weller and Mr Ward for coaching the boys and to all the parents for their support throughout the season.

on their skills of batting, pace bowling and fielding. The coach, Mr. Malcolm Ashwood has worked hard with the boys at trainings. He has concentrated on providing a fun and safe environment to practice and play cricket. The boys' basic skills have been enhanced and they should all be proud of this achievement.

Year 7A Cricket

Coach: Mr Chad Parish/ Mr Andrew Stace

Body: The PAC 7A Cricket Team had some mixed results throughout the season. With two strong wins to start the season against Rostrevor and Pembroke the boys lost a winnable game against St Michael's after a good start to the batting followed by a quick collapse. In the next match against St Peters the boys were outperformed and lost the game by quite a margin. Following the winter break the boys came out firing with a thumping 211 run win over Immanuel College at home.

A big thankyou to all the parents who helped out and supported the boys throughout the season.

Year 7B Cricket

Coach: Mr Andrew Stace

The PAC 7B Cricket team had a very successful first half to the season, winning every game they played. All boys in the team contributed well with both the bat and the ball and team morale was high all season. The highlights were a close 14 run win against Rostrevor and a thumping win over our old rivals St Peters, by 62 runs. Our team consisted of 13 players who each contributed to our season. We had a strong team performance each week due to players training hard and trying their hardest to win. It was great to watch the teamwork and skills develop as the season progressed.

A big thankyou to all the parents who helped out and supported the boys throughout the season.

It has been a brilliant and very solid year for 7B cricket. Most of the team had played cricket previously, but we welcomed a few new players. It was evident that our team would pick each other up when we were down and encourage each other when doing well. We didn't once doubt that we could slog every bowler and bowl every

Year 6/7 Softball

This year was our second year of involvement in an interschool softball competition. Many of the team had been in our inaugural softball side which placed us in a good position in terms of knowledge, understanding and skills. Each week the boys have improved and strategy is now becoming an element of our game. We have been lucky enough to have a couple of year 11 boys assist with umpiring and encouragement and this has been greatly appreciated. Well done to all the boys and congratulations on their teamwork and effort.

This tennis season proved to be a challenging but highly enjoyable one for the 6B Gold Tennis Team.

The team displayed considerable determination to play their best on all occasions even against the toughest opposition. The results of each match were variable but steady improvement of skill level and of tactical knowledge were evident as the season progressed.

As a team, the boys were extremely supportive of each other and courteous towards their opponents, offering congratulations for skilful play.

Thank you to our parents for their continual enthusiastic and positive support throughout the season.

Year 6 Red Tennis A1 / A2

Tennis season 2009 has been another successful year with the boys coming across some great teams and enduring some fantastic tennis matches. In the last two terms the standard of play was quite even with PAC winning against many of the schools. Several boys have benefited from playing club tennis outside of school, which has enhanced solid groundstrokes on the court. Great teamwork has been the key and admirable sportsmanship from all the boys was evident. The boys' commitment to their tennis and the etiquette shown has been a pleasure to watch. Many were prepared to play additional matches if required or assist with scoring which was incredibly helpful. Their parents' encouragement and enthusiasm from the sidelines has also been much appreciated.

House Swimming Carnival

This year's swimming carnival was held on Friday February 27th during Term 1. In perfect conditions the boys all enjoyed it when they got the chance to get into the pool and compete for their houses. In a close contest all day the eventual winner of the Gramp Cup as the winning house was Watsford. Cotton was the winner of the Spirit cup. Congratulations go to all boys who competed, with special mention to the age group champions and Aaron Gwinnett who won the Cox trophy as the best Year 7 swimmer. Thank you to all staff, parents and friends who made it such an enjoyable day.

Year 2/3 Basketball

PAC White was formed at the end of Term 3 2008 and continued playing throughout 2009. Some new boys with little experience in the game joined us, as others left to join the Year 4 competition. Term 1 saw mixed results, with Term 2 showing that we were developing as a highly skilled team with great team work. As the boys confidence grew, Term 3 and 4 continued with huge success. The most memorable moments were certainly the way they passed the ball to each other, and the effort they boys put in to ensure most boys scored in every game. They also showed huge compassion to other teams who had not scored against us, often passing the ball to them in the closing minutes to allow them to have some ball time and the opportunity to score. These acts of sportsmanship placed PAC White second on the ladder by percentage points. The Grand Final was an exciting, fast paced game with an 8- 8 draw.

Year 4/5 Red Basketball

In term 1 we had a team that worked together and always put in their best effort. We also taught each other new things like how to shoot, pass and dribble. The winter season's team was very cooperative and improved at moving the ball down the court as the season went on. This good attack and a tight defence allowed us to win our Grand final. When our summer team got back together again we discussed some new tactics and improved greatly. We are also learning to share the ball more. Mr Roller helped us analyse the opponents' tactics. Everyone thanks him for his coaching.

Fox Crowley 5/6P

Year 4/5 White Basketball

Our summer team was not as advanced as the other teams as our team was completely new and we weren't able to communicate as well as other sides. Later on in the term we played our grand final, which we won. In the winter season we had different people and this affected our game play. We won many games because everyone put in effort. When it came to the end of the season, we won the grand final again. We are currently playing the new summer season and we are playing well. Thank you to Mr. Collins for his coaching and Mr. Roller for training us.

Year 4 Football

A team focused on a group of boys who were more than happy to do the team thing – to play out of position and to try various roles within team to help balance our experienced and less experienced players.

A year four team playing in a year four / five competition saw the boys physically disadvantaged though at all time during the year the boys gave their all and never stopped trying.

Overall we played 10 games we had 4 wins and 5 loses, with 1 drawn game. The highlight of the season was our 19 point win over St Peters during the intercol, where we came from behind and overran the blue boys.

I'd like to thank the Parents and Grandparents who supported the team throughout the season.

Year 5 Football

The year five football team had a very productive season with many wonderful wins throughout terms 2 and 3. It was pleasing to see the development of the skills of the boys but more importantly the ability of the group to work as a team game day. The group was always willing to listen and try new things and there were never any complaints.

With a large contingent of year 5's playing football this year, it meant that 4 boys had to be rotated each week through the year 4 side. This allowed everyone to spend more time on the ground rather than sitting on the bench. The football season culminated in a magnificent win against St Peters in the final game. Although the match was tight until three quarter time, PAC dug deep to finish strongly and take the points.

I must thank all of the parents for their wonderful support of both myself and their boys throughout the season and also the willingness to help with goal umpiring and time keeping. A special mention must go to Peter Stam for his help each week with the match-up board.

Well done boys!

Year 6A Soccer

The 2009 soccer season was extremely successful for the year 6 boys. We had a wonderful coach who worked the boys hard during training and got them working as a cohesive team. The boys skills developed markedly throughout the season, which culminated in an emphatic victory to conclude the season.

Congratulations to all boys who play with great enthusiasm and team spirit.

The boys put in an outstanding effort during the 2009 soccer season. They worked tremendously well as a team, encouraging each other and showing fantastic sportsmanship. It was a pleasure to watch the boys build upon their skills and support one another during training sessions and games. They worked hard during matches and won a few games against some really tough competition. It was great to see the boys maintain high spirits during games in which they were defeated, congratulating the other team and reflecting on improvements for the next match. Thank you to Con Karykis for being an excellent coach and devoting his time to training and matches.

Year 4/5 Table Tennis

It has been a pleasure coaching the Year 4/5 table tennis team in 2009. This year was the first time that these boys played competitively against other schools. For many of them it was also the first time that they had ever played table tennis! They needed to acquire not only the skills to play but also to score appropriately in a very short amount of time which was no easy feat. I was incredibly proud and impressed to see the level of improvement as the two terms progressed. The boys were usually up against boys who were several years older and so faced some tough competition. At no stage did any of the boys exhibit anything but brilliant determination and sportsmanship. It was wonderful to see the satisfied looks on the boys' faces as they began to win points and secure matches and I look forward to seeing what they are capable of in 2010.

Ms Julia Blethyn

The boys improved their skills through several competitive games. They demonstrated their sportsmanship during each game. They boys should be congratulated for their team work and skill improvement.

Year 7 Table Tennis

This was a brilliant year for the Year 7 Table Tennis Team. For many of us this was our first time playing Table Tennis, but what a performance we had. There were only a few schools involved in this competition, which made it easy to see the dramatic improvement we made over the season. When we started we were short on numbers and losing most matches, but by the end we were fighting harder than ever and beating teams we hadn't dreamt to defeat. It was a real show of character and true PAC spirit! Thank you very much to the supportive and encouraging Ms. Hodges, who helped and guided us to victory. Well done to all the boys who contributed and we look forward to another successful season next year.

Perisher Ski Trip

This trip would be my first time in the snow. After we got settled I had my first snowboarding lesson. After a day and a half of snowboarding I decided it was not for me and I changed to skiing. I thought it would be hard to change but with the help of Mr McLaughlin and Mr Cross I quickly picked up the skills of skiing. The last days of the trip were really fun and I want to go next year.

Will Fryer Yr 9

I knew it was going to be a good trip. My first experience in snowboarding was enjoyable and the ski instructors at Perisher were helpful. The accommodation was comfortable and the food was good and I had a great time. I would do it again (except without my parents).

Isuru Dissanayake Yr 7

I have never seen anything like it. The terrain was beautiful and jaw-dropping. The sight left me stunned. This feeling remained the same for the next couple of days. It was so cold outside. Not only had the teachers shown kindness and respect, the ski instructors had also been kind and most patient with us. It was a remarkable experience for me and I dearly hope that I will have the opportunity to return to Perisher for another unforgettable experience.

Jeffrey Voon Yr 11 International Boarder

We all noticed that it wasn't nearly as hard to get up to make this bus in time as it is when the bus is taking you to school. There was heaps of snow with all of the lifts and runs open for the whole week. We had some free time in the morning then lessons. Some on the group had never skied before while others were in the advanced class. The instructors were pretty mad and showed us lots of jumps and black runs. Overall it was a great school ski trip and we are definitely considering going again next year.

Andrew Romano and Henry Olsson Yr 10

A group of 7 Seymour Year 10's joined the PAC Ski Trip to Perisher. We took lessons and it wasn't long before we were all able to go skiing and snowboarding together and explore the different slopes. We were lucky with the weather and there was plenty of snow. The nightly entertainment included endless card games, watching live performances at the lodge and having snow fights. As a group we bonded so well and we have made friends for life and are left with many great memories.

Japan Ski Trip

After spending 3 days in Tokyo we then travelled to Nagano and then to Hakuba, where the Olympic Games were held in 1998. We visited two different mountains during our stay; one was Happo One and the other was Goryu/Hakbua 47.

Our hotel had an "onsen" — traditional Japanese bathing and hot springs. We also ate mostly Japanese food.

After skiing for six days, it was time to go home; though I didn't really want to leave.

Erin McLaughlin

The trip was a tremendous success. We felt comfortable and relaxed. The ability for the children to mix with other children and ski together made each day interesting.

We were treated to a great range of scenery and tremendous snow conditions. The snow monkeys have to be one of the world's most spectacular close up and personal wild animal experiences still available. You can literally stand next to a wild monkey who is lying in a hot spa like a well-heeled tourist getting his money's worth and snap his photo. An experience, hard to top anywhere in the world.

Thanks to all the organisers who made this a trouble free and interesting trip culturally, physically & scenically.

The Hailstone Family (Jimmy Yr 6)

Travelling on the PAC Ski trip to Japan gave everyone a kaleidoscope of experiences from the modern high tech Tokyo, to trying traditional Japanese food, experiencing hot spring baths, visiting an age old temple and amazing skiing in fresh powder snow. Skiing Japan is so much more than just a ski trip! Nagano has previously hosted the Winter Olympics; the slopes are long and varied offering skiing for everyone's ability; suitable for both skiers and snowboarders. Japan is a very safe destination and the participants were able to try a large variety of ski trails in Hakuba which offers modern facilities and 200 plus runs. Everyone who took part in the trip thoroughly enjoyed themselves and it was an outstanding success.

Middle School

Mr Peter Karamoshos

Although steeped in 140 years of history and tradition, Prince Alfred College is a dynamic institution, which is continually evolving in its quest to develop well rounded young men.

The search for programs and organizational structures to best assist students is an exciting, ongoing process and one that continues to be embraced by the leaders of the school.

This year has seen a significant change in the school composition of Prince Alfred College as it moved from a two school Preparatory and Secondary School model, to a three school Preparatory, Middle and Senior School system. This has been a brave decision, with significant resourcing implications, but one made for all the right reasons.

From a Middle School perspective, we are now able to provide a specific focus for boys in their middle years. Students in Years 7, 8 and 9 are too mature for a primary school educational style but are not always ready for the independent approach demanded of senior students. Research shows that a specific approach is required for students at this stage of their schooling; we are now in a position to provide a comprehensive program that best suits them.

Developing a sense of identity and community in our new Middle School has been a major focus during the course of its first year. Beau Muzik, the Deputy of the Middle School, has been instrumental in defining student expectations with regard to personal and academic outcomes. He has worked with students and staff in delivering a Pastoral Care Program, which supports boys, while also helping them gain independence in preparation for their senior studies. Sean Behan, the Dean of Studies in the Middle School, has guided curriculum leaders and teaching staff in developing an approach to teaching and learning which best supports boys of this age.

The Year Level Coordinators have played an important role in developing and promoting a sense of unity. I appreciate the commitment of Melissa Brister with Year 7, Paul Balestrin with Year 8 and Martin McKinnon and David de Lacy with the Year 9 students; each has assisted greatly in the broader development of our boys. Megan McLaughlin also deserves recognition for her tireless administrative support of all staff in the Middle School and of me in particular.

The creation of a Middle School student leadership structure has further reinforced our sense of identity. James Keeves was selected as the first Middle School Captain and presented himself as a fine role model to his peers at all times. He carried out his duties in a calm and mature manner, and was a worthy representative of the student body. James was ably supported by his Vice Captain, Matthew Brown, who voiced creative ideas for enhancing harmony within the Middle School. The Student Representative Council, comprising one boy from each Pastoral Care Group, collaborated with the Director of Student Life, Mr. Stephen Clohesy, in discussing and acting on issues presented to them by their classmates. The final tier of the student leadership body saw two Year 9 boys from each house become House Captains. These boys undertook the responsibility of promoting house spirit and coordinating inter-house activities: athletics and swimming among others. It was done with purpose and gusto.

Curriculum leaders have also been very supportive of the implementation of the Middle School. It has required them to refine their teaching programs to better incorporate effective middle schooling teaching practices. I also thank them in anticipation for their role in implementing the International Baccalaureate Middle Years Program. The MYP is a comprehensive curriculum framework with an international perspective. By design it is rigorous and will ensure students receive more meaningful feedback from assessment tasks. It will be of great benefit to our students.

The Assembly Hall being out of commission for the latter half of the year has resulted in many of our assemblies being held in the Wesley Uniting Church in Kent Town. This has provided a wonderful opportunity for the school and its students to reconnect with this magnificent church, a place of great importance in the history of the school. I thank Reverend Chris Harkness for welcoming us so graciously.

The transition of the Year 7 students and staff across the oval to their new locations was an exercise in logistics. Credit must go to the Year 7 teachers, Melissa Brister, Amelia De Bondi and Andrew Stace for coordinating the relocation of desks, chairs and resources in preparation for a new start at the beginning of Semester 2. Peter Hughes and his property services team also played an important role and should be acknowledged for their contribution.

I was delighted with the contribution and enthusiasm of the Year 8's this year. A significant number of new boys joined the cohort and were welcomed warmly. All students embraced their new learning environment, gaining an appreciation of the importance of organizational skills and structure to academic performance. The Goolwa camp at the start of the year provided an opportunity for all Year 8 boys to bond, while the Scott's Creek experience reinforced relationships and the importance of supporting others.

The Personal Success Project display evening was one of the highlights of the Year 7 calendar. The projects on offer were of the highest calibre and reflected the boys' dedication and their desire to achieve to the best of their ability. In November I was fortunate to join the Year 7's on their Canberra trip. While we were privileged to attend a number of significant national sites, a personal highlight was the visit to the War Memorial. Four of our students laid a wreath at the grave of the Unknown Soldier; we were all struck by the significance of the occasion. Our students were lucky to have General Major Steven Gower, the director of the War Memorial and a Princes old scholar, present us with a brief history of the centre.

The level of engagement by the Year 9 students in the Extended Stay Program at Point Turton and in their Personal Best Projects was a demonstration of the independence they have developed over the course of the year. I was privileged to attend each of the presentations given by returning Extended Stay students in the Chapel and the impressive responses from these young men reinforced the value of this program. Without exception, each boy had become more aware of his strengths and weaknesses, gained an appreciation of others in the group and understood the need to constantly strive for personal betterment. These boys appear to be mature, thoughtful and well prepared personally and academically to face the challenges of senior schooling.

I would like to extend a sincere thank you a number of staff whose work in a wide range of fields directly supports the students. Dale Hobbs and his team at Point Turton have created a unique learning experience for our students and should be congratulated. Phil Noble and his team at Scotts Creek provide all boys in Years 7 and 8 with important environmental education in an outdoor setting; this program continues to be extremely popular and valuable. Housekeeping, grounds, property services, and the kitchen staff continue to make a valuable contribution to the smooth running of our institution and have all had a positive impact on the tone of the school. I would also like to acknowledge the marketing, finance and enrollment sectors of the school for their professional approach.

This has been a wonderful first year for the Middle School. The strong leadership team and the dedicated teaching staff have created a vibrant learning environment and I thank the Princes community for their unconditional support during the year.

Mr Sean Behan

Middle School

With the initiation of a new Middle School and the unveiling of plans to progressively implement the International Baccalaureate Middle Years Programme (MYP), 2009 has marked something of an era of change for Prince Alfred College.

At the end of the first semester this year students in Year 7 transferred over from the Preparatory School to the Memorial area, meaning that boys in Years 7, 8 and 9 now share a more close-knit, middle years dedicated teaching and learning space. The benefits of developing a Middle School are numerous and there has been a growing sense throughout 2009 that we now have an even more ideal environment in which to further raise academic achievement and nurture the emotional and social growth of our boys at this key juncture of their lives.

An extensive search for the best possible Curriculum framework to compliment the aims and ethos of our Middle School and a feasibility study of the MYP took place in the first half of 2009. This culminated in approval, at the September meeting of Council, for the programme to be gradually introduced over the next few years. A wide range of existing MYP schools were consulted, including schools in South Australia, Western Australia, Queensland, New South Wales and much further afield in Singapore and Germany. By the time the feasibility study was complete there were very clear signs that the MYP had much to offer. Delivered within eight subjects and united through five areas of interaction, it provides opportunities for our boys "to participate in their learning actively and responsibly in a changing and increasingly interrelated world." Criterion based assessment structures give students clear guidance early on and encourage them to be proactive in their quest for knowledge and understanding. Furthermore, the network of collegiality and scope of professional development offered to staff is second to none.

It has been very pleasing to note that 2009 marked a year of significant achievement in the area of Mathematics in the middle years and a glimpse of things to come could be gleaned from performance in significant competitions. The Australian Mathematics Competition holds the impressive title of being the world's largest mathematics competition. Over half a million participants from over forty countries took part this year and were thoroughly tested across a wide range of mathematical aptitudes, from basic numeracy skills through to advanced problem solving. In the middle years (Junior and Intermediate categories) there were firm signs of excellence with particular congratulations going to Sean Liew and Danyon White in Year 8 and Tien Chen in Year 9 who were awarded High Distinctions this year, placing them in the top 1% of entrants. An impressive forty five boys achieved Distinctions across the Middle School placing them in the top 10% of entrants.

In the South Australian Mathematics Competition, Trevor Adelson (Year 8) and Tien Chen (Year 9) gained High Distinctions, with Tien obtaining an overall tenth place amongst all entrants — a fantastic achievement.

This year has seen continuation of pleasing results in the University of New South Wales run International Competitions and Assessments for Schools (ICAS) Science category with 27.5% of boys in Years 8 and 9 combined achieving results in the top 10% nationally. The ICAS Science paper is intended to assess student capacity to observe, measure, interpret, infer, predict, conclude, investigate, reason and problem-solve. There were nine High Distinctions awarded to Middle School boys; Trevor Adelson, Phillip Craig, Daniel Elix, Angus Gmeinder, Anthony Lai, Jared Blayne Vanmali being recipients in Year 8 alongside Logan Mahadeva, Alex Mansell and Maxim Vasileff in Year 9.

The outstanding literature produced in the 2009 edition of Red Leaves includes original pieces of work from many boys in the middle years with well over thirty pieces of creative work being successfully published. It is incredibly difficult to identify the most stunning submission with the calibre being so high.

The Independent Primary School Heads of Australia (IPSHA) Poetry Recital Competition took place in early September and Chris Skrembos and William Miller represented PAC at Year 7 level. Both boys performed wonderfully well, with William Miller managing to obtain second place in his overall category. During a later demonstration recital at a Middle School assembly, William captivated the audience and gave a true indication of the level of skill involved in memorising such a lengthy and detailed poem.

Finally, the National Geographic Channel Australian Geography Competition attracted around eighty seven thousand entrants this year and a strong PAC contingent were rewarded for their significant efforts. There were twelve High Distinction winners in Years 8 and 9. Congratulations go to Francis Kette, Gavin Meredith, David Mun, Thomas Russell, Maxim Vasileff, Thomas Lyons, Max Bevan, Sam Cox, Thomas Burfiled, Ashley Fitch, James Keeves and Brodie Dobson-Keeffe.

As we enter 2010 with a new Middle School firmly in place at Prince Alfred College and a world class Curriculum supporting its foundations, it is exciting to imagine what the future will hold. Particularly when we reflect upon the academic successes of 2009.

Sean Behan

Poetry! In a boys' school!

As incongruous as the idea of students in a boys' school writing poetry may seem, this year Prince Alfred College celebrates the publication of the fifth edition of 'Red Leaves', a prestigious publication of the creative writing of boys within the school.

In 2005 the English Department revived the idea of a journal of imaginative writing and from that rebirth has come a string of successful journals, each one different in many ways from the one before and each one better than its predecessor.

This year's edition features poetry and prose from the Preparatory School right through to our current Year 12 students. While much of the writing has its beginnings within the classroom, a sizable proportion comes from the boys' own desire to write and to be read.

We are also pleased to publish, in conjunction with the secondary Art Department, a selection of Art work as well as a selection of photographs taken by boys either as a private creative venture or as part of classes.

As a sample of the talent pool in this year's edition we have included a poem by Year 12 student Alistair Young who occupies a position unique in the history of 'Red Leaves': Alistair is the only student to be published in all five editions to date.

Broken Wind Chimes

Grey morning after morning
The lone soldier on the platform
Sweeps the tinkling glass shards
An unwritten, unkeyed melody
But to the still 6am air
Like broken wind chimes
To the aching heart
The broken soul charged
With memory
the innocent eyes of a young boy
Capture the old man in intrigue, Studying the grey hair,
the weathered eyes, resting finally
On the dusty medals pinned to his faded jacket
"What are those for?"
his wounded eyes silently reply,
"For friends..."
Curled on the station bench his bunker for the night the trains explode like shrapnel through his fragile heart the 6 am train greet his hopeful eyes mourning after mourning, he waits for her in the still air.
the girl with the dark eyes steps off the train, pauses her beauty in the dull light reminds him of his wife the lost years in those dark eyes — from the darkness
a broken soul lunges, her scream the shrapnel in his heart.
he runs at the green blade unconcerned with the loss of life to release the loss of her the grey he's swept for 30 years stained red with sacrifice, and as he fades from this grey life, reflected in the medals on his chest those true dark eyes in mourning of the love he barely met.

James Keeves
Middle School Captain

2009 began as a year that would be remembered as a defining point in the history of PAC.

The first half of the year was a time of transition from the traditional Preparatory and Senior School model to the inauguration of the three-school model, the Preparatory, newly introduced Middle School, and the Senior school.

At first, many were sceptical about how this new and comprehensive idea would shape out. Although settling into the three school model was difficult at first, it was made easier in the middle school by the hard work of Mr Karamoshos, Mr Muzik, Mr Behan and Pastoral Care Teachers. Of course, as the senior school had traditionally been made up of years eight to twelve, and the middle school being comprised of years seven, eight and nine, the year sevens would have to make the move from the Preparatory school to the Senior school. This was daunting and perhaps frightening for some, and involved careful planning and gradual exposure to many different aspects of the senior school for the year sevens.

The year seven graduation at the end of semester one marked a significant point in the establishment of the middle school. From this point on, attention could be turned to promoting a sense of community in the middle school.

And by no means were the year sevens alone in experiencing change: the year eights and nines were introduced to a number of new procedures, including Middle school assemblies, pastoral care lessons, (with varying focuses throughout the year), chapel at the Kent Town Uniting Church and year level meetings, all of which played their part in establishing a sense of community. Being a year nine, there was a major focus on leadership and acting as role models for younger years. I'm sure I'm not alone in believing that this maturity and guidance was more than satisfactorily achieved by the end of the year.

One of the many challenges faced in the middle school was the Personal Best Project, undertaken by the Year Nines. This lasted effectively from the start of Term 1 to Term 4, and involved each student choosing a topic that interested them, carrying out what they had planned and presenting it at the graduation night. It has been very interesting hearing about some of the many outcomes, ranging from go karts to baseball nets, and has been an extremely busy time as assessment and presentation draws near.

Another one of the (and perhaps the biggest) challenges faced in the middle school is the Extended Stay Program. Lasting for four weeks, the camp is located at Point Turton and offers the chance for boys to experience and take part in a wide variety of activities, such as kayaking and surfing. The camp also entails living in a "Wardli" or a dormitory, with 6 other boys, and cleaning, cooking and facing numerous challenges with them. Personally, this experience was a highlight for the year, as I'm sure it was for many others, and although a month sounds like a very long time to be away from home, many were disappointed that the program did not last longer. Every Year Nine came away from their time at Point Turton, with great memories and also skills they will keep with them for life.

Finally, I would like to give special mention and thanks to several people who have made my job as Captain of the Middle school not only easier, but extremely enjoyable. Firstly, to Mr Muzik and Reverend Dickens who have helped in organising and managing all aspects of the middle school, from assemblies to chapel services and always happy to give advice and assistance. Secondly, to my vice-captain Matt Brown, for all his support and making my time as captain even more enjoyable. Finally, my biggest thankyou goes to Mr Karamoshos. His dedication to establishing the middle school has been astonishing, as has his willingness to help Matt and me through the past two terms. His advice, encouragement and support cannot be sufficiently acknowledged and I thank him very much.

As the end of 2009 draws near, bringing exams and a much-needed holiday, it is time to reflect on an amazing, action-packed, exciting year.

James Keeves

For Year 7's, 2009 has been a jam packed year, especially with the big move at the end of Term 2 over to the Middle School.

The boys embraced this change and settled in with ease due to their mature and responsible approach towards the transition. We were warmly welcomed by the Middle and Senior Schools. A BBQ was held at the end of Term 2 for the Year 7 boys and staff as a way to bond all the students in the Middle School.. The Year 8 and 9 students supported us by offering assistance and answering a million and one questions.

The boys have really enjoyed being a part of the Middle School. The new environment, friendships and customised approach to their learning has engaged and encouraged the boys to take risks, aspire to new challenges and accomplish goals with the support of their teachers, parents and peers. They feel better prepared for the coming years and are ready to embrace the new journey which lay ahead of them.

The camp at Scotts Creek was a very exciting time for our boys. The secluded and tranquil surroundings enabled the boys and their teacher to develop strong and positive relationships while also learning more about themselves as individuals.

They participated in many activities such as studying the ecology of the Mallee and wetland environments; developing their skills in canoeing, navigation and camp craft; rock climbing on the indoor climbing wall; orienteering in the Mallee scrub; flying across the river on the flying fox and; helping Scotts Creek to be a sustainable environment by building planting boxes to grow fruits and vegetables. The highlight of the camp was the night on expedition and waking up to the sound of birds chirping and the crisp morning air. The staff at Scotts Creek are highly skilled, providing activities which challenge the boys, and developing their confidence to step out of their comfort zones and take calculated risks. The staff made our camp an unforgettable experience.

A major highlight of the year was the Personal Success Projects which linked to our unit of inquiry 'Healthy Me, Healthy World'. The aim of the project was for the boys to identify something which helps to enrich our community, locally and globally. There were outstanding and interesting projects such recycling, the homeless and even the United Nations. The presentation night was a great success due to the boys' level of expertise about their chosen topic. They exceeded well beyond expectation and rose to the occasion by being pure gentlemen on the night; impressing parents, their teachers, other staff members and even themselves.

Canberra was an exciting part of the Year 7 curriculum linking to our unit of inquiry 'Rights and Responsibilities'. Seventy-three boys and ten teachers ventured off to out nation's capital on a six-day tour for what was an enriched adventure. This program contained a strong element of civics and citizenship education in knowledge, skills, values and dispositions of active and informed citizenship.

Christopher Short and William Miller present Steve Gower (1956–57) with a gift in appreciation of his hosting year 7 students over many years at the Australian War Memorial

We visited many places of interest including Parliament House, Old Parliament House, Government House, The National Gallery, Telstra Tower, CSIRO, Deep Space Centre, The Australian Electoral Commission, National Capital Exhibition, The National Dinosaur Museum, The Australian Institute of Sport and of course, the heart-rending Australian War Memorial. During the evenings the boys took part in many fun and stimulating activities at Questacon, Intency, Laser Games, MPower Dome and Cockington Green.

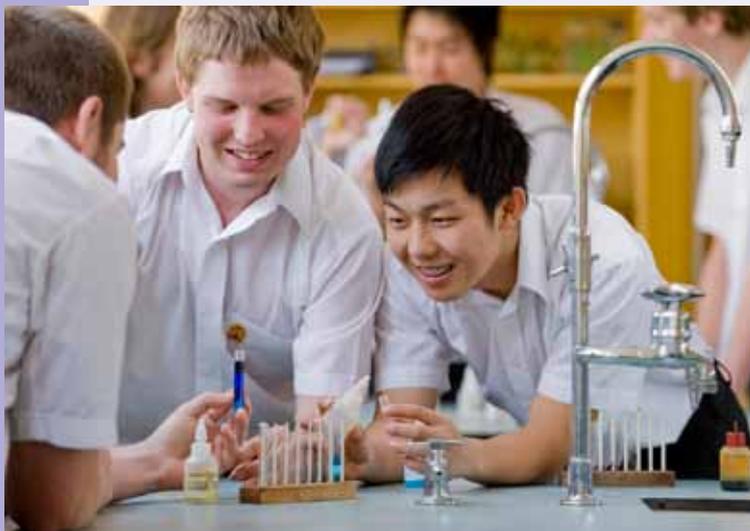

Our boys were a great credit to Prince Alfred College, showing outstanding manners and acting like real gentlemen. This was a wonderful trip which gave the boys a chance to experience some independence away from home whilst also experiencing significant learning about Australian citizenship. This was an experience they are sure to remember and be able to share with future generations.

2009 has been a year where new friendships have evolved, new beginnings have been embraced, risks have been taken and personal goals have been achieved. We have all learnt something new and different about ourselves and others.

It is difficult to articulate the speed of which 2009 has passed. It all began in the blistering heat of January.

Students entered the gate of PAC with a variety of emotions, from that of excitement to perhaps anxiety of what would come. The journey for some students; from around the world, around the country, the outback, the state, the city and from the preparatory school meant that new friendships were about to begin.

However, the thoughts and feelings of anxiety were soon deterred as they were guided to integrate into the life of a high school student. The boys soon learnt that shirts needed to be tucked in, hats were to be worn, and that organization is a MUST! As students were integrated into the daily routines of the school, opportunities of the co-curricular program, facilities and friendships meant that life at PAC would be the beginning of the most exciting and memorable experiences of their teenage years.

In the following weeks, students were soon exposed to the outdoor education program. The opportunity to venture forth from the rigors and hardships of academic life, were greatly appreciated. All students were to be under the guidance and experience of Phil Noble and the Scotts Creek team whereby beach cricket, body boarding and tenting were experienced. Friendships were strengthened and all had the opportunity to acquaint themselves with their PC teachers; even if that meant waking Mr. Abrantes at 6am for a run!

The next experience of the outdoors was of the strenuous camp at Scotts Creek. This was a first for many students to kayak and experience the rigors of camping. The arduous labor of kayaking to Scotts Creek was met with tenacity and endurance. This was yet another experience to bond with each other. Students were exposed to indoor rock climbing, the high ropes course and to the illustrious and final experience of Camp Krusty. Overall, students learnt to work as a team, and to overcome the heights and tasks of the High Ropes. But alas, the experience of the outdoor education program was to come to a close, and students had to once again, return to the infamous gates of Princes.

All pastoral care classes then fell into the routines of locker clean-ups, diary checks and assemblies. However, the boys would not have to wait long before the anticipated, and well-earned first term holidays. Alas, these were not to last long and once again, the boys entered the gates, armed with comments from parent teacher interviews, to continue their journey.

One of the significant aims of Princes is to engage and prepare boys with a holistic education. It is through the opportunities of our co-curricular programs which include cricket, hockey, tennis, soccer, squash, table tennis, athletics, badminton, basketball, rugby, football, soccer, swimming, debating, chess and water polo which showed some incredible talent and skill. This was emphasized through the majority of students who participated valiantly in the many competitions.

However, many students also participated in the highly prestigious and acclaimed Big Band program. These included the musical talents of Marc Webber, Paul Russo, Trevor Adelson, Mathew O'Brian and Angus Lawrence representing PAC at the Jazz festival in Mt. Gambier. The success and hard work of these boys is monumental and shows enormous passion and skill.

Overall, the year of 2009 has been an eventful experience for all year 8 boys at PAC. It has been a year whereby boys learnt new skills across a wide curriculum, met deadlines, and participated in a vast range co-curricular activity. What a busy year, and the boys leave the infamous gates of PAC, we hope that they made new friendships, learnt an immense amount of information and made new long lasting friendships; the journey to be a long lasting Princes man has begun. Good luck to all boys as the head into year 9 in 2010.

*Paulo Abrantes
Year 8 Teacher*

This year has been a year of change, challenge and transition for our Year 9 cohort and to their credit they have faced the year with cooperation, resilience and integrity.

Our year 9 boys have led the Middle School with aplomb. Under the exceptional leadership of Mr Martin McKinnon (Year Level Coordinator Term 1 and 2), Middle School Captain James Keeves and Vice Captain Matthew Brown, and with the dedicated support of the Pastoral Care Teachers, the boys have grown holistically. They have been presented with the pressure of being the first class to lead the Middle School, they have experienced what it means to be truly independent and to work as a member of a cohesive team through their time at Wambana for the Extended Stay and they have supported each other in their individual talents and endeavours.

The Pastoral Care that our boys receive is pivotal to their general well being and ultimately their development, enjoyment and success of their school years. We have been lucky to have tapped into a brilliant pastoral care program developed and implemented by Mr Troy McKinnon, which aims to develop the qualities that we see as being important in producing quality 'Princes Men'. The program, based on Integrity, Resilience, Respect and Courage has complimented the fine skills that our boys already possess, as well as encouraging them to strive toward being the very best they can be. I am sure that our Year 9 boys have experienced significant growth and an increased awareness of their own purpose and that of the community of which they are a part.

The year 9 lads are a talented bunch. We have witnessed musical genius, dramatic performances, sporting prowess, a keen eye for artistic expression, confident public speakers, boys who display academic excellence, those that have an exceptional work ethic and strive to be their best and amongst all, a large contingent of what we place a lot of importance on at year 9 in being 'a good bloke'. It has been a successful year.

It has been a pleasure to have worked with these boys this year. I am proud to have been associated with them and look forward to sharing in the celebration of their many successes as they move through the Senior School. I wish to congratulate to all year 9 boys on their graduation from the Middle School and thank you all sincerely for your input into the life of the school.

Year 9

Mr Dale Hobbs
Director Wambana

The scene is surprisingly similar. Every Year 9 class starts the same. Half the group struggle to contain their enthusiasm, leaning forward to soak up every piece of information. The other thirteen pairs of nonchalant eyes look toward the front of the classroom wondering what all the fuss is about. I worry about this half and ask if I can check for a pulse!

It's Monday morning lesson three, the start of the Wambana Transition Program. One week away from their greatest challenge (for most) thus far. I start by asking "What do you know about Wambana?"

"It's boot camp with a washing machine" yells one. Everybody laughs.

"Can I give you my version of Wambana?" I ask politely.

In an excited tone I share with the boys that "Wambana is life changing. It offers an integrated curriculum that develops personal and social skills beyond what is possible in the traditional mainstream school environment. It is about developing resilience and the ability to cope with many different situations and environments. You gain leadership skills, self-confidence and skills in social awareness".

"You mean Wambana is life!" states one student.

"Yes, four weeks of real independent life! This year you will cycle 150 kilometres over three days, live with five or six others in a Wardli, do all your own food shopping, keep a budget, cook your own meals, wash your own clothes, manage your water and energy consumption, learn how to resolve conflict, learn how to write with a pen, send letters home, realize how important your family is to you, find that inner strength, appreciate others for their differences, you will laugh, at times you may cry and that's fine, you will catch fish, burn your roast beef, make scones, keel over from exhaustion during the power training session, watch a sunset, ask yourself who you are, watch the clouds roll past, get dumped off a wave, make new friends, write poetry, be vigilant for the bog eel, learn about a small bird called the Hooded Plover, contribute to the local community, plant a tree or two, build a stone wall, sea kayak and read a novel!"

Now it's the end of 2009. Every boy in Year 9 has experienced Wambana. After reading their Blogs, a pattern emerges about Wambana, in particular, living in a Wardli. It is clear that boys love to cook. They also love the independence and enjoy making new friends and strengthening existing friendships. In contrast to their highs, there are equally as many challenges. Some of these challenges and frustrations include keeping their Wardli clean, mates eating with their mouth open, mates who do not pull their weight, remembering to use the washing machine, mates leaving the door open and letting flies in and spending a night, or two, in Hotel Hilton! (For those of you not familiar with this accommodation option, it is a night under the stars for those who become confused at the standards required for living in a Wardli!)

At the conclusion of the program, boys are asked what their greatest achievement was at Wambana. Three responses are regular highlights:

- The 11km Hardwicke Bay to Wambana beach run
- Cycle Tour of the Southern Yorke Peninsula
- Living with peers

In addition, boys are asked what their "most valuable lesson learnt" was at Wambana. The answer was always put simply...

"Realising what my parents do for me, especially my mum!"

Here are two comments to confirm this belief:

"Being at Wambana has certainly shown me how useless I am at home. Mum does almost everything for me and I would be lost without her. (Angus Crawford, 9Williams)"

"I now appreciate my parents a lot more because I know a lot about the work they do which I had no idea about before coming to Wambana." (Francis Kette, 9Russo)

Parents are invited to complete a survey of the Wambana experience on their son. One question relates to the benefits of the program that parents had not anticipated. Here is a selection of responses:

"He lets me hug him! He cleaned the toilet on the weekend without being asked, washed his own rowing gear, and thanked me for ironing his school uniform. He seems less interested in electronic games and television despite the long period of deprivation. He clearly enjoys quiet reflection and has spent more time quietly reading or lying on the trampoline with the dog."

"Our son has always been shy and lacked confidence socially. He definitely gained social confidence as a result of the ESP and we are thrilled to see this confidence grow within him."

"He is now far more accepting and tolerant of others who are not in his regular group of friends. He also has more confidence in his ability to do tasks such as cooking."

"We were pleased to see the development of an inner strength and belief in his ability to push past the self doubt and 'pain' to achieve beyond initial expectations. These were his proudest moments and ones we believe will hold him in good stead for the future no matter what direction he takes."

"My son is more aware of his surroundings in an environmental sense, in a domestic sense, and more aware of other people's feelings. I think he can handle some of the boys in his class better, and has made some great new friendships, and respect for boys he may otherwise have not got to know so well."

A strong focus of the Wambana program is to be active in our local region by contributing to it. The Southern Yorke Peninsula community are very proud of the contribution our boys make to their environment. Achievements in 2009 include:

- Significant coastal revegetation at Hardwicke Bay.
- Near completion of the stone wall entrance into Wambana.
- Removal of thousands of introduced Aleppo Pine seedlings along the roadside between Minlaton and Point Turton.
- The planting of nearly 2000 native seedlings to replace the removed Aleppo Pine.

Working collaboratively with members of the Yorke Peninsula Leisure Options Group to give support and encouragement to people with disabilities.

As I reflect back on 2009, I can't help but feel that Wambana has positively impacted on the lives of Year 9 boys, some significantly, and some in ways that will be realized in years to come. If this group of young men are the future of our nation, I feel very confident that we all have a very bright future ahead. I see it fitting to finish with a quote from one of our boys:

"Extended Stay [Wambana] was a fantastic experience, and I enjoyed it VERY much. I'm sure future students will love it and past students will reflect on it positively and always want to return!" (Fraser Goldsworthy, 9Williams)

Scotts Creek Field Centre

Outdoor Education for 2009 was once again a lively and busy time for boys at Prince Alfred College. Some new staff joined us for 2009; Chris Detmar took over as the Scotts Creek cook, Tim Maeder and old scholar Sam Mugford shared a Gap position at Scotts Creek with Sam going on to complete his kayaking qualification and returning later in the year as an instructor. The final new member was 'Maggie' the camp dog, a puppy of previous camp dog Tilley who now resides at Wambana.

Scotts Creek has applied for a number of grant applications looking at energy efficiency, water quality and the development of new programs for our students and the local community. This year we were lucky enough to win a $1100 Coles Landcare grant which our Year 7's put to good use building new vegetable boxes. In June, staff member, Belinda Beisiegel, was awarded the 2009 professional development award presented by the Australian Council of Educators for her work with preparatory programs at Prince Alfred College.

On the building front we saw the addition of some new climbing panels to the high ropes course and the completion of the jetty area with the new retaining wall being completed. The kind donation of bricks by Year 5 parent Rocco Iacopetta, saw the pathway from the dining hall to the dorms completed, which greatly improves access around the campsite. This year also saw the completion an additional classroom area as well as the new disabled access toilet and accommodation building.

We had a great start to the year with our Year 8 boys travelling down to Goolwa for their Pastoral Care program. Surfing, body boarding and beach cricket were again a huge hit during the hot days. Our kayaking basic skills session saw the boys practice their paddling and rescue skills ready for their Scotts Creek expedition later in the year.

The Year 4 program was once again dominated by beautiful weather and lots of fun. Body boarding and games at horseshoe bay, visiting the penguins on Granite Island and the exhilarating Greenshills Adventure Park at Victor Harbor were all highlights for the younger boys.

The Scotts Creek experience for Princes students begins with the ever popular Year 5 father & son weekend. This 'Simpsons' themed weekend saw boys and their dads work their way through a series of challenges, hoping to gain as many points as possible for their teams.

The Year 5 boys returned later in the term for their Outdoor Education program. Activities such as canoeing, orienteering, rock climbing and Aboriginal studies were all introduced to the boys. They produced some art work and took a journey around Scotts Creek, exploring the Aboriginal history of the local area.

The Year 6 boys experience at Scotts Creek included an overnight bushwalk into the Mallee scrub. Boys prepared in pairs, carrying their gear in packs, setting up camp and cooking dinner around the campfire. Boys also continued to work on their canoeing and orienteering skills as they progress through the extended courses and learn more about the web of life and water cycles.

Term 2 began with the Year 7 programs, highlighted by an overnight expedition down the Murray. While camping on the banks of the Murray the boys set up tents, prepared & cooked their own meals and enjoyed a cheesecake making competition around the campfire. Upon return to base the boys designed and built vegetable beds and planted out a collect of vegetables.

The Prince Alfred programs at Scotts Creek finish with the Year 8s embarking on a one and a half day kayaking expedition up the Murray followed by with two and a half days of climbing on the adventure high ropes course as well as team building activities. Boys paddled from the Roonka Scout Camp back to Scotts Creek covering over 30km.

Our Outdoor Education Program culminates with the Year 10 Peak Adventure program. This year boys participated in White Water Rafting, Scuba Diving, Surfing, Bushwalking, Rock Climbing, Kayaking, Kite Surfing and Cross Country Skiing across South Australia, Queensland and Victoria.

During Term 3 Scotts Creek hosted its first Family Day in over 10 years. Many people from both the local community and PAC extended community travelled up from rainy Adelaide to sunny, warm Morgan. The local community groups put on a fantastic lunch and displayed some of the history and attractions of the Murray River Region, while parents and students wandered around the grounds enjoying the activities on offer. Speeches from Geoff Bean, Kevin Tutt and Andrew Chapman highlighted the important role Scotts Creek has played and will continue to play in our boys' lives at Princes and concluded with the foundation announcement that the Annual Giving Campaign will go towards lining the dorms at Scotts Creek.

Term 4 saw our Year 3s travel to Woodhouse for their first outdoor education experience. The boys slept over for two nights and had plenty of opportunities to strengthen relationships and work together. Upon return to school on Friday night the Scotts Creek staff were straight back into it, with the Year 2 Sleepover and BBQ. This program is an opportunity for boys and parents to come along to school to meet the Scotts Creek staff, play some games and tent out with their sons.

Throughout all of our programs the support and hard work of our Year 11 students was once again a highlight.

We hope that your child has enjoyed their experience and is encouraged to enjoy the wonders of the natural environment again soon in a safe, sustainable way. From all of us here at Scotts Creek thank you and go enjoy the outdoors!

Mr Nicholas de Dear
Head of Senior School

What a dynamic world we live in! In the past 12 months Australia has shared the 'Financial Crisis' and its ongoing effects with the world.

South Australia shared the Tour Down-Under, Clipsal, Fringe Festival season and reservoir filling winter-rains, (in some places anyway!). Here in the Senior School another generation of students lived, learned, achieved and strengthened what we hope will be their life-long friendships in a year that seemed to fly by us.

PAC undertook further renewal in the best traditions of our 140 years of continuous improvement in boys' education. The Three-School structure sharpened our staff focus on the academic and developmental needs of older adolescents. Mr Mark Dell'Oro, Deputy-Head of the Senior School, implemented horizontal Year Level student organisation while maintaining our House competition and identity. The Curriculum Area Leaders led by the Dean of Studies Mr Richard Bruford were vital in maintaining and strengthening staff expertise in these Senior School programs including the IB Diploma Programme and the recently reviewed SACE. I acknowledge these key Senior School staff this year and thank them for their professionalism.

Both experienced staff and those new to PAC took up roles in the Senior School. Mrs Deb Wilson became the Academic Registrar. In this role she develops data to measure students' potential and achievement which is vital information in the Senior School. I also acknowledge the specialist expertise of the PAC Educational Psychologist Mr Allan Lloyd-Jones in supporting Senior School students and staff this year. Mr Steve Clohesy's contribution as the Director of Student Life has certainly enriched the broader educational experience for Senior School boys. Mrs Melissa Dales assumed the role as my Assistant replacing Mrs Karen Lancaster. I thank both ladies for their support, competence and professionalism.

2009 saw a resurgent connection with the Wesley Uniting Church Kent Town. The Commencement Service there which included the commissioning of the School Captain Lucas Lovell and Vice-Captain Alistair Young, was the first of many occasions this year at which we availed ourselves of the moving surrounds of this Church with its long history and connection with PAC. Reverend Chris Harkness has been a wonderful friend and facilitator in providing this venue to the School this year. Necessity increased our patronage of the Wesley Uniting Church when the School Assembly Hall re-development made the Church the only venue capable of holding myriad Senior School occasions. These included: Weekly Senior School Assemblies, Headmaster's Effort Awards, Academic Assemblies, Founders Day Assemblies and a particularly moving Year 12 Valedictory Final Assembly.

Prior to losing the use of the Assembly Hall, over 1200 members of the Princes community experienced the, 'Old Old Boys Assembly' and what a unique and moving occasion it proved to be. The genuine connection and affection for Princes between its current and former students, was testament to the tradition and character of Princes graduates over time.

Summer and Winter Intercols and sport competition generally, was of a high standard in 2009 and is reported elsewhere in depth. Our students competed fiercely and with uniform sportsmanship across all sporting disciplines. Boys supported each other with zeal and good humour whether watching the narrow defeat at the Head of the River or the last gasp victory over Saints in the Basketball. Of equal importance to Senior School students, their families and me, was the wonderful level of participation, competitiveness and success achieved by all students. All our teams whether Firsts, Thirds, Debating, Squash, Rugby, Chess or Mooting; represented the School with pride and honour this year.

The School Musical, 'Pirates of Penzance' and the Senior School drama production, 'A Time of Ashes' were both opportunities for senior students to succeed in live performance and a credit to all involved.

Our School's Band program under the tutelage of Mr Andrew Newhouse has achieved the pinnacle of Big Band success at the 'Generations of Jazz' Festival at Mt Gambier. However the prize they brought back to the School in the person of James Morrison to mentor and perform at PAC was an unforgettable event for all that witnessed it.

Year 10 students and Pastoral Care Teachers successfully implemented the Personal Learning Plan (PLP) that all South Australian students now complete to attain a SACE qualification. Special acknowledgement is due to Year 10 Level Coordinator Mrs Tabitha Noble and her team for this significant achievement. Watching our fifteen and sixteen year olds learning about brain function and neural pathways as part of this syllabus still resonates with me. Peak Adventure expeditions were another Year 10 highlight impossible without the organisation by Outdoor Education Coordinator Mr Phil Noble and the teachers that volunteered to support our students. Simultaneously, Mrs Noble's expert counsel and advice to students in her role in Career Guidance and Vocational Education and Training has also supported Senior School students in subject selection and their post-Year 12 directions.

Year 11 students under the guidance of Mr Nick Joy and his team have partaken in a progressive program of pastoral care with a particular emphasis upon student leadership and community responsibility. The personal development facilitated during challenging leadership activities at the Woodhouse Centre in the Adelaide Hills and the powerful Road Crash Awareness seminar were part of this preparation of Year 11 students. The calibre of Senior School leaders for 2010 including the School Prefects, speaks volumes for the quality of these young men and the work of their staff this year.

Mr Scott Parker stepped into the role of Year 12 Coordinator and with the support of dedicated Year 12 Pastoral Care Teachers provided structure, expectations and maximum opportunity for these boys to achieve their absolute best. The 'Red and White' Formal was an enormous success and an organisational masterstroke for Ben Pearce and his committee. In fact, from the instant and practical response to the Victorian Bushfires, leadership and conduct of the House Swimming and Athletics, formal interaction with other Schools, conduct of weekly Assemblies, supporting all year levels via the SRC, completing School Duties and designing and leading much of their Final Assembly, the 2009 Prefects and the Year 12 cohort can be justifiably proud of their achievements.

I also acknowledge the wonderful support from the staff of The Frederic Chapple Library, Housekeeping, Facilities, Grounds and Maintenance, Catering, Information Services and Prince Café, provided to the Senior School.

When I began at Princes one year ago, my first observations were the warmth and welcome I and my family received from students, parents and staff. At the end of the year those observations have only been strengthened. 2009 in the Senior School has been characterised by excellence of effort and achievement in both students and staff. It has been an inspiring community to join.

Senior School

This year has seen numerous changes begin for the model of senior schooling at Prince Alfred College.

With the establishment of the Senior School the curriculum offered at the College is being moulded to better suit the needs of the boys in Years 10–12.

The arrival of the New SACE has seen the Year 10's undertake the Personal Learning Plan (PLP) each week in their Pastoral Care lessons. The aim of the PLP is to assist students in planning for their future, designed to help students make informed decisions about their personal development, education and training. It is a program of learning that provides students with time to work together with their teachers and other experts to develop knowledge and skills in planning for their SACE / IB Diploma and their futures beyond school.

A new curriculum structure for Year 10, commencing in 2010, has been developed with a 'core' curriculum of English, Mathematics, Science and Humanities with 'elective' subjects from the Arts, Languages, Physical Education and / or Technology. This model of curriculum delivery will provide a solid foundation for students to receive a broad education whilst also being able to pursue areas of particular interest, which will provide a solid foundation for attempting either the SACE or IB Diploma.

There has also been much to celebrate in terms of student academic performances throughout the year, which began with some pleasing Year 12 results at the end of 2008 and the beginning of 2009.

145 students completed the SACE or the IB Diploma. These students were awarded a total of 24 merit scores. Lachlan Stranks TER 98.5 and Xing Xiang (Tom) Wu TER 98.2 achieved three merits each. Further, 6 students were awarded Bilingual Diplomas in the International Baccalaureate.

We were thrilled that 23 students achieved a TER of 95 or more, and a stunning 44 students achieved a TER of 90 or more.

International Students Yunze Wang TER 99.55, Xing Xiang (Tom) Wu, Huan Zhang TER 97.75, and Lester Chu TER 97.75 achieved outstanding results completing their courses with English as their second language, while James Venning TER 97.75, Samuel Schuler TER 96.05 and Harry Murdoch TER 95.35 were the pick of our boarders' results.

Overall, 15.3% of our students were placed in the top 5% of the state, 29.3% in the top 10%, and 56% of our students were in the top 20% of the state.

On the basis of the results of the IB and SACE examinations for 2008, the following prizes were awarded:

The John Dunn Prize and Dux of the School

The EB Colton Prize (Proxime Accessit to the Dux of the School)

The Malpas Prize for Science

William Young

The Longbottom Prize for Mathematics

James Venning

The Colton Prize for Arts and Languages

Xing Xiang (Tom) Wu

During this year our mathematicians have been particularly active. Roberto Riedig (Year 11) has been accepted into the National Mathematics Summer School whilst he was also invited to participate in the Australian Mathematics Olympiad Senior Mathematics Contest. Drew Clements, Yoon-Seok Jang, Vinh Thoi, all from Year 10, were also invited to compete in the Olympiad Contest.

Yoon-Seok and Vinh also excelled in the Australian Mathematics Competition where they were medal and prize-winners in the Intermediate Division respectively. In addition, 9 students in Year 10 achieved High Distinctions in the Intermediate Division and a further 13 boys achieved the same award in the Senior Division.

Terry Moschou was part of a winning team of Year 12 students including Angus McLaren, Brian Kim, Matthew Watson and Tom Ware who took out First Place in the Mathematics Association of South Australia quiz night.

In the South Australian Mathematics Competition, three boys from Year 10 finished in the top ten places; Yoon-Seok Jang (2nd), Hong Xiao Li (6th) and Vinh Thoi (9th) all in the Intermediate Division.

In Science, students performed very well in the International Competitions and Assessment for Schools (ICAS) competition exceeding our performance of the past three years, with more than 50% of the students in each year group placing in the top 30% that sat the competition internationally and more than 4% in the top 1%.

A number of Year 10 students represented the College in the Science and Engineering Challenge sponsored by University of Newcastle. The activities include bridge building, flying helicopters and designing eco-houses. The boys achieved well enough in the first round to go through to the runners-up day.

Marc Eskander (Year 10) was successful at obtaining a place at the South Australian Space School. The activity involved staying in the residential wing of the Royal Adelaide Hospital and visiting the Victorian Space Science Education Centre in Melbourne. Whilst at the centre the students carried out a "Mission to Mars" and a "Mission to the International Space Station".

Angus McLaren (Year 12), was successful at applying for and attended the Australian Youth Aerospace Forum run by the University of Queensland in Brisbane in July. He was one of 100 students nationally selected for this event.

Six Year 11 students represented the College at the Institute of Physics sponsored National Science Week Quiz held at Saint Peters College. The team knew their science but some of the general knowledge questions had them stumped. They each came away with a Newton's cradle from winning one of the inter-round events and were placed fifth overall.

The Royal Australian Chemical Institute (RACI) produces a national quiz every year. This year saw 36,645 Year 11 and 43,935 Year 10 students internationally sit the quiz. Drew Clements (Year 10) and Tim Smith (Year 11) performed outstandingly and were awarded a plaque by the Institute for being in the top 800 participants. In total 15% of our entrants were in the top 10%.

In the Humanities area, congratulations to Duncan Soang who achieved the runner-up prize in the Simpson Prize for History essay writing winning a trip to Canberra for ANZAC Day. Nineteen of our Year 10 boys achieved high distinctions and another 11 achieved Distinctions in the National Geographic Australian Geography Competition with another, which was a fantastic achievement from a small cohort of students.

My congratulations are extended to all students who have achieved their best effort in their academic pursuits and my sincere thanks goes to the teaching staff who have worked alongside me and the students this year in developing a Senior School curriculum that provides such wonderful opportunities for students to excel.

Student Leadership

With the restructuring of the school in 2009 from a House based model to a Year Level one and the formal incorporation of a Middle School significantly more leadership responsibility fell upon the student leadership team.

This was certainly part of the design and it is fair to say that the student leadership teams excelled and handled the challenging tasks gladly and with great enthusiasm and commitment. The Student Leadership Team was made up of a number of significant sub groups.

The 2009 Prefect body will be remembered for the wonderful legacy of service they have left behind to both inspire and challenge groups to come. The leadership of Lucas Lovell as Captain of the School and Alistair Young as his deputy has been exemplary. They and the other fourteen Prefects have been models of integrity displaying a most obvious empathy for the needs of their schoolmates and a genuine pride in the school as its ambassadors. With the introduction of the Middle School came the appointment of the first Captain and Vice Captain. James Keeves and Matthew Brown were deservedly elected and contributed much to the tone of the Middle School and its successful first year.

The School Leadership Team also included the House Captains who oversaw the competition for the Wesley Cup. The senior captains, Jordan Walsh (Cotton), Todd Fischer (Watsford), Jarrod Buckley (Waterhouse) and Luke Tapscott (Taylor) deserve great commendation for the way they motivated students to participate in the House activities and ensured the spirit of House competition remained very much alive and a wonderful, colourful and fun aspect of school life. Taylor was the standout House, winning the Wesley Cup after triumphing in the House Athletics, House Swimming and House Rowing competitions.

Students from each Pastoral Care group were also elected to the Student Representative Council. This forum of 36 students met weekly to discuss both the very positive aspects of school life and identify areas where things could be improved. This group were also significant influences in supporting the many charitable activities within the school. Significant funds were raised, for example, to support the Cambodian Sunrise Orphanage, to support the work of the Uniting Church both in Australia and abroad and for World Vision. As an offshoot of the SRC the Prince Alfred College Care and Concern Committee identified need within and outside our community and ran a number of lunchtime fundraisers to assist where they could. Their energy, generosity and compassion were a major reason our support program for the Victorian bushfire victims was so successful with seventeen boys heading across the border to assist with fence repair and clean up.

The Boarding House also elected senior students to the position of Boarding House Prefects. These boys led so ably by Jack Kelly ensured the highest standards were maintained in the House and the boarders continued to be a wonderful, enthusiastic and colourful group within the school.

With the ever growing and welcome number of students from abroad it was appropriate that there again be a Captain and Vice Captain of International Students. Sung Park worked tirelessly to ensure the needs of our International Students were addressed and his friendly caring manner and honesty was greatly appreciated and valued by his fellow student and staff.

Jacob Kendall was the Captain of Technology in 2009 and his contribution preparing assemblies, supporting musical productions, information evenings, speech nights whilst in the senior school has been invaluable. The school community certainly owes him a great vote of thanks,

I have no doubt that the individual sport and music sections of this year's magazine will document the marvellous contributions of the individual leaders in each area.

In all, almost half the senior year were involved, specifically in leadership positions and this speaks volumes for their character and willingness to put back into the school.

Certainly leadership is more than a tie or badge and at Princes we hope that we will instil in all our boys a desire to lead and provide them with the tools to do so. I would thank all the boys who put their hand up for leadership positions, who had the courage, the conviction and the sense of service to ensure the year was such a special one.

The final activity for the year saw a group of boys contribute 25 shoeboxes being sent to Thailand as part of Operation Christmas Child and our relationship with Toc H. Funds were raised through a casual clothes day and goods such as a t-shirt, small toy, books, pens and toothbrush placed in each of the shoeboxes. Everyone deserves to have a bright and cheerful Christmas.

The boys have learnt the importance of helping out with events and individuals in their local community as well as those overseas. These activities are an important part of life at Prince Alfred College and building a sense of community within the school and at the same time reaching out into our local and international networks.

Arts Awards 2009

The new Award “Ambassador to Music”.

This year the Headmaster decided to set up and make a new award, which will recognize contribution and service above and beyond the level of Arts Honours. Nominations will be sought each year from the Staff and the Award will only be made when the highest possible standards of commitment, accomplishment and service have been reached. In all probability there will be years when this award is not considered.

However, this year the inaugural award was made to a young man, who has not only achieved at the highest level and given Service above and beyond any normal expectation, but he has given his all in the most unassuming and humble manner. He has a tremendous sense of compassion, humility and diligence. He is the Captain of Music, Andrew Dibden.

Andrew has made an enormous contribution to the Arts at Prince Alfred College, to the extent that he has inspired the introduction of the new and very exclusive award — that of Ambassador to Music.

Andrew has always gone above and beyond in the true style of a Princes Man — contributing quietly, without drawing attention to himself and always with the greater good of the school, the community and those around him the prime objectives.

Andrew was very deservedly awarded Arts Honours in 2008. This year as Captain of Music, he has taken on responsibilities way beyond any reasonable expectation. In addition to running the Music Council meetings and following through on all the initiatives raised there, Andrew has assisted in the setting up of the Friends of Music Association, attending these parent meetings and supporting this body for the betterment of Music at Princes. Andrew has always been an important role model for everyone around him — on tours in particular, where he gently guides, mentors and assists all students. His ability to see a potential problem and divert it, is highly commendable.

Andrew’s performance career is distinguished, including most recently singing with the “Kappelle Singers” at their Proms Concert, the night before the first Dress Rehearsal for “The Pirates of Penzance”, in which Andrew played the lead role of the Pirate King.

Andrew has left his mark on Princes in the best possible and most memorable way — “Going Above and Beyond” — Fac Fortia et Patere.

Kevin Tutt
Headmaster

Award with Honours

Lucas Lovell (12 Waterhouse)

Lucas has increased his performance skills year. He has been year-level representative on the Music Council. Lucas went on to the lead role in ‘Macbeth’ last year. He is a member of the Literary Journal Committee, having contributed himself over several years.

Lucas continues to be an excellent role model for the younger students and a very worthy recipient of the Arts Honours Award.

Hayden Nadolny (12 Taylor)

Hayden joined the Beginner Band in 2003. He joined the Senior Concert Band less than three years later, and toured interstate with the Band twice. He has travelled with Big Band 1 to “Generations in Jazz” at Mt Gambier five times. Hayden’s most important influence has been as a role model for the younger students.

He is a very worthy recipient of the Arts Honours Award.

Brandon Kerin (12 Waterhouse)

Brandon is a very competent trumpeter player in Big Band 1 and the Senior Concert Band. His involvement in the Bands commenced in Prep School. He was appointed Vice-Captain of Music this year and his leadership and support on Music Tours, has been greatly appreciated.

Brandon has always been a quiet but persistent participant and he is a very worthy recipient of the Arts Honours Award.

Michael Riceman (11 Cotton)

Michael performs at a high level on five instruments. He came to Princes on a Music Scholarship, playing violin, piano and percussion. When the orchestra needed viola players last year, he took up the viola and now plays in Sinfonia, and most recently in the Pirates Orchestra.

This year Michael was appointed Captain of Strings and his commitment makes him a very worthy recipient of the Arts Honours Award.

Joel Amos (12 Taylor)

Joel was appointed as Head of the Princes Music Theatre Company, this year. His portrayal of Major General Stanley in “The Pirates of Penzance” was masterful! Also this year Joel is the Captain of Debating. He organised the Princes mooting team, which recently won the State final, and he is this year’s Editor of “Principia”.

Joel is a splendid role model and is a very worthy recipient of the Arts Honours Award.

Andrew Dibden (12 Cotton)

Andrew has inspired the introduction of a new and exclusive award — that of Ambassador to Music. This year as Captain of Music, he has run the Music Council meetings and assisted in the setting up of the Friends of Music Association. He is an important role model for everyone around him — on tours in particular, where he gently guides, mentors and assists all students. Andrew took the lead role in “The Pirates of Penzance”, playing the Pirate King.

Congratulations on this inaugural award of “Ambassador to Music”.

Prince Alfred College 140 years strong

To celebrate this wonderful milestone, a committee was formed to create a number of opportunities for the whole community to enjoy our long heritage.

The group was representative of much of the School community and included Tony Ashdown (Director, Community Relations), Michelle Roberts (Admissions), Nan Williamson (past staff member), Jono Mitchell (current staff member), Margot Leeson (Prep Teacher) and Shane Butenko (P&F Association). Input was also received from Peter Crouch, (Prince Alfred Old Collegians Association) and David Cornish (Prince Alfred College Foundation Inc).

Highlights of the work of the committee were the commissioning of a sculpture by Robert Hannaford, Founders' Day Assembly, the celebration service at Wesley Thomas Heddle, Nicholas Broadbridge, George Burford, Mitchell Pascoe, Lucas Lovell and Tom Lyons at the 140th anniversary service.

Church, Kent Town, the P&F Quiz Night and the historic aerial photo of the whole of school and staff on the front oval, formed up in the numbers 140.

One highlight of the celebration service was the readings brought to the congregation by three generations of the one Princes family: Des Steele, Matthew Steele and Jack Vaughan.

The boys and staff enjoyed the huge Balfours donuts, specially baked and iced in red and white, as they departed the Founders' day Assembly! The P&F Quiz Night was a sell out some weeks before it was held and the night was a lot of fun and a great tribute to the amazing work done for the School by both the Prep and Senior P&F committees.

During the Founders' Day Assembly, three new Princes Men Panels were presented to the Headmaster, for display at the school in the Princes Men Gallery. This year's theme was 'Service to the School' and twelve Old Scholars were honoured for their selfless work on behalf of Prince Alfred College.

The culmination of the 140th year would have to be the aerial photograph taken on the front oval on Tuesday August 11. Harry Barnes and Jackson Myhill (Yr 9 Maths students) calculated and designed the layout that was marked out for us by grounds staff. The entire School staff and students rehearsed the previous day and the only cause for concern was the weather. However, the elements were kind and thanks to the skills of the photographers and the helicopter pilot, a fabulous photo resulted. Each family received a complimentary copy, generously donated by Festival Photography.

Today the School stands as a remarkable achievement of the early Founders whose foresight and energy still find their place after 140 years of educating boys.

Writing this year's Captain of Music Report is one of the hardest tasks that has been laid before me, and being in Year 12 this says a lot.

I am a great believer of a person's achievements speaking louder than they ever could, and this year has been one of the noisiest yet. The bands, orchestras, ensembles, small groups, choirs and the Musical have seen a multitude of success throughout the year. The Jammin' with James concert was the pinnacle of concerts ever put on by Princes musicians and was regarded as equal to, if not surpassing, a professional standard gig by the broader Princes community.

One of the greatest aspects of the program run here at Princes is the 'return on investment'. I speak of the time, effort and large amounts of patience that the older boys give to see the benefits they have received are passed down to the younger musicians. This is what makes us great. We are not merely a Music Department, but a Music Community.

This year represents the end of an era in more ways than one for the band program here at Princes. While we are farewelling a group of highly talented musicians, we are also saying goodbye to an institution in Prince Alfred College music, Mrs Freeman, a woman whose organisational flare has given the music department momentum and carried it forward for many, many years. We wish her all the best as she moves on to brighten up other parts of the world with her presence.

A section is only as strong as its weakest player, a band as strong as its weakest section. Here at Princes, this does not matter, as it is strength across the board on which this immensely successful program has been built. And so it is to you, the least recognised members of the band, those who play the 4th and 3rd parts, I would like to say my final thank you.

Best wishes for the New Year.

Andrew Dibden, Captain of Music

Strings Report

2009 has been a year of extraordinary progress for the Prince Alfred College String Programme. Under the expert guidance of the Strings Coordinator, Mrs Erna Berberyan, all five of the string ensembles have grown not only in technicality, but also in musical maturity. The increasing number of performances in functions both inside and outside of the school aptly demonstrates this.

The three younger string ensembles, Junior Strings, Vigoroso and Orpheus, consist only of boys from the preparatory school. Through weekly rehearsals and individual lessons, these younger members of our programme have spent considerable time developing their skills on the violin, viola, cello or double bass. These boys are the future of Prince Alfred College's String Programme and thus I must thank the teachers and parents for their support, as well as the boys themselves for the effort they have given to their instrument.

Sinfonia, our most advanced chamber ensemble, has played in a variety of situations this year. In many of our concerts, we often join with the string ensemble from St Peter's Collegiate Girls' School so as to experience the sound of a larger ensemble and also to learn from each other. In Term 2 this year, Sinfonia and members of the St Peter's Girls' Orchestra, accompanied the musical Pirates of Penzance under the baton of Choirmaster Mr Tasso Bouyessis. The success continued from there into Term 3, where we played in the Kent Town Uniting Church and the Campbelltown Uniting Church for Sunday morning Church Services. Through the abundant positive comments I heard following each performance, I am proud to say both Churches' congregations truly appreciated our music.

Camerata, Prince Alfred College's sought after string quartet, was also invited to play in both the Uniting Church Synod and, after playing there for the first time last year, in the foyer of the Royal Adelaide Hospital. This ensemble also dedicates some of its time to helping the Orpheus ensemble, whereby simply playing next to senior instrumentalists, the younger members are able to gain more confidence in their playing. I hope that Camerata can continue to improve into a professional ensemble and continue playing in different environments.

So, after experiencing the remarkable improvement each string player has made through 2009, I am eager to reach the ever increasing goals for 2010. Once again, I would like to sincerely thank everyone who has supported the String Programme this year, particularly Mrs Berberyan, other staff, the parents and, of course, the boys themselves.

*Michael Riceman
Head of Strings 2009*

Keyboard / Guitar

I will remember this year as being the inaugural Captain of Keyboard and Guitar at Prince Alfred College. By having such a position I was able to sit on the Music Council and represent all the pianists and guitarists at Princes. Throughout the year there were numerous workshops and events in which students were not only able to perform at but were able to expand their musical knowledge. Through these workshops and master classes, students are able to learn and expand further on their musical skills, and at the same time are opened to new experiences. One of these experiences being the workshop with Dr. Hobcroft. From here students are able to then perform with high standards and proficiency in front of large audiences only to impress and astound their spectators. Another area I initiated was mentoring and tutoring a piano student in year 7. Through this interaction, I was able to teach him numerous techniques such as playing by ear, memorizing music, and to always enjoy the music you play. It has been an honour being the inaugural Head of Keyboard and Guitar at Princes. Whether it is Albert Wu's articulated piano proficiency, or Robert Katsambis' delicate yet robust bass guitar skills, it was a true privilege to represent arguably some of the best musicians in the state.

*John-Ross Savvas
Captain of Keyboard/Guitar*

Captain of Bands Report

At the start of the year, 2009 was expected to be one of the most successful in the short history of bands at Princes. And boy, did it live up to the hype! It all started with a Concert Band Showcase, featuring all 4 concert bands at Princes, directed by Mr. Andrew Newhouse. Guest artists for the event were singer Amity Dry, and the Adelaide Army Band. Mr. Newhouse was a member of the Army Band, so instead of just conducting, Mr. Newhouse also played as a member of the Army Band and with the Concert Bands at Princes. This was a great highlight for many of the band members, as this would be one of the few times Mr. Newhouse has ever played with them.

The annual Gig at the Gov was once again an astounding success, featuring all four award-winning Big Bands. This put all the boys in great spirits before embarking on a tour to Mount Gambier, for the annual Generations in Jazz Festival. This year was the first year in which Princes had a Band in Division One which was judged by legendary trumpet player, James Morrison. Princes was one of only two schools to have a Big Band in all four divisions. Mr. Newhouse conducted all the bands down at "The Mount" minimally inhibited by a broken arm that he sustained whilst riding his bike to school. Despite this, the enthusiasm he showed rubbed off on the boys, and they played to the best of their abilities. Mr. Newhouse was judged "the Band Director of the Year" at Generations. The prize was for James Morrison to spend an entire day working with the Big Bands.

Generations In Jazz pumped all the band members up to improve even more, to go beyond and extend their already superb musical abilities. The effort put in was evident at the State Band Festival, held at Westminster College in August. Every Band we entered received the highest possible standard, a Gold award. This is once again a tribute to Mr. Newhouse's dedication as the Director of Bands, and a testament to the fine efforts that have been displayed by the students to maintain and sustain a happy and enthusiastic musical environment.

Mr. Newhouse's prize for Band Director of the Year, a day with James Morrison, will be remembered by all involved for the rest of their lives. The 23rd September included not only Mr. Morrison, but also renowned jazz singer Emma Pask. All four Big Bands worked with James and Emma, before Big Band 1 and Big Band 3 played with them at a Prep School Assembly. A few hours later and the John Dunning Sports Centre had turned into the hottest jazz venue in the state for a concert featuring Mr. Morrison and Ms. Pask, "Jammin' With James."

Not enough people get to see Mr. Newhouse work tirelessly in the Music Department. As a token of the band members' appreciation, money was raised which bought a new bike for Mr. Newhouse. This was presented by Mr. Morrison on the night of Jammin' With James.

Jammin' With James would be the last concert for all of the year 12s. In 2009, 10 year 12s were a part of the Bands program at PAC. This is an incredible number, especially when you compare it to previous years (1 in 2008 and 2 in 2007). It was fitting that the year 12s were sent off after being a part of the greatest gig in the Music Department's history, considering that these were the very boys who inspired Mr. Newhouse back in 2004 to establish a Big Band Program at Princes, which has developed into one of the finest school Big Band programs Australia wide.

2009 more than just lived up to the hype. It exceeded all expectations. I would like to extend my deepest gratitude to Captain of Music, Andrew Dibden, and Vice-Captain of Music, Brandon Kerin, for assisting me with my role and collaborating together with Mr. Newhouse to organize some of the greatest musical performances this school has ever seen. I personally can't wait to see what 2010 has in store, I'm sure that we'll all be in for something special.

Chapel Choir/Prince's Male Voice Choir

Following the various disruptions of 2008, due to the changes in management, the choir enjoyed a somewhat smoother year under the tutelage of our Choir and Voice Director, Mr Tasso Bouyessis.

Having settled into Mr Bouyessis' leadership at the end of last year, the Chapel Choir was able to learn the repertoire required for services, without too many problems, and had sufficient time to proceed to learning other more enjoyable songs as our alter alias, the Prince's Male Voice Choir. The Choir is yet to see a division between the two, but in the future, the Prince's Choir will be directed towards secular and popular music, encouraging a broader range of students to join in.

This year, the Choir saw the loss of some strong vocalists who had left the school, but fortunately, there are many young developing choristers who are gaining experience in the newly assembled Junior Chorale. Under the guidance of both Mrs. Annamaria Beni and Mr. Tasso Bouyessis, their vocal ability is growing exponentially.

Their rendition of 'Do A Deer' which they sang at the Strings & Choral Showcase was simply marvellous — well done boys!

Over the year, the choir holds several school performances, displaying its talent through excellent singing and some exciting repertoire. Because of developments being done to the assembly hall towards the end of the year, assemblies were moved to the Kent Town Church, where it seemed almost natural for the choristers to sing. The acoustics of the church definitely enhanced the singing. Many church services were held throughout the year, the majority of which being in term 3, but due to time constraints the choir could not hold a voice recital, we are planning to make up for them in the following year. The most memorable performance was the Strings & Choral Showcase, where the boys did extraordinarily well, especially with the Sweeney Todd Medley and Oliver's Food, Glorious Food.

Congratulations go to Richard Vereker, who was the only person this year to receive his five-year service medal, having been in the choir from 2005–2009. This medal is awarded in recognition of service and commitment to the choir and we look forward to many other people receiving it in the future.

Special thanks go to our accompanists; Dirk Zadra, who briefly accompanied the choir, Sue Moorhead, who has been accompanying us during rehearsal in recent times and Wayne Hancock, who has supported us throughout the year. Thanks also go to our organist Mark Symons who has put in so many hours of his time to assist the choir.

Special recognition must go to Mrs. Freeman, who has been assisting the Choir and the entire music faculty for eighteen years this year. Mrs. Freeman has sadly decided not to continue her role as Director of Music at Princes, but we still look forward to her playing an important albeit quieter role in the choir's future.

The Pirates of Penzance

This year's musical, the Pirates of Penzance, was a wonderful success for all those who participated.

Dozens of Princes boys contributed to the cast, the orchestra, the back stage, sound and lighting with administrative back-up from Mrs Peterson in the Music Office.

We had the delight of the company of girls from St Peter's Collegiate School and Annesley College. The comedy was well appreciated by audience and cast alike, with some dangerous situations being successfully melded into the performance to create a spontaneous yet well prepared show that was enjoyed immensely by all involved. Our thanks must go to all who helped to bring this most entertaining performance to fruition on the 3rd, 4th and 5th of June: especially Pamela Freeman, Peter Hopkins, Tasso Bouyessis and Vanessa Di Palma. We are of course most devastated to see both Mr. Hopkins and Mrs. Freeman leave the Musicals, but all involved will be looking forward to our leadership next year.

I have thoroughly enjoyed my role as Head of the Company, assisting at rehearsals, helping organize film nights and of course working with such a wonderful cast and crew.

The Time of Ashes

'The Time of Ashes' (2001) is a play written by South Australian playwright, Sean Riley, having been performed in the PPT on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of May as part of the Senior Drama Production. It involved Mr Steer as director, Simon Barnett as the formidable Father McCormack, Lachlan Chapman as the callow, arrogant Luke Davis and Carlo Russo as Ralph Anders, along with students from years 10 to 12 in supporting roles and also a dedicated tech crew for lighting and sound.

Delivery of the play was articulate and lucid; good use of an imposing thrust stage for volume and action. The portrayal of the characters was generally very discerning, especially that of Simon Barnett, who demonstrated an immense oratorical fortitude as Headmaster Father Mac.

The elements and mise-en-scène were eminently arresting, strong geometric shapes in contrast to a background of fluid, white canvass with a design reminiscent of Florence Broadhurst. The opening scenes included Debussy's Clair de Lune, perhaps a little incongruous with the theme, being more delicate and ethereal. On the whole, a quality selection of music, an important albeit subdued selection appropriate for the theme, with an amusing inclusion of 'My Sharona' performed by the students. Most prevalent and effective of all however, was the absence of sound: silence.

Overall the play was very well received, certainly gaining respect both thematically and theatrically from the audience. The perpetual haunting theme shall remain with those who felt it, as will Sam's song sing forth forevermore.

The 2009 debating season has been rewarding for all debaters from years 8 to 12. The five teams have been filled, with enthusiastic and charismatic individuals who have impressed the school with their debating technique and passion for the sport.

The teams have had mixed successes over the year. The A Grade team experienced two losses by small margins and two significant wins in the ordinary rounds; the first debate was won by particularly impressive 10 points. Not to be outdone, the year 11 team managed an even more impressive 20 point victory over St Peter's Girls.

The A Grade, coached by Mrs Tabitha Noble, was the only team successful enough to make the finals this year. They were defeated by the St. Peter's Boys team in the semi final round by a margin of only 2 points. This was a fantastic opportunity for the team to demonstrate their skill in an Intercol rematch, the boys put up a fantastic debate and saw a much closer result than they experienced a few weeks prior. Despite another loss this year, the Intercol match was the highlight of the debating calendar. Princes hosted the debate this year and the traditional venue of the Prince Phillip Theatre proved to be a tight fit filled with record numbers of red and blue blazers. The debate centered on violence in the media and proved to be entertaining for the enthusiastic and very supportive crowd.

Best of wishes go to all the Year 12 debaters: Jerome Squires, whose ability impressed all of the adjudicators, Ryan Muller, whose manner enticed all to believe him, Jacob Kendall, whose enthusiasm was visible from the moon, Zack Jackman, whose general knowledge proved invaluable and 2009 Captain of Debating, Joel Amos, whose animated style of public speaking and undeniable passion for debating increased interest in the sport this year. These boys all have fond memories of debating, and some will no doubt continue debating at a university level. There's even talk of reviving the Old Scholar's Competition against St Peters.

The B Grade team, coached by Ms Marilyn Hunt, also won two and lost two debates. The boys debated a mixture of prepared, current events and secret topic debates, with their last debate for the round allowing them the opportunity to try their hand at Points of Information. This team was comprised of Captain, Nick Burton, Owen Yang, Ian Cooper, Yiran Tan and Tom Colwell. The boys make up a very strong team and were unfortunate not to make the finals competition. They will put up a good fight in the A Grade competition next year.

There were unfortunately no victories for the Year 10 team, also coached by Mrs Tabitha Noble. The team had two new debaters join at the beginning of the year, and their growth proved itself as they put up some excellent competition and had some very close results during the season. Although four of the rounds were prepared topics, the team tackled their first secret topic debate in the final round, where they were able to put their improved general knowledge, debating technique and group skills on display.

Debating in the Middle School was much stronger this year with teams at both Year 8 and Year 9. The Year 9 team coached by Mrs. Melody Marshall, boasted three wins and two losses after attracting a new set of faces from 2008. The Year 8 team, coached by Mr Paulo Abrantes, had mixed results through the season but made great progress in developing their skills and organization. With a good season behind them they should approach 2010 with confidence and form a very competitive Year 9 team.

New to Debating this year was the inaugural House debating competition. This was undertaken by boys at all year levels in lunch times during Term 2. House teams, ably led by the A Grade debaters, formed teams each week to debate topics that included 'Mobile phones are an undervalued educational tool' and 'That Mother's Day is just a Hallmark holiday'. This created some very spirited debates that drew good crowds each week. The final came down to Cotton vs Taylor in the debate 'SMS and online messaging languages impact negatively on literacy levels', which was narrowly taken out by a strong Cotton team.

Mooting Team State Champions

F El Achkar, A Dibden, J Amos, Mr K Tutt

Mooting

As with every year, mooting at Prince Alfred College 2009 took on three new recruits as the new team. As if by accident, I asked Mr. Tutt about mooting at this year's swimming carnival and when he gravely told me that there was as yet no organised team I immediately sought out those who might be interested. Wondering why I looked so busy, Firas El Achkar and Andrew Dibden asked me what was going on, and after a brief discussion with our esteemed Headmaster the new team was christened. After an initially slow start we got to know our two coaches Mark Hosking and Richard Arnold, two old scholars who finished their own law degrees this year and who were State finalists when they mooted for the school. After introducing us to the ins and outs of the Bond University High School Mooting competition and the case we had been given we decided upon myself as Senior Counsel for the appellant, Firas as Junior Counsel and Andrew Dibden as our Solicitor. The team worked wonderfully together, with magnificent spoken cohesion and masterfully written submissions from Andrew, and this proved sufficient to pull us through the State competition.

After becoming State Champions, we left with Mr. Tutt in July for the Gold Coast to moot in the national competition. We were armed with a thorough knowledge of the case and many lessons from Mark and Richard, and though there were some unexpected arguments from the opposition we managed to provide an argument of which to be proud. Though we didn't make the grand final, our team was ecstatic with what we were able to do and our thanks go to Mr. Tutt, Bond University, and most of all to Mark and Richard, who unfortunately will be coaching no more teams from Prince Alfred College. Who knows? Maybe next year three bright young first year law students from P.A.C. will be coaching the team of 2010.

Chess

PAC entered 4 teams in the Interschool Competition this year: two in Division I and two in Division II.

In Division I, the PAC Red team was invigorated with the addition of a new member, Fabian Ivancic, the current Under 15 State Champion, and once again won the Division I Interschool Competition, but this time in a most decisive fashion: a clear 7 points ahead of the next team.

PAC Red was led by Fabian Ivancic on top board, and ably supported by Anthony Milton, Owen Yang, Duncan Soang and Hugh Perks. Fabian and Anthony must be congratulated on winning all 7 games and receiving a large trophy for their efforts. Owen and Duncan also won a smaller trophy for winning 6 games, and Hugh received a certificate for 5 wins out of 7.

This win has earned the boys the right to represent SA in the Australian Schools' Teams Championship being played at Scotch College in Melbourne.

This year PAC did not win the annual Intercollegiate Chess match against Saint Peter's but lost only by a small margin 4.5 to 5.5.

Anthony Milton has been an excellent role model as Captain of Chess this year through his dedication and outstanding skills as a Chess player.

“There is no greater glory for a man as long as he lives than that which he wins by his own hands and feet” Homer from The Odyssey

In this, Prince Alfred College's 140th year, our students have reaped great rewards with both hand and foot on the school playing fields and courts across the City of Adelaide. In fact they have done their school proud and that goes from our elite 'A' team players right through to the lads who are simply enjoying running around with mates and who are oft times quite oblivious to the score or outcome until the very end of the contest.

Sport provides the opportunity for boys to practice mate ship in the heat of controlled competition. It allows them to express themselves in a very physical yet safe way and offers them the opportunity to develop fitness to whatever level they so desire. It is also a vehicle to practice leadership, integrity and discipline by committing wholeheartedly to a chosen sport and following it through to the season's end.

Paramount to this however is that participation in sport should and for the most part is great fun. Boys do indeed learn an enormous amount about who they are and how to cope with losing and winning in a dignified way. As important as it is for educational learning to be a life long journey participation in sporting pursuits should also become an integral part of a boy's healthy habits for life.

“To become a real boy you must prove yourself brave, truthful and unselfish.” Pinocchio

PAC has achieved remarkable results across a wide range of sport in 2009. Badminton has proven to be popular, in particular with our international students, and old scholar Andrew Harvey has provided excellent coaching and game strategy to our players.

Cricket participation has been healthy and our 1st XI side was victorious in the 133rd Intercollegiate Cricket Match against St Peter's College in March. It then went on to win the State Schoolboys One Day Championship for the second year in a row with a convincing win against Henley High School. The team will also play Rostrevor College in the Grand Final of The Messenger Press Twenty/20 Competition in November.

In rowing PAC won the State Schoolboys Premiership, won the 1st XIII State Championship and came second in the Head of the River Regatta.

Princes swim team continued its dominance over Saints by winning the Intercollegiate Swimming Trophy for the sixth year in a row. The Intercollegiate Tennis saw a one-sided 15-0 victory to PAC and the Drive Team won the State Championship.

Mark Davis and Paul Rigoni coached the Princes 1st V to a nail biting 1-point victory over Saints in the Intercollegiate Basketball with the winning goal, a three-point shot from Phil Harford, coming with one and a half seconds left on the clock. The 1st XVIII football team won the Tennyson Football Challenge Cup for the fourth year in a row with a 34-point win over St Peters in the Intercol and four of its players were selected in the State U/18 team and one player in the State U/16 team.

The 1st XI hockey team remained undefeated for the season and recorded a 6-2 Intercol win to retain the Simpson Cup over Saints. Soccer has continued to have great appeal for our students and Princes drew with Saints in the intercollegiate match for the second year in a row.

Viv Jensen's and Paul Urban's squash boys once again proved that PAC is the premier school for squash by winning nearly all of the school boy's squash premierships. The 1st XV rugby side had an outstanding season making the grand final of the Rugby SA School Boys Competition and defeating Saints 24-0 in the Intercollegiate Rugby match at Princes.

Princes Open A/B table tennis teams had solid wins over St Peter's and the A chess team won the state final and will fly to Melbourne in December to represent the state. It is fair to say that PAC celebrated its 140th birthday by dominating the 2009 Intercols.

I extend heartiest congratulations to the boys who represented their school on the sporting fields for you have made 2009 an outstanding year of sport. Finally to the dedicated coaches comprising staff, old scholars and parents, team managers and parents supporting our boys involved in sport I thank you for your enormous enthusiasm and capacity for work. You make a positive difference in the lives of the boys at PAC.

Athletics

For consistently high performance throughout the year the following athletics awards were made

Colours

Tom Teague, Ben Orken, Tom Timmo,
Jack Kelly, Henry Olsson

Honours Colours

Steven Pallotta

In 2009 Steven has continued to demonstrate an extremely high level of performance in his favoured sprint events. His personal best performances currently stand at:

100m: 11.1 seconds

200m: 22.6 seconds

400m: 49.8 seconds

- Holds 8 individual school records, winning the Champion of Champions 100m race for the third year in succession.
- His 51.99 second performance in the U17 400m eclipsed a record that had held since 1969.
- Has won 100m, 200m and 400m sprints in a variety of age groups at the annual Achilles Cup meet.
- Won the U18 100m, 200m and 400m titles at the Athletics SA State Championships.

In 2009 Steven is once again a worthy recipient of Honours Colours.

Basketball

For exemplary sportsmanship, selfless contribution and individual excellence to Basketball at Prince Alfred College

Sam Day

Sam has had an outstanding season both as a player and a leader of the Prince Alfred College Basketball team.

- Had the capacity to influence the outcome of matches through his ability and work ethic at either end of the court.
- Awarded the Most Valuable Player (MVP) or runner up MVP on the court in each match he played.
- He inspired the team, leading a memorable intercollegiate victory against St. Peter's College.

Sam has made a significant contribution to Prince Alfred College basketball and he thoroughly deserves to receive the school's highest sporting accolade Honours Colours.

Chess

Anthony Milton

Anthony's accomplishments as a Chess player are extensive.

- As Captain of Chess this year, Anthony was undefeated this year in the Interschool Competition, playing a major part in the team's success as the Division One Interschool Competition Champions.
- He has also been undefeated in the Intercol Matches since first playing in 2007, when Anthony won the Richard Thorne cup for 8–9 School Champion and was also a joint winner in 2006. In 2008, he received the prize for best performance in Interschool Competition at Speech Night.
- This year, Anthony came first in the Under 18 South Australian Juniors and is flying to Hobart in January to play in the Australian Juniors.

We recognise his ability and passion by awarding him Honours Colours for Chess.

Cricket

Sam Gunning

Sam has the capacity to influence cricket matches with great capacity for fast bowling, powerful batting and safe catching.

- Sam has dominated school cricket. He led all cricket statistics for the summer and was the 1st X1's highest run scorer with 364 runs at an average of 45.5 and the team's leading wicket taker with 28 wickets at an average of 13.1.
- He was a committed vice captain of the 1st XI. He was always very supportive of other players, especially the younger members of the team, who very much looked up to him as a leader and as a knowledgeable cricketer.

Sam has made a significant contribution to Prince Alfred College cricket and he thoroughly deserves the school's highest sporting accolade Honours Colours.

Downhill Mountain Bike Riding

William Gower

William began downhill bike riding at the age of 13, riding down Mt Lofty and Crafers tracks every weekend and most nights after school.

- He joined the SA mountain bike club — INSIDE LINE and won the State U15 and U17 championships
- William raced successfully in the Australian championships, winning the U15's and U17's
- He still found time to represent PAC in rowing, being a member Of the First Eight in 2009.
- His consistent performances in downhill riding won him selection in the Australian Junior team, unfortunately just before his race he had a devastating crash in the most difficult section of the track (the Rock Garden!) — eliminating him from the championship.

William has retired from downhill mountain bike riding and now has his sights set on a sprint track cycling career.

Hockey

Sam Sobels

Sam has this year captained an unbeaten First XI Hockey Team.

He shares his motivation for the game with his team mates, displaying outstanding qualities in his role within the team.

- Sam controls the mid field with poise and maturity each game, whilst being a danger to his opponents in attack, scoring some brilliant opportunist goals at times.
- Sam has represented the First XI Hockey team with aplomb for a number of years. His ability to read the play and direct his team mates in the execution of the game plan has been exceptional and pivotal in the continued success of the team.

Sam has made a significant contribution to the sport of hockey and he is a most fitting recipient of the highest sporting accolade Honours Colours.

Rowing

For exemplary sportsmanship, selfless contribution and individual excellence to Rowing at Prince Alfred College

Travis Cordingley

Travis worked hard throughout the 2008/2009 season to improve his rowing machine scores and was selected to stroke the 1st VIII.

- He was stroke of the 1st VIII when it won the State Championship and in the 2009 Head of the River Regatta.
- Travis inspired the boys around him to achieve their personal best and he played an integral part in helping his boat club win the 2009 South Australian Rowing Association School Boy Premiership.

Travis has rowed for Prince Alfred College for four years and his achievements and dedication to rowing make him a worthy recipient of Honours Colours.

Mihailo Spasojevic

Mihailo was elected Captain of Boats In 2009, unfortunately injury intervened and he was forced to work hard through considerable shoulder pain as he changed to row seven seat in the State Championship and at the Head of the River Regatta.

- As Captain of Boats Mihailo, encouraged the members of the rowing club to reach their fullest potential. His leadership and dedication played a large part in inspiring the rowing club to win the 2009 South Australian Rowing Association School Boy Premiership.

Mihailo is a worthy recipient of his school's highest sporting accolade, Honours Colours.

Swimming

For exemplary sportsmanship, selfless contribution and individual excellence to Swimming at Prince Alfred College

Cameron Wong

In each year since joining the team, Cameron has been selected as a member of the PAC Intercol team.

- Cameron remains a humble member of our swim team.
- Apart from being our most valuable swimmer, he has captained his team with aplomb, never belittling younger members, instead choosing to inspire all members to give of their very best.

Cameron is a very worthy recipient of the highest sporting accolade which the school presents.

Luke Saville

Luke Saville is an outstandingly talented tennis player.

- Luke's commitment to school tennis as its number one player helped Prince Alfred College win its first State Champions Title in 20 years. This is on top of his remarkable international success.
- He has been the PAC Tennis Champion since Year 8 and he plays with great skill and humility.

Luke is currently the number one ranked 15 year old tennis player in the world. He is an elite sportsman and we recognise his ability and passion by awarding him Honours Colours for Tennis.

Jack Schipanski

Jack Schipanski is a supremely talented tennis player.

- As well as successfully touring internationally, Jack's commitment to school tennis has been instrumental in helping Prince Alfred College achieve its first State Champion's Title in twenty years.
- He plays with great humility, passion and sportsmanship.

Jack is currently the number two ranked 15 year-old in Australia and we recognise his enormous ability and passion by awarding him Honours Colours for Tennis.

School House Athletics Day

The school house athletics day was held on the front oval during the second last week of Term 3. Athletes were greeted with bright sunshine, a very comfortable 24 degree maximum and very light wind. In short conditions were perfect for a school athletics meet. Strong competition between individuals was also apparent with a number of age groups containing many athletes of similar ability and also a number of boys new to the school keen to make their mark. One such athlete was Jack Doney who set a new record in the Under 13 Hurdles with a time of 16.70 seconds. However the outstanding individual performance for the day came from our Captain of Athletics, Steven Pallotta, who ran 51.99 seconds in the Under 17 400m and eclipsed the old record of 53.3 seconds which had been held by R Bond since 1969!

Individual age group winners and house were:

U13	Tom Vasileff — Waterhouse Jack Doney — Watsford Adam Gwinnett — Watsford
U14	Henry Basedow — Waterhouse Tom Plant — Waterhouse Shea Clarke — Watsford
U15	Jack Penfold — Waterhouse Philemon Namatjira — Watsford Matthew Henry — Taylor
U16	Ben Young — Taylor Jock Clarnette — Cotton Hamish Bubner — Cotton
U17	Steven Pallotta — Watsford Brandon Kerin — Waterhouse Sam Day — Watsford
OPEN	Hunter Harrison — Taylor Ben Pearce — Cotton Sam Sobels — Cotton

Steven Pallotta won the Champion of Champions race for the third year in succession in a time of 11.10 seconds. Luke Tapscott was second in a time of 11.55 seconds and Henry Olsson, who is just a Year 10, finished third in 11.60 seconds.

Taylor won the important relay shield followed by Waterhouse, Watsford then Cotton all grouped closely behind.

Final points for the day were:

Taylor	4567 points
Waterhouse	4529 points
Watsford	4272 points
Cotton	4140 points

And so Taylor, for the second consecutive year won the House Athletics cup, albeit by a very narrow margin.

Mrs Eva Pallotta, mother of captain of athletics Steven Pallotta spoke of the history associated with the athletics carnival at PAC and the enjoyment gleaned from competition of this nature. With the help of Mr Clohesy, Director of Student Life, she presented the Cups and awards to each recipient.

Achilles Cup

The annual Achilles Cup Athletics meet was held during the final week of Term 3 at Santos Stadium. Conditions were cool, yet fine and PAC had a number of very good individual performances throughout the day.

Our captain of athletics Steven Pallotta competed strongly and won the open Division 1 400m in a time of 50.47 seconds and was second in the Division 1 100m with a very fast 11.08 seconds. He also placed third in the Division 1 200m in 23.15 seconds. Vice captain of athletics Jack Kelly also had a good meet with wins in the open Division 2 100m and 200m in times of 11.85 seconds and 24.06 seconds. Special mention should be made of Hugh Schievenin who as an under 14 competed as an under 16 in the Division 1 pole vault and managed second place. Our open javelin throwers were also very successful with Jordan Sanders and Tom Teague each taking first place in Division 1 and 2 with throws of 48.83m and 44.38m respectively.

Our field events, and in particular the javelin, shot put, discus and high jumps were our best scoring events. The Under 14 as well as the Open age group were the most productive points wise as demonstrated by the list of first and second place getters below.

Steven Pallotta	first in Open Div 1 400m second in Open Div 1 100m
Jack Kelly	first in Open Div 2 100m and 200m
Jordan Sanders	first in Open Div 1 javelin
Ben Orken	second in open Div 1 long jump
Travis Cordingley	second in Open Div 2 hammer
Sam Day	first in Open Div 2 high jump
Tom Teague	first in Open Div 2 javelin
Cameron Wildman	second in U13 Div 1 800m
Sean Nunan	first in U14 Div 1 800m
Michael Zhao	second in U14 Div 1 discus
Max Bevan	second in U14 Div 1 hurdles
Shea Clarke	second in U14 Div 2 400m
Hayden May	second in U14 Div 2 800m
George Burford	second in U14 Div 2 javelin
Tom Plant	second in U14 Div 2 long jump
Niwili White Forrest	first in U16 Div 1 high jump
Jeremy Pearce	second in U16 Div 1 javelin
Hugh Schievenin	second in U16 Div 1 pole vault
Tom Hobbs	first in U16 Div 2 shot put

Final points for Group A schools were:

SPSC	1294	Trinity	948
Pembroke	1123	PAC	907
Immanuel	1014	Rostrevor	893

State Powerade Championships

Following good performances at the Achilles Cup a number of boys competed at the Powerade State Championships.

In the under 18 age group Steven Pallotta won gold in the 100m (11.60 seconds) and 200m (23.92 seconds) and took silver in the 400m (51.06 seconds). Also in the under 18 age group Jordan Sanders won silver in the javelin with a throw of 46.37m. In the under 15 age group Hugh Schievenin took the bronze medal for the pole vault with 2.60m and Micahel Zhao placed fifth in the discus with a throw of 26.44m.

1st X1 Cricket

A competitive performance against a well-drilled Rostrevor team gave us cause for optimism. We played two more Twenty/20 matches in the plate competition registering wins against Sacred Heart and Blackfriars. The match against BPS was dominated by Karl Siebels, who smashed 89 not out. In the Xmas holidays we hosted a powerful Eton College tour side that made 9/218 in their allotted 50 overs. In reply we managed only 148 with several players making 20's and 30's.

A solid win over Sacred Heart showed signs of things to come with Jordan Walsh making a typically entertaining 62 and receiving good support from Sam Gunning (42 no) and newcomer Jack Ramsey (36). Tom Welsby bowled well to take 3/30.

We faced Immanuel, who had thrashed us in term 4 and we had our revenge. This time Jack Tregrove (4/11) bowled magnificently to restrict the opposition to just 65, a tally we overhauled with little trouble. The team won the right to play against Rostrevor in the final of the Independent Schools one day competition, a reflection of a team growing in confidence and determination. Jack Tregrove had no hesitation in batting and by the end of our innings we had compiled the imposing tally of 6/208. This was built on the back of quality batting by Andrew Sykes (54), Adam Perryman (44 no), Jack Tregrove (36), Jordan Walsh (31) and Sam Gunning (30). The team was able to restrict RC to 171, due largely to Will Latchford's 4/46.

The 2008/09 1st X1 cricket team has etched itself in the School's cricketing history by its fantastic achievements in winning, for only the second time, both the intercollegiate cricket match and the State Schoolboys one day championship. This was great testimony to the hard work and resilience of a group of young men who refused to give up when faced with great challenges.

2nd XI Cricket

The 2nd XI's went through the first term program without a hitch, winning all of its games comfortably until falling at the last hurdle in the Intercol against a St Peters' team that Princes had beaten comfortably only a fortnight earlier.

Perhaps there's a lesson there about making assumptions before a game begins, or in this case during it, but regardless of that outcome it was an outstanding season for the team.

Capably led by Stuart Jefferies and his vice-captain Alex Butenko the side had several very comfortable wins against good sides. Brendon Bettess was something of a run-making machine, on several occasions demoralising opponents who thought they had enough runs to win.

He amassed 377 runs at an average of 94.25. His innings included a quickfire 119 not out off 58 deliveries from a hapless Westminster attack. Will Murdoch led the bowling, developing his skills and bowling with pace every week, never going wicketless and on one occasion taking six wickets for nine off eight overs. James Risby joined the team late in the season and bowled with great control. He will probably remember for a long time the day he took a hat trick against St Peters with his first three balls!

Year 8A Cricket

The 2009 cricket season for the year 8 A team has shown some promising individual performances without many team successes. We won only one of our first 4 games (an exciting battle with Sacred Heart) due mainly to our inability to occupy the crease for long enough to accumulate sufficient runs. Our bowlers managed to restrict the opposition to beatable totals, but we only once managed a team score past one hundred.

Simon Brown, our captain, bowled with consistent accuracy and movement to be the pick of our bowlers, with best figures of 4/26 against Adelaide High. He was ably supported by Jake Gugliotto (best figures of 4/15 against Sacred Heart), Oliver Clark and Todd Alexander.

Paul Russo was the standout batsman, having scored a stylish 53 against Sacred Heart, and averaging 22 having only once failed to make it into double figures. Simon Brown also impressed with the bat (averaging 15).

There is plenty of potential amongst the squad, and with more maturity in our performances I'm sure we will form an able team in future years.

Intercol Cricket

Prince Alfred College 242 and 6/111 registered an outright victory over our traditional rival St Peter's College 182 and 167, in the 133rd Intercollegiate cricket match played at St Peter's College from Friday 27th March.

The Saint's captain won the toss and elected to bat first on a pitch that was hard and flat. Sam Gunning made the initial break-through in the first over of the match when Adam Perryman took a brilliant catch.

Gunning struck again in his fifth over when Andrew Sykes leapt high to his right at cover and took a spectacular one-handed catch. Craig Pitt followed up the good work by claiming the wicket of the St. Peters' captain caught behind by Ned Young and Saints were reeling at 3/26. The Saints innings ended with a score of 182. The outstanding bowlers were Gunning (4/50), Pitt (2/33) and our Captain, Jack Trengove (2/42).

At stumps on Day 1 PAC was 1/38 with Tom Welsby playing a couple of powerful drives. The Saturday morning session of Day 2 belonged to PAC as we added 101 runs for the loss of two wickets. Ned Young featured in a 77 run third wicket partnership with Trengove and Princes went into the lunch break on 3/139, a strong position. Trengove played a stylish innings of 52 before being bowled with the score on 4/157. A mini collapse saw Princes at 7/189. Gunning once again stamped his authority on this intercol with a quick-fire 34-runs and he received good support from Pitt (10) and Will Latchford (15 no). Princes led by 60 runs at the end of its first innings of 242.

Saints reached a shaky 4/72 at Stumps on Day 2. After the rest day on Sunday, the match resumed on Monday and St Peter's lost early wickets. Saints reached a total of 167 leaving Princes to make a total of 108 to win the match. Sam Gunning took 5/47 in the second (nine wickets for the match) and Trengove 2/17 with Ned Young completing 6 catches for the match.

Saints made early inroads into the Princes batting line-up and at one stage we had slumped to 6/78. However opener Jack Ramsey batted magnificently and just before the end of Day 3 he guided the team to a 4 wicket victory with a defiant 43 not out, well supported by Gunning (10no).

Rowing

PAC has appointed a new Director of Rowing for the 2009–10 season. Dr Andrew Randell has been appointed following 10 years as the Director of Coaching at the King's School Parramatta in Sydney. During this time the The King's School won several Head of the River Titles and both the Queen Elizabeth and Fawley Cups at the Royal Henley regatta. Andrew has had extensive experience coaching outside of the school environment as Head Coach at the Sydney University Boat Club and more recently the NSW Institute of Sport and was a member of the Australian Olympic team in Beijing.

"I am unquestionably a sports fanatic and rowing is my passion. I have a holistic view in regards to the place of sport in a Boys' development and see it as only one facet to be nurtured along with a strong interest in education, an appreciation of music and the arts and an understanding of the importance of family and friends and ones spirituality. I was initially attracted to rowing for its aesthetic and rhythmic beauty but came to love the discipline of training and adrenalin rush associated with racing in a crew of similar minded athletes. Physiologically rowing is a whole body, highly aerobic, non contact sport that builds both endurance and strength. It can teach boys the benefit of discipline and dedication, and how to work productively in a team. These are skills that can then be readily applied to other areas of the boys' lives e.g. academic or musical."

Andrew's goals for the upcoming season are to improve the status of rowing at PAC to that of a major summer sport and to develop a winning culture on the water through technical excellence. Training will be skills focused in early years but must include an element of fun and be enjoyable and rewarding. It is hoped that rowing at PAC will both complement and work in concert with the academic and social objectives and activities of the school ie, 'healthy in body, mind and soul'.

1st IV Rowing

Early on in the season during first term the 1st IV was undecided as many rowers were moving between each crew, the 1st and 2nd VIII. After the first few regattas it was certain the crews were still undecided. It was only until the final weeks of the season that the crew had been finalised. During the season we were a strong force against our main opposition, Scotch and Saint Peters. It was hard to bring about consistency in our races with continual seat swapping between the 1st IV and the 2nd VIII, yet we still performed despite this set back. Although we did not manage to grab 1st place at Head of the River which was disappointing, this did not hinder what the season brought the crew and our coaches, the joy of winning many races and the shared pain of accepting defeats. This being said the season was filled with tough competition and development of the crew every time we raced. The Head of the River 1st IV crew consisted of: Roberto Reidge, Tom Walford, James Hunter, Ben Pearce and our cox, James Shannon (Jimmy)

2nd VIII Rowing

The 2nd VIII this year had a solid season winning state champs and all of their other regattas up until head of the river. The crew consisted of Will Mcphee as cox, Will Thredgold in stroke, Simon Rodgers in seven, Rhys Williams in six, Tom Ware in five, Tristan Perkins in four, Nick Woolmore in three, Jono Spano in two and Surgen Jankovic in Bow. The crew was very inexperienced at the start of the season but having 3 older boys in the boat helped everyone develop their rowing skills. Alex Silz coached the 2nd eight and he did an amazing job constantly telling us what we can do to improve on our technique and on our ergo times. The crew had a solid season starting off by winning all of the 2nd 8 division races and placing 3rd and 4th in the first eight division but when it came to head of the river day our main competition in saints caught up to us in the last 300 m and won.

Year 9A Rowing

This season, the 9A Rowing crew have been extremely successful, winning most of our races throughout the year, including the Head of the River win by 0.26 of a second. We have been coached by Mr Sam Jordan, who has worked with us to improve our technique and power in the boat, helping us to achieve our success.

Overall our crew has improved out of sight, rowing confidently and with good technique towards the end of the season. I would like to thank Ned Thomas, and Shea Clarke, who are great rowers but narrowly missed selection in the A's. Most of all I would like to thank our coach and crew for their hard work and dedication over the year, which has helped us to achieve our results. I hope that we can continue this success into next season.

Jack Kelly

Year 9B Rowing

The year 9 B rowing crew trained closely with the A crew with boys swapping in and out of both crews leading up to the Head of the River in April. This made all boys more competitive in all training sessions and resulted in many wins against very competitive crews from other schools. Training sessions focused on technique and work pieces such as 'leapfrog' that pushed all boys to their limit, making for two very competitive crews. This culminated in an impressive win at the Head of the River. Our coach Mr Sam Jordan worked positively with both crews teaching us the basics of the rowing stroke leading into the more technical aspects of the sport. We thank him for his dedication to us as rowers and to the sport at Prince Alfred College.

Year 9C Rowing

Capping off the season with a win at the Head of the River, the C's were also awarded the most successful crew in South Australian schoolboy rowing. This was a great honour and was due to the hard work and persistence put in by all crew members. Our coach David Dixon worked hard all year to improve our technique and this transferred to speed on the water. We thank him for his friendship and expert guidance in coaching us throughout the season.

Tax Skrembos

Year 9D Rowing

The 9 D crew had a great all-round season with some wins and some losses, improving greatly thanks to our coach James Moffatt. The crew worked well together and had a very enjoyable season. On the day of the Head of the River the boys all put in a real effort and pushed through and won.

Year 10A Rowing

The 10A 08–09 rowing season was a rollercoaster ride seeing a massive improvement in the entire crew because the 9A crew of the 07–08 season stayed the same so going into the new season we felt fairly confident. More so with the new edition of Jarred Wallington who offered his expertise and helped us improve out of sight. The start of our season opened with a few 2nd and 3rd places. Going into the Christmas holidays with a relatively positive start there was a lot of room for improvement. A rowing camp was held during these holidays. Tears were shed and blisters were popped as all crews in the junior division from PAC improved indefinitely. At the beginning of a new school year we were ready to go and spirits were high. Our first regatta back we took two 1st places in both races, sending a message to all crews including our main competition Pembroke. As the season drew to

Year 10B Rowing

The yr 10B rowing crew had a substantially up and down 2008/09 season. Starting the season off with some strong wins over Saints and Pembroke, both the technique and strength of the crew was in its best form. After the mid season break over the Christmas holidays, the crew came back not looking as sturdy as we would have liked. The remaining races of the season were considerably harder seeing as our competition had become much faster. We finished our season on the highest of notes, pushing past Pembroke in the last 200m to win the Head of the River. Overall, a season of much effort and exertion proved again an enjoyable one.

Sbaun McFarlane

Head of the River Rowing

The 2009 Rowing season represented a new high for the Prince Alfred College Rowing Club. The rowers worked hard through out the season and were crowned Rowing SA School Boy Premiers for the 6th Year. Along with the 1st and 2nd Eights winning the SA State Championships the Rowing Club achieved 5 first and 6 second places at the Head of the River. Congratulations also to Travis Cordingley and Mihailo Spasojevic who rowed in the South Australian state team at the Youth Olympics.

Year 9s: In their quest for rowing perfection many year 9 rowers gave up their Sunday mornings to train in the single sculls. This resulted in the Year 9 Crews winning 4 races at the Head of the River. A great result from some quality young athletes.

Year 10s: With many months of hard training under their belt the 10A crew turned around the disappointment of the previous year's Head of the River to take out second place. A great result for a crew nursing a concussed 3 seat rower. The 10B crew pushed all aside to come in first. This was a fantastic result for this crew of light weight rowers. The 10C boys came together in the last few weeks and were able to take out second place.

Seniors: The 1st IV experienced a hard season. Often missing one rower they had to make do with small boats. Coming together in the last few weeks the boys rowed the race of their lives to place 2nd in a strong field. A big thanks to Ben Pearce who stepped in to ensure the boys could experience the thrill of rowing at the Head of the River.

The 2nd VIII although fancied throughout the season for their smooth boat work and tough racing were defeated by Saint Peters College finishing second in their big race. This was a disappointing result for a crew which had not lost a 2nd VIII's race all season.

"When the going gets tough the tough get going" is a phrase that can be applied to the PAC 1st VIII. The boys knew it would be a hard season and they stepped up to the challenge. With a very inexperienced eight the boys used every chance to improve their rowing. The summer holidays were spent training against the SA Under 20 State Team with countless trips to Murray Bridge. After winning the state championships the pressure built on the Eight. The Head of the River saw the crew race their fastest time of the season. However they were unable to overtake a faster moving opposition and came second. Although not taking home the big one the crew can be rightly proud of their results during the season.

Swimming

This year in Swimming proved to be one of tremendous achievement highlighted by a marvellous team effort to win the Intercol against St Peters. In 2009, our team was very ably led by Cameron Wong and his deputies Jordan Sanders and Sam Sobels.

The Intercol itself was a superb example of team work, with our whole team swimming to a level befitting their hard work. Underpinning the hard work of our team was the tireless coaching of Mr Mark Shepherd. Mr Shepherd, an old scholar himself, was truly devoted to the cause and should be congratulated for his attention to the finest of details.

On a weekly basis, the Meets saw PAC almost totally dominant, rarely being defeated in overall standings. This was testimony to not only our naturally gifted swimmers, but also those who simply made themselves available to swim, just to help the team.

In 2009, our Relay Teams had some tremendous wins, taking out the A Grade Open Medley and Open Freestyle Relays at the Relays Championships. What a magnificent result by our boys!

On a personal note, my special thanks to Mr David deLacy who aided the team with his tireless work in a vast array of duties and also to Mrs Evie Morelli who did a faultless job with time keeping and score collation.

In 2010, the Swim Team is looking for new swimmers and will look to enhance its image further in the season ahead.

Junior Tennis

The depth of talent at Prince Alfred College in the junior ranks required the nomination of 2 "A" teams where every other school only fielded one. As such the boys were moved around from team to team as we tried to balance the boys depending on who we were playing in an endeavour to be as competitive as possible. The boys were outstanding in their sportsmanship and skill level and managed to win more matches than they lost. The "B's" were very competitive usually winning such was the depth of talent while the "D's" were developing their game and doing well.

The only week where the boys were playing on a level playing field was in the Intercol match against St Peters and to the boys credit won every match from the "A's" right through to the "D's" thus validating our decision to put pressure on the boys during the season to ensure that they had as tough a match as possible for their development.

Mr C Nicholls (Teacher-in-Charge of Tennis)

Senior Tennis

Much has been said of the top tier player at the school but the fact is that the depth of talent in 2009 was so strong that 3 "A" teams were fielded when only Marryatville fielded 2 and most schools only fielded one! Some schools fielded their best team in the "B" division meaning our "B" grade (fourth best team) were playing the best 12 from that school outside their 1st team and our "C" grade were invariably up against the opposition schools "B" team. The reason for doing this, of course, was to try to get the boys out of their comfort zone and develop them as players.

Expecting to get occasionally trounced I was delighted to see that the boys very competitive each week and even managed to win more often than not, which is an outstanding effort when you consider, for example, that a number 3 player in one of our "A" teams is ranked 7 to 9 and is up against the number 3 player from the opposition school!

The only week in which the playing field became level was Intercol week when we played St Peters. The true depth became clear when every senior team soundly defeated Saints to finish off a truly successful season in which the boys should be proud of their achievements.

The Drive team has had a very successful season, going undefeated and winning the title of state champions. The France Tennis Tour in mid 2008 provided an invaluable experience for many of the senior players and after this tour the boys entered the 2008/2009 season with great enthusiasm.

The team has worked hard with coaches Josh Tuckfield and Graham Neville to improve and this work ethic has been reflected in the positive outcomes on the court. During the first half of the season (October-November 2008), the team displayed its remarkable talent, knocking off our rivals Saint Peters in the first game of the season 9–0. This success continued with convincing victories over Mercedes and Westminster and most notably winning 9–0 over Immanuel who are one of the toughest schools in the league. Throughout this season, the team was constantly missing players due to other tennis commitments. Luke Saville and Jack Shipanski, the top two players of the team were absent for the majority of the season due to commitments to tennis tours and tournaments. Even without a full strength team, the Drive team continued to perform illustrating the depth of talent in the squad. Players such as Michael Brown and Jarrod Buckley were consistently moving up to play in the Drive team, winning their matches without trouble, while Josh Gregg and John Hall stepped up to play the top positions in the team and taking on the best players from each school with great success.

As the team entered the business end of the season (Term 1 2009), we knew with a quiet confidence that we were a chance to knock off Marryatville, the dominating tennis school of the last decade. The team picked up where it had left off, continuing its winning streak with convincing victories over tough opposition such as Saint Michaels, Unley and Pembroke. As we came near the end of the season, our two final matches were against Marryatville and St Peters in the Intercol. Luke Saville and Jack Shipanski came back into the team while Li Tu and James Ma were unable to play due to other commitments. The team played outstandingly against Marryatville defeating them 7–2, this being the first time we had done so in almost 20 years. The team's successful season was capped off in the intercol with a remarkable 15–0 victory over Saints, going the whole day without dropping a set. This concluded an extremely successful season. The team went undefeated and so won the state championships giving us the change to play in the national competition later on in the year. With a very young and talented team, this success will hopefully continue into the following year.

A special thankyou must go to Mr Nicholls for managing the team throughout the season. This has been invaluable and his support has no doubt guided the team in its remarkable success.

Water Polo

Prince Alfred's water polo warriors

PAC has made great strides this year on its way to the top of the school water polo competition. With a very young side, half of which were only in Year 9, we hit the pool with youthful enthusiasm and a will to win. Our skilful younger players were often outsized against the older opposition; this however did not deter them, only making their hunger to fight even stronger.

For most of the season we were just trying to find our feet, admittedly at times, a little difficult in two metres of water, however a fantastic new game plan from the Parker Squad and some invaluable help from Red saw us come on in leaps and bounds.

Heading into the final tournament, we managed to draw a favourable pool, coming up against Saints' 2nds, Pembroke's 2nds and St Ignatius. The boys were outstanding and we went through winners of our pool. The finals are to be held in fourth term and I wish all the team the best of luck!

On behalf of the boys I would like to thank Mr Parker and Mr Robinson, Luke's Dad, for the time and effort they put into the team, it was greatly appreciated. Although clichéd I will finish on this note: the boys this year displayed great courage and determination even when faced with seemingly insurmountable odds, simply, they went beyond. The immense and promising talent shown will be a force to reckon with in the years to come as PAC establishes itself firmly on the water polo map.

Open A Basketball

The 2009 basketball season for the Open A Team was a huge success. Welcoming new coach Mark Davis and two players to the group showed promising signs before the season began. The season began well with two good wins over Rostrevor and Gleeson. We put up a good fight against Cabra College but lost against Sacred Heart and St Michael's College. The team then beat CBC convincingly. Our next game was against Concordia College which we lost in the last 2 minutes. We won our next three games easily against Immanuel, Westminster and St Johns Grammar but losing in a rematch against Sacred Heart. The team's winning ratio was 6-5 before the intercollegiate.

The game was close, all the way up to the final quarter where Saints pulled away to a 10 point lead with a little over 5 minutes to go. We pulled back to a 2 point deficit and had a side ball with 6.7 seconds to go in the game. Phil Harford being the superhero he is shoots a three and it was sweet net, ending the game 49-48. This was a great way to finish off our season and being so close a

Team Manager: Mrs Rosie Brooke

Team Doctor: Mrs Verity Cooper

Team Runner: Daniel Lee

Homer wrote in his book The Odyssey;

“There are no greater glories for a man as long as he lives than those that he gains by his own hands and feet”

This was certainly appropriate for our 1st XVIII football team that strived for ‘glories’ with ‘hands and feet’ every Saturday afternoon during Terms 2 and 3 in 2009.

The season began in Week 1 Term 1 with a pre-season emphasis that saw Nick Joy develop a running program to specifically target getting kilometres and speed into the boys’ legs. More than this it was the beginning of the process of bringing together the individual characters that would over time develop into a formidable team.

The talent of this group was impressive and three goals were set for the season;

1. Defend the final of the State Knockout Cup
2. Remain undefeated on the PAC Front Oval
3. Retain the Tennyson Challenge Cup in 139th Intercol.

Preseason matches began with a loss to Melbourne Grammar at Saints and a strong win over Wesley College on the Front Oval at PAC.

The weekend before Term 2 began the squad flew to Melbourne and was victorious over Mentone Grammar and St Kevin's College. Whilst in Melbourne we attended the Anzac Day Dawn Service at the Shrine of Remembrance and the season's theme “Brothers in Arms” was born.

Attending the Collingwood versus Essendon clash at the MCG on ANZAC Day was both an inspiration and an education for the playing group. The Bombers despite looking down and out late in the last quarter just would not concede and miraculously won the game in the dying seconds in breathtaking fashion.

On returning to Adelaide, former Western Bulldog's coach, Carlton player and Matt Rohde's dad Peter Rohdes and Crows assistant coach, former Melbourne legend and Jack Viney's dad Todd Viney, assisted with some coaching sessions that gave our playing group plenty of opportunity to improve.

The leadership group of co-captains Jack Kelly and Jack Trengove, and co-vice-captains Luke Tapscott and Craig Pitt who had started playing 1st XVIII football together in Year 10, proved to be wonderful exemplars for football at PAC.

When matches were tough they led by example and they always gave wise counsel to teammates. The team took ownership for the season and its results.

With regard to our goals for 2009; we bowed out of the State Knockout Cup by narrowly losing to Scared Heart and Rostrevor in rounds one and two of the season. The team hung grimly to an undefeated home game record until round eight before losing to Rostrevor.

The 139th 1st XVIII intercollegiate match was played on the Main Oval at St Peter's College and resulted in a strong win for Princes 13.10 (88) to Saints 8.6 (54). In a fast-paced, physically-demanding contest PAC led at every change. Luke Tapscott was in great form and deservedly won the Norman Dowie Cup for a best on ground performance. Sam Gunning, provided a strong target at full-forward and kicked five goals. Tapscott also booted five goals.

In summary then, the 2009 season saw Princes win eight matches and lose four; two to Rostrevor, one to Scared Heart College and one to St Michael's College.

Other season highlights included defeating Sacred Heart College by a margin of 16-points, 13.8 (84) to 10.8 (68), at PAC, Sam Gunning kicked nine goals in this match, and defeating St Michael's College by 42 points at home and Immanuel College also by the margin of 42 points.

This 1st XVIII played enthusiastic football and were in every sense of the word a team. There was licence for individual flair and for players to play instinctive footy and take measured risks. Overall the players were disciplined, developed their skills and genuinely enjoyed playing with their mates.

Individually, five players represented South Australia in National Carnivals. Jack Trengove captained the state U/18 team. Sam Day, Craig Pitt and Luke Tapscott were also members of that team. Trengove and Tapscott were both selected in the All-Australian side because of their outstanding performances at that level. Jack Viney was also a member of the South Australian U/16 team.

Thanks to my coaching staff Vaughn Huddleston, Nick Joy, Rosie Brooke and Dr Verity Cooper for making 2009 a success. To the players' parents thank you for the positive way you supported your sons and the school's football program.

Special thanks to Chris Day for producing a very professional football newsletter that united the entire football community and to Matt Welsby and Belinda Jenkinson for documenting the 2009 season with their stunning photography.

2nd XVIII Football

The Seconds finished the season with six wins and six losses. It was a tough but rewarding one with a lack of numbers exposed by injury and illness at Firsts level and in the seconds. This led to over 40 players pulling on the boots for the seconds and often meant part timers were drafted in (and performed courageously) and in the case of the game against St Paul's College the team played with 17 members.

Despite these difficulties the team played with admirable spirit and produced some free flowing running football when numbers allowed. This was highlighted during the Second term; when after heavy losses to Sacred Heart and Rostrevor the team won 4 in a row against Immanuel College, St Michaels, St Peters and Pembroke.

It was very pleasing to then see the team recover from a mid season slump to finish the year strongly with a heart breaking 1 point loss to St Michaels and a convincing win over Immanuel College before a courageous victory in the Intercol after being headed in the last quarter on the SPSC Main Oval.

In terms of standout performers, the admirable leadership of Ben Pearce was crucial and he fully deserved the Best and Fairest award. It was also pleasing to see him rewarded with 2 Firsts games late in the season. Fraser Ellis won the best team man award for his fearless ruck work, while Charlie Warne was the best player in the Intercol victory. Mention should also go to the hard running quartet of Brandon Kerin, Andrew Sykes, Todd Fischer, Lucas Lovell and the resilient rebounding defence led by Jordan Sanders, Angus Murdoch and Stuart Jefferies. Also players such as Joe Virgin and Charlie Warne also performed pleasingly, while Henry Goode, Will Latchford and Simon Gray improved considerably.

I would also like to thank Matthew Rhode and Tom

Teague for running messages and their astute thoughts and Nick Joy for medical support. Finally, thank you to all the parents for their support, waving the flags or providing the 'snakes' and other half time refreshments.

9A Football

Season 2009 proved to be one of terrific improvement for our Year 9 A footballers. This year, the focus has been centered around skilled delivery of the ball, developing our collective tactical awareness and a distinct emphasis on understanding the many roles within a team.

The efforts put in by our players was truly outstanding and as a result, we had some resounding wins against stronger teams. The final game against our fiercest foe, St Peters, was a game for the ages, filled with tremendous drama and a nail biting result that showed a dramatic improvement from our boys, especially when one consider we were comprehensively beaten by the same team just two months earlier. Unfortunately, the clock just beat us and we went down by 8 points.

On the day Mitch Wicks was awarded the Intercol Medal, yet many players played the game of their lives and should be very proud.

In season 2009, the award winners were:

Best and Fairest — Harry Bilyk
 Runner up Best and Fairest — Mitchell Wicks
 Most Improved — Digby McNeil
 Best Team Man — Nick Braund
 Coaches Trophy — Harry Barnes

It has been an absolute pleasure working with this particular group of boys over the last two years and I urge them to continue to work hard and support each other in their journey into senior school football.

I would like to sincerely thank Mr Kym Burns (runner), Mr Tim Wicks (midfield coach), Mr Joe Du Rieu (assistant coach), Mrs Verity Braund (medical support) and all the parents who have supported the team in one way or another. It certainly made things very enjoyable. Go Reds!

First XI Hockey

With a new season came some new faces into the First XI Hockey Squad this year, and what a successful year it would prove to be. The leadership group consisting of Sam Sobels as Captain and Tom Watson as Vice Captain brought the boys together as a strong and cohesive team as they headed into the season. Our first few games were close fought battles, with the boys 'getting out of jail' with some last minute goals to snatch victory from their opponents. These first few matches were instrumental in driving our success for the rest of the season. We knew that there would be greater challenges this year as our opponents were developing their game to combat ours and that we would have to be at our best every week to continue with our undefeated form of previous years. From this point, we grew as a team, we grew as skilled players and we developed as readers of the game thanks to the mentoring and teaching from our coach Mr Bob Claxton and the dedication displayed by every member of the squad.

Throughout the season, with the support of our parents and peers, we honed our game plan and team structure in readiness for our greatest of challenges that we were to meet in the last match of the year. Our Intercollegiate match, which we hosted at Prince Alfred College this year was a much talked about affair. We had not met Saints during the season and the Intercol would be the first time that we had seen each other in action. Much time and preparation was spent in getting our game in order, from set plays, attacking strategies and defensive structure, and how we would nullify the strengths of our opponents.

Wednesday 19th of August presented us with beautiful weather and a strong crowd in fine voice for the 2009 Intercollegiate Hockey Match. The match began at a frenetic pace and maintained that intensity until the final whistle. We conceded a goal in the first five minutes of the match, placing us under significant pressure. To the boys' credit, they quickly wrestled control of the match and had put three goals into the back of the net before half time. We knew that Saints would come back at us and they did, challenging the score line with another two goals. However, 2009 was our season, it was the last Intercol that our coach Mr Bob Claxton would lead us through and we wanted to walk away as the victors. The attacking pressure that we displayed took its toll on Saints, forcing another 3 goals and allowing Captain Sam Sobels to hold the shield aloft at the end of the match in victory.

To single out particular boys would be extremely difficult as season 2009 was a great team performance. We give our sincerest thanks to Mr Bob Claxton for his dedication and commitment to hockey at Prince Alfred College, Mr Mark Dell'Oro for his valuable assistance throughout the season, Jamie Bahnisch for his commitment to the senior squad, to our players, our parents and our umpires for their commitment to making our hockey season an enjoyable and successful one.

Looking forward to seeing you out there in 2010.

Second XI Hockey

Our Second XI hockey team has had a great year. The team has played within the Open competition, challenging Second XI teams and First XI games as the season has gone on and have performed admirably against much tougher opponents on occasions. Even more impressive has been the feats displayed by a large number of our boys who are still in the Middle School or who have taken on hockey for the first time.

Under the experienced coaching of Jamie Bahnisch, the team has developed their knowledge of the game of hockey, have displayed real improvement in reading the play and have developed strong skills in the tactical side of the sport. Many of our competitors have acknowledged the improvement made by the team throughout the year and the strength in which they have played, which is really impressive.

We must bid the parents a huge vote of thanks for coming out to our games each week and supporting us from the sidelines. The great support of our parents and peers will ensure the continued participation and enjoyment of our boys in the sport of hockey at Prince Alfred College. We would also like to thank our coach Jamie Bahnisch who has spent a lot of time and effort in teaching us about the sport and how to become better players of the game. His efforts have been appreciated by all of the boys.

Year 8/9 Hockey

Our Year 8/9 Hockey team have been ably led by Mr Mark Dell'Oro during season 2009. We were really happy to see so many new faces in the team this year and even a few boys that were new to hockey. Our matches were played on Wednesday afternoons on our Supergrasse against a range of other schools. Our games were umpired on a number of occasions by student-umpires who were working at developing another avenue of the game of hockey, and did a great job.

Over the course of the season, the team posted a number of victories and shared the goals around amongst a number of boys in the team. During our season, a number of players enjoyed the opportunity of playing in the Second XI Hockey team on Saturdays. Not only did this expose our younger boys to some more challenging hockey, it also had a positive impact on our own team when those boys shared their new skills with us.

We would like to thank Mr Dell'Oro very much for his great coaching. The boys learnt a lot and had a great time playing the sport together. Thank you also to Michael Staak, Erik Holmwood and Sam Cowey for umpiring our matches each week. Last but not least, we would like to thank all of our parents for running us around to trainings and coming out to support us from the sideline. We are looking forward to another great season and many new faces joining us next year.

Mr Dave de Lacy, Master in Charge of Hockey

This year has been excellent for the year 8/9 Hockey team. This year we have had a great team with everybody trying their best. We started this year with the experience and skills of James Keeves and Nick Fitzgerald but they were unfortunately taken by the First XI. This season has been good with a fair share of wins and losses with every player pulling their weight. We started out a bit rusty and unfit but by the end of the year everybody's fitness and skill level improved. We unfortunately lost in the Intercol but everyone put in their 100% effort so that's all we can ask. We must give a thank you to all the boys who showed up to practise and, more importantly to the games and a huge thank you to Mr. Dell'Oro for coaching the boys this year and for showing up to every game without fail.

Adam Coleman

1st XV Rugby

The 2009 school rugby tournament was a heavily anticipated competition. We had a coach who knew how to play rugby and also the skill and patience to teach the 10 players who showed up to preseason training. Our goals for the season were to understand the basics of rugby, and to have a game plan that would help us learn while we played.

Over the weeks more and more Princes boys tried their hand at rugby. Our first match was a highly anticipated game as there were a lot of people who wanted to see how the new recruits played, and it wasn't long before Prince Alfred knew they had a pretty good rugby squad.

From the beginning it was clear our strengths were in our forward pack. Any team we came up against would surely not have the same size and skill as we did with Thomas Timmo, Alex Verlato and Jack Perks who definitely had the skill to go with their size.

In The 2009 season we played six teams; Rostrevor/ St Ignatius, Westminster, St Peters 1st and 2nd teams, Sacred Heart and back to back champions Pembroke. Coming in to this we knew we had the skill to beat any team but we knew the real test would be against St Peters and Pembroke. We were feeling good when we won both games against our old rival Saints. Just like we thought the forward dominated and the backs picked up the scraps to get the points. When it came to the Pembroke game we were full of confidence as we had played some amazing rugby so far but it wasn't long before we were brought back down to earth.

Finishing 2nd in the competition was a good result for Princes. A couple of weeks later it was time for the Intercol and we went into this game with so much confidence as we had defeated both of the Saint Peters' squads. The game was the hardest game we played all season but Saints had nothing on us as we beat them 25-0. I was proud of the boys and couldn't ask for anything better.

During the season the school was lucky enough to have three players selected for the state under 18 school boys team, Alex Verlatoe, Thomas Timmo and Naylor Timmo. This was a big boost for Prince Alfred rugby as it gave our team a lot of confidence. At the end of the season it was confirmed that Thomas Timmo was selected in the state under 20 squad called the Junior Falcons.

The Princes rugby team was outstanding this year. As the captain I couldn't have asked for anything more. The boys were outstanding and did Princes proud

Naylor Timmo, Captain

Junior Rugby in 2009 was a great success, with the first ever Junior Rugby Intercol against St Peters. This game was played with a magnificent atmosphere with every player putting in their all and a crowd of hundreds cheering us to victory.

At the start of the season it looked as if it was going to be a long hard season as we lacked experience and skill. However, with the help of Tristan Clements, Tom (the Pom) Ward and Mr Gay, we gained so much knowledge of the game and our skills improved out of sight. The competition throughout the season was very competitive and with our solid defence, speed and teamwork, we came very close to beating the winners of the competition, Pembroke. Anyone who watched our first game of the season and our last game, being the Intercol, would have noticed the significant improvement in our skills, fitness, intensity and most importantly the development of our team.

I would like to thank Mr Brendan Gay and the other coaches who came and gave us some help and shared insight with their knowledge of the game. Most importantly I would like to thank the players who put in the hard yards throughout the season and for many of us it is time to step up into another big rugby season in the seniors.

Skiing

Princes carves up the slopes

During the July school holidays, the Prince Alfred College Ski Team participated in the South Australian Ski Championships at Mt Buller. The team consisted of an impressive 63 boys ranging from Reception to Year 12, with a combination of both skiers and snowboarders.

After a few days of recreational skiing and lessons on the slopes, the week culminated with the SA Skiers Association Interschool Snowsport Championships. Our boys put in a fabulous effort and the results were indicative of that with PAC winning both the Primary and Secondary School Boys' Champion Shields for the second year straight.

On top of this there were many individual successes and in some divisions PAC boys made a clean sweep on the podium. Congratulations to Lucas Lovell for winning the overall fastest boy on the mountain trophy. Hopefully next year with the help of some new recruits to the team, the Princes boys will go back to back to back!

1ST XI Soccer

The 2009 soccer season began with a great deal of optimism. While we had lost a large number of starters from the previous year, we were confident in the talent of our new players, with the highlight being the retention of the Simpson Cup for the third year running after a hard fought draw against our rivals St Peters.

With many new faces, it was always going to be a challenge to meet the demands of top level soccer but under the guidance of our coach Jason Hayhurst the team was able to improve and win some games, even defeating Gleeson College a well known soccer school.

Going into the Intercol the boys were all nervous as it was well known that Saints had an undefeated season going into the big game. This however did not deter the team with all playing well and hold Saints to a 0–0 draw at the end of the ninety minutes. After an even first half in which both teams had opportunities to open the scoring it was Saints who held sway for much of the second half. With a resolute defence and some great goalkeeping from John Hall, the team showed outstanding discipline to shut down many of the forward forays made by the Saints team. Up front, our midfielders and forwards combined well and provided many threats to the Saints defenders This turned out to be the highlight of the season and quite rightly so because the boys acquitted themselves well both on and off the field.

Individually, William Katsambis was considered most consistent player of the season and Jonathon Eske was the most consistent player of this year's Intercol, Steven Pallotta was awarded for his service to school.

Overall, the season was a memorable one and provided many learning experiences for the team, meeting many of the goals that were set after our first game. Many thanks to Jason Hayhurst for his commitment, tutelage and his encouragement to play "total football" at all times.

Jonathon Eske

2nd XI Soccer

Overall the second eleven had a successful season, notching up more wins than losses. The team was mainly made up of Year elevens with a strong Year 10 contingent and a few Year 12's in addition to the occasional rostered off first player.

After a bright start to the season in which we hammered a hapless Immanuel College 7–1, our season stuttered over the next two weeks with a couple of losses against strong opposition. Under the guidance of our coach Simon Sharley, the team was able to gel together, improve and become a tight cohesive, attractive unit. As a result of the hard work on the training track the team began to once again put in more consistent efforts and achieve success on the field.

The final game of the season was the Intercol against Saint Peters. After a bright start with many close opportunities, it was Saints who finished the better holding a fast finishing PAC to a 3–1 win.

Individually, Richard Gale our towering centre back was awarded most consistent player at the end of season soccer dinner.

The season was on the whole a most satisfying one with many highlights and memorable moments. Thank you to Simon Sharley for all his hard work throughout the season and his many words of encouragement.

Richard Gale

Year 8 Soccer

The year 8 soccer team this year was made up of a group of enthusiastic players, many of whom had not played before. The season was a challenging one and although we were competitive in most games, the team struggled to win any matches before the break. At the start of term 3, the team began to finally show some spirit, unity and their overall skills improved enough to finally win some games.

Although we entered the last game, the Intercol against St Peters with some confidence it was a tough game with the team going down to a well drilled Saints unit.

Individually, Simon Louca was awarded the most valuable player for 2009 for his outstanding and consistent season.

Thank you to Mr Joe Gugliotta for being an outstanding coach and his passion for the game. With Joe as the coach we really enjoyed playing and training. He would always do fun drills and sometimes we would play a scratch match. He has been a really great coach because he always encouraged us to do our best and that it wasn't always about winning but to improve our soccer skills and have fun. We are all looking forward to next season.

Jake Gugliotta

Year 10 Soccer

The soccer season for year 10 Soccer has been a mixed success. The season started with few wins with little or no co-ordination and teamwork between the players but gradually our skills and teamwork escalated into quality soccer. With every match and practise we became closer to becoming a good team. At the start of term 3, the team began to grow in confidence and we actually started winning games. Our hard efforts were rewarded with many consistent performances, the highlight being the 7-1 thrashing of Pembroke College.

Our final game was the Intercol against a well drilled St Peters College team. The free flowing game that we had developed was evident during the contest with the whole team playing disciplined soccer. The game was close with either team refusing to give sway for the most part. In the end it was an unfortunate loss but every player did his bit to help the team and the progress each and every one of those players made throughout the season was no less than outright impressive.

Congratulations to Brodie Dobson- Keefe who was awarded the most consistent player for the year for all his impressive work in goals and on the field. Special thanks also to the Year 9's who were more than willing to fit in, and a big thank you to Mr Cross and Mrs Zema for their hard work during the season.

Carlo Russo

Squash 2009

As in past years, the interschool squash program this year attracted almost 70 participants. Teams of 5 were organised at most levels to cater for absences, excursions and the Year 9 Extended Stay.

Of the 3 Year 8 teams, one made it to the Grand Final but lost to Pembroke on a points count back. It was an excellent performance from the A team of Richard Xiong, Ben Eskander, James Harrison, Jackson Terp and Jerome Squires. Several players from all three Year 8 teams had a highly successful season, learning a lot and improving markedly.

Three of the four Year 9 teams made the Semi-finals then, perforce, just two of them played out the Grand Final. The Ds, Adam Colman, Angus Parkinson, Harry Collison, Andrew Hristo and Ross Anderson defeated the As, Tom Russell, Louis Grope, Chester Clarke, Tom Burton and Ben Andary. It was a close match, with just ONE single point separating the two teams!

The Year 10 season did not go too well with the original two teams being combined into a single team. Then with changes to the draw and swine flu causing forfeits, their season amounted to only a few matches instead of the usual ten. They were defeated in the Semi-final by Pembroke who went on to win the Grand Final.

At the Open level we were very strong with two Division 3 teams, two Division 2 teams and one Division 1 team. In Div 3, both teams had a highly successful season then both won their Semi finals so had a Grand Final face off. It was an exciting match with the B team of Yao Ly, Joshua Pang, Jon Van Dissel, Eddy Greeves and Ryan Muller winning 2/2 7/5.

The Div 2 players had a tough season, moving between three different venues and having to cope with much more travel than usual. Both teams acquitted themselves well but the B team swept all before them, including a Grand Final for which their opponents brought a very vocal cheer squad. It was a very tight match with all players performing at a high level. Yiran Tan, Anthony Milton, Richard Gale, Duncan Soang and David Nguyen narrowly took out the Premiership 2/2 6/4.

The Div 1 team had a dream run and were very worthy participants in this top level comp. Fortunately it was not as strong a comp as previously confronted, although the top two players from each school generally offered solid opposition with the 3s and 4s not up to our standard so we had wonderful results at this end. The season panned out interestingly, with consistent wins against most teams. In the Semi-final, Rostrevor succumbed without taking a match off us so it was a clean 4/0 win. The Grand Final threatened to be a more challenging affair but the team demonstrated its superiority with another 4/0 victory. The team of Tom Cocks (Captain), James Russell (Vice Captain), Owen Yang and Rob Hamblin showed great character and tenacity as well as fine sportsmanship throughout the season. They were admirable role models for younger players.

The PAC School Championships were held once again under the auspices of the PAOC Squash Club to whom we are most grateful for their generosity in donating a cheque to each year level champion:- Open — Owen Yang def Tom Cocks; Year 10 — Stuart Eddy def Marc Eskander; Year 9 — Tom Russell def Tom Gray; Year 8 — Matt O'Brien def Oliver Clarke.

During the season we were lucky to enjoy several specialised training sessions with experienced players. On a weekly basis, Will Gray, Captain of Squash in 2008, worked with us in groups and individually. Before the season started and in the week prior to finals, Ex-world number 5, Dan Jenson, currently Head Coach at the

This year the PAC table tennis team was blessed with one of the strongest all-round teams ever. Although the team had lost last year's captain, Daniel Tsang, and two other A/B team members, the team continued to win most matches and dominated the season. The A/B team members were determined to win every match possible, only losing to Immanuel College. Every player showed their greatest effort in every game to ensure they could win in each single match. Training sessions were organized for Wednesdays, but many players organised their own extra training sessions in and out of school to keep themselves at a consistent level.

Compared with the team last year, this year's team appeared to have lower potential, but by the putting in great effort by every player, the team was actually more successful than last year's team. Daniel Foo, who was the best player this year, had improved his skills to a high level, having built upon the experience gained from last year to become a more powerful player. Aaron Jin and Calvin Lee were in the C/D team last year. However, they reached the A/B team this year by their great effort put in at training sessions. Desmond Pun could not participate in every training session, but organised his own extra sessions to make sure he could play at a high level in every match. There were also many new players who joined the team this year, such as Dennis Tang and Daniel Yeung, who showed they were very talented. Kelvin Yang played for the third year in the A/B table tennis team, showing by his performances in every match why he deserved to be in the A/B team every year.

Friendships always occur in sports, and Alan Zhou was the man that brought the team together and always kept the team's morale high. He also worked well to ensure the C/D team members were available for matches.

The Year 9 table tennis team put in a good performance, winning all but two games for the season, with a 12-0 thrashing of St Peters College to conclude the season. Since about half of the team members were only in Year 8, the team already has a good foundation for next season. Daniel Foo was also a help to the team, providing skills coaching during the later part of the season.

Special thanks must go to the coach Andrew McCauley for coaching the team, and also Mr. Currie and Ms. Di-Palma for their management of the teams.

The A/B table tennis team has now beaten St. Peters two years in a row. As a captain, I think the team deserves to participate in the Intercol next year, which is a view supported by the whole team.

2009 has been a memorable year for the international students at PAC.

The year began with the Welcome Reception in February where most of the international students had a chance to introduce themselves.

During the year we continued our winning streak with the competition held annually by Study Adelaide. Leo Liu, a Year 8 student, auditioned for a spot on their website. He enjoyed an afternoon in a professional studio being interviewed about living and studying in Adelaide.

The 2009 prefects, especially Jack Fuller, made my job easier as the International Captain. We organised a movie night giving us a chance to socialise with local students and girls from other schools. A dinner was also organised between Annesley and PAC Years 8 to 12 students at a local restaurant.

The Year 12 Dinner with our ESL teachers was an enjoyable way to end the year. Having been at PAC since Year 9, I know that I will miss it.

Sung-Hyeog Park
Captain of International Students

As Vice-captain of International students and also as a boarder, I have been impressed with how well the International students and local boarders have interacted during this year. Although most of the Year 12s in Bayley Wing were focused on their studies, we still managed to have some fun! I wish everyone the best of luck with their end-of-year examinations and know that the PAC spirit will always be in our hearts.

Marcus Yung

Year 10 ESL

The Senior School SACE ESL classes had a busy year of language expansion and development.

As well as writing various class assignments and presenting oral and written reports, we have shared eating and social opportunities. The Year 11 class wrote about our Korean restaurant outing and the Year 12 boys experienced an excursion to a play during Come Out which we enjoyed discussing. We all enjoyed eating the cakes I baked to celebrate the 18th birthdays of the Year 12 boys.

We were very proud to recognise many of the International boys who are acknowledged at Assemblies for their academic effort and sporting achievements.

Ms Debra James
ESL teacher

One of my favourite moments of the day was lunch time. The International students heated their lunches and then they proceeded to share with each other the culinary delights they had brought from home. The chopsticks were flying! Added to this was the use of their first language. Five or six different languages were spoken and the area outside M18 sounded like a mini-United Nations — without the politics!

Ms Anna Polias
ESL Co-ordinator

My Year 10s share their experiences of being an International student at PAC.

When I first arrived at PAC I was a little bit nervous as English is not my background language. After one week of studying, I totally lost this fear because all of my teachers were enthusiastic and made many good suggestions for improving my learning experience.

Guanzhi Chen

Pbu Nguyen

Although my pronunciation is not good, my teachers and school mates tried their best to understand me.

Arthur Chan

I have experienced a very exciting and different school year at PAC.

Hayatullah Absani

I have learnt many new things at PAC and it is like a second home to me.

Tony Chow

The big library and the many science laboratories means we can study better.

Keith Chan

Being an International student at PAC is awesome.

Heinz Tang

The school is highly organised and the teachers are wonderful.

Hong Xiao Li

I am very proud to be a PAC International student.

Matthew Law

I like its historical buildings and the atmosphere of learning.

Yubeng Pan

Growing up in a foreign country was hard, but I learnt a lot.

Calvin Lee

I realise how lucky I am studying at PAC and I would like to thank my parents who have given me this chance.

Lei Feng

I have been at PAC for one year and my English has improved so much.

Andy Yau

Local students are very friendly and try to help International students as much as they can.

Yoon-Seok Jang

International students make PAC a very unique school community because we learn from students from many cultures.

Cotton House

The Cotton House is certainly on the move with the House finishing equal second in the Wesley Cup competition for overall best performed House across the 2009 year. Activities in the Cup have included Athletics, Swimming, Debating, Rowing and Academic Effort Grades.

Our improvement could not have been possible without the support of staff and a thankyou to Mr Clohesy, Mr Jenkinson and Mr Troy McKinnon for their support as well as Mrs Jenson and Mr Jordison. Having said that the House programs were run and organised by the students rather than the staff for the first time and it has led to more students involved and plenty of House pride and fun. This required the involvement of all our year level leaders to be successful so thanks to Jock Clarnette, Jeremy Pearce, Matthew Gillespie and Fraser Ellis.

The year opened with the Swimming Carnival and Cotton lifted themselves off the bottom of the table to finish a creditable third. What was really pleasing was the fight for the inaugural House Spirit Cup which saw us prevail. With so many competitors dressed in blue and with loud passionate war cries we certainly were noticed even if we didn't win too many races in the pool. Congratulations to Blaire Brewerton who was clearly our best swimmer and deservedly won the Year 11 individual championship. Blaire has been a wonderful competitor for the House over many years .

Second term saw the Houses engage in the Rowing and Debating competitions. The debating was as fierce as any athletics or swimming carnival so it was really pleasing when Cotton took the inaugural title. This success wasn't duplicated in the Rowing competition though, with a second in the Year 9 competition our best result.

What was also pleasing in 2009 was the House's attention to their studies and this was reflected in our performances in the terms Academic Effort Grades where Cotton returned the best performance across the year. There were many winners across the Gold Silver and Bronze categories but special mention to the following boys in the House who were consistently in the gold class. Jordan Walsh, Ross Anderson, Matthew Favell, Jason Wright, Jock Clarnette, Johnny Au, Blaire Brewerton, Karl Siebels, Thomas Colwell, Jordan Sanders, Michael

The Athletics Carnival was held at the end of term three. We finished fourth but there were some fine performances from our boys across the day. Jock Clarnette (2nd) and Hamish Bubner (3rd) excelled in the U16 individual championship whilst Ben Pearce (2nd) and Sam Sobels (3rd) stood out amongst the senior athletes in the individual championship award.

The year has been a very successful and enjoyable one and to win the Swimming Spirit Cup, top the Effort grades and win the inaugural Debating title was very pleasing and reflects great enthusiasm amongst the House. Our success was also due to the support of the house leaders. Thanks to my excellent vice captains Sam Sobels and Ben Papandrea who made my job a simple and very enjoyable one.

Taylor House

What a marvellous year it has been for the "Green Machine". A total team effort across the entire year saw Taylor prevail in the House Championship and win the prestigious Wesley Cup for 2009. Points were awarded towards the cup in Athletics, Swimming, Debating, Rowing and Academic Effort Awards.

This has required the input of so many participants with different skills and a determination to give of our best. Whether it has been in division C of the U13 100metres or as a member of a novice rowing team or extra attention to homework that contributed to a bronze award for academic effort the points have reflected a genuine sense of team and that is what I think has been most satisfying given that for the first time the House system has been run by the students rather than the staff.

Thanks to my two vice captains Jack Ramsey and Thomas Teague who have ensured the organisation of teams has been a simple and successful task rather than an onerous one.

Following our recent success in the Swimming it was perhaps no surprise that the "green frogs" put another great team together for the Swimming Carnival. Again the Taylor team were able to field a competitor in every event and this was crucial in the final analysis and point score. With 513 points the team were clear winners ahead of Watsford with 468 points. It was great to see so many lads in attendance and in the pool and for those not competing to be so loud in their support, decorated so brightly and proudly in green, was really terrific. Although Taylor won none of the individual age group titles it was the consistency across the board that counted and resulted in a wonderful performance.

Term 2 saw the House compete in Debating and the inaugural Rowing competition.

The team finished equal second in the Debating and thanks to excellent leadership. Cy Hunter won the Year 8 Rowing Championship.

Academic Effort Grades are determined each term and there were a host of Taylor lads who consistently won Gold Silver and Bronze Awards. Special mention to our regular Gold Award winners including Charles Hall, Anthony Lui, Hugh Schievenin, Drew Clements, Domenic Albanese, Richard Bethune, Tim Smith, Luke Tatterson, David Nguyen, Thomas Heddle, Jack Ramsey, David Lee, Yeong Hoon and Taylor Chadwick.

In term three the school competed in the Athletics Carnival and the day was a beauty. Clear skies, plenty of sun, lots of fun and terrific competition were the order of the day. Again the boys of Taylor prevailed in the big events and in the final event of the day snatched the lead from Waterhouse who have been our great rivals over recent years. The effort in the final relays saw us not only take the overall lead but also win the Relay Shield to cap off a remarkable day of competition. Excellent performances across the day were highlighted by the efforts of Matthew Henry who finished third in the U15 individual championship, Ben Young who won the Champions Award in the U16 and Hunter Harrison who won the Open title. In the Champion of Champions events Luke Tapscott finished second in a super time of 11.55.

Thanks to all the staff who supported the Taylor House and helped run the events. Mr Jenkinson, Mr Bubner, Mrs Noble, Mr Potts deserve special mention for their organisation of activities whilst Mr Reidy and Mr Nicholls deserve thanks for their direct mentoring of the leadership group and their "love of the green".

Finally thanks to my two vice captains, Jack Ramsey and Thomas Teague and the other year level House captains, Thomas Fitzgerald, Domenic Albanese, Shaun McFarlane and Drew Clements.

Watsford House

The Watsford House has been really successful in the Wesley Cup competition of recent years with plenty of outstanding performances across each of the activities. The challenge this year was to see how we would go without the leadership of staff with responsibility for organising and motivating teams resting with the student leadership rather than appointed staff.

I believe the students have excelled in this regard and each of the House events was run very successfully. Thanks to Mr Gary Jenkinson, the Director of Sport, and Mr Clohesy for their individual support and advice across the year.

Our House Swimming Team has always found a way to be in the top two even though we may not always have the best of the official school swimming squad.

Enthusiasm and effort has been the recipe for consistency and success. With 468 points we finished second, just 40 behind the eventual winner. Things look great for next year's team with our juniors dominating their age groups. Thomas Evans excelled in the Year 8 group to win the individual championship for that age group. Arata Gwinnet won the Year 9 title whilst Cameron Wong was clearly the swimmer of the meet, winning the Open Champion title and as part of that, winning the Champion of Champions 100 metre race. Thankyou to Rosemary Wong (Cameron's mother) for her wonderful speech at the end of the carnival as a traditional part of the presentations.

In second term the House activities turned to the middle school Rowing and Debating competitions. The Watsford Rowing Team finished second in the Year 8 final with Rein Cetzer excelling as stroke but struggled in the Year 9 competition finishing equal third. Although our Debating teams didn't take the prize the teams were young and will be the same for the next couple of years, which means success in this competition, is not far away.

The end of third term was highlighted by the Athletics Carnival in which we finished third. Our day was highlighted by two record performances by Watsford athletes. Steven Pallotta broke the 40 year old U17 400 metre record burning around the main oval track in a blistering 51.99 seconds. Jack Doney in the U13 hurdles also broke the school record. Jack went on to finish second in the U13 individual championship with Adam Gwinnett in third place. Shae Clarke finished third in the U14, Philemon Namatjira second in the U15, Steven Pallotta won the U17 with Sam Day third.

The Academic Effort Grade competition has been terrific and I am sure has resulted in considerable improvement across the school in terms of our studies. Well done to all the boys who received merits and particularly to the following who received gold awards consistently across the year. Jonathan Foo, Hugh Marshall, Nickolas Dorsch, Samuel Duffield, Jonathon Colak, Morgan Price, Albert Wu, Matthew Rohde, Jack Rowntree, Liam Chang, Eric Holmwood, Thomas Cocks,, Patrick Leeson, Jack Turner and James Acott,

The year has been a very enjoyable one. It was a credit to all the boys in the House who have ensured the successful continuation of the House program and in particular the wonderful Taylor tradition of doing ones best and thriving under pressure that saw us finish a close fourth in the Wesley Cup for overall Champion House .

Thanks to all the other year level House leaders and in particular thanks to the senior House Vice Captains, Jack Turner and Ben Orken who have been incredibly supportive and energetic throughout the year. Thanks also to Matthew Rohde, Philip Harford, Morgan Price and Tim Wibberley for their organisation of the lower years and to Mr McGregor, Mr Urban, Mr Cross, Mrs Marshall and Mr Stace for their support.

Waterhouse House

2009 has been a memorable year in the history of the House program for it represents the first time the program has been overseen by the student leadership rather than House staff. In this regard it has been a terrific success with participation numbers in activities as high as ever. All House activities were for points that went towards the Wesley Cup for overall Champion House. These activities included the Swimming and Athletic Carnivals, Middle School Rowing and Debating.

In the Swimming Carnival Waterhouse were not as strong as previous years with the departure of last years super seniors and we finished a close fourth in the overall House Championship and second in the House Spirit Cup. The performance of our younger boys was terrific and augurs well for the years ahead. Team members dressed in gold for the day, with face paint, chants and fancy dress complementing the excellent and determined efforts in the pool.

Congratulations to Nathan Siebels who was clearly the best Waterhouse competitor and deservedly won the Year 10 Champion Award.

In House Rowing Waterhouse's Year 9 crew won the title ahead of a fast finishing Cotton crew whilst our House Debating team finished a commendable third.

Our Athletics of recent years has been exceptional and again our team effort saw us vie for the title right down to the final race. Pipped on the line in the senior relay saw us finish second on the day for the second successive year. Well done though to Tom Vassilef who was awarded the U13 Champion title, Henry Basedow who won the U14 Champion title and Jack Penfold who won the U15 equivalent. Brandin Kerin finished second in the U17 to be the best performed of our seniors. Our relay teams were again impressive finishing second in the relay shield. A special mention to Henry Olsson from Year 10 who finished third in the Champion of Champions 100 metre race.

Congratulations to all the Waterhouse boys who worked so hard to gain Effort Awards for the House. The list of Gold, Silver and Bronze Award winners was extensive but the following deserve special mention for achieving gold status: Sopheak Louch, James Mumford,

Craig Pitt, Andrew Lukowicz, Oliver Clarke, Simon Brown, Theodore Skrembos, Theo Squires, Thomas Burton, Nicholas Pollock, David Brown, Nicholas Burton, John Hood, Jeremy Agnew, Michael Brown, David Piper

Thanks to the many staff who assisted the team including Mrs Rosie Brooke, Mrs Morelli, Rob Colaiacovo and Mr Watson. Thankyou also to my two hardworking vice captains: Tom Welsby and Arjun Sreedhar and the rest of the senior school Waterhouse leadership team: David Brown, Matthew Scheepers, Henry Olsson and Nicholas Wilton.

The year has been a very enjoyable one and a credit to all the boys in the House who have ensured the successful continuation of the House program and in particular the wonderful Waterhouse tradition of participation and effort that saw us finish equal second in the Wesley Cup for overall Champion House across the year.

Rushton House

2009 has been another busy and eventful year for the Boarding community. The year commenced with 108 boys, who were spread through the three wings, Fiddian, Bayly and Hartley, under the guidance of Mr Cheesman, Mrs Jones and Mr McLaughlin respectively. With a large group of new boys, particularly at Year 10, the role played by the experienced boarders and the Boarding House Prefects, to help these boys settle in should not be understated.

During the first term a high percentage of the boarders actively participated in summer sports, including tennis, cricket, rowing, table tennis, badminton and water polo. Jack Ramsey's important knock in the second innings of the Intercol Cricket, Josh Gregg's brilliance in the Intercol tennis and Matt Easter and Alex Hill's tenacity in the Head of the River regatta, were highlights.

When they were not playing sport on the weekend the boys enjoyed a range of activities organized by Mr Cheesman and Mrs Susan Kukeske. The trip to Greenhill Adventure Park, organized for new boarders was a great success. Other activities that were popular included paintballing, go-karting, beach visits, ten pin bowling, movie nights and socials.

During the term holidays a program of activities was offered by Mr Nicholls for a number of our International boys who were unable to travel home. These activities were much appreciated by the boys and their parents and in each program a night away from the Boarding House at Port Elliot was included.

The second term not only heralded the commencement of winter sports, which were very well supported by the vast majority of boarders but also a few surprises. It also saw the beginning of James Russell's popular Wednesday night Inter-Wing basketball competition. This competition was played in the right spirit but it was certainly a healthy rivalry that took to the court in each fixture. As for the surprises, the first was the massive level of support for the Senior Social we hosted in the Prince Philip Theatre. Just in excess of 150 boarders from across Adelaide filled the hall in a night of fun and great music. The second surprise was indeed unexpected — the announcement that Mr Sam Cheesman, the Head of Boarding, was resigning to pursue a long-held desire to work overseas with his family.

I would like to publicly acknowledge Sam's leadership of the Boarding House and for the very thorough transition program he put in place to prepare me to succeed him. I inherited a Boarding House that was running smoothly, with much work having been done to put in place important policies, rules and guidelines for everyone involved, staff, the boys and their parents.

Term Three in the Boarding House began with not only a new Head of Boarding but also a few cases of the H1N1 virus. This and a range of other illnesses saw nearly 20 boys return home to rest and recover during the first four weeks! The boys are to be commended for the manner in which they rallied to help each other and in the way they responded to changes to programmed events, due to illness also affecting a large number of the Boarding House staff.

The winter sporting Intercol contests in Week 6 saw a large number of boarders in the College's First teams. Dominic Albanese and Hubert Law helped kick off the week's fixtures in the soccer, which ended in a hard fought draw. Ross Gates, Alex Dawson and Robert Hamblin played in the rugby win, while Alex Hill and James Davey were important players in the magnificent basketball victory on the Friday night. This last event was watched by the majority of the Boarding House who witnessed arguably the most exciting come from behind victory in the history of Intercol basketball. It was a very excited group of boarders who returned to the Boarding House from Saints with Mr Nicholls and Mr Hern. The following day saw a large number of boys play in the football Intercol at Saints. Luke Tapscott was brilliant, winning the best on ground trophy and he was ably backed up by his Captain, Jack Kelly, Jack Ramsey, Matt Altmann, Bill Sandow, Will Murdoch, Craig Pitt, Josh Gregg, Matt Watson and Matt Easter.

Boarders' Day was held a week after the Intercols on Tuesday, 1 September. The BBQ (cooked by the Year 11 boys) and raffle raised nearly $365 for our World Vision sponsor child. The Assembly and static displays were well received and the boys who spoke about their experiences as a boarder were enthusiastically congratulated by their peers, in our House meeting the next day.

The final highlight for this term was the induction of the ten new Boarding House Prefects. These boys were selected after a rigorous process. The retiring Prefects Jack Kelly, Matt Easter, Taylor Chadwick, Matt Watson, James Russell, James Davey and James Mumford were fine role models and have set a high standard for the new Prefects to aspire to reach.

Within a few weeks of Term Four beginning we were saying goodbye to our Year 12s at the Valedictory Assembly. The Boarding House also paid tribute to these boys before doing our best to let these boys prepare for their examinations, without interruptions. For the junior boys a highlight came at the end of the second week when we hosted a junior social. Over 120 boarders joined us, again in the Prince Philip Theatre, for a very enjoyable night. The efforts of Mr McLaughlin and the Boarding House Prefects throughout the night were much appreciated by the boys.

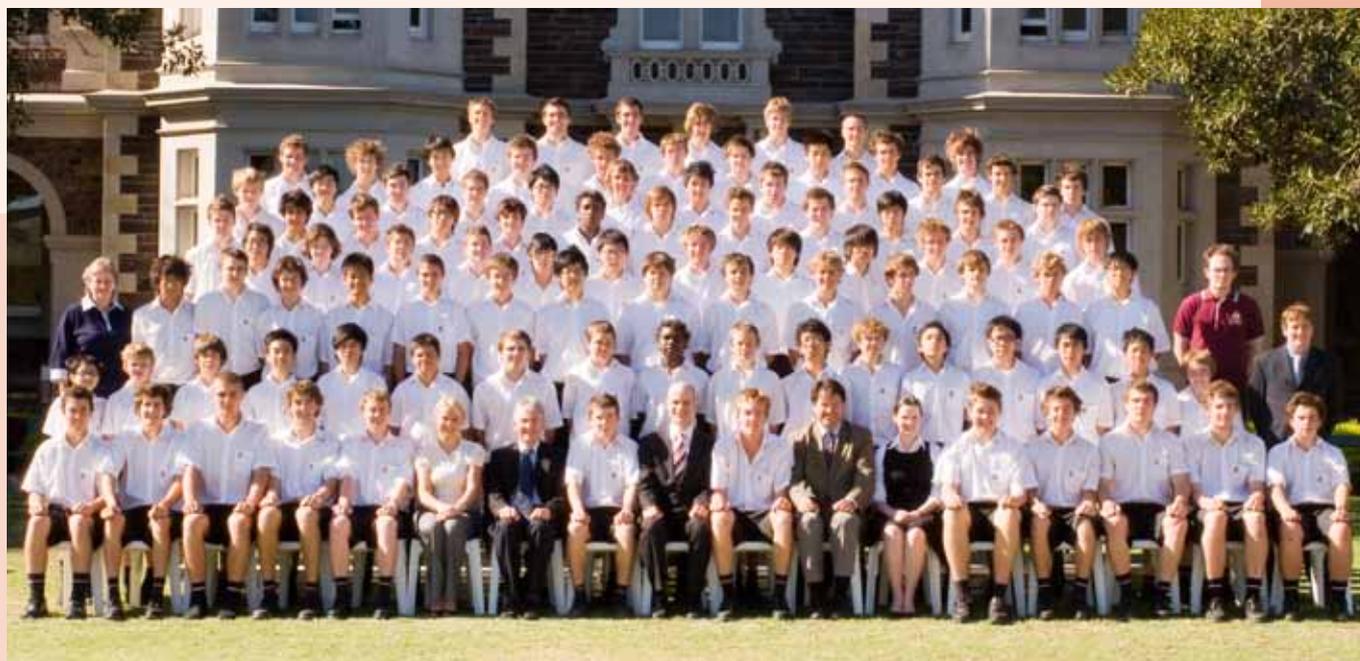

At the time of writing this article the boys are now preparing for their end of year examinations. I would like to thank all of the boarders, their parents, the Boarding House staff and all of the other school staff members, directly associated with Boarding, who have worked together to ensure the Boarding House runs smoothly. Next year we will begin the year with 121 boys in the Boarding House. This growth in boarding numbers is testament to their efforts and support.

Preparatory School

The Preparatory School Parents' and Friends' committee has had a busy and fun year. With a combination of events for the boys, class functions for the parents and social get togethers for all parents, we have strived for friendships and fund raising.

We once again held a Mothers' Day morning tea in the assembly hall that was attended by over 100 mothers, grandmothers and friends. We enjoyed a fabulous fashion parade, from One Rundle Trading, with mothers from the junior school being the models. The morning tea was catered for by the committee and there were great raffle prizes to be had!

For the first time the whole school combined for a quiz night. The Prep school gym was full to capacity, the competition was fierce and money was raised that will be donated back to benefit the boys.

The Preparatory School P&F have helped purchase a curtain for the gym which enables more than one group to use the space at the same time. Electronic white boards and a bike shed have also been purchased by the committee.

The children and visitors enjoyed cake stalls and sausage sizzles at the various sports day through out the year.

The committee had a change over of Treasurer (now Lorraine Ottanelli) and Secretary (Rebecca Carolyn) at their AGM, and the end of the year will see the retiring of the Vice President Jane Willsmore and myself as President. We look forward to welcoming in the new Executive Committee at our final meeting of the year.

My time as president has been rewarding and challenging. The committee have once again worked well together to the benefit of the families in the primary school.

Rachel Johnston, President

Secondary School

The Senior School Parents' and Friends' Association comprises a committed group of parents who are keen to develop a culture of parental involvement and interest in the life of the school. The group has also been highly successful this year in raising funds for the benefit of the boys. A donation was made to the school in June which allowed for the purchase of interactive whiteboards and digital data projectors for Year 7 classrooms, inflatable soccer goals, the Clickview digital delivery platform, science IT equipment, honour boards and bean bags for the library, as well as funding the school's participation in a greenhouse emissions and carbon footprint census, undertaken in conjunction with Flinders University.

As well as raising funds, the activities of the Association aim to foster a strong sense of community and provide opportunities for parents to get to know each other. To this end the school year began with a cocktail party to welcome parents with boys new to the school. This was a relaxed evening in the Prince Philip Theatre and the new parents seemed to very much appreciate this opportunity to meet others sharing similar experiences.

The seventh Princes Contemporary Art Show held in March was considered to be the best yet. Over the years the efforts of so many parents have seen this event evolve to one which is now not only a highlight of the Princes year, but also a significant event in the Fringe calendar. This year the Art Show was held for the first time in the magnificent John Dunning Sports Centre and all who attended appreciated the spacious surrounds and excellent light for the display of art. The Opening Night Cocktail Party was a sell out event and is now a school function not to be missed. The generosity of our sponsors and the talents of our parent caterers meant that the food and drink was superb, there was the opportunity to win the fabulous diamond raffle, and the sale of art works by established and emerging artists exceeded expectations. P and F members from both the Senior and Preparatory schools worked to support this event and their efforts are greatly appreciated.

The new Heads of the Senior School and Middle School, Mr Nick de Dear and Mr Peter Karamoshos, attended the Annual General Meeting of the Association in April. Each gave some insight into their background and their aspirations for the school.

To celebrate the school's 140th birthday, the Preparatory and Senior P and F Associations joined together to host a Quiz Night. Once again the P and F were able to utilise the John Dunning Building which was decorated with birthday balloons. The Quiz Night was a great success with parents attending from all year levels.

Fundraising continues throughout the year with the sale of memorabilia and used uniforms through Princes Parade. The second hand book sale in December provides a valuable service to families through the "recycling" of textbooks raises funds for the school and donates books unable to be sold to Pacific World Aid.

The committee members of the P and F and those who nominate to be available as helpers are a valuable asset within the school community. I thank all those who have attended meetings this year and helped with the myriad of tasks required to host events both large and small. The support of parents through attendance at functions or the purchase of second hand books is also much appreciated. All contributions are highly valued and parents are encouraged to consider whether they may be able to support the Association as a committee member or helper in the coming year.

I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the Treasurer, Janine Duffield and Secretary, Jane Hill and also Lee-Ann Murdoch who travels long distances each month to represent the boarding parents on the Committee. Susan Bethune ensured again this year that the Art Show was a highly organised and sophisticated event and Meg Burford contributed many hours as the P and F representative on the Strategic Planning Committee. Thank you also to the Headmaster Mr Kevin Tutt for his support, to staff in the Community Relations Department, especially Suzanne Moorhead who took on the role of P and F liaison, and to the Property Services, Housekeeping and Finance staff who generously support our work.

Foundation
Parents & Friends
Old Scholars

Last year the Foundation was the beneficiary of the estate of Miss Vivienne Langley and $1M from her estate was committed by the Foundation to the development of the Early Learning Centre.

Miss Langley would be thrilled to know her bequest has been used in this way, and that the very youngest of the Princes community are enjoying and learning in such a wonderful facility. How she would have enjoyed the musical entertainment provided by students at the centre's opening ceremony!

The Foundation has also assumed responsibility for the Langley grave at Centennial Park, which commemorates not only Mr. J.E. Langley's long life but also his fifty years of service to Prince Alfred College.

In conjunction with Westpac, Gold Sponsor of the PAC Foundation, two Business Lunches were held at the Adelaide Town Hall, both showcasing the talent of the Princes community. At the April lunch a panel comprising Tim Cooper (Coopers Brewery), Rosalind Neale (Neale Realty) and Chester Osborn (d'Arenberg Wines) discussed, with presenter Cherylee Harris, family business and the need for succession planning. The wit and wisdom of our guests was much enjoyed by the audience.

At the September Foundation Business lunch 130 guests enjoyed a spirited debate entitled Red Wine or Chocolate, which is the better medicine? Let the experts have their say! Winemaker Ben Tidswell raised a glass to the benefits of red wine, whilst chocolatier Alister Haigh reminded us all of the four basic food groups of milk, dark and white chocolate, and chocolate truffles. Both Alister and Ben claimed certain 'performance enhancing' qualities of their product! Dr Janet Young gave a technical and balanced view of the positives and negatives of consuming food and wine in moderation, before her own likes and habits were revealed!

Jane Willsmore and Marie Lovell catch up at the April Foundation Business Lunch.

Twelve months after its establishment the Prince Alfred College Foundation Scholarship Fund has awarded two scholarships for students commencing at the school in 2010. The Ken Lord Family Boarding Scholarship will enable a boarding student to attend the school, and the Colin Hassell Scholarship supports the education of a student with aptitude in design and an interest in the field of architecture.

The Foundation invites you to help Prince Alfred College provide opportunities for future generations of Princes men through a donation to the Foundation Scholarship fund.

Year 11 leaders and Scotts Creek staff had a busy time with boys and girls canoeing, climbing the rock wall, and flying through the air on the flying fox at the Scotts Creek Foundation Members Karen Martin and Wayne Hayes.

Nina Ma and Qui Ling Chen enjoy the April Foundation Business Lunch.

Family Day. Not to mention the parents who didn't want to miss the fun and were just as enthusiastic!

Special guests at the family day were the two Geoff's responsible for the centre – former Headmaster Geoff Bean and project manager and first director Geoff Woollard. Their inspired choice of location and the development of the centre is a wonderful legacy of their foresight in the early 1970s.

Members of the Morgan community joined the Princes community at the first family day at the centre. Displays promoted Morgan as a holiday destination, highlighted environment projects in the area, and the history of the river and township. The Morgan Development Group's barbeque was a much enjoyed feature of the day.

Scotts Creek was the Foundation's first project and will be recipient of the Foundation's campaign this year to raise funds to upgrade the amenity of the centre, and improve its environmental sustainability. Donations to this fund are welcome and can be made by contacting the School.

The Foundation continues to encourage and work with members of the Princes community who wish to commemorate their links with the school through their estate. Regular approaches are received from women and men with this in mind, or from estate planners acting on behalf of their clients.

Bequests have a significant role to play in providing for future generations of Princes students and bequest enquires are welcomed. Those who choose to make their intentions known are invited to join The TG Waterhouse Society, members of which are invited to share in the life of the school, as well as receive the thanks of the school during their lifetime.

Grandies have a wonderful role to play in the life of the School. Special Grandies Days were held for Year 8 students and for K-7 in September, with both occasions seeing significant numbers of Grandies visiting and being proudly shown around by their special boy. The Foundation Library Fund once again afforded Grandies the opportunity to purchase a book for the Preparatory School Library, a gesture very much appreciated by Preparatory School students and staff alike.

Jeanine Dry and Renae Novakovic at the April Foundation Business Lunch.

During 2009 the Board of the Foundation has worked closely with the Headmaster on the development of the new Sports Centre planned for 2010. The Foundation has committed to raising a significant portion of the project budget, and looks forward to working with the school community in making this significant project a reality.

Community Relation staff also worked closely with the President of the PAOCA in the management of all local, interstate and overseas functions, as well as the management of the Brian Fricker Sports Science Centre membership process. Reunions were conducted for the alumni groups of 1959, 1969, 1979 and 1989, as well as the annual Vintage Reds luncheon for Old Reds aged over 60.

On behalf of the Foundation Chairman, Andrew Chapman, and the board I thank most sincerely the Princes community for their commitment to the future of Prince Alfred College through the Foundation.

PAOCA Annual Dinner

Mike Coward, the doyen of cricket writing in this country, was the guest at the PAOCA Annual Dinner on 31 July at the Adelaide Convention Centre. To reflect Mike's presence, the Ashes series underway in the UK, and the school's recent Intercol cricket victory, the dinner had a cricketing theme and memorabilia from the school archives was displayed.

In a break from the usual format of the annual dinner, First XI Captain Jack Trengove was introduced to the dinner and interviewed by Mike Coward. Jack, resplendent in his creams and school blazer, spoke of the satisfaction of defeating the Blues, and of his own sporting aspirations.

During the course of the dinner, the Headmaster brought guests up to date on the life of the school, and the President informed guests about PAOCA activities. The President of the PAC Foundation, Andrew Chapman, proposed a vote of thanks and in doing so thanked the Princes community for their ongoing support of the school, the PAOCA and the Foundation.

John Stephens (1928-33) was the Oldest Old Red present, the youngest including a strong contingent of New Old Boys who left the school in 2008.

Old Old Boys Assembly

The Old Old Boys Assembly is a uniquely Princes occasion and in the more than seventy years since its inception has become one of the highlights of the year, for both current students and the men who entered the school sixty or more years ago. The Assembly was held on 31 July at the School.

This year thirty seven men who entered the school in 1949 were present and welcomed as New Old Old Boys.

New Old Old Boys who commenced in 1949.

Bill Gibbs, Colin Hockney and their grandson Harry Hockney.

Their presence combined with regular attendees resulted in a record attendance of 206 Old Old Boys, the first time the assembly has exceeded 200.

The Headmaster, Mr. Kevin Tutt, welcomed old Old Boys, and the President and committee of the PAOCA who attended. The PAOCA President Mr. Andrew Clarkson addressed the assembly and added his welcome to the Old Old Boys, and on their behalf thanked the Headmaster for hosting the occasion.

At the conclusion of the role call the Oldest Old Boy Dr Fred Heddle OAM received a standing ovation and thunderous applause from the school.

Apologies were read by the Headmaster and included:

PAOCA Service

For 105 years the PAOCA Service has been a feature of the Old Boys Week calendar. This year the service was held in the Eric Freak Memorial Chapel with a congregation of 70 men and women enjoying the opportunity to meet the school's new Chaplain Rev Mark Dickens, who was in his second week in the role! Rev Dickens was assisted by Rev Chris Harkness, formerly the Acting Chaplain and the current minister at Wesley Church, Kent Town.

As always the highlight of the service were the musical offerings provided by the Chapel Choir under the direction of the choirmaster Mr. Tasso Bouyessis and with the accompaniment of Mrs. Pam Freeman.

All members of the Princes community are invited to the PAOCA Annual Service during Old Scholars Week.

Hong Kong Dinner

The second annual Hong Kong Old Reds Dinner was held on Friday 5 June in the luxurious Foreign Correspondents Club, which is nestled deep in the heart of the Lan Kwai Fong district in Central Hong Kong. After the success of the 2008 event, there was a lot to live up to in 2009 and the evening did not disappoint.

David Cornish, Development Manager at the school made the trip from Adelaide and delivered an excellent address on activities at the school and was even able to play the last quarter of the recent Intercol Football, which was viewed with great enthusiasm. Former School Captain Marcus Thompson proposed a toast to the school and Digby Richards gave us all an opportunity to charge our glasses in a toast to the Old Scholars Association.

The longest travelled award was a heavyweight battle between Nathan Perks and Justin Dangerfield who both made the trip from Singapore. Justin was a narrow winner by virtue of the fact that he lives slightly further away from Changi airport. Nathan Ide was the youngest in attendance while Freddie Chung was rewarded for his maturity with a new copy of The History of Prince Alfred College.

The night very quickly became morning and overall the event was a lot of fun and as always it was great to renew old friendships and meet new members of the international old scholars community. We are already looking forward to next year.

London Dinner

There is nothing quite like attending a Princes dinner in London! The 2009 dinner was no exception with long term UK Old Reds joining those who have arrived more recently and welcoming those who have travelled specifically from other places to take part.

The dinner was held on 30 October at the charming Metropolitan Hotel, almost on top of the Westbourne Park tube station, where the school flag took pride of place in the area in which the group met. It was a causal night with no formalities, just the pleasure of coming together as Old Reds.

2002 Captain of the School Evan Lucas came from Amsterdam, Kevin Tutt and David Cornish from Adelaide, and UK based Old Reds present were George Carvin, Colin Frearson, David Gill, David Gray, Andrew Hough, George Karafotias, Craig Patterson, Mark Roma, Trent Smith and Eric Turner. A warm Princes welcome was

The highlight of the year is the annual meeting held during Old Boy's Week and which was held in the Colton Room at the school on 1 August 2009. Brother Henry Rankine was passed to the Second Degree. This year the Lodge was pleased to welcome a large number of visitors from metropolitan and regional Lodges, many of who were Old Reds. A special welcome was made to the President of the PAOCA Andrew Clarkson, and the Headmaster Kevin Tutt.

The Lodge continued to support the education of Princes students and this year provided awards to Hayatullah Ahsani, Priestian Tудо and Fabian Ivancic.

Since 1996 the Lodge has sponsored a short talk competition for Year 7 students, who are judged on their presentation of a set topic and one which is given to them with only a short preparation time. William Miller won the award for a delightful presentation on his great-grandmother.

The PAOC Lodge meets on the first Tuesday of each month at the Tusmore Masonic Centre and welcomes Old Reds and men with an association with the school as members. Visitors are also encouraged to participate. Enquires for membership to Peter Broadbent 8356 4780.

Sincere thanks to David Gray and Mark Roma for their hard work in keeping Old Reds together in the Old Country.

Brisbane Dinner

This year the PAOC Brisbane Chapter dinner was a personal affair with a small gathering of Old Reds at the Brisbane Club. However, we did have attendees from far and wide with two old boys flying in from regional centres. While the Headmaster was unable to be in attendance, Andrew Clarkson and Tony Ashdown were fantastic ambassadors for the school providing updates on building works, Intercol successes, and educational achievements of the students and school community.

Many thanks to David Cornish, Tony Ashdown and Andrew Clarkson for their ongoing support with the Brisbane Chapter of the PAOC. It really is a fantastic opportunity for Old Reds who are perhaps more distant from the immediate school community to reconnect and network. I encourage any PAC Old Collegians living in Brisbane and surrounding areas to attend the dinner, and look forward to seeing a larger group in 2010.

Canberra Dinner

The staff of the Hotel Kurrajong must have wondered what had hit them when a group of loudly barracking football followers took over the hotel's lobby to watch what proved to be the finals elimination of the Crows. Bad luck to those checking in who had to negotiate this cheerful then despondent crew!

Old Reds and Old Blues gathered at the historic Hotel Kurrajong for the annual Canberra dinner, continuing more than a decade of joining with partners to celebrate and perpetuate the long standing rivalry.

A lively band and fine food and wine in the courtyard was a delightful prelude to the more formal setting of the private dining room, with its reminders of Canberra past and the hotel's role as home away from home for politicians in the early days of the city. It was also where former Prime Minister Ben Chifley died 58 years ago.

London Dinner

Old Reds are encouraged to contact local convener John Irvine to join in the fun of PAOCA events in the national capital.

Melbourne Dinner

Given Melbourne's status as one of the world's great sporting cities it was appropriate that leading sports medicine specialist Dr Brian Sando was the special guest at the Melbourne dinner. Dr Sando's experience has covered Commonwealth and Olympic Games and as team doctor to the Adelaide Crows since their inception, providing him with a wealth of anecdotes, covering the whole range of human emotion and experience.

Melbourne based Old Reds made the most of the opportunity to catch up with the Headmaster and the President of the PAOCA. They even made the most of the opportunity to catch up with Old Blue mates, who by sheer coincidence were in the adjoining room (a dull show though, they went home much earlier than the Reds!)

The Melbourne crew of Andy Allen, Peter Sobels, Gavin Coldwell, Cameron McPherson, and Ian McKay once again convened a quality night in the comfortable surrounds of the RACV Club.

PAOCA NSW Annual Dinner

On 4 September I attended the NSW Old Scholars Dinner as the representative of the PAOCA Committee representative.

I wandered in to the front bar of the Bellevue Hotel in Paddington, wondering if I would see any familiar faces, but expecting to see an old scholars tie or two to confirm that I was in the right place. They weren't hard to spot, and greeted me like an old friend, when at that point all we had in common was that we had attended the same school some years ago.

A group of about 25 of us had a very enjoyable evening in an upstairs dining room. I was reacquainted with old scholars who had attended PAC with my brothers and with me, and met a few new faces as well.

David Greenslade was the convenor for the event, and acted as MC. Tom Nicholls, a relatively new old scholar gave a wonderful presentation about what being a PAC old scholar means to him, and gave us a good insight as to his own strength of feeling for the school, which was largely shared by all those present. Our guest of honour, Mr Kevin Tutt, gave an informative update on the school and its activities talking on such matters as the opening of the new ELC, the assembly hall upgrade, enrolments at the school, and initiatives to address depression. I gave the group an update on old scholar activities, including our successes in the sporting arena, especially against Saints, and managed to secure some orders for the new Old Collegians tie. All diners were very appreciative of hearing news of the school first hand.

Graham Burfield

South East Dinner

A sumptuous four course meal and awaited 18 South East Old Scholars and four Adelaide visitors at the Sportsman's Hotel, Millicent for the annual South East dinner. Held in Millicent for the first time in years, organisers Ian Tiddy and Brian Copping are to be thanked and congratulated for organising the evening despite a busy social South East schedule keeping many people away.

Brian Copping proposed a toast to the school to which the Headmaster, Mr. Kevin Tutt responded, outlining the many exciting developments that had occurred at PAC in the past twelve months, and plans for the future.

Chris Skeer (PAC 1958–1962) toasted the Association and PAOCA President, Andrew Clarkson responded.

The new PAOC tie was unveiled and Andrew Clarkson presented the Headmaster, the Association patron, with the first of the new ties. Ties and calendars were also presented to Bevan Phillips (PAC 1942–1943) as the oldest Old Red present, Toby Hassell (PAC 1991–1995), the youngest and Keith Goodall (PAC 1973–1977) as the furthest travelled, from Coonalpyn.

It was decided to hold the 2010 dinner in the northern part of the South East.

Riverland Dinner

The Riverland Dinner was held at the Mallee Fowl Restaurant at Berri on the 13th June 2009 with more than 40 in attendance. The Adelaide contingent of 10 (Andrew and Venessa Clarkson, Rob and Leonie Hall, Peter and Pam Crouch, Trevor Siegele and former Headmaster, Dr Brian Webber and Beverley) lunched at Banrock Station en route.

Ed Davey (1966–67), a fourth generation old scholar, proposed the toast to the School and reflected on his days at the school and as a junior Boarding House Master during the Dunning years. Steve Timmis (1977–78) proposed the toast to the Association. The President, Andrew Clarkson, responded with a lengthy and informative dissertation on behalf of the School and the Association! The oldest old scholar in attendance was Trevor Siegele (1947–53) and the youngest was Drew Martin. The furthest travelled was Andrew Nairne (Mildura).

The convenor Steve Clark (1975–78) organised an excellent evening at an interesting venue. Thank you Steve for your enthusiasm in organising a memorable evening.

Intercol Basketball

The PAOCA Basketball Club fielded three teams in the Intercol competition against hosts St Peters.

The A's were determined not to see the Intercol game up for grabs late and Nic Blair came out on fire scoring 15 of the teams first 17 points – after 5 minutes SPOC called a timeout down 17–8. The A's controlled the match and closed it out 57–49, Nic Blair finishing the game with 22 and was awarded the Sean Heylen Medal for best player on Intercol night. The Corona Cup remains in Red hands for a third straight year.

The B's game was an absolute epic and will be spoken about at Club functions for years to come.! Tight and tough competition resulted in tied scores and the first old scholars Intercol to go to overtime. The deadlock could not be broken and the game went into a second and then a third overtime. Ben Darsov broke the game open with five points and finally the B's could force a result 43–39. The Strangways Cup coming to the Reds for only the third time in fifteen matches.

Once again our C's faced a Saints C team with confidence ebullient from a victory against the Saints B team two days earlier in the Saturday comp. In a case of everyone perhaps trying a touch too hard, the side never found its rhythm and had its lowest score for the year. We'll get the Trim Cup back next year!

2009 Basketball Season

2009 marked a relatively successful follow-up to what was a banner year for the club. It was always going to be a difficult year with three teams defending titles so to finish the season with two premierships from three grand finals and two of the three Intercol trophies was a brilliant result.

In the Saturday SA Church Basketball Competition the A's had 12 wins, 3 losses and a draw at the conclusion of the minor round. In the Grand Final the A's played Beaumont in a rematch of the previous year's Grand Final. In a tight contest they managed to keep a small advantage for much of the game running out the victors for consecutive premierships.

Grading looked like finally having the B's in the B grade competition and their start in that grade promised a successful year. However once again they were the victims of their own talent and promoted to the A grade competition making PAOCBC one of only two clubs with two teams in the top grade. The B's finished with a strong 8 and 8 win loss record taking them to an impressive fifth on the A grade ladder.

It had been back to back for the mighty C train and hopes were high for another title, however the side had seen major changes from the previous season. The team continued their recent success with a very strong season including a brilliant victory during the season over the St Peter's B team. The side finished top of the table with 14 wins and only two tight losses. The C's played Hope Valley in the Qualifying Final and St Peter's in the Grand Final.

Wholesale changes to the D's line-up made them stronger and placed them in a solid position to take out their grade. The team had trouble getting a consistent team but those who turned up expected to win. The regular season brought a 15 win 2 loss record and one of the club's three minor premierships for the season. T

The E's had an up and down season with ten players some weeks and five others. A solid start to the season featuring a dominant frontline was interrupted by legal requirements while work also prevented others from being regular players. When players were available and the team found it best combinations quality results came their way in often-tense encounters. Completing the season with a 8 win 7 loss and 1 draw record placed the E's 3rd.

The Club also fielded 3 Mid Week Social teams — one on Monday and two on Thursday. The Monday team finished 2nd after the Minor Round and unluckily were knocked out in the Semi-Final. The Crazy Thursday team played in A Grade and in a tough season finished runners up after a great winning streak late in the season.

Club Champion this year was another difficult call with a number of players having strong seasons and contributing greatly to their team's success. In his fifth season and after a number of great seasons where close decisions went against him, Stuart MacDonald was awarded club champion for the first time.

Off court it has been a season of transition as we moved from our long-standing base to a new relationship with the Hackney Hotel. This saw our already sparkling social calendar expanded to include monthly post-match presentations. The favourites all returned to the calendar as well, Rookies Night, Pub Crawl, Players' Player Awards and the always memorable Club Lunch. I would like to thank our sponsors Coopers and the Hackney Hotel.

The club also debuted a complete rework of the club website which is now updated weekly and allows club members, friends and family the ability to check results, statistics and schedules at any time. Thank you to project manager Andrew Todd.

Chester Bennett Cup

PAOCA won a splendid high-scoring match to retain the Chester Bennett Cup. The day was pleasant and warm, the famous St Peters College Main Oval was presented immaculately and Princes won the toss and batted.

Chapman and Ben May began well with a brilliant 129 runs in only 84 minutes before Chapman fell to a close run-out call after pounding 84 in even time by splendid batting featuring a volley of powerful shots and 16 boundaries. His partner, May, gave sound and productive support in his 46 runs and Moffat (43) and Sam Williams (47) each had an hour at the crease, wasting no scoring opportunities. Then McColl arrived and launched into a cyclonic innings of 33 not out in only 22 minutes, with four huge sixes into distant parts and enabling Princes to reach 7 for 265 from the allotted 50 overs. In all of this activity, somehow Princes managed to lose 4 wickets with the score at 263, an unusual event.

After both teams had enjoyed a splendid light luncheon generously supplied by the College, Saints began their reply, losing an early wicket before a good stand of 70 runs in an hour, but Princes then had them struggling at 5 for 135 whereupon Payne and Harford played resourcefully as they did well to run down the big Princes score in a big 105 run partnership. Their fine stand ended in an outfield catch at 6 for 240 and Princes, with their 7 for 265 prevailed by 17 runs to end a spirited and competitive match.

Murray M. Wellington Shield for A-Grade Bowling

Murray Wellington played for our club for 23 years spanning the 1940's, 50's and 60's and in that time took at least 300 A-Grade wickets as a leg-spin bowler and made in excess of 2000 runs. In addition, Murray made a significant contribution to the club as part of the Committee.

PAOCC remains an active and vibrant Old Scholars club; again entering five teams and having some 89 players represent the club in season 2008/09.

Our B-Grade was the most successful team, taking out the B1 Premiership. This marks the club's sixth premiership in the past six years, having won just seven in the previous seventy years! Simon Butler (70*) and Sam Pick (5 for 23) were the leading performers in the Grand Final. Sam also took out the bowling trophy (28 wickets at 10.50) while Dave Larkins made it back-to-back batting trophies (363 runs at 40.33). The B-Grade has been promoted into the A3 competition this year.

Our C-Grade also made the Grand Final for the second consecutive year. Unfortunately again they finished runners up but have been promoted to the B3 competition after finishing minor premiers. Tyson Smith, with two hundreds was the leading batsmen with 359 runs at 39.89 while the bowling honours were shared by Evan Lucas (average of 8.86) and James Dalwood (average of 11.32) with 22 wickets apiece.

Our A-Grade were minor premiers again, after being promoted from A2 last season. Unfortunately another disappointing semi-final saw our season fail to reach the final week. Captain Sam Tyler won the A1 Premier Grade Fielding Trophy and by definition also won the club award. Batting Coach Ben Hook, another Association Medal Winner, took out the Ted Norman Cup for A-Grade Batting with 548 runs at 49.82, the first A-Grade batsman to score over 500 runs for some time. The Committee introduced a Perpetual Trophy for A-Grade Bowling for the first time, in honour of Murray Wellington. Murray took over 300 A-Grade wickets for the Club in a career spanning the 1940's, 1950's and 1960's. The inaugural winner was Chad Parrish with 29 wickets at 12.21.

The D-Grade, one of the club's youngest sides were also Semi-Finalists. Tim Hudson was the leading batsmen by far, both at a club and Association level, making 555 runs at 50.45 while Antony Brabham took the bowling trophy with 30 wickets at 13.63.

The E-Grade missed the finals after being in the Top 4 for most of the year. Captain Charlie Aust (328 runs at 23.43) and Jackson Southcott (21 wickets at 17.10) were the leading players.

Up and coming A-Grade batsmen Drew Clayfield took out the Mark Schwartz Award for best Under 21 player while Dave Larkins was awarded the Moffat Family Trophy for Best Club Man for his contribution to the social committee and for handling the club's graphic design.

Matt Thomas staked claims as an all-rounder throughout the season and took out a closely contested Redman with 15.5 votes. Special mention should also be made of Sam Turner who was selected as Coach of the ATCA Team of the Year and Ben Hook who was named in the XI.

Training is Tuesday and Thursday nights at the PAC Back Oval, all new players are welcome.

Football PAOC vs SPOC

With SPOC playing in a higher division in season 2009, the annual PAOC and SPOC match was played as a pre-season fixture at Thebarton Oval. The Reds entered the game a bit short on personnel with many participating in cricket finals on the day. The game was tight for the first half, with the Reds getting out of the blocks early to set up a slender lead at quarter time.

The class of SPOC shone through in the second half they were able to overrun us on the big ground to win comfortably by 8 goals. The final result was very disappointing for the side that had high expectations going into the contest despite missing a few key players.

Nick Rees was the winner of the Leighton Williams Trophy for Best-On-Ground, an impressive effort as he also won the award back in 2008.

SPOC proved to be the form side of Division 3 taking out the minor premiership and falling just short in the Grand Final against Walkerville. Unfortunately this means they will play in Division 2 in 2010 so once again our contest will be limited to a pre-season fixture.

Football

The PAOC Football Club experienced a record breaking season in 2009 that concluded with all three teams winning premierships for the first time in Club history. In achieving this, A Grade coach David Marsh became the first coach in club history to win two A Grade flags and they came 29 years apart.

The A Grade had a year of many highlights including the recruitment of AFL 300 game legend Mark Ricciuto to the Club. Ricciuto played 6 minor round games and 2 finals for the side and kicked 48 goals for the year. It was a fantastic experience for our young team that included players straight out of school such as Will Hugo, Elliot Opie, Seb Moroney, Jase Schell, Joseph Du Rieu and Nick Whetstone. All six boys were also part of the A Grade and B Grade premiership sides in their first year at the Club.

The Grand Final was played in front of a crowd of around 2,000 people at Campbelltown Memorial Oval. Our opponents CBCOC had lost only two games for the entire season (both by 1 point) and were on a 16 game winning streak entering the big day. Our boys showed tremendous character and held on for a history making 10 point win.

Strong performers through the year included best and fairest winner Will Dalwood and runner up Andrew Phillips (Club Captain). Will Hugo capped on an outstanding first year for the Club by winning the Rookie of the Year Award at the End of Season dinner. Mark Ricciuto, James R Thomas and John Waltham formed part of an impressive forward line that between them put through close to 150 goals.

Well done to the boys in winning the Club's 8th A Grade flag.

The B Grade were the best performing side in their division and were convincing in their 26 point victory over Pooraka in the Grand Final. The team, coached by Club legend Sean Tanner, won the minor premiership and were able to win all their finals to achieve premiership success. This made it back to back premierships for the side.

Strong performances through the year came from Mark McGregor, Hugh Perks and Ben Gazzola. The later two tied for the best and fairest. Nick Whetstone was impressive throughout the finals series and won the teams Player of the Finals award.

The C Grade like the B Grade made it back to back premierships by defeating Golden Grove. The side finished 2nd in the minor round, with Golden Grove going into the finals series unbeaten for the year. The Reds would bring them unstuck in the finals though ending their unbeaten run in the Second Semi Final and then repeating this success in the Grand Final.

Phil Raptopoulos was a star all year and easily won the best and fairest from second place Daniel Romano. Coach Matthew Rechner was as strong as ever in the back lines and was well supported by players such as Sam Richardson, Ben "Juddy" Newbery and Cormac Byrne.

The sides full forward Adam Balaves fell one goal short of winning the divisions goal kicking award however made up for it by taking out the Club goal kicking award at the End of Season dinner.

The A Grade victory means that the Club will play in Division 3 next season. Once again all three sides will be looking to challenge for the premiership and we encourage all Old Reds out there to come join the Club and help strengthen it. Preseason training takes place at the school due to the excellent facilities available there and then moves back to Park 9 just prior to the start of the season.

In addition 2009 saw another successful Past Players Day at Park 9. The event attracted over 200 past players to Park 9 to watch the side take on Fitzroy. Not much football was viewed though as past players caught up to discuss old stories and reminisce about the glory days. Once again in 2010 we will be holding this event so please visit our club website www.paocfc.com and register your details so that we are able to inform you of these events.

Well done to all involved in this history making season including coaches, the committee, parents, supporters, sponsors and most importantly the players. 2009 saw something achieved that will likely never be repeated in the Club's history and you all should be very proud of such an achievement.

Mr Andrew Clarkson
PAOCA President 2009

131st Annual Report

It is my pleasure to present the 131st Annual report of the Prince Alfred Old Collegians' Association. It has been an honour to serve as the President of the PAOCA for 2009.

This year saw a reduced number serving to Association on Committee compared with 2008. Joining the Committee in 2009 were Graham Burfield and John Waltham. It is with much sadness that we farewell Doug Paterson, whose knowledge of the school's military history and of Old Scholars living in regional centres was invaluable.

I would like to thank all members of the Committee, in particular Executive members Peter Crouch (Secretary), Simon Miller (Treasurer), Fred Hamood (Vice-President) and Rex Wilson (Immediate Past President) for their input, advice and humour throughout the year. Without the support of the school's administrative staff, most of our events would not be possible. To Tony Ashdown's team, and in particular Jayne Porter and David Cornish for their time, organisation and 'getting things right on the day', a grateful thanks!

The Association's finances remain strong despite the effects of a sharemarket downturn through 2008–2009. It is a credit to those who scrutinise the portfolio, that the effect of this downturn was not more significant.

We thank our sponsors for their support of our Annual and regional dinners through 2009. I thank the following organisations for their generosity.

The Prince Alfred College Foundation
Alfred James and Sons
O'Leary Walker Wines
Porsche Centre Adelaide
Coopers Brewery
Trims
MGA Insurance Brokers
Tapestry Wines

The regional dinner calendar started 2009 with a rush, with events in Millicent, Port Lincoln and Victor Harbour in February and March. The Old Collegians' cricket match resulted in a win to the Old Reds over Saints, a result mirrored in the bowls at the Adelaide Bowling Club. In April, we welcomed the school leavers of 2008 at the Seven Stars Hotel, with the New Old Boys Function. About 80 new Old Scholars attended.

Mid year we enjoyed the Riverland Dinner in Berri and the joint committee drinks at Princes with SPOC, the relationship with them is strong and we enjoy the opportunities to socialise. Unfortunately, the planned

'Blues and Reds Depression Initiative Cocktail Party' planned for March 2009 had to be cancelled. My thanks to SPCA President Tony Keynes for his support and friendship during the year.

Old Scholars' week, in the last week of July is full of social and sporting fixtures. Princes lost the annual golf against Saints in a close contest. PAOC reclaimed the Geoffrey Bean Hockey trophy 6–4. The Reds also won the basketball and squash, but were defeated in the badminton football, snooker and bridge. 450 Old Scholars attended the Annual Dinner held at the Adelaide Convention Centre. With a cricket theme to coincide with the Ashes tests in the UK, our Guest speaker was respected cricket journalist and speaker Mr. Mike Coward, who entertained the gathering with his insight into cricket history, politics and, in particular, the impact of the sub-continent on world cricket. Mike also interviewed Jack Trengove, Year 12 student, Captain of the PAC First XI and Sturt League Footballer about his dual sporting careers. PAC Big Band under the direction of award winning Band Maestro Andrew Newhouse entertained guests.

The Joint Committee Dinner was held at the Seven Stars Hotel and the group enjoyed fine food and company, but marred by some questionable 'wines' in the 'Wine Tasting Intercol' supplied by incoming President Fred Hamood!

The 105th Old Scholars' Annual Service was held at the school, conducted by the Rev. Chris Harkness and Rev. Mark Dickens, the new school chaplain. Thanks to the school choir and Choir Director, Mr. Tasso Bouyessis for their beautiful musical contribution to the service.

Interstate Dinners and Reunions held sway during August to October, other great opportunities for Old Reds to meet and renew friendships. In late October 302 men lunched in the Jack Dunning Centre at PAC at the Annual Vintage Reds Lunch. An increasingly popular event on the Old Scholars' calendar, this lunch is growing in strength every year. The final event on my busy calendar was the Mid North Dinner held at Bentley's Hotel in Clare. 45 men and women attended this function, organised so well by John Mitchell and Rex Wilson.

As a result of the Governance Review of 2008, the PAOCA advertised the position of Executive Officer and Mrs Mary-Ann Standish was appointed and commenced in October. We welcome Mary-Ann and encourage Old Scholars who require information about events and functions to contact Mary-Ann on 8334 1880 or email mtandish@pac.edu.au

In conclusion, I would like to thank those who served the Association and its members during 2009 and for giving me the opportunity to represent them as President. I would like to thank my wife Venessa for her enthusiasm and support for me in this role and would like to congratulate Fred Hamood on his election as Association President for 2010 and wish him every success for a great year.

Andrew Clarkson

President's Message

To be elected once as the President of the Old Scholars Association is a privilege. To be asked to do it a second time is indeed an honour.

The Past President, Andrew Clarkson has done a marvellous job in his 2 year stint and has instigated some far reaching strategies that will come to fruition in the next few years, and for that I say a very sincere thank you. He has been very well supported by his wife Venessa, the Association committee, and members of the school administration, and to them, I also say thank you very much.

One of the new initiatives instigated by Andrew for next year, is the appointment of an Executive Officer to oversee the day to day running and organisational aspects of the Old Scholars Association.

We welcome Mary-Ann Standish to the Association and the School, and we look forward to her input in the future. There will be new faces on the committee this year, but this will not preclude us from asking Old Reds from outside the committee for their assistance.

The web site will come under review, as will the organisational aspects of all our dinners both locally, interstate and overseas, and not forgetting the reunion dinners. The data base will be comprehensively updated to enable us to reach the wider College community far more effectively.

The Old Scholars Association will continue to work very strongly with the College Council, the Headmaster and staff, the College Foundation and the P&F Association in the coming year and fully supports the initiatives that will be forthcoming in the future.

I have been very privileged to have been invited onto the strategic planning committee in 2009 on your behalf, and I assure you that the future of the College is going to be a very exciting and progressive campus.

I attended PAC from 1963 to 1970 under the headmastership of John Dunning and the first year of Geoffrey Bean. I was an academically average student who managed to reach some standard of ability in the First XVIII, the First VIII, CUO as well as House Captain of the mighty Waterhouse House. I have been involved with the Old Scholars for just over 10 years as well as representing the PAOCA on the School Foundation Board.

I have been involved in the liquor industry for most of my working life, primarily in retail liquor shops, and this year have embarked on a new direction of running the family "hotel" venue, now called "REZZ" at Newton, in conjunction with brother Richard and sister Sue-Anne.

This next term of office promises to be a very exciting period and I ask that you support as many of the initiatives and events that the Association and School puts forward.

In between all of this, I have to find time to improve my golf game and spend more time with my better half, Diane.

Fred Hamood
